STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

RECENT events have brought into prominence the fact that the management of Sikh gurdwaras and shrines leaves much to be desired.

The object of this Bill is to obtain by the appointment of a Board of Commissioners information relating to the foundation, past management, rights of succession, titles in property and other necessary matters relating to such institutions so as to enable Government, the legislature and the public to know on what matters legislation is necessary to ensure that in the future these gurdwaras and shrines shall perform their proper functions, viz., the maintenance and furtherance of the Sikh religion.

The Commissioners who will be appointed under the Bill, besides enquiring and reporting, are, in order to prevent further tension, empowered to take possession of gurdwaras and shrines which are notified as disputed and to manage them during the period of their office ; and atthe same time by powers conferred on them to entertain compromises and settlements in espect of particular gurdwaras entered into by parties disputing.

FAZL-I-HUSSAIN,
Minister for Education.

Notes on clauses.

Clauses 1 and 2 of the Bill require no comment.

Clause 3 empowers the Local Government to declare a gurdwara or shrine a disputed one.

Clause 4 states that the effect of a declaration under clause 3 is to place the gurdwara under attachment, and it empowers Government to appoint a Board of Commissioners to carry out the objects of the Act.

Clause 5 provides for the method of appointment of the Board and the filling of vacancies; also prescribes that two-thirds of the Board shall be Sikhs and two-thirds non-officials; and also provides for the appointment of a President.

Clause 6 empowers Government to fix the remuneration of the Commissioners, and the period not exceeding three years for which the Board is established.

Clause 7 empowers the Commissioners to appoint a local manager or committee to perform in respect to particular institutions any of the functions of the Board delegated to them.

Clause 8 enables the Board to entertain the necessary establishment.

Clause 9 provides for the payment of salaries of local managers and committees and of establishments.

Clause 10 (1) empowers the Board to take possession of disputed institutions and their property.

Clause 10 (2) gives the Board power to invoke the aid of the District Magistrate to obtain possession of a disptued institution where possession is resisted.

Clause 10 (3) enables the Board to determine whether property belongs to a disputed institution or not, in so far as that is necessary to enable them to take possession. Their finding is final for that purpose, but is not a final decision on title which may be made subject of a suit.

Clause 11 confers on the Board the ordinary powers of a receiver under the Civil Procedure Code, subject to such restrictions as may be prescribed by Government.

Clause 12 provides for the conduct of religious and charitable duties of institutions while under attachment.

Clause 13 prescribes the purposes to which the Board must apply the profits, etc., of the institutions.

Clause 14 provides for the maintenance of records and accounts.

Clause 15, in order to enable certain disputes to be settled by compromise, empowers the Board to entertain and accept compromises which thereupon become binding on the parties subscribing thereto.

Clause 16 (1) postpones the hearing of pending suits and suits not yet instituted till a declaration is removed. The right to sue is not taken away, and should it in the ordinary course become time-barred during the continuance of this emergent legislation, the right is preserved by giving the plaintiff an additional year in which to sue.

Clause 16 (2) will bring to an end automatically proceedings taken under Chapters XI and XII, Criminal Procedure Code.

Clause 17 protects Commissioners and District Magistrates acting in good faith from all judicial proceedings against them, except with the previous sanction of the Local Government.

Clause 18 without being exhaustive, enumerates the matters on which the Board will enquire and provides for a report on those matters with a view to ultimate legislation and for the preparation of schemes for future administration and management of institutions.

Clause 18 (4) gives the Board full power to obtain evidence required by them.

Clause 19 provides the necessary penalty for resisting the Commissioners in taking possession.

Clause 20 is the ordinary rule-making power reserved to Government for carrying out the provisions of the Act.

The 3rd January 1921.

No. 34-E.—Lala Amolak Ram, Khanna, Lecturer in English and History, Government College, Lahore, is confirmed in his appointment and grade.

The 4th January 1921.

No. 124-A.—It is hereby notified, for general information, that the Government of India will award one scholarship of the value of £200 a year to an Indian woman graduate.

2. The scholarship will be granted for educational or medical training. The term "educational training" includes the following :—

(i) Training of a secondary character for the teaching profession.

(ii) Training in one or more branches of domestic science.

(iii) Training as teacher of modern European languages.

(iv) Training as music mistress.

(v) Training as art teacher.

(vi) Training in Kindergarten methods.

3. The scholarship will be tenable in the United Kingdom or, with special sanction in foreign countries, for a period of three years in the first instance, with the possibility of extension in special circumstances, and in particular in the case of medical students, to four and five years.

4. The scholarship will carry with it no conditions as to any subsequent career or service under Government, and no expectations of such employment will be held out.

5. Candidates must have passed the B. A. examination of an Indian University or, in the case of medical candidates, must possess an Indian Degree in Medicine.

6. The candidate to whom the scholarship is awarded will be required to proceed to England within a reasonable time from the date of her selection and to reside there for a period of three to five years, as the case may be, unless compelled to return sooner by ill-health. The scholarship will be payable from the date of her reporting her arrival in England. She will be provided with a free second class passage to England and also with a free return passage if she completes the full period of residence or is compelled by sickness to return within that period.

7. The scholar will, on arrival in England, be required to bind herself by a written engagement to submit to the following rules and to such other regulations as may from time to time be framed by His Majesty's High Commissioners for India for the guidance of scholars in England :—

(a) Every scholar shall, on reaching England, at once call upon the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India and report her arrival in writing. She shall leave her address with the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India and intimate to him from time to time all changes therein.

(b) Every scholar shall, without unnecessary delay, inform the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India to which University she intends to proceed, and shall at once take steps to enter herself at the College she has finally selected with his approval.

(c) Every scholar shall, within four weeks of reaching England, submit to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India, for the approval of the High Commissioner, a statement showing the general course of study she proposes to follow, with a view to carrying out the objects of the scholarship granted to her : and the course approved must not be changed without the sanction of the High Commissioner.

(d) Every scholar shall, at the end of each term of residence at a University, submit to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India, a certificate from the proper College or University authority, showing that her residence, conduct and progress in study have been satisfactory during the term.

(e) Every scholar shall at all times obey such instructions as she may receive from the High Commissioner either directly or through the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India.

(f) Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the allowance at the rate of £200 a year for three, four or five years, will be paid quarterly, in advance by the India Office, commencing from the date of scholar's reporting her arrival in England. The first payment will be £50. Three months after the date of reporting arrival the amount to the ensuing official quarter day will be paid. Subsequent payments will be made in advance, on or after each official quarter day. The allowance will be reduced by the amount of any other sum which may become payable to her out of the revenues of India in respect of residence at a University during the same period or any part of it, and also by the amount of any University or College bills, of which payment is made by the India Office.

(g) Travelling expenses, hotel bills, and charges for medical attendance are not defrayed by the Secretary of State.

(h) Every scholar will forfeit her scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the High Commissioner may consider sufficient, fails to complete residence in England for the prescribed number of years of the scholarship according to the terms and conditions approved by the High Commissioner under (c) above, or who is guilty of misconduct or disregard of the instructions of the High Commissioner. If a scholarship be forfeited, or if it be resigned before completion of its term, or if a scholar on completion of the term of her scholarship declines to return to India when instructed to do so, the scholar will lose her claim to a free return passage to India, and will further become liable, at the discretion of the High Commissioner, to refund the cost of her free passage to England.

(i) At the expiration of her scholarship a scholar is provided by the India Office with a free second class passage to India. The scholar is not entitled to make her own passage arrangements and to claim an allowance in lieu thereof from the India Office without the special sanction of the High Commissioner. All communications on this subject shall be made to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India.

(j) Should the High Commissioner be advised that the state of a scholar's health is such as to render her return to India desirable, the scholarship may be terminated forthwith and a free return passage granted to the scholar.

8. Every male scholar is at present required to lodge with the Joint Secretary to the High Commissioner for India before his arrival in England the sum of £25 for initial expenses. Under the present rules for female scholars no stipulation is made as to the provision of any funds for such expenses, but such scholars frequently experience difficulty in meeting their preliminary expenses from their scholarship allowances. Hence it is proposed that the requirement of a deposit for initial expenses should in future apply to all scholars alike, and that in view of the high prices the amount of the deposit be raised to £40. This sum should be remitted as required above before the scholar leaves India, and proof of remittance be furnished to the undersigned.

9. Application should be submitted to the Director of Public Instruction, Punjab, by the 25th January 1921, accompanied by full particulars as to education and other qualifications and certificates of physical fitness to undergo abroad the course of study proposed. Applicants must also state whether they have relatives or friends in England to whom their parents or guardians would be willing to commit their guardianship during vacations.

No. 125-A.—It is hereby notified, for general information, that the Government of India will award one scholarship of the value of £200 a year to a European or Anglo-Indian girl or woman who is a native of India within the meaning of Statute 33 Vict., Chap. 3, section 6, whose parents also are not resident in India for temporary purposes only.

2. The scholarship will be granted for educational or medical training. The term "educational training" includes the following :—

(i) Training of a secondary character for the teaching profession.

(ii) Training in one or more branches of domestic science.

(iii) Training as teacher of modern European languages.

(iv) Training as music mistress.

(v) Training as art teacher.

(vi) Training in Kindergarten methods.

3. The scholarship will be tenable in the United Kingdom or, with special sanction in foreign countries, for a period of three years in the first instance, with the possibility of extension in special circumstances, and in particular in the case of medical students, to four and five years.

4. The scholarship will carry with it no conditions as to any subsequent career or service under Government, and no expectations of such employment will be held out.

5. Candidates must have passed the B.A. examination of an Indian University or, in the case of medical candidates, must possess an Indian Degree in Medicine. In the case of music such students who have passed the European High School examination or some equivalent standard of general education and have secured the highest certificate in Music obtainable in India, will be eligible for the scholarship.

6. Before a scholar leaves India her parent or guardian should show that a sum of £40 has been sent to the Joint Secretary to His Majesty's High Commissioner for India to cover her initial expenses in England (see paragraph 9).

7. The candidate to whom the scholarship is awarded will be required to proceed to England within a reasonable time from the date of her selection and to reside there for a period of three to five years, as the case may be, unless compelled to return sooner by ill-health. The scholarship will be payable from the date of her reporting her arrival in England. She will be provided with a free second class passage to England and also with a free return passage if she completes the full period of residence or is compelled by sickness to return within that period.

8. The scholar will, on arrival in England, be required to bind herself by a written engagement to submit to the following rules and to such other regulations as may from time to time be framed by His Majesty's High Commissioner for India for the guidance of scholars in England :—

(a) Every scholar shall, on reaching England, at once call upon the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India and report her arrival in writing. She shall leave her address with the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India and intimate to him from time to time all changes therein.

(b) Every scholar shall, without unnecessary delay, inform the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India to which University she intends to proceed, and shall at once take steps to enter herself at the College she has finally selected with his approval.

(c) Every scholar shall, within four weeks of reaching England, submit to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India, for the approval of the High Commissioner, a statement showing the general course of study she proposes to follow, with a view to carry out the objects of the scholarship granted to her, and the course approved must not be changed without the sanction of the High Commissioner.

(d) Every scholar shall, at the end of each term of residence at a University, submit to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India a certificate from the proper College or University authority, showing that her residence, conduct and progress in study have been satisfactory during the term.

(e) Every scholar shall, at all times obey such instructions as she may receive from the High Commissioner either directly or through the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India.

(f) Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the allowance, at the rate of £200 a year for three, four or five years, will be paid quarterly, in advance, by the India Office, commencing from the date of the scholar's reporting her arrival in England. The first payment will be £50. Three months after the date of reporting arrival the amount to the ensuing official quarter day will be paid. Subsequent payments will be made in advance, on or after each official quarter day. The allowance will be reduced by the amount of any other sum which may become payable to her out of the revenues of India in respect of residence at the University during the same period or any part of it, and also by the amount of any University of College bills, of which payment is made by the India Office.

(g) Travelling expenses, hotel bills and charges for medical attendance are not defrayed by the Secretary of State.

(h) Every scholar will forfeit her scholarship who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the High Commissioner may consider sufficient, fails to complete residence in England for the prescribed number of years of the scholarship according to the terms and conditions approved by the High Commissioner under (c) above, or who is guilty of misconduct or disregard of the instructions of the High Commissioner. If a scholarship be forfeited, or if it be resigned before completion of its term, or if a scholar on completion of the term of her scholarship decline to return to India when instructed to do so, the scholar will lose her claim to a free return passage to India, and will further become liable, at the discretion of the High Commissioner, to refund the cost of her free passage to England.

(e) At the expiration of her scholarship a scholar is provided by the India Office with a free second class passage to India. The scholar is not entitled to make her own passage arrangements and to claim an allowance in lieu thereof from the India Office without the special sanction of the High Commissioner. All communications on this subject shall be made to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India.

(f) Should the High Commissioner be advised that the state of a scholar's health is such as to render her return to India desirable, the scholarship may be terminated forthwith and a free return passage granted to the scholar.

9. Every male scholar is at present required to lodge with the Joint Secretary to High Commissioner for India before his arrival in England the sum of £25 for initial expenses. Under the present rules for female scholars no stipulation is made as to the provision of any funds for such expenses, but such scholars frequently experience some difficulty in meeting their preliminary expenses from their scholarship allowance. Hence it is proposed that the requirement of a deposit for initial expenses should in future apply to all scholars alike, and that in view of the high prices the amount of the deposit be raised to £40.

10. Applications should be submitted to the Director of Public Instruction, Punjab, by the 25th January 1921, accompanied by full particulars as to education and other qualifications, and certificates of physical fitness to undergo abroad the course of study proposed. Applicants must also state whether they have relatives or friends in England to whom their parents or guardians would be willing to commit their guardianship during vacations.

No. 126-A.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Government of India will award two State Scholarships in 1921 to encourage Indians to undertake the scientific study of Sanskrit in Europe.

2. The scholarships will be open to well-qualified students with a genuine taste for oriental studies and to gentlemen already employed as Professors of Sanskrit in India. They will as a rule be awarded to candidates who have passed examinations in India which will obtain for them admission to the University in Europe as advanced or research students. Some knowledge of English or another European language is essential. If possible, the candidates should possess some elementary knowledge of French and German. The choice of a special branch of study should be made in India, and the preparatory studies completed before the scholar leaves for Europe. If a Sanskrit scholar wishes to specialise on—

(a) Veda or philology, he should have some knowledge of Latin and Greek;

(b) philosophy, he should have studied one of the system of Indian philosophy in the original texts, and have read some Plato and Aristotle;

(c) post-Vedic literature, his reading should have extended considerably beyond the limits of the courses prescribed for the M.A. Examination of an Indian University.

3. Before a scholar leaves India to take up his scholarship his parent or guardian will be required to show that he has sent to the Joint Secretary to the High Commissioner for Indian students work in London a sum of at least £25 for initial expenses.

It is proposed that in view of present high prices this deposit should be raised to £40.

4. Applications should be submitted to the Director of Public Instruction, Punjab, by the 25th January 1921, accompanied by full particulars as to educational and other qualifications, and certificates of physical fitness from the Civil Surgeon of the district.

5. A copy of the rules for the guidance of Indian Government scholars in England is appended.

Revised rules for Indian Government Sanskrit and Arabic scholars in Europe.

1. All Government scholars are required to avail themselves of the information and advice which the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India and the Local Advisers at University centres are in a position to give them, and to apply to their Local Adviser for instructions as regards their studies and in any circumstances of difficulty. The Local Advisers at Oxford, Cambridge, Manchester, Edinburgh and Glasgow have charge of Government scholars studying at those Universities. Scholars studying at other British Universities or abroad will be under the charge of the Local Adviser in London. The adviser is the proper person to bring before the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India any matter requiring the sanction of the High Commissioner for India.

2. Every scholar should, on reaching England, at once report himself to the Local Adviser in London at 21 Cromwell Road, S. W. Accommodation for new arrivals is provided in that house. After seeing the Local Adviser in London and consulting with him in regard to his course of study, he should also call on the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India at the India Office.

3. Every scholar must obey all instructions which he may receive, either through the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India or through his Local Adviser. He must consult his Local Adviser regularly in regard to his work and carry out any course of study which the adviser may ultimately prescribe. Any course which requires and has received the sanction of the High Commissioner will not be changed without similar sanction.

4. Every scholar must, from time to time, whenever the Local Adviser in London or other Local Adviser requires it, submit a certificate from the proper College or University Authority, showing that his conduct and progress in study have been satisfactory.

5. Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the scholar's allowance will be paid quarterly in advance by the India Office to the Local Adviser under whose charge he is. It will begin from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England, and the Local Adviser will disburse it to the scholar in such instalments as convenience may dictate. Three months after the date of reporting arrival, the amount to the ensuing Official Quarter Day will be paid to the Local Adviser, and subsequent payments will be made in advance on or after each Official Quarter Day. The allowance will generally be at the rate of £200 a year and Language scholars at Oxford or Cambridge will be expected to become non-collegiate students, and permission to join a College will not be granted unless admission to the University is not otherwise possible or unless the scholar is of under-graduate age and has rooms offered to him in College. In the event of a language scholar having to join a College at Oxford or Cambridge, his allowance will be increased to £250 a year, to cover the additional expenses involved.

6. Every scholar is required to lodge with the Joint Secretary to the High Commissioner at the India Office London, before his arrival in England, the sum of £25 for initial expenses. He will have no claim to payment of any instalment of his scholarship until this deposit has been made.

7. The necessary travelling expenses of Language scholars abroad by second class, or by third class if no second be available, will be defrayed by the High Commissioner. These expenses should be claimed on forms obtainable from the adviser. Travelling expenses in the United Kingdom will be borne by the scholars themselves. Charges for University and College fees, for private tuition, for books, hotel bills and medical attendance must be borne by the scholar and will not be defrayed by the High Commissioner.

8. No claim can be admitted for the payment of any expenditure unless the scholar has obtained previous sanction from the High Commissioner.

9. The scholarship is granted in the first instance for two years, unless the High Commissioner in the exercise of his discretion sees reason to terminate it sooner. Every scholar will forfeit his scholarship who, not being disabled by illness, or prevented by any other cause which the High Commissioner may consider sufficient, fails to comply with rules here set forth. The scholarship may, for sufficient reasons, be extended beyond two years by the High Commissioner. It may be terminated at any time within the first two years or later, if a scholar fails in health or conduct.

10. On the expiration of the scholarship a scholar is provided by the India Office with a free second class passage to India, and he should apply for it without delay through his Local Adviser. He is not entitled to make his own passage arrangements and to claim an allowance in lieu from the India Office. If a scholarship be forfeited or if it be resigned before completion of its term, or if the holder of it on completion of its term declines to return to India when instructed to do so, the scholar will lose his claim to a free passage back to India.

After all were seated the Chief Secretary with His Excellency's permission declared the Darbar open.

The relatives and attendants of the Princes and Chiefs and Provincial Darbaris were presented to His Excellency by the Chief Secretary. Each of them presented his proper nazar, which was touched and remitted.

After the presentation the Governor delivered the following address to those assembled in the Darbar. A translation of the address in Urdu was afterwards read by the Mir Munshi to Government, Punjab :—

"PRINCES AND PEOPLE OF THE PUNJAB—I have convened this Darbar today to enable us to mark by our meeting together our common allegiance to the King-Emperor and our appreciation of the great change which, under the orders of His Majesty's Government, has been made in the system of administration in this country. The idea of this great change has gradually developed, but it began for the first time to take substantial shape immediately after the arrival of His Excellency Lord Chelmsford in India. As you are aware, it was one of Lord Chelmsford's first pre-occupations to secure some definition of the object at which the Government in this country should aim, and the declaration of August 1917 was the result. This was followed by the joint enquiry and report by the Viceroy and Secretary of State from which has issued the Parliamentary legislation of 1919 under the auspices of which the changes which we celebrate to-day have been brought about.

"The Province has now been for some 70 years under stable Government and has during that time been administered by a very zealous and capable body of public servants, European and Indian. They have set an example of upright and strenuous work on behalf of the people of their Province, which it would be hard to find equalled in any country: and in making the great adventure which is now being initiated the Punjab is to be congratulated in having at its disposal a body of public officers whose delight it has always been to give of their best to their work and to maintain a high standard of thoroughness and integrity. They and their predecessors have built up a system of administration which will remain with us as the foundation of all that is to come.

"On this foundation we are fashioning changes, and the changes are not merely changes in legislative machinery. I shall have the privilege to-day of opening the first session of the new Legislative Council, and I hope then to refer to this aspect of the present changes. But apart entirely from the legislative standpoint the Reforms mean a great deal to us all. They have introduced an Indian element and an Indian standpoint into the Government which is infinitely more marked than anything which was there before, and they have altered fundamentally the basis of our administration.

"To the Princes of the Province, in the first place, they have opened out a means for collective deliberation and for mutual intercourse with Chiefs outside the Province, which will be exercised either by the Princes themselves or by representative Chiefs in the new Council of Princes. The premier Prince of this Province, His Highness the Maharaja of Patiala, has already had experience of Councils dealing in England with matters of Imperial concern, and the institution of new Council of the Princes of India will provide all its members with a wider outlook than before and a wider sphere of usefulness which will, I believe, conduce to the greater comfort of their subjects and the greater unity of the Empire. As regards a certain number of our States it is as yet uncertain whether they will remain in the same relation to the Head of this Province as heretofore, but whatever the decision may be on this administrative question, the Chiefs and people of the Punjab States are too closely connected with the people of British territory in the Province to permit of an administrative change affecting in any way the mutual interest and mutual confidence between the States and the Provincial Government which has been so marked a characteristic of their history in the past.

"To the Raises and Darbaris of the Punjab the change in our form of Government has not brought any such definite change of status or organisation as to the ruling Chiefs. To them also, however, the change of Government must mean a change in position and in outlook. The Raises and Darbaris occupy a position of authority and influence; and, as a general rule, have utilized their position for the benefit of the country, by the maintenance of good feeling and good order among the people subject to their influence. As time advanced, those who looked up to them have begun to think for themselves, and the Raises have found themselves subjected like others to criticism and the old hereditary influence has inevitably weakened. But where the position of the modern Raises is strengthened by good character and good education, they are still an immense power for good. They must necessarily part with some of their old conceptions, and I am glad to see that not a few of them have so far overcome their ancient feelings as to participate, and participate successfully, in the contests for the Legislative bodies. Indeed I understand that 10 of the elected members of the Legislative Council, 3 of the Legislative Assembly and 2 of the Council of State have received their education at the Punjab Chiefs' College. In every country the advent of democratic ideas has involved a change in the attitude of the nobility towards public affairs, but in countries like England where the upper classes have long-standing influence and a great and noble history, they have by adapting themselves to modern conditions been able to preserve an immense amount of their influence in public matters and there is no reason why the aristocracy of India should not by adopting the same means secure the same results. I expect them to keep their place in the race, and I trust that they will do so, not merely for their own sake but for the sake of the Province at large, as the influence of high birth and landed interests should, if rightly directed, do much to elevate the tone of public feeling and to redeem our public life from the more sordid and unpleasing elements which are apt in all countries in infest the arena of modern politics. It is from the ranks of the Punjab aristocracy that the Government has selected the Indian member on the new Council, and I feel sure that in Sardar Bahadur Sardar Sundar Singh, Majithia (whose absence to-day through illness I much regret) the Province will find a custodian of its interests worthy of the great and enlightened family to which he belongs.

"It is not, however, to the Princes or the Raises that the new system of Government brings the greatest change. It is the people at large who will be most affected. To them the system now inaugurated means a vastly increased concern and participation in the Government of the country. It means a largely increased field for Municipal and District work—a field in which we should, but for the pre-occupations of the last year, have already introduced the necessary legislation. It means a largely increased proportion of Indians in the higher branches of the public service. It means a legislature with greatly enhanced powers and mainly elected by a franchise which gives a vote to over 500,000 persons. And it means the transfer of the executive powers of Government into the hands of a Council, and the transfer of the administration of a large proportion of the duties of Government to Ministers chosen from men elected by the people. All this is an immense stride to have made, and it means an almost revolutionary change in the relations of the people to their own administration. We have with us here to-day what we have never seen in previous Darbars,—a band of men elected by the people, representatives of the villages and towns of the Punjab and, if I may judge from the characteristics of those whom they represent, we have in them as it were the life and essence of the most enterprising townspeople, the bravest warriors, the finest peasantry to be found in Asia. We have too with us to-day another feature new to our Darbars, a pair of Ministers selected from among the elected representatives of the people. In Khan Bahadur Mian Fazl-i-Husain and Lala Harkishen Lal we have men well known to the public in this Province, and I trust that through their means the administration may be conducted on lines which will, so far as is humanly possible, both conform to the public will and conduce to the public benefit.

"To all of us,—to Prince or noble, lawyer or doctor, shopkeeper or peasant—there is dawning a new day. Let us meet it as men should on whom a new dispensation has arisen. We are not merely conducting business under new rules: we are not grasping at fresh power for ourselves or our class or our nation. We greet these changes not as ends in themselves, but as affording an opening for an improved and higher place of life for those who inhabit this Province. Rules of administration are nothing and political power in itself is nothing. All these changes—great and spacious as they are—will be of no avail if they are not greeted in an ample spirit of unselfishness and self-control. Let them lead us, as they are intended to lead us, to cast away the works of darkness, the desire for power or patronage or ease or money or notoriety or popularity, the desire to defeat or degrade our enemies or the enemies of our class. However free our country, however democratic our constitution, the future would have nothing in store for us if we were to allow impulses like these to guide our actions. Let the new departure enable us to cast these things behind us and to put on the whole armour of light, so that we may be able to withstand in the evil day and, having done all, to stand. If these changes bring in their train, as they are intended to do, a spirit of patriotism for our Province and of cordial association in work for its good, we may look with a great confidence into the future. We shall see a great Province and a great people developing under the influence of what is best in two great civilizations into a centre of light and usefulness to all the world. May the Almighty Power, who holds the nations in the hollow of His hand, guide our beloved Province in safety and peace along these new ways."

At the conclusion of the address the Chief Secretary with His Excellency's permission declared the Darbar closed.

A salute of 17 guns was fired and a fanfare sounded as His Excellency left the Darbar Hall. On the departure of the Governor the Princes and Chiefs left in their proper order with ceremonies similar to those observed on their arrival except that the gun salutes were not repeated.

All other Gentlemen present at the Darbar remained in their seats until all the Princes and Chiefs had taken their departure.

The approach to the Darbar Hall was lined by troops until the departure of the Nawab of Bahawalpur.

The Guard of Honour presented arms to each Prince entitled to a salute of 11 guns and was withdrawn on the departure of the Rana of Kumharsain.

Full dress uniform was worn, morning dress by those not entitled to wear uniform. Military officers (serving, retired and volunteer) in the absence of full dress wore field service khaki.

And whereas under Rule 34 (2) (a) of the said Rules, His Excellency the Governor has, by notification No. 566, dated 6th January 1921, appointed as Commissioners for the trial of the said petition the following, namely :—

(1) F. W. Kennaway, Esq., I.C.S.,

(2) Khan Bahadur Sheikh Abdul Kadir, Bar.-at-Law,

(3) Kanwar Dalip Singh, Bar.-at-Law,

and has appointed Mr. F. W. Kennaway to be President of the said Commission:

Now, therefore, in accordance with Rule 34 (2) (b) of the said Rules, a copy of the said petition as hereunder is hereby published.

F. W. KENNAWAY,

The 10th January 1921. President.

In the Court of the Commissioners, appointed for the trial of this Election Petition.

M. BARKAT ALI, M.A., LL.B., son of M. ABDUL AZIZ, caste Kakezai, of Mohala Kakezayyan, Lahore,—Petitioner,

versus

M. MUHARRAM ALI, Chisti, Vakil, High Court, of Paisa Akhbar Street, Anarkali, Lahore,—Respondent.

ELECTION PETITION UNDER RULE 30 OF PUNJAB ELECTORAL RULES.

To

His Honour Sir Edward Maclagan, K.C.I.E., C.S.I., I.C.S., Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and its Dependencies, Lahore.

Election Petition of M. Barkat Ali.

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH,

1. That Your Honour's humble petitioner was a candidate for election to the Punjab Legislative Council on behalf of Lahore City (Muhammadan) Urban Constituency in the recent elections under the Government of India Act, 1919 (9 and 10 Geo. 5, Ch. 101).

2. That Your Honour's petitioner was duly nominated as a candidate for the constituency aforementioned.

3. That the respondent was also a candidate and duly nominated as such for election to the Punjab Legislative Council, on behalf of the constituency aforementioned, and as a result of the poll, taken on 8th December 1920, was declared by the Returning Officer as duly elected, the result of the election having been published in the Punjab Government Gazette, dated 16th December 1920.

4. That the election in question of the respondent is void inasmuch as on 8th December 1920 large bodies of voters were, by means of actual physical violence and threat thereof, prevented and obstructed in the very presence of Police and other officials from freely exercising their franchise as electors. The result of this corrupt practice was that out of nearly 7,500 voters barely 457 cast their votes, and the majority of these latter were able to do so because the obstructing hooligans had not yet appeared at their respective polling stations. Out of these 457 votes cast, nearly 258 were of the suburb of Mozang, the total voting strength of which was about 600, while the remaining 147 were of the rest of the constituency, inclusive of city proper, where the total voting strength was about 7,000. Of the 258 votes cast in Mozang the respondent got about 201 while the petitioner got only 50. This was so as hooliganism reached Mozang at about 1 P.M. when the respondent's supporters had already cast their votes while the body of the petitioner's supporters had yet to cast their votes but could not do so because of the violent hooliganism that had appeared on the scene.

5. That the corrupt practice mentioned in paragraph 4 has materially affected the result of the election inasmuch as numerous voters of the city proper who were ready and willing to cast their votes in favour of the petitioner or against the respondent and many of whom were even present at polling stations in the city to get an opportunity of casting their votes in favour of the petitioner could not cast their votes because of the violence that was freely and openly and without any resistance on the part of Police and other officials on duty used towards voters who were given absolutely no sort of protection by the authorities. This violence began in the city as early as nine in the morning and accounts largely for the disproportionately and ridiculously low polling in the city.

6. That the election in question of the respondent is also void on the further ground that the respondent and his agents committed the corrupt practice of undue influence by inducing certain spiritual Pirs to exercise their spiritual influence on their followers and in fact got those spiritual Pirs to issue directions to their followers to vote in favour of the respondent—a direction which according to the beliefs of people in this country subjects them to divine displeasure and spiritual censure if disobeyed, and thereby interfered and attempted to interfere with the free exercise of the franchise of electors.

7. That for the foregoing reasons the petitioner prays that the election of the respondent may be declared void and the petitioner awarded the costs of this election petition together with such further relief as the circumstances of the case may require. As required by rules the petitioner herewith attaches a Government Currency note of Rs. 1,000 as security for the costs of this election petition.

Petitioner—(Sd.) M. BARKAT ALI,
M.A., LL.B., Pleader, Lahore,
Candidate

The 28th December 1920.

Verification.—I, M. Barkat Ali, petitioner, make oath and say that whatever is stated in paras. 1 to 6 above is true to my knowledge, and that this verification took place at Lahore on this 28th day of December 1920.

(Sd.) M. BARKAT ALI,
Petitioner.

The 11th January 1921.

No. 1024.—Whereas under Rule 30 of the Punjab Electoral Rules, a petition calling in question the election of Khan Bahadur Mir Muhammad Khan of Simla, a returned candidate for the South-East Towns (Muhammadan) Constituency, has been presented to His Excellency the Governor of the Punjab by Nawabzada Muhammad Irshad Ali Khan of Karnal :

And whereas under Rule 34 (2) (a) of the said Rules His Excellency the Governor has, by notification No. 565, dated 6th January 1921, appointed as Commissioners for the trial of the said petition the following, namely :—

1. F. W. Kennaway, Esq., I.C.S.,
2. Khan Bahadur Sheikh Abdul Kadir, Bar.-at-Law,
3. Kanwar Dalip Singh, Bar.-at-Law,

and has appointed Mr. F. W. Kennaway to be President of the said Commission :

Now, therefore, in accordance with Rule 34 (2) (b) of the said Rules, a copy of the said petition as hereunder is hereby published.

F. W. KENNAWAY,
President.

The 10th January 1921.

To

HIS EXCELLENCY SIR EDWARD DOUGLAS MACLAGAN, K.C.I.E., C.S.I., I.C.S., GOVERNOR, PUNJAB, LAHORE.

Nawabzada Muhammad Irshad Ali Khan, President, Municipal Committee, Karnal, Candidate Legislative Council, Punjab—Election Petitioner.

(SOUTH-EAST URBAN MUHAMMADAN CONSTITUENCY).

Khan Bahadur Mir Muhammad Khan, Vice-President, Municipal Committee, Simla, declared duly elected for the aforesaid constituency, on 13th December 1920, by the Returning Officer at Gurgáon—Respondent.

Petition under Rule 30, Part VII, Home Department (Reforms) notification No. 1, dated 30th July 1920, published in the "Punjab Gazette, Extraordinary," dated 7th August 1920, disputing the validity of respondent's election and claiming a declaration in petitioner's own favour.

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH—

(1) That petitioner and respondent were the only 2 candidates for the abovementioned constituency, securing respectively 197 and 193 votes, as held valid by the Returning Officer—(vide Appendix A attached to this petition).

(2) That in the following cases the votes for the respondent at the Simla Municipal Office Polling Station were fictitious and procured by corrupt practices and by direct or indirect connivance of respondent or his agent and friends :—

(a) Ibrahim was made to personate his father Muhammad Ismail, son of Jimoon, Meat Contractor, Simla, No. 324, in the Electoral roll.

(b) Abdul Sami, a school boy, aged 16, son of Abdul Aziz, Overseer, Simla Municipal Committee, an underling of the respondent, was made to personate No. 168, Abdul Sami, son of Abdul Aziz, aged 30. The vote is further invalid for other reasons.

(c) Muhammad Ismail, son of Fazl-i-Haq, a book-seller in Lower Bazar, Simla, was made to personate Muhammad Ismail, son of Nazeer Khan, No. 278 or 300 of the Electoral roll.

(d) Some one was made to personate Muhammad Azam, No. 291, a well-known Government servant and the only man bearing the name of Muhammad Azam in the whole Electoral roll. The said Muhammad Azam is employed in Government of India Secretariat (Industries and Ammunition Branch).

(e) Qazi Ghisoo, egg seller, was made to personate his son No. 267, entered in the Electoral roll of Simla Kalan, as Muhammad Bakhsh, son of Baiza Warsh, which latter name is obviously a misprint for Baiza Farosh (egg-seller).

(f) The name and qualifications of No. 377 as entered in the Electoral rolls of Simla Kalan are—Hato, aged 40, occupation shop-keeper, paying a rent of Rs. 100. It is submitted that this is a purely fictitious name, and respondent or his friends have made somebody to personate him at the polling. Justice demands that respondent may be called upon to produce "Hato" before the Commissioners.

(g) Muhammad Sidiq, son of Imam Bakhsh or Imam Din, (a Kabari), was made to personate Muhammad Sidiq, son of Amir-ud-din, aged 26, occupation service, No. 13, in the Chotta Simla Electoral roll.

(3) The above cases of personation wholly invalidate respondent's election. The votes thus obtained by the respondent should, at least be held as invalid.

(4) That a careful scrutiny of respondent's votes and voters and identity vouchers of such voters will reveal other corrupt practices of a similar nature; and that his election is generally characterised by undue influence on, and inducement to, the electors by respondent's underlings—the Simla Municipal servants.

(5) That nine of the petitioner's votes were wrongly held invalid by the returning officer.

(i) That a ballot paper is not well punched, or not punched (as held by the Returning Officer in the case of one Jagráon and one Sonepat vote in petitioner's favour), is no ground for holding the vote to be invalid.

(ii) That the marking of a voting paper with blue pencil with a slight red stroke of the pencil beneath the blue crossing line is quite proper, and that the Returning Officer is wrong in holding (as he has done in the case of one of the petitioner's votes at the Ambála Cantonment or some other polling station) that such marking is invalid.

(iii) That in regard to the remaining 6 votes (Ludhiana 1, Karnal 1, Simla 2, Ambala Cantonment 2) the Polling and Presiding Officers have not complied with the rules. The electors ought to have been given substitutes for "spoiled" ballot papers, and the Returning Officer ought to have held these votes as valid.

(6) Assuming all the votes secured by respondent to be valid, in view of the point raised in paragraph (4), petitioner has obviously secured nine votes more than the respondent. Petitioner is therefore entitled to the declaration "duly returned" and not the respondent.

(7) That respondent's election has been materially affected by the corrupt practices aforesaid, and that petitioner's election has also been materially affected by the Returning Officer's improper refusal of votes and non-compliance with rules. Petitioner, therefore, prays that respondent's election be declared null and void and that petitioner be declared as duly returned.

NOTE.—Security under the rules is deposited. Petitioner further prays that in view of the fact that respondent is an influential man at Simla the Deputy Commissioner be requested to keep the identity vouchers and other connected papers in the charge of a most careful official.

Petitioner—NAWABZADA MUHAMMAD

IRSHAD ALI KHAN,

President, Municipal Committee,
Karnal.

The contents of the above application are true to the best of my knowledge.

MUHAMMAD IRSHAD ALI KHAN,

The 24th December 1920.

(II) That Chaudhri Lajpat Rai, R. S., Vakil, respondent, was on 16th December 1920, declared elected candidate, but his election is illegal on the following grounds :—

(a) That free entertainments of Laddu, Halva, Ghee and Sugar, boiled rice were given at Narnaund, Hansi, Tusham, Bahuna, Fatehabad, Sirsa, Bhiwáni, Balasamand, Hissar and Rania, so that the electors may thereby be induced to vote for the said respondent.

(b) That carts and camels were supplied free for conveyance of the voters of the said respondent, so that they may be induced to vote for the respondent.

(c) That other corrupt practices were resorted to by the respondent and his agents.

Election Petition under Rule 30 of Punjab Electoral Rules.

To

His Honour Sir Edward Douglas Maclagan, K.C.I.E., C.S.I., I.C.S., Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and its Dependencies, Lahore.

Election Petition of Khan Bahadur Malik Muhammad Amin Khan.

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH,—

(1) That Your Honour's petitioner was a candidate for election to the Punjab Legislative Council on behalf of Attock Muhammadan Rural Constituency in the recent elections held under the Government of India Act, 1919 (9 & 10, Geo. 5, Ch. 101).

(2) That Your Honour's petitioner was duly nominated as a candidate for the constituency aforementioned on the following dates :—

4th November 1920, and

7th November 1920—

vide nomination papers, Exhs. P-1 (being certified copy) and P-2, P-3, P-4, and P-5 (all four in original) attached and also certified copy of declaration of Election Agent marked Exh. P-6.

(3) That the nomination paper, dated 4th November 1920, of which Exh. P-1 is a certified copy, was delivered to the Returning Officer of the aforementioned constituency, viz., the Deputy Commissioner of the Attock District, Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Sultan Ahmad, at Campbellpore, on 4th November 1920, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. But that the other nomination papers of the petitioner dated 7th November 1920 and marked Exhs. P-2, P-3, P-4, and P-5 could not be delivered to the Returning Officer on 8th November 1920 before noon, the date and time fixed for the delivery of nomination papers, as the Returning Officer was absent from headquarters on 8th November 1920, having left Campbellpore for Rawalpindi before 10 o'clock in the morning of the 8th November 1920 and returning from Rawalpindi to Campbellpore at some time in the evening of 8th November 1920, but certainly several hours after 12 o'clock of that day. The persons interested in the delivery of these nomination papers—P-2, P-3, P-4, and P-5—attended at the office of the Returning Officer punctually at 10 A.M. on the 8th November 1920 and waited up to 12 noon, leaving the office thereafter with their nomination papers undelivered, as the Returning Officer was not present to receive them.

(4) That Respondent No. 1 Lieutenant Sikander Hayat Khan, who was a rival candidate of the petitioner in the Attock Muhammadan Rural Constituency, also delivered his nomination paper to the Returning Officer, Ch. Sultan Ahmad, Deputy Commissioner, Attock, on 4th November 1920,—vide Exh. P-7, which is a certified copy of his nomination paper and Exh. P.-8 which is a certified copy of his declaration of Election Agent.

(5) That this nomination of Respondent No. 1 is invalid, illegal, and of no effect whatever.

(6) That on 8th November 1920 Ghaffoor Khan, Respondent No. 2, delivered to Chaudhri Ali Akbar Khan, Revenue Assistant, Attock, who was not the Returning Officer of the Constituency concerned, a nomination paper, of which Exh. P-9 is a certified copy, in which he is shown as having been seconded as a candidate by Ghulam Hassan, Lambardar, the very person who had proposed the petitioner on 4th November 1920 (vide Exh. P-1).

(7) That the signatures of the said Ghulam Hassan, Lambardar, on the nomination paper, of which Exh. P.-9 is certified copy, were obtained as the result of a fraudulent misrepresentation perpetrated on him by the real brother of the Election Agent of the Returned Candidate, Respondent No. 1. The nomination paper in question was utterly blank, neither the heading about the constituency being filled up nor the candidate's name nor even the proposer's signatures thereon existing, when Ghulam Hassan, Lambardar's signatures as seconder were obtained to it on the fraudulent representation that the nomination paper which he was signing as seconder was in regard to another constituency in which neither the petitioner nor Respondent No. 1 were candidates. The heading of the nomination paper relating to the constituency, the name of the candidate and the proposer's signature were subsequently filled up and obtained, and the nomination paper so manipulated was delivered on the 8th November 1920 at 11-45 A. M. to Chaudhri Ali Akbar Khan, Revenue Assistant, Campbellpore, who was not the Returning Officer of the constituency in question.

(8) That on 9th November 1920, at 9-30 P.M., Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Sultan Ahmad, Returning Officer of the Constituency, held on objection being taken by Respondent No. 1 that the nomination of the petitioner as per Exh. P-1 and of the Respondent No. 2 as per Exh. P-9 were invalid and declared Respondent No. 1 as duly elected. Exh. P-10 is a certified copy of this decision of the Returning Officer.

(9) That this declaration of the election of Respondent No. 1 has been published in the Punjab Gazette Extraordinary, dated 27th November 1920.

(10) That the election of the returned candidate, Respondent No. 1, is void on the following grounds :—

(a) That the nomination of Respondent No. 1 as per Exh. P-7 was invalid and of no effect whatever.

(b) That even if the nomination of Respondent No. 1 as per Exh. P-7 were deemed valid the nomination of the petitioner as per Exh. P-1 was valid, and the alleged nomination of Ghaffoor Khan as per Exh. P-9 cannot affect it, because in the first place the alleged nomination of Ghaffoor Khan was no nomination at all; secondly, it had not been delivered to the Returning Officer of the Constituency before noon on 8th November 1920, but had been delivered to another officer; the Revenue Assistant, Campbellpore, who was not Returning Officer; and, thirdly, even if it be deemed a valid nomination validly presented, it was obtained by the fraud of a relative of the returned candidate, Respondent No. 1.

(c) That apart from (a) and (b) above, the result of the election in question has been materially affected by the irregularity that the other nomination papers of the petitioner (Exhs. P-2, P-3, P-4, P-5) which were ready for delivery to the Returning Officer before noon on 8th November 1920 could not be delivered to the Returning Officer by the persons interested in them at and before the time fixed as the Returning Officer was absent from headquarters from 10 A.M. to 12 in the noon on 8th November 1920. Had the Returning Officer been present at Campbellpore on 8th November 1920 from 10 A.M. to 12 noon to receive these nomination papers of the petitioner the petitioner would have been duly nominated all objections to Exh. P-I notwithstanding, and the result of the election in question would have depended on a poll in the constituency, which in the present case was never taken and which certainly would have resulted in petitioner's favour.

(11) That on the facts and grounds mentioned above it is prayed that the election of the returned candidate, Respondent No. 1, in the Attock Muhammadan Rural Constituency may be cancelled and declared void, and further that the petitioner may be declared as duly elected in the constituency aforementioned and further that the petitioner may be awarded the cost of this enquiry together with such further and additional relief as the circumstances of the case may require. As required by Rule 33 of the Punjab Electoral Rules the petitioner has deposited in the Government Treasury, Lahore, the sum of rupees one thousand only in cash as security for the costs of this Election Petition,—vide Receipt Exh. P-11.

Petitioner—Malik MUHAMMAD AMIN KHAN, son of Malik ROSHAN DIN KHAN, caste Awan, of Shamsabad, in Tahsil and District Attock, candidate for Attock Muhammadan Rural Constituency (through Malik BARKAT ALI, M.A., LL.B., Pleader).

(2) That Your Honour's humble petitioner was duly nominated as a candidate for the Constituency aforementioned.

(3) That Respondents Nos. 1 to 5, both inclusive, were also candidates having been duly nominated as such, for election to the Punjab Legislative Council on behalf of the Constituency aforementioned.

(4) That as a result of poll taken on 30th November 1920, 2nd December 1920, 4th December 1920, and 6th December 1920, Respondent No. 1 was declared as returned by the Returning Officer of the Constituency aforementioned, the statement of votes cast in favour of Respondent No. 1 and the petitioner, respectively, being as follows :—

	No. of Votes cast.
Respondent No. 1	1,199
Petitioner	1,168
Difference ...	31 votes only.

(5) That this result of the election of Respondent No. 1 in the Constituency aforementioned has been published in the Punjab Government Gazette Extraordinary, dated the 16th December 1920.

(6) That the election in question of Respondent No. 1 is void on the following grounds :—

(a) That Respondent No. 1 and his agents and other persons with the connivance of Respondent No. 1 actually offered pecuniary gratification to a large number of voters as an inducement to them to cast their votes in favour of Respondent No. 1 and thereby committed the corrupt practice of bribery as defined in Part 1 of Schedule IV of Punjab Electoral Rules.

(b) That Respondent No. 1 and his agents and other persons with the connivance of Respondent No. 1 threatened a large number of voters with injury to their cattle and moveable property if they did not cast their votes in favour of Respondent No. 1, who is the head and leader of the Wagah tribe reputed for its formidable thieving propensities and on that account dreaded by the other sections of the rural population of Sheikhupura District. This conduct also amounts to the corrupt practice of undue influence as defined in Part 1 of Schedule IV aforementioned.

(c) That on 6th December 1920, when the polling at Sangla Thana took place, Respondent No. 1 and his agents and other persons with the connivance of Respondent No. 1, realising that, despite their corrupt practices mentioned in (a) and (b), the polling at Sangla Thana was going overwhelmingly in favour of the petitioner and all chances of success for Respondent No. 1 would absolutely disappear if the polling at Sangla Thana continued in favour of the petitioner at the rate at which it was going, hit upon the plan of sending out and did send out mounted sowars at the various chohras (junctions of roads or squares) in the locality, who circulated amongst the voters, who were travelling to the Sangla Station, to cast their votes in favour of the petitioner, the entirely false and misleading news that both the petitioner and Respondent No. 1 had withdrawn from election and that consequently the polling was finished and stopped. The result of this entirely false and misleading news maliciously and fraudulently spread with the knowledge and connivance of Respondent No. 1 and his agents was that hundreds of voters returned to their homes while yet on their way to polling station, without having an opportunity of casting their votes in favour of the petitioner. An idea of the voting loss sustained by the petitioner on this score may be formed from the fact that at Sangla polling station nearly 1,265 voters would have, but for the fraud mentioned above, cast their votes, out of which nearly 95 per cent. would have been in favour of the petitioner, as Sangla Ilaka is the petitioner's hereditary ilaka where he is well known and extremely popular with the people, and that out of these nearly 1,265 voters only 692 voters cast their votes, 648 voters in favour of petitioner, and barely 44 or 5 per cent. in favour of Respondent No. 1. The difference of 31 votes by which Respondent No. 1 leads the petitioner would have been by far outdistanced and covered if Respondent No. 1 and his agents and other persons with the connivance of Respondent No. 1 had not perpetrated the fraud, the details of which are mentioned above and which amounts to the corrupt practice of undue influence as defined in Part 1 of Schedule

IV of Punjab Electoral Rules, or in the alternative as defined in Part II. It is obvious how the result of the election has been materially affected and the election of Respondent No. 1 procured by it.

(7) That for the foregoing reasons the petitioner prays that—

(a) the election of Respondent No. 1 may be declared void,

(b) the petitioner may be declared elected, and

(c) the petitioner awarded such further relief as the circumstances of the case may require, together with the costs of the enquiry.

As required by rules the petitioner herewith deposits rupees one thousand only in cash as security for the costs of the enquiry.

DATED LAHORE :

M. BARKAT ALI,
Pleader.

Verification.—I, Khan Dauran Khan, hereby make oath and say that the facts mentioned in paragraphs 1 to 6 are true to my knowledge, and that this verification took place at Lahore on the 28th day of December 1920.

The 11th January 1921.

No. 1028.—Whereas under Rule 30 of the Punjab Electoral Rules a petition calling in question the election of Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, O.B.E., of Rohtak, a returned candidate for the North-West Rohtak (Non-Muhammadan) Constituency has been presented to His Excellency the Governor of the Punjab by Chaudhri Gordhan Das, of Jasrana, District Rohtak :

And whereas under Rule 34 (2) (a) of the said Rules His Excellency the Governor has by notification No. 567, dated 6th January 1921, appointed as Commissioners for the trial of the said petition the following, namely :—

1. F. W. Kennaway, Esq., I.C.S.,
2. Khan Bahadur Sheikh Abdul Kadir, Bar.-at-Law,
3. Kanwar Dalip Singh, Bar.-at-Law,

and has appointed Mr. F. W. Kennaway to be President of the said Commission :

Now, therefore, in accordance with Rule 34 (2) (b) of the said Rules, a copy of the said petition as hereunder is hereby published.

F. W. KENNAWAY,
President.

The 10th January 1921.

To

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and its Dependencies, Lahore.

Objections on the Election of Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, O.B.E., Pleader, Rohtak, as a returned candidate whose name is published as such in the Government Gazette, dated 27th November 1920 (under Rule 30, Part VII).

CHAUDHRI GORDHAN DAS, son of DALE RAM, caste Jat, Kursi Nashin, resident of village Jasrana in Gohána Tahsil, Rohtak District, Petitioner.

RAO BAHADUR CHAUDHRI LAL CHAND, O.B.E., Pleader, Rohtak—Respondent.

I.—The learned Deputy Commissioner of Rohtak did wrongly reject the nomination paper of the petitioner :—

(a) The nomination is duly signed by the seconder Sholoy, son of Sahab Singh, Jat, Jasrana,—vide Exh. P.-2., certified copy of the nomination roll.

(b) The declaration is not required along with the roll of nomination but ought to be filed on nomination,—vide Rule 11 (2).

(c) The declaration paper, dated the 8th November 1920, was ready and in possession of the petitioner,—vide Exh. P.-3.

(d) The nomination paper itself contained the statement of the petitioner duly signed by him that he has appointed his election agent,—vide Exh. P.-2.

(e) The learned Deputy Commissioner ought to have sent the nomination paper to the proper returning officer if he had not jurisdiction to decide the correctness of nomination.

(f) The Deputy Commissioner could take all the nomination papers and send them for decision to the proper returning officer as the candidate could file the nomination paper even before the 6th of November on which date the Gazette was issued as to the appointment of returning officers.

(g) Even if he had no jurisdiction to receive the nomination roll he ought to have returned it there and then and should not have passed orders next day in favour of the Respondent.

II.—(a) Mr. Sardar Ali, Returning Officer of the Constituency, returned the nomination paper intentionally to help the Respondent. The nature of the order bespeaks itself its propriety and honesty,—vide Exh. P-4.

(b) All these courts are in the same compound and 22 minutes cannot be spent in running from Deputy Commissioner's Court to that of the Revenue Officer, which are very near to each other and hardly a minute's walk.

III.—The vigilance and keenness of the petitioner can be judged from the following circumstances, all indicating that he must have been in time :—

(a) The petitioner submitted a written application as to his candidature on 4th October 1920 to the Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, which was forwarded to Lala Nand Lal, E. A. C., on that very date for diposal.

(b) This application was disposed of by the said officer in petitioner's absence on 1st November 1920 after 27 days, and the order, though very urgent from the standpoint of the petitioner, was communicated to him through post.

(c) The residential village of the petitioner has no Branch Post Office, and the order reached him on the night of 4th November 1920 at a distance of 11 miles from Rohtak.

The statement in (a) and (b) can be verified from the orders passed by Lala Nand Lal on the original petitions—Exhs. P.-5 and P.-6.

(d) On 5th November 1920 the petitioner came to the court of Lala Nand Lal with the nomination roll,—vide Exh. P. 7 but that officer ordered him verbally that the nomination paper would be taken on 8th and on that day alone, and not on 5th.

(e) On the 8th the petitioner went first to the court of Lala Nand Lal, who entertained his previous applications, and he directed him to file such applications with the Revenue Officer.

(f) Immediately the petitioner went to the court of the Revenue Officer, Mr. Sardar Ali, who did not take his application and scolded his own orderly for guiding the petitioner to put the petition in the box, which was placed outside the court. This box was then withdrawn from its usual place and was ordered to be put inside the court-room.

(g) The petitioner went to the Deputy Commissioner and related the whole story to him in presence of the Respondent, who was present there either by chance or intentionally to watch the whole course of events.

(h) The Deputy Commissioner took one nomination roll from the petitioner, but advised him to submit the other to the Revenue Officer also.

(i) The Revenue Officer this time accepted the form and passed the above unjust order.

IV.—The Returning Officers showed the abovementioned bias simply to favour the Respondent, on whom they look as a part and parcel of the Government.

V.—The above conduct of the Returning Officers saved them the trouble of taking votes, as well as to be placed in the good books of the Respondent, a favour to be turned into account when opportunity arises.

VI.—The Respondent candidate had been adopting these and other corrupt means to defeat the petitioner, for instance—

(a) His two Munshis, Hardhan Singh and Neki Ram, had been harassing the petitioner in the court compound dissuading him from filing the petition of candidature.

(b) Ch. Kanhya Lal of Matanhail, an Honorary Magistrate of Jhajjar and an intimate friend of Respondent, was called on in those days in Rohtak, who was a source of trouble to the petitioner specially when the petitioner was buying the non-judicial stamp.

VII.—The Respondent had very little chances of coming out as a successful candidate for the following reasons, and hence he adopted these indignified means :—

(a) Without sending any kith and kin of his own in the Army and battlefield during the War he was given all the credit and reward of his imaginary War services.

(b) During the period of his membership in the last Council he had been injuring the cause of non-Jats.

(c) In every village of the Rohtak and neighbouring districts which could come under his sphere of influence and activity he had ever been sowing the seed of dissensions between Jats, and non-Jats, some of which have borne their fruits already.

(d) By his election the cause of non-Jats and respectable persons is bound to suffer much.

VIII.—The whole election proceedings in the above case are one-sided, fraudulent and illegal, and must be quashed.

IX.—The petitioner may be appointed as a member for the following reasons :—

(a) The petitioner pays more revenue in Rohtak District than the Respondent, nearly twice as much.

(b) His own relatives had actually served in many battlefields during the War.

(c) Many of his agnates and near relations are in military service as Risaldars and Jamadars.

(d) The benefit of the present scheme should be extended even to persons who are not Pleaders and represent common masses.

(e) He holds 57 certificates from European officers alone.

X.—A sum of Rs. 1,000 is deposited in Currency Note No. $\frac{E\,C}{20}$ 55533 along with this petition.

Verification.—The paragraphs I (a) (c) (d), II (b), III, VI, IX, X are true to my knowledge : and paragraphs I (b) (e) (f) (g), II (a), IV, V, VII, VIII are true to my belief.

No. 2182.—The following is republished for general information :—

L. FRENCH,

Offg. Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

GEORGE R.I.

Instrument of Instructions to the Governor or Acting Governor for the time being of the Province of the Punjab.

WHEREAS by the Government of India Act, provision has been made for the gradual development of self-governing institutions in British India with a view to the progressive realisation of responsible government in that country as an integral part of Our Empire ;

And whereas it is Our will and pleasure that, in the execution of the office of Governor in and over the Province of the Punjab, you shall further the purposes of the said Act, to the end that the institutions and methods of government therein provided shall be laid upon the best and surest foundations, that the people of the said province shall acquire such habits of political action and respect such conventions as will best and soonest fit them for self-government, and that Our authority and the authority of Our Governor-General in Council shall be duly maintained ;

Now therefore We do hereby direct and enjoin you and declare Our will and pleasure to be as follows :—

I. You shall do all that lies in your power to maintain standards of good administration ; to encourage religious toleration, co-operation and goodwill among all classes and creeds ; to ensure the probity of public finance and the solvency of the province ; and to promote all measures making for the moral, social and industrial welfare of the people, and tending to fit all classes of the population without distinction to take their due share in the public life and government of the country.

II. You shall bear in mind that it is necessary and expedient that those now and hereafter to be enfranchised shall appreciate the duties, responsibilities and advantages which spring from the privilege of enfranchisement ; that is to say, that those who exercise the power henceforward entrusted to them of returning representatives to the legislative council, being enabled to perceive the effects of their choice of a representative, and that those who are returned to the Council, being enabled to perceive the effects of their votes given therein, shall come to look for the redress of their grievances and the improvement of their condition to the working of representative institutions.

III. Inasmuch as certain matters have been reserved for the administration according to law of the Governor in Council, in respect of which the authority of Our Governor-General in Council shall remain unimpaired, while certain other matters have been transferred to the administration of the Governor acting with a Minister, it will be for you so to regulate the business of the government of the province that, so far as may be possible, the responsibility for each of these respective classes of matters may be kept clear and distinct.

IV. Nevertheless, you shall encourage the habit of joint deliberation between yourself, your Councillors and your Ministers, in order that the experience of your official advisers may be at the disposal of your Ministers, and that the knowledge of your Ministers as to the wishes of the people may be at the disposal of your Councillors.

V. You shall assist Ministers by all the means in your power in the administration of the transferred subjects, and advise them in regard to their relations with the legislative council.

VI. In considering a Minister's advice and deciding whether or not there is sufficient cause in any case to dissent from his opinion, you shall have due regard to his relations with the legislative council and to the wishes of the people of the province as expressed by their representatives therein.

VII. But in addition to the general responsibilities with which you are, whether by statute or under this Instrument, charged, We do further hereby specially require and charge you :—

(1) to see that whatsoever measures are, in your opinion, necessary for maintaining safety and tranquility in all parts of your province and for preventing occasions of religious or racial conflict, are duly taken, and that all orders issued by Our Secretary of State or by Our Governor-General in Council on Our behalf to whatever matters relating are duly complied with ;

(2) to take care that due provision shall be made for the advancement and social welfare of those classes amongst the people committed to your charge, who, whether, on account of the smallness of their numbers or their lack of educational or material advantages or from any other cause, specially rely upon Our protection, and cannot as yet fully rely for their welfare upon joint political action, and that such classes shall not suffer, or have cause to fear, neglect or oppression ;

(3) to see that no order of your Government and no Act of your legislative council shall be so framed that any of the adverse interests of or arising from race, religion, education, social condition, wealth or any other circumstance, may receive unfair advantage or may unfairly be deprived of privileges or advantages which they have heretofore enjoyed, or be excluded from the enjoyment of benefits which may hereafter be conferred on the people at large ;

(4) to safeguard all members of Our services employed in the said province in the legitimate exercise of their functions, and in the enjoyment of all recognised rights and privileges, and to see that your Government order all things justly and reasonably in their regard, and that due obedience is paid to all just and reasonable orders and diligence shown in their execution ;

(5) to take care that, while the people inhabiting the said province shall enjoy all facilities for the development of commercial and industrial undertakings, no monopoly or special privilege which is against the common interest shall be established, and no unfair discrimination shall be made in matters affecting commercial or industrial interests.

VIII. And We do hereby charge you to communicate these Our Instructions to the Members of your Executive Council and your Ministers and to publish the same in your province in such manner as you may think fit.

5. Priority on the list will entitle the member to have set down in the order of his priority either a Bill or a resolution, but not both, of which he has either given notice or of which he may give notice on the day after the ballot, on any day in the month in which the session commences available for the disposal of non-official business after the necessary notice for the Bill or the resolution, as the case may be, has expired.

But he or some other member authorised by him must state there and then at the time of the ballot the Bill or resolution that he wishes to have set down and the date on which he wishes it set down and, if he has not already given notice, must do so on the day next following, or will lose all priority.

7. To determine the priority of non-official business during the remainder of the session, ballots shall be held for such days and on such occasions as the President may from time to time appoint, and due notice shall be given to members of any proposed ballot. Subsequent ballots shall be taken in accordance with the procedure hereinbefore set out.

MINISTRY OF EDUCATION.

SANITARY.

RESOLUTION.

No. 9499 (Home—Sany.), dated 24th March 1921.

THE Punjab Sanitary Board was constituted in 1890 by Sir James Lyall, the original membership being—

1. First Financial Commissioner,—President.
2. Chief Secretary to Government.
3. Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch.
4. Joint Secretary to Government, Irrigation Department.
5. Sanitary Commissioner (also Secretary).
6. The Commissioner of the Division in which the Board met.

The functions of the Board were at first purely advisory, but with the growth in numbers and importance of sanitary projects the sphere of its activities steadily widened. To meet this position the membership of the Board was enlarged to include a number of non-official members and its functions greatly extended. Prior to the introduction of the Reforms Scheme its constitution was as follows:—

1. First Financial Commissioner,—President.
2. Financial Secretary to Government.
3. Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch.
4. Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.
5. Sanitary Commissioner (also Secretary).
6. Sanitary Engineer to Government.
7. The Commissioner of the Division in which the Board meets.
8. Five non-official gentlemen with a tenure of appointment fixed at three years.

The functions of the Board were :—

1. Consultative.
2. Executive.
3. Directive.

1. Consultative.—Government from time to time referred certain matters to the Board for opinion, exercising its own discretion with regard to the matters thus referred. In this connection the Government of India in Resolution No. 888—908-Education Department, dated 23rd May 1914, emphasised, for the guidance of Local Governments, the importance of securing to the Sanitary Commissioner the position of responsible technical adviser to the Local Government in all matters affecting Public Health and Public Health Administration.

2. Executive.—Government annually placed at the disposal of the Sanitary Board for distribution the sum which it was prepared to give for Sanitary schemes and projects. Up to date this amount has been 4 lakhs. Government laid it down as a general principle for the guidance of the Board that a grant-in-aid for any project should not ordinarily exceed half the total cost, but the Board had discretionary powers to exceed the amount to the extent of the total cost. The Board had also the power to utilise the funds at its disposal for experiments and generally for any matters it considered to be connected with the Public Health. At the close of the financial year the unexpended portion of the grant lapses to Government.

(a) Method of distribution of grant on Sanitary Projects.—The Local Body concerned must first prepare the project. Large and important projects are usually prepared for the Local Body by the Sanitary Engineer except in the case of municipalities with highly qualified Engineers, such as Lahore and Amritsar, when the project is usually prepared by the Engineer of the Local Body.

However prepared, the project must be submitted to the Sanitary Board through the Commissioner if—

(1) the total cost exceeds Rs. 10,000;

(2) a grant-in-aid is required.

An application for a grant-in-aid must be made on the prescribed form which, inter alia, gives the financial position of the Local Body, shows how the other half of the scheme will be financed, shows the maintenance charges, and how the Local Body proposes to meet them.

A project with its application for a grant-in-aid reaches the Board through its Secretary who lays it before the Board for consideration when the necessary formalities have been complied with. Projects in order are circulated to members of the Board prior to the actual meeting with the Secretary's notes thereon.

(b) The Board's powers of sanction.—The Board can give administrative approval to projects costing 1 lakh or less and technical sanction, through its Sanitary Engineer, up to Rs. 25,000.

Schemes in excess of these amounts must be submitted to Government in the Civil Department for administrative approval and technical sanction.

Administrative approval means that there are no financial objections to the scheme, but technical sanction has reference to its technical details. The Board of course only forwards such schemes as it approves.

(c) Procedure with regard to grant-in-aid.—In the case of approved schemes the Board, by resolution, gives a grant-in-aid. The Secretary forwards a copy of the resolution to the Accountant-General and requests him to place the sum noted at the disposal of the Local Body. The Local Body is also informed and requested to draw the whole amount immediately and credit it into its funds. When the grant-in-aid has been drawn and credited the Local Body informs the Secretary who lays the intimation before the Board for record at the next meeting. Grants-in-aid thus drawn do not lapse to Government at the close of the financial year.

(d) Supervision of expenditure of grants-in-aid.—The Board is responsible for seeing that its grants are properly expended on the objects for which they were given.

3. Directive.—The Board having the power of the purse it directs general technical sanitary policy and its functions are analogous to those of the Local Government Board of England.

After obtainting the approval of Government the Board took the important step of "conditioning" grants-in-aid, that is to say, a grant-in-aid was conditional on certain stipulations being complied with.

In view of the importance of the services it renders in connection with technical sanitary policy, it is desirable that the Board should continue to exist, but some modifications are required in order to co-ordinate it with the reformed system of Government, viz.—

(1) Its functions are mainly advisory, and in the exercise of the delegated powers it acts subject to the control of the Government.

(2) Its constitution :—

(a) In future the Hon'ble Minister for Education will preside over the deliberations of the Board instead of the First Financial Commissioner.

(b) The Secretary to Government, Transferred Departments, will be added to the official members of the Board.

(c) Non-official membership will be increased from 5 to 7.

(3) Now that the Legislative Council has been considerably enlarged there is not the same necessity to nominate members from outside the Council. It is therefore intended to nominate members of the Legislative Council as vacancies occur, so that the majority of the non official members will also be members of the Legislative Council representing Rural and Urban interests.

The Board is now constituted as follows :—

(1) The Hon'ble Minister for Education, — President.
(2) The Secretary to Government, Transferred Departments.
(3) The Financial Secretary to Government.
(4) The Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch.
(5) The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.
(6) The Sanitary Commissioner (also Secretary).
(7) The Sanitary Engineer to Government.
(8) The Commissioner of the Division in which the Board meets.
(9) Khan Bahadur Sayed Mehdi Shah, O.B.E., M.L.C.
(10) Dewan Bahadur Dewan Daulat Rai, C.I.E., Pleader.
(11) Rai Bahadur Lala Milkhi Ram.
(12) Khwaja Ghulam Yasin.
(13) Chaudhri Bans Gopal, Pleader, M.L.C.
(14) Sardar Sangat Singh, M.L.C.
(15) Lieutenant Sikandar Hayat Khan, M.B.E., M.L.C. } New appointments.

NOTE 1.—For the purposes of increment members of the service will count service from the date of confirmation.

NOTE 2.—The above time-scale will apply to both the Executive and Judicial Branches of the Service, but not to Munsiffs who are to be admitted into the Punjab Civil Service for whom separate orders will issue.

2. In addition to the time-scale there will be a selection grade on Rs. 900—50—1,200 a month. The number of appointments in this grade being restricted to 3 per cent. of the total number of appointments. In the Judicial Branch not more than 2 per cent. of the appointments held at any one time shall carry pay exceeding Rs. 1,000 a month.

Promotion to this grade will be by definite selection, and unless so promoted no Extra Assistant Commissioner will receive pay exceeding Rs. 850 per mensem. Temporary vacancies occurring in the selection grade will be filled by officiating appointments made by selection from officers in the general time-scale.

3. There will no longer be a separate probationary grade. All persons appointed to the rank of Extra Assistant Commissioner will be definitely appointed to the Punjab Civil Service, but will be on probation until confirmed. An officer of the Punjab Civil Service who is on probation will receive pay at the rate of Rs. 250 per mensem until he passes the Departmental Examination for Extra Assistant Commissioners in all subjects in which he is liable to examination by the Lower Standard. His pay will then be increased to Rs. 275 per mensem, and it will be further increased to Rs. 300 per mensem on his qualifying by the Higher Standard, provided that at least one year has elapsed since his first appointment. When a probationer has passed the Departmental Examination by the Higher Standard he will, if his service is approved, be confirmed in the service. After two years the question of retaining a probationer who has failed to pass his examination will be considered. Service for leave and pension will be reckoned from the date of first appointment, and not from date of confirmation.

4. The pay of those who were accepted as candidates for appointment as Extra Assistant Commissioner before the publication of this resolution will be regulated according to the time-scale published in Punjab Government resolution No. 12091-G., dated 17th April 1920.

LAHORE :
The 8th April 1921.

Report of the Select Committee on the Sikh Gurdwaras and Shrines Bill.

WE, the members of the Select Committee, have examined the Bill in accordance with rules, and present our Report as follows :—

1 Preamble.—In the preamble we have inserted the qualitative word "Sikh" before the word "gurdwaras," in order to remove the possibility of any doubt.

2. Clause 2.—We add the definitions of terms "Gurdwaras" and "Shrines" in order to particularise the Gurdwaras and Shrines belonging to the Sikhs. We propose the definitions to be added in clause 2 as follows :—

"Gurdwara" means a Sikh place of public worship erected by or in memory of or in commemoration of any incident in the life of any of the 10 Sikh Gurus.

"Shrine" means a Sikh place of public worship erected in memory of a Sikh Martyr or Saint.

3. In clause 3 we have added the words "on enquiry" after the word "where" in the first line. We have also omitted the words "or the carrying on of any religious or charitable duty, ceremony or observance connected with" in this clause, as it was felt that their retention would excite suspicion amongst the people that the Government was going to interfere with their religious beliefs.

4. In clause 4 we have substituted the word "shall" for the word "may" to make the provision imperative.

5. Clause 5.—We have deleted clause 5 altogether as it stands and have substituted instead the following :—

5 (1) The Board shall be appointed by notification by the Local Government and shall consist of the following :—

1. A non-Sikh to be appointed by the Local Government as President.

2. A Sikh to be appointed by the Local Government.

3. Two Sikhs to be selected by the Local Government from a panel of eight to be proposed by a majority of the Sikh members of the Legislative Council.

(2) Upon any vacancy occurring in the Board by reason of the death, resignation, incapacity or removal of any Commissioner, the Local Government shall, by notification, appoint another person possessing the same qualifications as such Commissioner to fill such vacancy.

(3) The President shall in case of an equality of votes have a second or casting vote.

This change we deem as necessary in order to leave a margin for representation of various interests on the Board.

6. Clause 6.—We have altered the period from 3 years to 2 years.

7. Clause 9 (2).—We have inserted the words "other than the President" after the word "Commissioners" partly in pursuance of alteration made in clause 5.

8. Clause 14.—We have inserted the words "published in such manner as may be prescribed and be" after the words "shall be," so that the public may be in a position to have fuller information as to how the accounts stand.

9. Clause 16 (1).—In the proviso we have substituted the words "when a declaration under section 3 ceases to have force" for the words "on the withdrawal of a declaration under section 3," and also the words "date on which" for the words "withdrawal of" and we have added at the end of the proviso the words "shall cease to have force" as the Bill itself did not provide for withdrawal.

10. Clause 18 (1) (e).—We have added the word "Granthis" after the word "Mahants" in order to meet representations made to us.

11. Clause 20 (2) (e).—We have inserted the words "and the method of publication thereof" after the word "Board" in order to meet the new provision in clause 14.

The Bill was published in English in the Punjab Gazette of the 30th March 1921 and in Urdu in that of the 30th March 1921.

We are of opinion that the changes affected by us in the Bill are of such a nature as not to require any republication.

THE MINUTE OF DISSENT.

*The gurdwaras and shrines as defined in the amended Bill are obviously the holy places of the Sikhs and as such they are in theory at least under the control of the Sikh panth. This principle is perfectly sound in law and justice and there is no reason why the present Bill should not be based on it. To ignore this fundamental principle at the very outset and to leave the recognition of it to be determined from the Commissioners' report will be to go against the sound canons of such legislation. The Sikhs can in no way feel satisfied with the enquiry if it is not meant to secure to them the control of their own sacred places of worship. The very object of the Bill is likely to be defeated because this guiding principle is not incorporated in it.

2. The feelings of the Sikhs which we ourselves fully share are very keen, that all members of the Board should be of the Sikh faith, elected or selected by the Sikh members of the Legislative Council, but we have agreed as a last resort to the constitution of the Board as given in the Bill as amended, in the hope, that the Sikh member to be nominated by the Government under sub-clause (2) will not be one whose views may be antagonistic to the spirit of religious reform among the Sikhs. We feel bound to express our opinion on this point because the success or failure of the proposed legislation depends entirely upon the constitution of the Board.

3. We are opposed to the provision in the Bill that the salary of the Commissioners and their staff should be paid out of the gurdwara funds for the following reasons :—

(a) That the money meant for religious and charitable purposes alone should not be spent in any other manner.

(b) That no Sikh Commissioner would agree to be paid out of the religious offerings and proceeds of the sacred property.

LAHORE :

The 7th April 1921.

†I agreed to serve on the Select Committee appointed to consider a Bill to the very principles of which I was opposed hoping to get them changed in the Select Committee. This hope as I apprehended has not been realized. My objection to the principles have been fully stated in my speech when proposing an amendment to the effect that the Bill be circulated for public opinion and be presented 6 weeks hence. I need not repeat them here. It is sufficient to say that the Board of Commissioners, constituted under section 5, has been formed in such a way as to give a distinct advantage and a disproportionate representation to the advanced section of the Sikhs. The presence of one non-Hindu and non-Sikh member on the Board will be as ineffectual as the presence of this class of members on the Select Committee has been. Whilst two members of the advanced section have to be selected from a panel to be furnished by the elected members of the Legislative Council, the orthodox section is to be represented by one man only who is to be nominated by Government. This man will be so placed as to be unable to assert himself and will therefore look upon discretion as the better part of valour. The orthodox section claims to be in the majority. Considering that reform in religion is always a slow process and is accepted in the beginning by a selected few the claims of the orthodox section to numerical preponderance is well established. This section will be in a hopeless minority on the Board. Then the refusal to give any guarantee that the modes of worship which have prevailed in gurdwaras and shrines up to the time of declaration under section 3 implies that the old practices will be changed where the majority of Commissioners wish to introduce a change. Then enquiry as to what is conducive to the advancement of Sikh religion to which on many points different sects will return different answers will be made. The amendment proposed by me to clauses 18 (1) (f) and 18 (3) have not been adopted by the Select Committee.

The Bill therefore clearly contravenes the policy of non-interference in religious matters and clearly lends State aid to religious reform. It sets therefore an example the pernicious consequences of which are far reaching in many ways. No one will be more pleased than myself if my evil forboding prove to be incorrect.

NARENDRA NATH.

‡1. The definition of gurdwara and shrine require careful consideration as they were given rather in haste.

2. The decision of the majority of the Select Committee as to the appointment of three Sikh gentlemen and the mode of such appointment is to be regretted. It is not fair to Udasis, Nirmalas, Saijdharis and Sanatan Sikhs, and particularly to those who are in possession of gurdwaras and shrines and property attached thereto, and their successors.

3. The provisions of section 10 (a) by which Board of Commissioners will be entitled to take possession of gurdwaras and shrines and of all property attached thereto, and that (b) the decision of the Board shall be final without giving the aggrieved party right of appeal from such decision is against principles of justice and equity. The attaching of such properties under section 4 and if necessary with power to Board to act as Receiver would amply meet the ends of justice.

I need not write more as the time at my disposal is short, and amendments can be moved when the Bill comes before the Council for final disposal.

Proceedings of His Excellency the Governor of the Punjab in Council in the Home—General Department, No. 11746, dated 13th April 1921.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor in Council regrets to find that attempts are being made in public speeches and writings to embitter the cordial relations which have hitherto been maintained between Government and the Sikh community which has worked with Government so loyally in the past, and he considers it necessary to explain certain aspects of the Government's position before further mischief can be done. The whole tendency of the Government policy during the last few years has been to accord to the Sikh community all reasonable privileges and to remove any legitimate grievances that may have existed. As examples of this policy may be mentioned the exemption of the wearing of the Sikh religious emblem, the kirpan, from the restrictions of the Arms Act; the introduction for the first time of separate representation for Sikh interests in the Legislative Council; the accession to the wish of the Sikh community for the retirement of Government officers from the control and management of the Khalsa College and the grant of three lakhs of rupees for the completion of the buildings in the College; the withdrawal of Government interference in the management of the Golden Temple; the appointment of a Sikh Member of the Executive Council; the removal of sundry restrictions on Sikh prisoners in jail; the withdrawal of certain restrictions and penalties on Sikh villages; the provision of two engineers for the protection from erosion by river of the shrine of Guru Nanak at Kartarpur in the Gurdáspur District, and so forth. From these examples, if any such examples are needed, it will be apparent that the Government has done more in the last few years to evince its sympathy with Sikh aspirations than in any similar previous period of its history. It is therefore especially painful for Government to find efforts being made to create a feeling of estrangement between it and the community.

2. While according its active help in the secular matters above mentioned, the Government have in religious questions between Sikhs and Sikhs maintained an attitude of sympathy for the progress of the community. The recent movement for the reform of those Sikh gurdwaras and shrines whose reform was necessary has been treated by the Government as in itself a purely religious matter, and so far as it is a purely religious matter it has been looked upon with general sympathy by Government and its officers. The Government have no desire to interfere with its progress, but when the rights of others, whether Sikhs or members of other communities, are affected, the Government has necessarily had to act with circumspection, and when such rights have been disturbed by violence or intimidation the Government have had to vindicate the law. They have in some four or five cases found it necessary to arrest persons believed to have been guilty of breaking the law by taking possession of shrines or removing property from shrines by intimidation or force. The question whether the persons arrested were guilty is being investigated by the Courts, and every facility has been given to the accused to represent their cases to the Courts themselves or through their legal advisers. If they have failed to avail themselves of the opportunities for vindicating their innocence, the fault cannot be attributed to the Government.

Moreover, the allegations which have been made that Sikhs have been arrested for wearing kirpans are quite untrue. Men have been arrested for wearing swords and men who were wearing kirpans have been arrested for specified offences, but no man who was wearing the kirpan in a peaceable manner has been interfered with for wearing a kirpan.

3. Steps have at the same time been taken by the Government to introduce emergent legislation so as to provide legal means for dealing with gurdwaras and shrines and so removing all excuse for the use of violence. The provisions of the Bill introduced have been several times discussed by Government with the Sikh Members of the Legislative Council, and the Bill has been very fully dealt with in the Legislative Council and in the public press. The proposals made in the Bill have, as might have been expected, failed to meet universal approval, and, while on the one side it is criticised as not providing the reforming party with sufficiently ample powers, it is represented, on the other hand, as a dangerous menace to established rights and an undue concession to the party of reform. But it should be understood that the Bill has been introduced with no other object than that of supplying to the party of reform a method of securing a procedure which the existing law does not provide, and it has been devised solely with the object of meeting the immediate needs of the Sikh community.

4. Government desire in this connection to make clear their attitude towards the Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee as their attitude has at times been misrepresented. This Committee, which consists of about 175 persons, states that it has been formed to look after all the Panthic gurdwaras within the Province and outside, and that it is entitled to make such changes as it thinks fit in the management of such shrines. These are claims which may or may not be recognized by the persons in charge of the shrines or by the Courts of law, but these claims have neither been acknowledged nor denied by the Government, as such claims do not in themselves affect the relations of Government to the people. If the Committee or its agents are able, without using any intimidation or violence, and without sending organised parties of persons whose appearance at a shrine has the practical effect of intimidating the occupants, to persuade the existing incumbents to modify in a lawful manner the existing arrangements of gurdwaras and shrines, the Government has no desire whatever to interfere ; and so far as such modifications may tend to secure real reforms they have the sympathy and approval of the Government.

The Government is glad to be assured that the Committee have expressed their strong disapproval of intimidation and violence, and it is to be hoped that the expressed wishes of the Committee will in this respect be scrupulously observed by the community as a whole.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, Home Department and to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners, in the Punjab, for information.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

LEGISLATIVE.

The 18th April 1921.

Order by His Excellency the Governor under sub-rule (2) of rule 43 of the Punjab Electoral Rules.

No. 12225.—Whereas on the 9th day of November 1920, Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, O.B.E., was declared by the Returning Officer under rule 12 of the Punjab Electoral Rules to be duly elected as a member of the Punjab Legislative Council for the North-West Rohtak (non-Muhammadan) Constituency;

And whereas an election petition was duly presented under rule 30 of the aforesaid rules by Chaudhri Govardhan Das, a candidate for the said constituency;

And whereas His Excellency the Governor, in exercise of the power conferred upon him by sub-rule (2) of rule 34 of the aforesaid rules, by order, dated the 6th January 1921, appointed Mr. F. W. Kennaway, I.C.S., Khan Bahadur Shaikh Abdul Qadir, and Mr. Dalip Singh, as Commissioners for the trial of the aforesaid petition;

And whereas the aforesaid Commissioners have, in accordance with sub-rule (2) of rule 43 of the said Electoral Rules, forwarded the report hereto attached to the Governor;

Now, therefore, His Excellency the Governor, in exercise of the power conferred upon him by sub-rule (2) of rule 43 of the said Electoral Rules, is hereby pleased, in accordance with the report of the Commissioners, to declare the election of the aforesaid Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, O.B.E., as a member of the Punjab Legislative Council for the North-West Rohtak (non-Muhammadan) Constituency, to be void.

ROHTAK CASE.

Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, O.B.E., pleader, Rohtak, was returned without a contest for the North-West Rohtak (non-Muhammadan) Constituency. His election has been called in question by a petition presented by Chaudhri Govardhan Das, on the grounds set out therein: the petition is published under notification No. 1028, dated the 11th January 1921, in the Punjab Government Gazette.

The petitioner does not claim a declaration that he himself has been duly elected but merely asks that the return of the respondent be declared void.

The evidence produced by the parties was taken at Lahore, but as we were not satisfied that the enquiry made was sufficient, we proceeded to Rohtak and heard a number of witnesses on the spot, which we also inspected.

The facts which we find proved by the evidence taken are as follows:—

There were two constituencies in Rohtak District; one that of South East Rohtak, of which the officiating Deputy Commissioner, Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh, was the Returning Officer, and the other that of North-West Rohtak, of which Chaudhri Sardar Ali, Revenue Assistant, was the Returning Officer. Chaudhri Govardhan Das was eligible as a candidate for North-West Rohtak.

On October 4th, 1920, Chaudhri Govardhan Das, who is a very simple person, presented to the officiating Deputy Commissioner an application to be considered a candidate for membership of the Legislative Council. The officiating Deputy Commissioner passed this application on to Lala Nand Lal, Extra Assistant Commissioner, who, on November 1st, passed an order to the effect that the application was premature, that a proper form should be obtained from the District Office and filled up, and that it should then be presented by Chaudhri Govardhan Das in person on the 8th November before noon.

On the 8th November between 9 and 10 A.M., Chaudhri Govardhan Das attempted to enter the Court Room of Chaudhri Sardar Ali with a nomination paper or papers, but he had hardly entered the room before Chaudhri Sardar Ali harshly ordered him to leave. Chaudhri Govardhan Das thereupon proceeded to the residence of Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh, officiating Deputy Commissioner, about 100 yards from the District Courts: he was admitted to see him and made some representation to him but, not being satisfied, repaired to the house of Mr. Lamacraft, Superintendent of Police, some 300 yards distant, complained to him and asked his help: he told Mr. Lamacraft that Chaudhri Sardar Ali had refused to take his nomination paper and had told him to clear out of his Court: that he had reported this to the officiating Deputy Commissioner who had told him that he would see him in his Court.

Mr. Lamacraft, whose action we consider to have been natural and proper, wrote a short note to the officiating Deputy Commissioner, stating what Chaudhri Govardhan Das has told him and asking if the officiating Deputy Commissioner could help him. This note Chaudhri Govardhan Das took to the house of the officiating Deputy Commissioner who refused to take it and told him to come to his Court whither he was about to proceed. Then, probably about 11-30 A.M., the officiating Deputy Commissioner went over to his Court-room. There, at 11-45, Chaudhri Govardhan Das presented to him Mr. Lamacraft's letter and at least one nomination paper. The officiating Deputy Commissioner states that, not approving of Chaudhri Govardhan Das's action in going to the Superintendent of Police, he only read one or two lines of the letter and then tore it up and threw it into the waste-paper basket: he took no action on it. As regards the nomination paper he says that he did not even look at this paper but sent it straight into his Office: he adds that so far as he recollects he did not even know at that time that Chaudhri Govardhan Das was a candidate, because he did not look at the nomination paper and had forgotten about the previous application of October 4th already mentioned.

At 12-7 on the same day Chaudhri Govardhan Das presented a second nomination paper to Chaudhri Sardar Ali who at once rejected it on the ground that it had been presented after 12 o'clock, which was the latest time for the presentation of nomination papers.

On the following day, which was the day of the scrutiny, the respondent Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, O.B.E., being the only candidate, was declared by Chaudri Sardar Ali to be the returned candidate for the North-West Rohtak Constituency.

In the South East Rohtak constituency, of which the officiating Deputy Commissioner was the Returning Officer, the scrutiny also took place on that day and Chaudhri Govardhan Das's nomination paper coming up for scrutiny was of course rejected, since it was for the North-West Rohtak Constituency of which the officiating Deputy Commissioner was not the Returning Officer. There were other grounds also for its rejection which will be referred to later.

The questions which we have to consider on these facts are—

(1) Whether there has been any irregularity in respect of a nomination paper, and

(2) If so, whether the result of the election has been materially affected thereby. (Rule 42 (I) (c) of the Punjab Electoral Rules.)

On the first question we find no difficulty: it is abundantly clear, from the above recital of the facts of the case, that there was more than one irregularity committed in respect of the nomination paper. It is sufficient for our purpose, however, to record our finding that Chaudhri Sardar Ali's action in refusing Chaudhri Govardhan Das access to him in order to present his nomination paper, was a grave irregularity.

The second question involves more difficulty. It is argued for the respondent that even if Chaudhri Sardar Ali had received the nomination paper that nomination paper would have inevitably been held to be invalid at the subsequent scrutiny because, as is shown by the officiating Deputy Commissioner's order that paper was not signed by the seconder, whose name was not even given in the paper, and that no stamped declaration (of the appointment of an election agent) on stamped paper was received with it. It is further pointed out, though the officiating Deputy Commissioner had not noticed it, that the name of the constituency is wrongly described as "Tahsil Gohana and Rohtak" instead of "North-West Rohtak non-Muhammadan," and that the number of the proposer's and seconder's names in the Electoral Roll are not given. It is therefore urged that the result of the election would have been the same and thus was not materially affected by Chaudhri Sardar Ali's action. We have given this argument our most earnest consideration, but find ourselves unable to accept it. The way in which we look at the matter is this:—

It will be conceded that it is obligatory on a Returning Officer to receive a nomination paper, relating to the constituency of which he is the Returning Officer, provided that it is presented to him within the time prescribed. It would be absurd to suppose otherwise, and it has not even been considered necessary by the Legislature to lay down in so many words that a Returning Officer shall receive such a nomination paper so presented to him : it has indeed enjoined on him by Regulation 8 in Punjab Government notification No. 9, dated the 31st July 1920, that, on the receipt of a nomination paper within the time prescribed, he shall enter on it certain particulars, and this he obviously could not do unless he received it. Now the obligation to receive a nomination paper would not be laid upon the Returning Officer unless the carrying out of this obligation were not material to the election, as it manifestly is. Consequently, the moment a Returning Officer has improperly and without justification refused to receive a nomination paper sought to be presented to him within the time prescribed, the presumption arises that the result of the election has been materially affected. The improper refusal of a nomination paper by a Returning Officer is, in our view, so grave an irregularity that this presumption would require the strongest and most conclusive proof for its rebuttal and it lies heavily on the respondent to rebut the presumption so raised.

We do not think that the correctness of the above proposition is open to doubt, but in support of the general principle we may refer to the following cases in English Election Law, both Statute and Common. By section 13 of the Ballot Act, 1872, no election shall be declared invalid by reason of a non-compliance with the Rules for Parliamentary Elections, if the election was conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the body of the act and such non-compliance did not affect the result of the election.

The judgment in the Islington case, 1901 (5 O'M. & H. 120) is to the effect that, where there have been transgressions of the law committed, even without any corrupt motive, by the Returning Officer and the Court sees that the effect of those transgressions was such that the election was not really conducted under the existing election laws, or it is open to reasonable doubt whether those transgressions may not have affected the result of an election and it is uncertain whether a candidate has really been elected in accordance with the laws in force relating to elections, the Court is then bound to declare the election void : further, that it rests on the respondent to prove that such an infraction of the law did not and could not affect the result : the previous case of Gribbin v. Kirker to the same effect was approved in the Islington case. (Rogers on Elections, Volume II, pages 256 and 68-9 Edition of 1918.)

In dealing with cases of intimidation, which is only another form of undue influence, to which the circumstances of the present case render it analogous, the English Election Judges have gone even further. Thus in the North Durham case, 1874, (2 O'M. & H. 152) Baron Bramwell said that where the result of the election might have been affected it was, in his judgment, no part of the duty of a Judge to enter into a kind of scrutiny to see whether possibly or probably even, or as a matter of conclusion upon the evidence, if the undue influence had not existed, the result would have been different. What the Judge had to do in that case, he observed, was to say that the burden of proof had been cast upon the constituency whose conduct was incriminated, and, unless it could be shown that the gross amount of intimidation exercised could not possibly have affected the result of the election, it ought to be declared void.

In the North Meath case, 1892 (4 O'M. & H. 185) it was said by Andrews, J., speaking of general spiritual intimidation "I think it clear that if the result of the election may be reasonably believed to have been affected thereby, the Court cannot be called on, before voiding the election, to determine as a matter of fact that, if this influence had not existed, the result of the election would have been different."

In Davies v. Lord Kensington, 1874 (L. R. IX, C. P. 720), a Returning Officer had wrongfully refused to nominate one of the candidates on the ground that he would not give security for the Returning Officer's expenses and the election was avoided in consequence.

Similarly, in the Mayo case, 1874 (2 O'M. & H. 191), where the Sheriff had refused to receive a nomination because the candidate had not appointed an expense agent, the election was declared void.

As stated in Parker's "Election Agent and Returning Officer" 3rd Edition, page 526, "the mandatory provisions of a Statute must be obeyed or fulfilled exactly or the election will be declared void."

We venture to express our concurrence in the dicta in the Islington, North Durham and North Meath cases, and, as a result, do not consider that we are called on to determine as a matter of fact that, if the Returning Officer Chaudhri Sardar Ali had not been guilty of such grave irregularity, the result of the election would have been different. Although not feeling bound to do so, we will, however, record our findings upon the points raised on behalf of the respondent.

In the first place, we would observe that the question of the actual effect of Chaudhri Sardar Ali's conduct on the election involves the initial difficulty that, in order to determine that effect, we have to make inferences and assumptions as to the possible or probable future actions of parties which are of course of themselves hypothetical. We have to assume, for instance, that Chaudhri Sardar Ali would not have examined the nomination paper at the time and have pointed out any errors or omissions apparent on the face of it and that Chaudhri Govardhan Das would not then have gone away and corrected them or had them corrected. Again, we should have to assume that Chaudhri Govardhan Das would not have had another nomination prepared and put it in within the time prescribed : we know, as a matter of actual fact, that he did have a second nomination paper prepared (whether before he first went to Chaudhri Sardar Ali or subsequently would be a matter of argument on the evidence), and that that nomination paper was actually put in, though, owing to the time which he spent in applying to the Deputy Commissioner and to Mr. Lamacraft, it was presented after the time prescribed.

Secondly, we should have to find that, as a matter of fact, which would have to be strictly proved, the most serious defect in the nomination paper, namely, the omission of the name and signature of the seconder really existed. We are unable to accept the proposition that it has been proved that the name or signature of the seconder were really absent. The evidence to this effect consists solely of the order of Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh, officiating Deputy Commissioner, and of the same Officer's statements before us, and we record with regret that we are unable to take these as sufficient proof. It is clear from what has been already said that Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh's conception of his duty as head of the District was, to say the least of it, defective, we think that he had not acquainted himself with the election procedure and forms, and we consider it by no means improbable that his order in the register to the effect that the name and signature of the seconder were not given in the nomination paper is wrong. In that paper, beneath the name and description of the candidate, there occurs a schedule in four columns for entry of the name, address, and voters' number of the proposer and seconder : the space opposite the words 'taid kuninda' or seconder has been left blank : this is a defect no doubt, but a formal defect, and the name and thumb-mark of the seconder are given below the schedule in the space provided for the signature or thumb-mark of the seconder. In view of the opinion which we have been constrained to form of Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh's methods of work and of his knowledge of election procedure we think it possible, if not probable, that, when he recorded that the name and signature of the seconder were not given in the nomination paper, he was looking only at the blank space already mentioned. If we turn to his statements before us we find that, when he first appeared at Lahore on February 3rd he stated that, so far as his memory went, the names and signatures of proposer and seconder were not there when he wrote his order in the register : he could not swear that they were not. Yet at Rohtak on March 12th he stated that he was quite sure that the signature of the seconder was not on the nomination paper : he went on to add, however, and this is significant—"the name is also still not in the space above for the seconder's name." He proceeded "I am now quite sure that neither proposers' nor seconder's signtures were on P. 2 when I received it and at the 'srcrutiny'" but again said "I am not quite sure about the proposer's 'signature.'" This can hardly be described as satisfactory evidence upon which to base a finding that the nomination paper was tampered with subsequently to the scrutiny, a finding which would follow from an acceptance of the correctness of the officiating Deputy Commissioner's order in the register. There is no other evidence whatever in support of so serious a charge which was indeed never put forward on behalf of the respondent until the last day of hearing. The nomination papers we know were given over directly after the scrutiny to the officiating Deputy Commissioner's reader or to the Superintendent of his office and the same evening were sent in a closed cover by the hand of the Electoral Kanungo, Shiv Lal, to the Reforms Commissioner at Lahore.

As regards the stamped declaration, one such declaration was duly attached to the other nomination paper presented to Chaudhri Sardar Ali at 12-7 on the 8th November and we have no reason to suppose that it could not have been made within the time allowed by law for the deposit of such declarations with the Returning Officer. As to the remaining defects alluded to above, we need only say that we are not prepared to find that they would have caused the nomination paper to be held invalid.

We thus reject the arguments addressed to us on this point by the respondent's counsel and find that the result of this election has been materially affected by irregularity in respect of the nomination paper of Chaudhri Govardhan Das.

It remains to notice certain other points which arise in the case. It is prescribed in Regulation VII of Punjab Government notification No. 9, dated the 31st July 1920, that a nomination paper to be valid must be delivered to the Returning Officer before noon on the date fixed. It was argued on behalf of the petitioner that his other nomination paper which was presented at 12-7 to Chaudhri Sardar Ali was really within time within the meaning of the regulation; "noon", it was said, does not mean 12 o'clock but the time when the sun is at its meridian, and, since standard time, according to which the nomination paper was 7 minutes late, is some 22 minutes in advance of the local time at Rohtak, therefore the nomination paper was really presented well within time. In support of this argument the petitioner's counsel referred to Punjab Government Notification No. 23, dated the 28th October 1920, according to which the time for scrutiny of nomination papers is given as "12 o'clock noon," as showing that a distinction is drawn between "noon" and "12 o'clock": and, secondly, he has advanced the proposition that the distinction is deliberate since ordinary villagers would know noon as the exact middle of the day, but not 12 o'clock, and in using the word "noon" the legislature had this idea in mind.

We find it somewhat difficult to take this argument seriously and we are certainly not impressed by the reasons advanced in its support. In the first place, the interpretation sought to be placed upon the word "noon" is a fictitious one: the word should be given its ordinary accepted meaning. In Webster's Dictionary the definition is "the middle of the day; midday; the time when the sun is on the meridian; 12 o'clock in the day-time," showing that there is no such single fixed meaning as the petitioner's counsel would assign to the word. "Noon," in the ordinary acceptation of the word, means "12 o'clock in the day-time" and it would be for the petitioner to show that it means anything else. Secondly, the reference to notification No. 23, dated the 28th October 1920, goes rather against the petitioner than in his favour: in the expression "12 o'clock noon" the word "noon," if not pleonastic, is plainly to be taken as explanatory of the words "12 o'clock," as fixing them definitely to mid-day and not to mid-night. Thirdly, we are entirely without evidence as to what was the local time at Rohtak, or even whether any local time was kept at all, and whether it differed from standard time. Fourthly, as regards the argument that noon was meant to indicate a particular time to villagers we have not been shown that Government intended to legislate in this matter for the convenience of persons who were ignorant of standard time and no evidence has been put forward in support of the proposition. On the other hand, if Government had intended local time to be observed in these matters, we should have expected to find this definitely laid down and elaborate instructions given to enable Returning Officers throughout the province to ascertain the exact local time in each locality; but we find nothing of the sort. Lastly, the petitioner himself never understood that noon meant anything but 12 o'clock, the argument finds no place in this petition and is manifestly an afterthought. We reject it accordingly.

The allegations made in paragraphs II (a), IV, V and VI of the petition amount to charges of corrupt practice against Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh, Chaudhri Sardar Ali and the respondent: under Rule 45 of the Punjab Electoral Rules we are required to include findings thereon in this report.

The petition does not state which of the corrupt practices detailed in Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules has been committed by each of the three persons named, but, from the facts as set out in the beginning of this report, it will be apparent that their conduct could only fall, if it falls at all, within the catagory of undue influence as defined in Rule 2 of Part I of the Schedule, namely "interference with the right of any person to stand as a candidate by means of injury (or) restraint." If the respondent had not connived at such interference, then if proved as against the two officials, the corrupt practice would be one under Rule I of Part II of the schedule. We desire here to observe that, in respect to undue influence there is not complete correspondence between the Punjab Electoral Rules and the Indian Elections Offences and Inquiries Act (XXXIX of 1920). Section 171-C (1) of the Act is entirely general and makes it an offence (punishable under section 171-F., with imprisonment or fine or both) for any one voluntarily to interfere or attempt to interfere with the free exercise of any electoral right. The rule in the schedule to the Punjab Electoral Rules, however, lays down definitely what is to be considered interference and the definition of the right interfered with is also different to the definition in the Act.

As regards the conduct of the respondent, this is impugned in paragraph VI of the petition and we find that it was expressly stated by the petitioner's counsel, at the first hearing of the case, that he did not press the charges therein made. Moreover, although the action of the two officials resulted in advantage to the respondent, yet there is no evidence before us that this action was taken at the instance of the respondent himself or even with his connivance. He appears to have been outside Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh's house when the petitioner went there with Mr. Lamacraft's letter and he was also in Chaudhri Sardar Ali's Court-room when Chaudhri Govardhan Das put in his other nomination paper at 12-7, but there is nothing whatever in the evidence to show that he had any part in the proceedings of either of the two officials. No evidence in fact has been offered against the respondent, we decline to draw any inferences against him, and we find that no corrupt practice has been proved to have been committed by him or with his connivance.

Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh was not the Returning Officer of this constituency, he had no duties imposed upon him in connection with the election therefor, there is no proof whatever that he was endeavouring to assist the respondent by failing to assist the petitioner, he did not interfere directly with the petitioner's right to stand, we are certainly not prepared to look upon his action in respect to Mr. Lamacraft's letter or the petitioner's nomination paper or papers as indirect interference, and whatever view may be taken by the Executive authority of his conduct as officiating Deputy Commissioner, we cannot find that he was guilty of any corrupt practice.

Chaudhri Sardar Ali's case is open to more doubt. By refusing to allow Chaudhri Govardhan Das to approach him with his nomination paper it might be argued that he voluntarily interfered with the free exercise of the petitioner's right to stand as a candidate within the meaning of sections 171-C (1) and 171-A. (b) of the Indian Elections Offences and Inquiries Act, thereby being guilty of an offence; but for the purpose of this report it is necessary to find that this action amounted to a corrupt practice within the meaning of Rule 2 (b) and (2) (a) of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules, i. e., was the interference with the petitioner's right by means of "violence, injury, restraint or fraud or any threat thereof?"

Wrongful restraint is defined in section 339 of the Indian Penal Code as the voluntary obstruction of any person so as to prevent that person from proceeding in any direction in which that person has a right to proceed, and although the word 'wrongful' is not found in the rule quoted, we think that the definition may be adopted, for the purpose of this case, as the meaning to be attached to the word "restraint" in the rule.

That the petitioner's right was directly interfered with and that he was obstructed by Chaudhri Sardar Ali is plain, but we should require it still to be shown that that obstruction was voluntary; it will be noticed that the word "voluntarily" is also used in section 171-C of the Elections Offences and Inquiries Act. "Voluntarily" is thus defined in section 39 of the Indian Penal Code: "A person is said to cause an effect voluntarily when he causes it by means whereby he intended to cause it or by means which at the time of employing those means he knew or had reason to believe to be likely to cause it."

The question of intention thus becomes essential, and this is the case also in the English law dealing with corrupt practices at an election. There "to constitute a corrupt practice it is essential that there should be a corrupt or wicked motive." (Fraser's Law of Parliamentary Elections and Election Petitions, 2nd edition, page 141).

Now there is no real evidence of corrupt motive on Chaudhri Sardar Ali's part. He is not shown to have been acting with the object of favouring the respondent and we think that we should not be fully justified in drawing any inference that this was his object. Mere suspicion, however strong, cannot take the place of proof. It is possible to hold the view that he was unaware that Chaudhri Govardhan Das was an intending candidate for election, that he was engaged in other work at the time when Chaudhri Govardhan Das sought to enter his Court and that, not wishing to be disturbed he ordered him to go out: if this view is taken, then although Chaudhri Sardar Ali's action may be open to objection on the ground that he ought not to have refused admission to any one on the day on which nomination papers were to be received, yet it amounted to no more than a default in his duties as an official. If this was so, it is unfortunate that Chaudhri Sardar Ali did not frankly admit the fact instead of denying, and adhering to his denial, that he had seen Chaudhri Govardhan Das before noon on that day. We may remark here that, although Chaudhri Sardar Ali appeared twice before us and had the opportunity of stating anything he wished in defence of his conduct, he appeared only as a witness, he was not specifically put upon his defence and he was unrepresented by counsel. There is no provision in the Indian, as there is in the English, law for the Returning Officer being made a respondent in the case.

In the absence of sufficient proof of corrupt motive or intention it would not be safe to find that Chaudhri Sardar Ali has been guilty of a corrupt practice.

Under section 11 of the Indian Elections Offences and Inquiries Act we have full power to determine the allocation of costs. Although the petitioner has been successful his case was so badly presented to us that we were obliged to Act under section 5 of the Act and summon and examine of our own motion no less than 10 witnesses whose evidence appeared to us to be material. Further, nothing has been proved against the character or conduct of the respondent and it would be unfair to saddle him with the petitioner's costs. The proceedings have been necessitated by the action of a Government Official, Chaudhri Sardar Ali, (who, since he could not be made a respondent, cannot be ordered to pay costs) and we do not think that the Government Advocate, who appeared at the Lahore hearings, is entitled to claim his costs on behalf of Government.

We therefore decide to leave each party to bear their own costs.

Having concluded the inquiry, we report to His Excellency the Governor of the Punjab, firstly, in accordance with Rule 43 (1) of the Punjab Electoral Rules, that Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Lal Chand, O.B.E., the candidate returned for the North-West Rohtak (non-Muhammadan) Constituency, has not been duly elected; secondly, in accordance with Rule 45 (a) of the same rules that no corrupt practice has been proved to have been committed by the returned candidate; and thirdly, in accordance with Rule 45 (b) of the same rules, that neither Khwaja Rahim Bakhsh, Officiating Deputy Commissioner of the Rohtak District, nor Chaudhri Sardar Ali, Returning Officer of the Constituency, has been proved to have been guilty of a corrupt practice.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

Hissar Case.

In the Punjab Legislative Council elections of December last Rai Sahib Chaudhri Lajpat Rai, Vakil, Hissar, was returned by a majority of 345 votes over his nearest opponent, Dr. Ramji Lal, for the Hissar (Non-Muhammadan) Rural Constituency.

On the 28th of December, 1920, Rajmal, Zaildar, an elector in that constituency and the election agent of Dr. Ramji Lal, presented a petition calling this election in question. The petition sets forth the allegations which are relied on to invalidate the election of the returned candidate and is published in the Punjab Gazette, Extra ordinary, dated 12th January 1921.

The allegation is that free entertainment and conveyance to the poll were given to voters by or with the connivance of the Respondent or his agents. It is prayed that the election be set aside on the ground of the corrupt practices aforesaid.

The Petitioner produced a large number of witnesses before the Commission, both at Lahore and Hissar, to show that treating on a large scale had been going on at all the polling stations in the district, and that money had been paid in several cases on account of the carts and camels hired for the conveyance of voters to various polling stations. We may say at once, however, that after carefully considering the evidence produced by the Petitioner and hearing his learned Counsel on the value of that evidence, we came to the conclusion that in all instances but one the Petitioner had not been able to make out a case requiring rebuttal by the Respondent. The evidence thus rejected was oral testimony of a very ordinary type, given by witnesses most of whom appeared from their evidence to be more or less partisans. They professed to have supported the Respondent during the election, after having been treated by him. This part of their statements was tested by us by referring to the voting papers and it was found that a large number of them who stated that they had voted for the Respondent, had not really done so. We regarded such mis-statements as tainting the whole of the evidence of the witnesses who made it and we did not feel ourselves justified in holding thereon that the Petitioner had discharged the onus that lay on him of proving his allegations. The Respondent was, therefore, called upon to produce evidence to rebut the charge of treating at Hánsi only, in regard to which we considered that the Petitioner had made out a prima facie case. So far as the oral evidence of the persons who say they were treated at Hánsi is concerned, we hold that it is not possible to regard them as more reliable than others of the same kind whose evidence has been discarded. No less than eleven of them stated falsely that they had voted for the Respondent. There is, however, something more tangible than such oral evidence to go upon in this case. There is documentary evidence, the credit of which has not been impeached in any way, in the bahi of Kesari (P.W. 21), showing that on the 2nd of December 1920, which was the polling day at Hánsi, a debt of Rs. 114-6-0 was jointly incurred by Ude Singh, Jat, son of Ganga Ram, and Sissu Jat, son of Jawala, of village Sissai, for sweetmeats. Kesari states that Sissu and Ude Singh bought from him on the 2nd December sweets worth Rs. 114-6-0 which were given to Zamindars coming from the district outside the town, a seer to each. We find that both these men are intimately connected with the Respondent and must be presumed to have been acting on his behalf, even if it may not be safe to presume that they were doing so with his knowledge and consent. Sissu or Sis Ram was the Respondent's own younger brother and, though not an appointed election agent, is to be regarded as one who was acting as one of the Respondent's agents during this election, especially in view of the Respondent's admitted personal connection (as will appear below) with, at any rate, a portion of this item of Rs. 114-6-0 unfortunately Sissu died during the pendency of this case but the Commission has no reason to suppose that his explanation would have been any different to that offered by the Respondent himself. Ude Singh is a caste fellow of the Resdondent and belongs to his village. He owns lands jointly with, and is a friend of, Amin Lal, who was, admittedly, a polling agent of the Respondent. The Respondent has been appearing as a pleader in a number of cases, for parties among whom the name of Ude Singh is included, though the Respondent professes himself unable to say for certain whether he was ever engaged by Ude Singh personally or not. On the polling day Ude Singh was acting in unison with Sissu, both incurring a joint responsibility for the item of Rs. 114-6-0. This is a combination of circumstances from which the conolusion that Ude Singh was acting as an agent of the Respondent seems to be irresistible. It is to be remembered that, in English Law, which, in this respect, may well be referred to, the relation of candidate and agent is much wider than that of principal and agent under the ordinary law, and such relationship is to be inferred from facts.

To return to the bahi entries.

The statement of Kesari (P. W. 21) is supported by his son, Sant Narain (P. W. 27) who is the writer of those entries and was present on the day when the sweets were taken. He says Sissu and Ude Singh both got sweets for the Jats and that an entry was made in the bahi jointly against their names for Rs. 114-6-0. No adjustment of this debt took place until 2nd January 1921, when a part payment of Rs. 15-6 was made by the Respondent who was accompanied by Sissu. Sant Narain says he was asked by the Respondent to put it down as paid on account of Sissu's share but adds the significant fact that the subsequent receipt of the remaining sum of Rs. 99-0-0 from Ude Singh was credited in his bahi in the joint name of both the debtors These two banias, father and son, are substantial people. They are in no way unfriendly to the Respondent, and in fact their evidence shows a tendency not to say more against him than they can help. The main part of their statements if not disputed or denied by the Respondent or by the witnesses produced by him and their evidence certainly makes out a prima facie case of bribery as defined in Rule I of Part I of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules as against the Respondent's agents, Ude Singh and Sissu, and under Rule 42 (I) (5), this charge, if unrebutted, would avoid the election.

The Respondent has tried to meet this case by a somewhat elaborate line of defence. He says that this item of Rs. 114-6-0, standing jointly against Sissu and Ude Singh in the bahi of Kesari, really consisted of three separate items, for two of which he was in no way responsible. His story is that his brother, Sissu, purchased sweets, etc., for Rs. 15-6-0 only for feeding some friends and relatives of his, who were at Hánsi to help him, and that sweets for the remaining sum of Rs. 99 were purchased by Ude Singh on behalf of a number of other persons who were the actual beneficiaries and undertook to repay him the amount. Ude Singh, (R. W. 1,) further splits this sum of Rs. 99 into two items. He says that a large number of his co-villagers went to Hánsi on the polling day, some to vote and some non-voters as spectators, that they went with him to the shop of Kesari and took sweets there. Men of two Thullas (or sub-divisions) of the village of Sissai were there. He gave his name to Kesari as responsible for Rs. 99 and, Sissu guaranteeing him in his turn, the name of both were thus jointly put down. He adds that after about a month he sent the money to Kesari through a bania of his village named Mahbub or Mahbub Singh (R. W. 2). The story is that Rs. 50 out of this sum he paid on behalf of the men of his Thulla, Indwan, by borrowing the same from Baijnath (R. W. 6), and Rs. 49-12-0, including annas twelve interest, were paid by Shugan Chand (P. W. 5) on behalf of the men of Thulla Aidal. It will be seen that this complicated explanation fails miserably when the evidence is examined closely. No single person who took refreshments at Kesari's under the ægis of Ude Singh is produced to support his story that he merely accepted responsibility for their expenses subject to subsequent repayment to him of the amount expended.

The entry of Rs. 114-6-0, as it stands, would be ordinarily taken to mean a jointly incurred debt and raises no possible inference that one of the two debtors was responsible for only a small fraction of the money. The story of Ude Singh that Sissu's name was only added as security cannot be believed. In the first place, Kesari and his son did not mention anything of the kind, nor were any questions put to them on this point by the Respondent. In the second place, if he had stood surety for the debt incurred by Ude Singh there should have been a separate entry for that sum and a separate entry of Rs. 15-6-0 in his own account. There was no reason why Ude Singh should havelbeen put down as jointly responsible for Sissu's debt. Moreover, Ude Singh was already known to Kesari and had had dealings with him before—whereas Sissu had had no previous account with him,—and the former, being a substantial Zamindar, would not ordinarily require security. We cannot therefore believe Ude Singh's explanation of the joint entry. It is much too lame and faulty. It is equally impossible to believe Mahbub's version that when he had paid Rs. 99 to Kesari on account of Ude Singh and Kesari made an entry about the sum in his bahi he did not know what was being written. The entry as to the receipt of Rs. 99, being also in the name of Sissu and Ude Singh jointly, makes it clear that the position, as understood by Kesari and his son, was different to what it is now represented to be by the Respondent and his witnesses.

An effort further to bo ster up this part of the Respondent's case has been made by the witnesses who are produced to show that the sweetmeats were purchased from Kesari by certain Jats of Thullas Indwan and Aidal for themselves, through Ude Singh, and had nothing whatever to do with the Respondent. We are not prepared to accept this evidence as true, for reasons given below. Apart from other things, the evidence on this point is much too artificial to be believed and its very elaboration defeats the object with which it is put forward. We are told by Ude Singh (R. W. I.) that some men of his Thulla went to Hansi on the polling day and as they felt hungry and had no money, they asked him to get sweetmeats for them. He did so and gave his name to the Halwai on the understanding that he would realise the sum out of the malba of the Thulla. It may be explained that the malba is a fund formed out of subscriptions from the body of villagers or thulladars for the purpose of defraying expenses which are debitable to the village or thulla as a community. Ude Singh adds that he was asked by men of the other Thulla (Aidal), who, strangely enough, found themselves in the same predicament for want of money, to be responsible for the expenses of their food as well. He agreed to do so. It is stated that about 25 days later four men of Thulla Aidal, headed by Sheokaran, (R. W. 3), took a sum of Rs. 49-12, from Shugan Chand bania (R. W 5), who is the first cousin of Baijnath (R. W. 6) and belongs to the same Thulla as Amin Lal, on the 27th December 1920, out of the joint account of Thulla Aidal, which he kept in his capacity as banker, and paid the sum to Ude Singh, for payment to Kesari. All four of them, including Sheokaran (R. W. 3) are said to have made their thumb impressions on the bahi of Shugan Chand. The remaining three are not produced. It is not explained why there was so much delay in adjusting this account when the money was, according to Sheokaran, available out of the deposit of Rs. 350 which had been left with Shugan Chand, nor how these four persons, none of whom was a lambardar, had authority to take money out of the malba fund. But this is not the only strange part of this unnatural story. It is stranger still that Shugan Chand flatly contradicts the very positive statement of Sheokaran as to the deposit of any sum of Rs. 350 with him on behalf the Thulla or the existence of any surplus out of it in his hands. He makes out that this was a debt pure and simple which is still undischarged. He produces his bahi, which says nothing as to the deposit and reads like an entry of a debt incurred by four persons. Such a material discrepancy in the statements of these two witnesses leads us to think that the entry does not represent a genuine transaction, but has been procured by some one, presumably by Ude Singh, in order to create documentary proof in support of the version now given by him. The story of Ude Singh and Sheokaran, therefore, that the expense incurred was meant to be met out of the malba breaks down. The entry relating to the remaining item of Rs. 50 occurs in the bahi of Baijnath (R. W. 6) who, curiously enough, is first cousin, as already mentioned, of Shugan Chand and is Ude Singh's own banker : from him Ude Singh borrowed Rs. 50 in his own name on the 29th December, to defray the alleged liabilities of the Thulla Indwan people. This transaction is equally suspicious. The witness says that the revenue had just been realised when the expense was incurred, and the villagers said that the sum might be recovered by him out of the malba when the revenue for the next season was realised. There is nothing to show how the malba accounts in Ude Singh's Thulla stood and he would seem to be incurring responsibilities everywhere more lightly than a man like him would be expected to do. His conduct is shown to be further strange in not going at once to pay the money, raised by him after so much trouble, to the creditor, Kesari. He does not go himself to adjust his accounts with the Halwai but asks Mahbub, bania, to take the money to Kesari. Mahbub gets the money on the 2nd January 1921, but does not go to Kesari till the 6th January 1921. No good reason is shown why Mahbub's intervention should have been sought at all, except on the hypothesis which favours the theory urged on behalf of the Petitioner, that the idea was to create an entry in yet another bahi to support an otherwise improbable explanation of the item in question. If Mahbub had been a man who was thought of as a messenger because he happened to be going to Hansi, the item of Rs. 99-12-0 had hardly any business to find a place in his bahi. It is significant that the item of Rs. 99-12-0 though alleged to be ready in the hands of Mahbub is paid after the payment of Rs. 15-6-0 has been made by Sissu and the Respondent and an effort artificially to split up the item of Rs. 114-6-0 has been made. It seems that it was this which was being waited for before the item of Rs. 99-12-0 was remitted and it was remitted through stranger to the transaction in order to create evidence in his bahi in support of Ude Singh's version. Mahbub has no previous accounts and no connection with Ude Singh, but it is significant that he has accounts with Amin Lal.

It is argued strenuously on behalf of the Petitioner that the idea of splitting up the item of Rs. 114-6-0 into two, and, of further splitting the part of it attributed to Ude Singh into two, must have occurred to the Respondent when he heard that an election petition was going to be filed against him. This petition was actually filed in Lahore on the 28th December 1920, and it has been seen already that the entries in the various bahis referred to above are on the 27th December 1920, 29th December 1920, the 2nd January 1921, and the 6th January. It is highly probable that the Respondent came to know of the likelihood of the petition being lodged and immediately started to cover up the traces of the expenses incurred in treating in the only case in which documentary evidence of it was in existence. To say the least of it, these dates show a dangerous proximity to the date on which the petition was presented and appear to be much more than mere coincidences. We need not elaborate any further the reasons which have convinced us that the story of the Respondent in explanation of the item of Rs. 114-6 0 is untrue and that the expense was incurred jointly by the Respondent's brother and by Ude Singh, who were, on the polling day, acting in the interests of the Respondent, and were, for the purposes of the election, his agents.

It remains to be seen, whether these sweets were distributed to voters in order to induce them to vote for the Respondent. Ude Singh admits that the men whom he fed on the polling day included voters and he would have us believe that there were also many non-voters among them. But that the men fed at Kesari's were voters is apparent from the entry which Ude Singh himself secured in the bahi of Baij Nath (R. W. 6). This runs: "Rs 50. advanced to Ude Singh, son of Ganga Ram, to be paid to Kesari, Halwai, of Hansi, for the food of the 'parchiwalas' (voters) of Thulla Indwan." This was the position on the 29th December 1920. It is clearly an after-thought now to introduce non-voters among those fed. We take it, therefore, that the persons fed were voters. When nearly one hundred voters from one village were fed on the polling day at Hansi by two men intimately connected with the Respondent, and acting on his behalf, as we have found above, the inference is clear that they were fed in order to induce them to vote for the Respondent. The effort to win the vote may have succeeded in some cases and failed in others, but that would be immaterial. The corrupt motive is shown by the circumstances proved and makes the action of the two agents a corrupt practice which would, as indicated above, avoid the election of the returned candidate.

Having come to the above finding so far as the effect on the election of the treating at Hansi is concerned, we may say that we think it is doubtful whether the direct responsibility of the Respondent for this corrupt practice has been brought home to him. It is urged that his conduct in accepting the acts of his brother Sissu, and paying Rs. 15-6-0 out of the item, and also in endeavouring to obliterate the traces of the remaining items shows up his attitude with regard to this matter in an unfavourable light, and that a presumption must be drawn from it that he was from the outset conniving at the doings of his agents. There is some force in this contention as showing the mens rea of the Respondent, but it must be remembered that this is after all his conduct long subsequent to the event, which is not incompatible with his being innocent of all complicity in the corrupt practice at the time it took place. His brother or his supporter, Ude Singh, may, as has constantly been found in English Election cases, have been over-zealous on the election day when he himself was busy at the polling station and unaware of what they were doing. He may have had to pay items of expenditure in whole or in part afterwards when creditors tell him that things were given on credit on his behalf on the authority of his men. He may even have gone the length of foolishly trying to save himself from the consequences of the acts of his agents by means of concocted evidence to explain away the item in dispute, but all this would not necessarily mean that he was in the plot at the time that the corrupt practice was committed.

We do not see sufficient reason, on the record before us, to come to the conclusion that he was personally concerned in the doings of his agents or was conniving at them.

The two agents, we think, have clearly been guilty of the corrupt practice alleged against them, but of the two one, Sissu, is dead, leaving Ude Singh, who is equally to blame, to take the consequences of his conduct under the Electoral Rules.

We report, therefore, to His Excellency the Governor (1) that the Respondent, who is the returned candidate for this Constituency, has not been duly elected, (2) that no corrupt practice has been proved to have been committed by him, but (3) that the corrupt practice of bribery, by treating, as defined in Rule I of Part I of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules, has been proved against Ude Singh, son of Ganga Ram, Jat, of Sirsai, in the Hissar District.

As regards costs, we consider that the Respondent, although he loses the seat, should not, in view of the failure of the petitioner to make good all his allegations, be called upon to pay all the latter's costs. We direct the Respondent to pay the Petitioner Rs. 700 costs in all.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

Sheikhupura Case.

The polling for the Sheikhupura Muhammadan rural constituency resulted as follows :—

Malik Muhabbat Khan, of Karkan	1,199
Khan Dauran Khan, of Sangla	1,168
Chaudhri Sarbaland	250
Syed Muratab Ali Shah	69
Chaudhri Roshan Din	57
Maulvi Insha Ullah	19

M. Muhabbat Khan was declared duly elected and his election has been called in question under Punjab Electoral Rule 30 by Khan Dauran Khan on the grounds set out in his petition published under Punjab Government notification No 1027, dated 11th January 1921. The four remaining candidates were made respondents, but have not contested the case, which has been tried as between Khan Dauran Khan as petitioner, on the one side, and M. Muhabbat Khan as respondent, on the other, the former producing 133 and the latter 177 witnesses besides documentary evidence, necessitating 25 hearings of the case.

The petitioner has further claimed a declaration under Punjab Electoral Rule 32 that he himself has been duly elected, and the respondent, under rule 40, made recriminatory charges, which were, however, dropped during the course of the trial.

One legal point in this case has been disposed of by a preliminary order, dated the 31st January 1921, which may be read as part of this report and is attached as an annexure. The matters with which we now have to deal involve, with one exception only, questions of fact on which, as no possible creation of precedents is to be considered, the report, following the English practice, may be comparatively brief.

Corrupt practices, falling under three separate heads, are charged against the respondent or his agents, namely, bribery, threats of injury and fraud, all three being alleged to have been practised on voters. As regards the charge of bribery, which is imputed to persons acting as the agents of the respondent, although a certain amount of evidence has been produced in support of it, we are of opinion that it has not been sufficiently made out, and we find against the petitioner in this respect.

Under the head of threats of injury it is charged against the respondent that, during the canvassing which took place before polling day, the respondent and agents of his threatened voters in various villages with theft of their cattle, if they voted for the petitioner rather than for the respondent. It is alleged (1) that the respondent is regarded as the head of the Wagah clan of the tribe of Janglis who are the original inhabitants of the Bar country, of which a considerable part of the Sheikhupura District consists : this tract has been colonised by settlers from other parts of the Province in consequence of the introduction of canal-irrigation ; (2) that these Janglis, including the Wagahs, are notorious cattle-lifters, and, as such, are regarded with apprehension by the colonists and (3) that consequently such threats would come home with especial force to those colonists, who were thus threatened. We have no hesitation in finding that the allegations here set out have been amply proved by the evidence put before us. For the respondent it is not denied that he is regarded as the head of the Wagah clan, and the attempt to show that the Wagahs are not notorious as cattle-lifters has, in our opinion, entirely failed ; the numerous witnesses for the respondent who say that by the term "Janglis" is meant Pakhiwaras, Bazigars, etc., simply discredit themselves, and the positive assertion that they are not known as cattle-thieves is outweighed by the evidence of more credible witnesses on the other side.

For the purpose of this Report it is not really necessary for us to decide whether the Respondent himself is an actual rassagir, or member of a gang of cattle-thieves : there is, it is true, a mass of oral evidence to this effect which is countered by oral evidence of the opposite tendency and by the production of a large number of certificates of good work from officials, including police officers, granted to the Respondent at various times during the last 20 years. We are not inclined to look upon the Respondent's oral evidence or these certificates as excluding the possibility of the truth of the charge, but, be that as it may, our conclusion is that, whether rightly or wrongly, he is certainly regarded by the colonists as in league with the Wagahs in the matter of cattle-lifting and as being able to control their activities in this direction. The only point therefore remaining for discussion in this connection is whether the threats charged were in fact uttered to any voter by the Respondent or by any agent of his. Now if this were a case subject to the ordinary course of appeal, we should feel bound to enter upon and set down a review of the evidence on both sides, in spite of the difficulty, of which we are conscious, that, in view of the above findings, the naming of the specific witnesses upon whom we rely might lay them open to special retaliation from the cattle-lifters of the tract. As it is, we do not consider it either necessary or desirable to name such witnesses and, after prolonged consideration of all the evidence, and weighing its value with the greatest care in the light of the lengthy arguments addressed to us, we record only our finding that the use of threats, as charged, has been proved against the Respondent, M. Muhabbat Khan himself.

There is a considerable body of evidence against a number of other persons who are alleged to have been agents of the Respondent, but for various reasons we feel some doubt as to its value or adequacy as against specific individuals, with two exceptions, and we give the benefit of that doubt to all except those two. The exceptions are Rahmat of Bhattiánwála and Hasham of Dharor, and we find that these men, who are notorious rassagirs, were guilty of using threats of the same kind in numerous villages in order to secure votes for the respondent. We also find that they must be held to be agents of the respondent: they are proved to have canvassed for him to such an extent that he must have known of it: he never repudiated their actions and must thus be held to have adopted them as agents, although there is no direct proof of their actual appointment as such. The law of agency in elections has long been held in England to go much further than the ordinary law of principal and agent: as said on page 76 of Fraser's Law of Parliamentary Elections and Election Petitions (2nd Edition), "where there is no express appointment the agency must be inferred from facts," and again on page 81 of the same work, "the fact that a candidate has expressly or impliedly employed any person to canvass for him will generally, but not necessarily, constitute that person his agent." In the Wakefield case (2 O'Malley and Hardcastle, page 103) Grove J. said "a candidate is responsible generally, you may say, for the deeds of those who to his knowledge, for the purpose of promoting his election, canvass and do such other acts as may tend to promote his election, provided that the candidate or his authorised agent has reasonable knowledge that those persons are so acting with that object." The same Judge in the Wigan case (4 O'M. & H., page 12) laid down that "there may be cases in which canvassing would not necessarily involve agency, but general canvassing has always been held to be strong evidence of agency and evidence which requires a very strong case to rebut it, if it can be rebutted." Applying these principles to the evidence before us we find the fact of agency proved and decide accordingly.

The last charge is that of fraud in that on the day of the polling at Sangla, namely, 6th December 1920, various agents of the Respondent, finding that the voting was going strongly against the Respondent in that place, which was the petitioner's own town, were sent out to turn back persons coming in to vote by falsely informing them that there had been a compromise between the parties, and that there was thus no use in their proceeding further.

No evidence has been produced to show that the voting at Sangla fell off after the time of the alleged fraud, and, in the case of three out of the five villages, the voters from which are said to have been so deterred, we may say at once that the evidence is not sufficient to prove the allegation, and, further, that in the case of the two latter, there is nothing to connect the person, who is said to have made the false statement, with the Respondent. The case as regards the two remaining villages is stronger, but we think not strong enough to reach the standard of proof required to support a quasi-criminal charge. Although there is a mass of evidence produced, witnesses of the kind put forward are easily procured, there are unexplained discrepancies in their statements, and in both cases the inaction of the voters is susceptible of reasonable, and, indeed, probable, explanation on other grounds. We therefore think that the benefit of the doubt should be given to the Respondent and we find this charge unproved accordingly.

It follows from this decision that the petitioner is not entitled to a declaration that he has himself been duly elected. He has failed to show, as he endeavoured to do by the evidence last discussed, that he obtained a clear majority of votes over the returned candidate, and we cannot hold that the votes given for that candidate are absolutely thrown away. There is no provision in the Indian Law to this effect and the English Law is against any such proposition: in this connection we need only refer to the authorities quoted on page 130 of Rogers on Elections, Volume II, Edition of 1918.

In accordance with Rule 43 (1) of the Punjab Electoral Rules, we shall humbly advise His Excellency the Governor that the returned candidate, M. Muhabbat Khan, has not been duly elected.

Of the numerous persons alleged to have been guilty of corrupt practices we can only find the charge proved, as will appear from what has been already said, in the case of the Respondent himself, M. Muhabbat Khan, of Karkan, in that of Rahmat, son of Lakha, of Bhattiánwála, and in that of Hasham, son of Dasaundhi, of Dharor, both in the Muridke Thana of the Sheikhupura District, the corrupt practice, in each case, being that of undue influence by threat of injury, falling under rule 2 of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules. As required by rule 45 of the same rules, we report accordingly.

As regards costs, we decide, after taking into consideration all the circumstances of the case, the charges proved and unproved, and the expenditure incurred by both sides, to award the petitioner a lump sum of Rs. 1,000, to be paid to him by the Respondent.

Annexure to Sheikhupura Case.

IN this case an objection has been taken in the Respondent's written statement to paragraph 6 of the election petition on the ground that the allegations made in it are vague and indefinite, and it has been urged that the petition should be dismissed for want of necessary particulars. Mr. M. S. Bhagat, who appeared for the Respondent No. 1, while not going so far as to question the powers of the Commission to allow amendment of a petition by the addition of further particulars, laid stress on the provisions of rule 31 of the Punjab Electoral Rules requiring particulars of any corrupt practices alleged in a petition to be embodied in the petition, and contended in the alternative that the petitioner should be called upon to give better particulars in order to enable the Respondent to meet the case against him. The arguments addressed to us on this point on both sides covered no more than the grounds taken in the preliminary arguments in the Lahore Case, which have been dealt with at length in the preliminary order passed in that case, and it does not seem necessary to go over the same ground again. Suffice it to say, that we do not see anything in the Punjab Electoral Rules justifying the view that a petition, which gives particulars of the acts relied on, is to be summarily rejected for want of fuller particulars. On the contrary, there is authority in the Civil Procedure Code for allowing further and better particulars to be given, with the reservation that the petitioner is not to be permitted to make out a new case. The object of furnishing such particulars is to avoid surprise to the Respondent, and from that point of view they are as necessary in the interests of the parties concerned as in those of justice and fair play. The practice in England also supports this procedure. The petition in the present case gives the material facts on which the petitioner relies, and so far as the supplying of further particulars goes, the petitioner in his replication to the written statement has not only expressed a willingness to supply such particulars as may be ordered, but has actually supplied them to an extent which, we think, should give the other party the information they can reasonably require to be furnished to them, without giving details of the whole of the evidence on which the petitioner is going to rely. We now proceed, therefore, to frame issues in the case.

Casson, C.S.I., I.C.S.

The 8th June 1921.

No. 16599.—Whereas on the 13th day of December 1920, Khan Bahadur Mir Muhammad Khan, Vakil, of Simla, was declared by the Returning Officer under rule 12 (6) of the Punjab Electoral Rules, to be an elected member of the Punjab Legislative Council for the South-East Towns (Muhammadan) Constituency :

And whereas an election petition was duly presented under rule 30 of the aforesaid rules by Nawabzada Muhammad Irshad Ali Khan, of Karnál, a candidate for the said constituency :

And whereas His Excellency the Governor, in exercise of the powers conferred upon him by sub-rule (2) of rule 34 of the aforesaid rules, by order, dated the 6th January 1921, appointed Mr. F. W. Kennaway, I.C.S., Khan Bahadur Sheikh Abdul Qadir, Bar.-at-Law, and Kanwar Dalip Singh, Bar.-at-Law, as Commissioners for the trial of the aforesaid petition :

And whereas the aforesaid Commissioners have, in accordance with sub-rule (2) of rule 43 of the said Electoral Rules, forwarded the report, herewith attached, to the Governor :

Now, therefore, His Excellency the Governor, in exercise of power, conferred upon him by sub-rule (2) of rule 43 of the said Electoral Rules, is hereby pleased, in accordance with the report of the Commissioners, to declare the election of the aforesaid Khan Bahadur Mir Muhammad Khan, as a member of the Punjab Legislative Council for the South-East Towns (Muhammadan) Constituency, to be void ; and is further, pleased to declare Nawabzada Muhammad Irshad Ali Khan, of Karnál, to be duly elected as a member of the Punjab Legislative Council for the aforesaid constituency.

CASE OF THE SOUTH-EAST TOWNS (MUHAMMADAN) CONSTITUENCY.

The Respondent in this case, Khan Bahadur Mir Muhammad Khan of Simla, was returned by a majority of one vote only over the petitioner, Nawabzada Muhammad Irshad Ali Khan, of Karnal. The parties were the only two candidates for election in this constituency and polled respectively 198 and 197 votes The election has been called in question by the petitioner on the grounds that there were numerous cases of personation among the voters of the town of Simla and that certain voting papers were wrongly held invalid by the Returning Officer. The petitioner has charged the respondent or his agent and friends with connivance at the corrupt practice of personation. He has further claimed a declaration under Punjab Electoral rule 32 that he himself has been duly elected. Under rule 40 of the same rules the respondent made recriminatory charges against the petitioner, but little evidence was adduced in support of those charges. They have not been pressed in argument and we do not propose to refer to them further, except in so far as they concern two votes given in his favour, which the respondent alleged had been wrongly held invalid by the Returning Officer. We consider that the charges of corrupt practices brought by the respondent against the petitioner were improperly and recklessly made.

We shall first take the scrutiny necessitated by the petitioner's claim to the votes which he alleges were wrongly given to the respondent owing to personation. Of these, 8 votes have been admitted by the respondent, at the time of argument, as lost to him. These are as follow :—

Muhammad Ibrahim, P. W. 3, voted in the name of his father, Muhammad Ismail, P. W. 2, voter No. 324 in the Electoral Roll.

Qazi Ghisu, P. W. 5, voted in the name of his son, Muhammad Ali R. W. 5, voter No. 320 in the Electoral Roll.

Abdul Sami, P. W. 7 voted in the name of one Abdul Sami voter No. 168 in the Electoral Roll, whose age is put down as 30 and profession shop-keeping. Abdul Sami is a school-boy of 17 years of age and he therefore is not qualified as an elector.

Muhammad Sadiq, P. W. 10, son of Imam Bakhsh, voted in the name of Muhammad Sadiq, P. W. 9, son of Amir Din, voter No. 13 in the Electoral Roll, Simla Khurd.

Muhammad Yamin, P. W. 19, voted in the name of his father Nasir Din, voter No. 358 in the Electoral Roll.

Miraj Din, P. W. 32, voted twice, his name having been entered twice by mistake in the Electoral Roll under Nos. 269 and 338.

Ghulam Ahmad, P. W. 35, son of Mir Abdul Sattar, voted in the name of Ghulam Ahmad, son of Muhammad Ibrahim, voter No. 223 in the Electoral Roll.

Wali Ullah P. W. 39, voted in the name of his uncle Muhammad Bakhsh, P. W. 36, voter No. 267 in the Electoral Roll.

In addition to the above the petitioner claims as lost to respondent a number of other votes, the claim to which is disputed by the respondent. These will be dealt with seriatim.

Muhammad Azam, P. W. 1., a Government of India Official, had a vote but being at Delhi, did not vote, and some one else unknown voted in his name. He was voter No. 291 in the Electoral Roll. The respondent's plea that the parentage of this voter is not given in the Electoral Roll and that there might be some other Muhammad Azam, who was entitled to vote and who actually voted, is rejected. We have it in evidence without rebuttal that there is no other Muhammad Azam in Government service at Simla.

The name of Muhammad Qasim, son of Abdul Aziz, appears twice in the Electoral Roll under Nos. 292 and 307, the only difference between the entries being that the profession in one case is put down as Sahukara and in the other as service. Muhammad Qasim, P. W. 22, states that he only voted once, and acknowledges his signature on the identity voucher belonging to voter No. 307, while he denies that on the identity voucher of voter No. 292. We have some doubt as to the truth of this denial. But apart from this, we are satisfied that there is here a lost vote. The witness states that there are other persons named Muhammad Qasim in Simla, but he does not know their parentage. In view of these facts we consider that the respondent, who is intimately acquainted with Simla, should have been able to produce the Muhammad Qasim, if any, who voted as voter No. 292. This he has not done, and without therefore deciding that P. W. 22 actually voted twice, we find that Electoral Roll Nos. 292 and 307 relate to the same man ; consequently the vote given in the name of voter No. 292 is lost.

Habib, P. W. 25, was not a voter, but voted in the name of some voter, probably No. 66 in the Electoral Roll. We believe the evidence to the effect that it was this witness who voted, and hold that the vote given is a lost one.

In the Electoral Roll under No. 279 appears the name af Muhammadi, no parentage, aged 40, profession shop-keeping. Under No. 296 is another Muhammadi, son of Salaru, aged 40, profession shop-keeping. Both voted. Muhammadi, P. W. 26, says that Salaru is his uncle, but has no son and that he, the witness, voted. He cannot identify the thumb-mark on the identity vouchers of either voter, and the Phillaur expert says that neither is of the same type as the witness's. We are inclined to think that the witness did not vote, and further are not disposed to think it proved that there is no other Muhammadi in Simla. The only point upon which we credit this witness is when he says that Salaru is his uncle and has no son. It is quite unlikely that he would speak falsely in this matter. We hold therefore that the witness is the voter entered as No. 296 in the Electoral Roll, that he did not vote, but that some one else voted for him. One vote is thus lost.

At No. 365 in the Electoral Roll appears the name of Nur Bakhsh, son of Jhandu, profession shop-keeping. This voter appears as P. W. 29. He was away from Simla and never voted, and there is no other shop-keeper of his name and parentage. This man is illiterate, but the person who voted for him signed his name. This is a lost vote.

At No. 377 in the Electoral Roll appears the name of Hato. No parentage is given. His age is put down as 40 and profession shop-keeping. We are entirely convinced by the evidence that there is no such person as Hato, which is merely a form of address among Kashmiri coolies. How the entry came to be made is a mystery, which only the enumerator and his superiors would be able to solve. No solution has been advanced before us, and the Electoral Roll of Simla is, we find, so defective and incorrect in many particulars that it would be futile to follow up any one such defect or mistake in particular. One Ahmad Wain, P. W. 30, has come before us, but denies that he voted or that his name or alias is Hato: at the same time an affidavit, sworn by this man and dated 28th January 1921 to the effect that his real name is Hato and that he voted, is put in as Exhibit R. 4. We are not concerned at the moment which statement is true. We need only say that, even if this man did vote in the name of Hato, he was voting in a ficiitious name, that is to say, he applied for a voting paper in a name which was not his own. The vote is lost.

Under No. 174 of the Electoral Roll appears the name of Abdul Samad. No parentage is given, his age is 40 and profession shop-keeping. P. W. 38, says that he is this voter and that there is no other shop-keeper of this name in Simla. He did not vote, and denies his signature on the identity voucher. He is a respectable and a substantial man, and we believe his evidence. The vote is therefore lost.

Having found on the above scrutiny that fifteen votes are lost we have examined the ballot papers and find that all these lost votes were cast for the respondent.

We have also looked at the voting papers held invalid by the Returning Officer, with reference to Regulation 32 of Punjab Government Notification No. 9, dated 31st July 1920, and to the various English rulings on the subject. We are unable to agree with the Returning Officer that the voting papers marked thus X, X, X, X or X are invalid for any of the reasons therein given. We hold them valid accordingly. On the other hand, voting papers marked thus X, X, X, X or X are clearly invalid; one of them is marked with more than one cross opposite the name of the candidate, while the others appear to contain attempts at signing the name of the voter and bear marks by which the elector might certainly afterwards be identified.

In the Commissioners' report, the 1st, 3rd, 6th and 9th symbols are marked in blue pencil, the 2nd, 7th and 8th in red, and the 4th and 5th partly in blue and partly in red.

The petitioner claims two more votes, which were disallowed him on the ground of absence of the punch-mark prescribed by Regulation 25 under rule 13 of the Punjab Electoral Rules. One such voting paper is not punched at all and one has a defective punch mark. In England want of an official mark may render a voting paper invalid under rule 36 of Schedule I of the Ballot Act, but Regulation 32 of Punjab Government Notification No. 9, dated 31st July 1920, does not provide that the lack of the punch-mark shall invalidate a voting paper in the Punjab, and both these votes must be allowed to the petitioner, leaving him a net gain of 5 votes on the spoiled voting papers. This, together with the 15 votes lost to the respondent, as explained above, leaves the respondent with 184 votes, and the petitioner with 202 votes.

The election of the returned candidate must, therefore be declared void, and the petitioner is entitled to a declaration that he was duly elected; we humbly advise His Excellency the Governor by this report, accordingly.

We now proceed under Punjab Electoral Rule 45 to record our findings on the question of the corrupt practices alleged to have been committed. As explained above, we find that the following persons have personated the real voters:—

(1) Muhammad Ibrahim, Qazi Ghisu, Muhammad Sadiq, Muhammad Yamin, Miraj Din, Ghulam Ahmad, Wali Ullah, Habib.

We have held in the Rohtak case that, to constitute a corrupt practice, a corrupt motive is essential. The Indian Law of personation (rule 2 of Part II of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules) reproduces the English Law as contained in section 24 of the Ballot Act and it is now completely established in England that "unless there be corruption and a bad mind and intention in personating, it is not an offence." (Stepney case: 4 O.M. & H 44). We have no hesitation in accepting the same interpretation here and, in consequence, we are unable to hold that, except in two cases, the persons named above, although they personated voters committed a corrupt practice. Their votes, of course, are lost since they were not the true voters or entitled to vote, and, although they have been exonerated from the charge of corrupt practice, it does not follow that any person who abetted their acts is not himself guilty of corrupt practice. Under the definition in rule 3 of Part I of Schedule IV abetment of any of the acts constituting personation is itself a corrupt practice and from this point of view, the guilt or innocence of the personator is immaterial.

The two exceptions are :—

(1) Muhammad Ibrahim, who voted for his father Muhammad Ismail and who admits he can write while his father is illiterate, but who thumb-marked his identity voucher instead of signing it. He says that he did this at the instance of the respondent. This may be so, but even so, it should have warned him that he was doing something illegal ; and we convict him, on these facts, of a corrupt practice under rule 2 of Part II, of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules.

(2) Miraj Din, a house proprietor in Simla, who voted twice for the respondent, passing as voters Nos. 269 and 338 in the Electoral Roll, in one case signing his name on the identity voucher in English and in the other in vernacular, in the first case signing his correct name and the second making small alterations so as to bring the signature into accord with the name as entered the second time in the roll. Under No. 269 in that roll appears the name of Miraj-ud-din, son of Muhammad Sultan, aged 30, profession Sakukara: under No. 338 the entry reads Miraz Din, son of Muhammad Sultan, aged 24, profession shopkeeping. It has been conclusively shown to us that Miraj Din must have entered the polling booth twice on separate occasions during the polling day and voted on one occasion as voter No. 269 and on the other as voter No. 338. When he denies that he went twice to the polling station, he is guilty of a patent falsehood, for not only are his identity vouchers not consecutive, but they are taken from two different books, being No. 5 in Book No 120/10 and No. 4 in Book No. 99/5. Further, it would have been impossible for him to have obtained two identity vouchers and two voting papers for this constituency at the same time and have run the gauntlet of all the polling-station officials while so doing. If it be taken that both entries in the Electoral Roll refer to the same person, then on these facts his action is not susceptible of explanation on the hypothesis that he was under the bonâ fide impression that he had two votes even if it could be assumed that a voter of this standing and education was unaware that no voter could have two votes for the same constituency. If it be taken that the entries relate to two different persons, then it is clear that this man personated one of them. The definitions of personation in rule 2 of Part II of Schedule IV of the Electoral Rules make it a corrupt practice for any one to apply for a voting paper in the name of any other person or for any one who has voted once at an election to apply for a voting paper in his own name at the same election. Miraj Din's action, which the method he adopted shows, was not bonâ fide—thus amounts to personation under one or other of these definitions. The petitioner only claims one vote as bad and we have not considered the question whether both should be held bad or not. One vote is lost to the respondent.

We report Miraj Din also as guilty of personation, which is a corrupt practice under rule 2 of Part II of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules. In the case of Ahmad Wain, there is some doubt whether he voted, but he actually perjured himself on this point and we are sending him to Magistrate under section 476, Criminal Procedure Code ; the conduct of this person may be therefore left to be dealt with by the Magistrate.

We wish here to animadvert on the conduct of Abdul Aziz, Municipal Overseer, inducing his son, who was admittedly not qualified as an elector, to vote. This Abdul Aziz was canvassing on behalf of the respondent and was actively engaged on his behalf on the polling day. He is a man of some education and must certainly have known that his son was not qualified to vote. There is some doubt, however, whether the name entered in the Electoral Roll does not really relate to this Abdul Sami, though with a wrong age given, whether deliberately or otherwise. We are unable therefore to hold either that the conduct of Abdul Sami falls within the definition of personation as given in rule 2 of Part II of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules or that Abdul Aziz committed any offence under rule 3 of Part I of the same Schedule. We wish, however, to express our strong condemnation of the action of Abdul Aziz, whose son was doubtless acting under the influence of his father.

Although there is some evidence to connect Ali Naqi, Sanitary Inspector of Simla Municipality who also canvassed for respondent, with the personation of Muhammad Sadiq, son of Amir Din, by Muhammad Sadiq, son of Imam Bakhsh, yet we are unable to find that there is sufficient proof to justify a finding of the corrupt practice in question, that he was guilty of abetment.

It remains to consider the question how far the corrupt practices mentioned above were committed either directly by, or with the connivance of, the respondent himself. We have carefully examined the evidence which is both direct and circumstantial against him. In the way of direct evidence, we have the statements of Muhammad Ibrahim, P. W. 3, Habib P. W. 25, and Ghulam Ahmad, P. W. 35, and if these statements stood alone, we should have had much hesitation in acting on them. We are unable, however, to overlook a number of circumstances which, taken together and in conjunction with the oral evidence, lead us to the conclusion that, even if he did not directly procure or abet the personation of any one voter, yet such personation was with his connivance. In the first place, the respondent is an old resident of Simla and a Vice-President of the Municipality, and must have been personally acquainted with many of the voters. Of the total number of 150 votes cast in Simla Kalan, all but four were in his favour. There are proved 15 cases of personation and we have reason strongly to suspect 5 others. This gives a very large percentage of personated votes, and as the respondent admits his presence at the polling station for about four hours on the day, it is difficult to see how some of them did not occur in his presence, as the witnesses allege. Of the 3 votes cast in Simla Khurd, one has been held invalid for personation in which Ali Naqi—his agent and his subordinate in the Municipality—is said to have had a part. Moreover, his other subordinate and agent, Abdul Aziz, who admittedly canvassed for him, was active at the polling station of Simla Kalan and the conduct of this man has already been adversely commented on. It is clear that some person or persons were engaged in procuring widespread personation of voters, a number of whom, being small shopkeepers, would naturally be subject to the influence of Municipal officials. It is impossible to believe that all this campaign of personation in the interests of the respondent was being conducted without his knowledge and complicity. If, therefore, he came to know at the time, as we consider he must have done, and took no steps to disassociate himself from the corrupt practices of his agents, he must be held to have connived at these corrupt practices.

We report accordingly that Khan Bahadur Mir Muhammad Khan is guilty of corrupt practice as defined in section 3 of Part I of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules. We desire to add a few observations in possible explanation of the conduct of the respondent. This was the first election held under new and somewhat complicated rules and regulations. It is possible that the respondent placed himself too much in the hands of over-zealous and unscrupulous agents, allowing them to conduct this election as if it were a Municipal election—in which such practices, as have here prevailed, are not unknown—without realising the serious consequences involved by his action or inaction The respondent's close connection with Simla would have led him to expect a heavy poll in his favour, but owing to the election being held in the winter, many voters, such as Government officials, shop-keepers and others, had, as is usual, left Simla for the plains. He would thus be deprived of many otherwise certain votes unless by some means or other those votes could be cast. There is evidence to show that in one case, that of Muhammad Sadiq, the real voter was willing to vote for him and in others, as where a son personates his father or a father personates his son, the obvious inference is that the real voters would have voted for him and he and his agents might not have regarded the matter as very serious.

The respondent was regarded as a Government man by the non-co-operators, who were strenuously opposed to him and probably caused many abstentions, although it would be absurd to suppose, as suggested by the respondent, that they actually put forward persons to vote for him in order subsequently to involve him in the charges now made against him.

It will be for Government to decide whether the circumstances are such that it should exercise the power vested in it under the proviso to rule 5 (4) of the Punjab Electoral Rules. We are unable ourselves, from the judicial point of view, to make a recommendation to this effect.

The respondent must bear all the costs of the petitioner which we assess at Rs. 2,500.

LAHORE CASE.

In the election of December 1920 for the Lahore City (Muhammadan) Constituency, Maulvi Muharram Ali, Chishti, with 276 votes was declared elected. The votes obtained by the remaining candidates were as under :—

Malik Barkat Ali	...	114
Khan Bahadur Maulvi Inam Ali	...	30
Maulvi Fazal Din	...	17
Maulvi Insha Ullah	...	1

The total number of electors registered for the constituency was 7,080.

This election has been called in question by a petition presented by Malik Barkat Ali on the 28th December 1920, and published under notification No. 1023, dated 11th January 1921, in a Punjab Government Gazette Extraordinary. The seat is not prayed and no other candidate has applied to be joined as respondent.

The election has been impugned on the grounds of general intimidation of voters and of the exercise of spiritual influence in the way of threats by certain Pirs on the inducement of the respondent and his agents.

A preliminary question of some importance, bearing on the interpretation of Punjab Electoral Rule 31, was disposed of in our intermediate order, dated 28th January 1921, a copy of which forms an annexure to this report. On the remaining issues involved we proceed to report as follows :—

It will be convenient first to dispose of the matter of the exercise of spiritual influence. As to this the petitioner has entirely failed to convince us either that any such spiritual influence as would come within the definition contained in rule 2 (2) (b) of Part I of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules, was exercised or, even if such an influence was exercised, it was induced by the respondent or his agents. The definition in question falls under the heading of undue influence and runs thus :—

> " Any threat to a person or inducement to a person to believe that he or any person in whom he is interested will become or be rendered an object of divine displeasure or spiritual censure. "

We have had a certain amount of evidence placed before us to show that three Pirs, by name Pir Jamaat Ali Shah of Alipur, Mirza Bashir-ud-Din, Mahmud of Qadian and Maulvi Ikram-ud-Din, Bukhari of Lahore, addressed their respective followers on behalf of the respondent. But there is no evidence worthy of credit that any such address contained or was intended to contain any such threat or inducement as is alleged by the petitioner or is contemplated by the rule.

As regards Pir Jamaat Ali Shah, there are only two direct witnesses ; all they are able to say is that when the Pir was sitting one day in the Patolianwali Mosque the respondent approached him with a request that he would ask his murids to vote for him. The Pir responded by asking those present to vote for the respondent. The attendance of the Pir himself could not be obtained, and he was given up as a witness by the petitioner. There is no trace of threat here.

As regards the Mirza of Qadian, the petitioner relies on a letter, dated 17th September 1920, addressed by a Secretary of the Mirza to the Secretary of the local Ahmadiyya Community (Exh. P. B.), but it is quite impossible to regard the expressions used in this letter as denoting more than a wish that that community should support the respondent ; there is nothing even approaching a threat or inducement. With a view to indicating generally what in our opinion comes within the bounds of legitimate canvassing by a spiritual leader we reproduce a translation of this letter below :—

> "It is understood that Mr. Chishti is a candidate for the Punjab Council for Lahore and its environs. Our Hazrat has approved of him, and I have been directed to invite you to turn your attention as well as that of the President of the Lahore Ahmadiyya Community to an endeavour to have votes given for Mr. Chishti by the members of the Ahmadiyya Community of Lahore. A separate letter has been addressed to the President of the Lahore Community. Please issue necessary instructions for the community after consulting him."

There is nothing here to which exception could possibly be taken. The only action taken by the local Secretary, P. W. 37, was to circulate a copy of the letter to 83 persons, whose names appear in his register, but it is not even known how many of these were actually voters. Upon this point there are only four direct witnesses, of whom one, P. W. 38, is admitted by the petitioner himself to be unreliable, two others, P. Ws. 34 and 37, admit that no threat of spiritual censure was held out to them, while the 4th witness is the Mirza himself, P. W. 39, who states that he had no intention that the letter should be a threat or inducement, and further that, in secular matters, his followers are at liberty to take his admonitions as recommendations only. As a matter of fact, we have it from the register beforementioned that two of his followers went the length of recording vigorous objection to voting for the respondent.

The position taken up by the petitioner is that, even though no actual threat was held out to any one by the two Pirs above named, yet the effect of the instructions, which they gave to their followers, would be such as to produce on the minds of those followers the fear that they would be committing a sin if they did vote for the respondent, drawing a further inference therefrom that the incurring of divine displeasure would result from the commission of this sin. In our view this position is quite untenable, if only because, when it is sought to bring home a corrupt practice to any one, it is the action of that person which must be primarily looked to ; corrupt intention is the essential element and no such intention has been shown as regards these Pirs. The question of what the persons addressed thought is a secondary one and does not arise if no corrupt intention on the part of the Pirs is shown. But, even apart from this, we are not satisfied that the persons addressed would all, or even in the majority of cases, consider that it would be a sin not to vote in accordance with the recommendation of a Pir. There is some evidence to show that ignorant and over-credulous persons might so consider it, but even of that there is not sufficient to convince us that this is really the case. At the same time, we think that candidates should exercise great caution in invoking the aid of spiritual leaders to assist their candidature, and that spiritual leaders themselves, before addressing their followers, should weigh very carefully the effect which their words would have upon each and every section of such followers.

The third case is that of Maulvi Ikram-ud-din Bukhari, whose statement has been taken on interrogatories at Gwalior ; he denies the allegations made against him. This person is not a regular Pir ; he admits that he has only four or five murids in Lahore ; he was for a long time the Imam of Wazir Khan's mosque in Lahore and he is said to have offered prayers for the success of Mr. Chishti. We have it in evidence that, as regards the alleged preaching at the Salabat mosque, the action of the Maulvi was resented by his hearers, many of whom condemned his action in so speaking, declaring that they would not vote for Mr. Chishti. As regards the alleged preaching at Wazir Khan's and the Sunnehri mosques, the witnesses are so few and of such low status that we could not act on what they say.

These findings render it unnecessary to discuss the question whether the respondent or his agents induced the Pirs to exercise any influence on the respondent's behalf and we content ourselves with repeating that we find such inducement entirely unproved. This part of the petitioner's case therefore fails.

Turning to the question of the alleged general intimidation we find a considerable body of evidence to the effect that on polling day crowds assembled at many of the polling stations and adopted a hostile and threatening attitude towards voters: in a few cases actual violence was resorted to towards persons who had voted, but these instances are admittedly few in number, though it is somewhat cogently argued that this fact proved the success of the methods of intimidation employed It is further admitted that the campaign of intimidation was directed against all voters, no matter for whom they might have been going to vote, and was organised by a political body known as non-co-operators. Now we are perfectly prepared to find that the evidence tendered by the petitioner would, if not rebutted by the respondent, have proved that there was general intimidation on a fairly large scale, but we did not consider it necessary to call upon the respondent to produce rebutting evidence since, in our opinion, the petitioner had failed to make out a case for avoidance of the election by the evidence which he placed before us. There are two main factors which have influenced us in coming to this decision. Firstly, the case is rendered peculiar and sui generis, so far as we are aware, by the fact that, since the intimidation was directed against both sides equally, it is impossible to say that the petitioner was affected more than the respondent: secondly, we are quite unable to ascertain even approximately how many voters actually went to the polling stations for the purpose of voting and were deterred from doing so, and how many never approached the polling stations. Ordinarily no doubt a considerable percentage of persons on the electoral roll would go to vote but here we have this complication that the non-co-operation movement which had been in progress by non-violent methods for many months before the polling day, had already admittedly affected many voters to the extent of inducing them to determine to refrain from voting at all.

On this point we have some concrete evidence from statistics. Out of the 7,080 registered voters for this constituency 458 valid votes were cast, amounting to 6·5 per cent. only. In the election for Amritsar City (Muhammadan) Constituency, where it is not contended that there was any violence yet admittedly non-co-operation was also strong, out of 3,718 registered voters only 32, or 2 per cent., voted. The comparison is significant as showing that the small percentage of votes cast in the Lahore election may have been due to non-violent non-co-operation alone. Again, out of the 10 polling stations for this constituency, general intimidation is not alleged at all at two, namely, at one of the Mozang Stations and at Lahore Cantonment, the percentage of voters polling at these two places was only ·6 per cent. and 13 per cent., respectively. The case of Lahore Cantonment is of course no index for Lahore City, but the second Mozang Station certainly is, and here, out of the petitioner's figure of 800 voters, only 2 came to the poll. As regards other polling stations, with the exception of the other Mozang Station, where there was remarkably heavy polling up to noon and no less than 40 per cent. of voters cast their votes, the percentages were, 3, 1·6, 2, 6, ·3, 1·8 and 8·6. In Mozang the heavy voting is said by the petitioner to have been mainly in the respondent's favour: if this is true, it might well be argued that the respondent might have done equally well at other polling stations and we have certainly no reason to suppose that he would not.

Assuming it to be a fact, however, that there was general intimidation of voters, the petitioner's position may be thus stated:—

He points out, in the first place, that in England such general intimidation is not provided for by the Statute Law but is dealt with under the Common Law, under which it is by itself a specific ground for declaring an election void, if it be shown that the result of the election may have been affected: and, secondly, that in England Statute Law only fills up the gaps in Common Law, which can be applied independently of the Statute. From these two propositions he argues that, since election law in this country is imported from England and based on the English Law of Elections, we should take it that the Indian Statute Law thus imported brings with it the provisions of the English Common Law, which should, in matters dealt with by the English Courts under Common Law, be applied in India also.

In the alternative, he argues, though without much conviction, that if Indian Statute Law be held applicable and it consequently becomes necessary to find not only that there was undue influence as defined in rule 2 of Part I of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules, but also, since the case falls under rule 1 of Part II of the same Schedule, that the result of the election has been materially affected he has established the fact of general intimidation of voters, and that the burden of proving that the result of the election was materially affected should no longer lie on him, but, that, following the principle laid down by us in the Rohtak case, we should require the other side to prove that the result of the election was not materially affected.

With regard to the first position, we have had the advantage of hearing an exposition of the history and application of English Common Law from Mr. Carden Noad, Government Advocate, but we do not think it necessary to dilate upon it here because, in our view, the matter is not open to serious doubt. The petitioner is able to advance no authority or precedent whatever for the somewhat remarkable conclusions which he wishes us to draw from the two propositions which we have stated. It is at least arguable in the first place, whether we should allow that English Common Law which is essentially personal in the application of its provisions, should be applied to persons who are of a different nationality and who have a definite personal law of their own.

It may be true that Indian Election Law is based on English Election Statutes, but it differs from English Law widely in numerous particulars and should be regarded as a separate corpus, the Indian Legislators having adopted some and discarded others of the English Election provisions. It seems to us that the Indian Legislature intended to make their statutory provisions complete in themselves and there is nothing whatever to indicate that there was any intention that the Indian Courts should administer English Common Law provisions.

This is quite a different thing to saying—and this is certainly a proposition for which there is authority—that, in default of any provision in the Statute Law, the Indian Courts may fall back on the principles of English Common Law: Principles are entirely different in essence to specific provisions and the English Common Law principles are only adopted, as we understand the law, in this country, because they are considered to represent the principles of justice, equity and good conscience, upon which the law, as a whole, is to be administered. But these principles even can only be utilised where no statutory provision exists, and, in the present case, we have no doubt that such provision does exist. English Statute Law only contemplates the avoidance of an election by reason of the acts of a candidate or his agents and there is no rule of English Statute Law corresponding to that contained in rule 1 of Part II of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules, which makes it possible to avoid an election on the ground of the action of persons unconnected with the candidates or their agents, provided always that the result of the election has been materially affected thereby (Punjab Electoral Rule 42 (1) (a)).

It seems to us that there exists so clear a provision in the Indian Law enabling us to deal with the facts of this case that the question of the application of English Common Law need not be further considered, but we may add one further observation. Even if English Common Law were to be applied, it is only established, by it that, on the one hand, if general intimidation has been of such a general character that it may have affected the result of election, then the election is void (North Durham case (2 O'M. and H. 156)), that, on the other hand, even where there was an organised system of intimidation, if it was proved that it was practised not by persons acting in the interest of the respondent but against him and in the interest of the other candidate, the election would not be avoided (Sligo case 1 O'M. and H. 306).

There is no precedent for dealing with a case of the kind before us, where, even if it be assumed that the result may have been affected, neither of the parties can be shown to have suffered more than the other.

We have then to see whether the intimidation exercised has materially affected the result of the election so as to avoid it under Punjab Electoral Rule 42 (1) (a). Obviously on the facts, as claimed by the petitioner to be proved, we cannot do so owing to the imponderable nature of the two essential elements, namely, (1) how many voters had not been won over by persuation by non-co-operators before polling day and did actually go to vote; on this point we have quoted figures to show that, whatever effect was produced on the numbers voting, it is possible, and even probable, that it was produced by non-violent non-co-operation and not by intimidation, and (2) how many of the deterred voters would have voted for the petitioner and how many for other candidates; on this point we regard as valueless the mere conjectures made by some of the petitioner's witnesses.

Nor can we accept the petitioner's contention that we should shift on to the respondent the burden of proving that the result of the election has not been materially affected. In order to do this, we should have to find that a presumption had been created by the petitioner's evidence that the result had been materially affected by intimidation. This we were able to do in the Rohtak case, but here, although we might, on the petitioner's evidence, if unrebutted, have been justified in presuming that the result may have been affected, we certainly could not, owing to the existence of the uncertain factors already stated, presume that it has been affected. Herein lies the difference between the English Common Law, if it could be applied,—as we have shown it cannot—and the Indian Statute Law, which we must apply: the former only requires the creation of a presumption that the result may have been affected, the latter requires the creation of a presumption that it has been affected.

The petitioner thus fails on both his contentions and we would therefore humbly advise His Excellency the Governer of the Punjab by this Report that the returned candidate has been duly elected.

In awarding costs, we take into account the facts, among others, that the petitioner had reasonable grounds for seeking a decision on the question of general intimidation, and that the respondent incurred no expenses for witnesses, while he was, except on the preliminary point, his own counsel in the conduct of the case. We award the respondent a lump sum of Rs. 300 to be paid to him by the petitioner.

In the Court of the Commissioners appointed for the Trial of this Election Petition.

M. Barkat Ali, M A, LL.B., son of M. Abdul Aziz, caste Kakezai, of Mohalla Kakezayyan, Lahore—Petitioner.

versus

M. Muharram Ali, Chishti, Vakil, High Court, of Paisa Akhbar Street, Anarkali, Lahore—Respondent.

ELECTION PETITION UNDER RULE 30 OF PUNJAB ELECTORAL RULES.

The Lahore case.

In connection with the election petition presented by M. Barkat Ali against the return of M. Muharram Ali, Chishti, to the Punjab Legislative Council, a preliminary objection has been raised on behalf of the respondent that the petition, not being in accordance with rule 31 of the Punjab Electoral Rules, should be rejected in limine. It is urged by the learned counsel for the respondent that the procedure prescribed in the Punjab Electoral Rules and in the rules in force in other Provinces in India, differs materially from that prevailing in England, as to the contents of an election petition. While in England particulars of any corrupt practices alleged in the petition are not given in the petition and may be supplied within a specified time after filing the petition, in India the rules require them to be embodied in the petition. It is contended that the rule on this point is an improvement on the practice obtaining in England and is the result of the experience gained there of difficulties arising out of the said practice. It is further argued that compliance with this part of the rule is so essential to the validity of a petition that any petition which alleges corrupt practices, but fails to give particulars, should be regarded as incomplete and should be rejected without there being any inquiry into it. It is also argued that since it is necessary under the rules to publish the petition in the Government Gazette as a notice to other possible respondents and the rest of the world, the particulars must be published with it, as any subsequent furnishing of particulars would require a publication of such particulars in the Gazette and would mean endless delay. It is contended by the petitioner, on the other hand, that the petition is not defective, but that if it is considered lacking in any particulars he may be permitted to supply the said particulars. The petitioner further lays stress on the fact that inasmuch as one of the corrupt practices alleged by him is general intimidation he cannot be expected to give the names of those responsible for it, but that he has specified what the corrupt practice was, on what date it occurred and what form it took, viz., "violence and threats of violence" and "Hooliganism." With regard to the second corrupt practice alleged by him, viz., the use of undue influence by "certain Pirs" (spiritual leaders of Muhammadans) he says that he did not mention names as he considered it would mean mentioning what his evidence would be, but that he is ready to specify the names of the said Pirs if so desired before the trial actually commences so as to give sufficient notice to the respondent. There is no doubt, considerable force in the argument that it was intended by the legislature in India that particulars of any corrupt practice alleged must be given in the election petition and that the English Law in this respect has not been followed. In England we find that the procedure is briefly as follows :—

A petition may be presented within 14 days after the day on which the returning officer receives the return and declarations respecting election expenses by the member to whose election the petition relates and his election agent, but a period of 28 days is allowed, if an illegal practice is specifically alleged (section 40 Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act 46 and 47 Vict. at page 773 of Rogers on Elections, 1918 Edition, volume II). The return and declaration respecting election expenses must be made within 35 days after the day on which the candidate returned has been declared elected (section 33 of 46 and 47 Vict. at page 761 of Rogers). Thus a petitioner in England may have as long a period as 49 days within which to present his petition, or longer if he alleges an illegal practice. But even further time may be allowed for particulars to be stated, for under rule 6 of the Parliamentary Election Petition Rules (page 906 of Rogers) the court or a judge may order such particulars as may be necessary to prevent surprise and unnecessary expense and to ensure a fair and effectual trial.

As against this wide latitude allowed in England, Mr. Mahtab Singh propounds the view that the law in India is that both the petition must be put in and the particulars furnished therein within 14 days from the date on which the result of the election has been published in the Gazette (rules 30 and 21 of the Punjab Electoral Rules), and that no particulars whatsoever may be furnished after that period has expired. We should be reluctant to think that any such wide divergence from the English Law and practice was contemplated by the Indian legislature.

But even though it may be granted that there has been a deliberate departure from the English Law in this respect it does not necessarily follow that a petition is to be rejected in limine on the ground that it fails to give particulars. It is to be borne in mind that the Punjab Electoral Rules do not provide any penalty for failure to comply fully with rule 31. In the rules it is only at one place that a summary dismissal of the petition is enjoined and that is under rule 34 (1) for non-compliance with rule 33. It cannot be assumed, therefore, and it does not stand to reason, that the framers of the Electoral rules meant that any incomplete compliance with the provisions of rule 31 should be so severely penalised. They would presumably have said so if any such penalty has been intended to be imposed. We have been referred to a recent compilation on "Indian Electioneering" by Mr. Hammond, I C S, which gives at page 140 a schedule illustrating the form in which particulars might be stated by a petitioner, and it is said that something on those lines should have been attempted by the petitioner in this case. It is stated in Mr. Hammond's book that particulars are usually furnished in England in the form of a schedule and the form is certainly convenient as showing at a glance what the broad features of the alleged corrupt practices are. There is a form of the petition given by Mr. Hammond at page 147, which is the same or very nearly the same as that given in Halsbury's Laws of England, volume XII, page 415. The rules or regulations made in India have not laid down any form in which the petition is to be drafted or of the particulars to be added in cases where particulars are necessary. Those petitioners, therefore, would be presumably within their rights, who, under present conditions, draft their petitions according to the form given at page 415 of Halsbury or on the lines of a plaint written according to the requirements of the Civil Procedure Code; the present inquiry must, as nearly as may be, be in accordance with the procedure applicable under that Code (Punjab Electoral Rule 35) and its requirements will be discussed below.

As regards the argument from publication in the Gazette, it is clear to us from a perusal of rule 34 (2) (b) that the main, if not the only, object of such publication is to notify candidates other than the petitioner or petitioners and respondent or respondents that a petition has been presented. For certain purposes, no doubt, publication in the Gazette is intended to be notice to the world, in order that ignorance of the matter published may not be pleaded later by any parties affected, but we have no reason to suppose that publication of any election petition is intended to impose any obligation upon any person except "candidates other than the petitioner" or petitioners, or respondent or respondents. In England we observe that the rule is to publish the petition only, and that too in the limited area of the county or borough. (Halsbury's Laws of England, volume XII page 412.)

After carefully considering therefore the arguments addressed to us we are not prepared to say that the petition does not sufficiently comply with the requirements of rule 31 (Punjab Electoral Rules). We are, at any rate, strongly of opinion that the petition is not so defective in respect of particulars that we should report to His Excellency the Governor that it should be rejected without being heard. As already said, no penalty is prescribed in rule 31 and particulars not being defined, a wide discretion would appear to be left as to the interpretation of what "particulars" mean.

At the same time, we should like to indicate our view that it would have been more convenient in the case before us if the petition had been more precise as to the places at which the persons by whom and on whom general intimation or spiritual influence had been exercised and, in the latter case, the nature or substance of the directions issued by the spiritual Pirs to their followers, and the agents who induced the spiritual Pirs to exercise such influence.

We wish it to be distinctly understood that we are laying down no general rule as to what particulars are necessary under rule 31, but are confining our decision to the particular circumstances of the present case.

The second main question raised in the preliminary objections is whether, if the particulars given are considered sufficient for the purpose of the petition, but that further particulars are nevertheless desirable, the Court has power to allow amendment in the sense of amplification of the particulars. Rule 35 of the Punjab Electoral Rules makes the Civil Procedure Code applicable, as nearly as may be, to the present enquiry. Mr. Mahtab Singh argues that, where a specific rule has been laid down in the Electoral Rules, the procedure applicable under the Civil Procedure Code is not to be applied; that since there is a specific rule, namely, rule 31, which requires particulars to be given in the petition, the procedure applicable under the Civil Procedure Code is, therefore, not to be applied. But we have already held that sufficient particulars have been given to satisfy rule 31 and there is no specific rule taking away the power to order further and better particulars, his argument as to the inapplicability of the Civil Procedure Code consequently fails to the ground. The only point, therefore, remaining for decision upon the second question raised in the preliminary objections is what is the procedure under the Civil Procedure Code.

Now, in order 6, rule 2 of the Civil Procedure Code, the words used with reference to pleadings correspond practically with those used in the first portion of rule 31 with reference to the material facts to be alleged in the petition or pleading with the exception that the petition is not limited, as is the pleading, to such facts, and if we turn to order 6, rule 4, we find that particulars shall be stated in certain specified cases, e.g., misrepresentation, fraud and undue influence, and, in all cases in which particulars are necessary, they shall be stated in the pleadings. So far, then, as the words go, the directions in the Civil Procedure Code are as mandatory as those contained in rule 31. Then in the commentary in Mulla's Civil Procedure Code on order 6, rule 4, it is said that particulars will be ordered of such material facts on which the party pleading relies for his claim or defence, but not of the evidence (cf. Eng. Petition Rule 6, Rogers P. 907) by which those facts are to be proved, and that the object of the particulars is to prevent surprise and to ensure a fair trial by giving notice to the other side of the claim they have to meet and thereby to prepare their case properly. It follows from the above, that the particulars which should, or would have to, be stated vary naturally with the facts of each particular case. If particulars are not sufficiently specific the remedy of the other side is to apply for further and better particulars under order VI, rule 5. The matter is otherwise, where there are no particulars at all but merely general allegations, however strongly worded, which would not amount even to an averment of fraud 5 A. C. 685 at pages 697, 701 and 709. In such a case the plaint would be rejected under order VII, rule 11, as not disclosing a ground of action at all. This would seem to be the case especially as regards allegations of fraud and, mutatis mutandis, would, we take it, apply generally to other cases where particulars are necessary.

Under order 6, rule 17, which was not referred to by either side, the Court is given power to allow alteration or amendment of pleadings at any stage of the proceedings upon such terms as it thinks just and all amendments necessary to determine the real questions in controversy shall be made. According to the judgments of Bramwell, L. J., and Bowen, L. J. cited in Mulla's commentary "There is no kind of error or mistake which if not fraudulent or intended to overreach, the Court ought not to correct, if it can be done without injustice to the other party." (1882) 32 W. R. (Eng.), 262, 263 and (1884) 26 C. D. 700, at pages 710, 711. Of course, a plaintiff would not be allowed ordinarily to amend so as to raise fresh claims on a barred cause of action, 9 Q. B. D., pages 394, 395, 396. It would seem clear that, unless a plaint were rejected under order 7, rule 11, as not disclosing a cause of action, then under the Civil Procedure Code the Court has the widest powers for allowing amendment of the petition in a proper case.

The third main question raised in the preliminary objections is whether, if the Court has power to allow amendment, it should exercise that power. It follows, from what has been said above in discussing the first two questions, that in our opinion the case is a fit one for allowing amendment. Amendment, we take it, is a stronger word than amplification, which is what is here required and which, a fortiori should ordinarily be allowed. No new substantive charge is thereby introduced, and we consider that we should be stifling inquiry—a course deprecated by Blackburn J. in the Staley-bridge case (10 M. & H. 72) if we did not now permit fuller particulars to be given: We are satisfied that there was no wilful suppression of particulars in the present petition, and by the action which we shall now take we shall ensure that the respondent will not be taken by surprise. Under order 6, rule 5, C. P. C., therefore, we pass an order for further and better particulars which should be put in by the petitioner by the 31st January 1921. Such particulars will be those specified earlier in this order.

GENERAL.

The 6th June 1921.

No. 16441.—In continuation of Home Department (General) notification No. 4004 of 7th February 1921, the following is published for general information :—

India Office, London,
7th April 1921.

Public,

No. 66.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,

Elections to Legislative Councils established under the Government of India Act.

I HAVE read with deep interest the papers which accompanied your Reforms Secretary's letter, No. 1, dated the 24th February last, being reports from the Local Governments on the elections recently held to the various new legislative bodies created by the Government of India Act, 1919. I need hardly assure Your Excellency's Government with what satisfaction I have learned from these reports of the success which has attended the first step taken towards giving practical effect to the provisions of the Act, for, whether judged by the number of candidates who stood for election, the number of voters who came to the polls, or the standard of membership which the Councils have secured, and having regard to all the attendant circumstances which might well have militated against success, no reasonable judgment can fail to pronounce a favourable verdict on the general result. Since the date of the events which these reports chronicle the Councils and the Governments with which they are associated have assumed charge of their duties, and the new constitution has been inaugurated by the visit of His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, and it is unnecessary for me now to say more than that His Majesty's Government will watch their deliberations with the keenest and most sympathetic interest, and with confidence that they will prove in every way worthy of the trust that has been imposed in them.

2. I am presenting to Parliament the statistics which accompanied the reports, but I cannot allow the occasion to pass without confirming the message which I conveyed to Your Excellency's Predecessor in my telegram, dated the 12th January, and paying a further tribute to those primarily responsible for the organisation and conduct of these elections—the members of the Indian services. The task was one of great responsibility and magnitude and has been executed in a manner which affords a fresh proof of the industry and capacity for organisation which have always distinguished the services.

I have honour to be,

My Lord,

Your Lordship's most obedient humble Servant,

(Signed) EDWIN S. MONTAGU.

And the Governor in Council is pleased to remove, under proviso to rule 5 (4) of the Punjab Electoral Rules, the disqualification incurred by Khan Bahadur Malik Muhammad Amin Khan, of Shamsabad, on account of his or his election agent's failure to lodge election expenses return in accordance with rule 17 of the said Electoral Rules.

ATTOCK CASE.

In the 1920 election for the Punjab Legislative Council, Lieutenant Sikandar Hayat Khan was returned unopposed for the Attock (Muhammadan) Constituency, the nomination paper of Khan Bahadur Malik Muhammad Amin Khan, dated the 4th November 1920, and of Ghafur Khan, dated 8th November 1920, being held invalid by the Returning Officer on the ground that one Ghulam Hassan, who was the proposer of the former, was also the seconder of the latter, this rendering both nominations invalid under regulation 6 of Punjab Government notification No. 9, dated 31st July 1920.

The election of Lieutenant Sikandar Hayat Khan (Respondent No. 1) has been called in question by a petition, dated 8th December 1920, presented by Khan Bahadur Malik Muhammad Amin Khan, who impleaded also Ghafur Khan (Respondent No. 2) and prayed that the election be declared void on the following grounds :—

(1) that respondent No. 1 was not duly nominated ;

(2) that the nomination of respondent No. 2 was not valid or validly presented and, even if held to be otherwise valid, was obtained by fraud ; and

(3) that the Returning Officer was absent from his head-quarters on the 8th November 1920, which was the last day for the delivery of nomination papers, that by this absence the petitioner was prevented from delivering other nomination papers, which he had ready for delivery to the Returning Officer before noon on that date, and that this irregularity on the part of the Returning Officer had materially affected the result of the election. The petitioner claimed a declaration that he had been duly elected and in recrimination, respondent No. 1 urged that the petitioner had filed no accounts and had also published false statements in relation to his (Respondent No. 1's) personal character and conduct.

Both respondents appeared and were represented by counsel, but respondent No. 2 and his counsel did not put in an appearance except when the issues concerning him were being tried and during arguments. Certain preliminary objections raised were disposed of by an order, dated 1st February 192', which may be read as part of our report. A copy is attached herewith as Annexure I. The decision on the first point set out above is contained in that order, and we hold that respondent No. 1 was duly nominated.

The main point in the case is the question of Ghafur Khan's nomination. The first matter requiring discussion is whether that nomination is to be held to be no nomination at all because the nominee was a bogus candidate and the signature of Ghulam Hassan on the nomination paper was obtained by fraud, with the object of invalidating the nomination of the petitioner, and so procuring the unopposed return of respondent No. 1. Now the evidence of Ghulam Hassan is most important in this connection. A statement by him was recorded originally by the Deputy Commissioner immediately after the nomination paper was put in, viz., on the 9th November, the day of scrutiny, and he has made substantially the same statement before us. He alleges that his signature was obtained on a blank nomination paper by Muhammad Ashraf, who is the brother of Ahmad Bakhsh, the election agent of respondent No. 1, and who represented to the witness that he, Muhammad Ashraf, was a candidate for the Legislative Assembly, and not for the Council. This was at Ghulam Hassan's own village on the 8th November. Muhammad Ashraf then left but returned the same day and spent the rest of the day with Ghulam Hassan. On the 9th morning Ghulam Hassan came to know through his uncle, P. W. 16, that some trick had been played on him, that the nomination paper he had signed for Muhammad Ashraf had been used as a nomination paper for Ghafur Khan, respondent No. 2, and that as Ghulam Hassan had previously signed the nomination paper of the petitioner, the petitioner's nomination would be invalid. Ghulam Hassan and his uncle went without delay to Campbellpur to see if anything could be done, and before the Deputy Commissioner, at the time of scrutiny, Ghulam Hassan's statement, as said was recorded. On the other hand respondent No. 2 pleaded, and led evidence to prove, that Ghulam Hassan signed his nomination paper at Campbellpur on the 8th November, that the same had been filled in by Lorinda Ram, petition-writer, respondent No. 2 W. 1, and thumb-marked by Hussain, respondent No. 2 W. 2, before Ghulam Hassan signed as seconder. Accordingly, the question whether the thumb-mark of Hussain was placed on the paper before or after the signature of Ghulam Hassan became of some significance. We looked at the original nomination paper on which the thumb-mark and signature to some extent overlapped. It seemed to us that the signature had been written before the thumb-mark. On the other hand, counsel for the two respondents contended that the thumb-mark had been impressed before the signature and after some discussion, counsel for respondent No. 2 suggested that the matter should be referred to Mr. Brewester, the Government Expert, for opinion, a proposal which was welcomed by the counsel for respondent No. 1 and agreed to by counsel for the petitioner. We sent the paper to Mr. Brewester and have received his opinion that the thumb-mark was certainly superimposed on the signature. At the time of arguments counsel for respondent No. 2, urged that he had mistaken his client's instructions on the question whether the thumb-mark or the signature was first imposed on the nomination paper, that the evidence did not in so many words state that the thumb-mark was imposed first, and that therefore the evidence of respondent No. 2, who appeared as a witness and respondent

No. 2 W. 1, and respondent No. 2 W. 2, was not affected by any finding as to which really was first, and that the opinion of the expert who had been called as a witness was not evidence. He was supported by counsel for respondent No. 1. Now in view of the fact that the opinion was elicited at the request of counsel it hardly lay with him to object to that opinion afterwards. It is not explained how counsel came to mistake the instructions of his client and the evidence of Lorinda Ram, respondent No. 2 W. 1, and the sequence of events as described by him and confirmed by respondent No. 2 himself and respondent No. 2 W. 2, show clearly that this was the allegation supported by respondent No. 2. Independently, however, of the opinion of the expert, we should ourselves be prepared to hold that the thumb-mark was imposed after t e signature and there are several circumstances which go to support this conclusion besides our own examination of the nomination paper.

In the first place, it is clear that Ghafur Khan was not a genuine candidate at all. He never canvassed anybody on his own behalf and his candidature came as a surprize to almost every body; neither petitioner nor respondent No. 1 had ever heard of his candidature, nor had the Deputy Commissioner nor the Revenue Officer, nor his own near relative Najaf Khan, P. W. 17. He himself produced no witnesses to show that he had ever mentioned his candidature to any one. Some evidence was led on this point by respondent No. 1. The two witnesses produced are related to each other and there is no reason why they should have been informed by respondent No. 2 in preference to all others. Moreover, there is evidence to show that respondent No. 2 had canvassed for respondent No. 1 earlier in the year and he himself endeavours to explain away his inaction on his own behalf by saying that he only thought of standing some ten days before the nomination day. He admits that the proposer on his nomination paper, Hussain, was a man whom he met by chance in the Court precincts and with whom he had never arranged to sign any nomination paper. Hussain's brother had mortgaged some land to Muhammad Ashraf's brothers and it is significant that he should have been the proposer. Respondent No 2 says he had sent for Ghulam Hassan but without telling him what he was required for, which is incredible. It is alleged and not denied that he has furnished no return of his election expenses and seems to have taken no trouble to acquaint himself with any of the rules and regulations of the Punjab Electoral Rules. Moreover, when Ghulam Hassan made his statement before the Deputy Commissioner, respondent No. 2 was present and did not challenge it, except in one particular, viz., that he knew Ghulam Hassan and was an intimate friend of his father. Now Ghulam Hassan's father died nearly ten years ago and, as respondent No. 2 is a young man of 28, it is improbable that he was an intimate friend of Ghulam Hassan's father, who was certainly very much older than he.

The inference from all these facts is that respondent No. 2 was not a genuine candidate, that the story of Ghulam Hassan is true, that his signature was obtained as he alleges, by a false representation, that he never intended to second the nomination of respondent No. 2 for the Punjab Council and that therefore the right of the Petitioner, to stand as a candidate was indirectly interfered with by fraud. We hold accordingly and, further, find that both Muhammad Ashraf and Ghafur Khan, respondent No. 2, were parties to this fraud or connived at it. As regards the alleged complicity of respondent No. 1 and of Ahmad Bakhsh, his election agent, there is nothing on the record to show that respondent No. 1 himself was at all involved, but the fact that Muhammad Ashraf is the brother of Ahmad Bakhsh renders the latter's case more doubtful. He is, however, not on particularly good terms with his brother who is, on his own admission, a drunkard and a non-co-operator, and was very possibly pursuing some obscure end of his own. We therefore acquit Ahmad Bakhsh also of complicity in the fraud.

Under the wording of rule 42 I (b) it would seem that, as a corrupt practice had been committed by a candidate, viz., respondent No. 2, the election of the returned candidate, who is respondent No. 1, should be declared void. In spite of the wording of the rule, we consider it impossible that the Legislative could have actually intended, when framing the rule, to let in an interpretation which would penalise an innocent candidate for the corrupt practice of another candidate. We therefore prefer to proceed under rule 42 I (a) and hold that the election of the returned candidate was procured or induced by a corrupt practice rendering the election void. In view of our finding on another issue, this discussion is perhaps unnecessary, but we thought it incumbent on us to point out the difficulties that may arise owing to the wording of rule 42 I (b).

We pass on to consider the matter of the alleged deputation of the performance of his duties as Returning Officer by the Returning Officer to the Revenue Assistant. Chaudhri Sultan Ahmad, Deputy Commissioner (Officiating), was the Returning Officer for the Constituency but was unfortunately away on the 8th November 1920, which was the last day for receipt of nomination papers. He left for Ráwalpindi on the morning of the 8th and did not return till after 7 in the evening. According to his evidence, he had some time previously orally deputed his duties as Returning Officer to the Revenue Assistant, Chaudhri Ali Akbar, under regulation 3 in Punjab Government Notification No. 9, dated 31st July 1920, and had on the day of his departure confirmed the same by a Demi official letter Exhibit C.-I, addressed to Chaudhri Ali Akbar It has been urged on behalf of the petitioner that no such deputation took place, either orally or by letter, that as after the 4th November both the known candidates had handed in their nomination papers to the Deputy Commissioner and no others were expected, there was no occasion for such oral deputation prior to the Deputy Commissioner's departure for Ráwalpindi and that the demi-official letter was not written at the time it is alleged to have been and contains no express deputation of his duties. Be this as it may, it is clear that the fact of the deputation was unknown to any one except the Deputy Commissioner (whose office even was unaware of it) and the Revenue Assistant, and no steps were taken to notify the deputation in any way. Moreover, Chaudhri Ali Akbar when he received the nomination of Ghafur Khan on the 8th had not received the demi-official letter (he did not receive it until the morning of the 9th !) and acted as Returning Officer because of the alleged previous oral deputation. This alleged oral deputation according to the Deputy Commissioner was known to the petitioner at the time when he presented his nomination paper of the 4th (this the petitioner denies) and according to Chaudhri Ali Akbar, was made after the nomination papers of both candidates had been presented on the 4th. Chaudhri Ali Akbar further understood this deputation as implying that he could do the Deputy Commissioner's work as Returning Officer if the Deputy Commissioner was absent, but not if he was present.

Taking all these circumstances into consideration, we are unable to hold that there was any proper deputation to Chaudhri Ali Akbar at all in accordance with regulation 3, already quoted, and further we are quite unable to hold that the condition of "direct supervision" embodied in that regulation was fulfilled. It follows, therefore, that Ghafur Khan's nomination paper was not presented to the Returning Officer on due date and was therefore not a nomination paper that should have been considered at the scrutiny. Consequently, the nomination paper of the petitioner should not have been invalidated on the ground that his proposer had seconded another candidate and hence, apart from everything else, the election of the returned candidate would be void under rule 42 I (c), for the result of the election was obviously materially affected. It thus becomes superfluous to discuss at length the allegation of the petitioner that on November 8th 1920, his agent, Muhammad Ahsan, endeavoured to present 4 further nomination papers, but was prevented from doing so by the absence of the Returning Officer. There are many circumstances which tend to make it doubtful whether these papers were taken to the Deputy Commissioner's Court room on the 8th and were not put in only because of his absence, even if they were in existence at all on that date, as is denied by the other side. The fact that Ghafur Khan's nomination paper, which was presented on the same day did find its way to the Revenue Assistant, is significant in this connection. We hold, accordingly, that the petitioner has failed to discharge the onus of proof of this issue.

The petitioner originally sought also a declaration that he had been duly elected. His counsel wished to withdraw this part of the petition, but as the respondent had put in recriminatory charges, leave to withdraw was refused and the questions on this part of the case, therefore, were (1) whether the accounts (which it was afterwards admitted had been filed within the extended time allowed) were correct accounts and (2) whether the petitioner and his agents had defamed respondent No. 1 so as to constitute a corrupt practice under Rule 4 of Part I of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules.

The counsal for respondent No. 1 put in an application dated 15th March 1921, supported by an affidavit sworn by the election agent of respondent No. 1, alleging that the petitioner's return of election expenses was false and that the receipts attached to the same for payment of petrol purchased from the Victoria Motor Works, Ráwalpindi, by or on behalf of the petitioner were false or forged.

Arguments were heard on the question of admitting this evidence and the point was disposed of by an intermediate order dated 22nd March 1921, a copy of which is attached as Annexure 2 to this report. It is clear from the evidence led before us that the receipts were not given at the time of the purchase of the petrol. Further, that the receipts were not prepared from the account books of the firm but were written on the basis of notes kept by one Ahmad Khan who purchased the petrol at various times on behalf of the petitioner. This person has not been produced by the petitioner and the account-books of the firm are also alleged to have been lost. We are unable to hold that these receipts in any way, support the account put in by the petitioner. It is further proved that the election agent of the petitioner, Zamurrad Khan, did not keep such accounts of the election expenses as to satisfy the requirements of Schedule III. We hold, therefore that the petitioner and his election agent have failed to lodge the return of election expenses as prescribed in rule 17 of the Punjab Electoral Rules, and, though this is not a corrupt practice under the rules, and we have no power to avoid an election on this ground, the result would be to render one or both of them ineligible for future election under rule 5 (4) of the said rules.

In view, however, of the facts that the whole election procedure is new, that the accounts are not proved false in any material particular, so far as is shown, and that no regulations have been made under rule 18 of the Punjab Electoral Rules, Government will no doubt consider whether it should not exercise the powers vested in it under the proviso to rule 5 and remove any disqualification that the petitioner or his election agent may thereby have incurred. On the whole we are disposed to recommend the adoption of this course.

On the second point, evidence has been adduced both by respondent No. I and by the petitioner. It is unnecessary to discuss this evidence at length. It is sufficient to say that we hold that it is not proved that such defamatory statements were made by or with the connivance of the petitioner or any authorised agent of his, and if any overzealous supporter of the petitioner did make such statements, there is no attempt to prove that such corrupt practice had any material effect on the result of the election, as it obviously could not.

We shall therefore humbly advise His Excellency the Governor by this report (1) that the election of Lieutenant Sikandar Hayat Khan, the returned candidate, be declared void, (2) that neither the returned candidate nor his election agent, have been proved to have committed any corrupt practice, but (3) that both Ghafur Khan and Muhammad Ashraf have been proved guilty of undue influence by interfering with the right of the petitioner to stand by means of fraud, this being a corrupt practice as defined in rule 2 of part I of Schedule IV of the Punjab Electoral Rules in the case of Ghafur Khan, son of Asaf Khan, of Malik Mala, and of the same rule, read with rule 1 of part II, in the case of Muhammad Ashraf, son of Nawab Khan, of Dharek, both of the Attock District. In neither case do we make any recommendation for exemption from any disqualification incurred by these persons under the Punjab Electoral Rules.

As regards costs, having considered all the circumstances of the case and the issues proved and unproved, we consider that respondent No. 2 should pay to the petitioner costs to the extent of Rs. 1,000 and that the remaining costs should be borne by the parties.

ANNEXURE I.

ATTOCK CASE.

We have heard arguments upon the preliminary points set out in our order dated 21st January 1921. Those points are as follows :—

(1) Should petitioner be allowed to amend or amplify paragraph 5 of his petition ?

(2) Was it essential that the nomination papers should be delivered to the Returning Officer on 8th November 1920 and on no other date ?

(3) Can an election agent be also a proposer ?

(4) Should the objection taken in paragraph 1 of the written statement of respondent No. 1 be not allowed as not raised before the Returning Officer :

The last preliminary point set out above has not been argued as respondent No. 1 has withdrawn the objection which gave rise to it.

The first preliminary point requires little discussion. In the first place, as we shall decide the second and third points in favour of the respondent, it is immaterial to the respondent whether we decide this point in his favour or against him. In the second place, the general question of the necessity for a full statement of particulars in a petition has been argued at length in the Lahore case where we came to the finding that, if particulars which, in the opinion of the Court, were adequate for the purposes of the petition, were stated in the petition, the Court had full power to allow further and better particulars to be given subsequently, provided always that no new substantive charge was introduced and that the respondent was safeguarded from being taken by surprise. In the Lahore case the same arguments (among others) were urged as have in the present case been put forward by Mr. Petman; and were fully considered by us. It is enough therefore to say here that, in our opinion, the petition now before us contains sufficient particulars for the purpose of rule 31 of the Punjab Electoral Rules. In particular paragraph 5 of the petition read with paragraph (4), and with the Exhibits P.-7 and P.-8 referred to in it, is adequate for the raising of the questions (1) whether the nomination paper of the petitioner delivered to the Returning Officer on November 4th, 1920, was a valid one, and (2) whether the election agent of a candidate can also be the proposer of that candidate.

These two questions are embodied in the second and third of the preliminary points set out above and these we now proceed to discuss.

The third preliminary point can be easily disposed of. It is admitted that the election agent of respondent No. 1 by name Ahmad Bakhsh is the same man who proposed this respondent for election in the nomination paper Exhibit P.-8. M. Barkat Ali for the petitioner referred to regulation 6 of notification No. 9, dated 31st July 1920, read with Form No. I of the same regulation and pointed out that it was a clear inference from this that a candidate could not be his own proposer or seconder. He then proceeded to advance the proposition that a candidate and his election agent are one for the purposes of the Electoral Rules and Regulations and from this argued that an election agent could not be the proposer or seconder of a candidate any more than the candidate himself. He was unable to cite any rule or regulation or any authority in favour of this view. It appears to us to be a very far fetched proposition and, in the absence of any direct or indirect enactment by the legislature prohibiting the proposer of the candidate from being his election agent or vice versa, we reject M. Barkat Ali's contention.

The second point presents more difficulty. The nomination paper objected to was delivered to the Returning Officer on November 4th, 1920, and the question whether delivery on that day was a valid delivery depends upon the interpretation of regulation 7 in Punjab Government notification No. 9, dated 31st July 1920, which runs :—

> "A nomination paper shall not be valid unless it is delivered to the Returning Officer at his office before noon on the day preceding the date fixed under regulation 4."

The date fixed in regulation 4 was November 9th and was the date for scrutiny of nominations.

Mr. Barkat Ali has argued that the plain meaning of regulation No. 7 and of the note in Form I of the Regulations is that the nomination paper must be delivered to the Returning Officer on the day so fixed and on no other day and before noon on that day. He refers to regulation 5 which contains the words "the usual office hours", as meaning that ordinarily speaking in this country the usual office hours are 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. and that therefore ordinarily the time for delivery to the Returning Officer would be between 10 A.M. and 12 noon. He lays stress on the use of the word "on" instead of the word "of" and refers us to the vernacular form in which the word used is "ko" "کو" and not "tak" "تک." He refers also to the Circular letter of the Reforms Commissioner No. 1806, dated 29th October 1920, paragraph 3, where the word "on" is again used and the presence of the Returning Officer considered advisable "on the forenoon of the 8th November" and to the English Law as in Halsbury, page 26, paragraphs 533, 531, etc., where nominations have to be delivered on a specified day within certain hours, a fact which is conceded by Mr. Petman. Mr. Barkat Ali further refers to the regulations in different provinces being different and therefore generally furnishing no guide for any other Province but argues that in some Provinces, at any rate, only one day is fixed for nominations being presented or delivered, e.g., Madras and the United Provinces. Mr. Petman in reply argues that as the objection was not raised before the Returning Officer under regulation 11, it cannot be raised now and the decision of the Returning Officer on the point of presentation is meant to be final; that, if the regulation meant what the petitioner now contends it means, the regulation would have had the words "before noon" coming after the words "on the day regulation 4", that neither the petitioner, vide paragraphs 2 and 11 of the petition, nor the respondent nor the Returning Officer so understood the regulation; that the Circular letter refers to the closing time of the nomination only; that the general policy of the other Provinces is to the contrary and in a country of distances like India, the analogy of England in this respect does not apply. He refers to page 8, column 2 of the Indian Electoral Guide and to regulation 9 which lays down what should be done with a nomination paper received after the time prescribed and to absence of any similar provision in the regulations for a nomination paper received before the time prescribed: lastly, he alludes to the certificate of delivery and registration by the Returning Officer in Form I of the regulations which he argues, contemplates a delivery by post, which would be futile if the presenter of such a paper had to see that it got to the Returning Officer within certain fixed hours.

We have further had the advantage of hearing the Government Advocate on this point. He argues that the decision turns entirely on the construction of regulation 7, that the principle of interpretation of statutes is that if the meaning is plain and unmistakeable, no other considerations can affect the decision, but that if the language is ambiguous, then considerations of the spirit of the other sections and of the intention of the Legislature may come in. He argues that the language of the regulation in question is ambiguous, that both interpretations are possible and that other considerations favour the respondent: he refers to regulations 9, 10 and 4 and urges that the word "and" would have been inserted between "noon" and "on" if the meaning that the petitioner puts on the regulation had been intended; lastly, he argues that latitude should be allowed in the construction of a new Statute. On the argument based on regulation 11, he supports the petitioner.

Mr. Barkat Ali in reply contends that regulations 10 and 4 apply only to a scrutiny.

In considering our decision on the point raised we may conveniently first dispose of the contention based on regulation 11. We are definitely of opinion that rule 42 (1) (c) completely covers the contention raised for the respondent and that where there was no balloting at all, but the returned candidate was declared duly nominated on a single nomination paper, the validity of which is called in question, the result of the election was materially affected and we have power to decide the point whether raised before the Returning Officer or not. Proceeding then to consider the next question as to whether the meaning of the regulation in its plain, grammatical sense is or is not absolutely clear, we are again of opinion that both interpretations are possible; to give an illustration—suppose there is an advertisement inviting tenders to be given before noon on a certain day, a tender received before the date would not ordinarily be rejected on that ground, nor would persons making tenders ordinarily consider that they should not put them in before the day fixed. As regards the contention that "before" in the regulation qualifies only "noon" and not the rest of the paragraph, we see no reason, on a consideration of the wording alone, why the emphasis should be on the word "on", a natural reading of the regulation would not emphasise that word.

As regards the use of the word "ko" in the vernacular, we understand that the vernacular is merely a translation of the English form and, that being so, we are not inclined to attach much weight to the argument based on it.

There is a little relevancy in M. Barkat Ali's reference to the Roforms Commissioner's Circular letter No. 1806, dated 29th October 1920: it would be specially advisable for the Returning Officer to be present on the forenoon of November 8th in order to see that nomination papers were not received after 12 o'clock and he is therefore enjoined accordingly, but we fail to see how it can be inferred from this special injunction that he need not be present on any of the preceding days.

The English Law is so definite and specific in the matter of the time for presentation of nomination papers that, had the Indian Legislative intended to follow the English practice, it is hardly conceivable that this would not have been made clear beyond possibility of doubt.

If we turn to the other sections and scrutinise them according to the principles alluded to by the Government Advocate, the following considerations suggest themselves. Regulation 8 which immediately follows the regulation in question uses the word "within the time prescribed". We cannot accept Mr. Barkat Ali's contention that the use of the word "time" instead of "period" specifies the date, for the phrase is commonly used to describe a period of time, including days but "within" would normally point to a time between two limits, and if 12 noon is one limit, it is argued that the other limit must be either 10 A.M., or at most the preceding midnight when the day would commence. It is possible, however, to consider that the other limit is fixed either by the date of the notification in the Gazette referred to in paragraph 4 or to the beginning of the 14 days referred to in paragraph 5. On the whole we are inclined to think that the words, "within the time prescribed" are used loosely and that as we cannot read it as prescribing any specific period of time, we have no warrant for accepting Mr. Barkat Ali's reading of it any more than Mr. Petman's. There is force in Mr. Petman's argument that regulation 9 prescribes the procedure to be adopted with reference to a nomination paper received after the time prescribed, while there is no provision for one received "before" the time. Regulation 9 again is another regulation of which the wording is obscure: it uses the words "manner of receipt" (and read with the certificate given in Form I), would imply different modes of receipt and therefore of "delivery" (e.g., delivery by post) but also lays down that the Returning Officer shall return it to the presenter and it is difficult to see to whom the Returning Officer should return the nomination paper if the delivery was by post; the use of the word presenter would seem to imply a personal delivery. It is clear enough that the word "deliver" by itself would include delivery through an agent, who may be a common carrier. The contention that regulations 10 and 4 though they deal with different matters are differently worded from regulation 7 is also not without weight.

In none of the other Provinces do the regulations contemplate the delivery or presentation of nomination papers on a particular date and on that date only: in Madras alone could any doubt arise in this respect, for, although the preceding regulations seem to prescribe a particular date, yet regulation 5 lays down that nomination papers which are not received by the Returning Officer before a date and time to be appointed by him shall be rejected: the necessary latitude would appear to be given by the use of the words "before the date".

There is a similar rule in the United Provinces, where the Regulations specifically allow nomination papers to be sent by registered post, and where the wording approximates most closely to that employed in the Punjab and it is not contemplated that nomination papers should be put in on one day and on one day only.

After giving the matter our careful consideration we are of opinion that the language used in the regulation in question is ambiguous and, as it is a disabling provision, it must not be strictly construed against the nominee, in accordance with well established principles: generally, having regard to all the Rules and Regulations referred to in the above discussion and the arguments addressed to us, we feel that we cannot allow the contention advanced and shall accordingly proceed to the trial of such other issues as arise in the case.

ANNEXURE II.

ATTOCK CASE.

Respondent No. 1 had urged in paragraph IV (a) of his written statement that the petitioner was debarred from being declared elected as he had not complied with rule 17 of the Punjab Electoral Rules. In the course of the evidence produced by him under rule 40, by way of recrimination, he offered evidence to question the correctness of the petitioner's return of his election expenses and to show that some expenses actually incurred were not given in the return and that some items were falsely shown under heads other than those under which they were actually spent. This evidence was objected to on behalf of the petitioner, on the grounds, firstly, that a defective or a wrong statement of expenses was not included in the list of corrupt practices given in Schedule IV and could not have the effect of avoiding an election, and secondly, that, under rule 40 the respondent could only avail himself of such a plea as would have been open to the petitioner, had he been the returned candidate. It was contended that, as a petition has to be presented within 14 days of the declaration of an election, while the statement of expenses can be lodged at any time up to one month after the said declaration, it could not be open to the respondent to give evidence attacking the correctness of the return of expenses. The petitioner's counsel adopted the position, in so many words, that an astute candidate would delay lodging the prescribed return until the 14 days' limit had expired, and, by so doing defeat any attempt to attack him on any item shown in the said return. Mr. Bevan Petman on behalf of respondent No. 1 relied on the concluding portion of the explanation under paragraph 1 of Schedule IV relating to bona fide expenses incurred at an election and wished to draw from that an inference that any expenses not so incurred might be open to suspicion and might suggest the existence of a corrupt practice. This appears to us to be very far-fetched and Mr. Petman eventually admitted that he could not press the point that he had a right under rule 40 to produce the evidence in question. He argued, however, that the Commissioners had the power to make an inquiry into the correctness of the accounts submitted by any candidate, as was clear from rule 5 (4) under which a candidate becomes ineligible for election for five years if the Commissioners find that he has lodged a return which was false in any material particular. He urged that rule 5 (4) would be rendered inoperative if evidence to show the falsity of the accounts submitted by any party was not allowed.

Mr. Herbert, Government Advocate, supported the petitioner's counsel in his view of the scope of rule 40 and the Respondent's counsel in his argument from rule 5 (4).

As regards the first of the arguments for the petitioner it is true that there is no specific provision under which we can report that an election should be declared void on the ground that a false return of election expenses has been made, but such an election could be avoided by a declaration, under rule 23 (1), that the seat of an elected person is vacant by reason of ineligibility arising out of the application of rule 5 (4). Unless the question of falsity of return is inquired into by this Commission, the only means by which the provisions of rule 5 (4) could become effective is an inquiry by a Magistrate in a judicial proceeding. We do not consider that it would be right for us to leave such a matter to await the possible inauguration of judicial proceedings before a Magistrate and we look upon it as our duty to inquire into the question of this return: this question has come before us in the exercise of our powers under section 34 (2) (a) under which all applications and proceedings in connection with the trial of a petition are to be dealt with and held by us, we think that the wording used in rule 5 (4) contemplates our inquiring into the matter now sought to be brought before us and we find that under section 5 of the Indian Elections Offences and Inquiries Act (XXXIX of 1920) we are empowered to summon and examine of our own motion any person whose evidence appears to us to be material.

In the view which we have taken it becomes unnecessary to discuss the second point raised by petitioner's counsel and we refrain from discussing it on this occasion. We hold that we can and should admit the evidence offered and proceed to do so accordingly.
