MESSAGE

The Provincial Assembly of the Punjab is the oldest and the biggest House amongst the Houses of Parliament and the Provincial Assemblies in the country. From its very inception, it has been playing a vividly dynamic role on the arena of politics. Its character during the days of the Independence Movement had been notable. By now, the House has accumulated such a succession of parliamentary conventions as are informative and illuminating as well as conducive to the parliamentary functioning. The pattern of the debates in the House on contemporary issues has, by and large, been fairly inspiring and stimulating.

I am confident that the existing House, which is better poised, will put in a bold foot ahead expeditiously to resolve the multifarious problems involving the people. The need of the time is to work together as a spiritual force informed by zeal and dedication, sacrifice and renunciation, and ignited by a sense of purpose. It is our duty to conserve the cherished parliamentary conventions and to complement them with new democratic traditions. In this context, the charge of the present House is quite critical. It must accomplish the cherished goal conceived by the founder of the Nation, Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah and should justify the confidence reposed in it by the people. I pray and I wish that the Members fairly execute the oath of their office, and rise upto the exacting demands of the day as well as the aspirations and expectations of the people of Pakistan.

The 'Biography of Members', being published for the first time, will serve as a brief but authentic introduction of the sitting Members of the Provincial Assembly of Punjab, for the fraternity of parliamentarians as well as the people whom they represent.

Parvez Elahi
Speaker
Provincial Assembly of the Punjab

PREFACE

This Compilation embodies brief synopsis of the Members of the present Provincial Assembly of the Punjab, showing date and place of birth, academic qualification, party affiliation and a gist of parliamentary career. The data contained in the handbook is based on the particulars provided by the members themselves.

Under the Constitution of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan, the Provincial Assembly of the Punjab is constituted for a term of five years and it consists of 248 members; 240 general seats for Muslims and 8 seats reserved for non-Muslim communities.

The election of the present Assembly was held on 3 February 1997 and its first meeting was convened on 18 February 1997. Chaudhry Parvez Elahi and Sardar Hassan Akhtar Mokal were elected as Speaker and Deputy Speaker respectively on 19 February 1997. Mr Muhammad Shehbaz Sharif was elected as Chief Minister Punjab on 20 February 1997.

This volume owes its origin and fulfillment to the impetus and inspiration dispensed by Chaudhry Parvez Elahi, Speaker, Provincial Assembly of the Punjab. It is hoped that it would serve as a ready reference for the public representatives, government functionaries, political analysts, students and the general readers, alike.

Dr Syed Abul Hassan Najmee
Secretary
Provincial Assembly of the Punjab
