PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Monday, 30th June, 1938.

His Excellency the Governor arrived in procession with the officers of the Assembly and his personal staff at 12 noon, and took his seat on the throne.

His Excellency then addressed the Assembly as follows:—

Mr. Speaker and members of the Punjab Legislative Assembly:—

I must begin with a confession that one of the reasons which has influenced me in requesting your presence here to-day is a personal one. I wished to have the opportunity of meeting again those members who were for many years my colleagues in the old Legislative Council, of renewing my friendly relations with them and of congratulating them on their election to this enlarged and more representative body. I am glad too to have this opportunity of making the acquaintance of other members, whom I have not yet had the pleasure of meeting, and I hope that during the currency of this session I may have opportunities of forming new friendships with them on occasions less formal than to-day. Finally, I was anxious to have the privilege of paying a public tribute to you, Mr. Speaker, under whose authority I sat for many years in the old Council, for the manner in which, with the advantage of your long experience in the Chair and your intimate knowledge of parliamentary practice and precedent, you have so successfully maintained the dignity and honour of this Assembly.

The present Assembly has now been in existence for a little over a year and to-day is perhaps a fitting occasion to glance backwards at what has been accomplished during this period, and forward at the tasks that lie ahead. The past year may perhaps be best regarded as a period of preparation. It is true that since this Assembly came into being two budgets have been discussed and sanctioned, several minor bills passed into law and some important resolutions debated and adopted. I may remind you, for example, that it was in accordance with a resolution of this House that five additional Debt Conciliation Boards were set up during the last financial year. It was in accordance with another resolution that an important notification has recently been issued under section 81 of the Civil Procedure Code exempting from liability of attachment or sale in the execution of a decree the entire fodder crops of agriculturists as well as one-third of their foodgrains and other crops. But, as was inevitable at the commencement of the life of a new legislative body, much of your time has been devoted to the transaction of formal business and to the consideration of the rules which are to govern your own procedure.

With the prospect of these rules being adopted in the near future this period of preparation, if I may so call it, is drawing to a close and the stage is set for a bold and far-reaching legislative programme. For, while you have been engaged in framing rules to secure your own smooth functioning, several important committees appointed by my government have been quietly at work preparing reports and recommendations which it will soon be your duty to consider. Two of these committees, namely, the Unemployment Committee and the Resources and Retrenchment Committee, are still engaged on their labours. The third, the Land Revenue Committee, has recently completed its task and its report will shortly be laid on the table. I do not doubt that these reports and the recommendations contained therein will in the near future claim much of your time and attention. I do not wish at this juncture to anticipate their conclusions, but I may perhaps briefly allude to certain measures already taken by my government which have a direct bearing on the problem which one of these committees was appointed to study. I refer to the problem of unemployment. Roughly speaking, 75 per cent. of the population of the Punjab is engaged in agriculture, and one of the difficulties to be overcome is the scarcity of opportunities for the employment of the educated classes in spheres outside agriculture. My government, therefore, without waiting for the recommendations of the Unemployment Committee, have already taken measures to foster industrial development. During the past year 8 lakhs of rupees were provided for assistance to industries under the Punjab State Aid to Industries Act, and a sum of 4 lakhs has been provided for the same purpose during the current financial year. The Industrial Research Laboratory, which undertakes investigations and experiments with a view to ascertaining the possibility of using Punjab raw materials for the starting of new industries, has been placed on a permanent basis with an increased staff. During the short period of its existence it has been instrumental in the establishment of a number of small industries, so that pencils, paints, starch, sandpaper and pottery may now be counted among the manufactures of the Punjab.

My government have also decided to establish an Industrial Research Fund in order to subsidize systematic industrial research and have sanctioned the staff necessary for the carrying out of a complete industrial survey of the province district by district; but the most striking, outward and visible sign of my government's interest in industrial development has been the All-India Exhibition of Arts and Industries which was held in Lahore in December and January last. This was the first big official exhibition in the Punjab, and it proved, I believe, the most representative ever held in India. I myself had the opportunity of paying a visit to it last Christmas and can testify from my personal observation to its success and popularity.

But, while success in industrial development cannot fail to be an important contribution to the solution of the problem of unemployment, it is evident that in the Punjab the cure of this disease lies mainly in the prosperity of the agriculturist, who is not only the primary producer but also the primary consumer. The greater his capacity for consumption, the greater his demand for the products of the labours of others. You may remember the lines:—

“Great is the sword and mighty is the pen
 But over all the labouring ploughmen's blade
 For on its oxen and its husbandmen
 Our country's strength is laid.”

Our present Ministry are fully alive to the truth enshrined in these words and are endeavouring to raise the standard of living of the agriculturists by a comprehensive programme of rural reconstruction, which includes the consolidation of holdings, the improvement of cattle breeding, scheme for checking erosion, for afforestation, medical relief, public health and reformed primary education. In all these fields committees have been appointed or conferences called to discuss plans and proposals and in certain instances experiments are already being tried out. I may briefly allude to a few of them. To promote cattle breeding steps have been taken to form co-operative cattle-breeding societies and to increase the output of pedigree stud-bulls. It has also been decided to construct 20 new Veterinary hospitals during the current financial year.

With a view to widening the scope of the work of medical officers, the interesting experiment has been tried of arranging for the medical officers in charge of dispensaries to visit regularly every week selected villages in the neighbourhood of their dispensaries. In March this year a Civil Surgeon's Conference—the first to be held in the Punjab—met at Lahore and discussed a wide agenda. The possibility of extending medical relief to rural areas, by subsidizing private practitioners, was one of the proposals examined.

In the sphere of education much attention has been given to women's education and Government is rapidly opening vernacular middle schools for girls in rural areas with the object of having a supply of educated village girls from whom trained teachers for primary schools can be recruited. Several high schools for girls have also been opened. A sum of Rs. 51,000 has been allotted for the construction of a training school for women teachers with a strong domestic science bias. The number of female Inspectors and Assistant Inspectors of Schools has been largely increased, and I am advised that in this respect the Punjab is ahead of any other province. A committee has considered the reorganisation of the vernacular training of teachers and recommended changes which, it is hoped, will give us a supply of teachers better able to work along modern lines. Another committee has been considering the various schemes which have been put forward in India recently for the improvement of vernacular education, such, for instance, as the Wardha Scheme. The report of this committee is expected very shortly.

Meanwhile, as you are aware, a select committee of this House is examining the new Primary Education Bill which was introduced this year.

It is the proud and, I think, the legitimate boast of the Punjab that it possesses the finest roads in India. But my government do not propose to rest content with the achievements of the past. They hope to maintain and even increase the lead which the province already holds. A beginning has been made on a 6-Year Road Programme costing 125 lakhs. When this programme is completed, the Punjab will have 4,000 miles of metalled and tarred roads, compared with 8,000 to-day and 10,000 miles of unmetalled roads which will have been made motorable.

The Forest Commission appointed in October last has examined the difficulties experienced by the dwellers in forest areas which arise from the administration of the forests in the interests of the province as a whole. Their investigations were conducted in the open air, in the presence of the villagers themselves, and hundreds indeed thousands, attended the meetings. The countryside is, I am assured, satisfied that they have had a full and fair hearing. The report of the Commission is in your hands, and you will yourselves have realised that while to some of their recommendations it has been possible for my Government to give immediate effect, there are others which demand the most careful consideration before a decision can be taken.

That consideration is now being given and the full implications of the reforms suggested studied. I am confident that there will result from the orders which have been and will be passed a greater interest by the people in the conservation of the forests, and closer co-operation with the Department in the management of these vast tracts, the preservation of which is so vital to the well-being of the province.

The budget which the House passed in March last reflected the financial stability of the province: not only was a substantial surplus anticipated on the present year's working, but it was possible to set aside a sum of Rs. 55 lakhs to inaugurate a fund to be devoted to rural reconstruction. Unfortunately the dark clouds of what threatens to be another period of depression are gathering over us almost before there has been a real recovery from the last depression, and during recent months the prices of agricultural produce have fallen to a disastrously low level. The fluctuations of world prices are of course due to causes outside the control of any provincial government or indeed of any single country, but I know that such measures as are possible for relieving the hardship which the low level of prices must cause to the peasantry are receiving the constant and sympathetic consideration of my Ministers. For example, where the price of the principal crops has fallen below the rates assumed at Settlement a proportionate remission of the land revenue demand will be given and measures, legislative and otherwise, are being taken designed to lighten the burden of the peasant debtor. Although it is hard to see at the moment any signs of the clouds lifting, it is at any rate reassuring to realise that prices are still some way above the level to which they fell in 1931 and there is, I think, ground for hoping that that level will not be reached.

Meanwhile, in spite of the depression, my Ministers are resolved to persevere in their programme of development and, indeed, the rapidity with which our population is increasing makes it imperative to push on measures designed to augment the production of food crops. Among schemes of this nature I may mention the Haveli Project, progress on which has been more rapid than was expected. The barrage at Trimmu is now nearing completion and if the expectations of the Engineers are realised, it may be possible to commence irrigation next summer. On full development the total areas that will benefit by irrigation from this Project will be nearly one million acres in the Multan, Jhang and Muzaffargarh districts. About one-half of this will be perennial irrigation. A second important scheme is the Thal Project, with which it is hoped to make an early start. The proposed area of annual irrigation from this Project is about 831,000 acres, and if the main canal and all branches are lined, which would increase the cost of the Project by 2½ crores, this would, it is estimated, give an increased area of irrigation of 200,000 acres as a maximum, mainly in the Khushab tahsil of Shahpur.

Thirdly, the prospects of the Bhakra Dam Project are being re-examined with the object of restricting, so far as possible, the area that would be flooded by the dam in the Bilaspur State, and thus improving the prospect of securing the State's consent, which is a necessary preliminary.

Apart from these ambitious projects, much attention is now being devoted to investigation of the possibilities of lining canals as a preventive measure to counter the evil effects of the rise of sub-soil water levels and the spread of water-logging. Previously it was considered impracticable to line existing canals in the short period of closures available, but it has now been pointed out that, while existing canals cannot be lined, new lined channels can be constructed alongside. This should not only have the effect of retarding the rise of the sub-soil water table, but, in addition, the water so saved should be available to irrigate additional areas. An officer with special qualifications is being placed on special duty to carry out an investigation into this important matter.

The possibilities of tube-well development, particularly in arid areas of south-eastern Punjab, are also being investigated, and Government have recently sanctioned a project known as the Karol Tube-Well Irrigation Scheme designed to irrigate 10,000 acres by means of a number of electrically operated tube-wells in the neighbourhood of Lahore. A committee is also now sitting to investigate the fall of the water table in the Beas-Sutlej Doab and a supplementary demand will be presented to you for the opening of a sub-division at Jullundur to collect data and to make concrete proposals for the improvement of conditions in this important tract.

Gentlemen, I fear I have already trespassed unduly on your patience in this review of the administrative activities of my government, but there is one subject, that of the relations between the different religious communities, on which I have not yet touched. I am glad to say that I am advised by my Ministers that within the last few months these relations have improved and that at the moment they are more harmonious than for some time past. Let me express my earnest hope, in which I am confident that all of you will join, that this harmony may be maintained. In bringing it about no small share of the credit is due in my judgment to this Assembly, for I believe that on those occasions when communal topics have formed the subject of your debates, the Assembly as a whole has shown a commendable spirit of moderation and a realisation of its own responsibility in this matter.

During the session that opens to-morrow several important legislative measures will be laid before you. These include a Bill to amend the Alienation of Land Act in certain particulars so as to defeat what are known as 'benami' transfers of land. Another measure is designed to secure the liquidation on easy terms of mortgages effected before the Alienation of Land Act became law in 1901, which would have been illegal if effected after that date. There is a third Bill for the registration and licensing of money-lenders, and a fourth important measure is designed to improve the conditions under which the cultivator markets his produce. Finally, there is a Bill to render penal the publication of rumours calculated to cause fear or alarm or enmity between different communities and to protect government servants in the discharge of their duty against unwarranted attacks.

In the consideration you give to these measures, and to other business that may be laid before you, I am confident that your deliberations will be marked by moderation, by a tolerant attitude towards the views of political opponents and by that sense of responsibility for which the Punjab Legislature has always been conspicuous. (Loud applause.)

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.
3RD SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Tuesday, 21st June, 1938.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 2 p.m. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the chair.

OATH OF OFFICE.

The following members were sworn in :—

- Dr. Satya Pal (Sialkot-Amritsar, General, Rural).*
- Shaikh Muhammad Sadiq (Amritsar City, Muhammadan, Urban).*
- Mr. M. Jafar Ali Khan (Okara, Muhammadan, Rural).*

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

REPORT NO. 22 REGISTERED UNDER SECTION 411 IN POLICE STATION
WARBURTON.

*2682. Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the names of persons against whom report No. 22 of 11th May, 1936, under section 411 of the Indian Penal Code was registered in police station Warburton, in district Lyallpur; and the result of the police investigation, if any;
- (b) whether the Superintendent of Police, Lyallpur, ordered proceedings under section 182 of the Indian Penal Code to be taken against the complainants; if not, why not;
- (c) if the answer to (b) above be in the affirmative, result of the same;
- (d) the number of cattle that were taken possession of by the police during the course of the investigation of the report mentioned in part (a) above;
- (e) whether the said report was struck off the file; if so, the date on which it was so struck off;
- (f) whether the cattle have been restored to the accused; if so, when; if not, why not;
- (g) whether the accused submitted a petition to the Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Central Range, Lahore, on the 14th April, 1937, complaining that their cattle had not been returned to them and also sent a reminder to him on the 8th May, 1937, drawing his attention to their previous application; if so, the action taken on the same;

[ L. Bhim Sen Sashar ].

(h) whether it is a fact that the complaint mentioned in (g) above was also brought to the notice of the Superintendent of Police, Lyallpur; if so, with what result;

(i) in whose possession are the cattle at present?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): (a) The police registered a report against Chiragh, Mahtab, Jalal, Ali Gauhar, Sadar Din and Jana under section 411, Indian Penal Code. In the course of investigation it appeared that the complainant had distorted the facts to make the case cognizable by police. It was, therefore, sent up to the ilaga Magistrate with recommendation for cancellation.

(b) The Superintendent of Police, Sheikhpura, passed orders for prosecuting the complainant under section 182, Indian Penal Code.

(c) The case was not actually put in court for want of sufficient proof and the papers were filed by the Superintendent of Police, on 2nd January, 1937.

(d) 22 cattle in all (including 12 buffaloes, 6 bullocks and 4 cows).

(e) The case was cancelled by the ilaga Magistrate on 27th July, 1936.

(f) Under the orders of the ilaga Magistrate the cattle were restored to the complainant. An application submitted by one of the accused persons for the return of the cattle was rejected by the court on 16th November, 1936.

(g) and (h) Two applications were received by the Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Central Range, Lahore, asking for the return of the cattle to the accused persons. The applicants were informed by the Superintendent of Police, Sheikhpura, of the orders in part (f) above.

(i) The cattle, as stated, were returned to the complainant. Government have no information about their present whereabouts.

ENTRIES OF THE NAMES OF CHAUDHRI ANGAT SINGH AND LALA RAM KISHAN IN POLICE REGISTER NO. X.

*2687. Lala Duni Chand: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether Chaudhri Angat Singh, a respectable Rajput, and Lala Ram Kishan, a respectable Bania of village Barwala, police station Mubarikpore, district Ambala, have been put or are about to be put on police register No. 10; if so, reasons for the same?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): The contents of Police Register X are not made public, and I regret it is not in the public interest to answer questions on this subject.

Lala Duni Chand: Is it a fact that the two gentlemen against whom action has been taken had never been suspected of any offence?

Parliamentary Secretary : If my honourable friend will give notice of that question I shall try to collect the information and answer him if it is not against the public interest.

Lala Duni Chand : The supplementary question that I put arises out of the main question. Do I take it that the Honourable Premier is helpless in getting this information from the police ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am afraid my honourable friend did not catch my answer. What I said was that the contents of the police register are not made public. I regret that it is not in public interest to answer the question on this subject.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Have the Government looked into the register and satisfied themselves that the proceedings taken against these gentlemen are correct ?

Premier : If the honourable member will give me the names of the badmashes whose record he wants me to look into, I shall do so if it is physically possible for me to do so.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The names are given in the question.

Premier : It has been said definitely in reply that the information cannot be made public.

Lala Duni Chand : What objection has the Honourable Premier to give a mere statement of fact ? I do not want to know the contents of the police register.

Premier : I do not want to give out the names of these people, because it may be very embarrassing to some of them.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it a fact that they have been put in register X ?

Premier : I refuse to answer that question.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Will it not be in the public interest to give out that such and such a person is a badmash so that other people may beware of him.

Premier : It is not in the public interest to divulge the names of badmashes in the province.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : With regard to the two gentlemen mentioned in the question, is it not in the public interest to disclose their antecedents which forced Government to put their names in the register ?

Premier : My honourable friend probably knows their antecedents better than I do.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Is it because they are members of the Congress ?

Premier : I am not prepared to subscribe to the theory that members of the Congress are badmashes.

Chandhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether the Police Register X is maintained under the orders of the Punjab Government or under the orders of Mr. Jenkins of the Intelligence Bureau ?

Premier : The register is prescribed by the Punjab Government.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state what is meant by the expression ' public interest ' and how it is to be interpreted ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

Lala Duni Chand : Is the Honourable Premier aware that these two gentlemen occupy highly respectable position in that village ?

Premier : I am not prepared to testify one way or the other.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it in the public interest to take action against these gentlemen in accordance with that register ?

Premier : What action ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Whatever disabilities and insults the police puts them to.

Premier : I am afraid either I am very slow to follow or else my honourable friend, the Leader of the Opposition, has not been able to make himself clear.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that action taken by the police against these two gentlemen is due to the fact that they secured conviction of certain accused persons whose conviction the police did not want ?

Premier : Now my honourable friend is raising questions on conjectures and surmises.

Lala Duni Chand : The Honourable Premier can verify the statement that I have made.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

REALISATION OF MALBA.

*2689. Sardar Hari Singh : Reference speeches made by the Honourable Premier and Revenue Minister in reply to the debate on Land Revenue Demands on 29th March, 1938, will the Honourable Revenue Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether Government intends to help lambardars to realise malba from individual land revenue payers who have refused to pay malba this year ;

(b) if answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No. Malba can be realised from individual land revenue payers by a regular suit under section 77 (3), Second Group, clause (j), Punjab Tenancy Act.

(b) Does not arise.

FILING OF NOMINATION PAPERS FOR THE NORTH PUNJAB NON-UNION LABOUR CONSTITUENCY.

*2690. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether the 24th of March, 1938, was fixed as the last day for the filing of nomination papers for the North Punjab Non-Union Labour Constituency in the bye-election ;

- (b) whether orders were issued by the Government that the returning officer Mr. Abel, Chief Inspector of Factories, and his duly authorized substitute Mr. Indar Singh, Boiler Inspector, should remain in their offices on 24th March in order to receive the nomination papers ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that neither of these two gentlemen was in his office on that day to receive the said nomination papers ;
- (d) if the answer to parts (a), (b) and (c) be in the affirmative, the action, if any, which Government intends to take against the aforesaid officers for disobeying the Government orders ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) Yes.

(b) No special orders were issued but the attention of the returning officer was, as usual, directed to the Rules.

(c) No. The returning officer reports that he was absent on urgent duty and had delegated his powers to the Chief Boiler Inspector, and the latter was in his office in the same bungalow as that of the Chief Inspector of Factories, during office hours.

(d) Does not arise.

Sardar Hari Singh : Up to what hour was the person to whom the power of the returning officer was delegated present in the office ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I want notice of this question.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I now ask the Honourable Minister to kindly look into the report made by the person to whom the power was delegated, in regard to the hour up to which the man appointed to receive the nomination papers was present in his office ?

Premier : His statement is that he was present throughout office hours.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I know whether some nomination papers were rejected on the ground that the returning officer was not there and therefore the papers were not properly handed in ?

Premier : Yes.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : At what time were these papers handed in ?

Premier : Well within time.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Why was then the assistant to whom the power was delegated absent from his seat ?

Premier : He was not. That is what I have stated. My information is that he was present throughout the office hours.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do I take it that the position has been that the power could not be legally delegated and therefore the assistant could not receive the nomination papers ?

Premier : No. The rules lay down that if the returning officer is not present there is another officer (named in the next column) who could perform the duties of the returning officer so far as the receiving of the nomination papers is concerned. That is the real difficulty and on that technical ground the nomination papers were rejected.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Why did not the Government take proper care to see that the second man was mentioned and there was no risk of the papers being rejected merely because a particular man was not present ?

Premier : The second man was present ; that is my information.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I enquire whether the second man was present in his own office or in the office usually occupied by the returning officer ?

Premier : I might take my honourable friend into confidence and say that I made very careful enquiries into the matter and into all these details. The reply which I got was that the returning officer could not be present on account of some accident and he left instructions that if he could not return in time the papers should be received by his assistant or whoever he was, and he also says that a notice was pinned to the wall to that effect, that nomination papers would be received by that other gentleman and this officer was the Boiler Inspector.

Sardar Hari Singh : Was he in his own office or in the office of the returning officer ?

Premier : According to the information given to me, a notice was put on the wall that nominations would be received by that other person.

Sardar Hari Singh : Was he present in the office of the returning officer ?

Premier : He was present in his own office which was next door.

Lala Duni Chand : Is any explanation asked for from these two gentlemen as regards the allegations made against them.

Premier : I have already given the information which I have received.

Malik Barkat Ali : Has the attention of the Honourable Premier been drawn to the fact that one of the candidates actually filed an affidavit to the effect that Sardar Indar Singh was not in his office and that he actually reached his office 5 or 10 minutes prior to 3 p.m., the last minute for the filing of nomination papers ?

Premier : It is a pity that that gentleman did not put in an election petition.

Malik Barkat Ali : Has the attention of the Honourable Premier been drawn to the fact that nomination papers were actually received by the head clerk of Mr. Abel who was not authorized to receive them and that this head clerk actually gave receipts for the receipt of these nomination papers to all the three or four candidates ?

Premier : That is my private information. But so far as official information is concerned, that question was also looked into and an explanation was asked for and the reply is as I have stated.

Malik Barkat Ali : Has the attention of the Honourable Premier been drawn to the fact that these facts were mentioned in the affidavit and will he kindly state whether in the light of the statements made in the affidavit he would institute an independent enquiry into the circumstances which led to the defeat of these three candidates ?

Premier : I did institute an enquiry and unfortunately—it is a pity—that an election petition was not put in.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Was that enquiry instituted on private information ?

Premier : Both on private information and on the affidavit to which my honourable friend has referred.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Was part of the information received in his private capacity utilised in public capacity ?

Premier : My honourable friend is too subtle.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Has any departmental action or enquiry been instituted into the conduct of these persons who appear to have been guilty of a serious dereliction of duty ?

Premier : If we had come to that conclusion my honourable friend may rest assured that I would have taken very drastic action.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : That is not your conclusion ? That is good.

MISCHIEF-MONGERING IN CHOHA SAIDAN SHAH.

*2691. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether his attention has been drawn to the article under the caption "Mischief-mongering in Choha Saidan Shah", published in the Inqilab, Lahore, dated 1st January, 1938, which is likely to constitute incitement to violence ; if so, the action taken or proposed to be taken by the Government to punish and prevent such incitement to violence ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : I regret that the reply to this question is not yet ready.

ENTERTAINMENT TO MR. O'BRIAN, RETRENCHMENT OFFICER.

*2692. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Mr. O'Brian, Retrenchment Officer, visited Simla district in the last summer ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that subscription was raised among clerks and candidates to entertain him ;
- (c) the steps, if any, that the Government proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) No.

(c) Does not arise.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not the experience of the Honourable Revenue Minister that allegations of this kind are never invented and are invariably true ? Has the Honourable Minister made enquiries from the gentleman concerned whether he received any such entertainment or not ? Does the gentleman deny that subscriptions were collected in order to entertain him ?

Minister: I am afraid I cannot add anything to my answer.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: Is it or is it not within the knowledge of the Government or the Honourable Minister for Revenue that this gentleman was entertained to a sort of public or quasi-public or quasi-private party in which these clerks and other persons were present?

Minister: I have definitely replied to that part of the question "No" and I cannot add anything more to it.

Lala Duni Chand: Is this true that entertainment parties of this kind are forbidden under the rules?

Premier: All public parties are forbidden.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: Both for Indians and Europeans or for Indians only?

Premier: For everybody.

LORRY AND TONGA STANDS AT VILLAGE GURUNANAKPURA ON LAHORE-LYALLPUR ROAD.

*2693. Lala Duni Chand: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the lorry and tonga stands at Gurunanakpura (a part of village Buchake) on the Lahore-Lyallpur pucca road which had been sanctioned for the current year have been now ordered to be shifted to Nur Mandi; if so, reasons for the same;
- (b) whether it is true that the police now does not allow any lorry or tonga to stand near Gurunanakpura abadi and the lorry and tonga drivers are threatened with prosecution if they would do so;
- (c) whether the police is interfering with the tenants of the shops at Gurunanakpura and the intending tenants are warned not to hire these shops;
- (d) if so, the steps, if any, the Government propose to take?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: (a) No.

(b) No.

(c) No.

(d) Does not arise.

Lala Duni Chand: Is it true that for many years there used to be a lorry and tonga stand at Gurunanakpura village and it has been recently shifted to a new place called Nur Mandi?

Minister: There may have been an unauthorised stand there.

Lala Duni Chand: Is it true that for many years the rights for tonga and lorry stands were auctioned publicly every year by the district board?

Minister: May have been an unauthorised stand.

Lala Duni Chand : If the tonga and lorry stand has been regularly auctioned by the district board for so many years, will the Honourable Minister consider it unauthorised or illegal ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is the tonga stand at Nur Mandi an authorised stand now ?

Minister : It must be.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What were the circumstances which made Nur Mandi a more desirable place than Gurusankpura which was in use for several years past ?

Minister : Reasons of suitability.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Honourable Minister know that this Nur Mandi has been established recently and named after the Deputy Commissioner of the district ?

REVENUE ON HARRAR TREES IN ILAQA BHOJ NAGGAL, DISTRICT AMBALA.

*2694. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether recently the proprietors of Bhoj Naggal comprising villages Khatwa, Raji, Barula, Chaniana, Hathia, Bhunr Singhwala, Sherhta and Badiala in the Ambala district, have been ordered by the Revenue Department to pay five annas and in some villages six annas per tree of harrar, whether already planted or to be planted, over and above the land revenue assessed ;

(b) under whose orders this has been done, and why ;

(c) the action, if any, that the Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : (a) and (b) An assessment of four to five annas per fruit bearing harrar tree in the villages of ilaga Bhoj Naggal, district Ambala, was imposed at settlement—vide paragraph 81 of the Settlement Report of the district. A fresh census of fruit bearing trees is taken every eighth year and the demand is adjusted accordingly.

(c) Does not arise.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that these villages are situated within the Sivalik area and the only main crop in that area is that of fruit trees like harrars ?

Minister : It is a very valuable crop.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Honourable Minister know that hardly any other crop grows in that area ? How does the Government justify the assessment of land revenue along with the assessment on these trees ?

Minister : I will request my honourable friend to read the Settlement Report which contains many more things that will be of use to him.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to quote any law or rule under which an assessment of this kind is permissible? I want information on the point whether there is any rule or law?

Minister : I refer him to the Land Revenue Act.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Does the Honourable Member know....

Minister : Minister please, I am not a Member (laughter).

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is it a very valuable crop inasmuch as it is said to contain very rejuvenating qualities?

Minister : I am afraid some of my friends on the opposite side know it better.

PRESS EMERGENCY ACT.

*2695. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government has under consideration any proposal to tighten the provisions of the Press Emergency Act;
- (b) if so, the intention and purpose of the Government behind the proposed move;
- (c) the nature of the proposed measure which Government has in view?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : (a) Yes.

(b) The intention is to arrest the tendency to give currency to distorted and unreliable rumours calculated to disturb the public peace and to discredit or prejudice public officers in the discharge of their duties.

(c) The Bill has been published.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the honourable Parliamentary Secretary let us know what was the specific data with the Government to justify such a measure? Is it due to the fact that there has been a strong criticism of the Minister by certain papers?

Premier : If the honourable member will hold himself in patience he will find that all the data will be placed before him.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE SYNDICATE OF THE UNIVERSITY re REGISTRATION OF GRADUATES FOR PREPARING VOTERS' LISTS.

*2696. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether he has received the recommendation of the Syndicate of the University, dated 23rd February, 1988, regarding the registration of graduates for the purposes of preparation of voters' list for the University Constituency; if so, what action does the Government propose to take in the matter?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

COMMISSION TO SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER.

*2697. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : With reference to answer to question *No. 1940<sup>1</sup> asked on 1st April, 1938, will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether any commission has been paid to the special official receiver and his assistants on the sale of Bharat Insurance Company shares of Lala Harkishan Lal so far, and also state the amount lying in current account with the Imperial Bank in Lala Harkishan Lal's account with the rate of interest that the Imperial Bank has agreed to pay for the amount so deposited ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : Commission amounting to Rs. 55,000 has now been paid to the special official receiver on account of the sale of the Bharat Insurance Company's shares. The Honourable Judges state that the order for payment was passed by them in their judicial capacity. I regret that the other information asked for by the honourable member is not yet available.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I enquire whether the special official receiver has now been given a fixed pay and whether his appointment has been made permanent and pensionable ?

Minister : It does not arise out of this question, but it is not correct. The answer to this supplementary question is in the negative.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Am I to understand that he is still on commission basis and gets only a commission and not a salary ?

Minister : That will be the natural consequence because he is not on any pay.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Was the sale effected by public auction of through brokers ?

Minister : I am not in a position to answer, but I take it that there was a public auction in the High Court at which more than one person bid.

Lala Duni Chand : How long were the official receiver and his men required to work in order to get a remuneration of Rs. 55,000 ?

Minister : I could not say that, but the amount of commission is calculated at 5 per cent. of the sale price which under the ordinary Rules could be paid.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it a fact that the special official receiver only inserted an advertisement in the papers under the orders of the High Court and did nothing else ?

Minister : I have no idea of what exactly the receiver did.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Does the Honourable Minister know that a high authority also has a share in this commission ?

Premier : What does the honourable member mean ? Will he make himself clear ?

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : I am prepared to make it clear.

Premier : Then make it clear. The honourable member should either have the courage of his conviction and say openly what he means or he should withdraw.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : If the honourable member likes I am prepared for it. I accept his challenge.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

Premier : May I request you to ask the honourable member (Chandhri Kartar Singh) either to withdraw the insinuations he made or to say clearly what he means ?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : It was only a question and not a statement.

Mr. Speaker : I do not consider it right to call upon him at this stage to make a public statement.

Premier : I merely asked him to withdraw the statement.

Mr. Speaker : In its effect the statement may, no doubt, be offensive and undesirable, but its language is not offensive (Opposition Cheers). A statement, which is not prima facie offensive, and which, though intended to attack some one or to defame somebody, is not directed against a person named or known cannot be directed to be withdrawn; but if the Honourable Leader of the House insists I will call upon the hon'ble member to explain.

Premier : I do not want him to explain, I merely want him to withdraw it or express his regret. He has made very serious allegations without mentioning any name.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Then what is the complaint if he has not mentioned any name ?

Mr. Speaker : Before I call upon the honourable member to withdraw I would like to ask if he is prepared to name anybody.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : A word to the wise is enough.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I submit one thing ?

Mr. Speaker : I have disallowed the question and as the Leader of the House insists, I see no harm if the honourable member says before the House.....

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : On a point of order. (Uproar).

Mr. Speaker : Are you not prepared to name anybody ?

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : If you allow me to speak for two minutes, I will make my position clear.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member may have 2 minutes.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : I will finish within two minutes.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : A point of order, Sir.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : If you allow me, Sir, to name the person, I am prepared to name him.

Mr. Speaker : If you are prepared to name, by all means do.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : My point of order is that a certain question was asked which the Chair was pleased to disallow and after a question has been disallowed, no further discussion in respect of that very question can take place before the House.

Mr. Speaker : When it is alleged on the floor of the House that an insinuation has been made against a particular individual and the Leader of the House insists upon that individual being named, I do not think there is any objection to the person being named.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : I want to name the man.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : My submission is that a question cannot be said to be before the House unless it is allowed by the Speaker.

Mr. Speaker : The original question is not before the House but a further question that the honourable member should name the person is before the House.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : I am enquiring from the Government whether such rumours are afloat and it is their duty to supply me with the information. (Laughter).

Premier : In other words the honourable member is making no insinuation. (Laughter).

LEAVE RESERVE I. M. S. OFFICER IN THE MAYO HOSPITAL, LAHORE.

*2698. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether the I. M. S. officer Captain Garfit who was posted on general duty in Mayo Hospital, Lahore, as I. M. S. reserve (European) has been posted as Civil Surgeon, Jhelum ; if so, who is acting as the leave reserve now ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : Yes. Captain Garfit continues to be set off against the leave reserve authorized for European I.M.S. officers in civil employ in the Punjab irrespective of the post to which he may be appointed from time to time.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Am I to understand that it is not necessary for leave reserve of I.M.S. Officers working in the Medical College to remain on the staff of the Medical College ?

Minister : No.

ELECTION RESULTS OF AMRITSAR MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

*2699. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the dates on which the last election results for Amritsar Municipal Committee were announced ;
- (b) the dates on which they were gazetted ;
- (c) the reasons for the delay in gazetting the results ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) and (b) The results of the last general elections of the Municipal Committee of Amritsar were announced in January last and notified in May 1938.

(c) As the selection of the appointed members with which these results had to be notified took time it was not possible to notify them earlier.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know what took four months to notify ?

Minister : The constitution of the Municipal Committee was under revision and additional delay was caused in selecting the appointed members.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is there any provision in the Municipal Act fixing a time limit for gazetting the election results ?

Minister : Not to my knowledge.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether the revision of the constitution of the Municipal Committee was before the Government after the elections had taken place or before the elections ?

Minister : Before and after.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Therefore, the consideration started before the elections took place and the elections were ordered without deciding what the constitution of the Municipal committee shall be.

Minister : No.

Sardar Sahai Singh Josh : All the time the Government was, I think, in labour.

Premier : And produced a mouse.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : And produced a nominated member.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Has similar delay occurred in other municipalities ?

Minister : Sometimes but not generally.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What was the reason in the case of Jandiala Guru and Sargodha ?

Minister : The question does not relate to these cases quoted by the honourable member.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does it take six months or nine months ?

Minister : Sometimes nominations are decided quickly and at other times inevitable delay takes place, but the time taken is never six or nine months.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Was not the number of members of Amritsar Municipal Committee definitely fixed before the elections were ordered ?

Minister : They were fixed.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : When the number of members was fixed what further was the matter to be considered? Was it merely the selection of candidates or anything further?

Minister : Adjustment had to be made with regard to the due representation of different communities, revealed after the preparation of the electoral rolls.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether it was some canvassing for a certain object which the Government was carrying on that delayed the nomination of members?

Minister : No. I repudiate the insinuation.

Lala Duni Chand : Was it done in order to facilitate the election of the President who might be agreeable to the Government?

Minister : No. The defeat of the Congress candidate cannot be explained away in this way.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : How many months did it take for the Government to receive the information from Amritsar to Lahore regarding the results of the election?

Minister : I do not think it arises out of the main question. I have already said that delay took place due to different reasons.

Mian Abdul Aziz : Is the Honourable Minister in charge aware of the orders of the Government that the names for nomination of members should be submitted at least fifteen days before the expiry of the term of the existing committee?

Minister : I have not followed the question.

Mian Abdul Aziz : There are instructions of the Government that, in order to publish the names of the elected and nominated members, their names should be submitted to the Minister incharge fifteen days before the expiry of the last term.

Minister : Would you please quote the number of the notification you are referring to?

Mian Abdul Aziz : If you will kindly give me Beazley's Manual, I will point out the authority.

Minister : I have not got it with me.

Mian Abdul Aziz : If the Ministers have not got the books, the members cannot be expected to have them up at Simla.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does the whole Cabinet nominate members to the municipal committees or is the Minister-in-charge alone responsible for it?

Minister : Minister-in-charge.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it necessary for him to consult some higher authority? If not, what is the delay of six months due to?

Minister : It is wrong to say that delay of six months took place.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Five?

Minister : No. You are wrong again.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Four?

BABAR AKALI PRISONERS.

*2700. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the name of the disease of which Sardar Karam Singh, Babar Akali, died in the Multan Jail and the reasons for not releasing him prior to his death in view of his serious illness ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that Sardar Hazara Singh, Master Dalip Singh, Sardar Bhola Singh and other Babar Akali prisoners are in a very precarious state of health ;
- (c) whether Government has considered the question of their release in view of their serious illness ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Karam Singh was suffering from malaria and jaundice. Government had no reason to suppose that his illness was likely to prove fatal.

(b) Master Dalip Singh has already been released. The remaining Babar Akali prisoners are not in a precarious state of health.

(c) The question of their release on account of health does not arise, but the general question of their release is otherwise under consideration.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state whether it was brought to the notice of Government by the members of the Opposition that the case of Sardar Karam Singh was one which needed the special attention of the Government in view of his illness ?

Minister : I do not remember this but what I can tell the honourable member is this that the release of Sardar Karam Singh was under consideration and he probably would have been released in a few days, if he had not died.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is the Minister perfectly satisfied that the death of this gentleman was due to malaria ?

Minister : That is my information, his death was due to malaria and jaundice.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : How long had he been ailing before his death ?

Minister : If the honourable member wants exact information I am afraid he must give me notice. I do not think he had been ailing for any great length of time.

Lala Duni Chand : Will Government learn a lesson from another case which proved fatal ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

ABOLISHING OF POLICE STATION AT SANGHAUR.

*2701. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the reasons for abolishing the police station at Sanghaur in Karnal district ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : The Punjab Provincial Police Committee of 1926 recommended the abolition of Sanghaur

[Mir Maqbool Mahmood.]

thana for the reason that the work was light. The thana was accordingly abolished with effect from the 1st April, 1928, its villages being distributed between Ladwa and Radaur thanas.

Lala Duni Chand : Is Government aware of the fact that there is a demand in this part of the Karnal district for the establishment of the police station that has been abolished ?

Parliamentary Secretary : Not so far, Sir.

CASES OF CATTLE-LIFTING IN KARNAL DISTRICT.

*2702. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of cases of cattle-lifting registered with the police between 1st April, 1937, and 31st December, 1937, in the Karnal district ;
- (b) the measures, if any, the Government proposes to reduce cases of cattle lifting ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) 480.

(b) All possible measures are being taken. These include patrolling, wakabandi, simultaneous raids, proceedings under sections 109 and 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and under the Habitual Offenders Act, and the tattooing of cattle.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that a good many agriculturists in this ilaga live on cattle lifting ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am not aware of that.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has the number of cattle lifting cases increased since the present Government took office or have they decreased ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I would require notice for that question.

Mian Abdul Rab : May I know if the Parliamentary Secretary is aware of the fact that the leniency shown by the police is responsible for the increase in the number of theft cases ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE, SANDA ROAD, LAHORE.

*2703. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the reasons why the slaughter-house situated on Sanda road, in close vicinity of Krishna Nagar, Lahore, has not been removed to some suitable locality in spite of the repeated representations made in this behalf and also the steps the Government now intends to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : For administrative reasons Government do not propose to consider the question at present. The question of raising the height of the walls of the slaughter-house at Krishna Nagar is under the consideration of the Administrator, Lahore Municipality.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the previous Government recommended the removal of the slaughter-house to the authorities ?

Minister : Not to my knowledge.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Is it a fact that recently Hindu, Muslim, Sikh and Christian residents of the locality held protest meetings and requested the Government to remove the said slaughter-house ?

Minister : I have received certain applications.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Can it not be removed to some other place ?

Minister : It is difficult to locate it elsewhere.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Could not a site be found on the banks of the Ravi or some such place ?

Minister : Can you guarantee that there will be no objection ? I will be glad to receive suggestions.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Since how long has the matter been under the consideration of the Administrator ?

Minister : Some representations were made some time back.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What reply did he give ?

Minister : I have just read out the reply that for administrative reasons Government do not propose to consider the question at present.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Did not the Administrator say that he had written to Government to grant the money to build the slaughter-house ?

Minister : I am not aware of that.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Do the Government recognise it in principle that the slaughter-house should be removed from its present site ?

Minister : I have already replied.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is there any recent development necessitating the revision of Government's decision in this matter ?

Minister : What decision of the Government ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : The Honourable Minister replied that the predecessor of the present Government recommended that this should be removed.

Minister : All I can say is that you have wrongly understood me.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Did the Minister look into the file of the case while replying to the representations made to him ?

Minister : Yes.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Did not the previous Government decide in favour of the removal of the slaughter-house from this place ?

Minister : I am not aware of that.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Did the Municipal Committee press for the removal of the slaughter-house ?

Minister : If the honourable member will give notice, I will furnish the information.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Did the Minister for Local Self-Government and Public Health meet the representatives of residents of Krishna Nagar and Sanda Road, and ask the Medical Officer of Health to remove the slaughter-house ?

Minister : If the honourable member will give notice, I will furnish the information.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does the Minister say that the previous Government did not decide that ?

Minister : I have already replied.

COMPENSATION TO PUNJABIS KILLED IN HARDWAR TRAIN ACCIDENT.

*2704. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) the number of the Punjabis killed and wounded in the Hardwar train accident on 15th April, 1938 ;

(b) steps taken by the Government to obtain compensation from parties concerned for the relatives and dependants of the killed persons and for the injured ones as a result of this accident ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) (i) 8 persons were killed of whom 6 belonged to provinces other than the Punjab. The other two remain unidentified.

(ii) 11 Punjabis were injured.

(b) The East Indian Railway have intimated that they are prepared to pay reasonable compensation to sufferers but they add that no claims have yet been received.

BIHTA TRAIN DISASTER.

*2705. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the steps taken by the Punjab Government consequent on the findings of the judicial tribunal into the Bihta train disaster in order to obtain compensation and damages for the victims of the accident who belong to the Punjab ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : I would invite the honourable member's attention to the answer given to question *884<sup>1</sup> in the last January session. The report of the tribunal was published in April last. As long ago, however, as December, the East Indian Railway instituted enquiries as to the persons to whom compensation, if due, would be payable, and asked for the assistance of district magistrates in this connection. As stated in reply to question *834<sup>1</sup>, claimants were advised to address the Chief Commercial Manager of the Railway either direct or through the district magistrates of their districts. A press communiqué was issued to the same effect. If the honourable member knows of any would-be claimant who is uncertain as to his proper course, I would suggest that he advise the claimant to approach the district magistrate of his district.

Sardar Hasi Singh : May I ask the honourable member please to state whether there has been any concrete result of the Government efforts in this direction ?

Parliamentary Secretary : This question does not arise out of the question tabled by my honourable friend, but if he puts a separate question, that would be attended to.

TEACHERS' CONFERENCE AND AMELIORATION OF THE LOT OF TEACHERS.

*2706. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether proceedings of the Punjab Board Teachers' Conference held at Lahore in April last have been brought to his notice ; if so, action taken or proposed to be taken by the Government in order to ameliorate the lot of the teachers concerned ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

TREATMENT OF CHILDREN OF TEACHERS AS FREE SCHOLARS.

*2707. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether he has received any representation to the effect that children of teachers should be treated as free scholars in schools and colleges ; if so, action proposed to be taken by the Government in the matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : Yes ; but finances do not permit of the extension of the existing fee concessions for the children of teachers referred to in Article 121 of the Punjab Education Code.

Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Government consider the question of extending this concession to the children of teachers when the finances do permit ?

Minister : Certainly.

Sardar Hari Singh : Will it be considered within the life-time of the present Ministry ?

Minister : Future is in the dark.

ACTION ON CIRCULARS ISSUED BY THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

*2708. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether the various circulars issued by the Education Department or inspectors of schools regarding the conditions of service, etc., of teachers of board, municipal and aided schools are being fully carried into effect by the various authorities concerned ; if not, further action proposed to be taken by Government with a view to securing adherence to them ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : Government has no reason to doubt that these instructions are not being carried out. If, however, it is within the knowledge of the honourable member that a certain school is not following the departmental orders in the matter, he may bring it to the notice of the Department.

CROWN versus MIRZA SULMAN AHMAD AND OTHERS.

2700. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether the recent judgment of the High Court in the cases Crown versus Mirza Sulman Ahmad and others under section 302, Indian Penal Code, has been brought to the notice of Government with particular reference to the words "we have in this case, however, one piece of evidence which in our opinion shows us conclusively that the prosecution was not averse to producing false evidence"; if so, action taken or proposed to be taken by the Government in the matter?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): Government had not seen a copy of the judgment in question before attention was drawn to it by the honourable member. A copy has since been requisitioned from the High Court, who have specifically informed Government that the strictures in that judgment related not to the prosecuting authorities of the Crown but to the complainant's own party. The High Court have already ordered the prosecution of one of the complainant's witnesses, and Government see no need for any further action.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is there any ground which makes it necessary for the Government to receive such information?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have stated that in this case the prosecuting agency of the Crown was not involved.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know whether the words "We have in this case, however, one piece of evidence which in our opinion shows us conclusively that the prosecution was not averse to producing false evidence" actually occur in the judgment which has been received by the Government?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am afraid, my honourable friend has not followed the answer given. I have stated that the matter was referred to the High Court who informed the Government that in this case the fault lay with the private complainant and not with the Crown prosecuting agency and that the High Court had already ordered the prosecution of one of the witnesses concerned.

Sardar Hari Singh : I want to know whether those words do actually occur in the judgment received by the Government.

Parliamentary Secretary : I cannot say what the exact words were at the moment, but presumably my honourable friend's quotations are ordinarily correct. The High Court has, however, explained that by 'prosecution' they meant 'private prosecution agency.'

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : Is the honourable member aware that there is no private prosecution in cases under section 302, Indian Penal Code? They are all Crown cases.

(Voices from the Treasury Benches : No, no.)

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not true that under the law a complainant is a prosecuting agency?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am afraid it is not for me to add anything to the interpretation by the High Court of their own judgment.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not true that the prosecuting agency is responsible for false evidence that might be given by the complainant ?

Premier : The honourable member may take that view, but the High Court have definitely stated that the officials were not concerned so far as these strictures were made.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether this legal view is not correct ?

Premier : I am not prepared to put my honourable friend's view at a premium as compared with the view of the Honourable Judges of the High Court.

Lala Duni Chand : Was not the public prosecutor conducting the case ? Was he not representing the Crown in this case ?

Premier : It does not arise.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : The words are :—

" We have in this case, however, one piece of evidence which in our opinion shows us conclusively that the prosecution was not averse to producing false evidence."

We are concerned with prosecution and prosecution under section 802 is always from the Crown.

Parliamentary Secretary : I beg to invite honourable member's attention again to the remarks sent to us by the High Court where they have specifically informed Government that the strictures in that judgment related not to the prosecuting authorities of the Crown but to the complainant's own party.

EXTERMENT ORDER SERVED ON SHRIMATI SATYAVATI AT LAHORE.

*2710. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the grounds on which an externment order was served by the Punjab Government on Shrimati Satyavati at Lahore on 13th April, 1988 ;
- (b) whether a statement issued by her before her arrest on 14th April and published in the Tribune of 15th April, has been brought to his notice ;
- (c) whether any modification of the original order is contemplated in view of her statement ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daultana) : (a) For having acted and being about to act in a manner prejudicial to the public safety and peace ;

(b) Yes ;

(c) No.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Honourable Premier to state whether Shrimati Satyavati had made any violent speeches within the jurisdiction of the Punjab Ministry ?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot go on answering questions time after time. My honourable friend will remember that during the adjournment motion debate on the last occasion, I gave several reasons why she was asked to leave the Punjab.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : She was brought to the Punjab Central Jail in connection with certain charges and has since been released. Is she now allowed to stay in the Punjab ?

Premier : She is now in Delhi and it would be better if she stays in her own province.

PROCEEDINGS AND RESOLUTIONS OF THE PUNJAB NON-OFFICIAL JAIL VISITORS' CONFERENCE.

*2711. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether the proceedings and resolutions of the Punjab non-official jail visitors' conference held at Lahore in April this year have been taken into consideration by the Government ; if so, action proposed to be taken by Government in the matter ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : No proceedings or resolutions passed by the Conference in April last have so far been received by Government.

STATE PRISONER WASDEV SINGH.

*2712. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether state-prisoner Wasdev Singh confined in Central Jail, Lahore, has been ill recently ; if so, the nature of his illness, his present condition, his present weight and his weight before illness in January, 1938 ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : In April this State prisoner complained of ear-ache in the right ear and of some deafness. On examination at the Mayo Hospital some inflammation was found and this was treated. The visiting surgeon reports that the condition was not a serious one. The prisoner's weight on admission to the Lahore Central Jail was 117 lbs. ; it is now 145 lbs.

ARTICLE IN THE TRIBUNE BY DR. N. R. DHAMVIR.

*2713. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether attention of the Government has been drawn to an article in the Tribune of April 28rd, 1938, in which Dr. N. R. Dhamvir has told the public how the sweeping by sweepers and the watering of even the broadest and best kept roads of Lahore may prove cause of tuberculosis ;
- (b) whether the watering of Lahore roads is very scanty and insufficient ; if so, the action that the Government proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nazim-ud-Daula Majar Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Government have seen the article in question.

(b) Watering is neither scanty nor insufficient. Six watering lorries, 30 watering bullocks carts and 624 bhishtis are employed for road watering at an annual cost of Rs. 55,980.

Lala Duni Chand : Is the Honourable Minister aware how the problem of dust nuisance has been solved in places like Calcutta, Bombay and Madras?

Minister : The dust problem exists there still to my knowledge.

MALBA FUND.

*2714. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Revenue authorities of district Hoshiarpur are in receipt of representations recently submitted by the land revenue payers and the Panchayat at village Lambara, tahsil and district Hoshiarpur, on the question of malba fund; if so, substance of those representations;

(b) the action taken or proposed to be taken by the authorities in this matter on the representations made?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : I regret the answer to the question is not yet ready.

DAMAGE DONE TO CROPS BY HAILSTORM.

*2715. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) the extent of damage done to the crops in a number of villages in Zail Bhanupli, thana Anandpur, tahsil Una of district Hoshiarpur, on the night of 7th April, 1938, as a result of hailstorm;

(b) remissions in land revenue allowed or proposed to be allowed to the people affected by the calamity?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Details are not available but the damage was considerable in 7 villages of the zail.

(b) The land revenue of the damaged area has been suspended and the question of remission is under consideration.

COMPLAINT AGAINST THE PATWARI OF VILLAGE DHAT.

*2716. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that people of village Dhat, tahsil and district Hoshiarpur, have recently submitted representations to the Revenue authorities of the district on the subject of alleged irregularities committed by the village Patwari in making certain entries in Revenue Records with him, if so, the substance of the representations;

- (b) whether an inquiry has been instituted into the complaint and if so, with what result ;
- (c) the action proposed to be taken by the Government in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : (a) Yes. One Sardar Shankar Singh and another represented that false entries were made by the patwari regarding some gurdawara land exchanged with one Sardar Ujagar Singh.

(b) An enquiry was made by the Naib-Tahsildar before whom Sardar Shankar Singh gave a statement that the patwari's records were correctly prepared and he withdrew the complaint.

(c) Does not arise.

IMPORTED CASES OF CHOLERA IN THE PUNJAB.

*2717. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of imported cases of cholera in the Punjab from Hardwar after the Kumbh fair and the number of deaths among them ;
- (b) the number of cholera cases due to infection in consequence of the imported cases and the number of deaths among them ;
- (c) the measures adopted by Government to meet the menace ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) 386 cases, 162 deaths from 9th April to 30th April, 1938. Special trains continued to run up to the 30th of April bringing pilgrims back to the Punjab after which the normal running of trains was resumed.

(b) 7,063 cases and 3,680 deaths up to 11th June, 1938.

(c) The Kumbh Fairs at Hardwar have invariably been attended by outbreaks of cholera and its dissemination into the various Provinces of India through the dispersal of pilgrims. It was apprehended that if cholera broke out amongst the pilgrims at Kumbh Fairs which were being held at Hardwar and Brindaban from 1st February, 1938, to 30th April, 1938 and 1st February, 1938, to 21st March, 1938, respectively, there was very grave danger of the disease being spread to other Provinces and particularly to the Punjab, and, therefore, as early as 21st December, 1937, certain principles were laid down and the officers of the Public Health Department were instructed to make arrangements to prevent the importation of cholera into the Province according to those principles. In pursuance of these principles, the following measures were adopted beforehand to prevent the importation of cholera in the Punjab from these fairs :—

- (i) Wide publicity was given that all intending pilgrims should receive protective inoculation prior to their departure and were warned regarding the risk entailed in consuming food or water from unauthorised sources.
- (ii) Elaborate arrangements were made for early detection of cases of cholera and minor illnesses such as vomiting and diarrhoea which may precede the major disease among passengers by establishing Railway and Road Inspection Posts at a large number of strategic points in most of the districts from where a large number of pilgrims had gone. All the special and ordinary trains were met and inspected and all road traffic was inspected at these posts and a number of suspected cases were removed from trains and treated.

- (iii) Arrangements were made for immediate isolation and treatment of cases and suspected cases of cholera and the segregation, following up, and inoculation of contacts and also for disinfection of infected articles.
- (iv) The Epidemic Diseases Act was applied to several districts from which the largest number of pilgrims had gone to the fair.
- (v) All available Public Health staff in each district was mobilized for anti-cholera measures and 8 additional Sanitary Inspectors were sanctioned to strengthen the staff in the neighbouring districts and to man the inspection posts. Disinfectants, vaccine and essential oil mixture were kept in readiness for emergency at definite points selected in each district.
- (vi) The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Punjab, was requested to supplement these arrangements by provision of accommodation for cases at dispensaries and hospitals.
- (vii) Special precautions were adopted for prevention of spread of infection in hill areas, such as Kangra Valley, Kulu Valley and Simla. Inspection posts were established at strategic places.

Cholera seems to have assumed epidemic proportions at Hardwar about the middle of April. This information, however, was not communicated by the authorities concerned to the Health authorities of the neighbouring Provinces. The disease was imported into this Province through the agency of the returning pilgrims. The incubation period of cholera ranges from a few hours to six days. It can, therefore, be readily understood that most of the persons who contracted the disease at Hardwar passed through the inspection posts in a healthy condition and developed the disease 2, 3 or 4 days after reaching their homes. Within about 8 days of the principal bathing day at Hardwar, i.e. 13th of April, from which date the pilgrims began to return, 26 districts in the Punjab were infected, infection having been reported from as many as 84 localities. Uptil the 30th April up to which date the pilgrims were still returning, all the districts had become infected and the number of infected localities had increased to 231. This would show the seriousness of the situation with which the Public Health Department had to cope, but it may be added that the Department, with the assistance readily afforded by Government, was ready to deal with the situation.

The measures taken after cholera was introduced into the Province are detailed below :—

- (a) The Epidemic Diseases Act was extended throughout the province at once to give enhanced powers to the local authorities to deal with any situation that may arise.

- (ii) Twenty sub-assistant Health Officers and 20 Sanitary inspectors were sanctioned by Government as emergency staff in addition to the existing epidemic staff of 10 doctors and 15 sanitary inspectors. Twenty-one doctors and 10 sanitary inspectors out of this emergency staff have so far been employed and concentrated in the most heavily infected localities. In addition to this staff, on the urgent representations of the Health authorities in various districts, local bodies have also come forward with generous response and have employed additional staff to cope with the situation in each district.
- (iii) 447,397 c.c.s. of cholera vaccine have been issued free of charge up to the 11th of June for use in rural areas, costing about Rs. 55,000. Three hundred and twenty-nine thousand, eight hundred and fifty-two inoculations had been done up to the 4th of June in the infected localities.
- (iv) The Director of Public Health, Punjab, has visited the most heavily infected districts, such as Gurgaon, Karnal, Ambala, Ludhiana, Amritsar, Kangra and Ferozepore and discussed the anti-cholera measures with the local authorities.
- (v) The Assistant Director of Public Health and District Medical Officers of Health are constantly on tour visiting infected localities to supervise anti-cholera measures and also to tender advice to local authorities.
- (vi) The civil authorities on the advice of the Public Health Department have prohibited fairs in several places and the public is advised to postpone marriages and other gatherings which help in the spread of the disease. The civil authorities are otherwise co-operating whole-heartedly with the Public Health staff and rendering every possible assistance.
- (vii) Public is kept informed by weekly press communiqués regarding cholera situation in the Province and of the mode of the spread of the disease and methods of personal protection. A short radio talk about cholera is broadcasted every day from Lahore.

Although it is not practicable to elaborate a plan as the spread of such epidemics depends on factors over which no control can be exercised in the present state of our knowledge, it is, however, proposed to submit a resolution to the Central Board of Health to advise the Government of India to require the various Provincial Governments to take steps to prohibit the entry into a fair of any person not inoculated against cholera immediately before coming to the fair.

DEMAND AND FORFEITURE OF SECURITIES FROM PARTAP, MILAP, ETC.

*2718. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the objectionable articles which are the basis of the demand and forfeiture of securities ordered recently from the 'Partap', 'Milap', and 'Vir Bharat', and 'Hindi Milap' and the printing presses in which these papers were printed?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The objectionable articles which formed the basis of the demand or forfeiture of securities from the Partap, Vir Bharat and Hindi Mīlap, respectively were (1) Hissar ke fasad ke silsile men sansani khez inkishafat, Muqami police aqaron ke barhe hue honsale. Lala Hardev Sahai, Member, District Board, Hissar, ka bijan. (2) Hissar ke Hindu Muslim fasad ki tafasil—zakhami Hindu nau jawan chal basa : Musalmanon ne khud hi Musalmanon ke chhappar ko ag laga di aur fasad kara dia and (3) Hissar men danga.

As regards the Mīlap, the attention of the honourable member is invited to the answer given to Assembly question No. * 1022<sup>1</sup>.

Action against the printing presses in which these papers were printed was taken on the basis of the aforesaid articles.

DEATH OF KARAM SINGH, A BABAR AKALI PRISONER.

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The attention of honourable member is drawn to the reply given to part (a) of question No. *2700<sup>2</sup>.

JUDGMENT OF THE HIGH COURT IN A MURDER CASE FROM ATTOOK DISTRICT.

*2720. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether his attention has been drawn to a recent judgment of the High Court in a murder case from Attock district, extracts from which were published in Tribune, dated April 8, 1938 ;

(b) if answer to (a) above is in the affirmative, action taken in this case and generally to improve police investigations so as to inspire public confidence ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) The Deputy Commissioner has been requested to hold an enquiry and to report the result to Government. A similar course has been followed in other recent cases in which the High Court have passed strictures upon the investigating agency, and suitable action will be taken against any official who may be found to have behaved improperly.

FAILURE TO CHALLAN A BOGUS VOTER IN MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS, MURREE.

*2721. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that one Mr. Ram Nath, President, Congress Committee, Rawalpindi, has sent a representation to the Inspector-General of Police, Punjab, recently regarding the failure of the Sub-inspector of Police, Murree, to challan a bogus voter in the Murree municipal elections, although he was instructed by the presiding officer named Mian Muhammad Zakir, Magistrate, 1st Class, to register a case under section 171 (f), Indian Penal Code,—vide order, dated 28th September, 1937; if so, the action taken in the matter on that representation?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The Inspector-General received no representation. The Rawalpindi authorities report that in September, 1937, in Murree two men were prosecuted under section 171 (f), Indian Penal Code, for personation, under the orders of the presiding officer, Mian Muhammad Zakir Qureshi. In both cases the men were convicted and were ordered to furnish bonds under section 562, Criminal Procedure Code.

ADAPQUATE SUPPLY OF DRINKING WATER FOR SCHEDULED CASTES OF NARAINGARH TAHSIL.

*2722. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the three wells intended for the use of the members of the scheduled castes of Naraingarh town in Ambala district, dry up in the summer season and yield no water;
- (b) whether a representation has been made by all untouchable communities in Naraingarh town to the authorities concerned that they constitute one-third of the population of the town and that the drying up of the wells has subjected them to unbearable hardships;
- (c) whether it is a fact that they are denied the use of other public wells;
- (d) if the answers to the above be in the affirmative the action that the Government proposes to take in the matter?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) So far as information is available, there is only one well intended for the use of members of the scheduled castes in the Naraingarh town, Ambala district. It dries up in the summer season.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes.

(d) An application for a grant-in-aid for the completion of a well constructed by Chamars at Naraingarh has been received from the District Board, Ambala, and will be considered by the Sanitary Board, Punjab, at its next meeting. Moreover Government have issued instructions to local authorities to secure the free enjoyment of the use of all public wells by the members of the scheduled castes on the same terms as by persons belonging to other castes and communities and to put permanent notice boards in conspicuous places on each public well stating therein that it is open to all classes of public including the scheduled castes.

ASSAULT UPON PANDIT DEV DUTT, SECRETARY, CONGRESS COMMITTEE, MULLANA, BY SUB-INSPECTOR MOHAN LAL.

*2723. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Superintendent of Police, Ambala district, went to Mullana, district Ambala, on the 28th.

(L. Duni Chand.)

March, 1938, to investigate the case of assault upon Pandit Dev Dutt, Secretary, Congress Committee, Mullana, by Sub-Inspector Mohan Lal ;

- (b) whether the Superintendent of Police recorded any evidence in support of the charge, if not, the reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Mr. Brar, the then Superintendent of Police, Ambala, inspected Police Station, Mullana, on the 28th March, 1938, but made no direct enquiry into the allegations against Sub-Inspector Mohan Lal as he had already on the 18th March deputed a Deputy Superintendent of Police to do so.

- (b) Does not arise.

NON-PAYMENT OF BILLS TO LOBBY-WALAS BY POLICE AT AMRITSAR.

*2724. Sardar Hari Singh : With reference to answer to question No. *2319<sup>1</sup> will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the complainants in the case were asked to substantiate the charge that certain police constables had commandeered lorries for which no payment has been made ;
 (b) if answer to (a) above be in the negative, whether Government intend to order further inquiries ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) The answer appears to be in the negative.

- (b) I am making further inquiries.

SUSPENSION OR DISMISSAL OF CORRUPT POLICE OFFICERS.

*2725. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of corrupt police officers who have been suspended or dismissed so far since April, 1937 ;
 (b) the number of police officers who have been re-instated in their posts during the same period as in (a) ;
 (c) the number of such assistant sub-inspectors, sub-inspectors and inspectors of police as have been granted promotion over the head of their seniors since April, 1937.

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : I regret that the answer to this question is not ready.

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF PATHOLOGY IN THE PUNJAB VETERINARY COLLEGE.

*2726. Chaudhri Ahmad Yar Khan : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the present incumbent of the post of Assistant to the Professor of Pathology in the Punjab Veterinary College possesses the M. B. C. V. S. qualifications or has been trained at Muktsar ;

- (b) whether any persons possessing the M.R.C.V.S. qualifications or with Muktesar training are available for the post of Assistant to the Professor of Pathology; if so, what action Government propose to take in the matter?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhota Ram : (a) No.

(b) Yes; but the four years course of study in English that was introduced in the Punjab Veterinary College in 1921 is based on that adopted in the colleges of Great Britain and in some directions it is more comprehensive. Government consider that an L. V. P. (Licensed Veterinary Practitioner) graduate, from the Punjab Veterinary College is as qualified for the post as a M.R.C.V.S. Muktesar training is not considered a necessary qualification. Appointment to the post has to be made on the recommendation of the Punjab and North-West Frontier Provinces Joint Public Service Commission. In the requisition forwarded to the Commission in connection with filling up of the post of Assistant to the Professor of Pathology, it has been stated that "candidates must either possess the M.R.C.V.S. diploma or be graduates of the Punjab Veterinary College."

MOTIONS FOR ADJOURNMENT.

STOPPAGE OF CANAL WATER SUPPLY, GUGERA BRANCH.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargav : (Lahore City, General, Urban) : I beg to move for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the serious situation created by the stopping of canal water supply (Gugera Branch) by residents of Chak No. 154—154, District Lyallpur, and the failure of the canal authorities to redress their grievances and settle the matter.

3 P. M.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please say whether in reducing the size of the outlets the canal authorities acted against or in accordance with the rules in force ?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : They have acted against the convention in vogue for the last twenty years and more.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : While the canal authorities wanted to reduce the size of the outlets there was agitation and the authorities agreed not to reduce the size. When they subsequently reduced the size they acted distinctly in violation of the agreement. There is no question of violation of any law. The point is that the authorities have acted in a way which has created dissatisfaction among the people.

Mr. Speaker : Is the honourable member aware that this dispute has been compromised and that the case has been finished ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Neither is it finished nor is it finishing.

Premier : Nor will it finish so long as the people do not allow it to be finished.

Mr. Speaker : I do not think it is fair on the part of the Honourable Premier to stand up and interrupt while Dr. Gopi Chand is still speaking.

I am inclined to hold the motion to be out of order. It appears that some gentlemen wish to discuss certain matters on resolutions; but they are not balloted or reached, they give notice of adjournment motions. I may point out that adjournment motions are exceptional motions but not substantive motions. (Hear, hear.) Such motions can be moved only when the matter is of public importance and urgent and involves some administrative responsibility of Government, that is to say, there is a departure from the ordinary law. If no such departure is involved, such motions cannot be moved. I may also point out for the information of honourable members that if they resort to standing order 87 they will perhaps be able to move more substantive motions than they are at present able to do, provided their motions are really important.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I point out that in the present case the Government have departed from the practice of the past twenty years? This has created a very serious situation in the chak.

Mr. Speaker : I hold that the motion is out of order, as there has been no departure from law.

DEATH OF DALIPA, A CARPENTER OF VILLAGE KHANGWARI.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the mal-treatment and torture by the police of one Dalipa, a carpenter of village Khangwari, thana Hariana, district Hoshiarpur, during the course of investigation of a theft case at a neighbouring village Malbot in which he was detained as a suspect as a result of which he died on the night between 3rd and 4th of May last. The idea of this motion is to throw light on the police methods of investigation in the Punjab. Here is a case of a carpenter who has fallen a victim to the tyranny and torture of the police. He has died leaving behind destitute dependants. Unless an open enquiry is held into this matter, the public will not be satisfied. There is a great sensation in the whole district on account of this incident. So far the enquiry held by the Government has not satisfied the people. Unless this matter is discussed in this Chamber, there is going to be a very great encouragement to the police to continue their methods of torture in investigating crimes.

Mr. Speaker : Are not the judicial courts competent to take any action in this matter?

Sardar Hari Singh : I do not think the authorities are going to take any cognisance of this matter. Anyhow, they have not taken cognisance so far.

Mr. Speaker : If a complaint is made to the District Magistrate or the Magistrate of the ilaga that such and such a person was murdered by the police, in the course of investigation, will no notice be taken of such complaint?

Sardar Hari Singh : Telegrams were sent to the Superintendent of Police and to the Deputy Commissioner on behalf of the wife of the victim of the police torture. But no action has so far been taken. They say that it is a case of suicide and not the result of police torture.

Premier : May I point out that it is incorrect to say that no action has been taken. May I also point out that the wording of the motion does not depict the facts as stated by the honourable member in his speech, that is, the question of the person jumping from a cliff. He has very cleverly suppressed that fact in his adjournment motion.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : May I supplement the very important point made by the Honourable Premier by stating that enquiries were held immediately by the magistrate of the darya and by the Superintendent of Police and the Deputy Commissioner when the whole panchayat was present; zaildars and others were there when Dalipa was questioned by the police. The unanimous verdict of the enquiry, as further supported by the post-mortem report, was that death was probably due to a fall.

Munshi Hari Lal : Can a discussion now go on on the merits of the case, before the motion is allowed?

Sardar Hari Singh : We have also made certain enquiries and come to a certain conclusion; they have made certain enquiries and come to a certain conclusion. My idea is to have an independent enquiry consisting of non-official members of this House.

Premier : My honourable friend thinks that non-official members of the Assembly are more independent than judicial officers (An honourable member : Members sitting behind him?) both members sitting behind me and sitting opposite. I am not prepared to concede that they are more independent than the judicial officers. May I submit that the real point at issue is as put by yourself, that is, whether as a matter of principle we should allow such adjournment motions. Supposing anybody, in any investigation—there are thousands of investigations going on—comes forward and says that torture has been committed, he has got several remedies. He can make a complaint to the Deputy Commissioner or the Superintendent of Police and if necessary he can go to a judicial court. But if my friends were to move an adjournment motion with regard to every investigation going on in the province, it would be impossible to carry on any work. Now take this very case. My honourable friend is perfectly at liberty to ask his friends or other persons to lodge a complaint in a court of law if they are not satisfied with the enquiry held by the magistrate and the matter will be decided judicially. This is not the way in which to bring the matter to the notice of the Government. My honourable friend published it in the press. If my honourable friend's object is to create a certain amount of notoriety or publicity he is welcome to do so. But he rushed into the press and published a statement which as a matter of fact would have greatly prejudiced the enquiry he wants. But that enquiry was held even before my honourable friend published his statement.

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of order. I take objection to the statement made by the Honourable Premier. He says that I published the statement in order to gain notoriety. He ought to withdraw those words.

Premier : To create a certain amount of advertisement or publicity.

Sardar Hari Singh : Let him withdraw those words.

Premier : I said that if that was his object.....

Mr. Speaker : Motives should not be attributed.

Premier : No motives are attributed. I said that he rushed into the press and published the statement, and that instead of publishing it in the press he should have come forward with the information in his possession. He merely suspects that the police did not play the game. He should have gone to the Deputy Commissioner and said " here is the evidence which I have got, will you please hold an enquiry " and if the Deputy Commissioner refused to do so, he should have come to me. I received a copy of a telegram sent by the wife of the deceased which she subsequently denied having been sent by her. However, an enquiry was held immediately by a first class magistrate. My honourable friend has a remedy that if the relations of the deceased are not satisfied with that enquiry they can go to a court of law.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I beg to draw your attention to one matter. The Honourable Premier said that Sardar Hari Singh published a statement in the press for the sake of notoriety. He has not withdrawn those words.

Premier : I thought that that episode had closed. I have not made any insinuation.

Mr. Speaker : Did the honourable member use those words ?

Premier : I meant no insinuation whatsoever against my friend. (Interruption). I said ' notoriety ' and ' publicity ' and if my honourable friend objects, I said that I would withdraw the word ' notoriety . ' (Laughter and applause).

Mr. Speaker : What is the object of the honourable member in making this motion ?

Sardar Hari Singh : The primary object is to censure Sikander Ministry and the secondary object is to have an independent enquiry.

Mr. Speaker : Sardar Hari Singh has given notice for asking for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the maltreatment and torture by the police of one Dalipa, a carpenter of village Khangwari, thana Hariana, district Hoshiarpur, during the course of investigation of a theft case at a neighbouring village Malbot in which he was detained as a suspect, with the result that he died on the night between 3rd and 4th of May last.

Premier : May I point out that I have no objection to the motion being discussed if you rule that it is in order, because I should rather like to have this opportunity to expose my honourable friend opposite.

Mr. Speaker : The motion will be taken up at 4-30 P.M. to-day.

PRESENTATION OF SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

Minister for Finance(The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I beg to present the Supplementary Estimates for 1938-39 (First Instalment). I beg also to intimate that the demands made therein are being made on the recommendation of the Governor.

THE PUNJAB DEBTORS' PROTECTION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Punjab Debtors' Protection (Amendment) Bill.

THE PUNJAB MOTOR TRAFFIC OFFENCES BILL.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sandar Singh Majithia) : I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Punjab Motor Traffic Offences Bill.

RESOLUTION.

EMPLOYMENT STATISTICS.

Minister for Development (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhote Ram) : I beg to move—

This Assembly do resolve that it is desirable that the following matters, being matters enumerated in the Provincial Legislative List, should be regulated in this province by an Act of the Federal Legislature, namely :—

- (1) Statistics of employment ;
- (2) Offences against, and the jurisdiction and powers of courts with respect to the said Act of the Federal Legislature.

Mr. Speaker : Will the Honourable Minister please point out which number of the Legislative List he is referring to ?

Minister : Item 2 of list 2.

Mr. Speaker : What about item 87 of that list ?

Minister : I think 87 is more appropriate and comprehensive, I will say just a few words about the resolution. It is a very innocent and non-controversial resolution. But I may briefly explain the history of this resolution. There are certain matters with respect to which power to make laws rests entirely with the Federal Legislature, there are certain other matters with respect to which the power to make laws rests entirely with the provincial legislature. There are yet other matters in which the Federal and Provincial Legislatures have concurrent jurisdiction to make laws. The subject of unemployment is one which falls in the list of provincial legislation but it appeared to the Government of India that it would be a desirable thing to have central legislation with regard to the question of collecting figures relating to employment of educated middle classes. Accordingly in May, 1937, the Government of India made a reference to provincial governments asking their views with regard to the desirability of an Act being passed by the Central Legislature on the question of collecting those figures. Provincial governments in their turn ascertained the views of commercial and industrial concerns and other important public bodies. The weight of opinion was found to be in favour of this legislation being undertaken by the Federal Legislature. On receipt of these opinions the provincial governments unanimously came to the conclusion that this legislation should be undertaken by the Federal Legislature. When provincial governments had conveyed their views the Central Government again addressed these governments suggesting that the resolution which I have moved should be placed before provincial legislatures because under section 108 of the Government of India Act unless such resolutions are passed by two or more provincial legislatures the Federal Government has no authority to undertake this legislation. It is with a view to give effect to this universal desire that I have moved this resolution.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : On a point of order. I had a mind to raise this point earlier but I wanted to hear the Honourable Minister who moved this resolution. There are two points which I want to bring to the notice of the House. The first is that at present there is no Federal Legislature. The second is that under section 100 of the Government of India Act it is not open to the Provincial Legislature to deprive itself of a power entrusted to it under List 2 of Schedule 7 of the Government of India Act. As a matter of fact this enactment for unemployment is to be dealt with under item 32 of List II and what the Honourable Minister wants is that the Provincial Government will have nothing to do with the legislation that may be moved in this House for removing unemployment. My submission is that this motion is out of order because, as given in List II, it is not for the Federal Legislature to legislate an enactment which is specifically mentioned in the Provincial Legislative List. As you are aware, there are three lists. First is the Federal Legislative List, second is the Provincial Legislative List and third is the Concurrent Legislative List. Matters that are referred to in List II are exclusively to be enacted or acted upon by a Provincial Legislature and not by the Federal Legislature. It is only in those cases where a certain province has not enacted that the Federal Legislature may make certain enactments to that effect. Section 100 itself is quite clear and is as follows :—

" 100.—(1) Notwithstanding anything in the two next succeeding sub-sections, the Federal Legislature has, and a Provincial Legislature has not, power to make laws with respect to any of the matters enumerated in List I in the Seventh Schedule to this Act (hereinafter called the 'Federal Legislative List'). "

Sub-section (3) of the same section is as under :—

" (3) Subject to the two preceding sub-sections the Provincial Legislature has, and the Federal Legislature has not, power to make laws for a Province or any part thereof with respect to any of the matters enumerated in List II in the said Schedule (hereinafter called the 'Provincial Legislative List'). "

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : But read section 108.

Premier : He is not reading the section properly. He ought to read section 108 as well.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : When the Legislature divests itself of the power of its own accord, then the subject becomes a federal subject.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : That will be entering into the merits whether the House divests itself of that power.

Mr. Speaker : Resolution moved is—

This Assembly do resolve that it is desirable that the following matters, being matters enumerated in the Provincial Legislative List, should be regulated in this province by an Act of the Federal Legislature, namely :—

- (1) Statistics of employment;
- (2) Offences against, and the jurisdiction and powers of courts with respect to the said Act of the Federal Legislature.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know the names of the legislatures which are in favour of this resolution?

Minister : All the Provincial Governments.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : While supporting this motion I am glad to say that this principle has been conceded that the Provincial Legislature has got the power of transferring a Provincial subject so as to be dubbed as a federal subject. I am always of the opinion that there are certain Provincial subjects which ought to have been included in the federal list and it is for the Government to divest themselves of powers to legislate for certain other subjects which ought to have been federal subjects.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : In supporting this resolution I only wish to submit one point and it is this. When the honourable member concerned or the Government writes to the Government of India conveying to them our acceptance of the resolution, if it is passed, I submit that they should make two points clear in the forwarding letter. Firstly that our acceptance of this resolution is under Section 108 of the Government of India Act, 1935, and that section specifically gives us the right to repeal or amend any Act that may be passed by the Federal Legislature on such matters as we may delegate to it.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : No.

Parliamentary Secretary : The only section of the Government of India Act under which this resolution could be passed is Section 108 and that section definitely lays down that—

“.....it shall be lawful for the Federal Legislature to pass any Act for regulating that matter accordingly, but any Act so passed may, as respects any Province to which it applies, be amended or repealed by an Act of the Legislature of that Province.”

I wish, therefore, to make it clear that on this item we are not abdicating but we are only delegating certain powers for the purpose of uniformity in the whole of India. We are co-operating for that purpose, but we shall have the right to revoke or repeal or alter any Act that the Federal Legislature may pass on this matter. Secondly, let it be made clear in our forwarding letter that we take it as understood that we retain the liberty of inviting further points of information or further statistics which we may require for purposes of our own Government in this province in addition to any which may be called under any Act of the Federal Legislature. Moreover, in case of repeal of the Federal Act on this item by the Provincial Legislature it shall be open to the latter to pass any Act with regard to it.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I beg to oppose the proviso moved by Mir Maqbool Mahmood. I take it that the honourable member does not understand—

Mr. Speaker : I cannot allow the honourable member to make a second speech.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I may have to withdraw my support.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member may do that but he cannot make a second speech.

Minister : As I read section 108 I have absolutely no doubt that the Provincial Government and the Provincial Legislature have the right to repeal or amend any law passed by the Central Legislature if at any time they feel that they should do so. Therefore, I think that the suggestion made by Mir Magbool Mahmood is not really called for, but if on further examination the Government is advised that the matter is not free from doubt, then, of course, in communicating this resolution to the Central Government we will make it clear that if the Punjab Government and the Punjab Legislature at any time feel that they should revoke the authority which they are giving to the Central Government, they will be at liberty to do so.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : Has any other Provincial Government been consulted in this matter ?

Minister : Each one of the Provincial Governments has been consulted and each one has expressed a view that on this point there should be central legislation.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : Has any Provincial Government been consulted by the Punjab Government ?

Minister : No, Sir.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : Then section 108 may again be read. There it is said that—

108. If it appears to the Legislatures of two or more Provinces to be desirable that any of the matters enumerated in the Provincial Legislative List should be regulated in those Provinces by Act of the Federal Legislature, and if resolutions to that effect are passed by all the Chambers of those Provincial Legislatures, it shall be lawful for the Federal Legislature to pass an Act for regulating that matter accordingly.....

In this case the main point is that if two or more provinces think it desirable that such a legislation may be passed by the Federal Legislature, whether the matter can be moved in the Federal Legislature on its own initiative or whether any other provincial government has also to be consulted. This point is not clear. No case has been made out under section 108 of the Government of India Act.

Mr. Speaker : Pandit Muni Lal Kalra's objection does not appear to be valid. If only one provincial legislature passes a law, the Central Legislature cannot amend it; but if some of the remaining legislatures also pass similar enactments, then the position will be different.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Sir, with your permission I would like to have information on one more point whether this Government have taken the assurance that the Central Assembly shall start the work of legislating on this point immediately or whether they shall wait till the Federal legislature has been constituted.

Minister : We have not called for any such assurance.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I want to know whether the Punjab Government has enquired from the Central Government that the Central Legislative Assembly shall pass a legislation to this effect after they have received a request from at least two legislatures.

Mr. Speaker : Yes. The Government of India Act is an Act of Parliament and therefore it is as much binding on the Government of India as it is on the provincial governments.

Mr. Chand Bhargava : I want to know whether we shall not wait for the Federal Legislature to be formed.

Mr. Speaker : Of course. The question is—

This Assembly do resolve that it is desirable that the following matters, being matters enumerated in the Provincial Legislative List, should be regulated in this province by an Act of the Federal Legislature, namely:—

- (1) Statistics of employment;
- (2) Offences against, and the jurisdiction and powers of courts with respect to the said Act of the Federal Legislature.

THE PUNJAB ELECTRICITY BILL.

Minister for Public Works (The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana) : Sir, I beg to introduce the Punjab Electricity Bill.

I beg to move—

That the Punjab Electricity Bill be referred to a select committee consisting of the following:—

Rai Bahadur Lala Gopal Das.
Rai Sahib Lala Sohan Lal.
Mr. K. L. Gauba.
Pir Akbar Ali.
Chaudhri Ram Sarup.
Tika Jagjit Singh.
Nominer of the Honourable Speaker.
Sheikh Faiz Muhammad.
Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt.
Munshi Hari Lal.
The mover, and
The Advocate-General.

The necessity for this measure is amply given in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. It is a non-controversial measure which seeks to explain and amplify Section 7 of the Indian Electricity Act of 1910 in its application to the Punjab and to give the Punjab Government the powers of a licensee when it engages in the business of supplying electrical energy while at the same time placing it under the same responsibilities as a licensee.

Mr. Speaker : The motion moved is—

That the Punjab Electricity Bill be referred to a select committee consisting of the following:—

Rai Bahadur Lala Gopal Das,
Rai Sahib Lala Sohan Lal,
Mr. K. L. Gauba,
Pir Akbar Ali,
Chaudhri Ram Sarup,
Tika Jagjit Singh,
Nominer of the Honourable Speaker,
Sheikh Faiz Muhammad,
Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt,
Munshi Hari Lal,
The Mover, and
The Advocate-General.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : May I suggest that the name of Mian Muhammad Nurullah be added to the select committee?

Minister : I have no objection.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Punjab Electricity Bill be referred to a select committee consisting of the following:—

Rai Bahadur Lala Gopal Das,

Rai Sahib Lala Sohan Lal,

Mr. K. L. Gauba,

Pir Akbar Ali,

Chaudhri Rana Sarup,

Tika Jagjit Singh,

Nominee of the Honourable Speaker,

Shaikh Faiz Muhammad,

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt,

Munshi Hari Lal,

The Mover,

The Advocate-General, and

Mian Muhammad Nurullah.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Government have from time to time been appointing select committees for various subjects, but we on this side of the House have got a complaint to make, viz., that the members sitting on the Government benches have always a preponderance on such committees and very little representation is given to us. I would request the Honourable Minister for Public Works that in this matter of the Electricity Bill he should give us more representation than he has given.

Mr. Speaker : Why not suggest any names?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I only wanted to make a request so that he may have a chance of acceding to my request.

Shaikh Faiz Muhammad : It is open to the House to add any number.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I suggest that Lala Duni Chand's name be added.

Lala Duni Chand : May I say one word? I am thankful to my honourable friend, Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt, for proposing my name, but I am afraid I shall not be able to make any appreciable contribution to the Bill.

Minister for Public Works : Sir, the general custom is to get nominees from various groups and the same practice was followed in this case. I think the Leader of the Opposition was approached and he suggested the names on behalf of the Opposition. It was open to him then to have suggested more names than those given in the list. But I do not think it is fair to add any more names now.

Mr. Speaker : The question is that—

That the Punjab Electricity Bill be referred to a select committee consisting of the following :—

Rai Bahadur Lala Gopal Das,
 Rai Sahib Lala Soban Lal,
 Mr. K. L. Gamba,
 Pir Akbar Ali,
 Chaudhri Ram Sarup,
 Tika Jagjit Singh,
 Nominee of the Honourable Speaker,
 Sheikh Faiz Muhammad,
 Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt,
 Mundi Hari Lal,
 The Mover,
 The Advocate-General, and
 Mian Muhammad Nurullah.

Mr. K. L. Gamba
Barrister-at-Law
Shah Chiragh Chambers,
LAHORE.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : What should be the quorum of the Committee ?

(Voices : Five.)

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the quorum of the Committee be 5.

The motion was carried.

THE PUNJAB ALIENATION OF LAND (FURTHER AMENDMENT) BILL.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia) :
 Sir, I beg to introduce the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill. I also beg to move—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill be referred to a select committee consisting of the following :—

The Honourable Minister for Development,
 Sardar Kapoor Singh,
 Sardar Partab Singh,
 Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali Khan,
 Khan Bahadur Nawab Musaffar Khan,
 Pir Akbar Ali,
 2nd-Lieut. Bhai Fatahjang Singh,
 Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri,
 Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber,
 Mian Muhammad Nurullah,
 Captain Ashiq Hussain,
 Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan,
 Nominee of the Honourable Speaker,
 The Mover, and
 The Advocate-General.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dast : May I request the Honourable Minister for Revenue to add the name of Lala Duni Chand ?

Minister : I have consulted the Leader of the Opposition and he has suggested two names only.

Mr. Speaker : Has no other member a right to propose another name ? I think he has.

Motion moved—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill be referred to a select committee consisting of the following :—

The Honourable Minister for Development,
Sardar Kapoor Singh,
Sardar Partab Singh,
Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali Khan,
Khan Bahadur Nawab Musaffar Khan,
Pir Akbar Ali,
2nd-Lieut. Bhaj Fatchsing Singh,
Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri,
Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber,
Mian Muhammad Nurullah,
Captain Ashiq Hussain,
Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan,
Nominee of the Honourable Speaker,
The Mover,
The Advocate-General and
Lala Duni Chand.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri (Rawalpindi Division, General, Rural) : Sir, I beg to move—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 15th November, 1938.

As you are all aware, the typed copy of the Bill, which was sent to members, bears the date of 15th June 1938 at Simla. So it must have been despatched from Simla on that date and would have reached some of the members at least not earlier than the 17th. The members intending to reach Simla must have left their places on the 15th to reach here on the 17th for the purpose of attending the Assembly session on the 20th. I am aware—and many members have made complaints—that they were absolutely unaware of the notices of this Bill and the contents thereof. Sir, the object of the publication of such an important measure in the Gazette and sending it to the members is that the public at large may know the purport of the intended legislation, so that the persons who are likely to be adversely affected by that legislation may, if they think it necessary, send in their representations to the Legislature for consideration, or at any rate acquaint their representatives with their points of view, which may be ventilated in this House. Even to a most non-contentious measure, a certain amount of publicity is given. I regret to find that in a matter of such great importance, which affects the property of a large number of citizens of this province, that amount of publicity has not been given. It is not with any desire of putting forward any dilatory motion or with the object of delaying the consideration of this Bill that I have put forward this motion. My object is that people, who are likely to be affected by it, should know the nature of the legislation proposed. To the best of my knowledge, this Bill has not so far been published in any English or Vernacular newspapers. Ordinarily, I submit there should be a reasonable interval between the publication of a measure and the day on which it is brought before the Legislature. But in this case even the members of the Legislature had not received any intimation before their arrival in Simla. The persons who are likely to be adversely affected have had no time to form any opinion on this matter or to acquaint their representatives with their opinion. Therefore, I request the Government to consider the advisability of giving it the publicity which I have claimed for this measure. I have put the date as 15th November, so that it should, in any case, be available for consideration before the next session of the Assembly. I could put an even earlier date, but I have put 15th November because during the next two months, August and September, the High Court and other courts observe holidays and the officers, whose opinions will be invited, should have sufficient time to send their views to the Assembly office. On these grounds I would ask the Government to consider my request.

Coming to the merits, you must have noticed that one of the fundamental principles involved in the Bill is, that matters which are ordinarily considered to be fit subjects of adjudication by courts are proposed to be transferred by this measure for determination to collectors and commissioners who under the present system of Government would always be under the influence of the party executive. It is, therefore, a matter for serious thought how far such important matters should be left to the discretion of an agency which, whether it likes it or not, has to carry out the behests of the Government in power, whether it is the present Government or the government which may be constituted by the party which is now in the Opposition. Therefore before proceeding with this legislation, apart altogether from non-official opinion, Government should at least acquaint itself with the opinions of its officers, the collectors, commissioners, financial commissioners, sub-judges and district judges who have experience of these matters, people who are in a position to give an authoritative opinion on the proposals, especially as they have been dealing with the questions and have an intimate knowledge of the difficulties that arise in determining these questions.

It is proposed as already pointed out to transfer to the collector the adjudication of certain matters which he has not done so far. Is it not desirable that the opinion of the collectors at least should be sought as to whether they are fit persons to adjudicate upon this matter, whether they consider themselves fit to adjudicate on complicated questions which might arise in a dispute as to whether a person is a member of a statutory agricultural tribe or not, whether a contract is void, whether a transaction is benami and such questions which require a certain amount of technical training of a specialised character? It is very necessary that the Government should not deny itself the opportunity of getting opinions on these matters of its own subordinate officers who have to adjudicate on these matters later on. On these grounds I submit that the Government should circulate this Bill for eliciting public opinion. After all, there is no great hurry. A delay of three months in passing this legislation will not injure any one. I submit that legislators should not be deprived of the technical advice they require on this measure.

Another principle of this Bill is that the collectors are asked, in coming to a decision whether a person is a member of a notified agricultural tribe or not, to ignore altogether the decisions which may have been given by courts, even if the court may happen to be the highest court in the province, that is the High Court. It is necessary, therefore, to know the opinions of these collectors as to whether they would like to be placed in a position in which they will have to give a decision contrary to highest judicial opinion.

Sufficient attention has not been devoted by the framers of the Bill to the various matters which arise and even a cursory perusal of the provisions relating to benami transactions has convinced me that nothing could be of greater danger to the members of the notified agricultural tribes who happen to own a mortgage than the provisions which are enacted in the last three or four clauses under the head "benami transactions". Fancy the plight of a poor member of a notified agricultural tribe who happens to have a mortgage in his favour say for Rs. 500. It is open to any enemy of such mortgagee after two years or five years or eighteen years or even after his death, when property has passed to his minor children, to go and put in an application before the deputy commissioner and say "Sir, this is a benami transaction and such and such a sahukar is deriving the advantage" and it will be open to the collector on that report to set aside the mortgage. Note the harassment and trouble to which such people would be put and the insecurity under which they would labour during the continuance of the mortgage. What I wish to emphasise is that the real import of this measure has not been realised even by the supporters and protagonists of those for whose benefit it is intended. It is, therefore, absolutely essential that not only those persons who are likely to be adversely affected but also those for whose benefit it is intended, should know the contents of this legislation, before the House proceeds to consider it. Hasty legislation is always defective legislation. Government should not refuse to avail itself of the opportunities for valuable advice by non-officials and especially by officials who have expert knowledge of the working of these matters. I beg most respectfully but most earnestly to press upon the Government the necessity of my proposal.

Mr. Speaker : Motion under consideration, amendment moved—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 15th November, 1938.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural) : I must congratulate my friend Mr. Puri on having shown a little courage in moving the motion that he has moved, placed as he is in the present circumstances. I hope he will show more and more courage every day. (Hear, hear). The very short speech that he has made is sufficient to convince any fair-minded person that the motion moved by him is perfectly sound. I am one of those unfortunate persons who did not receive a copy of this Bill till a few minutes ago or at the most half an hour ago. (An honourable member : A busy person). There is no question of busy person. Perhaps it was lying on my table here before I came here. The Bill bears the date 15th June 1938. Certainly there was not sufficient time for the copies to reach all the members of the House. I do not know whether the copies were sent to every member by post, but I presume that they were so sent. Considering that the Bill bears the date 15th June 1938, it may safely be assumed that the copies were not sent by post the same day. They might have been posted on the 16th. Certainly they could not have reached all the members the next day. Sometimes it takes three or four days. It means that there must be many like myself who did not receive a copy until they came to this:

Chamber. I think that on the face of this the action of the Government deserves the highest condemnation. They are making a mad rush to ruin those who are either not in their party or who do not belong to the agricultural tribes. Surely there ought to be some method in their madness. Unfortunately I do not see any method in their madness. In ancient times when a ruler wanted to rob a person who had some money, he sent his man with a gun or a sword and this servant told the moneyed man "The Raja (or the Nawab or the King or whatever he was) wants so much money. Pay it now or your head will be off." Subsequently, as civilisation advanced people began to have recourse to the device of notifications and still later, to certain laws. Under the British Government we have been seeing that they have been doing things in a methodical manner, by showing some sense of system, some sense of fairness to people whom they wanted to penalise.

But it seems that with the advent of provincial autonomy, the blessed provincial autonomy, in this province, all system, all method, all reason, are being thrown to the winds. Have you ever heard any government placing a Bill before a legislature and making a motion that it be referred to a select committee within 5 or 6 days of the typing of that Bill? No one in the province, either the press or the public or other persons concerned, knows anything about this Bill so far as I am aware and as I have said, there must be many members who have not read even up to now the Bill if ever it was supplied to them. For myself I have just glanced at the copy because it never reached me before I came to this Chamber and there must be others also in the same predicament. But even supposing that the copies reached the members before they left their homes for Simla, although they ordinarily leave one or two days before the date of the meeting, assuming that the copies reached them, have they had any time to consider this Bill, any time to consult those who are likely to be affected by the provisions of the Bill? Mr. Mukand Lal Puri has very correctly pointed out that the Bill may adversely affect even those whom it is unwisely intended to benefit. It may in fact ruin them. But all that is on the merits of the case and I am not going into the merits at all. I am only trying to point out the abnormal course, most inordinate and unfair course, adopted by the Government in placing this Bill without any preliminary information to the members or to the public and in asking this House to agree to a select committee. I think the motion made by Mr. Mukand Lal Puri is very fair and sound and if the Government has got a grain of reason and fairness and justice left in them, they should have no hesitation in accepting the amendment proposed by him which I strongly support.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan): I have listened with interest and if I may say so, with respect, to the views put forward by my honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Puri. As a matter of fact there is just a slight mistake about the date. The Bill was actually published in the Gazette on the 13th June. However that is beside the point because a difference of two or three days will not make any real difference at all to the point which he has made. The main burden of his speech was to suggest that Government had rushed into this legislation without considering the implications, according to him, or the far-reaching effects of the enactment. He also went on to say that district officers and commissioners, and other people who will have to work this Bill if it is passed into law, should have been consulted and he and my honourable friend Dr. Sir Gokul Chand laid great stress on that point saying that the matter should have been properly ventilated and opinions from various quarters secured before Government rushed into this, what they might call from their point of view, revolutionary legislation. Now let me for the information of my honourable friend who has just spoken, point out that Government has been considering this measure not merely during the last week, not merely during the last month, but ever since it has come into office and I can assure my honourable friend that the reason why this measure was not brought before this House earlier was that we wanted to consult our officials, and we did consult not only commissioners and deputy commissioners, but several other officials before we drafted this Bill. Therefore so far as the main argument is concerned, I can assure my honourable friend that Government have taken every precaution to consult district officers and commissioners and after studying their views carefully have come deliberately to the conclusion that it was time that this enactment should be brought before this Legislature. Now, Sir, why is it necessary to bring this legislation before this House and to get it passed? I have during the course of the last 12 months, on more than one occasion in this House, clearly indicated that we had proposed to undertake legislation with a view to put a stop to benami transactions. My honourable friends are perfectly aware that during the budget session and even prior to that when we appointed tahsildars on special duty for this purpose, I made it quite clear that these tahsildars were being appointed to find out the nature and the extent of the existing malady and if the Government came to the conclusion that the malady was widespread, it would be necessary to pass appropriate legislation to put a stop to it. That was several months ago and therefore the matter was not only within the cognisance of the members of this House but also before the public because my speeches were published in the press. I also made it clear during the budget session that the information which Government had received by that time clearly indicated that there was a very large number of such transactions in every division, because, as you are aware we had appointed officials on special duty in every one of the five divisions of the province to find out the nature and extent of these benami transactions, and the information which is with the Government at the moment is that there are numerous such transactions in every tahsil. Now after the Government was satisfied that a large majority of these experienced officials were in favour of a measure of this kind, after it was satisfied that the disease is widespread, was it not the duty of the Government to bring forward legislation at the earliest possible opportunity so as to stop this evil in the future? That is the reason why we have brought this measure, not immediately after taking office, though some of us who hold strong opinions on the matter would have wished to bring in the measure then, but the argument which was put forward by my honourable friends also weighed with us and therefore we consulted our officials before drafting a Bill of this kind. That disposes of that point.

Now why is it necessary to legislate and take away the jurisdiction of the civil courts and give it to the revenue courts or the collector or the deputy commissioner? The reason is this. My honourable friends who are lawyers—I am a layman and I speak subject to correction—are fully aware that there is a ruling that no remedy, no effective remedy under the law lies because the courts have held that the person who is a party to a fraud cannot claim immunity merely by pleading that it was ultra vires of the Land Alienation Act. This is the real thing and it was necessary to rectify the position. Now my honourable friend Dr. Gokul Chand Narang said that there should have been a limit to this madness. Now what is this madness on the part of the Government to which he refers? The madness is this that the Government wants to put a stop to dishonest and fraudulent transactions (Hear, hear from Unionist benches). If this is madness then I am prepared to assert on the floor of this House that I would repeat that madness everytime if I can stop dishonesty and fraud in the province (Here, hear from the Unionist benches). That was the burden of his speech and I do not think I need labour that point any more. I am sure the House will agree with me that we gave the fullest possible consideration, very mature consideration in consultation with experienced officers of Government before adopting this legislation; and after all what is this Bill? It is not a very complicated measure. My lawyer friends know perfectly well that there are only two substantive clauses in this Bill and it should not take an intelligent and a leading lawyer like my honourable friend Dr. Gokul Chand Narang more than 5 minutes to get at the gist of the thing and to suggest any amendments of a technical nature or in the phraseology of the Bill, but so far as the principle of the Bill is concerned I am almost certain that this House will be at one with me that it is the duty not only of the members of this Legislature but every body who has at heart the welfare of the people of this province and who is genuinely satisfied that dishonest malpractices should be stopped to support this measure, and I would request my honourable friend Mr. Puri that in view of the statement that I have made he will not press his motion (Hear, hear).

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 15th of November, 1933.

The motion was lost.

Minister for Revenue : May I suggest that Rai Hari Chand's name be added to the select committee?

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill be referred to a select committee consisting of the following:—

The Honourable Minister for Development,
Sardar Kapoor Singh,
Sardar Partab Singh,
Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazel Ali Khan,
Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan,
Fir Akbar Ali,
Sad-Lieutenant Bhai Fateh Jang Singh,
Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri,
Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber,
Raja Ghazantar Ali Khan,
Nominée of the Honourable Speaker,
Mian Muhammad Nurullah,
Advocate-General,
The Mover,
Captain Ashiq Hussain,
Late Duni Chand and
Rai Hari Chand.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : I suggest that the quorum of the committee be seven.
This was agreed to.

THE PUNJAB DEBTORS' PROTECTION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I beg to move—

That the Punjab Debtors' Protection (Amendment) Bill as reported on by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

In commending this motion to the House I need only say two words. The Select Committee has made certain recommendations which were unanimously adopted and they are only two. One is a purely formal one as regards arrangement of the section and the second is with regard to a new clause and makes the language less ambiguous and more clear. No substantial change has been made by the Select Committee at all.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Punjab Debtors' Protection (Amendment) Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The Assembly will now proceed to consider the Bill clause by clause. The question is—

That the preamble be the preamble of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That clauses 2 and 3 stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That clause 1 stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I beg to move—

That the Punjab Debtors' Protection (Amendment) Bill be passed.

The motion was carried.

THE PUNJAB MOTOR TRAFFIC OFFENCES BILL.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : I beg to move—

That the Punjab Motor Traffic Offences Bill as reported on by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I want to object to this motion moved by the Revenue Minister. I beg to invite your attention to standing order 47 where it is said—

After the presentation of the final report of a select committee on a Bill, the member in charge may move—

(a) that the Bill as reported by the select committee be taken into consideration : Provided that any member of the Assembly may object to its being so taken into consideration, if a copy of the report has not been made available for the use of members for seven days, and such objection shall prevail, unless the Speaker, in the exercise of his power to suspend the standing order, allows the report to be taken into consideration.

The report of the Select Committee has been presented to-day and it was in our hands as an advance copy and a confidential paper only last evening. We had no time to go through this report or to move any amendments that we may want to move. The Government this time, I beg to submit, has acted in a very irresponsible manner. No report and no Bill was sent to us in time. Even the date of the session was fixed very late and if the Government wants to treat us like that I would suggest to them to pass a resolution to the effect that because they have got a majority they would do anything they liked without timely notice being given to the Opposition. With these words, I object to this report being taken into consideration.

Mr. Speaker : What has the Honourable Minister to say ?

Minister : I have nothing to say.

Mr. Speaker : Then, I refuse to exercise my special powers.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

DEATH OF DALIPA, A CARPENTER OF VILLAGE KHANGWARI.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to move—

That the Assembly do now adjourn.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I draw your attention, Sir, to the fact that the Premier and other Ministers are not in their seats while this adjournment motion is going to be discussed?

Minister of Public Works : But the Parliamentary Secretaries present in the House represent the departments concerned.

Sardar Hari Singh : I would first of all ask my friends not to disturb me by talking. While moving this adjournment motion, I have to say that the case, which is the subject matter of this adjournment motion, shows the serious and scandalous mishandling of a certain criminal case by the police of the Hoshiarpur district which has resulted in the death of a certain Dalipa, a poor carpenter of village Khangwari which is situated in the Siwalik Hills and has created a sensation in the whole of the district. No proper enquiry has been conducted into this case by the Government so far. This Dalipa was a poor man and has left behind two sons, two daughters and a widow to mourn his loss and none to support them. I may also inform this House that this man has had no previous convictions to his credit or discredit. He was never challaned by the police before and was never convicted. He had in fact a clean slate and as a result of our enquiries I have come to the conclusion that he was perfectly innocent in this case as well. The police methods of investigation in the countryside of the Punjab have also been the subject of severe strictures by the highest tribunal of the province. It is not yet clear whether his death is homicidal or suicidal. I have got no evidence with me to show that the death of Dalipa was due to direct force resulting in his death at the spot but I have got evidence to show that he was beaten, kicked, tortured by the investigating police and certain circumstances were created which left no option for him but to give up his life. The popular impression, Mr. Speaker, is that the police murdered him and threw him down from a certain height and in order to hide the crime they had begun to say that the man fell down of his own accord out of shame because he was guilty of the crime of committing a theft. It may come to light in the course of time that he was killed by the police and the police in order to hide the guilt did certain things to shield themselves. When that evidence comes to our knowledge, we shall place it before the public and we shall begin to agitate that the police people should be challaned and hauled up for an actual homicidal murder. During the course of my enquiry I was accompanied by my friend Sardar Harjab Singh, Member, Legislative Assembly, and we visited the village on the 10th of May last. We had no axes of our own to grind. We wanted to arrive at the truth. We did not desire to take advantage of this occasion and use it as a fit stick to beat the Government with in order to badnam the Government. That was certainly not our motive at all. We wanted to get at the truth and the truth that we got at is this. A theft was committed in village Malhot towards the end of April last. On 7th May the police of Hariana police station reached the spot in order to make enquiries into the matter. Enquiries went on for two days and Dalipa was called in as a suspect. Munshi, a resident of village Malhot, was also called in as a suspect. They were beaten. Munshi has stated before myself, Sardar Harjab Singh and other respectable gentlemen that he and his co-suspect were beaten with sticks, stones, etc., outside the view of the public in the khad in the Siwalik Hills. As a result of beating and torture, goes on the statement before us, Dalipa had to confess under pressure that he had committed a theft but when he was asked to state what things he had stolen, he said that he had stolen eight bughtis and one inam. When the complainant Piroo, blacksmith, in whose house the burglary was committed, was asked whether these articles were stolen from his house, he said that those articles were not his. Dalipa was asked to state from where he had stolen those articles. He said he had stolen them from the house of a certain man belonging to village Nharur, whose name was Tulsi, barber. He was also called by the police and in the presence of a large number of people Tulsi said that he had not lost those articles, i.e., eight bughtis and one inam. Dalipa had, therefore, stated under pressure that he was guilty of the offence of theft. He said that he was guilty only because he was tortured and beaten and in spite of the fact that both the complainants in the theft cases had stated that those articles had not been stolen from their houses, the police took this fellow along with them to his house for the purpose of making a search and recovering the articles. The story goes that Dalipa slipped away in the way and escaping to the hills felled himself from a height of 75 feet. We have visited the spot and have seen that hill. He died as a result of a fall which was due to the police torture. He was so much tortured that he thought that perhaps the police might torture him still more and he might thus die at their hands and he thought that it was better for him to die before he was tortured further. We have also been told that this man had been tortured so severely a few years ago that he had to keep himself in bed for a number of weeks before he could attend to his work. I admit, no doubt, that the magistrate who made enquiries into this case did his best to arrive at the truth but he could not under the circumstances get at the truth because there was a very thick screen between the magistrate and the truth in the shape of the police, saidars, subedars and sufedpostes. Witnesses made certain statements before the magistrate in order to shield the police which was responsible for the death of Dalipa. Allow me to make a remark regarding what the Premier said only a few minutes back that if this adjournment motion were brought up he would expose me. He is not here at present. May I remind him through his friends on the opposite benches that we are not afraid of these threats. We have made the cause of the down-trodden and oppressed people of the Punjab our own cause, (loud applause)—of the people who are being daily crushed under the iron heels of the Unionist regime and we are not going to be cowed down by the threats of the Premier or any body else. According to our enquiries Dalipa had died as a result of circumstances created by the police torture. I rely for my conclusions on evidence which I believe to be quite unimpeachable.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker left the chair and it was occupied by Mr. Deputy Speaker.)

The police mishandled the case, and that resulted in the death of the poor man ; and in order to hide the guilt they have committed certain other irregularities by bringing forward tutored witnesses before the Magistrate. I have also been told that the Superintendent of Police, Hoshiarpur, also went to that place. The zaidar of the laqa knew the arrival of the Superintendent of Police beforehand and got up certain witnesses who stated before the Superintendent of Police that it was we people—I myself and my friend—who wanted the people to make certain statements against the police. I know the Premier may have got such reports from the Superintendent of Police. We know what is the value of the reports of the police who are involved in such cases. No one in the whole district, any magistrate, or even a constable is pleased with Mr. Unit, Superintendent of Police of Hoshiarpur district. I am not afraid of exposure : let him come forward with any charges against me. While making these enquiries we spent hours together on the spot. We examined a number of people, and respectable people including Thakur Das, Bikram, a lambardar of the village, the three panches : and these people stated before us, in particular Bikram, that Dalipa had stated before the three panches that he had made the confession before the police out of fear and nervousness. He had stated that he had been hungry for two or three days, that he had been pressed by the police and that he had no option but to make the confession in order to get rid of the police oppression. I know that Munshi had been made to say before the Superintendent of Police that he was not beaten by the police at all. He did admit before us—he took us into his confidence—that under pressure and under fear he had stated that he was not beaten and Dalipa was not beaten. I believe that what he said before us was not out of fear or any pressure. We went to the people as their friends and as their sympathisers. No pressure was exercised from our side. We believe the story related to us by Munshi and others to be true and the story related by Munshi and others before the police and the magistrate to be untrue because it was stated under pressure and fear. The time at my disposal is short and I will finish my speech by throwing a challenge to the Government that they should make an independent and impartial enquiry into the matter by appointing an enquiry committee consisting of independent men. They may be members of this House or may be people from outside and we shall accept the findings of that enquiry committee.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The motion is—
That the Assembly do now adjourn.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): Sir, let me state at the very outset what is the position of Government in this and similar cases. The position of Government is clear. We do not claim that in all cases in this province the police does not exercise torture. Unfortunately there are cases where torture is exercised and whenever any such cases are brought to our notice due enquiries are made. Whenever it is proved that any police officer or any officer of any service has resorted to torture in connection with the investigation of a case Government is determined to take deterrent action. There is no difference of opinion on this point. On the other hand, I feel confident that my honourable friend opposite who moved the motion and his other colleagues will concede that unfortunately in this country as in most other countries, the friends of the persons implicated in an offence are apt to exaggerate or conceal matters and at times they even concoct facts which do not exist in order to help their suspected friends and they even resort some time to falsely maligning the investigating officers. Therefore, Sir, in a matter of this nature it is the duty of the Government, and more so of a popular Government, to see that, on the one hand, we have true facts and, on the other hand, that those who are guilty either on the official side or on the public side are properly dealt with. But if without justification the officers of police are defamed and attacked, it is our duty to defend the officers concerned. I can assure the House that we have approached this question very dispassionately and very anxiously with a view to get at the truth. We did so, with a bias in favour of the persons who brought forward the complaint. But before I state the facts as we found them, let me state what has been our information with regard to the enquiry held by my friend opposite. I understand, and this is also confirmed by his own report, the alleged beating took place on the 2nd and the death took place on the 8rd. My honourable friend and his colleagues went to the spot on the 10th night, stayed there only one night, made enquiries from a few staged persons with a hurricane lamp and left the place the next morning. That is the basis of their enquiry. I understand that enquiries were made from my friends opposite by the District Magistrate and they replied that they did not record any statements in writing, and that they merely took down some stray notes and presumably certain interested persons brought certain facts to the attention of my honourable friend opposite. Surely my honourable friend does not expect the House to accept such a hurried, staged, belated and partial enquiry. Let me now state the facts as reported to us. Two burglaries took place in that area: one on the 29th April and the other on the 1st of May. Investigation started and in the course of the investigation suspicion fell on one Munshi and the other Dalipa. They were called on the 2nd May in the presence of the village panches. Thereafter Dalipa was allowed to go to his house. The next day he came and in the presence of the village panches, while Munshi did not confess, Dalipa confessed. On that confession he along with others started for the house where certain spots and articles were to be pointed out. They had to pass through a narrow hilly path through hedges. It was dark. He suddenly disappeared and was found dead the next day. He probably slipped or jumped and died. These are the broad facts of the case so far as our information goes. Now let me invite the attention of the House to one point. My friend in his statement to-day definitely stated that he is not sure whether Dalipa was killed by the police or whether he died as a result of the circumstances which created a certain mental confusion in his mind. If I understood him correctly, he said that either he committed suicide or was murdered, but he had no definite opinion at the moment and therefore, we are asked to meet the charge that either Dalipa was killed by the police or he committed suicide as a result of the circumstances created by the police. Now, Sir, this also is agreed that Dalipa made a confession in the presence of the panchayat and this fact is mentioned in the report of his enquiry which my honourable friend opposite sent to the Honourable the Premier. These are the facts. Before the whole panchayat he confessed and what is more, when he was taken aside by certain members of the panchayat he stuck to his confession. These are the basic facts of the case. Then, Sir, it is the story of my honourable friend opposite that the beating took place on the 2nd. (Sardar Hari Singh : I never said that the beating took place on the 2nd). Dalipa was allowed to go home on the evening of 2nd. He came back on the 3rd and made a confession and thereafter from the time of his confession up to the time of his disappearance, he was in the presence of the police, and of the zaidar and of other respectable people of the thagu, numbering 40 to 50, and there was no torture of any kind. I beg to invite the attention of honourable members to the fact that Dalipa is alleged to have been beaten on the 2nd and to have been killed by the police, on or about the 3rd June, yet it is curious that on the 5th, when the Sub-Inspector reached the spot, when the magisterial enquiry was held later, when the Superintendent of Police and the Commissioner went there, no allegations were made by any one either that the person had been killed by the police or that he had been tortured. That is the first point. Secondly, if he had been tortured on the 2nd as alleged before he was allowed to go home, the time for his death should have been on the morning of 3rd or on the night of 2nd, but it is agreed that after this alleged incident, he came on the 3rd before the whole panchayat. Thirdly, and it is very important, the post-mortem report states that his death was caused by fracture of ribs. This is according to the statement of the Civil Surgeon.

I understand that the main informant of my honourable friend opposite is Munshi who was a co-suspect and who is also alleged to have been tortured. But it is significant that he has not been medically examined up to date and though he is still surviving I feel that in the absence of any direct evidence or independent corroboration my honourable friend himself would not like the tainted statement of this man to be taken seriously.

There is another point to which I beg to invite attention. According to the statement of my honourable friend opposite this incident took place on or about the 2nd, after which magisterial enquiry took place but no allegations of torture were made. My honourable friend opposite went to the spot 7 days after the incident. It is curious that in these 7 days no report was lodged before the police or district magistrate or in a court, and yet my honourable friend contends that this belated statement after 7 days should be accepted. Surely he is asking something which is legally untenable.

There is another point to which I would draw the attention of my honourable friend. The person whose house was burgled is married to the sister-in-law of Dalipa. Dalipa in his confession stated that the theft took place in his ham-zulf's house and that the things stolen belonged to his sister-in-law. Obviously, when a man has been found to have committed burglary in the house of his sister-in-law and has had to confess before the whole panchayat, and stolen articles are recovered from him, in that mental confusion he might have slipped away or jumped down in desperation.

So far as the death of Dalipa is concerned, we all sympathise with the bereaved members of his family.

I repeat that the main informant of my honourable friend opposite is Munshi, a co-accused in this particular case. It is curious that in his statement Munshi before my honourable friend opposite, alleged that he was himself tortured and yet my honourable friend in his earlier written statement or even to-day has not brought out any medical inspection of Munshi to show that he had been tortured. Presumably if Munshi had been tortured, the first thing done would have been his medical examination, but after 7 days till my honourable friend reached the spot, he was not medically examined. And what is more? He made an oral statement later, as the Honourable Premier reminds me, when he appeared before the Additional District Magistrate, and he denied the statement attributed to him by my honourable friend opposite. We do not mean that my honourable friend opposite has concocted this story. Far from that. But surely we have a right to conclude that these people have been trying to mislead my honourable friend. Our conclusion is supported not only by the official enquiry held, but an honourable member of this House, Bana Nasrullah Khan, also went to the spot. You will hear from his own lips what he actually heard from these people on the spot. He will give you all the details. That will show that these people are telling false things to the members on this side of the House or that side. It is obvious that on the basis of such flimsy material statements should not be made in the press or here on the floor of this House by responsible members like my honourable friend opposite. In view of these remarks, I would recapitulate again that the position of the Government is quite clear. We do not want to condone any torture by any officer. Far from that. We have declared that if honourable members bring any genuine case to our notice, we will take action against any police officer or any officer of any department, who is proved to have tortured any member of the public. But at the same time, let us frankly shoulder our responsibility. Unfortunately some of our countrymen do exaggerate matters and try to exploit our enthusiasm and patriotism. That being so, I would appeal to my honourable friend opposite, that we should hold the scales even and where officers are wrongly maligned, the members of public concerned should be publicly condemned.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : How do you explain the death ?

Parliamentary Secretary : My honourable friend says how do I explain the death. Even my honourable friend, who moved this motion, has said that he was not sure whether Dalipa was killed by the police or he committed suicide due to his mental confusion created by the police.

Our position is that he died in circumstances which are not free from doubt but the theory that he was not tortured but committed suicide seems supported by available evidence. In view of these circumstances I appeal to my honourable friend opposite not to press this adjournment motion.

Sardar Harjab Singh (Hoshiarpur South, Sikh, Rural) (Punjabi): Sir, I rise to support the adjournment motion moved by my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh because I was included among those who held an inquiry into the unfortunate incident to which this adjournment motion relates. We reached the spot on the 2nd of this month and called for all the residents of the village to come forward with the true facts of the case. One, Munshi, deposed that the police mercilessly kicked and pelted him with stones and that he could not move about for a fortnight. When we reached the spot we found that he was still suffering from a number of injuries on his person. Munshi further deposed that the police took Dalipa behind the hills and beat him there so severely that he could hear the cries of Dalipa in agony. The police called for these two persons again on the 3rd of the month. On this occasion the residents of the neighbouring villages were also present including the members of the local panchayat. During this inquiry it was found that Dalipa's confession of theft was due to the torture of the police who had been committing all sorts of atrocities on him. He confessed that he had stolen one necklace and 8 'tuftis' which he was prepared to hand over to the police if they took him to his house, but the man whose house had been burgled declared that these ornaments did not belong to him. The police asked him again why he did not tell the truth, and added that if he failed to speak the truth he would be roughly handled as the 'badmashes' are generally handled by the police. In reply to this Dalipa stated that he had stolen those articles from the house of one Tulsī, a barber, of a neighbouring village during the previous month. But Tulsī denied at that time that those things belonged to him, and later on police persuaded him to depose that the above-mentioned ornaments really belonged to him. In fact Dalipa had committed no theft but whenever the police tortured him he made a confession of theft. Here I must raise one very important point which needs explanation. When a person confesses that it is he who committed the theft in question, he is handcuffed forthwith. Evidently Dalipa too should have been handcuffed and if so, how could he escape from the custody of the police? If he managed somehow to escape it must have been due to his horror of the police who were torturing him unceasingly. Incidentally it shows that the police were careless inasmuch as they allowed Dalipa to run away from their custody. It stands to reason that if the charge of theft had been proved against him he would have been sent to jail for a few years. Why should he have preferred death to a few years' imprisonment? The truth of the matter seems to be that the police had been so cruel to Dalipa that no attraction was left for him in life. That is why he committed suicide. The police carried on a vigorous search for Dalipa in the neighbouring hills and fields.

Premier (Punjabi): Had the police themselves caused the fatal fall of Dalipa from the high cliff, they would certainly have known the exact place where he fell. Why should the police have taken the trouble of looking for him in the fields?

Sardar Harjab Singh (Punjabi) : This case bears a strong family resemblance to that of Kirou.

Premier (Punjabi) : If that is so, we need not worry about it.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt (Urdu) : Will these words be reported in the vernacular ?

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member's speech should not be interrupted.

Sardar Harjab Singh : There is not left in my mind even an iota of doubt that Dalipa must have committed suicide because he thought that death alone could deliver him from the brutality of the police.

Again, Dalipa's wife telegraphically informed the Superintendent of Police of the district that her husband had been fatally injured by the police. The Superintendent of Police sent one Sub-Inspector and the ilaga Magistrate to investigate the case on the spot. But Rattan Chand, the local zaidar, had managed to persuade the people who were under his influence not to disclose the true facts of the case. On the other hand, he compelled the residents of the village to depose that the police had committed no violence on Dalipa who must have committed suicide. The result was that the Magistrate could not, in spite of his best efforts, discover as to what actually had happened. I propose, therefore, that an independent inquiry may be instituted in this matter. If Government fails to hold an open inquiry regarding this case, the Honourable Premier will be held responsible for the death of poor Dalipa.

This is not the only solitary case in Hoshiarpur, but thousands of such cases occur in the Punjab but nobody cares a jot for them. Again and again it has been laid down by the Sessions Judges and Judges of the High Court in their judgments that the Punjab police apply torture for squeezing out information from the suspected persons. But the Government do not pay any attention to this matter and show no sign of rectifying it.

I am constrained to remark that there is not even a single case where torture is not applied by the police. Those people who read newspapers know that not a single day passes when reports about the torture of police are not published. Everyone knows that in such cases police records the proceedings by intimidating the accused persons. I may submit that proceedings in this case were also recorded by intimidating poor Dalipa, who was forced to confess under police torture that he had committed the theft in question. At the instance of the Superintendent of Police, Mr. Unit, the police and the zaidar joined hands in order to get him round to their own purpose and made him say those things which he would never have said, if torture had not been applied.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : On a point of order, Sir, there is a ruling by the Honourable Speaker that honourable members should refrain from bringing forward charges against any official of the Government (public servant) who is not present in the House to defend himself. The honourable member is making serious allegations against a particular officer who is a responsible and high officer of the Government and is not present in the House to defend himself. I would request you to ask the honourable member to withdraw his remarks against that officer.

Sardar Harjab Singh : I take full responsibility for my allegations.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: The honourable member has made no allegations.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmiani : Sir, the honourable member himself admits that he has made allegations while you are pleased to remark that he has made no allegations.

Sardar Harjab Singh : Besides, I may submit that it was the duty of the Superintendent of Police, Mr. Unit, to see that statements of the accused persons should be recorded in a fair manner and that no torture should be applied in order to squeeze out the information. The magistrate that was sent there to investigate into the matter tried his level best to find out the truth, but he failed to discover the true facts of the case because the police even before his arrival had threatened the public, so much so that no one dared to come forward to tell the truth. I, therefore, request the Government to hold an independent inquiry which should in no way be under the influence of the police. With these words I support the adjournment motion now before the House.

Rana Nasrullah Khan (Hoshiarpur West, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, I have risen to oppose the adjournment motion that has been moved by my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh. The reason of my opposition to the adjournment motion is that I have personally visited the spot and have talked about this matter with all those persons that my honourable friend has mentioned in the course of his speech. I have come to the conclusion that there is not a single individual who can say that the police has beaten or tortured Dalipa. Another bad character named Munshi has himself stated in the course of his written statement that he was not beaten by the police. Besides, when Dalipa returned home after his first appearance at the police station he was quite safe and sound and not a single sign of any beating was visible on his body. Then there is the testimony of his wife who can vouch for the above mentioned facts.

Further, after the arrival of Sardar Hari Singh it was intimated to the relatives of Dalipa that if they declared that it was the police and police alone who contrived to kill Dalipa, then his widow would receive a pension from the Government for her life.

Sardar Hari Singh : I rise to a point of order, Sir. I deny this. He cannot accuse a member of this House.

Premier : He did not say that Sardar Hari Singh said these words. What he said was that when he went to the spot the witnesses there including the wife of Dalipa told him so.

Rana Nasrullah Khan : I was saying that Sardar Hari Singh and his companions made it known to the relatives of the deceased that if they proved that Dalipa was actually killed by the police, the result would be that his widow would get a pension for life.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : The honourable member on the right is making allegations of such serious nature on the basis of hearsay evidence against another honourable member of this House.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member did not mean any personal insinuation.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Can I say anything on the floor of the House insinuating another honourable member ?

Premier : The whole of the adjournment motion is based on hearsay.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member himself did not make any personal insinuation.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will you give a ruling on this point that I have raised ? Can an honourable member make such serious allegations against another honourable member of this House on the basis of some talk that may have taken place in a village ?

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member did not insinuate against another honourable member. He simply stated a fact.

Rana Nasrullah Khan : I was saying that I went to the spot myself and I came to know of this fact that it was made known to the relatives of Dalipa by Sardar Hari Singh and his companions that if they proved that Dalipa was killed by the police, then of course, his widow would get a pension for life.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Can he do that ?

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The insinuation was not made by the honourable member himself.

Rana Nasrullah Khan : These are the real facts. My honourable friends sitting on the opposite are feeling sorry for moving this adjournment motion and that is why they are feeling perturbed over the matter.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I would again ask you to request the honourable member to withdraw these remarks.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : I would ask the honourable member to withdraw these words.

Rana Nasrullah Khan : Sir, his wife deposed that the next day Dalipa was sent for and after that all accompanied him to his house in order to carry out a search of his house. While the search was in progress, Dalipa was found missing. The constables, a head constable and the subedars who were there, went in search of him, but due to the hilly nature of the country and the prevailing dusk no trace of him could be found. No one saw him falling off the hill-side.

An honourable member : Probably the people there were blind-folded.

Rana Nasrullah Khan : I cannot say whether they were blind-folded or not, but the fact is that no one can say as to how he died. It cannot be vouchsafed for with certainty if he committed suicide or that his death was due to an accident.

The Superintendent of Police was there and had there been any violence on the part of the police, he would certainly have objected to it.

In reality the whole village is Congress-minded, as is evident from the success of one Gujjar Singh, a Congressite, as against one Rattan Chand, who is the zaildar of the ilaga. Bikram Singh, whose name was mentioned by my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh, stated that no one beat Dalipa in his presence. He told the story of a theft, committed some eight years ago in which the jewellery of his sister-in-law had been stolen. Dalipa was a suspect then and was tortured by the police. In fact he was subjected to great violence on the part of the police. It is possible that fearing a repetition of the treatment he was subjected to some eight years ago he committed suicide.

The notables of the ilaga also deny that any suspect was tortured. Munshi, a badmash, thrice stated that neither Dalipa nor he himself was ill-treated. In view of the facts just mentioned we should not believe what others say and should accept the police version as true.

Master Kabul Singh : Because the policemen are all gentlemen !

Rana Nasrullah Khan : Whether they are gentlemen or otherwise I do not know, but I am aware of the fact that they are forced to be badmashes themselves when they have to deal with badmashes. The hillock under which Dalipa's body was found is a steep incline some 75 feet high. Now it is possible that while he was running away in the darkness his foot slipped and he fell down the cliff and was killed. Anyhow I do not think that the blame for his death could reasonably be placed at the door of the present Government. With these words, I oppose the adjournment motion now before the House.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Hoshiarpur West General, Rural) (Urdu) : Mr. Deputy Speaker, my friend Sardar Hari Singh and my honourable friend Rana Nasrullah Khan have given the facts of the case and I should like the honourable members to carefully consider this matter.

The question is that an accused person escapes from the custody of the police and commits suicide. Is not the Government responsible for this negligence on the part of the police ? Had he been a political prisoner or a revolutionary, the Government would have immediately called an explanation of the officers concerned or would have dismissed them forthwith. I wonder why he was not handcuffed, especially when he had admitted his guilt. Was it because he was a thief or a badmash that the Government did not care whether he committed suicide or died in some other manner ? Or was it because he was a poor carpenter that his mysterious death did not perturb the Government ? Whenever the police is accused of high-handedness or corruption, highly placed officers of the department are invariably asked to institute an enquiry. On the advent of Provincial Autonomy it was believed that such inquiries would be honestly held and that the enquiring officers would dispassionately investigate such matters. But all such hopes have been dashed to the ground. I remember a similar incident in Hoshiarpur district where a picket was posted in a village. On a complaint by my honourable friends Sardars Hari Singh and Harjab Singh into the high-handedness of the police, an inquiry was instituted. During that enquiry not a single responsible witness was called and the inquiry became a farce. The bureaucracy scrupulously guards its machinery and tries to keep it safe from any harm, one way or the other. The Honourable Premier has often announced on the floor of the House that he was personally responsible for the acts of the police, but he has so far done nothing to prove what he has so often said. I would ask him to suspend the officers from whose custody Dalipa escaped.

Now the question is, how should the inquiry be held to investigate whether the suicide was committed for fear of police torture. This can be done by appointing an independent committee consisting of four members—two members from the Government benches and two from the Opposition. This committee should grant interviews to the people concerned of the laga and screw up courage by saying that they will not be chattered in this case if they come out with the truth without any fear of Mr. Unit. They may also be asked to give their honest statement as to how Dalipa's death took place. Moreover, some efficient person from the Intelligence Bureau or some C. I. D. officers who are expert in tracing out bombs and revolvers may be appointed to hold an inquiry into this matter. They should not regard it a negligible and insignificant matter, because it has become so much complicated and serious that the services of the detective police must be utilised in this respect and a thorough inquiry should be made to find the real cause of Dalipa's death. What was he? He was neither a villain nor a badmash. He was simply a poor carpenter of village Khangwari. The poor man died as a result of the maltreatment and foolishness of the police. Let me inform the Honourable the Premier that we are very anxious to know as to what steps his administration is likely to take in this matter. I know personally what is happening in the district of Montgomery and I am also aware of this fact that when the policy of the Government reaches the Chief Secretary, many changes take place in it. I quite remember when the Government honestly adopted the democratic policy but its object was absolutely changed when it reached the Chief Secretary. How strange is it that the people living at far off places in the Punjab have not seen the Honourable Premier as yet who boasts on the floor of this House that he feels every trouble of his kith and kin himself. A death occurs at a place in the Punjab due to the maltreatment and foolishness of the police and no thorough inquiry is held into the matter. This is how the Honourable Premier feels for the people of his province. I wish he could at least feel the distress and affliction of the widow whose husband has died as a result of the police torture or being much annoyed has committed suicide for fear of more torture and violence of the police. I would request him to take pity on the widow of the deceased and it can be done only in one way, that is, an open, and thorough inquiry should be held in order to find out how far the police is guilty in this matter, and whosoever is found to be responsible for Dalipa's death should be punished.

I would submit to the Honourable the Premier, through you, that he should not depend on the hollow pride of the majority (Opposition cheers) and he should no longer commit such mistakes. In this connection I may remind him that such mistakes were committed by the Czar of Russia who used to say "My Government is the best government and my C. I. D. is ideal." After all such ideas of the Czar came to an end by a bloody revolution. If the Honourable Premier is not going to stop such atrocities and cruelties being done in the province, I am afraid, the Punjab would be left astray from the right path. I may again submit to the Government that they should now feel their responsibilities all the more. We do not oppose them for opposition sake but we do advise them honestly that they should work with us hand in hand. How can this co-operation be obtained? If the Government actually want to co-operate with us, they should take four honourable members—two from each party of this House and appoint them to hold a thorough inquiry into this definite matter of urgent public importance. If the police is really found to be responsible for the death of Dalipa, some drastic measures must be taken against them.

I know our Premier is a renowned politician and he knows how to please people with mere words. (Laughter). He talks much and does nothing. I would advise him and Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram too, to do something practical for the benefit of the people. They have now got an opportunity to do so. The death of an innocent person has taken place at the hands of the police. The Government should now find out the guilty person and give him a severe punishment. The Government by doing so, I am sure, will win the goodwill and confidence of the people. I wish that the Punjab Government assure us that in future the police would not treat people in this way. I am fully aware of the excesses of the police; sometimes they go beyond limits. I remember an instance when the police started a false case against a friend of mine who was eventually committed to the sessions.

I would not hesitate in saying that the whole responsibility falls on the shoulders of the Superintendent of Police of that district.

So far as he is there, I am sure, such atrocities will continue. The Government should at least satisfy the people of that district by holding an open inquiry and sympathise with the widow of Dalipa by granting her a compensatory allowance. With these words, I strongly support the adjournment motion.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh (Jullundur West (Sikh) Rural): I had no intention of taking part in this debate but I am doing so because I know the real facts. (Voices: Louder please.) You will hear every word that I utter if you will stop talking to each other. I came to know of the real facts from my brother who had gone for leopard shooting in that part of the country and was actually camping in Malhot village, Police Station Haryana. He told me that the theft occurred in the house of one Kiroo, carpenter, of this village, who lodged a report in the police station and in the F. I. R. named two persons as suspects, i.e., Munshi, a badmash of Register X of the village, and Dalipa of another village. This Malhot village is situated on a khud called the Malhot Khud and a nallah passes alongside of this village. There are very good trackers in this village.

These trackers are really experts in their profession. They had tracked the footsteps of these two very persons on the sandy bed of that nallah, and accordingly Kiroo carpenter had mentioned the names of these two persons as suspects. The police came to the village for investigation and during the course of investigation this Munshi badmash gave some facts and also said that Dalipa was his accomplice. The police, therefore, summoned Dalipa. He came when the investigation was going on and many respectable people and the zaildar, etc., were present there. The Investigating Officer told Dalipa that Munshi had disclosed everything and that he (Dalipa) should also tell the truth and give the stolen property. Dalipa hesitatingly said that he could not say anything in the presence of the crowd and that if he was allowed to talk to two or three respectable persons, he would tell something. The Investigating Officer, thereupon, asked him to select the men with whom he wanted to talk. Dalipa called three or four persons and having talked with them, they returned and told the Investigating Officer that Dalipa was prepared to give some jewellery stolen not in this theft but a theft committed some time before. Thereupon, the Investigating Officer with some respectable people and Dalipa started at about 5 or 6 p.m. for Dalipa's village which is about two or three miles from that place. In the way Dalipa who was not under arrest finding an opportunity slipped away near a jungle and showed them a clean pair of shoes. The police and other people went after him but as he had entered the jungle and it had become dark they could not find him and returned. The next day a man came and informed them that Dalipa's dead body was lying in the khud at the foot of a cliff. The Investigating Officer accompanied by other persons went there and found Dalipa's body lying at the foot of a cliff which is 75 feet high. He at once sent a report to the thana and high police officers and a magistrate came and held an inquest and held after thorough enquiry, that Dalipa had committed suicide.

I think that since these adjournment motions have come in vogue, the police officers in general and sub-inspectors in particular have relaxed their control over these badmashes (hear hear) and, therefore, the criminal element is let loose, with the result that poor people are every day being looted. No sub-inspector dare touch these badmashes because he would be made a target of all the false allegations in this House. Therefore, I think that it is the duty of the Government to protect their public servants from such false allegations and also to protect the poor and their property from these badmashes. With these remarks I strongly oppose this adjournment motion.

Sardar Sampuran Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural) : Sir, I have heard the speech of my friend the honourable member from Jullundur, with rapt attention and I must say that it is a great sermon to preach to us that people should not commit thefts, and also to tell us that some very good people suffer on account of such thefts. He has also insinuated that this poor man Dalipa, who is dead, was a thief. The reasons which he has given to prove that he was a thief, have not convinced me. Moreover I would say that even if he were a thief, even if he had actually committed this theft, the police had no business to deal with him in the way they did, neither to cause his death nor to terrorise him so much that he should have gone and committed suicide. It is altogether an irrelevant matter. We have no business to prove or disprove whether Dalipa was a thief in this case or not. Our business is to see that Dalipa was a human being and was a Punjabi and his life was as valuable as that of any honourable member sitting in this House, and that no police officer should have treated him in such a way as to kill him or terrorise him so much that he should have gone and committed suicide. Dalipa was in the custody of the police for two days. The honourable member who spoke from that corner tried to say that he was not actually arrested. It was very wrong for the police to keep him with them for two days and not to have arrested him. That itself is a great offence which should have been sufficient to cause an enquiry into this matter. He was kept for two days with the police but was not officially arrested. No entry was made in the simri that he was arrested. The police in all such torture cases behave like that (Opposition benches : hear, hear.) They keep people under custody, take them from place to place, torture them and do not make a note in their diary about their arrest. In the same way they keep on arresting and releasing men, whom they are supposed to suspect. This is all unlawful and unauthorised. Sometimes there are reasons of corruption for taking hold of such men and eventually releasing them. Dalipa was not "arrested" but was actually in the custody of the police for two days. Nothing is shown in the diary that he was arrested (Pir Akbar Ali : Was the honourable member present when he was in custody) ? Yes, if that would satisfy him. I am surprised at the callous way in which Government is treating this matter. They know that Dalipa has died. They know that he was in the custody of the police for some days before he died. They do not explain his death. They say that perhaps that man has committed suicide, most probably by falling from the top of the hill and causing fracture of his ribs. They say perhaps these fractures were caused on account of the fall and not by torture. They take shelter behind the opinion of the doctor. If this reason had been advanced by somebody else and not by a lawyer of the capability and ability of my friend from Amritsar I would perhaps have taken this matter lightly. A man who has long experience of criminal work should have known by now that no doctor can say whether this fracture was caused by any blow or by a fall. He can at the most say that it was caused by a blunt weapon : even a stick can be a blunt weapon. It was wrong for him to say that death was caused by a fall or to say that he was not given any blows and consequently there could not be any torture. No one with some knowledge of law could have advanced this argument. They have tried to make much of the silence of the people who have not come forward to blame the police for this matter or the death of this man. Perhaps a little knowledge of judicial work in this country will show that sometimes the whole populace of villages have run away at the sight of the police, not to say to come forward and complain against the police. People have not yet come up to that standard as not to be frightened by the officials. The so-called enquiry was very much influenced by the esprit de corps of the officials. I think when such circumstances are prevailing and there is a Government who do not care even to enquire into such matters, then not only the simple villager but even educated people would not dare to come forward to lodge complaints or make allegations against such high officials of the police. People are more afraid of the police sub-inspector than of our Premier even.

Sir, in the end I would say only one thing that it is our duty at least to see and make sure how this death was caused. The Government is doubtful about it and so are we. If we were sure, perhaps we would have made definite allegations. We are now only pressing upon the Government that the man died in very suspicious circumstances. If we were to draw the legal presumption, the presumption is against the police. In these circumstances, it is absolutely necessary that an independent enquiry should be held, if not to avenge the death of Dalipa at least to keep our faces clear and to tell the world that we did our best but we could not find the culprit.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani (Muzaffargarh, North, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the honourable the mover of the adjournment motion and other members of the Opposition have made the following charges against the local police of thana Hariana, district Hoshiarpur and the Government—

- (a) that one Dalipa, a carpenter of village Khangwari, thana Hariana, who was suspected to have committed a theft in a neighbouring village was detained, mal-treated and tortured by the local police in the course of investigation, as a result of which he died on the night between the 3rd and 4th of May.
- (b) that the wife of the deceased sent a telegram to the Honourable Premier making the above-mentioned allegations on which no inquiry has been made.

The Opposition demands an impartial and independent public inquiry to be made into the causes of the death of Dalipa. Before answering the criticism levelled by the Opposition I would like to state very briefly the facts of the case for the information of the House: A theft was committed in village Malhot in Thana Hariana. During the course of investigation, Dalipa and another person were suspected to have committed the theft. It might be mentioned here that Dalipa had a doubtful reputation and possessed a bad police record. The police officer-in-charge of the investigation sent for him to join the investigation or in other words "requested his presence and co-operation in the investigation of the case." He was allowed to go home in the evening and requested to come again next morning, the 3rd of May. During the course of investigation it was found out that Dalipa had committed the theft. He eventually confessed his guilt and promised to return the stolen property which he said was concealed somewhere near his house in the neighbouring village. I might mention here that the theft was committed in the house of Dalipa's sister-in-law to whom the stolen property belonged. The police party accompanied by the village officials and Dalipa started for the Khangwari village late in the evening in order to recover the stolen property. Dalipa got a chance to slip away in the darkness and when the police party arrived at the village, they found that Dalipa was missing. The night had already fallen and it was decided by the police to make a search for Dalipa in the morning. Next morning his dead body was found at the foot of a hill. The body was sent for post-mortem examination and the result revealed that the deceased had broken his ribs and received injuries on his chest due to a fall. The report of the Medical Officer conducting the post-mortem examination did not reveal that Dalipa had received any direct injury. Sir, it is noteworthy to point out that the honourable mover of the adjournment motion in one of his press statements stated that Dalipa's death was due to the fall, but from the language of his adjournment motion one gets an impression that Dalipa's death was directly due to the mal-treatment and torture of the police. In view of the above-mentioned facts, I am constrained to remark that the language of the adjournment motion is most misleading and the honourable member is either unaware of the real facts or he has refrained from taking the House into his confidence. Now Sir, let us examine the allegation made by the mover of the adjournment motion and other members of the Opposition in the light of the facts already mentioned. There are no two versions about the facts of the case, though my friends sitting opposite have drawn their own conclusions according to their own lights. We have been told that there is a branch of the Congress in Khangwari village and a number of Congressmen live there. If the police had mal-treated or tortured Dalipa, would they allow him to go home on the evening of the 2nd May and would he come back to the police officer the next day? Moreover, the punishment provided for the offence was only a few years' imprisonment, why should Dalipa give his life knowing it full well that at the most he would be imprisoned for a year or so? I am, however, inclined to think that when Dalipa discovered that his guilt had been found out and that he would always be looked down by the village society for committing such a heinous crime as committing a theft in his own sister-in-law's house, he was overwhelmed by the feeling of disgrace and committed suicide, preferring death to such a life of infamy. (A voice: then Dalipa must be possessing a very high standard of self-respect.) There is nothing to mock about in my statement. My honourable friends sitting opposite should realise that the sense of self-respect is not merely the monopoly of rich men. A poor man can also possess this feeling. In fact, a poor man may care more for his reputation than a rich man who can conceal his vices under the veil of his silver and gold. Persons possessing wealth or some social or political status in the country do certain things with impunity, while a poor man is condemned by the society for doing similar things. It is therefore probable that visualising his future state in the village society and family Dalipa might have resolved, under the impulse of repentance, to end his life.

Premier: I would request you to speak in more simple Urdu because the honourable members opposite do not seem to understand your speech (hear, hear).

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani: Sir, I am already speaking in simple Urdu but if my friends opposite cannot follow my speech I shall try to use more simple language.

Sir, it is also possible that the death of Dalipa may be due to an accident. As I have already stated the police party accompanied by Dalipa left for the latter's village after dusk and Dalipa managed to slip away. The track was hilly. Fearing that the police party might be pursuing him, Dalipa must have taken to his heels at breakneck speed and slipped into the khud. Sir, it had been argued by my honourable friend, Sardar Sampuran Singh, that when Dalipa had confessed his guilt why was he not handcuffed by the police? I am surprised at the legal knowledge of my friend who claims to have a wide experience of "criminal work". No suspect can be taken under arrest unless full judicial proof is available against him. How could the police take Dalipa into custody unless stolen property was recovered from him? His mere confession was hardly sufficient for his arrest. Moreover, when he had voluntarily made a confession and promised to hand over the stolen property, the police had no reason to doubt his bona fide and could not suspect that he would slip away. It is not unusual in similar circumstances to allow the accused to go and bring the stolen property.

[K. B. Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani.]

Another honourable member from the Opposition raised an objection as to why Dalipa was detained by the police without being "officially" arrested. Let me tell my honourable friend that all the suspected persons whose presence is required in the investigation of the case are not taken under arrest merely on suspicion. Their presence is required to help in the investigation and unless sufficient evidence and proof is forthcoming against one or more of the accused they are not arrested. The police officers are not prophets to know prior to investigation as to who has committed the crime. They collect all the badmashes and the persons of doubtful character living in the vicinity where the crime has been committed and try to find the real offender through investigation. The honourable member from Lyallpur, Sardar Sampuran Singh, was also pleased to remark that the police detains a large number of innocent persons without making a mention in the simnis. This statement also shows my friend's ignorance with regard to the procedure adopted by the police officers in the investigation of cases. The police simnis are detailed reports of investigations and all the details of investigation are mentioned in the simnis including the names of those who join in the investigation. The village officials and other influential residents of the village, who are not suspects, are also requested to take part in the investigation, and the names of all such persons who join in the investigation are invariably mentioned in the simnis. Let us not forget that it is the duty of every citizen to help in the detection of crime and in maintaining law and order in the country. If the local residents do not come forward to help in the detection of crime, it would be impossible for the police to investigate the cases successfully.

The honourable member from Hoshiarpur, Rana Nasrullah Khan, has stated that he was told by the local residents of village Khangwari that certain Congressmen had told Dalipa's widow and his other relatives that if it could be established that Dalipa's death was due to the mal-treatment and torture by the police, she will get a pension from the Government. This statement was, however, challenged by the Honourable Sardar Hari Singh. Even if it were true that such a suggestion was made by the Congressmen, I do not blame them because our Congress friends are fully aware that Government patronage, such as jagirs and rewards, is extended only to those who help the administration and assist the Government in maintaining law and order, and our Congress friends do not expect to share these rewards. So the only course open to them is to try to get something from the Government by way of compensation. (Cheers.)

My honourable friend, Sardar Kartar Singh, has unnecessarily brought in the question of kisan and labourer in his speech. Let me make it quite clear to my honourable friends sitting opposite that the policy of our Government is to administer even justice between all sections and classes of the population, and in doing so we do not differentiate between rich and poor or a landlord and kisan. Even if our own relations or party men violate the law of the country they will have to face the penalty of law in the same manner as anybody else. We have no soft corner for the criminals, whoever they may be. We do not administer justice in the Punjab in a partisan spirit. I know in some parts of the country persons guilty of most heinous offences, such as rape and gambling, who were convicted by the highest courts, were set free by certain provincial Governments. But let me assure my honourable friends opposite that the Punjab Government is determined to maintain its high standard of justice and fair play. You may rest assured that any law breaker, be he a hisan, a police officer, a member of our own party or a Congress man will stand on an equal footing in facing the penalty of law and consequences of his guilt. We make no discrimination among our friends or foes in the administration of law and justice. Law must take its course against those who violate it irrespective of their position and status in life.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : May I ask one question from the honourable member ?

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Sir, I am not prepared to give way to my honourable friend as he has already had his say and the time at my disposal is limited. Now, Sir, coming to the demand of the Opposition for an independent public inquiry into this case, let me make it quite clear at the very outset that it is too late in the day to ask for public inquiries. The days when such demands were made are gone. After the inauguration of the reforms the law and order is no longer a reserved subject. The police is under the direct control of a responsible Government. If a responsible Government is incapable of making their servants act independently and impartially, they have no right to remain in office. It is the responsibility of the Government to see that the public servants, under their control, act according to law and perform their duties properly. No outside interference can be tolerated or allowed under a system of responsible Government. The Government is, therefore, unable to accept the suggestion made by the Opposition that four members of this House, two from the Government side and two from the Opposition, should be appointed to hold an inquiry into this case. My honourable friends should realize that if the members of legislature are to undertake police duties they will have to devote all their time in performing the duties of police sub-inspectors, to the detriment of their more responsible and important political duties. I can hardly imagine that a member of Parliament would condescend to do the work of a police sub-inspector and neglect his more important duties which are incumbent on his high and responsible office. Apart from this we should not forget that the functions of a legislature are quite distinct from the executive and it would be a wrong policy for the legislature to have direct interference in the details of administration or executive authority of the country.

Sir, before I conclude I wish to sound a note of warning to my friends of the Opposition. It has become a habit with them to criticise the police mercilessly, in season and out of season. Such unsympathetic attitude from the legislature might demoralise the agency which is responsible for maintaining law and order in the country and consequently affect most adversely the efficiency and discipline of our police force. Let us not forget that we have very important responsibilities towards our law-abiding and peace-loving fellow-citizens who have elected us as their representatives. It is our duty to see that their lives, property and freedom is adequately protected. Under an impulse of sympathising with the suffering law breakers, we should not jeopardize the legitimate interests, rights and privileges of a vast majority of peace-loving citizens of our country. I know by associating with a class or person one develops an affinity with them. I do not blame my Congress friends for having a soft corner for those unfortunate persons who are termed as law-breakers or criminals, because they came into contact with that class of people in jails and it is possible, rather natural, that they might have developed a sympathetic attitude towards them after sharing with them the hardships of the jail life and having a close association with them during their long stay in jail. But they should not let such sympathy, due to long association, overcome their sense of responsibility towards their peace-loving fellow-citizens who have elected them to safeguard their interests and privileges.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker resumed the chair).

Sardar Sampuran Singh: I protest against the words used by the honourable member when talking about criminals. He said:—

جیل میں رہ کر ان پر اثر ہو ہی جاتا ہے اور مجرموں کے ساتھ تعلق ہو جاتا ہے۔

He meant these words to apply to the members of the Opposition who had been some time in jail. I submit that he should be asked to withdraw these words. He should not have made any reference to the members of the Opposition like that.

Mr. Speaker: Some honourable members jump at inferences. That is not fair.

Sardar Sampuran Singh: I shall be content if the honourable member says that he did not refer to the members of the Opposition.

Mr. Speaker: Will the honourable member please say whether his words were meant to refer to the members of the Opposition?

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani: Sir, I merely mentioned a maxim that "associations develop into affinity" just as one would say that "Malaria is caused by mosquito bite." I never meant any disrespect to the honourable members of the Opposition. But the remarks of my honourable friend remind me of an Urdu proverb—

چور کی دازھی میں تنکا

Mr. Speaker: That ends the matter.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani: Sir, let me assure my honourable friends opposite that we on this side of the House deplore the death of poor Dalipa as much as they do, but we are fully satisfied that the local police is not to blame in any way for this incident. Let me inform the House that when the press report with regard to this incident came to the notice of the Honourable Premier, he ordered the District Magistrate to hold a magisterial inquiry into the incident and communicate the result of that inquiry to the Government. The Honourable Premier did not rest at that. He asked the Commissioner of the division to hold an independent inquiry at the spot and let him know the real facts. A first class magistrate was deputed to hold an inquiry into the allegations against the police and after making a judicial inquiry, he came to the conclusion that the allegations against the police were unfounded and baseless. I might also mention here that the Honourable Premier received a telegram purporting to have been sent by Dalipa's widow. But on inquiry it was found that Dalipa's widow had not sent the telegram and she totally denied any knowledge about the telegram. The Deputy Commissioner went to the spot and made personal inquiries from the villagers. He was also satisfied that the allegations against the police were unfounded. The Commissioner of the division after going to the spot and making personal inquiries came to the same conclusion. My honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh is therefore not correct in saying that the Government had made no inquiry into the incident. In view of the above facts the Government is fully satisfied that the charge brought forward against the local police is incorrect.

One word more, Sir, and I have done. I would appeal to my honourable friends sitting opposite, who claim to be the well-wishers of the poor peasants and labouring classes, that they should not take the time of the House in bringing such adjournment motions and co-operate with the Government in getting through the important business and legislative programme which we have before us. My friends will agree with me that the legislative measures which the Government proposes to move and carry during this session are of very far reaching character and when passed into law will provide great relief to the poor and labouring classes of the province and go a long way to ameliorate their sufferings. I appeal to my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh to withdraw his adjournment motion and let the House proceed with its normal business.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Lahore City, General, Urban): Sir, history repeats itself. Last year we were talking in this very House in the budget session of last year complaining about the police excesses and the attitude of the present Government in not enquiring into those excesses and in giving the police a free hand to carry out their business as they used to do before. I remember very well the Honourable Premier saying that he was not going to permit us to carry on such enquiries and that he would take legal action against those who would do so. At that time we were advised to approach him or the local authorities concerned if we had any complaint to make. For one full year we have been informing the Government of what we heard, but we have had no answer from Government so far. I do not know whether any action was taken on our complaints or not. We are not concerned with the question whether Dalipa was a criminal or not. Granting that he was a criminal of the worst type, as a citizen of this province he had every right to defend himself if he was to be prosecuted and tried in a court of law. If any investigation of the case was to be made it should be made in a legal and humane way. I do not say that that person was innocent, but our point is that as a human being he was entitled to humane treatment at the hands of the police. The allegation is that the police beat him mercilessly and that as a result he died, not at the very time as he was beaten but some time later. It is said that the doctors have certified that he died of a fall. But no doctor can say whether it was suicidal or homicidal. It might be that the police beat him and threw him down the hillock. Who can say that that could not have been so. It is only after an enquiry that we can come to a decision on that point. It is said that a departmental enquiry was held by a magistrate of the first class. It can only be a coroner's enquiry.

[Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava.]

But we want a more thorough enquiry. Usually police cases are referred to police officials for enquiry. Police officials generally cover the faults of their men. I do not want to go a step further than that.

We want an enquiry, an open enquiry. We say that this departmental enquiry does not satisfy us. Sermons have been delivered here that we should not condemn our police because if we do so we create lawlessness in the province. My submission is that we are not going to tolerate any of these illegal and inhuman acts of the police and if we do so we will be encouraging them to carry on their investigations in the same old way as they did before. It is our duty as representatives of the people to condemn every action of an official, whether he is a policeman or whether he is anybody else, if that action is illegal, however big or high that official may be. If we do not do so on this ground that if we condemn them they will not obey us or they will be badnamed among people or people will think that they have no prestige, then we are mistaken. That will be only encouraging those people. It is the covering of their actions that encourages them. The police know that the Government is not going to punish them for whatever they do and that is why this lawlessness is still there in this province. This is only by way of an instance. This year again we have brought this example and we want to inform the Government through you and by way of this adjournment motion that they are failing in their duty because they do not make enquiries, open and thorough enquiries, into the conduct of the police. That is the simple matter. We are not concerned whether that particular man was a badmash or not. It is said that this Dalipa committed suicide. They want to treat the matter in such a light way. That is the attitude they show when discussing police excesses or when police grants are discussed. It is that attitude that is encouraging the police and we want to censure that attitude and it is from that point of view that we have brought forward this adjournment motion. It was a single instance no doubt and even if it is proved that the man committed suicide, even then we want an enquiry into this matter whether the police beat that man or not. Was that enquiry made?

Premier : Yes.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Then why was not a communiqué issued? Did the Government come out with a communiqué? A telegram was sent to the Honourable Premier and did he inform the wife of Dalipa that he was satisfied that the police did not beat the man? Was the public informed that a magisterial enquiry or a departmental enquiry was held and the Government was satisfied that the police did not beat that man? No. At least I have not read it in the papers. I have not seen any communiqué which the Government might have issued. Even when the adjournment motion was moved this morning neither the Premier nor the Parliamentary Secretary made any statement as they usually make on such occasions, giving the result of their enquiries.

Premier : Perhaps the honourable member was not present in the House when I made the statement.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : My submission is that when adjournment motions are moved, the Honourable Minister in charge gets up and says. This is our position; are you going to press the motion? If their statement is not satisfactory we are forced to press. If it is satisfactory we do not want to waste the time of the House on such matters. We press such things only when the Government does not care to make open enquiries and when they are satisfied with the so-called departmental enquiry. That is why the police excesses are on the increase rather than on the decrease. With these words I support the motion.

At this stage several honourable members moved for closure.

Mr. Speaker : The question is :—

That the question be now put.

The motion was carried.

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of personal explanation. During the course of the speech of Rana Nasrullah Khan he said something regarding me. He said that I met the wife of Dalipa and I persuaded her to make a certain statement to the effect that her husband died as the result of police torture as that would enable her to get pension. I may say that I never saw the wife of Dalipa and that statement is unfounded, baseless and mischievous.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Assembly do now adjourn.

The Assembly divided : Ayes 29, Noes 90.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

3RD SESSION OF THE FIRST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Thursday, 23rd June, 1938.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 2 p.m. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

REMISSION OF RABI ON ACCOUNT OF DAMAGE TO CROPS FROM HAILSTORM.

*2127. Sardar Lal Singh : Referring to question No. *1444,<sup>1</sup> dated 25th January, 1938, will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any written order was issued to the lambardars to refund the amount, if so, the date and the number of this order, if not, how was the order of refund conveyed to the lambardars ;
- (b) whether the panchotra was actually refunded, if so, when and in what manner, if not reasons for the same, and under what authority ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The Collector passed the orders on the 15th January, 1938, and they were conveyed to the lambardars through the tahsil agency.

(b) A sum of Rs. 88-10-8 has so far been refunded by the lambardars to the assamis and the balance will be adjusted in the accounts for rabi harvest of 1938.

Sardar Lal Singh : May I know why this sum was over-collected and illegally collected by the lambardars and why it was not returned to them promptly ?

Minister : It was lawfully collected and it is being refunded now.

Sardar Lal Singh : If it was lawfully collected, then why is it being refunded ?

Premier : How does this arise ?

DAMAGE TO CROPS IN LUDHIANA DISTRICT BY HAILSTORM.

*2728. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he is aware of the fact that several villages in Ludhiana district had their crops severely damaged by hailstorm on 7th April or thereabout, if so, when did the information reach him ;
- (b) what relief the Government propose to give to these villages ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes, the crops were damaged to some extent only in four villages. In others the damage was negligible.

(b) Remission of land revenue is under consideration.

NOMINATION OF MEMBERS TO THE DISTRICT BOARD, LUDHIANA.

*2729. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) how many members were nominated to the present District Board, Ludhiana, by the Government ;
- (b) in how many cases were the recommendations of the Deputy Commissioner over-ridden ;
- (c) what were the special circumstances warranting this in each such case ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Five.

(b) and (c) Government does not consider it expedient in the public interest to disclose this information.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is the number now in excess of what it was previously ?

Minister : It is in accordance with the constitution of the Board.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : That is not my question. My question is whether the number now exceeds the number that was previously.

Minister : I do not think so.

Sardar Lal Singh : Is it a fact that one of the members in whose favour the recommendations of the Deputy Commissioner were ignored was related to one of the Ministers and about whom it was pointed out that he has not a rural outlook ?

Minister : I have already pointed out that these things are confidential.

Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister deny that it is as I have stated ?

Minister : I am unable to add anything to the reply given.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Is it a fact that one of the members nominated was a member of the Raikot Municipal Committee but he remained absent for six months ?

Minister : It does not arise out of this question, nor am I aware of it.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What is the nature of the recommendation which weighed with the Government at the time of nominating these members ?

Minister : Suitability and the interests of the local bodies.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What are the ingredients of suitability ?

Minister : It cannot be defined in reply to a question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Minister please mention at least one or two factors which go to determine the suitability of a person for nomination ?

Minister : Honesty, integrity, capability and so on and so forth.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Is public service one of the ingredients ?

Minister : Yes.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is it a qualification to be a member of the Unionist Party ?

Minister : Yes. (Hear, hear from Opposition benches.)

Sardar Lal Singh : May I know, if this is so, how he is going to eradicate nepotism ?

Minister : None exists.

RECRUITMENT OF POLICE CONSTABLES.

*2730. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the instructions, if any, issued at any time to Superintendents of Police in the Punjab for the recruitment of police constables with particular reference to the proportion communitywise which the Superintendents of Police must keep in view when making such recruitment and also state whether these instructions contain that the recruits belonging to the district in which recruitment takes place are to be given preference to others ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The recruitment of police constables is governed by the police rules which enjoin inter alia for enrolment of a proportion of men belonging to communities or classes whose representation in the force is desirable even if they appear reluctant to offer themselves. Government have issued no specific instructions as to the proportion communitywise in which constables should be recruited. Subject to the provisions of the rules to ensure efficiency of the police force, local men are ordinarily preferred ; but if the desired class of recruits be not forthcoming locally, enlistment is made from residents of other districts as was done recently in the case of Sikh constables for the Attock district.

PUNJAB CIVIL SERVICE OFFICERS HOLDING POSTS WITH ALLOWANCES.

*2731. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : (a) Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the number and names of the Punjab Civil Service officers who are at present holding posts to which allowance is attached ;

(b) those who have superseded their seniors and special reasons for that ;

(c) whether the Government propose to have the main consideration seniority in giving such posts ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a), (b) The honourable member will find the information he requires in the Civil List.

(c) No. The main consideration must be the qualifications of an officer for the post to be filled.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is class and community of the candidate also a consideration in giving these posts ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have already stated that the main consideration must be the qualifications of the officer.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : In addition to a man's qualifications does his class and community also come into consideration ?

Parliamentary Secretary : If two candidates of the requisite qualifications are available and there is a preponderance of one community, and the other community is under-represented, the officer belonging to the under-represented community must be given preference.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE ESTRANGED COMMUNAL RELATIONS AT HISSAR.

*2732. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the special steps which the Government has taken to improve the estranged communal relations at Hissar after the second riot of the 26th March and, if so, with what result ;
- (b) whether the Government as promised by it made an enquiry into the causes of the trouble at that place in March last and as a result of that inquiry whether any of the local police and district authorities was found to be responsible for that state of affairs and, if so, the action taken or proposed to be taken against them ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) The district police was reinforced and other preventive measures, including the location of additional police, were taken. Negotiations which were initiated by Government to bring about a rapprochement between the two communities are still in progress but the scope for official action is obviously limited and it is clearly for the communities themselves to come to an understanding.

(b) From enquiries made under the orders of Government by the Commissioner, Ambala division, and the Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Eastern Range, it was found that neither the local police nor the district authorities were responsible for the communal disturbances at Hissar. The question of taking action against them, therefore, does not arise.

ELECTORAL CIRCLES OF THE DISTRICT BOARD, ROHTAK.

*2733. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state whether the District Board, Rohtak, has now submitted proposals regarding new electoral circles for the next election to the said Board ; if so, the approximate date when the next elections to this District Board may be expected to be held ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : The District Board has not yet submitted proposals for the new Electoral Circles. The Commissioner, Ambala division, has been asked to expedite matters.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : For how long has this matter been under consideration ?

Minister : If you give me notice I shall try to find out.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : This is included in the question.

Minister : It is not included in the question. I require notice to answer this question.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : How long a time will be required to form these wards ?

Minister : Only the District Board can say.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : I wrote to the Government and the Commissioner about six months back. What has the Government done on it ?

Minister : You did not inform me.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Have you received any letter ?

Minister : Not from you.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : It is a strange department. (Laughter).

ACCOMMODATION FOR PRISONERS IN AMRITSAR JAIL.

*2734. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

(a) the accommodation for prisoners in the Amritsar Jail ;

(b) the number of prisoners at present confined in that jail ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) 264.

(b) 450.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know where the excess number is kept ?

Minister : In Jail.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : How are they accommodated in tents or chholdaris ?

Minister : Normal accommodation is there in the Amritsar Jail, but the pressure is very heavy. Of course they are kept in jail and not outside.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Are two or three accommodated in one cell ?

Minister : It is not a question of cells. There are various arrangements for providing for excess prisoners. I think my honourable friend is aware of the circumstances and the manner in which the extra jail population is kept.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Have they to be chained at night ?

Minister : I could not say, though that is possible.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is it not unfair on the part of the Government to keep more prisoners than can be accommodated ?

Minister : That is a matter of opinion, given the circumstances.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Honourable Finance Minister approve of this over-crowding ?

Minister : That is again a matter of opinion. No one can be said to like or approve over-crowding, but much depends on circumstances.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether there is a rule in the Jail Rules fixing the accommodation per prisoner ?

Minister : The difficulty is that Amritsar is a small Jail and there is a very large number of under-trial prisoners in it and they cannot be sent anywhere else. Government has under contemplation, and has had it for some time, the question of building a big central jail at Amritsar, but financial considerations have stood in the way so far. It is estimated that such a jail will cost something like 17 lakhs. The matter is under the consideration of the Government, if that is the intention of the honourable member in asking this question.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Finance Minister whether there is any difficulty in transferring excess number of convicts from Amritsar jail ?

Minister : The number of convicts is not so large. They are almost entirely under-trial prisoners but I will look into this matter to see if there are any convicts that are kept there even for a short period. I believe they are not so kept but if they are, they will be duly transferred.

Sardar Hari Singh : For how long has this state of affairs existed in this jail ?

Minister : It has existed for a fairly long time. I visited the jail last year and I found the condition not very satisfactory.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What action did the Finance Minister take then ?

PERMISSION TO CAST VOTES TO VOTERS INVOLVED IN FATEHWAL CASE.

*2735. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether those of the accused in the Fatehwal case, who were voters for the Assembly election (general Amritsar and Sialkot rural constituency), were permitted to go and cast their votes at the polls ; if not, why not ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : No, under the Jail Rules under-trial prisoners cannot be taken out of jail for voting.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Were they in jail at that time or were they in court ?

Parliamentary Secretary : This question does not arise.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I want to know whether at the time of polling they were in court or in jail.

Parliamentary Secretary : Whether they were in court or in jail, they were under custody.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : The honourable member said that under the Jail Rules they could not be sent out. When they are in the court they are not under Jail Rules. Then they are under Court Rules.

Parliamentary Secretary : The question now asked by my honourable friend whether they were actually at that time in the court or in the jail does not arise but if he will give notice of that I will look into it.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Parliamentary Secretary quote the Jail Rules referred to ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I would refer my honourable friend to the Jail Manual.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Can he not name the Jail Rule by going through the file he has received along with the answer ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I may assure him that there is no specific reference to that effect in the Jail Rules.

Sardar Hari Singh : There is no such rule in the Jail Manual.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Has the Jail Manual been amended since 1937 ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am afraid I cannot give that information off hand but as I have stated I take full responsibility for the statement that under the Jail Rules under-trial prisoners cannot be taken out for voting purposes.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Is it a fact that the accused had applied for permission being given to them to cast their votes ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am not aware of that.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Does the Parliamentary Secretary know that during the general elections in Germany, prisoners were allowed to vote ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I should not like to take my stand in these matters on German precedents.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the honourable member whether he has studied the Jail Manual in order to verify whether the answer prepared by the department concerned is correct or not ?

Parliamentary Secretary : In this particular case I have trusted the officers who have drafted up the answer.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is the honourable Parliamentary Secretary aware of the fact that one accused person—a convicted person—was brought to the court in hand-cuffs to vote for me ? He says that under the Jail Rules no convict can come to vote for a person but a convict did come to the Polling Station to vote for me.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : It shows the ignorance of the Parliamentary Secretary.

Premier : Who was the Superintendent of Jail when this convict came to vote for you ?

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

ROAD FROM MUNICIPAL OCTROI POST, BADAMI BAGH TO MUKAND IRON WORKS.

*2736. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the road from municipal octroi post, Badami Bagh, to Mukand Iron Works, in the same locality is in a very bad condition ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that there are several factories at Badami Bagh, and the public are put to great inconvenience in traffic owing to the dilapidated condition of the above-mentioned road ; if so, what action Government propose to take in the matter ;

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) The road in question belongs to the Railway department.

CHILDREN ABDUCTED IN LAHORE AND OTHER PLACES.

*2737. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether any of the children recently abducted in Lahore and other places have been traced so far or not ; if not, at what stage the inquiry has reached ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) During the current year 11 cases of kidnapping have been reported to the Lahore Police. In the first of these cases, which was reported on the 7th March, it was stated that two boys had been kidnapped, and the case appeared to the police to be a true one. Despite careful investigation no clue has, however, been found, and the case has been filed as untraced—the investigation will of course be resumed should any evidence become available. The other 10 cases reported from Lahore appear to be without foundation ; 8 of them have been cancelled under the orders of a magistrate, and the other 2 have been sent up by the police for cancellation.

(b) During the current year 2 cases of kidnapping have been reported to the Rawalpindi Police. In both the cases the accused were challaned but were acquitted.

REMARKS BY THE SESSIONS JUDGE, RAWALPINDI, AGAINST POLICE OFFICERS, CHAUDHRI MUHAMMAD ZAMAN AND S. AMRIK SINGH.

*2738. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether his attention has been invited to the remarks made by Mr. Ormerod, Sessions Judge, Rawalpindi, against the two police officers, Chaudhri Muhammad Zaman and S. Amrik Singh in the judgment delivered recently in the murder case Crown versus D. Raja Ram and Jai Ram ; if so, whether any action has been taken by the Government against the said police officers so far, or is now intended to be taken in the light of these remarks ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : The attention of Government has been drawn to the judgment in question. A proposal received from the local officers that there should be a Crown appeal is at present under examination. After this question has been decided, it will be considered what action, if any, is necessary against the police officers concerned.

Munshi Hari Lal : Has not the Crown appeal been preferred up till now ?

Parliamentary Secretary : It had not been preferred by the time the answer was prepared.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that the learned Sessions Judge said in his judgment that punishment of a most salutary character should be given to these two police officers ?

Parliamentary Secretary : May be, but as I have already stated the Government's position in these matters is clear that we are committed and determined to take deterrent action in all cases of proved torture or mishandling of investigation in these matters, but they must be proved.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it also true that the learned Sessions Judge has said in his judgment that it is the most scandalous case of all scandalous cases ?

Premier : I do not think the learned Sessions Judge used the exact words that my honourable friend has uttered.

Lala Duni Chand : Yes he used those words.

Premier : Not exactly those words. (Voices from Opposition benches : Exactly those words).

Lala Duni Chand : Is it also true that the learned Sessions Judge came to the finding that the two receipts on which the accused relied were torn by the police officers and other officers corroborated the fact ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question for the simple reason that it gives rather than seeks information.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Has it come to the notice of the Honourable Premier that the learned Sessions Judge has said that there were two receipts and they were torn by police officers and that statement was corroborated by another police officer ?

Mr. Speaker : This question also gives rather than seeks information ; I have been very liberal in allowing supplementary questions. But some honourable members go too far.

Lala Duni Chand : The conditions in the Punjab require that you should be more liberal in the matter of allowing supplementary questions.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : When was the Crown appeal preferred ?

Premier : The Crown appeal had not been preferred when the answer was drafted.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Has the appeal been preferred by now ?

Premier : I cannot say off hand.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Had the Government then taken any action on that judgment in the absence of any appeal pending before a court of law ?

Premier : If the appeal is preferred in the High Court, then the Government decision will have to be deferred till the decision of the High Court.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : When will the decision to prefer an appeal be taken ?

BYE-ELECTION OF MULTAN MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

*2739. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the date when the result of the bye-election with regard to the seat on the Multan Municipal Committee caused vacant by the death of Lala Chetan Anand was declared ;
- (b) when were the papers sent by the Deputy Commissioner, Multan, for the purposes of the publication of the result in the Gazette to the Commissioner, Multan division ;
- (c) when did the Commissioner send the papers to the Government for publication ;
- (d) when was the election published in the Gazette and the cause of the delay in the publication of the result of the election in the Government Gazette ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) 24th March, 1938.

- (b) 4th April, 1938 ;
- (c) 21st April, 1938 ;
- (d) The result of the election was published in the Gazette of 6th May, 1938. There was no delay in the publication of the result in the Gazette.

PERSONS INTERNED IN THEIR VILLAGES UNDER PUNJAB CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT ACT.

*2740. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and the names of the persons interned in their villages from 1st April, 1937, to April, 1938, in the province under the Punjab Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1935 ;
- (b) the number and the names of the persons externed from the Punjab during that year under the same Act ;
- (c) the number and the names of the persons detained in the Punjab jails under Regulation III of 1918 during the same period ;
- (d) whether the Government proposes to release all those prisoners who are detained in different jails in the province without any trial before any court of law ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) Eight persons were interned in their villages and twelve were externed from the Punjab under the Punjab Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1935, between the 1st April, 1937 and 1st April, 1938. It is not in the public interest to divulge their names.

(c) Nā. Eight persons were under detention under Regulation III of 1818 in the Punjab Jails on 1st April, 1937. Of these, five were released during the year and only three were under detention on 1st April, 1938. It is not in the public interest to give their names.

(d) No.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether he is aware of the fact that in this matter of internments and externments the Punjab is leading the rest of India ?

Premier : My honourable friend has not got the figures of Bombay city, I am afraid.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Is there any difference in the interpretation of 'public interest' put by the previous and the present Governments ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Is the honourable Premier aware of the fact that the previous Government laid the list of the internees on the table of the House in reply to a question put by Shrimati Lekhwati Jain. ? What objection has the present Government ?

Premier : How does it arise out of the original question ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has the definition of public interest undergone any change since the coming into office of the present Government ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether he has compared the figures of internment and externment of the present year with those of past years ?

Premier : I have not compared the figures but I think we stand favourably as compared with the previous years.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I take it that you have beaten the record this year ?

Premier : Record in releasing them, certainly.

NUMBER OF BABBAR AKALI PRISONERS RELEASED.

*2741. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

(a) the number of prisoners of the Babbar Akali Case who were released before the expiry of their sentences ;

[B. Sohan Singh Josh.]

- (b) the number of Babbar Akali prisoners who are still in jails, giving their terms of imprisonment, and when Government proposes to release them ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Seven.

(b) Eight. The term of imprisonment of each prisoner is transportation for life. The question of their release is under consideration.

Since this answer was drafted I am in a position to say that orders have been passed for the release of six out of eight Babbar Akali prisoners and they will be released in small groups during the next few weeks.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will he kindly state the name of the two persons who will not be released ?

Minister : I am not in a position to say, but their cases will also be reconsidered as early as possible.

Sardar Hari Singh : How many Babbar Akali prisoners will still be in custody ?

Minister : There will be none after six out of eight have been released, except the two whose cases will also be considered after a short while (hear, hear).

NAMES OF TRIBES DECLARED AS CRIMINAL TRIBES IN AMRITSAR DISTRICT.

*2742. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the names of the tribes that have been declared as criminal tribes in the Amritsar district from time to time ;
- (b) whether the movements of any of the above-mentioned criminal tribes have been restricted to certain areas ;
- (c) whether any of these tribes are kept in jails ;
- (d) whether the Government proposes to exclude those tribes from the category of criminal tribes whose past record has been good ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) The following tribes, who are found in Amritsar district, have been declared criminal tribes throughout the province :—

- (1) Sansis.
- (2) Baddons.
- (3) Barrars.
- (4) Dhas.
- (5) Bherias.
- (6) Aheris.
- (7) Bhangalis.

(b) Yes.

(c) Only if convicted in a court of law.

(d) The policy of Government is to remove or relax restrictions imposed on those members of criminal tribes whose past history and good conduct justifies such a course.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Minister whether the case of any of the tribes is under consideration of the Government for purposes of excluding them from criminal tribes list ?

Minister : I am not in a position to answer the question, but if the honourable member will give me notice I will enquire into the matter.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether any of these tribes have been excluded from the list since the present Ministry took charge ?

Minister : I do not think so, but if he will give notice I will be more precise.

NUMBER OF REMODELLING OPERATIONS PERFORMED IN AMRITSAR DISTRICT IN 1937.

*2743. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of remodelling operations performed in the Amritsar district during the year 1937 by the Canal Department ;
- (b) the expenditures incurred on them ;
- (c) the reasons for performing these remodelling operations ;
- (d) the number of representations received for remodelling ;
- (e) whether Government intend to perform the remodelling operations only in such cases in which they receive representations for that purpose ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) (i) Majitha Division.—Six outlets on Ranawali Left distributary.

(ii) Rainind Division.—Adjustment of roof blocks of 3 A. P. M. outlets of Bhuchar Kahna distributary.

(iii) Jandiala Division.—All outlets on Nagoki distributary.

(iv) Jandiala Division.—Seven outlets on Rasulpur distributary between R. Ds. 17,000 and 51,000.

(b)	(i)	Rs.	489
	(ii)	Rs.	90
	(iii)	Rs.	2,858
	(iv)	Rs.	100

Total Rs. 2,927

(c) Remodelling operations were performed in order to ensure proper supply at the tails, as acute shortage was experienced at the tails of the distributaries during periods of keen demand.

(d) Numerous applications were received from the zamindars of tail outlets complaining about shortage of supply.

[Minister for Revenue.]

(e) No. Remodelling is undertaken either when upper outlets draw more than their authorized full supplies which cause short supplies at the tails of channels or when short supplies to individual outlets on the channel necessitate increasing their sizes.

Such remodellings are almost always carried out at the request of irrigators on the outlets.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : During the course of supplying water to the tail, are the needs of the people living in between also taken into consideration ?

Minister : Naturally.

Sardar Partab Singh : Is the Revenue Minister aware of the fact that there is a growing discontent among the peasants of the Amritsar district against the canal authorities regarding remodelling and reduction.

Minister : Some of my friends have been agitating in the matter. I will look into the question of discontent when a representation comes up to me.

Sardar Partab Singh : Is he aware that the residents of twelve villages have shut off water on account of the reduction in the mogas to such an absurd limit that agriculture became practically impossible.

Minister : I am sorry this sort of agitation is carried on by certain gentlemen in the meetings which they are holding in that ilaga.

Sardar Partab Singh : Is Government prepared to institute an enquiry whether the residents of these villages have done this of their own accord or whether they are being instigated by some other people ?

Minister : I am sorry it is wrong to mislead the poor people who do not understand things.

Mr. Speaker : I request the honourable members to observe parliamentary decorum in all they say in this House.

Minister : This sort of attitude is to be observed not only by this side but by my friends opposite as well.

Mr. Speaker : I have to say with regret that honourable members of the Opposition have been attacked twice. This should be avoided.

Premier : I think there is some misunderstanding. My honourable friend did not mean any insinuation against honourable members. He said that those people who mislead the ignorant peasants and are exploiting them should be denounced by the House.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Who is to judge whether somebody from among us is misleading the people or the Government is misleading them ? It is the Government that misled them.

Mr. Speaker : This question is not before the House now.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister kindly state whether people of Rayya have sent in complaints that their outlets have been gradually reduced ?

Minister : It does not arise out of this question.

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

DAMAGE DONE TO CROP OF CORN IN TARN TARAN TAHSIL.

*2744. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that a great damage was done to the crop of corn in some villages of Tarn Taran tahsil, district Amritsar, on the night of the 6th April, 1938, on account of a severe hailstorm ;
- (b) whether any representations were made to the officers concerned by the people of the affected villages for remission of land revenue and water rates (abiana) ;
- (c) whether any officers went to see for themselves the damaged crops ; if so, the names of the villages visited and the recommendations made by them ;
- (d) whether the Government has given or contemplates to give any relief to the peasants concerned ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes, five villages were affected.

(b) Yes.

(c) Three gasetted officers of the Revenue Department and two of the Irrigation Department inspected the tract affected and recommended remission of land revenue in 5 villages and of abiana in 4 out of them.

(d) Remission has been given as follows :—

Villages.	Land revenue.	Local rate.			Water rate.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state whether any remission was granted to Kot Dharam Chand ?

Minister : No, Sir.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : What is the total remission that was recommended by the authorities in Majhupura ?

Minister : I think my honourable friend has got a question further on and I will give my reply then.

NAMES OF VILLAGES IN WHICH CONSOLIDATION OF HOLDINGS IS GOING ON IN AMRITSAR DISTRICT.

*2745. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and the names of the villages in which the work of consolidation of holdings is going on in the Amritsar district ;

[S. Sohan Singh Josh.]

- (b) the number and the names of the officers who are carrying on this work ;
 (c) the results so far achieved ;
 (d) the means that the Government propose to adopt to accelerate the work of consolidation in the above-named district ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : The honourable member has asked for very detailed information and I regret that answer to the question is not yet ready.

NUMBER OF CRIMINAL CASES TRIED BY SESSIONS COURTS IN AMRITSAR DISTRICT FROM APRIL, 1937, TO MARCH, 1938.

*2746. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state the number of criminal cases tried by the Sessions Courts in the Amritsar district from April, 1937 to March, 1938, and the number of such cases in which the accused were convicted ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : Eighty-seven and 88 respectively.

NUMBER OF MURDERS COMMITTED IN AMRITSAR DISTRICT AND LAHORE DIVISION FROM APRIL, 1937 TO MARCH, 1938.

*2747. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the number of murders committed (i) in the Amritsar district, (ii) in the Lahore division, from 1st April, 1937 to 1st March, 1938, and the apparent motive in each case of these murders ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : The number of murders committed between the 1st of April, 1937 and the 1st of March, 1938, was—

- (1) in Amritsar district 66 and
 (2) in Lahore division 308.

A table showing the motive in each case where this was known is laid on the table.

AMOUNT OF LAND REVENUE AND WATER RATE REALISED FROM THE PEASANTS OF AMRITSAR DISTRICT FOR THE YEAR 1937.

*2748. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the total amount of land revenue and water rate still to be realised from the peasants of the Amritsar district for the year 1937 ;
- (b) the main reasons that have stood in the way of the realisation of the above-mentioned amount ;
- (c) whether the Government proposes to remit the arrears in question ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The present balance in round figures for the harvests rabi 1937 and kharif 1937 is :—

Land revenue.	Water rate.
Rs. 2,027	Rs. 19,074

(b) The main reasons are :—

- (1) Land revenue arrears are practically confined to the urban area of Amritsar city where difficulties are experienced in collection on account of amounts being petty and the revenue records out of date.
  - (2) Most of the abiana arrears are due from the Municipal Committee and Government departments.
- (c) Does not arise.

REMISSION TO PEASANTS IN AMRITSAR DISTRICT.

*2749. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the gram crop has been damaged by the lightning and heavy rains this year in the Amritsar district ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the produce per acre in the aforesaid district has been exceedingly small ;
- (c) whether the Government has given or intends to give any remission to the peasants for the damaged crops ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes, to some extent.

(c) The question of remission of land revenue is under consideration. It may roughly amount to Rs. 18,000. A remission of Rs. 15,149-15-0 in abiana has already been given.

REMISSION OWING TO DAMAGE DONE TO CORN CROPS IN TARN TARAN TAHSIL, DISTRICT AMRITSAR.

*2750. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of acres recommended for full as well as half remission by the authorities concerned owing to the damage done to the corn crops in the villages of Chabhal, Mirpur, Majjupura and Lala Khuman in the Tarn Taran tahsil in the district of Amritsar ;

- (b) the steps that the Government has taken or contemplates to take village-wise on those recommendations ;
- (c) whether the Government has given or contemplates to give any relief to the villages Pandori Hassan, Kot Dharm Chand Khurd and Manan Chabhal in the same tahsil for their damaged crops ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) 399 acres were damaged by hailstorm in villages Jhabhal Kalan, Mirpur, Lala Ghuman, Panjwar and Pandori Hassan. Full remission of land revenue was recommended and has been given.

(b) The remission given were as follows :—

					Land revenue.
					Rs.
Jhabhal Kalan	..	..	..	..	310
Mirpur	..	..	..	..	18
Lala Ghuman	..	..	..	..	109
Panjwar	..	..	..	..	32
Pandori Hassan	..	..	..	..	4

(c) There was no damage in villages Kot Dharm Chand Khurd and Manan Chabhal and the question of relief does not arise.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : What is the total remission granted in Majhupura ?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Can the Honourable Minister give any information regarding the total area remitted in Jhabhal ?

Minister : I have already given the total area.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Sir, I have to make a request, through you, to the Honourable Minister for Revenue and it is this. When the last question was put as to how much remission was recommended for village Majhupura, he was pleased to say that the next question was coming and he would reply then, but now he does not care to reply.

Minister : When the question comes, it will be replied to.

CANCELLATION OF HON'BLE REVENUE MINISTER'S VISIT TO VILLAGES
IN TAHASIL TARN TARAN, DISTRICT AMRITSAR.

*2751. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he caused this information to be sent to the villagers whose crops had been damaged in the Tarn Taran tahsil due to severe hailstorm on the 6th April, 1933, that he would go and see the damaged crops himself ;

- (b) whether he appointed any time and date of the proposed visit ;
- (c) whether he is aware that the people concerned had come in large numbers at the appointed place and time ;
- (d) the reasons for the cancellation of his visit to the above-mentioned villages ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No. I did, however, go to see the condition of the crops myself and to find out what damage had actually been caused by hails. I visited two or three villages in Tarn Taran tahsil, having seen the damaged area in the Gurdaspur district a few days previously.

(b) No.

(c) I have no information. No one was asked to meet me.

(d) Does not arise.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Is the Honourable Minister aware of the fact that many people were waiting for him at the Jhabhal minor ?

Minister : Did I ask any gentleman to come and meet me there ? I went to make enquiries myself.

REMISSION IN LAND REVENUE IN AMRITSAR, TARN TARAN, AND AJNALA TAHSILS OF AMRITSAR DISTRICT.

*2752. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether his attention has been drawn to the statement appearing in the Supplement to the Government Gazette, Punjab, of April 29, 1938, page 306, item 18, Amritsar district, that " Gram has been damaged due to hailstorm and lightning in the Amritsar and Tarn Taran tahsils " ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the gram crop has been damaged in the Ajnala tahsil as well owing to the above-mentioned causes ;
- (c) whether he has given or contemplates to give any remission in land revenue in the Amritsar, Tarn Taran, and Ajnala tahsils of the Amritsar district ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes, the damage is due to hailstorm and gram-blight.

(c) Government has already decided to remit at the flat rates of 4, 6 and 8 annas per rupee of the total land revenue demand of the area under gram throughout the district.

REASONS FOR HOLDING SESSIONS AT SIMLA THIS YEAR.

*2753. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : With reference to the reply to a supplementary question of Sardar Hari Singh given by the Honourable Premier in the Assembly on the 17th June, 1937,<sup>1</sup> that " next year it will not be necessary to hold a meeting in Simla " ; will he please state the reasons for holding the session again at Simla this year ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): The reason is that the new Assembly Chamber is not yet ready. I may add that the honourable member has only partly quoted the reply which the Honourable the Premier gave on the 17th June 1937. The complete reply was "we have not yet got a suitable building at Lahore. Next year it will not be necessary to hold a meeting in Simla". This reply was obviously based on the assumption that at that time the new Assembly Chamber was expected to be completed by the beginning of this year.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh: Will it be ready by the next session?

Premier: Yes, it is expected that it will be ready by then.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: May I know whether the business which is going to be transacted now was so important and imperative that it necessitated the holdings of meeting here?

Premier: From the point of view of my honourable friend opposite, probably the business which we have to transact or propose to transact during this session is not important, but from the point of view of poor peasants and from the point of view of Government which is responsible to those poor peasants, it is important.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: May I ask when the business was so important, why did the Government not send the notice of Bills and other business in time to the members and why are they rushing them through?

Premier: There is no question of rushing them through. These are important and imperative measures for those poor people whose friendship my honourable friend opposite always day in and day out professes or poses from the platform and from the press. But in reality this is the sympathy which my honourable friend has for those people. Voices from the Opposition: The word "poses" is unparliamentary).

Mr. Speaker: It appears to be unparliamentary.

Premier: I said that my honourable friend professes or poses to be (Voices: Withdraw the word "poses.").

Mr. Speaker: What did the Honourable Premier say?

Premier: I said "poses" and also "professes," and I submit that both these words are parliamentary.

Mr. Speaker: The word 'poses', when used in respect of a member of the Assembly, is probably unparliamentary.

Premier: Would it be unparliamentary if I say of any member of the House that he poses as the leader of the whole province?

Mr. Speaker: I will decide that question when it arises.

Premier: I suggest that you may please consult May's Parliamentary Practice and then give your ruling.

Mr. Speaker: Order, please. To say that a member of this House is posing means that he pretends and that he is not honest or sincere in what he says.

Sardar Hari Singh: There can be no discussion on your ruling. Either the Honourable Premier should withdraw that expression or he should be asked to withdraw from the House.

Mr. Speaker : I hope the Honourable Premier will withdraw the word.

Premier : I submit that the word 'poses' is not unparliamentary. I am sure that stronger words than this have been used in the Parliament.

Mr. Speaker : The word 'poses' implies that the honourable member is not honest in his statement. (Cries of 'Withdraw'.)

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Sir, with due respect to what you have stated I wish to say as emphatically as I can and on good authority that the word 'pose' is not an unparliamentary expression. I submit that it would restrict the liberty of speech if you hold the use of such word as 'pose' as unparliamentary. In the interest of liberty of speech and discussion it should not be ruled unparliamentary. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Speaker : I shall look into the matter and correct myself if I find my view to be wrong. But now, even if I have given a wrong ruling, I stick to it.

Premier : I submit that you may be pleased to look up the rulings, and pending your decision I substitute the word 'profess' for the word 'pose'. That should end the matter.

Mr. Speaker : According to May—

The use of temperate language is never more desirable than when a member is conveying the opinions and conduct of his opponents in debate. The imputation of bad motives, or motives different from those acknowledged; misrepresenting the language of another, or accusing him, in his turn, of misrepresentation; charging him with falsehood or deceit; or contemptuous or insulting language of any kind; all these are unparliamentary, and call for prompt interference.

(Hear, hear.)

Premier : I suggest that you also consult Webster.

An Honourable Member : Sir—

Premier : Shut up.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : On a point of order, Sir. Are we allowed to use the expression 'shut up'?

Mr. Speaker : I have already quoted May's Parliamentary Practice, page 925. I leave it to honourable members to judge for themselves. The expression, if not unparliamentary, is not a dignified one.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : My submission is that the responsibility of keeping up the dignity of the House falls on the Honourable Premier. If he once uses the expression 'shut up', we will use it twenty times.

Premier : If my honourable friend resents that remark—

(Cries of 'shut up.')

Mr. Speaker : Order please.

Premier : If my honourable friend resents the remark which was made in the heat of the moment because of the attitude of my honourable friend, I am sorry and I withdraw the expression.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier please answer my question? If the Government had very important work to do, did they prepare that work in time and circulate it to honourable members in time?

Mr. Speaker : That question does not arise.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Why did not the Government take up all these measures during the last Lahore session ?

Mr. Speaker : That question also does not arise.

CASES STARTED AGAINST GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES OR OFFICIALS FOR ACCEPTING BRIBES IN AMRITSAR DISTRICT.

*2754. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the number of cases started against Government employees or officials for accepting bribes in the Amritsar district from April, 1937, to April, 1938, and the number of such cases in which the accused were convicted ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : The information asked for is being collected and will be communicated to the honourable member when ready.

— — — — —

PERSONS DISMISSED FROM GOVERNMENT SERVICE IN LAHORE DIVISION.

*2755. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the number of persons dismissed from Government service from April, 1937, to April, 1938, in the Lahore division, and the reasons for their dismissal ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : Unless the honourable member explains and justifies the purpose of the enquiry, it seems that the time and labour involved in collecting the information sought would not be justified. If the honourable member specifies any special case on which he desires particular information or explains the purpose of his enquiry the matter will be attended to.

GRANT OF HALF A RECTANGLE NO. 18 IN CHAK NO. 111-10-R, IN MULTAN DISTRICT.

*2756. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is proposed to give by way of grant to anybody half a rectangle No. 18 in Chak No. 111-10-R, in Multan district ; if so, on what terms ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the rectangle is situated within the limit of the notified area, Jehanian ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that trees as old as 20 years planted and nursed at the cost of the Notified Area Committee, Jehanian, exist on the land ; if so, if any compensation for trees has been charged and what it is ;
- (d) whether any area out of the rectangle has been reserved for civil hospital ; if so, what is the extent of the area ;

- (c) whether the public of Jahanian sent any representation to the Honourable Minister of Revenue and other authorities against the grant; if so, when was it sent and with what result?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No. None at present.

(b), (c) (d) Do not arise.

(e) A representation was received on which a report has been called for from the Deputy Commissioner.

TRAVELLING ALLOWANCE TO RECESS OFFICERS FOR JOURNEY TO HILL STATIONS.

*2757. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of hill journeys that each of the recess officers was permitted to undertake three years ago for purposes of hill recess and the number of journeys that they are permitted now and whether this number has been now increased and; if so, why;
- (b) whether the recess officers are allowed travelling allowances for such journeys that they might choose to undertake within the prescribed number and even when such journeys are not directly from Simla to Lahore or vice versa?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) The officers who are permitted to perform their duties at hill stations and the conditions under which they are permitted to do so are stated in part I and in Class C of Part II of Appendix K of the Travelling Allowance Rules Pages 171—179 and page 185. There has been no increase during the last three years in the number of journeys permitted by the Rules.

(b) The information will be found in Part II of Appendix K of the Travelling Allowance Rules (pages 179—185).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether the number of journeys undertaken by these officers for recess is according to the rules?

Minister : Yes, this is according to the rules.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Do they come by way of touring through the province and reach Simla and draw their travelling allowance more than what they are actually allowed to get as recess officers?

Minister : I do not follow the question. They are allowed a certain number of journeys between Lahore and Simla as recess officers apart from the journey undertaken to come to Simla in the first instance and this is according to rules.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Direct journey?

Minister : Direct journey from Lahore to Simla.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Do they start from Lahore or from Simla?

Minister : They could start their touring from Simla. But as I gather the position, there is no occasion to do so because they are allowed more than one trip from Lahore to Simla and back from Simla to Lahore in the ordinary course.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : They are permitted to come twice as recess officers and draw their travelling allowance twice from Lahore to Simla and back ? What I want to know is this. When they start tours and come from Lahore on their official tours to Simla, how many times do they come ?

Minister : The honourable member is probably aware that they are allowed a period of 8½ months for recess purposes at Simla. This is only less by a month and a half than the period of Government's stay at Simla or that is the deficiency in their period if I may be permitted to say so. During that period of 1½ months only a limited amount of touring is possible and that probably is conducted from Lahore. But if the honourable member wishes exact information for any particular recess officer, I shall be glad to secure the information. I might inform the honourable member further that most of these officers who do touring are departmental heads, and exigencies of their work might require sometimes a larger measure of touring than might otherwise be necessary.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know what is the travelling allowance they are actually paid ? Is it more than that paid to Secretaries or Ministers ?

Minister : The Secretaries usually have to stay here altogether. They do not go down at all, the departmental heads have got to tour about and obviously payments to them will exceed payments to Secretaries!

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What about other required officers ?

Minister : They are mainly Secretaries and one or two departmental heads.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is their travelling allowances more than that of the officers who are heads of departments ?

Minister : I will have to compare the figures of any particular required officer who is also a touring officer like the Director of Public Instruction and one of these other departmental heads that are not required officers but recess officers.

Lala Duni Chand : Has the Honourable Minister considered the question of retrenchment in this direction ?

Minister : The question of retrenchment in this direction is being considered by the Retrenchment Committee.

HILL RECESS FOR OFFICERS OF INDIAN AGRICULTURAL SERVICE AND INDIAN VETERINARY SERVICE.

*2758. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is or it is not a fact that officers of Indian Agricultural Service and Indian Veterinary Service in the Punjab are allowed hill recess for two months each year and if they are allowed, the rules or agreement under which they are so allowed ;

- (b) whether they are allowed to charge the Government for the conveyance of their dak during the recess period; if so, under what rules;
- (c) whether officers of the Punjab Agricultural Service or Punjab Veterinary Service, class I, are also allowed any hill recess or not?

The Honourable Chandhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Yes. Apart from the Directors of the two Services who are allowed hill recess for 3½ months, certain other officers of the Indian Agricultural Service and Indian Veterinary Service, to whom the privilege is a personal one, are allowed hill recess for a period of two months under serial No. 3, Appendix 'K' to the Travelling Allowance Rules.

(b) The cost of conveyance of dak is charged to Government as during hill recess these officers are on duty.

(c) No.

GRADE OF CLERKS TAKEN TO HILL STATIONS BY RECESS OFFICERS.

*2759. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) what grade of clerks each of the recessing officers is allowed to take with him during the hill recess and whether such clerks get any allowance for the period;
- (b) what grade of clerks have been accompanying the Director of Agriculture to hills for the recess period for the last five years and what allowances have been paid to them during this period?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Government have not specified the grade of clerks which each of the recessing officers is allowed to take with him during the hill recess. Only the clerks accompanying the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Inspector-General of Prisons, the Director of Public Health, the Director of Agriculture, the Director of Industries, the Chief Conservator of Forests, the Deputy Commissioner for Criminal Tribes and Reclamation Officer and the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, Electricity Branch are allowed hill allowance for a period not exceeding 3½ months in addition to the usual travelling allowance at tour rates.

(b) One head assistant in the grade of Rs. 250—10—350 and one stenographer in the grade of Rs. 100—5—150—10—200 have been accompanying the Director of Agriculture to Simla while on recess (and as a required officer in 1934) during the last five years. A statement is laid on the table showing the allowances paid to them during the above period.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Since when is this practice in force of taking a senior grade officer on Rs. 250—350 to Simla?

Minister : I think I said—it has certainly been in vogue since 1934.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What was the practice before that?

Minister : I could not say.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Are there any specific instructions?

Minister : I think the Honourable Minister for Development spoke particularly about the Director of Agriculture. So far as other recess officers are concerned, I have already stated that they are entitled to a clerk and also a stenographer.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I want to know whether specific instructions as to the grade or pay of the clerk or steno-typist have been issued or not ?

Minister : No specific instructions about the clerk. But I think the matter rests within the discretion of the recessing officer.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Was any exception made in the case of the Director of Agriculture ?

Minister : Must have been. But if the honourable member wishes to give me notice of it, I shall enquire into the matter more specifically.

Statement showing the allowances paid to the clerks who accompanied the Director of Agriculture, Punjab, to Simla, while on recess (and as a required officer in 1934) during the last 5 years.

RESTORATION OF THE JAGIR OF COMRADE GURMUKH SINGH.

*2760. Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether he is aware of the fact that the Jagir of Comrade Gurmukh Singh of village Milak Sukhi, district Ambala (now interned in his village) was confiscated by the Punjab Government some time ago; if so the reasons which led the Punjab Government to take this step;

- (b) whether Government has any intention of restoring the said jagir; if not, why not?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Attention is invited to the answer given by me to question No. *1259.<sup>1</sup> It may be noted that the former name of Comrade Gurmukh Singh, was Balwant Singh.

- (b) No, there is no reason for Government to reconsider its decision.

Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : Was the land belonging to Gurmukh Singh confiscated simply because he is a political worker? Has any provision been made for Narain Singh Sindhu?

Minister : Does that question arise?

INTERNMENT OF POLITICAL WORKERS SUCH AS COMRADE RAM SINGH DUTT AND OTHERS.

*2761. Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that a number of political workers, namely, Comrades Ram Singh Dutt, Gurmukh Singh Ambalvi and Narain Singh Sodhi have been interned in their respective villages in districts Gurdaspur, Ambala and Amritsar; if so, the reasons which led the Punjab Government to take this action against them;
- (b) whether the Government before passing internment orders ascertained whether the internee would be able to make the two ends meet at the place where he was interned?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes, for having acted and being about to act in a manner prejudicial to the public safety and peace.

(b) No, but Government are satisfied that these persons possess sufficient means of livelihood in the villages to which they are restricted.

WHEAT STACK FIRES IN DISTRICT HOSHIARPUR.

*2762. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and the details of the wheat stack fires this year in district Hoshiarpur;
- (b) the number of sheaves burnt down and estimated loss;
- (c) the cause of fires in different cases;
- (d) the action taken by the authorities in each case;
- (e) the steps taken and intended to be taken to prevent recurrence of such fires;
- (f) whether Government intend to help the victims of such fires; if so, in what manner?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) 13.

(b) 2,008 sheaves worth about Rs. 2,472.

(c) Accidental.

(d) and (e) None, because no human ingenuity will prevent such accidents.

(f) Government cannot undertake to compensate the victims of these fires, but application for taccavi loans will be sympathetically considered.

CASES OF NON-PAYMENT OF MALBA IN DISTRICT HOSHIARPUR.

*2763. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) the total number of cases of non-payment of malba in district Hoshiarpur, at the last instalment ;

(b) whether any action was taken by the authorities in any of these cases ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : I regret the information is not readily available and its collection will not be worth the time and labour involved.

CASES DISPOSED OF BY 1ST ELECTION PETITIONS COMMISSION.

*2764. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) the total number of cases disposed of by the 1st Election Petitions Commission ;

(b) the total expenditure incurred in connection with the said commission and the details of the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) 25.

(b) Rs. 80,180-12-3. Details are :—

DETENTION OF KARTAR SINGH IN LAHORE FORT.

*2765. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether Kartar Singh of district Lyallpur was recently detained in the Lahore Fort ; if so, why and with what result ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : Yes, because he had acted and was about to act in a manner prejudicial to the public safety and peace. He was released on the 22nd May, 1938.

BAN AGAINST HANS RAJ ' WIRELESS.'

*2768. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether there exists a ban against the entry into the Punjab of Hans Raj ' Wireless ' recently released by the Sind Government ; if so, for what reasons ;
- (b) whether there has been any communication between the Punjab Government and the Sind or Central Government regarding the imposition of certain conditions on the release of the said Hans Raj ' Wireless ' ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) First part. Yes.

Second part, it is not in the public interest to give reasons.

(b) It is not in the public interest to give information regarding matters affecting other governments.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION BY SARDAR HARI SINGH.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : Day before yesterday when you were not in the chair and Mr. Deputy Speaker was in the chair and the adjournment motion was being discussed, Rana Nasrullah Khan from the other side uttered certain words and I took exception to them there and then but there was a great din and noise on the other side and my objection was drowned in that din and noise but now in the proceedings that have been sent to me by the Reporters, I find these words which I took objection at that time :—

" Sardar Hari Singh and his companion made it known to the relatives of the deceased that if they declared that Dalipa was actually killed by the Police, the result would be that his widow would get a pension for life."

I denied this accusation, but there was noise on the other side.

Premier : What is this speech or statement ?

Sardar Hari Singh : Personal explanation and a point of privilege. The objectionable expressions used by Rana Nasrullah Khan related to myself and Sardar Harjib Singh.

Mr. Speaker : As the honourable member denies in his personal explanation what was stated about him, the matter ends and should not be discussed further.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it open to any honourable member to make serious allegations against another member ?

Mr. Speaker : An allegation was made but it was denied openly.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : But the person who made those allegations has not withdrawn.

Mr. Speaker : Had he been called upon to withdraw, there would have been no necessity for denying those allegations by Sardar Hari Singh.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : He was called upon but he did not do so.

Mr. Speaker : That did not happen in my time.

Sardar Hari Singh : I want to know whether all this should form part of proceedings?

Mr. Speaker : Your personal explanation and denial will also go in the reports.

Sardar Hari Singh : These words should not form part of the proceedings. It would form a very bad precedent. They should be expunged from the proceedings under your authority.

Mr. Speaker : This matter should not be prolonged further. An allegation was made and denied. That should be the end of it.

Sardar Hari Singh : I can also make an allegation that the words were put in his mouth by somebody else.

Mr. Speaker : That would be exceeding the limits of propriety. Please behave as you generally do.

ADJOURNMENT MOTIONS.

JAGIRS.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to move that leave be granted to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely the recent creation by the Punjab Government of 19 jagirs of Rs. 250....."

Premier : Another one is coming.

S. P. N.

Sardar Hari Singh :—entailing a burden of Rs. 4,750 per annum on the Exchequer.

Mr. Speaker : These jagirs I understand, have already been granted by the Government and orders have been passed. If so, why not move a resolution? Where is the good of discussing this matter now when the jagirs have already been created and conferred? The honourable member may move a resolution that they should not be repeated again.

Sardar Hari Singh : They are life jagirs and they will continue.

Mr. Speaker : It is open to the honourable member not only to object to jagirs granted this year, but even to the jagirs granted in the previous years. Why does he confine his resolution to jagirs granted only this year?

Sardar Hari Singh : A popular Ministry under provincial autonomy should have put a stop to this relic of feudalism.

Mr. Speaker : All I suggest is that the matter is a very comprehensive one and that it may be decided on a resolution. The honourable members can take up the matter under Rule 37—a rule which apparently has not attracted their attention up till now.

Premier : How has the urgency of the matter suddenly arisen? Some jagirs were bestowed last year also and if there was no urgency then, where is the urgency now? The honourable member should have brought this motion last year. These jagirs are for the current year, there were some jagirs granted last year also and honourable members should have brought this motion then.

Mr. Speaker : Clearly there is no question of urgency.

Sardar Partab Singh : These jagirs were given before the present Government came into power.

Premier : No, they came into power last year.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : When were these jagirs bestowed last year? On what date were they granted?

Premier : Jagirs are normally granted every year.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What month?

Premier : The first payment is made with the rabi harvest.

Mr. Speaker : The question is whether jagirs were granted last year.

Premier : They were.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is it an argument to say that because jagirs were also granted last year, therefore, the adjournment cannot be taken this year on the grant of more jagirs?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : This Government started functioning from the 1st of April, 1937. It is quite possible that the jagirs were bestowed by the old Government and not by this Government.

Premier : Jagirs are made for each financial year and last year the first payment of the jagirs should have been made or must have been made after this Government came into office.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : The order might have been carried out after the 1st of April.

Mr. Speaker : These jagirs have been given every year from the year 1914 or 1919. I do not know whether they were given by the present Government last year; but one thing is perfectly clear that this is not a matter of urgency and that it can be moved as a resolution.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : The reason of our giving notice of such an adjournment motion is that we feel that no responsible government would act in this way and bestow jagirs upon people just for the sake of keeping them in their own party.

Mr. Speaker : The question is whether this can be discussed by an adjournment motion.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : This Government has done a thing which a responsible government should not have done. It is only from that point of view that we are moving this adjournment motion. If it were to remove this system of bestowing jagirs on people, then we could move a resolution. Because they have done it, we want to give them a bit of our mind.

Mr. Speaker : Does it not mean that this should not be repeated by the Government in future?

Sardar Hari Singh : My object is that this practice should be discontinued.

Mr. Speaker : An adjournment motion is meant to criticise the administrative responsibility of the Government and to show that it has departed from the ordinary law. If you want the jagirs system to be stopped, move a substantive motion for action.

Lala Duni Chand : As a matter of fact during the last twenty years jagirs had been bestowed or granted only three or four times.

Premier : I am afraid my honourable friend is not correct.

Lala Duni Chand : Jagirs were granted once after the Great War and then again they were granted after the non-co-operation movement.

Premier : The honourable member is again wrong. Jagirs have been granted every year from 1920 onwards.

Lala Duni Chand : As I understand the word 'urgent', the idea underlying the word 'urgent' is that the Government has done something improper.

Premier : No.

Lala Duni Chand : Yes.

Premier : Are the words 'urgent' and 'improper' synonymous?

Lala Duni Chand : Urgency lies in this fact that something improper or extraordinary has been done which must be debated in the House. That is the whole idea of the word 'urgent' or 'urgency'.

Mr. Speaker : My view is different. No law has been broken by the Government by granting jagirs.

Sardar Hari Singh : There is no law.

Mr. Speaker : The motion is not in order.

NOMINATIONS TO MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, LYALLPUR.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to ask for leave to make a motion to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, recent nominations to the Lyallpur Municipal Committee by the Government raising the number of nominated members to fourteen as against twelve elected, resulting in the resignation of a number of elected members. In the first place, I would state that the normal procedure under the Municipal Act has not been followed. The Municipal Act lays down that usually the number of nominated members of a municipal committee shall be one-fourth of the whole number of members of that committee. That is the normal procedure—the normal state of affairs—which has been departed from. In the second place, I am not questioning its legality—whether the Government has acted legally or illegally. The question of legality or illegality can only arise in a court of law. Here we have to question the desirability and propriety of the action taken by the Government. In the third place, this action of the Government has created a critical situation. It has created resentment in the minds of all well-wishers of democracy, it has created resentment in the public mind. It has led to resignation of a number of members including the President of the Committee who, as you are aware, is Deputy Leader of the Opposition. I know of instances in which the Government's action lawfully taken under a certain law had formed the subject of adjournment motions on the floor of this House. For example, an adjournment motion was moved by my honourable friend Shaikh Muhammad Sadiq on the 30th October, 1936, against a certain action taken by the Government under a certain section—I mean section 238 of the Municipal Act. You, Mr. Speaker, were then in the Chair when that adjournment motion was allowed. The Government had taken action under a certain section of the Municipal Act. There was adjournment motion regarding the supersession of the Lahore Municipal Committee. This adjournment motion was taken up on the 30th October, 1936, and is reported in volume XXIX of the Debates of the Punjab Council.

Premier : On the floor of the previous House and not this House.

Sardar Hari Singh : This action of the Government was perfectly legal. It was according to law but its desirability and propriety was questioned by means of an adjournment motion and you allowed it.

Premier : Two wrongs do not make one right.

Sardar Hari Singh : No dialogue should be allowed. That is unparliamentary.

Premier : Is the honourable member trying to establish his claim for the Chair? He will have to qualify as a lawyer first.

Sardar Hari Singh : Apart from that you had allowed two similar adjournment motions which were moved with a view to censure an act of the Government taken under the Criminal Law Amendment Act when an order was served on Professor Ranga. I moved the adjournment motion in this connection on 23rd February last and you allowed it. Again, in March last you allowed an adjournment motion on the order passed on A. K. Ghosh under a certain law. The action was legal but we thought it improper and you allowed the adjournment motion.

I give a quotation from the Parliamentary Debates.

“ On the 13th June, 1932, one of the members, Mr. Holmes, got up in the House of Commons and asked for leave to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance by means of adjournment of the House, i.e., the action of the Home Secretary in instituting an enquiry into the sanity of one Ronald Truss. A member of Government got up and raised an objection on the ground that the Home Secretary had taken action under Section 2 (c) of the Criminal Lunatics Act of 1894. The Speaker of the House of Commons said :—

I put the question on quite another ground and that is whether the Home Secretary acted rightly under the powers entrusted to him by law.”

Similarly, I question whether the powers entrusted to the Government by law under the Municipal Act were wisely used or not. I question the wisdom and propriety of the action taken.

Mr. Speaker : Who has taken it? The Ministry or the Commissioner?

Sardar Hari Singh : The Ministry is responsible. There is agitation on the point. I say if the Government does not step in then the Ministry is responsible.

Mr. Speaker : Is it a second class municipality? (Voices : Yes, it is).

Premier : Sir, may I make a statement with regard to this fact before you give your ruling? My honourable friend has asked leave to move an adjournment motion to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, recent nominations to the Lyallpur Municipal Committee. That is his main burden of argument in this motion. Government did not make any nominations; it was the commissioner who made the nominations in accordance with the powers given to him under the Act. It is a second class municipality and the nominations are made by the commissioner and not by Government.

Lala Duni Chand : Is not Government responsible for his action?

Premier : The commissioner took action under the law.

Sardar Hari Singh : Day before yesterday, it was said that Dalipa's death was due to falling from a cliff.

Premier : Yes, his death was due to falling from a cliff. That is entirely true.

Sardar Hari Singh : Does he mean to say that he is not responsible for the misdeeds of the commissioner?

Premier : It is not a question of the misdeeds: he was acting under the powers given to him.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does he plead his inability to interfere with the action of the commissioner?

Premier : Yes, inability to interfere in his day to day administration.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Has the commissioner done this under the orders of Government?

Parliamentary Secretary (Shaikh Faiz Muhammad) : Since nominations were made to the committee, my honourable friend opposite has had ample opportunity to give notice of a resolution. Orders were issued on the 1st of June. Why did he not give notice and table a resolution? I hope, Sir, you will agree with me that urgency referred to in rules, has reference to urgency in point of time. If there is sufficient time for tabling a resolution, an adjournment motion should not be allowed. There is another reason why I think this adjournment motion is out of order. If you analyse the adjournment motion you will see that it refers to several matters. One of these matters is the increase in the number of the members of the Lyallpur municipality from 16 to 26. Then there is the question of nominations and the third is the question of resignations of certain members. So far as the revision of the constitution of the municipal committee is concerned, it is a matter entirely in the hands of Government and forms the subject matter of a separate notification. Nominating certain individuals is a matter which is in the hands of the commissioner under a delegated authority and the Government have no control over it. When authority is given by Government under this Act to a person and he takes an action which is not against the law Government cannot be made responsible.

ADJOURNMENT MOTION RE. NOMINATION TO MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, 118.
LYALLPUR.

There is no urgency and the question of importance is not involved. So far as the use of the word 'importance' is concerned it means something out of the ordinary. Government have done nothing extraordinary: it has acted under certain provisions of law. I therefore submit that this adjournment motion is out of order.

Mr. Speaker : Is not Government responsible for the acts of the commissioner ?

Parliamentary Secretary : Government is not responsible if it is a case of delegated authority. Government have delegated certain authority to the commissioner and the commissioner has taken action in the ordinary course of things. I really wonder if the Government can be censured for the act of a certain officer who has got the power to do a thing and does it.

Mr. Speaker : Is not the commissioner given certain power under the law ? If powers under section 82 have been delegated to the commissioner under the Municipal Act, is Government not responsible for his acts ?

Premier : How can Government be responsible for every act of its officials ? I think if adjournment motions were allowed on every act of omission or commission of the officials then we will go on discussing adjournment motions in this House and nothing else. As a matter of fact I was going to make an appeal to my friends opposite again, but that stage will come later, after we have disposed of the adjournment motion.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : The question is a very simple one. I want to know whether it was open to Government to remedy the wrong done by the commissioner. If it was and they have not done it they have failed in their duty and they are open to censure.

Premier : No remedy short of suspending it.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : The commissioner was authorised to make certain nominations and to increase the number.

Sardar Hari Singh : If you refer to section 14 of the Act, you will find the following words :—

Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing sections of this chapter, the Provincial Government may at any time, for any reasons which it may deem to affect the public interests, or at the request of a majority of the electors, by notification, direct—

(e) that the number of seats on any committee shall be increased or reduced.

The local Government is authorised under the Act to increase the number of seats. The number of seats have been increased. The section itself says, that the number of seats in a committee can be increased or decreased by the local Government. Then it says :—

'That any places on a committee which are required to be filled by election shall be filled by appointment.'

It must have been under the orders of the local Government that the seats were filled by appointment. If the Government is not responsible for the act of the commissioner, then who else is responsible ?

Mr. Speaker : There may be two or more notifications under section 14 of the Municipal Act. Certain powers, very comprehensive powers, are given to the local Government, as regards the first class municipalities. Section 34 of the Municipal Act is clear. All powers under section 14, which have been vested by law in Government with regard to first class municipalities, can be delegated by Government to commissioners. Now the question is whether this has been done by Government, that is to say, whether they have delegated powers and whether they have allowed the commissioner to make 14 instead of 12 nominations. I think the responsibility for acts of officers of Government is on the Government. If he acts against law, an adjournment motion can certainly be moved. That cannot, I think, be doubted or denied. (Cheers from the Opposition Benches). As to the question whether the commissioner's action also can form the subject of an adjournment motion, I have no doubt that Government's responsibility is there and this cannot be denied or doubted. (Cheers). Now, the further question is of urgency. If this thing was done on the 1st June and to-day is the 23rd June and the Assembly met on the 20th, I do not think that the motion has lapsed. Therefore, I ask the honourable members if there is any objection to the motion being allowed. (Voices : No objection).

(After taking the sense of the House Mr. Speaker decided that the motion be taken up after the day's business is finished or at 5 o'clock, whichever was earlier.)

THE PUNJAB RESTITUTION OF MORTGAGED LANDS BILL.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Sir, I beg to introduce the Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill.

Minister for Revenue : Sir, I beg to move—

That the Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the following with instructions to report on or about the 27th June, 1938 :—

The Honourable Minister for Development,

Sardar Hari Singh,

Chaudhri Muhammad Hasan,

Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Ekmal Ali,

Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah,

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath,

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri,

Rai Bahadur Binda Saran,

Mr. S. P. Singha,

Fir Akbar Ali,

Sardar Jogindar Singh Man,

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan,

Malik Berkat Ali,

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan,

Advocate-General,

Nominee of the Speaker, and

The Mover ;

and the quorum will be 7.

Mr. Speaker : The question is that—

The Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the following with instructions to report on or about the 17th June, 1938 :—

The Honourable Minister for Development,

Sardar Haki Singh,

Chaudhri Muhammad Hameed,

Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Husein Ali,

Sayad Muhsinik Ali Shah,

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath,

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukund Lal Puri,

Rai Bahadur Binda Saran,

Mr. S. P. Singha,

Pir Akbar Ali,

Sardar Joginder Singh Man,

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan,

Malik Barkat Ali,

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan,

Advocate-General,

Nominee of the Speaker, and

The Mover ;

and the quorum will be 7.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath (East Punjab, Landholders) :

Sir, it is my painful duty to oppose the motion which has been brought forward by my revered friend, the Honourable Minister for Revenue, with whom I have always walked in the same lobby hand in hand. I strongly object to the principle on which this Bill has been framed. More than once, assurances have been given from Treasury Benches that the scope of the Land Alienation Act will not be extended. Even in the manifesto of the Unionist Party, there is absolutely no promise of extending the scope of this Act. I cannot imagine a more objectionable way of extending the scope of the Land Alienation Act than by giving it a retrospective effect. I invite the attention of the House to section 298 of the Government of India Act. Clause (1) lays down the principle that with regard to the acquisition of property no distinction of caste or creed or race will be allowed. Clause (2) refers to the Land Alienation Act as an exceptional measure. But there is no authority given for allowing retrospective effect to this sort of legislation, which has always been of a controversial character and which is imbued with the principle of class discrimination.

It seems to me that the mind of the Ministry is working in a wrong groove. They have been telling us that whenever relief is given to the peasantry and consequently there is financial loss to the provincial government, the loss would be equitably distributed among the richer classes, both urban and rural. In fact a declaration to that effect was made in the address which was presented to His Excellency the Viceroy when he visited the province last and which I was asked to read. My action then was called in question in the press, but I did not explain my motive. I, however, once explained in this House that my real motive was to help in making this announcement. Now, up to this time no measure has been brought forward by which relief to the peasantry has been granted and the loss thus caused to the budget has been equably thrown on the bigger landlords. This is one objection on principle.

I also object to this Assembly exercising its power of interfering with proprietary rights which were exercised in the past under the law which was then in force. What is there, then, to prevent this Assembly consisting of a majority of statutory agriculturists from interfering with the proprietary rights themselves. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: They will.) I therefore object to the Bill on this ground also. You know very well that the value of land both urban and rural has appreciated very much. Supposing Government bring forward a Bill tomorrow to cancel all the sales that have been effected within municipal areas where the price has gone up thirty or forty-fold, providing that the purchasers should be paid back the money with interest, say at 6 per cent., since the purchase was made. What is there to prevent them from bringing forward such a measure? I must therefore strike at the principle of the Bill and raise my objection at the very commencement. Of course hopes have been created in our minds in the course of conversation that the preamble of the Act and the distinction made between agriculturist and non-agriculturist mortgagees will be removed. But where is the guarantee that the select committee can do this? Even granting that the select committee can do this, where is the guarantee that it will unanimously accept this proposal? Shall we have only to be content with writing minutes of dissent? Even assuming that the select committee accepts the suggestion or the proposal unanimously, is there any guarantee that this House constituted as it is, will accept it? Under those circumstances it is my paramount duty to raise my objection at the very outset. I therefore object to the Bill going to select committee. The policy adopted by the Congress in other provinces has been held up to us as a bugbear. (An honourable member: It is not a bugbear to us.) It has been said that the Congress has gone much beyond what is proposed here. (An honourable member: In the wrong direction.) As far as I am aware the Congress has up to this time not interfered with proprietary rights. (Hear, hear.) They have only reduced the rate of interest and have not allowed the interest to go up to double the principal amount. This Bill does not even observe the damdupat principle.

I need not make my speech very long. I think I have given the salient points on which my objection is based. I hope that I shall be supported by the Congress members who are strong advocates of non-discrimination. Now I want to put their professions to test. I want to see whether they are opposed to all discriminatory legislation. Here is the Bill which is distinctly of a discriminatory character which in my opinion ought not to be allowed to go to select committee. With these remarks I resume my seat.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri (Rawalpindi Division, General, Rural): Sir, this piece of legislation deals with important rights and is of a highly contentious nature and ought not to be dealt with in a light-hearted manner. It is a matter which according to the calculation of the Muslim correspondent of the Civil and Military Gazette affects crores of rupees belonging to the Hindus and Sikhs of the province. I therefore crave on behalf of the people the indulgence of a reasonable opportunity of putting their point of view before the House. I know some of the honourable members propose to stifle discussion here by interruptions. The Government have already effectively prevented the public from coming to know of this legislation, by failure to publish the Bill in time. This will not however deter me from doing my duty and exposing the iniquity of the measure. Sir, this Bill is alleged to have been brought forward with the object of allowing certain mortgages to be redeemed on the ground that they were effected before 1901, and if effected after 1901 they would have contravened the provisions of the Punjab Land Alienation Act. Sir, the Punjab Alienation of Land Act has its supporters and its detractors. It is considered a blessing by some and a curse by others. Whatever view might be held, it is no doubt true that it confers certain economic and political advantages on certain castes and tribes who are designated as statutory agricultural tribes. I do not propose to enter into the controversy relating to the merits of the Act except to note that there is a short difference of opinion on this point. If the Act is a blessing, at least more than half of Punjab's population is deprived of that blessing. A majority of the population of this province at least is deprived of those economic and political privileges. Therefore, it is not an unmixed blessing. The Act certainly confers certain economic disabilities on the so-called non-agriculturists re. purchase of land and realization of their debts. According to the census, the population of this province belonging to the non-statutory agricultural tribes is 56 per cent. or more. There was a very persistent and genuine agitation on behalf of these persons who are deprived of these economic and political privileges for the redress of their grievances by repeal of the Act or, at any rate, for modifying the rigour of the disadvantages under which they suffered, on account of this Act. Therefore, ever since the Reforms, the Punjab Government felt themselves on the horns of a dilemma. On the one side there were the statutory agricultural tribes who wanted to stick to the undue privileges given to them by a foreign Government, who had created for their own purposes, another class or caste in this country. It is well known that an agriculturist in this province is not determined by his occupation but by accident of birth, the definition of agriculturist is not economic but tribal. On the other hand there was a majority of the population of the province who were crying for the removal of the disabilities under which they had been placed or, at any rate, for the modification of the Act on some rational principle. Therefore, the Punjab Government after consideration, deliberately laid down, that "the principles or the provisions of the Land Alienation Act will neither be extended nor restricted". This was considered unjust at the time by the non-agriculturists as it frustrated their hopes of repeal of the Act. The Government was dominated at that time by members of agricultural tribes. There was no greater supporter of Land Alienation Act than the late revered Sir Fazl-i-Hussain and on the floor of the Legislative Council he declared that it was the settled policy of the Punjab Government that the provisions of the Land Alienation Act would neither be extended nor restricted and this declaration was not only made casually but most solemnly with the support of his followers who were members of statutory agricultural tribes and with the support of the Government of which he was a member. That policy had been so far consistently followed. There were alleged attempts to restrict the principles of the Act and therefore several minor amendments were made with a view to remove doubts and to ensure that the advantages conferred on the indebted agriculturists by the Punjab Land Alienation Act were not restricted, but this was on the avowed ground that the provisions of the Act were neither to be entered nor restricted. The matter again came up before the Punjab Government when our present Premier, Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan, himself was a member of the Government. Our Premier, reiterated on the floor of the House—I am using his own words, those of you who wish to see them might find them in the reports of the Legislative Council—that it is the settled policy of the Punjab Government that the provisions of the Land Alienation Act will neither be extended nor restricted and at that time he said, "I am not only speaking on my behalf but I am speaking on behalf of the Punjab Government". (Interruption.) I am told that the old Government is gone, although this declaration to which I am referring was made only two years ago. It was made by the present Premier. He made it on his own behalf in the first instance and he also said that he was making it on behalf of the Punjab Government. I do not wish to take any note of the interruption of Pir Akbar Ali but may I ask Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan as to what has occurred during this year and a half which has led him thus unabashedly to change his policy? (An honourable member: A great revolution.) My friend, with all his socialistic principles is after all a Jat. Jat-ism is ingrained in him in spite of the professed Bolshevik principles which only appear to be borrowed plumes. What has happened? What has happened is a political iniquity of the greatest magnitude, the securing of political importance and power by manipulation of franchise and gerrymandering of constituencies. Now, Sir, if the population of the Punjab consists as it does of 56 per cent. of the non-agricultural tribes, any fair system of representation would ensure to them at least approximately, about 50 per cent. membership of this Assembly, if not more. But the late Government, which was dominated by members of statutory agricultural tribes, who occupied all positions of vantage, power and influence so manipulated the franchise and so distributed the constituencies, that the members of non-agricultural tribes who constitute 56 per cent. of the population of the province, were able to return less than 20 per cent. members.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : Are you censuring the Government?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Yes. (An honourable member: The old government?) The present Government too. (Hear, hear and applause.) May I be permitted to make my observations without interruption?

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : On a point of order. You were pleased to allow the honourable member to move an amendment and so far we have been waiting to know what that amendment is. Instead of that we are hearing a speech without knowing what the amendment is.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : The amendment stands on the order paper and if my honourable friend who has interrupted me is ignorant of it he has only to thank himself.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has not read out his motion yet.

Raj Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : If that formality has not been observed I will do so now. I beg to move :

That the Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting public opinion thereon by the 16th January, 1934.

I was pointing out that by a misuse of their influence and power, a situation has been brought about by which less than 45 per cent. of the population is able to return 80 per cent. of the members of the legislature and that seems to have turned the heads of certain members. One of the honourable members just now said that the present government is not the old government of the Punjab. But is that the reason why, having been accidentally and wrongly returned to this Legislative Assembly in larger numbers than you deserve, you want to take this earliest opportunity of pouncing upon the rights of those who unfortunately are not returned to this House? Is that your only justification for bringing in a legislation of this type within a year and a half of that solemn declaration? Is there any sense, or reason in support of the legislation or any legitimate ground for it. Has anything been brought to light, during the interval either by way of investigation or by way of expert opinion, which has led the Punjab Government to throw overboard a policy which has been consistently followed up to date, and which has the sanction of such important persons as the late Sir Faal-i-Husein? In view of what I have stated about the previous history of this question one would expect that the Punjab Government would not extend the provisions of the Land Alienation Act at all. But what we find here is that not only is the Punjab Land Alienation Act going to be amended but it is proposed to give it a retrospective effect. It is sought by this proposed legislation to give the old Act a retrospective effect. It is proposed to repudiate and negate the rights lawfully acquired and held, rights which are now almost four decades old. I submit, Sir, that such a legislative iniquity, I have no other word to use except that, such a legislative iniquity is unique in the annals of civilised democratic legislation. (Hear, hear.) All good and just laws protect existing rights lawfully acquired. But in this province we live in fright and panic, under what my honourable friend has been pleased to call, a new government, under a new legislative dispensation where no right, however just and lawful, is safe from the misguided zeal of legislative depredations. I respectfully submit, that this House should not be a party to such a revolutionary proposal which is subversive of all principles, so far recognized. Again what is the compensation provided for the dispossessed mortgagee under the Bill? I submit, Sir, it is a heartless mockery. The Bill is nothing but a measure of unabashed expropriation. Although in the statement of objects and reasons a reasonable compensation is provided, the sections in dealing with the question of compensation reduce the compensation to mere nothing.

Now if you turn to section 7 sub-section (3) it is laid down "if the collector considers that after taking into consideration the value of the benefits mentioned in sub-section (2), some payment is due to the mortgagee under the contract of mortgage the restitution of land shall be made subject to the payment of compensation not exceeding the following rate:—

(a) thirty times the land revenue assessed on the land at the time when it was mortgaged if the mortgagee has been in possession for a period exceeding thirty years but not exceeding forty years ;

(ii) fifteen times the land revenue assessed on the land at the time when it was mortgaged if the mortgagee has been in possession for a period exceeding forty years but not exceeding fifty years ;

(iii) five times the land revenue assessed on the land at the time when it was mortgaged if the mortgagee has been in possession for a period exceeding fifty years."

Supposing after allowing for everything that the mortgagor has paid, Rs. 10,000 is due to the mortgagee and the mortgage is 50 years old. According to the Act, all that the mortgagee would be entitled would be 3 times the land revenue, not the present land revenue but the very low land revenue which used to be assessed in 1880. That might amount only to Rs. 100. Therefore a person who after having accounted for everything that he has received has a balance of Rs. 10,000 due, will be entitled only to Rs. 100 or Rs. 200. (A voice : Wrong calculations.) If they are wrong my esteemed friend should correct them. I am prepared to give way. It appears that my friend has not up till the present moment read the Bill. I know, the provisions are ridiculous, but let him read the Bill and he will find that my contention is correct. Again what connection is there between land revenue and the amount that may be due on a mortgage. Land revenue is never fixed with reference to the amount of mortgage, nor has in fact the land revenue any connection with the value of the land. It might have something to do with the produce or net income from the land. Therefore, while fixing the basis of compensation as so many times the land revenue, I submit there is neither logic nor sense nor reason in it. It is like this. Five elephants are found due and the compensation is 5 mangoes or 5 couries or 5 reeries (laughter). This is the kind of legislation which we are asked to pass in this House without circulation, without discussion, sitting in the cool heights of Simla where we are immune from the public influence or opinion and where we have no literature to supplement our efforts in pointing out the defects of this legislation.

Sir, I wish to invite the attention of the House to another matter of great importance, a matter which vitally affects the rights of the inhabitants of this province. The present Punjab Government appears to have evolved a new technique of legislation which runs counter to the well established practice in other democracies. It is to spring a legislative surprise on the unsuspecting victims of legislative expropriation. No time must be given to the persons who are to be adversely affected to educate public opinion and instruct their representatives in the Legislature to raise their voice or protest. Even the persons who are to benefit by it are to be taken unawares and nothing else is to be considered except party advantage. May I ask the Premier or the Member in charge a question? I was pointing out that a new technique seems to have been evolved by the present Government and that is to spring a legislative surprise on the victims of their contemplated expropriation and to rush through the legislation behind their back and without their knowledge. I ask the Honourable Premier, is not that true? If this is not so, what else is the meaning of precipitate haste with which this legislation is being rushed through? The Bill was published for the first time in the Punjab Gazette on the 21st of June.

Lala Duni Chand: You have contributed to that mentality of the Premier.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri: The Gazette which publishes this Bill bears the date 21st of June. I had gone down to Lahore yesterday in connection with my professional work and I wish to tell the House that even the regular subscribers of the Gazette at Lahore did not receive that Gazette till the afternoon of the 22nd June. In connection with my professional work I paid a visit to the Bar Room of the District Court as well as the High Court, where you have an intelligent, well-informed and highly educated set of persons and none of them was even aware of the existence of the intention of the Government to put forward any such measure. Today, on the 23rd of June, the Bill is being debated upon in the cool heights of Simla, far away from the homes of unsuspecting victims whom it is intended to expropriate and who are happily and designedly unaware of it. Even the educated persons or newspapers did not know of any such legislation up till today. Now whom is this legislation intended to affect? Not persons living in Simla, or Lahore or even in towns or any smaller urban areas. Ninety-five per cent. of the mortgagees whom it is intended to affect are persons living in villages, living in remote villages of Campbell-pure, Muzaffargarh, Dera Ghazi Khan, Multan and other districts. Now before you proceed to deprive these people of lakhs of bighas of land which are in their possession not for the last few years but for forty or fifty years, before you rob them of crores of rupees which up till today is secured to them by the first mortgage of immovable property, the best security in all civilised countries, is it not fair that these victims should at any rate be made aware that such a matter is contemplated so that they might, if they so choose, make any representations to the Government and to this House? They should be given time to get into touch with their representatives in this Assembly at least, so that their grievances might be ventilated in this House. Now if the first information vouchsafed to the public is through the instrumentality of the official gazette which was available in Lahore at the earliest on the 22nd of June and which in other towns would be available today, is it fair to the vast mass of illiterate Punjabis, scattered in remote villages of the province, to start discussion of a matter like that in this House on the 23rd June? I wish to tell the Honourable Premier that he is setting a very bad example. I am sure in a matter like this he would be supported by the Congress. The Congress have the intention of passing similar expropriatory legislation, they are burning with a desire to deprive the landholders of the land which they possess and to distribute it more equitably among the vast landless members of the community. They would like one fine morning sitting probably not at Simla but at a still remoter place, say, at Ootacamund or Naini Tal or perhaps Wardha to confiscate the lands of the landholders, before the landholders become aware of the intention of the Government to do so. This hasty method of legislation, this new technique deserves the strongest possible condemnation, amongst other grounds, on the score of creating bad precedents, which are likely to be taken advantage of by any party in power.

[B. B. Mukand Lal Pur.]

I would submit to this House that it should cultivate healthy traditions. It would be one of the most unhealthy traditions that a legislative enactment of such a contentious character—a legislative enactment which does not deal with one individual but deals with thousands of individuals scattered all over the province—should be introduced into the Legislative Assembly on a day before any one in the province, outside this House, is aware of it. I find from the Orders of Business supplied to us that the intention is that this legislation, in whatever form, should be rushed through and finished at Simla in this Session, i.e., within next ten days or so. If this is so, nothing could be more reprehensible. The various stages of publication, circulation, reference to Select Committee, consideration and report of the Select Committee and the procedure prescribed by the rules is intended to ensure a careful consideration of the proposed legislation. If these stages are omitted or rushed through, it would be defeating the object of the rules. The proceedings before Select Committee usually take two months. That period is cut down to four days and there are the long working days of Council. The Select Committee is asked to report by 27th. Why this inordinate haste specially when the publication in the Gazette was delayed? If this is the way in which reforms are to be worked and the work of the present Assembly carried on, then the present democracy is worse than any despotism that can be instituted. Previously the parties were not so strictly organised. The fair sense of justice of some members, to whatever party they might belong, occasionally impelled them to get up and criticise measures which they considered to be wrong and that led the Government to change their view whatsoever they may have intended to do in the beginning. But now, under the party machine, the mouths of most people are shut except those whose mouths cannot be shut. I know there are several Muslim members belonging to statutory agricultural tribes who would not like to rush with this measure. (Voices: No, no.) (Premier: Question.) I do not accept that statement in spite of a few noes as some members have spoken to me personally but, if it is so, it is one of the most shameless instances which can possibly happen. The duty of the party in power—whether it is the Government of the Congress or whether it is the Government consisting of the zamindars—is to protect the interest of all classes of people. They may have eighty per cent. majority, they may have even ninety per cent. majority, but when the legitimate interests of those persons who are not properly represented, come before them, it is their duty to protect them. If the party in power deliberately contrives to prevent the persons adversely affecting the legislation to become aware of it, before it is passed, it is the height of unfairness and injustice. It is against the spirit of the constitution and also against the rules which insist upon publication and various other stages in legislation. I, therefore, beg to protest as emphatically as I possibly can against the unfairness of the procedure which is being followed in this case. Sir, it is not possible to deal with all the principles which seem to have been violated in framing this measure but I wish to refer to one danger which is patent on the face of the Bill, that a new despotism is being created under the shadow of a democratic form. The instrument of this despotism will be the executive in the person of the collector. The civil courts and judiciary are gradually being ousted by executive process. This tendency which is so manifest in the series of agrarian legislation, which we now find before the Assembly must be condemned, for a strong and independent judiciary is the best bulwark of rights and liberties of the subject. Under Section 12 of the present Bill civil courts are debarred from dealing with the subject matter of the Bill. The subject matter of this Bill relates to the property rights which have existed for the last fifty years. Under the Bill, they will be disposed of not by a non-partisan tribunal but by an executive officer who in all respects has to carry out the orders of a party executive. Again Sir, it is a discriminatory legislation, a class legislation of the worst type. It expropriates and confiscates the mortgages effected in favour of a particular class, i.e., mortgages in favour of those persons who do not happen to be members of the statutory agricultural tribe. The mortgagees—I make this assertion without fear of any contradiction—with respect to transactions proposed to be dealt with by the Bill, about ninety-nine per cent. of them, are Hindus and Sikhs and I say with all the emphasis at my command that this is an attempt to rob the Hindus and Sikhs of their crores of rupees. (Voices: No. no.) (Voices from the Opposition Benches: Why did you join that party then?). In whatever form you may choose to disguise your intentions, the fact remains that whatever money is to be confiscated or whatever land is to be taken back, ninety-nine per cent. of that land or that money belongs to the Hindus and Sikhs of this province—and particularly those Hindus and Sikhs who do not happen to belong to the favoured tribes to which my honourable friend belongs. The entire money and land—which it is intended to confiscate and resume, on payment of no compensation or nominal compensation—belongs to this class and, therefore, in bringing this legislation the present Government, which professes to be non-communal, should have taken steps, for the sake of its own reputation, to avoid the criticism of robbing the Hindus and Sikhs alone of their land and money. If the desire of the Government or of any member is to afford any relief to any mortgagor who may have been unfairly dealt with by the mortgagee, why did not they bring forward a legislation which should equally apply to members of statutory agricultural tribes as well as to members of non-statutory agricultural tribes. You will kindly observe that it is not alleged that the mortgages in favour of members of statutory agricultural tribes are any the less onerous or any the more equitable. They stand on the same footing and if examined they will be found more exacting. The mortgages after 1901 are in favour of Muslims and other statutory tribes. But the present Government seems to have succeeded in deluding some members of the Congress Benches, who are not lawyers and who have not evidently so far read the provisions of the Bill into a belief that this legislation is not of a party or a class character but a legislation which is intended to improve the lot of mortgagors and is of the nature of the indebtedness legislation. If it were so, we would have expected that the Bill would have dealt with all kinds of mortgages whether in favour of statutory agriculturists or non-statutory agriculturists and whether effected before or after 1901. Why is it limited to mortgages before 1901? A very large number of mortgages belonging to members of statutory agricultural tribes must have realised their dues several times over, during the boom period. Why are they being excluded? The fact is that the Bill has been introduced on communal grounds. It is a communal measure and has been so clothed as to disguise its real character. However expropriatory the legislation, one might put up with it, if it applied to all classes equally, Muslims and non-Muslims, members of statutory agricultural tribes and those who are not in that position of privilege. But if you propose a discriminatory legislation of this character, the Congress party, unless it has decided to give up its principles of holding the scales even between all classes of people, between the influential and less influential, between class and class, will be in duty bound to oppose it. But I am surprised to find that there are currents and cross currents, and some Congress members whom I have always designated as "Government wing of the Congress Party" and some who masquerade as socialists have deluded themselves into a wrong belief as to the nature and scope of this legislation and have induced others to be content with proposing an amendment making the Bill applicable to all classes of mortgagees, agriculturists and non-agriculturists.

It is no consolation, I appeal to the Congress party, to the people to know that they propose to move an amendment which is certainly bound to be defeated and not oppose the inequitable legislation which without the amendment is equally unacceptable to them. I warn them that they have been led into a trap by the machinations of certain designing persons. I wish to reiterate that the Congress party is doing injustice to a class which does not deserve this treatment at its hands. It is the height of ungratefulness to desert its best supporters and to refuse even to give them an opportunity of presenting their case. I have every hope that the Congress, consisting as it does of the enlightened intelligentsia of the province and represents patriotic effort at its best, will know how to perform its duty at the proper time. I hope, my appeal will not go in vain.

Sir, may I frankly and undeservedly state why, if this legislation is to be passed, I want Muslim and agriculturist mortgagees to be included in this legislation? I have already stated that this legislation whomever it affects is of a revolutionary and expropriatory character and should not be brought on the statute book. I am averse to all expropriation. It would be no consolation to me to learn that Muslim mortgagees are also going to be expropriated. I state, Sir, that if the entire body of mortgagees in this case were Muslims, instead of Hindus and the mortgagees were Muslims, I would oppose the legislation as vehemently as now. I am opposed to such legislation on principle. Why I wish some Muhammadans or some members of the agricultural tribe to be included in the legislation is that one of the clauses in the Bill provides for a reasonable compensation being given to the expropriated mortgagees and there is absolutely no possibility of a decent and reasonable expropriation price being fixed by this House or by this Government unless there are some Muslim or agriculturist mortgagees. If there were even a score of Muslim mortgagees or the statutory agricultural tribe mortgagees, whose lands were likely to be expropriated the compensation to be paid will be much greater than the eye-wash compensation which is proposed in this Bill. I am positive that if a legislation of a proper kind were brought in, in which all classes were included, Government would be bound to lay down a reasonable standard which would satisfy all the classes.

Premier : May I submit that we are wasting the time of the House ? For nearly three-quarters of an hour we were discussing the admissibility of the adjournment motions and we have only been able to do the real business of the House for about 45 minutes. I beg to submit that we might sit, after the adjournment motion, and finish the business, even if we have to sit till 11 o'clock in the night.

Mr. Speaker : Why not take up the adjournment motion at 11 A.M. tomorrow ? We may then meet again at 2-30 P.M.

Premier : I suggest that we take up the adjournment motion after the usual hours of business.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Again Sir, this legislation is being attempted without any enquiry as to the extent of the area to be affected by it. Is it 500 or 50,000 bighas ? Again this legislation is being undertaken without any enquiry as to the amount of money that may possibly be involved ? Is it one lakh or 10 crores of rupees ? Again this legislation is being effected without any enquiry as to the number of persons likely to be affected : are they 500 or 50,000. Again at any rate the House has not been taken into confidence : the country has not been taken into confidence. The public or members of this House know nothing about these matters. In fact the subject matter of this legislation has not been alluded to by the Government in any public statement. No question has ever been asked about this matter, no resolution has been moved or even sent in, and there has been no public demand for such legislation either in the press or otherwise. I state as a member of this Assembly and one who claims to be fairly in touch with what is going on, that I was entirely unaware of the intention of the Government to move such a measure till I came to Simla. I say, with his concurrence, the same about Raja Narendra Nath and a large number of other members of this House. I would seriously ask the Government to take the public or at any rate members of this Assembly into their confidence before springing upon them, at a moment's notice, legislation of such a novel and unique character ? Before the receipt of agenda, no member was at all aware of the intention of the Government to bring forward this legislation.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is repeating his argument.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : I was submitting, Sir, that the procedure relating to the introduction of this measure has been novel and unusual, entirely undemocratic and calculated to defeat the very essence of parliamentary government. This subject has not at all been before the public. Further, may I request that enquiry should be directed to find out whether the people who are to be expropriated are really rich ? Enquiry might show that most of the people who had land mortgaged to them in 1880 are owners only of those mortgage rights. This may be their only means of subsistence. They may own nothing else in the world. It is well-known that when the mortgage amount exceeds the price of the land it is not worth while for the mortgagor to redeem it nor necessary for the mortgagee to take steps to transfer the mortgage into a sale. Such old mortgages are really sales, because the amount due on the mortgage, exceeds the value of the property. Again, Sir, if the object of this legislation is merely to facilitate the redemption of certain mortgages by certain persons.

[R. B. Mukand Lal Puri.]

it could be easily done by amending the Redemption of Mortgages Act which is already on the statute book of the province. This is an Act which was passed in 1916 and amended in 1934, as a part of Indebtedness Relief Act of 1934. Under the previous Act, the procedure of the Act was limited to 30 acres and Rs. 1,000. Now it has been enlarged to 50 acres and Rs. 5,000. That limitation can be removed and the Act can be made applicable to all persons regardless of the area of land or the amount of money. That could be done if the only object is to facilitate redemption and not expropriation.

I submit, Sir, what objection could the Government, or the Congress or anybody have to circulation for eliciting public opinion in this case I submit for information of persons concerned? Under these circumstances it would be highly improper for the present Government or for the matter of that any Government to rush through this legislation—

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is again repeating his argument. If he repeats again I shall have to ask him to resume his seat.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri :—To rush through this legislation within a week without a proper enquiry.

Mr. Speaker : Motion under consideration, amendment moved is—

That the Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 15th January, 1939.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural) : Sir, I am quite conscious of the fact that whatever I am going to say will be said not only to an unsympathetic audience but to a most bitterly hostile audience. From the attitude displayed by the honourable members of this House when my honourable friend Mr. Mukand Lal Puri was speaking, it can be easily concluded that the attitude of this House is not one of tolerance. Common courtesy requires that tolerance should be extended to the minority in a legislative House and far more courtesy should be shown when it is known that that minority is a very small minority. When the majority party in the House is absolutely sure of its absolute majority, it ought to be more patient, more tolerant and more courteous than the honourable members of this House have been to-day. May I hope, Sir, that whatever little I have to say will be heard both with an open mind and tolerance.

I congratulate again my honourable friend Mr. Mukand Lal Puri on his very excellent speech and I congratulate also my honourable friend the Raja Sahib on his resurrection which I hope will be permanent. I am afraid I cannot congratulate the Honourable Leader of the House. We all believed and when I say this I say it most sincerely, that at one time we believed in the fairness and sense of justice of Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan. But I am very sorry to confess to-day that our faith in him is almost totally shattered. He has grown worse from day to day, perhaps not because he himself is not anxious that he ought to be fair and just to every party in this House and to every community in this province, but he is being dragooned—I suspect and, in fact, I am almost sure that he is being dragooned into such reprehensible measures by those who never had good feelings for non-agriculturists of this province; otherwise, I am sure, left to himself, he would have thought a hundred times before launching upon a legislation of this kind. It is really surprising that in a short session, there should be such a large crop of legislative measures, every one of which is stinging and every one of which is so poisonous so far as the non-agriculturist portion of the community in the Punjab is concerned. The other day, I said that British bureaucracy was better in this respect than our present autonomous Government. They showed some method in their madness, whenever they felt inclined towards madness, and the Honourable Premier flared up and he is now flaring up frequently and asked if it was madness to check dishonesty. "I am mad and every one of us is mad." What was the dishonesty that he wanted to check and what was the dishonesty that I wanted to protect or encourage here? The person, who borrows, borrows when he is in dire necessity. When he cannot meet his necessities of life he goes to a person who is comparatively better off, not necessarily a rich person, and he says, 'I am in need of money, my wife is sick, a child has been born to me, I have no money for medicine, for food or for physician, lend me 5 or 10 rupees.' That money is lent though the lender can hardly afford to part with it. Now you come here with this honest legislation and say that that money should be wiped out. Who is dishonest, those who borrow and will not pay or those who lend and ask for its return? I leave it to the Honourable Premier and to all fair-minded gentlemen to decide for themselves. This is the honesty that they encourage and this is the dishonesty which they are out to put down. I was really surprised at the enthusiasm and zeal that the Honourable Premier displayed. Now what is the basis of this legislation? I have tried to give my best attention to find out what the real motive of this measure could be and I assure you that the only thing I can imagine that could possibly enter into the minds of those who proposed this law can be this and only this. We must presume that those who lend are clever, we must presume that those who are in a position to lend are rich, we must presume that those who are in a position to lend are dishonest. Then we must presume that those who borrow are always poor; secondly, that those who borrow are always honest; thirdly that those who borrow are always idiots and are not in a position to look after their own interests. If this is not the basis of this legislation, then I call upon the Honourable Premier and the Honourable Minister for Revenue, who is entrusted with this measure, to point out what other justification can there be to set aside the contracts solemnly executed more than 87 years ago and it may be nearly 60 years ago. In 1901 an Act was passed which made it illegal for a member of a particular tribe to mortgage his land to a member of a particular tribe or a particular party. That Act has worked for 87 years. The land which was expected to pass into the hands of those who did not till the soil with their own hands, has, by this measure, been allowed to remain with those who till the soil. So far it is perfectly clear. Then it occurs to someone, who is extra clever, or who is extra vindictive or extra harsh upon the non-agriculturist to devise some other means, saying 'for 87 years we have succeeded in preventing the land from passing into the hands of non-agriculturists. Cannot we devise some measure to restore the land which had passed into the hands of non-agriculturists before the Act of 1901 was passed.' There would have been some sense, some reason, not a legal one, not a valid one, nor a moral one, but there might have been some sense in saying, 'well, there were some people, clever soldiers, who came to know that the Land Alienation Act was going to be passed in a few months time by the Imperial Legislative Council of that time and taking advantage of this knowledge of theirs and taking advantage of the ignorance of agriculturists they hurried them into certain mortgages and had certain lands mortgaged during those few months.' If this was done, there could have been some reason as it might have been considered an attempt to evade law. I do not admit that it is necessarily wrong to evade law, and it has been held by several high courts that to evade law by lawful means is not unlawful and is not criminal. Even the law of benami is recognised all over the world. No one has pronounced it a dishonest course. But then it might have been said that those persons have forestalled the law which was intended for the protection of the poor, honest, ignorant, and helpless agriculturists and therefore, out of pity it was necessary to do something at least to set aside those mortgages which were executed on the eve of the enactment of the Land Alienation Act. There might have been some sense in it. But I have never heard and perhaps you too, a very great lawyer, have never heard that an Act would be given retrospective effect after 37 years and more and thereby be an instrument of cancelling or setting aside solemn agreements, solemn contracts entered into so many decades ago. The limitation for redemption, as you know, Sir, is 60 years. There may be in existence some mortgages which were executed some 59 years ago, which would mean that some 22 years before the Act was enacted certain mortgages were entered into. Those people who mortgaged their lands are dead and probably their sons also are dead. Those in whose favour the mortgages were executed are dead and probably their sons also are dead. Now the dispute is going to arise between the grandchildren of the parties. Taking up the question of honesty and dishonesty, I ask you and through you the sponsors of this measure, have they any means to satisfy themselves that any particular mortgage effected say in 1880 was executed under unfair circumstances, that the mortgagor was defrauded, that he was ignorant, that he had no sense, that he was helpless and that advantage was taken of his helplessness, of his poverty and of his ignorance by the clever mortgagee and that he got valuable lands for a nominal consideration? If there are any means, are there any provisions in this Bill which necessitate an enquiry on that point? There is nothing said in this Bill on that point. All that is said is that the collector might ascertain how much benefit the mortgagee received during the time a certain mortgage has been in force, and if he finds that the mortgagee has derived benefit which equals or exceeds the amount of the original mortgage the land should forthwith be made over to the mortgagor or his successors in interest. That is what this measure wants us to agree to. What are the equities of this measure? What is the moral justification for this Bill? The Honourable Minister for Revenue might be owning many houses and they might have been leased for the past three generations. He might by this time have derived from those houses money which is several times the value of the houses. Is he to be asked to part with that property because out of that property he has made several times the amount which was spent originally on the houses? I shall take another case. The Punjab Government and the Government of India owe large sums of money to England and probably to other countries. The lowest rate of interest of which I am aware is 8 per cent. In some cases the rate may go up to 5 per cent. and even higher. Now, if a certain security is redeemable say after 50 years, in 50 years the amount of interest received by the security holder might be several times the amount of the original security. It is well-known that at 6 per cent. rate of interest, in 12 years the amount is doubled. At 8 per cent. rate of interest, in 24 years the security is paid up twice and in 50 years the security is paid back four times its original value. Now, is it possible for the Government of India or the Punjab Government to contemplate that all these debts would be wiped out because the security holders have received four times or at least double the amount of the security? Let them once make that announcement and they will go a-begging in the streets and they will not be able to raise a loan, because their credit would have gone to the winds. If they are not prepared to do that, why should they fall upon the poor non-agriculturists who have nobody to look after them? They are the most helpless people in this province. Why should you fall upon them? There was once a person who was addicted to bhang. He was very poor and could secure only a little bhang. He ground this little bhang thoroughly and drank it and a little nugda was left. Next day he again felt a need for the intoxicant but he could not get fresh bhang and so he ragrod the remnant and drank it. He went on in this way for several days until the nugda disappeared altogether. Similarly these gentlemen go on grinding the poor non-agriculturist and cannot do anything else but bring forward measures for the extermination of the poor non-agriculturists. Are there no other ways of helping the people? Are there no other measures to raise the status of the poor agriculturists? (Interruption.) I say in all seriousness, with all the earnestness that I can command, that this measure really is not worth the paper on which it is printed. I am surprised that these gentlemen are so devoid of the sense of fairness and justice that they are not able to see what they are doing.

Now, let me take the various aspects of this question. I shall not discuss the clauses at all. I may assure the honourable members of that Raja Sahib in his simplicity referred to the promises made on the floor of this House by Sir Fazli and Sir Sikander as if the promises made by these gentlemen count for anything at all. (Laughter.) I have known that one should not put his faith in the promises of princes. Now Sikander Hyat is a prince and his promises like the promises of princes have no value. The other day I confronted him with the promise which not Sir Fazl-i-Husain alone but he also had solemnly made on the floor of this House; and what did he say? He said that that Government had gone and that he was not now bound by that promise and that worse measures might follow. Probably he was then contemplating a mischievous measure like this. What did he say? He said that unless we had this measure certain people would demand worse things. By that, I think he meant that the agriculturists would create trouble for him, that there would be socialism in this province, that there would be communism and bolshevism and so on and that it was in our interest that he was proposing this measure. I must convey my thanks to him for such a solicitude displayed by means of these Bills for the poor non-agriculturists of this province. But let him rest assured that if trouble can be given by one party, it might also be given by the other party.

(Hear, hear.) When we are hungry and when we are deprived of our property, when there is nothing for us to live upon, are we afraid of anything that other people might do? He should remember that. Ultimately in politics, in administration, it is justice and justice alone which should be kept in view. Instead of showing the weakness which he has done by pandering to the unfair demands of his followers, he should have shown strength and said, "look here, our sacred scriptures say do justice to everybody, the teachings that we have received from our childhood will not permit us to propose any unfair measure. God has given me power. God has placed me in this position and it is my duty, it is my sacred duty, to do justice to everyone, even to the poor non-agriculturist who has neither sword nor talwar, and who did not threaten to fight or create lawlessness or trouble of any kind in the province." But he has unfortunately miserably failed in showing that strength. He has yielded to threats probably conveyed to him by his followers. (Interruption.) I shall also have something to say about the other gentlemen when their turn comes. But let me first settle with him. Now what is this measure? Only two years ago we had a favour shown to us by the Honourable Rao Bahadur Sir Chaudhri Chhotu Ram in the form of debt legislation—the Debtors' Protection Act—and before that we had another Act and so on. But bad as they were, they were not half so bad as this measure as under those Acts there is no provision that debts would be directly wiped out. Certain difficulties have been created in the way of further advances. Certain difficulties have been created in the way of realisation, by stoppage of arrest of debtors and attachment of certain kinds of property and so on. But so far as I recollect there is no provision in the Act that all debts shall be wiped out, which have been in existence for 20 or 30 or 40 years. If the grandfather of a certain creditor advanced Rs. 1,000 thirty years ago and the amount has not been paid and the account has been renewed from time to time, all that that Act says is that in future the creditor will not be entitled to recover more than double the amount of the principal which would be determined under the provisions of this Act. What does this Bill say? It says that if a mortgage has been held for a certain number of years and it is found that the benefit derived has equalled or exceeded the principal amount of the mortgage, ipso facto the mortgage will be redeemed and the land would be made over to the mortgagor. What is the difference? You will see. You are a lawyer and a mathematician and I am very happy to address you on this point. What is the difference? Ordinarily we were led to believe in business in banking, in commerce and everywhere else that a secured debt is better and has always preference over unsecured debt. Even in insolvency, a secured debt has preference. But what happens in this case? A secured debt is much worse than an unsecured debt, because my thousand rupees might have been standing against you for 20 years, you have been going on paying me interest say even at 6 per cent. or Rs. 60 a year for 20 years and you have paid me Rs. 1,200 and I have invested that amount somewhere in business or perhaps I have lent it again. But that Rs. 1,000 still stands against you and no law so far says that that Rs. 1,000 should not be paid to me because I have already received Rs. 1,200 in the form of interest. Now what the law says is that in future I shall not be entitled to receive more than Rs. 2,000 from you. This is the law as I understand it in the case of unsecured debt. Now here is a solemnly executed mortgage debt and simply because I have received the benefit which equals the principal amount of the mortgage I am not entitled to anything more! Could there be anything more oppressive, tyrannical and stupid than this? (Interruption.) I use this word deliberately and if it offends anybody I am prepared to withdraw it. Really the Bill has no sense and if they had given it more reflection they would have themselves realised the absurdity of the measure which they have put before us. I have never heard secured debts being treated like this. We have always been told that secured debts have always preference and in this case secured debts are being absolutely wiped out. They have tried to be generous in some respects! They say that if the debt has lasted for 50 years take five times the land revenue! Supposing I had 10 acres in 1880 and there was no land revenue assessed on the land, what am I going to get? Five into 0, which means zero! There is no provision for such cases in the Bill. Supposing it was assessed to annas 8 for the ten acres on which I gave Rs. 1,000 in 1880 and which owing to the present circumstances are now worth Rs. 10,000, here comes the honourable Sardar Sir Sundar Singh Majithia, the Minister in charge of Revenue of a big province like the Punjab and says, here it is, take Rs. 2-8-0 and walk out. Poor Sardar Sahib, he does not understand it. (Interruption.) I am giving him credit by saying that he does not understand what he is doing. I want to be charitable to him. He is only the hand and not the brain behind this measure. (Hear, hear.) I was giving him the benefit of innocence. But if he says that he understands everything then it means that he has also drifted with the current and has lost all sense of proportion, decency, fairness and justice. But it would be safer for him to say that the Government has drafted the Bill and being Honourable Minister Revenue he was entrusted with the piloting of it.

Raja Chazanfar Ali Khan: The honourable member has said that the Honourable Revenue Minister has lost all sense of decency and proportion. Is he in order?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: I say it again, Sir. The Bill placed before the House is a most indecent one. It does not show decency or sense or reason. I repeat it. But if it offends any one of the honourable members sitting on that side, I have no objection in withdrawing the words. But really they ought to take no offence when they are prepared to do such things and such acts of oppression and tyranny. They should not feel wounded with one little word because words will not break bones while they are going to destroy hundreds and thousands of people in this province and are going to deprive them of property worth crores. I am a non-agriculturist and there are 56 per cent. of such persons as Mr. Mukand Lal Puri, the mover of this motion, has pointed out. Probably these gentlemen are not aware—you might be aware—that only 20·5 per cent. of the people are landholders in this province. I am quoting an ex-Honourable Minister of this province. His speeches are printed and if anyone questions this statement I can show him the authority on this point, that only 20·5 per cent. of the population of this province are landholders. The rest are landless people. We are all landless people and it is this 20 per cent. of big landholders who want to crush and destroy 80 per cent. of people who have not got the good fortune of having any land and who are not engaged in agriculture.

Sardar Hari Singh : The time fixed for the adjournment motion was 5 o'clock. May I point out that it is now time for taking up the discussion of the motion ?

(At the instance of the Honourable Premier the Honourable Speaker decided that the adjournment motion may not be taken up at 5.)

Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang : Sir, I was discussing some aspects of the Bill and I was trying to point out that this Bill places the secured debts even in a worse position than unsecured debts. I would not repeat what I said in connection with this point, but I shall proceed to another aspect of the Bill. I have got a publication before me which is called 'The report on the land revenue administration of the Punjab for the year ending 30th September 1936.' A glance at page (iv) supplementary, where tables are given, statement No. 25, will show that the mortgages by agricultural tribes to agricultural tribes amount to more than 2 lakhs of acres in 1936, and mortgages by agricultural tribes to others amount to 1 lakh of acres, that is, less than half of the area which is mortgaged by agricultural tribes to agricultural tribes. The point that I want to make out from these figures is this, that this Bill is absolutely one-sided inasmuch as it affects only the non-agriculturists and not the agriculturists. If the object of the Bill, as all these honourable zamindar members understand, is to help the poor agriculturist, does he at once become rich when he mortgages the land to an agriculturist and is, therefore, not entitled to any commiseration, any sympathy and any relief. Are they in a position to lay their hands on their hearts and say that when an agriculturist mortgages his land to an agriculturist, he is honest, he is intelligent and he is rich and he is not in a helpless condition and that he is only ignorant and helpless when he mortgages his land to a non-agriculturist ? Do they honestly believe that he requires relief only when he borrows, and when his land is mortgaged in favour of a non-agriculturist and that he does not require relief in case his land is mortgaged in favour of an agriculturist ? What are those gentlemen to say ? I am sure that the Honourable Sir Chhotu Ram will never agree with them in this respect. He will certainly urge that if relief is to be given to the poor agriculturist, it must be given against the agriculturist as well as non-agriculturist. Then why this one-sided aspect of the Bill ? Why make it so invidious in its operation ? Simply because the sponsors of this Bill happen to be those gentlemen who have already mortgages in their own favour and if they were also included in this Bill their pockets and their rights would also be affected ? If that is so, are they honest in their professions that they are out to help the poor agriculturist ? Why did they not, if they wanted to have such a measure, make it comprehensive and make it imperative against agriculturists as well as against non-agriculturists ? Then, again, Sir, I would ask, have they taken into consideration the fact that some of the mortgagors might be big landlords ? They might be big Sardars, Nawabs and Khan Bahadurs with terras a yard high on their heads. Were they also helpless when they mortgaged their lands ? Were they also ignorant and did not know their interests when they entered into those transactions ? Were they also hoodwinked ? Were they in any way defrauded ? Certainly not. They did not require any help. Why are you helping them when they do not require help ? Why do you not extend this help against agriculturists ? Simply because it affects your interests ? It makes the operation of this measure absolutely vicious, one-sided, invidious and inequitable.

There is another aspect of the question. If you read the Bill carefully, you will find one very important provision, conspicuous by its absence from the body of the Bill. Take again, the case of an unsecured debt. In case of an unsecured debt, the provisions of law are, in spite of their drastic character, that the creditor will not be deprived of interest or principal altogether, simply because the debt is old. There may be other grounds, for example, non-compliance with certain provisions of one of these Acts for which a court might not give a decree either for the whole or for part of the interest for which a suit is brought. But there is no provision, so far as my knowledge goes, depriving a creditor, without any non-compliance with any provision of the law of the total amount due to him. What happens in this case? A man has taken a mortgage on thousand rupees. If it was an unsecured debt, he would have been entitled to a certain rate of interest, whether 6 per cent., 9 per cent. or 12 per cent., whatever might have been fixed, until the debt was paid. But now under the existing provisions he would be entitled to an amount not exceeding double the principal amount. That is certain and it is provided in the Act. But here all that is to be taken into consideration is the benefit received and no estimate has been made of the interest at a reasonable rate which must have accrued on the amount if there had been no mortgage and if the amount had been advanced without any security at all. I hope I have made myself clear to the Honourable Minister in charge of the Bill. Under the Relief of Indebtedness Act, the rate allowed is 9 per cent. compound interest with yearly rests and if the rate does not exceed 9 per cent. no court will hold the rate to be usurious and no deduction will be made. Nine per cent. compound interest is allowed with yearly rise on a secured debt under the Relief of Indebtedness Act; but under this Bill with regard to this very secured debt, the provisions, of the Relief of Indebtedness Act are indirectly cancelled. They are indirectly repealed, because if this Bill becomes law, then, besides the benefit that he has received, he will not be entitled to any interest whatsoever at the time of redemption even if interest has been provided. Nor is it clear whether interest is to be considered in calculating the benefit. Can there be anything more inequitable than this? They probably lost sight of the provisions which they themselves, as Government, had enacted allowing compound interest at 9 per cent. and without any limit of time the compound interest might have been realised by the creditor for 50 years, if the interest was paid from time to time or an acknowledgment was made or documents were renewed from time to time, yet his principal is not wiped out, not only his principal is not wiped out, but he is permitted to take an extra amount equal to the principal at the time of realisation and no court will deprive him of that.

Here is our Sardar Sahib who wants to deprive the creditor after a certain number of years of his principal amount which is secured to him by a regular mortgage. He may say, 'no, I have provided for certain compensation.' But what is the value of that compensation? Thirty times the jama. But it may be less than one-tenth of the principal amount. Compare this with the previous unsecured debts and the absurdity of the Bill becomes absolutely apparent even to a layman like the Honourable Sardar Sahib. Only if he had sufficient time to give to this point, I am sure he would have seen through it. Raja Sahib simply hinted—and it was a great thing for him to have got up and made even the short speech that he did considering his age.

health and other circumstances—he just referred to this matter. He said, what is the guarantee that to-morrow another Honourable Minister will not come forward with a Bill that all sales of land effected by agriculturists in favour of non-agriculturists at any time before 1901 or say 20 or 30 years before the Land Alienation Act was passed should be restored to the original vendors and compensation which may be equal to thirty times the jama of the land at the time of the sale might be awarded? What is there to prevent it? We have lived through many ages when without the pretext of any Bills or Acts properties were taken away. We have lived through those times. But after saying this you should not say that you are acting in a just and fair and honest manner. Suppose a man takes away something by force. He can say, "Well I am perfectly honest; this man is weak and I am strong. The weaker man has no right to exist." No doubt from a certain point of view he is quite correct. The weak have no right to exist in this world. But then, do not say that moral law rules the world. Say that it is the lathi that rules the world. There is the good old rule, the simple plan, "let him have who has the power. Let him keep who can." It will take us some time to learn these ways. We have been peaceful. We shall also learn and follow that principle. It is not very difficult. You will teach us how to protect ourselves against the rapacity whether in the form of law or in the form of lawlessness. That is what is going to happen.

Raja Sahib again referred to section 298 of the Government of India Act. But I do not know why he did not develop that point. The Honourable Premier made a little interruption and referred to the Land Alienation Act and the Raja Sahib probably thought that that was a complete answer to his argument based on the provisions of section 298. If the Raja Sahib had had a copy of the Government of India Act before him, I am sure, being an astute person and having administered law for a considerable number of years, he would have seen that his argument based on section 298 of the Government of India Act was one worthy of presentation to this House. I shall read out the provisions of that section:—

No subject of His Majesty domiciled in India shall on grounds only of religion, place of birth, descent, colour or any of them be ineligible for office under the Crown in India, or be prohibited on any such grounds from acquiring, holding or disposing of property or carrying on any occupation, trade, business or profession in British India.

Then comes the exception to which reference was made by the Honourable Premier.

Nothing in this section shall affect the operation of any law which—

- (a) prohibits either absolutely or subject to exceptions, the sale or mortgage of agricultural land situate in any particular area, and owned by a person belonging to some class recognised by the law as being a class of persons engaged in or connected with agriculture in that area, to any person not belonging to any such class; or
- (b) recognises the existence of some right, privilege or disability attaching to members of a community by virtue of some personal law or custom having the force of law.

Now, it may be argued that this sub-section which I have just now read has reference to the Land Alienation Act and probably correctly too. I am prepared to concede that. I am not prepared to accept it absolutely, but for the sake of argument I shall concede that that section has reference to the Punjab Land Alienation Act. What then? All that it means is that nothing that is said in sub-section (1) of section 298 shall militate against the provisions of the Land Alienation Act. Let us substitute the Land Alienation Act in sub-section (2). It will then follow that nothing in sub-section (1) of section 298 shall be deemed to repeal anything in the Punjab Land Alienation Act. Beyond that this exception does not go. Sub-section (3) cannot be construed to go further than that. Now, when I say that this Bill is aimed at confiscation of property and is intended to prevent a certain section of His Majesty's subjects in this province from 'holding' property, I do not violate any of the provisions of the Land Alienation Act, because the Land Alienation Act does not lay down within its four corners that any mortgage deed executed before 1901 shall be cancelled. It only affects transactions after the 8th June 1901, which I believe is the date when the Act came into force.

Subedar-Major Raja Farman Ali Khan : Will you allow us also on this side as much time as the honourable member is taking to place our side of the case?

Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang : Certainly you will have even two whole days to represent your views.

Now, Sir, what I am submitting is that the Bill as it stands militates against sub-section (1) of Section 298 of the Government of India Act and the exception does not help the Bill because of the fact that we are maintaining that we are not in any way going counter to the provisions of the Land Alienation Act, because we are dealing with the transactions which came into existence before the Land Alienation Act was enacted and before those by whom this measure was passed were even in the political field. I would therefore submit that this Bill is ultra vires of this Assembly and this Assembly has no right to proceed with the Bill as it has been drafted. I would be very glad to hear from any lawyer member on the other side what he has to say on this legal aspect of the question. But whatever the legal aspect may be, the argument remains that this is tantamount to confiscation and it is therefore unlawful as well as immoral.

Then I come almost to my last point. It has not been made clear whether any section of the public likely to be affected by this measure has been consulted. Mr. Puri said that the Bill was published in the Gazette on the 21st of June, day before yesterday. I never heard of it. I only read a reference to some proposal in the Tribune when I was enjoying a holiday in the happy valley of Kashmir—but I never believed that any body could contemplate any measure like the one under discussion. What I read was three or four lines in the Tribune to the effect that it was in contemplation to have some measure affecting mortgages, but this is down-right confiscation and nobody has had the opportunity of even reading this Bill. I do not know if the mortgagees who are to be affected by this Bill even know what is being proposed against them or even the mortgagors in whose professed interest this Bill is going to be enacted have had any opportunity of reading this Bill. I am not also aware if even the local officers have been consulted in connection with this Bill. But either they have kept this as a close secret or even they have not been consulted. But even if we assume that they have been consulted, I would submit that it is not sufficient. The press has not been consulted. No organisations have been consulted. No trader's associations or organisations have been consulted. No banks or companies or other persons who may be directly or indirectly affected by it have been consulted. I consider it the height of unfairness that a measure of this nature and importance should be rushed through the Assembly without the public being taken into confidence.

Then there is one more thing. Why is it that the present Government of the Punjab is fighting shy of judicial courts? Do they think that the judicial courts are made of all banias or mortgagées. (An honourable member : Mostly). No, not now. Those days are gone when you people were not properly qualified. They were first in the field and they got the jobs. But now I think the number of sub-judges of the agriculturist class is about the same as that of non-agriculturists. (An honourable member : Not yet). Then in another year or so it will be. Still I do not see any reason why they should fight shy of judicial enquiry. These deputy commissioners—I have every respect for them because after all they are the guardians of their districts and we depend upon them for protection and for various other things, but certainly apart from anything else, apart from the unconscious bias which they may have in favour of the agriculturist which every officer fortunately or unfortunately has, apart from that perhaps unconscious bias, is it not true that the deputy commissioner is an already overworked officer? He is the head of the district in almost every department. He is the district magistrate, collector of revenue, head of the excise, head of the police, registrar of the district and he is everything and so many reports have to come to him from various departments that it is impossible for him to devote himself with the same thoroughness to a case like this as a judicial officer would do. I would therefore submit that this aspect of the matter is also an important one and from this point of view the Bill is an extremely objectionable one. (An honourable member : You did not relieve him of the chairmanship of local boards.) I did wherever the demand came. But these gentlemen who are members of the district boards themselves fought shy; they did not have the courage to displace the deputy commissioners and therefore they could not pass resolutions. But whenever any resolution was passed and sent to me, I at once accepted it and displaced the deputy commissioner. It is you gentlemen who did not have the courage.

I have said enough. I know that anything I may say here is not likely to have much effect. But my hope in Sir Sikander is not entirely lost. My faith is almost shattered but that 'almost' has some scope and it is for him to revive people's faith in him, the faith of the minorities in him. But if he does not care, because he thinks that he is strong enough under recent developments or on account of the pressure put upon him or because other reinforcements have been assured to him and he does not care about what the Raja Sahib says or Mr. Puri says or others say, that is a different question. I have only to make a submission. I have done my duty and I leave them to do theirs. (Applause).

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : Sir, I will begin my speech by answering one or two points raised by my honourable friend, Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang who has just sat down. I will try to be as brief as possible. But since the subject has been most exhaustively discussed and several misconceptions seem to prevail among a section of this House, I think you will allow me the indulgence to try to meet those points as best as I can.

My friend and ex-colleague, Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang, began by saying that he has more or less lost his faith which he had in me in regard to my fair play and justice towards all classes and communities. He slightly minimised the emphasis which he laid in the beginning, in his closing sentence by saying that the confidence he had in me was almost shattered and he hoped that there was a possibility of that confidence being revived. Let me assure him that so far as I am concerned I stand where I was 6 years ago, 10 years ago or 15 years ago or 20 years ago. I have not shifted an inch from my position. My solicitude for the zamindars as well as non-zamindars based on equity and justice is the same to-day as it was 6 months or 18 months ago when my honourable friend was my colleague. (Hear, hear). Let me assure him that this Bill is not the result of a hurried consultation or what he called unnecessary hurry on the part of the Government to please a certain section of the community. Let me point out to him that we have been considering this measure not only since the advent of the new reforms, but that this question has been considered on several occasions even under the previous reforms and even prior to that.

6 P.M.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Not to my knowledge.

Premier : No. I am afraid, you were probably out of touch and presumably it did not matter to you so long as the evil was merely more or less theoretical and not a practical danger. He also stated that the position of the non-agriculturist was likely to be affected adversely under the new Government and that it was worse now than it was under the British bureaucracy. If by non-agriculturists he means the handful of people who resort to unclean moneylending or who have adopted the profession of dishonest moneylending I dare say that his fears are not unjustified. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : No.)—But if he means the bulk of the non-agriculturists then I beg to challenge that statement which he has made and I think that I will be able to prove that this Government is as fair and as just to the non-agriculturist as it is to the agriculturist. Why have I made an exception of that handful of people who have resorted to such moneylending? Because my honourable friend who is a very able lawyer knows it perfectly well that the moneylender is an institution, a necessary institution and a very beneficial institution and this institution has been in existence not since the advent of the British Raj or during the last century but from times immemorial and the money-lender is a part and parcel of the village community. But then he was respected, loved and held in esteem by the village community. Why, because there was moral sanction and the sanction of the Panchayat in the village society and social sanction behind him, but when the British bureaucracy came here, what happened? They enacted laws which gave undue shelter as lassis fairs to these people and they converted the honest money-lenders into the dishonest money-lenders. I am inclined to blame the British bureaucracy for most of the troubles which the agriculturist is suffering at the hands of the money-lenders, for turning an honest money-lender into a dishonest money-lender by passing anti-usury legislation and it is for that reason that we have to bring forward measures to undo the mischief that was done during that period when undue shelter was given to these people. That is our unfortunate and unpleasant duty. But let me assure you that this Government in spite of the chafing and in spite of the accusations will stand firm like a rock and will see that that position is rectified and that dishonest money-lenders are again converted into honest money-lenders, as they used to be (Ministerial cheers).

Lala Doshbandhu Gupta : May I know who were the gentlemen ?

Premier : My honourable friend has been feeling most uncomfortable since we started with this Bill (Voices : No, no.) My honourable friends say 'no', but if they were sitting in my place they would have seen the faces opposite and if I had a camera which could have taken pictures they would have seen with their own eyes who is the honest socialist and agriculturist on that side (Voices : No, that is not correct.)

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : We know our own minds better.

Premier : My honourable friend Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang also played with some of the observations which I made the other day when the Benami Bill was before this House. He said that was madness. Is it madness to check dishonesty ? If so, I would commit that madness everyday. I repeat these words. But he tried to meet it by saying, is it dishonest that a man should lend money to somebody else, somebody who was in distress who was ill, somebody who wanted to marry his son or daughter ? Is it dishonest indeed that he should in the time of need come to the assistance of that poor agriculturist ? No, I say it is not dishonest, I say not only that it is not dishonest but it is very magnanimous on his part to come forward to do so but did he do that out of charity or any charitable motive towards that agriculturist ? Rest assured no. It was only a spider's web and he wanted the fly to walk in.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : You know it is not true.

Premier : My honourable friend says, you know it is not true. I am sorry to say that for the reasons which I have just stated, the majority of the money-lenders is dishonest. It is true of the majority of them. But what is the result ? When they have woven the web, and when the poor fly is enmeshed they find that they cannot on account of this Land Alienation Act, swallow it. Therefore they get another agriculturist to help them to swallow it indirectly and my honourable friend tries to make out in this House that it is not dishonest. He went further and stated that it was not unlawful to evade the law. I admit that from a purely technical and legal point of view it is not unlawful, but has my honourable friend got no more conscience ?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : But is Land Alienation Act a moral law ? It is a most iniquitable and iniquitous law.

Premier : My honourable friend tries to justify his remarks. My honourable friend went on to explain certain mathematical formulae, and he asked, is it iniquitous that because certain people lend money to others on the security of their land that they should get interest at six per cent. per annum and he gave us that example of 6 per cent. compound interest doubling itself in 12 years and then quadrupling itself in another 12 years and so on. That is perfectly true but my honourable friend could if he had liked, explained the other side of the picture as well, that money is lent but the land passes from the borrower to the mortgagee. We are primarily enacting this law in respect of usufructuary mortgages with possession.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : They carry no interest.

Premier : Yes, they carry no interest. I would make myself clear if my honourable friend opposite would listen to me. A man borrows say a hundred rupees on a land which is worth five hundred rupees. The gentleman who has lent the money takes away that land. He takes the produce in lieu of interest. I am not going to anticipate my honourable friend who is in charge of the Bill. He will be in a position to cite several examples whereby my honourable friend's apprehensions would be found to be untrue and his contention would be belied. Supposing you take one-fifth of the capital value of the mortgaged land and you also assume that the return from the land is three per cent., and therefore the return on that one-fifth of the money would be 15 per cent. If that land has now been in possession of the mortgagee for fifty years and if you multiply 50 by 15 it comes to 750 per cent. Now is it equitable on our part to say that these people should benefit to the extent of 750 per cent. on the amount that they have lent and has not the time come when they should hand back the land to the person who got the money? That is all that we say. Again, he said, "What is the amount of compensation that you are going to give him." It was said that thirty times the land revenue is nothing at all. My honourable friend is a mathematician and you Sir, are also a mathematician but I am not. Let us take the example of some land in Lyallpur district which was mortgaged before the Lower Chenab Canal was introduced in that area. The value of that land was very little but land revenue there—let us take the lowest figure—was Rs. 2 though now it is Rs. 7.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Before the canal went there? Then there was probably no land revenue at all.

Premier : No, I was talking of average land revenue of canal and barren land. I am merely taking an average to cite an example. Take it as Rs. 2. 2 into 30 comes to 60. The owner will have to pay Rs. 60 an acre to get back the land which has been with the other fellow for fifty years. Now is that iniquitous or is this compensation unfair that the mortgagor should pay Rs. 60 per acre after the mortgagee has been getting Rs. 200 a year out of that land for fifty years for an amount which did not exceed two or three hundred rupees in the beginning.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Are you confining the Bill to Lyallpur?

Premier : No, I am giving an instance. Take the Hissar district where land revenue is very low. It is probably Rs. 0-1-6 per bigha. There the value of the land is very low and the amount which the mortgagee will lend on that land will be proportionately low. So the principle holds good in all these cases. If my honourable friend will apply himself to the other side of the picture, he will find that there is nothing iniquitous or monstrous in the Bill as he tried to depict. However, there may be differences of opinion. I am afraid he has not convinced me to shake me from my position. One of the points which he made was why did the Government fight shy of judicial courts. We do not fight shy of them. All that we want to do is to make the process of this return of land as simple as possible, we want to avoid unnecessary litigation and expense to the party and that can be done by giving this power to the Collector, and that is what we are doing. If my honourable friend has read the Bill, which I hope he has, he will find that we have tried to make all the provisions very simple and as water-tight as possible, but there may be a few questions of detail, which need reconsideration; we can discuss them in the Select Committee and straighten them up. Our main object is to make the measure as simple as possible so that there may be no avoidable litigation, unnecessary delay and worry and unnecessary exactions by petty officials.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : That is what I called the good old rule, the simple plan.

Premier : In good old days the people lent thousands of rupees without a promissory note and they returned that without any fuss. We want to bring back those good old days if my honourable friend does not wish to thwart me in my effort.

I will now take up a few of the points raised by my honourable friend Mr. Mukand Lal Puri who made a somewhat long speech but I do not grudge him his speech because he feels strongly on this point like my friend opposita. I suppose he has justified his position to his constituents, but the actual substance in his speech so far as I could gather is limited to two or three points. The first point that he made was that the agricultural population is 50 per cent. Let me assure him that that is not correct. If by agricultural population he means statutory agriculturist tribes, then he is probably very near the mark, but if he means agriculturists as a whole then he is wrong because I hold that between 80 and 90 per cent. of our population is in rural areas and consists of agriculturists. That is the exact proportion but so far as the statutory agriculturists are concerned, I believe he was very near the mark.

So far as the question of compensation is concerned I have already dealt with it in reply to the point made by Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang. My honourable friend repeated that we are rushing through this measure and he said that the present Government had acquired a new technique to spring upon the House such measures of a far-reaching effect. I assured my honourable friend yesterday and I repeat my assurance that it is not a question of springing up the measures at a moment's notice. It has taken us months and months of careful study and consideration before we drafted this Bill and came to the conclusion that it should take this particular form.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Did you publish it? Did you inform any one else outside the cabinet or make any public statement?

Premier : They will know everything when it is referred to a Select Committee. But even if we decide in this House that the principle which we have put forward in this Bill is correct, is equitable, is required in the circumstances of the province, then I am sure my honourable friend will agree with me that the question of detail cannot be discussed by public or by the press but by a Select Committee in which people of different points of view, people who are experts, will sit and deliberate and then formulate their proposals and send it back to this House. There can be nobody in a better position than this House after the considered advice of the Select Committee to decide whether it should proceed with the measure or not. How can my honourable friend expect that the Vernacular press in Lahore or perhaps a few papers in Delhi, if they write ideological articles against or in favour of this measure, are going to help in solving any difficulties which we might have with regard to this Bill?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : You think that the press is utterly useless?

Premier : The press unfortunately generally represents that very interested section of the population which is affected and which controls the press.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Who controls the Statesman?

Premier : I am not aware who controls the Statesman but perhaps there may be several shareholders from the very class which will be affected by this measure.

Sardar Hari Singh : Who controls the Tribune?

Premier : As I was pointing out, the main point at issue is the principle involved. My honourable friend said that it was the sanctity of the contract and we should not in any way upset that time-honoured rule that the contract should be sacred. I entirely agree with him that there is sanctity of contract. I entirely agree with him; but if my honourable friend will allow me to quote from a speech of my worthy confrère in Madras in 1937, I am sure he will agree with me that the conclusions at which my confrère arrived are almost wholly applicable to the present case here. This is what Mr. C. Rajagopalachariar said when the Madras Agriculturists Relief Bill was being discussed. (A voice : Should Madras lead the Punjab?) In this matter it is an honour if they give a lead to the Punjab. Excepting Madras and Punjab you will find everybody is losing their socialistic programme and are coming down, Sardar Sohan Singh Josh on the top of all! (Laughter.) (An honourable member : What about the United Provinces Tenancy Bill?) My honourable friend knows what the tenants in the United Provinces are doing; the Congress-minded zamindars are counter-acting the propaganda of other zamindars. My honourable friend is fully aware that there is a party in the Congress who want to smash, as some people say, the right wing including the Ministry. I was going to quote from the speech of Mr. Rajagopalachariar. This is what he said:—

Then the question to be considered is the sacredness of contract. For the first time, it is said, we are dealing a fatal blow at that and that it will disturb the roots of organised society. Just like religion, the roots of moral obligation wound up in the sacredness of contract, are too dangerous to be touched; do not touch it, do not shake it, society may crumble down. Sir, I am not caricaturing, I am not exaggerating. I submit, Sir, it is a very good argument and a very proper consideration. But I at once proceed to say that I do not wish that we should, by our measure, interfere with the very important roots of the life of society. But it won't do to be afraid to till the ground; it won't do to be afraid of picking the soil in order to give air and nourishment to the roots, mere by because you may perhaps interfere with this root or that root. We should have not only caution but also a little bit of courage. Now, what is it that this measure proposes to interfere with? That, I submit, is the main consideration rather than that you should swear by a dogma so to say, and say that a contract should not be touched. In another field also, the same question arises, for all reforms, all truths, are one and indivisible. There is not much difference between one and another. Do not retrench, do not reduce the salaries of people—and there also it is sacredness of contract. Quite a good dogma, but not good administration, not courage! Same thing here. Do not interfere with contract, it is said. But then, what have we been doing till now? Have we not made laws very many years ago that interest should not be this and interest should not be that, that even if a man agreed to reduce the rates, the court should be enabled to reopen the whole case, reopen the question of the amount that was borrowed and to say that it allowed so much? That has been done, not by Congress Governments, but by Conservative Governments, not alone by Conservative Governments, but even by Governments of the old order. The Deccan Relief Act, for instance, was passed long before the present kind of Government was conceived, and in that Act you will find the sacredness of contract very roughly handled. There is no such thing as sacredness of contract in that sense here. Of course there is the sacredness of contract which is not put down in legal terms, but written in a more universal language, the language of morality, the language of conscience and the language of the inner feeling of every just man. I want to know this; if a man has borrowed Rs. 100 at a certain rate of interest and if at the end of say fifteen years one finds that the man can by law be compelled to sell his house, horses, cattle and sell himself into prison, so to say, in order that he may repay the contractual obligation which amounts to Rs. 300, the Rs. 100 of borrowed money having become Rs. 300 according to the bond—if that is to be called sacredness of contract not to be touched. Everyone would be willing I think and ready to say that that is not sacredness. That contract is not sacred. What is sacred is something else. Acts have been passed, saying that interest should be charged only at such and such a rate. That may be an interference with the sacredness of contract. And so, the dogma by which some people swear is at an end so far as sacredness of mere contract goes. Therefore, there is something deeper and more true than the mere words of a dogma, which we should describe as something which we should treat as sacred.

“ I submit to the House for acceptance, this principle, that we Indians do consider contracts sacred; but we do not consider interest as sacred.”

* * * * *

In our country the feeling that taking interest is wrong, that it is bad, is not the feeling of the Mussalman community only. I claim that even the Hindu community considers it bad. There is difference in the emphasis. There may be differences in the quantitative reaction to that feeling. But every Hindu also feels that this is not a good thing. If you went and asked a man how he lived, even if he lent money, he would not say ‘ I live on lending money ’. Even though he is a Hindu, he will give some other occupation; he will say that he is a village munaff. He will not say ‘ I lend money and am living by it. ’ If he had an acre of land and even if he got interest to the extent of Rs. 10,000, he would say ‘ I am a land owner ’ he would not say ‘ I am living by money lending. ’ There is this consciousness even in the Hindu community, which does not swear by its opposition to taking interest. There is the feeling that receiving interest is bad. This is exemplified by the very old usage which has lately gone out of use, namely, that no man should go to court and by a compulsory process recover more than twice the principal which he lends.”

This is what my confrère in Madras said.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I quite agree, but you are wiping it out.

Premier : We are not. I have taken a great deal of time. I promised to be brief. There are a few observations made by my honourable friend on my right, Raja Sahib. I must confess that I am at a great disadvantage in meeting his arguments, but I think that he will also, when I have finished, feel that those arguments which he put forward have not been ignored by me and that where it is possible I will be prepared to meet him. His first point was that we are trying to extend the scope of the Land Alienation Act. As you are aware, the Land Alienation Act is a bugbear and a bogey to several people in this province. I should have thought that after all by this time he has reconciled himself with the measure which did not fully achieve what it was intended to achieve, and that he should be prepared for some more effective enactment so as to make the intentions of the original framers of the Act with regard to relief of agriculturists more or less complete, if not fully complete. His objection is merely that we are trying to extend the scope of the Land Alienation Act with retrospective effect. He said that the late Sir Fazl-i-Husain gave an undertaking that we would not extend or allow it to be restricted and that I also endorsed that undertaking. I do not go back on my undertaking that we would not allow the scope of the Act to be extended or allow it to be restricted. I adhere to that promise but it is for my honourable friend opposite to support me in achieving what I have in my view to help the poor agriculturists. If my honourable friend desires deletion of reference to the Land Alienation Act in this Bill, I am perfectly prepared to meet with his wishes. The reason why the Land Alienation Act is mentioned is that we wanted to define the class of people who will be affected by this Bill and not to extend the scope of the Land Alienation Act. The simplest way, from my point of view, was to refer to the Land Alienation Act to define the classes of persons whom we had in view. But if my honourable friend, the Raja Sahib, takes objection to the use of the words "Land Alienation Act," we can redraft these clauses in the select committee without mentioning the name of the Land Alienation Act.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : All mortgages whether by X, Y or Z.

Premier : My honourable friend says all mortgages whether by X, Y or Z. Now I am glad that he has at least to that extent accepted the principle.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : No, I do not agree with it. I am not concerned personally. I have no mortgages, but to be consistent, you have to do it.

Premier : I am sorry I am greatly disillusioned. I thought that by reasoning I had converted my honourable friend to the extent that he accepted the principle, and by further reasoning I hoped to satisfy him that the principle underlying this Bill was equitable, and I was going to extend my hand and meet him half way, but he has not allowed me to give a reply to his offer. However, that is neither here nor there. The main question, as I said, is of the principle and we all accept it. Then there is the question of detail. If my honourable friends are anxious that all persons (agriculturists as well as non-agriculturists) should be brought within the purview of the Act, why not say so? Courageously say that you accept the principle and are prepared to support us, provided it envelops everybody concerned whether he is agriculturist or not. (A voice : We on this side accept your offer.) Here and also outside. I was saying that if the principle is accepted, I for myself would probably be prepared to go even further than what they expect. If we accept the principle, as I hope, the majority of this House will accept, then the question of detail can be discussed in the Select Committee and if the Select Committee comes to the conclusion that we should include the agriculturists and the non-agriculturists, between the years 1878 and 1900, the House will be free to consider the proposals of the Select Committee.

My honourable friend, the Raja Sanib, said that this was a measure which brought discrimination between classes. I have already given an answer to that question. If in the Select Committee they decide that both agriculturists and non-agriculturists should be included, I for one will have no objection in meeting that point. But let me assure him that the measure, even as it stands, is not a class measure, because it is going to benefit 15 millions Punjabi agriculturists or their relations, of whom 83 per cent. are Hindus, 13 per cent. Sikhs and about 50 per cent. Muslims. So it is going to benefit non-Muslims as much as Muslims. My honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Puri raised that communal bogey. I would remind him that it is going to benefit non-Muslims as much as any other section of the population. That is the position. So it is not a class or communal measure. It is going to affect all communities and all classes equally. (A voice: On the lines of communal award.) Yes, which the Congress has accepted.

Then again, my honourable friend, the Raja Sahib, I think, has every reason to say that we promised in our address to the Viceroy and also in our speeches on the platform, in our creed and in our programme that there would be an equal distribution of burden of taxation between rich and poor and between all classes, whether agriculturists or non-agriculturists. Let me assure him that we would not forget our promises and we do not intend to go back on our promises. My honourable friend, the Raja Sahib, is aware that the whole question hinges on the report of the Darling Committee. That report is complete and it is now in the press. As soon as it is available to us, I can assure him that we would go through it very sympathetically with a view to lighten the burden of smaller peasants, and if it is necessary to add to the burden of bigger zamindars, I will not hesitate a minute to take that action. I am sure my big zamindar friends, who stand by me, will not grudge bearing this burden. Honourable members are aware that as a Revenue Member, I have always been a supporter of such measures and it was my pet hobby as to how to introduce sliding scale or to give further relief in the form of remission and relief in water rates. The result was that we have given relief not only of some lakhs, but to the extent of several crores, because we have always considered how to give relief to the poor people. My honourable friend must be aware that so far as the Punjab is concerned, what he understands by big landholders or what is understood by big landholders in other provinces will not apply here. He will find that there are only 18 persons in this province who pay more than Ra. 10,000 annual land revenue; while in the United Provinces what is the proportion? There, as my honourable friends opposite are aware, in the Congress Party alone, which is a party of the poor people, there are 3 persons who pay Ra. 30,000 annual land revenue. That is where and how we differ from other provinces. That is the position. My honourable friends are also aware that in the Punjab, there are only about 3,000 persons who pay more than Rs. 500 land revenue, which means that converted into cash according to our settlement rules and regulations, they have got an income of about Rs. 2,000 a year. Can you in equity and justice place any further burden on those people whose income is Rs. 2,000 a year? Then if you go further up, the income of people who pay Rs. 1,000 land revenue should be Rs. 4,000 a year. How many are they? They are only between 700 and 900. Would it be justified to place an undue burden on those people? My friend, the Raja Sahib, concedes that point. But the real position is that we have to place that burden on somebody in order to give relief to our poor brethren. How are we to do that? If necessary, even I who am not a big landlord, but a small owner of land whose income does not justify any further burden, even I am prepared, if necessary, to set an example myself by assessing myself to an additional burden in order to give relief to the poor. But that will not go very far. It would not bring in more than four or five thousand to help the poor.

My honourable friend was very solicitous of the poor tenants and there also in the United Provinces they were very solicitous of the poor tenants. But when the actual explosion comes, my honourable friend will be nowhere; when that hour of national call comes there will be only Sardar Sohan Singh Josh and myself to help those people. (Interruption.) Taking land from the rich and dividing it among the poor, that is the kind of socialism which you preach. That is not my socialism. It is obvious from what I have stated that we will have to find other sources of revenue to give adequate relief to the poor peasants. I have told what the position of the agriculturists is. Naturally those who are not agriculturists and earn from other sources and have a margin of taxation will have to be burdened so as to make the burden equitable.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: Are there no poor among the non-agriculturists?

Premier: There are and we will see that they are not burdened with any additional taxation. It is only the rich who will be burdened and they should be prepared to bear the burden.

My honourable friend, the Raja Sahib, and several other speakers also said that if we accept the principle of the present Bill we might as well accept the principle of cancellation of all contracts and sales. I may submit that there is a vast difference between mortgage and sale. Sale is a definite act complete in itself. It is clear that even the Land Alienation Act did not re-open the question of sales. Why then should the honourable member be afraid of that question being opened? It is to avoid such state of affairs or revolutionary changes that we want to bring in these evolutionary measures which from the point of view of the other side may be inequitable, but from our point of view are justified. The fact remains that these mortgages have been in possession of these lands for several decades and they have benefited from those lands while many of the owners of those lands are only nominally owners of land and are really landless. They are landless people and do not get even one meal a day.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: There are many mortgagees whose only source of livelihood is the mortgaged land. There are even widows of that sort.

Premier : My honourable friend says that there are even widows of that sort. I may point out that a person who purchased a mortgage for Rs. 500 and has by now earned several thousands deserves no sympathy. Besides the widow is also going to get some compensation if she has not already benefited enough. So, that need not worry the honourable members. Let me assure my friend the Raja Sahib that I am not behind anybody else in recognising the sanctity of contracts subject to the opinion of my confrère in Madras with whom I entirely agree. It seems to me that except for the language, which is of course more refined than mine, he has exactly depicted my own view in his speech. Raja Sahib said, "What is the guarantee that if the distinction between agriculturists and non-agriculturists is removed by the select committee, this House will be prepared to accept it?" That, I submit, is a very uncharitable remark. While I am prepared to concede that it is open to the House to throw out the recommendations of the select committee, I submit that the select committee is representative of this House and includes experienced administrators so that if it comes to any conclusion this House which is reflected in the select committee is most likely to endorse the view of the select committee.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Why not withdraw this Bill and re-draft a better one?

Premier : That would involve waste of time.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Are you prepared to draft the clause so as to cover all classes and for all time?

Premier : The Bill applies to mortgages which were made between 1878 and 1900, and so far as I am personally concerned I am quite willing to extend it to all classes during that period.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I said all times, up to date.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : Sixty years makes a mortgagee a proprietor.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : What I mean is that there should be no distinction between a mortgage effected before 1901 and the mortgage effected after 1901.

Premier : The honourable member is a learned lawyer and he must know that there are no mortgages after 1901 which are contrary to the Land Alienation Act.

Now, there is one provision in this Bill which the Raja Sahib said was not quite clear, that is, the provision with regard to the application of principle of damdapat. If the wording of that clause is not clear, Raja Sahib is at perfect liberty to press for its being made clear, so that the principle of damdapat is clearly and definitely stated in the provision. I am prepared to fully support him on that point. If there is any ambiguity in the law on that point I will certainly ask the member-in-charge of the Bill to right the law and remove the doubt.

I am afraid I have not exhausted all the points, but I have exhausted myself, and so I will conclude my speech after making one more observation and that is with regard to the drafting of the Bill. My honourable friend, Dr. Narang, asked, what is the raison d'être of this Bill? The raison d'être of this Bill is that it seeks to restore land to those people who are landless, who are dying of hunger, who have got no other means of livelihood. This Bill seeks to restore to them their own property which had gone out of their hands, property from which other people have benefited not for one decade but for several decades. (An honourable member: Not for nothing.) I have already told my honourable friend that according to my computation there is not likely to be a single instance of a mortgage where less than 800 per cent. interest in addition to the capital has been earned by the mortgagees. There would be a very large majority of cases where 800 per cent. must have been earned by the mortgagees. What this Bill proposes to do is to restore to the mortgagors their own land so that they may earn an honest living on their land and not be a menace to the province and to my honourable friend and to people of his point of view or of his class who have got wealth. We want to avoid that clash which I am sure would be much more dangerous to the interests of his class than any measure of this kind, which is not inequitable. I am satisfied that a measure of this kind is much better than allowing those people to cause bloodshed which would have been the result if the Land Alienation Act had not been enacted in 1901. I am sure there will be bloodshed if we do not pay heed to the needs of these poor landless people who in name are owners of land but in reality do not derive any benefit from their land.

I want to restore the lands to them and at the same time I want to restore that honesty which I said had been taken away from the people of his class which during the British advent took advantage of the shelter of the British-made laws and not only shed their honesty but also their conscience and everything else, with a view to amass wealth at the expense of their brethren. That is the raison d'être and I hope every one in this House will support me not only in getting the Bill through quickly, but will also meet my friend Raja Sahib here, so that anybody could see that it is not a differential treatment in favour of one class and we are not making any distinction between the communities.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Santokh Singh (Eastern Towns, Sikh, Urban): Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the amendment so ably moved by my honourable friend Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri. After all what is the amendment? It is a very simple and sane request that the Bill of such a far reaching character be circulated for eliciting public opinion by a certain fixed date. That is all what the amendment says. I have not been able to understand why this simple request should be taken objection to by anybody, much less by the present Government which professes to represent all communities including the poor, miserable and much abused non-agriculturist. It cannot be denied that the Bill is of a very far reaching character, that some of its provisions are of a very drastic nature. What the Bill seeks to do is to set at naught most of the mortgages that were lawfully and legally entered into prior to 1901 when this Land Alienation Act was never thought of. Those poor, simple folk at the time of making advances on mortgages never thought that 50 years hence a Ministry professing to represent all the classes will come forward to set at naught all those mortgages. The Premier has been pleased to say that he seeks to restore lands to these landless people. I do put it to him in all sincerity and with all respect as to where is the guarantee that people who were poor 60 years ago are poor to-day? (Hear.

hear). We all know that every 20 or 30 years things revolutionise. One who is rich to-day becomes poor ten years hence and we know of many instances where people who were poor 30 years ago and earned only Rs. 10 or 15 a month are to-day rolling in lakhs. Where is the guarantee that people who were poor 50 years ago, people who had borrowed then, are in the same poor condition to-day? Where is the guarantee that the mortgagee who may be in a very affluent condition then is in the same condition to-day? Perhaps he is poorer than the mortgagor himself. As my honourable friend, Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang has pointed out, some of the mortgagees have that mortgaged property alone, as their sole means of subsistence to-day. It may be that their forefathers 50 years ago lent perhaps all that they had, Rs. 500 or Rs. 1,000, on a mortgage. The deal after the mortgaged time may have been and was so unprofitable that the mortgagor within all this period never found it paying to have it redeemed. Things went on like this, both sides thinking as if they were virtual sales for all practical purposes. Now by passing this legislation you simply make up old sores awaken people from their slumbers, and encourage litigation, which nobody thought of, as the poor and rich will all claim the lands which their forefathers had mortgaged under circumstances which do not exist to-day. That is the position that has got to be guarded. But then without going into the merits I have not been able to understand why the Government should feel shy of circulating the Bill. It is a very simple process. It cannot be denied that this Bill, if enacted into law, will hit hard, hit very badly, most of the mortgagees whose numbers may be thousands, if not lakhs. You want to send them to the gallows without giving them even the opportunity of pondering over the situation with which they are confronted. Let them know exactly what you are after. Put them in a position to represent matters to you. Let their grievances be known to you through proper channels. That is the only proper thing which in my opinion any government which cares for its name, if for nothing else, should do. I am sorry that this elementary thing even is being denied and that all possible haste is being employed to rush this measure through, in this session. The Honourable Premier has been pleased to tell us that this Bill is not the result of a very hurried consultation. It may be so, as far as the Government is concerned. But the man in the street never had an inkling, never knew what was being done behind the scenes. The poor mortgagees never knew that their fate was to be one fine morning sealed by restoring to the mortgagors the lands which their forefathers had lawfully, and in a perfectly legal manner, taken on mortgage according to the laws of the land, at what the mortgagor might have then considered an advantageous bargain. The mortgage may be for a large or a small amount. The poor mortgagee never knew that 50 years hence he or his successors were to be deprived of the property that he had lawfully taken on mortgage. It comes then to this, that the sins of grand-fathers are going to be visited on the grand-children. If this is justice, Sir, I do not know what injustice will be.

Another thing is that the judiciary is going to be replaced, as my friends who preceded me have pointed out, in the matter of determination of these disputes, by executive machinery. It is an irony of fate that whilst the Congress has all throughout been fighting for the separation of executive-and judicial functions; some of the members sitting on the opposition Congress benches to-day, if I rightly understand the situation, will make themselves responsible, for the substitution of judicial authority by executive if this Bill was enacted into law. This is a sad irony of fate indeed. The Premier has been pleased to tell us that it is a handful of people who do money-lending and that he was here to correct some of the vagaries committed by the past bureaucratic government who turned honest money-lenders into dishonest money-lenders. (An honourable member: With whose help?) This is no concern of mine. If the measures of the past bureaucratic Government have brought about the present situation, I wonder, Sir, where will the present measure lead us to. It may probably succeed in exterminating this class of people from this province. We are going to deprive them of their livelihood. It is not however the fact that mortgages of 40 or 50 years ago are going to be wiped out that troubles us, but the pernicious principle that underlies this legislation will leave no confidence in the present and future Governments of the Province. The agriculturists who are not touched by the present legislation may find 10 or 20 years hence that another Ministry might come into power which may similarly wipe out all the deals that they are entering into to-day. It is confidence on which all governments live and it should be our first and foremost concern to see that this confidence is not shaken. People at large, the man in the street, should have complete confidence in the sense of justice of the government, be it a Congress government, or the Unionist government or any other government, and nothing should be done to shake that confidence by undertaking this class legislation. The Land Alienation Act has been in force for the last 33 years and nobody ever thought within these 33 years to extend its scope. Men in the confidence of the Government may perhaps know better about this although my honourable friend Sir Gokul Chand Narang tells me that he even did not know that there was ever any intention of extending the scope of that Act, and this Bill, Sir, a measure of such a revolutionary character which seeks to wipe out mortgages amounting to lakhs if not crores of rupees, is being rushed through without any publicity and without an opportunity being given to the people hit hard by it to explain themselves. Even a murderer, if he has no money to engage a counsel is given a counsel at Government expense. An appeal is provided for him and a second appeal also to the High Court, but we are going to deprive these thousands and lakhs of people of their very means of subsistence, we are going to legislate that the properties which were in their lawful possession for the last 50 or 60 years will not be allowed to remain any more in their possession simply because it pleases us to pass this legislation and that without giving them even an opportunity to make any representations. The Honourable Premier was also pleased to remark that he was making the process very simple. He was going to divest the civil courts of all the powers in this matter and placing the whole thing in the hands of the deputy commissioners and the commissioners. The Ministry might have as well spared the deputy commissioners and commissioners from this botheration and taken the entire power in its own hands.

7 P.M.

With these words I support the motion for circulation. (Cheers.)

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Lahore City, General, Urban): I am glad to-day to hear it falling from the lips of the Premier that the deplorable condition of our province is due to the actions of the late bureaucratic Government of which he was a member for a number of years (Hear, hear from the Opposition). I am also glad that he is determined to undo what the old bureaucratic Government did and thus to help and improve the condition of this province (Hear, hear from the Opposition). We are told that this Bill has been brought before us to improve the condition of the poor agriculturist, the condition of the man who has been living on agriculture and who is now landless and cannot support himself because he has got nothing to do and has no land to till. But if we look at the Bill do we find that what they say is going to be done? This Bill is only restricted to the restitution of mortgages of the agriculturists from the hands of the non-agriculturists. I think you would agree and the House would agree that the agriculturist money-lender is a worse Shylock than the non-agriculturist (Opposition cheers).

Premier : I agree.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: Has then any effort been made to relieve the poor tiller of the soil from the worse Shylock, the agriculturist money-lender? If we look at the figures available to us, we find that it is only 20 per cent. of the total area that is mortgaged to the non-agriculturist and 80 per cent. is mortgaged to the agriculturist money-lender. Has any effort been made to release this area? These are the figures which I have taken from Government reports on Land Revenue Administration for the year 1936. You will further find that there are mortgages by others in favour of agriculturists. Have they taken any step to relieve that tiller of the soil who was not born in an agriculturist family but who is living on the produce of his land? Is he not poor, does he not suffer from the same disabilities as a man born in a zamindar family? You are prepared to help the rich landholder but you are not prepared to help that poor tiller of the soil who lives on land as a real agriculturist, but who is not born in an agriculturist family. Whom do you help by this Bill? The Honourable Premier has been quoting from the speech of Shriyut Rajagopalachariar made by him while moving the Madras Agriculturist Relief Bill from the proceedings of the Madras Assembly. What did he say? Whom does that Act benefit? I have with me a small abstract from the proceedings on the Act which is in force from the 2nd March, 1938. Whom does this Act benefit? I would like to inform the House and will invite the attention of the Premier to it. It says that every person with a saleable interest in any agricultural land not situated within a municipality or cantonment is entitled to the benefits of that Act. Persons holding land as rayats or tenants under zamindars and inamdars are also entitled to the relief provided, so are persons who hold any interest in land in Malabar. Lessees and sub-lessees are also benefited by the provisions of that Act. Large zamindars, janmis and inamdars have however been excluded from the benefits of this Act (Opposition cheers). Are you excluding these big land-holders from the benefits of this Bill?

Premier : I have told him that there are very few big landholders in the Punjab.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: I admit the Premier has said many things and also that he really wants to give relief to the poor, but if he believes like it, why did he not act like it? Why did he not bring a Bill before us and say that all this was only to benefit the poor, the tiller of the soil—whether he is born in an agriculturist family or in a non-agriculturist family. He has not brought that Bill. You will have to change every section of the Act. Why do you bring this Bill before this House in such a hurry—a thing which does not indicate your mind?

Premier : The cat is peeping out of the bag.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: You will see whether it is out of the bag or we will catch you when you will bring the Report of the Select Committee. Further on it is said—

“ A landholder of an estate who pays more than 500 rupees as peishkar, a Jammi who pays more than that sum as land revenue and an Isardar who pays more than 100 rupees as quit-rent or jodi, will not be entitled to the benefit of the Act. Ryotwari patidars will, however, derive the benefit irrespective of the amount of land revenue paid by them. Even an agriculturist who has been declared insolvent will get the benefits of this Act if his property has not been already sold and payment made to his creditors out of the sale-proceeds.

herefore, this Act aims at helping the really poor men. He has been, quoting to us instances from Madras where there is no Land Alienation Act, where the tiller of the soil is counted as an agriculturist and when it is for the relief of the agriculturist, it is for the relief of the tiller of the soil and not for bigger landlord. They say at the top of their voices that they are the defenders of the interests of the zamindars. If the agriculturist is not going to get his land redeemed from an agriculturist money-lender what will be the result? If he does not get it redeemed from a non-agriculturist money-lender it is said that after sixty years he loses the right of possession of the property. You can make a law that he shall not lose that right and he shall remain proprietor of the soil for all time to come. But if the land is not redeemed from the hands of an agriculturist money-lender, then this agriculturist money-lender becomes the proprietor of the soil because he can have it sold and can buy in the market. Therefore, a Government who would be desirous, who would be anxious, who would be prepared to make every sacrifice for the help of the poor would not bring in such an Act as is brought before us. In spite of all this we do not want to stand in the way of the Government discussing this resolution in their Select Committee. It is for them, it is for the Ministerial Party to decide whether they want to publish it or not. We are ready with our proposals (loud applause). We shall make them before the Select Committee and show that our proposals are for the real good of the poor. (Loud applause). I shall be prepared to give relief to the poor tiller of the soil not to-morrow but to-day (Loud applause). I would not, by this means, by bringing such a Bill before us, only try to increase my own land and become a big zamindar and say that it is in the interest of the poor zamindar. Now, how is that man going to get relief? He will get the land and he will have to pay land revenue. For that purpose he will mortgage it with an agriculturist and thus pay the arrears of land revenue which he has to pay. Therefore, it is no relief unless and until the Government is prepared to remit the whole of the arrears of the taqavi loan and every other thing which is standing as a balance against the poor tiller of the soil. (Loud applause). When representatives of my party go to the Select Committee they will move and insist that no relief is given to that big landholder who took money from a big money-lender and spent it on luxuries, on Rolls-Royce cars, who took debt and spent money like water because probably he believed that his land could not be mortgaged, money could not be taken back and therefore there was no harm in spending money and taking loan after loan. I am not prepared and my friends will not be prepared to agree to any proposal that would give relief to big zamindars. We shall only be prepared to give relief to the poor tillers of the soil and shall try to give as much relief as possible. We shall try to relieve the poor zamindar of all the debt that he has to pay. If I had the power I would declare a moratorium (Hear hear). If I had the power, if I had the reins of the government in my hands, I would go and get money from the big people as loan and pay to the creditors the actual sum which they have lent—the sum, which they deserve—after conciliation but not charge the poor landholder who lives on the soil and owns only an economical holding.

Premier : Will my honourable friend define a big landholder. It will make our task easier. (Voices from Opposition benches : All Tiwanas and Daulatanas. The class sitting behind you.)

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Sir, a question has been put and I invite your attention to only one figure and that is this. In the year 1936—the year ending 15th June 1936—102,798 acres of land were mortgaged by the agriculturists to the non-agriculturists and out of this 102,798 acres about sixty thousand acres was mortgaged by residents of the Multan division and six thousand acres by residents of Shahpur Division. The Honourable Premier referred to Hissar district. Let us see what the condition in Hissar district is. He means to relieve the poor people in Hissar district though he has not been able to supply them with water so far, but let us see what relief he is prepared to give by way of this Act. It was only 3,587 acres of land which was mortgaged by the agriculturists to the non-agriculturists.

Premier : Six hundred families can live on that land.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Over twenty thousand acres of land was mortgaged by the agriculturist to the agriculturist money-lender. What relief is there to the poor tiller of the soil? He wants to increase and establish Tiwanas and Maliks in Hissar district as well. I want to make my position and the position of my party quite clear. Let the Government decide amongst themselves, its members of the Ministerial Party who have raised the voice, who have moved this motion; that the Bill be circulated for opinion. Let them decide amongst themselves. We are prepared to co-operate with the Government, rather go to the extent of forcing the Government to help the poor as far as possible. (Loud cheers). (Voices from Opposition benches : The cat is in the bag.)

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the question be now put.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 15th January, 1933.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): I am placed at a great disadvantage because there is no light now and I am therefore deprived of saying a few things from the papers which I have got before me. Dr. Gokul Chand Narang depicted me as a dummy in this House. I must protest against that. I assert that I am responsible for this Bill and I assume full responsibility for it. (Hear, hear). (An honourable member: It is joint responsibility). Yes. The Bill was considered by the whole cabinet which decided to put it before the House. (Interruption). I am not going to submit to any interruption. (An honourable member: Will the Honourable Minister please say when the cabinet considered this Bill, a week ago or a month ago?) I am not going to let out the secrets of the cabinet. (An honourable member: When did the Honourable Minister read the Bill for the first time?) I may inform the honourable member that this Bill was drafted under my instructions. (Hear, hear). I am not a lawyer to draft the Bill myself. After all the Bill has to be drafted by the Legislative Department of the Government. The principles of the Bill were discussed in the cabinet meeting. (An honourable member: The honourable Minister has not answered my question. When did he read the Bill for the first time?) There is no question of reading the Bill so far as I am concerned.

(At this stage one honourable member suggested the adjournment of the Assembly in view of the failure of the electric lights.)

Mr. Speaker: Does the Honourable Minister insist on exercising his right of reply?

Minister: I shall finish in two minutes.

Mr. Speaker: Does the Honourable Minister consider it necessary to give a reply?

Minister: Yes, Sir. It is very necessary. I shall finish after citing two instances to justify a measure like this. The first case is one where one had mortgaged a registered deed of 202 kanals 19 marlas and 21.26 acres of land to one Nihal Singh on 6th January 1898 for Rs. 500. The condition stipulated in the deed was that the land would not be redeemed before the expiry of fifty years from the date of execution of the deed. This period will expire on the 5th January 1948. The mortgaged price of the land comes to Rs. 24 per acre which is a ridiculously low price and but for the stipulation of the period of redemption, the land would have been redeemed long ago. The average cash rent is Rs. 9-1-8 per acre which works out to about 39 per cent. of the entire mortgage amount. That is to say in fifty years the mortgagee will have recovered over 19 times the mortgage money. Again the average price of land in that village is Rs. 462-10-0 per acre. By selling a little over an acre of land the mortgagor can redeem the remaining about 20 acres, but he is precluded from doing so by the stipulation I have already referred to. Therefore the necessity for fixing a reasonable statutory time limit in such cases is obvious.

Now, I will take up the second case, where one person stated that he had mortgaged the whole of his land to his creditors and that nothing was left for his subsistence and that he was working as a tenant and earning his livelihood. On enquiry the statement made by him has been found to be true. Only 2 kanals and 16 marlas which is gairmumkin, unculturable, is free. The rest, about 153 canals has been mortgaged, but this is done on his own free will and not under the orders of a court. This is the sort of thing that we are providing for in this Bill.

It is said that there are two lakhs of acres which are mortgaged to agriculturists and only about one lakh to non-agriculturists. I may tell my honourable friends for their information that out of this area, if it is correct at all, 42,000 acres are in Lyallpur, Jhang and Multan where irrigation facilities have been extended and where the price is fairly high. Even then the Bill provides for compensation to be given. (Interruption). Even Rs. 3 an acre means Rs. 90 per acre if it is 30 times and for a rectangle it comes to Rs. 2,500. Is that a small amount as compensation to a man who is found to be deserving of compensation? This is the state of affairs that has necessitated the introduction of this Bill and with all the sympathy that I have got for my friends, what is the sympathy that I find they are receiving from the opposition benches? Speeches have been made to-day. But when the actual time for voting comes my friends go to the other lobby or sit on their benches. This shows that they have not got the courage of their conviction to show to the people that they are really anxious to help the poor samindars whose interests they profess to safeguard.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill be referred to a select committee consisting of the following with instructions to report on or about the 27th June, 1938 :—

THE PUNJAB REGISTRATION OF MONEY-LENDERS BILL.

Premier : I myself am mindful of the fact that the House has been very indulgent and I am afraid I am responsible for keeping it up to this late hour. I propose to make the first motion, i. e., to introduce the Bill; the second motion regarding reference to the select committee will be postponed till to-morrow. Sir, I beg to introduce the Punjab Registration of Money-lenders Bill.

Mr. Speaker : What about the adjournment motion? Will you take it up to-morrow?

Minister of Revenue : I am afraid it will not be possible to take it up to-morrow as there is a select committee meeting. Let us sit and take up the adjournment motion this evening.

Mr. Speaker : The practice in the House of Commons is that select committee meetings go on even if the House is sitting.

Premier : But I am prepared to go on now.

Mr. Speaker : Should we take up the adjournment motion to-morrow from 10-30 to 12-30 ?

Premier : We have to do several other things to-morrow morning. We can go on now.

Mr. Speaker : The House is adjourned now and will meet at 2-30 p.m. to-morrow ; the adjournment motion will be taken up after the question hour.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

3RD SESSION OF THE 1st PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, 24th June, 1938.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 2-30 p.m. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

CANAL Moghas IN DISTRICT LYALLPUR.

*2767. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether the authorities have received any representation against the reduction in the size of the canal moghas in district Lyallpur ; if so, the action taken or proposed to be taken by the Government in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : 1. Yes.

2. A copy of the communiqué issued by Government is placed on the table of the House.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Honourable Minister for Revenue to kindly state whether a meeting was held between the canal authorities and the representatives of kisans to settle the points at issue ?

Mr. Speaker : How does it arise from the answer given ?

Sardar Hari Singh : The question is regarding a certain dispute between canal authorities and zamindars of certain villages of Lyallpur district. I want to know from the Honourable Minister whether there was any meeting to settle the issue.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

"Whether the authorities have received any representation against the reduction in the size of the canal moghas in district Lyallpur; if so, the action taken or proposed to be taken by the Government . . . . ."

Sardar Hari Singh : That representation may be sent by post or may also be made by representatives of kisans waiting in person upon Canal authorities. I want to know whether a meeting was held.

Mr. Speaker : What for ?

Sardar Hari Singh : To settle the dispute.

Mr. Speaker : The question is whether a representation was made and if so, what action was taken ?

Sardar Hari Singh : The contents of the representation contain certain demands.

Mr. Speaker : Then the honourable member should give notice of that question. If he asks the Honourable Minister, he also might say that he requires notice. What is the use of wasting the time of the House ?

Sardar Hari Singh : Let him say so. I want to know from the Honourable Minister whether a meeting did take place.

Minister : First the supplementary question should be allowed by the Honourable Speaker.

COMMUNIQUE.

Agitation against the reduction of outlets on the Lower Chenab Canal.

The Punjab Government has always maintained a policy of fair and equitable distribution of canal water to every cultivator and where it has been found that the discharges of outlets particularly at the tails of channels are short, it has taken steps to make good this shortage. The Janiwala Distributary and Amirwala Minor on which the cultivators have closed some outlets have silted up as a result of which a number of outlets draw excess discharges and had to be reduced but not to a great extent. Without this reduction, the tail reaches of those two channels would have been short of the authorised supply and the cultivators could not cultivate or mature their permissible area. This is a condition that Government must, in the interests of all irrigators, set right. The cultivators on some of the outlets on this Distributary, misled by the advice of interested parties, have recently closed their outlets and ceased to use canal water in the hope that by so doing the authorities would feel compelled to restore the sizes of their outlets to what they were before adjustment. It is significant that these agitators hold no land on the above distributary and one is inclined to believe that the real interests of the cultivators are subordinated to political considerations and poor zamindars are being used as a pawn in this game of politics.

Government has no intention of yielding to this pressure which would be a complete negation of its policy to distribute water equitably to all irrigators according to their authorised haq. At the same time orders have been issued that where complaints are received they should be immediately investigated and if after inquiry it is found that the discharge of any outlet is short of its authorised discharges and the cultivators have not got their haq, the outlet will be increased at once. All concerned are assured that bona fide complaints would be inquired into without delay and any shortage in the haq of the cultivators would immediately be made good.

POLITICAL PRISONERS RELEASED BY PUNJAB GOVERNMENT.

*2768. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and the names of political prisoners released by the Punjab Government, since 1st April last ;
- (b) the dates when their release was normally due and the actual dates of their release ;
- (c) the total number of political prisoners including those convicted of violence, still in jail ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The exact import of the term of "political prisoners" as employed by the honourable member is not understood and hence the information required by him cannot be collected. But the statement placed on the table shows some of the releases made by Government since April 1st, 1937. As regards prisoners still in jail, if the honourable member will indicate particular cases in the section of the act concerned, efforts will be made to collect information.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Santokh Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is contemplated to release Sardar Kharak Singh before the expiry of his term and if so, when ?

Premier : I am in a position to state that he will be released shortly within a week, I hope.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state whether Government has been able to define the term "political prisoner" in some manner during all these months or do they propose to do so now, so that the difficulty as to its definition may not arise from day to day?

Minister: The Government has not defined the term.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: What do Government mean by "political prisoners"?

Mr. Speaker: This question has been asked several times before without any result.

Minister: In the statement that I have laid on the table, I have given facts with regard to Babar Akali prisoners, Ahmedgarh Dacoity Case prisoners, Kenari Bazar Dacoity Case prisoners and prisoners convicted under the Arms Act, for the sake of supplying as much information as I possibly could. The honourable member is welcome to derive his own inference.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: May I know whether the Honourable Minister is agreeable to include sections 124 (a), 505, 108 and 153-A prisoners in the category of political prisoners?

Minister: I am perfectly agreeable to give information about prisoners who have been convicted under these or any other sections. I do not know what comfort my honourable friend would derive if I were to say that I am going to consider them as political prisoners.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I ask the Honourable Minister whether he has included the Gurdaspur conspiracy case prisoners in this category?

Minister: Yes, I have.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh: May I know whether it is a fact that one Babar Akali prisoner is still kept in the Andamans?

Minister: With regard to this matter, the Punjab Government is in communication with the Andaman Government.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia: May I take it that by the term "political prisoners," the Government understands prisoners who have been arrested and convicted on account of their political views?

Minister: I do not understand the term myself. I come across various definitions attempted in various provinces, and by various public men.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I inform the Honourable Minister what I mean by the term "political prisoners"? A political prisoner is he who is convicted of alleged attempt to subvert the Government established by law.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: May I know the test applied by Government to determine the names of such prisoners?

Minister: Because the honourable member wanted me to give information on these prisoners, therefore, I made an attempt to lay a statement on the table which might be useful to him.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I take it that a large number of prisoners released by the Government was of prisoners other than political prisoners ?

Minister : Prisoners are released daily. During the last two months the Punjab Government released as many as 300 prisoners on several grounds.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Because the number of prisoners released was much in excess, therefore, what was the test applied by the Honourable Minister to get this information ?

Minister : As the honourable member was inquisitive about this particular class of prisoners, that is, Babar Akali prisoners, Ahmedgarh Dacoity Case prisoners and so on, I gave the required information. My test does not pretend to be particularly precise.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Am I right in thinking that Government has recognised a distinction between political and non-political prisoners ?

Lala Bhagat Ram Choda : Will the Honourable Minister please say whether the prisoners of the Manku Murder Case are regarded as political prisoners or not ?

Minister : I would hesitate to consider them so.

ARRESTS UNDER SECTIONS 124-A., AND 108, INDIAN PENAL CODE.

*2769. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the total number of arrests in the Punjab under sections 124-A. and 108, Indian Penal Code up-to-date since 1st April last and since 1st April, 1937?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) : Thirty-three persons have been arrested under section 124-A, Indian Penal Code, since 1st April, 1937. Of these, fourteen were arrested after 1st April, 1938. Seven of these persons were also prosecuted under section 153-A, Indian Penal Code and one under section 131, Indian Penal Code.

Section 108, Indian Penal Code, merely gives the definition of an "abettor" and is not a penal section. If the honourable member requires information of arrests under section 108, Criminal Procedure Code, I may inform him that eight persons were prosecuted under that section from 1st April, 1937, to 31st March, 1938. There have been no prosecutions under that section since 1st April, 1938, up to date (11th June 1938).

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether the number of arrests and convictions have increased since the present Government took over office? How does it compare with the record of the previous Government?

Premier : If the honourable member will give me notice I shall collect the information.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Has any change taken place in the interpretation of section 124-A after the present Government came into power?

Mr. Speaker : That question does not arise.

Sardar Hari Singh : Have any instructions been issued to district magistrates in regard to prosecutions and arrests under this section?

Premier : Instructions have been issued that district magistrates should not take action of their own accord under this section without the sanction of Government.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I take it that they took action under section 124-A of their own accord before the issue of the instructions?

Premier : They cannot do so under the law.

Sardar Hari Singh : Where was the necessity then to issue instructions?

Premier : The instructions were issued under section 108.

HEALTH OF SARDAR TEJA SINGH 'SWATAN TAR.'

*2770. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state the present condition of health of Sardar Teja Singh 'Swatan tar,' state prisoner and M.L.A., who was reported to be suffering from unduly high blood-pressure some months ago, and also the nature of the medical treatment given to him?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : Some weeks ago the blood pressure of this prisoner was high; the condition was, however, successfully treated by the medical officer of the jail, and that officer reporting on the 11th June states that the prisoner is now in good health. His weight on admission to the Campbellpur Jail was 165 lbs. it is now 176 lbs.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do Government contemplate releasing this prisoner ?

Mr. Speaker : That question does not arise.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What was the blood pressure of the prisoner a week ago and what is it to-day ?

Premier : I am afraid I must have notice of that question.

EXEMPTION OF AHERIES FROM THE APPLICATION OF THE CRIMINAL TRIBES ACT.

*2771. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Aheries (a criminal tribe) of district Rohtak, some time before sending a representation to the Honourable Minister of Finance on the 4th May, 1938, represented their case to the Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, for exemption from the Criminal Tribes Act ; if so, whether he will lay on the table a copy each of their representations to the district authorities and to the Honourable Minister ;
- (b) whether an inquiry was made into the matter ; if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) A number of representations from the Aheries of Rohtak district have been received. These are at present under the consideration of the Deputy Commissioner for Criminal Tribes. To make copies of them will entail a great deal of labour and delay the consideration of their case. The general purport of these representations is that the Aheries of Rohtak have asked that on account of their law-abiding behaviour they should be exempted from the provisions of the Criminal Tribes Act.

(b) Enquires are being made, but are not yet complete.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Since when is this question of Aheries under the consideration of Government ?

Minister : I cannot say, but the honourable member may remember that in answer to another question I said that all restrictions on the Aheries of the Hissar district have been removed.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the Honourable Minister aware that the Aheries of Hissar and Rohtak districts stand on the same footing ?

Minister : I have already said that enquiries are being made.

ACCEPTANCE OF THE RESIGNATION OF LAMBARDAR RAM CHAND OF VILLAGE GANNOUR, TAHSIL SONEPAT.

*2772. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that all the sufedposhes and the lambardars of village Gannour (Sonapat), who had tendered their resignations, were recently called by the Deputy Commissioner,

Rohtak, and asked to withdraw their resignations which all of them did in writing :

- (b) whether it is also a fact that they were further asked by the Deputy Commissioner to go and express regret to the Sub-Divisional Officer, Sonapat, which none of them did ;
- (c) if the answer to the above be in the affirmative, the reasons why the resignation of only one of the lambardars named Ram Chand was accepted?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes ; they themselves offered to withdraw their resignations.

(b) Yes.

(c) The resignation of one lambardar was accepted as his retention as a lambardar was not in the interests of the administration.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the Government aware of the fact that the lambardars and safedposhes tendered their resignations because begar was exacted from them ?

Minister : I do not know whether that was the only reason.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : What was the basis according to which the resignation of one lambardar was accepted and those of others were not accepted ?

Minister : I cannot add anything to the answer I have already given.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : How long was Ram Chand acting as a lambardar ?

Minister : I fear I cannot give my honourable friend that information off hand.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister please say why the resignation of Ram Chand was accepted and not of the others ?

Minister : He was responsible for persuading the other lambardars to put in their resignations.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Was an enquiry in this respect held and was it proved ?

Minister : Yes.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Who held the enquiry ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is inadmissible.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : I am submitting that no enquiry was held and a wrong answer has been given. That is why I put the question.

COMPLAINT AGAINST OFFICIAL INTERFERENCE IN THE ACTIVITIES OF THE CONGRESS IN KARNAL DISTRICT.

*2773. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the district authorities of Karnal in the first week of May last received a complaint from me containing specific instances of undue and illegal official and semi-official interference with the normal and constitutional activities of the congress in a village in Karnal district ;

[Pandit Shri Ram Sharma.]

- (b) whether any inquiry was made and the Congress workers concerned were called and asked to give their statement and evidence in support of their contentions ;
- (c) the result of inquiry and the action which the district authorities took in the matter?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana): (a) Yes.

(b) First part.—Yes.

Second part.—No.

(c) First part.—The complaints proved to be incorrect.

Second part.—Does not arise.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the Government aware which officer conducted the enquiry ?

Premier : Local officers concerned.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Were the complainants asked to appear as witnesses during the enquiry ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : May I draw your attention to part (b) of the question which seeks to ask whether the statements of the witnesses were recorded or not ? The further question is who held the enquiry and whether the statements were recorded.

Premier : The names of these workers were not furnished and therefore they could not be called.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it not a fact that the complaint was signed by certain persons and the Government was in full possession of their names ?

Premier : The complaint was made by my friend Pandit Shri Ram Sharma. He merely made a complaint on hearsay and evidence on mere hearsay would have been useless.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Did he not mention the names of the persons in that complaint ?

Premier : No.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Does an enquiry mean that the complainants may not know whether an inquiry is being held or not ?

Premier : An enquiry has been held.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Did I not write the names of the Thandars, etc. the officers against whom the complaint was made ?

Premier : An enquiry was made with respect to those persons against whom complaints were made, and it was found that the allegation was not well founded.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : When the honourable member who made the complaint was not called to give evidence and when Government did not know who the persons were against whom complaint is made, how can they say that there was nothing in it ?

Premier : Allegations were made that in a certain village the local officers acted illegally and an enquiry was held in the village and it was found that there was no such thing.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : When the honourable member offered his assistance, why was it not availed of ?

Premier : I have already answered that question. He did not offer any assistance. What he made was a complaint on hearsay.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Did the Honourable Premier send the complaint I made to the district authorities ?

Premier : Was the honourable member present there himself or was the complaint made on hearsay ?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : I personally went to Karnal and ascertained the fact that the officers were guilty of highhandedness. I have made many a complaint to the district authorities.

Premier : The allegations which my honourable friend has made were fully enquired into and since his complaint was based on hearsay it was not necessary to call him. You might have seen from the adjournment motions that there is a motion about your goodself which I think is a gross disrespect to the chair because it is based on hearsay and it is malicious.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Did the district authorities enquire from me whether it was only hearsay or was based on my personal experience ? Did the district authorities satisfy themselves ?

Premier : The honourable member himself said that he heard these things. He did not say that he knew them.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has the Honourable Premier read that complaint ?

Premier : Yes, I have.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Was any reply sent to the Honourable Premier in reply to his letter ?

Premier : No, because it was not signed by five people.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether the Honourable Premier thought that it was not worthwhile even informing the honourable member that his hearsay information was wrong ?

Premier : The answer is being given to my honourable friend now.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : When he puts the question ?

Premier : Yes.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Did the district authorities take the trouble of informing me that the representation was being inquired into and the result thereof ?

Premier : My honourable friend should have abided by the rules according to which five persons have to sign it. He is not in a privileged position nor am I so far as these matters are concerned.

Lala Duni Chand : In regard to the complaints is it the position of the Government that unless the complaints are supported by personal testimony, they will not be attended to ?

Premier : The honourable member must have read the Government communiqué on the subject.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Cannot a complaint be heard unless it is signed by five persons ?

Premier : In certain cases a complaint made by one person can be looked into, say, for instance, a judicial complaint.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is it not a fact that the signatures of five persons are required only in cases of corruption and bribery ?

Premier : In such cases if my honourable friend was anxious to find the result of the enquiry he should have gone to the officer concerned and found out.

Sardar Hari Singh : My question is whether in cases other than those of corruption and bribery, the signatures of five persons are required ?

Premier : Not necessarily.

SHOOTING DEAD OF CHAMAN LAL, PETITION - WRITER.

*2774. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that one Chaman Lal, petition-writer, was shot dead at Rohtak in the first week of April last ; if so, the result of the police investigation up to this time in the case ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) : Yes. No evidence is available at present which would justify a prosecution, but the investigation is being continued.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the Government aware of the fact that this murder was committed in connection with money-lending ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have no definite information on the point.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Did the younger brother of the murdered person inform the police that a debtor had murdered him ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have no information on that point. But if the honourable member wants that information, I shall collect it for him.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : What was the outcome of the police investigation ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have already stated that evidence is not available so far to justify any prosecution and investigation is being continued.

SALE OF A PLOT OF LAND TO SANATAN DHARAM SABHA, HISSAR.

*2775. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Executive Engineer, Rohtak division, Western Jamna Canal, in his letters No. 1602-377-W., dated 31st March, 1937, addressed to President, Municipal Committee, Hissar, expressed his readiness to sell the land referred therein at the rate of Rs. 5 per square yard ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the President, Municipal Committee, in his reply No. 638, dated 9th July, 1937, forwarded their resolution No. 2 passed unanimously at a meeting of the committee held on 30th May, 1937, recommending the sale of the land in question to the Sanatan Dharam Sabha, Hissar ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that some five or six reminders have since then been sent by the Hissar Municipal Committee to the Executive Engineer but to no effect ;
- (d) if the answers to (a), (b) and (c) above be in the affirmative, the reasons for not replying to these reminders?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The Executive Engineer replied to the Municipal Committee that the land could not be given free of cost but might be sold if Government approved at Rs. 5 per square yard as valued by the Deputy Commissioner.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes. Four reminders were received.

(d) In their reply as per part (b) of the question the Municipal Committee did not raise any question to which a reply from the Executive Engineer was required. It may be noticed that no formal application from the Sanatan Dharm Sabha has till now been received by Government.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : In what connection was this reminder sent ? The application was neither from the Municipal Committee nor from the Sanatan Dharm Sabha.

Minister : If my friend or the Sabha who is interested in the matter will put in an application for the acquisition of the land I will look into the case.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Was any reply sent ?

Minister : Probably the reply was not sent and no reply could be sent to the gentlemen.

ANNUAL AUCTIONING OF OPEN SPACES BY LOCAL BODIES FOR PARKING MOTOR VEHICLES.

*2776. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he has received a representation, dated 20th April, 1938, No. F.1-352 from the Punjab Motor Union (Registered), Lahore, on the subject of the annual auctioning of open places by local bodies which are used generally for parking motor vehicles and giving a number of examples of infringement of Government instructions regarding the matter contained in its letter No. 6877-H-97-87180, dated 29th October, 1937 ;

(b) whether an inquiry has been instituted into the allegations made in the said representation ; if so, with what result?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) Enquiries are being made and on receipt of information suitable action will be taken to deal with the complaint.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Honourable Minister whether the complainant who has sent this report is also being asked to substantiate these charges ?

3 P. K.

Minister : Naturally if they substantiate these charges, it will help in solving the difficulty.

Sardar Hari Singh : I want to know whether they are being asked to substantiate these charges.

Minister : Why not ?

Sardar Hari Singh : Because the complainant has got the right to substantiate, not only the right but the obligation to substantiate the charges.

Minister : They may substantiate their charges.

Sardar Hari Singh : I want to know whether the Government is asking them to do so.

Minister : The officer concerned must have asked.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has the Honourable Minister any knowledge about it ?

Minister : In what way ?

Sardar Hari Singh : Whether the officer concerned is holding an enquiry in this matter or whether they are asking the complainants to substantiate the charges ?

Minister : Naturally.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know whether the honourable member has any information ?

Minister : Is it necessary that I should have information on all matters ?

Sardar Hari Singh : I have no quarrel with your ignorance.

Minister : There is no ignorance in this matter.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has the Honourable Minister issued any instructions in regard to the manner in which enquiry is to be held ?

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

STRUCTURES PASSED AGAINST HEAD CONSTABLE GURDIAL SINGH.

*2777. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether any action has been taken against Head Constable Gurdial Singh, reporter and chief prosecution witness in the case Crown versus Balwant Singh Dakha under Section 302/115, in which the accused was acquitted on appeal by the Sessions Judge, Hoshiarpur, who in his judgment passed strictures against the conduct of the said Head Constable, in particular that he had made a deliberate false statement; if so, what; if not, why not?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh): Government have seen the judgment of the learned Sessions Judge, and the question of action is under enquiry.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know who is holding the enquiry as to what action is to be taken?

Sardar Hari Singh: May I, Mr. Speaker, through you put a supplementary question in pursuance of the answer given by the Parliamentary Secretary? He says that the action is under enquiry. May I know who is making that enquiry?

Parliamentary Secretary: Enquiry is being made by the district magistrate.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: To whom has the enquiry about action been addressed?

Sardar Hari Singh: How long has the enquiry been going on?

Parliamentary Secretary: Since the attention of the Government was drawn to this matter.

COLLECTION OF RS. 812 BY THE POLICE FROM THE RESIDENTS OF VILLAGE SAHUNGRA.

*2778. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the action taken by the Department, against police officials who were responsible for collecting Rs. 812 from the people of village Sahungra, district Hoshiarpur, in August, September and October, 1937?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh): I regret that the answer to this question is not ready.

JUDGMENT OF SESSIONS JUDGE, RAWALPINDI, IN MURDER CASE AGAINST DR. RAJA RAM.

*2779. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether judgment of the Sessions Judge Rawalpindi in the murder case against Dr. Raja Ram, a private medical practitioner has been brought to his notice;

(b) if answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, action taken or proposed to be taken by the Government against the police officials against whom strictures have been passed in the said judgment?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh): The attention of the honourable member is invited to the answer given to question *2788<sup>1</sup>.

JUDGMENT OF SESSIONS JUDGE, GUJRANWALA, IN CASE CROWN VERSUS HUSAIN.

*2780. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether a recent judgment of the Sessions Judge, Gujranwala, in the case Crown versus Husain has been brought to his notice and in particular the strictures passed against the conduct of a Sub-Inspector of Police ;

(b) if answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, action taken or proposed to be taken by the Government in view of the disclosures made in the judgment?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh)

(a) Yes.

(b) An enquiry by a magistrate assisted by a gazetted police officer has been ordered.

DEATH OF DALIPA, CARPENTER OF VILLAGE KHANGWARI, THANA
HARIANA, DISTRICT HOSHIARPUR.

*2781. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether he is aware of the death of one Dalipa, Carpenter of village Khangwari, thana Hariana, district Hoshiarpur, on 3rd May, 1988, while he was in police custody during course of investigation of a theft case ;

(b) the action taken to discover the truth regarding the death of the aforesaid carpenter and result of inquiry instituted, if any?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

(a) It is a fact that Dalipa met his death during the course of the investigation of a theft case. It appears that the man was never formally taken into custody. The magisterial enquiry which was held indicates that at about 5 P.M. on the 3rd May the police investigating party together with the zaildar and other notables set out for Dalipa's village in order to search the man's house taking Dalipa with them. The magistrate found that Dalipa slipped away from the police party and zaildar in the course of the journey to his village and he was subsequently found dead at the foot of a cliff.

(b) A magisterial enquiry was held. The magistrate considered that the facts point to Dalipa having committed suicide by throwing himself over a cliff on account of shame and remorse.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know whether any departmental action has been taken against the official concerned due to whose negligence Dalipa met with his death ?

Parliamentary Secretary : The position of the Government was fully explained during the debate on the adjournment motion.

Sardar Hari Singh : Apart from the position of Government, I ask whether the Government is taking any action against the officer concerned whose negligence was the cause of Dalipa's death ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have nothing further to add to what I have already stated.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Did the Government receive any telegram from some one in Khangwari that the death of Dalipa was due to torture by police ?

Premier : A telegram was received by the office.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Who was the signatory of the telegram ?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot give it off-hand.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Was any enquiry made on the receipt of the telegram ?

Premier : I am afraid it was never questioned.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : May I know if any enquiry was held ?

Premier : But the veracity of the telegram was not questioned. We ordered an enquiry on the telegram immediately.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : I want to know whether on the receipt of the telegram some enquiry was held to find out whether that telegram was a true one or a false one ?

Premier : I am afraid we did not enquire into that particular aspect of the question.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Does the Government intend to take action under the Telegraph Act against the sender of the telegram if the telegram is proved to be false ?

Premier : Do you mean if the allegation is found to be false ? In that case not only the telegram but certain statements published by certain persons will also have to be taken into consideration. I therefore require notice of this question.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

Lala Duni Chand : In view of the fact that Dalipa.....

Mr. Speaker : I have already called the next question.

Sardar Hari Singh : The Honourable Premier has made an insinuation in the answer and I want to say that we are not afraid of any action.

Premier : If I have to take any action I will not be deterred.

INSTRUCTIONS TO LOCAL BODIES REGARDING RECEPTION OF EXALTED PERSONAGES.

*2782. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state what further instructions have been issued by the Government to the local bodies recently on the subject of reception of exalted personages ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Trwana : Instructions were issued in January last that the orders of 1936, directing municipal committees that they could not incur expenditure on silver caskets in connection with the reception of exalted personages by municipal committees, apply to all kinds of silver caskets, silver salvers or any other silver receptacles used for the presentation of addresses.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: Is it a fact that some Honourable Ministers have been receiving addresses in silver caskets from the local bodies?

Mr. Speaker: That question is disallowed.

Sardar Hari Singh: Have processions of exalted persons also been disallowed?

Minister: Municipality does not organise processions.

REASONS FOR RESERVING POSTS OF POLICE SERGEANTS FOR EUROPEANS AND ANGLO-INDIANS.

*2783. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that posts of police sergeants in the Punjab are reserved for Europeans and Anglo-Indians; if so, reasons therefor?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh): Yes. Experience has shown that there are certain police duties for the performance of which European or Anglo-Indian Officers are particularly suitable. It is administratively convenient to distinguish these officers by a special nomenclature, and the rank of Sergeant is appropriate for the purpose.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: Were ever Indians tried in these posts?

Premier: Which posts?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: Posts which are held by these European Sergeants and which, according to the honourable Parliamentary Secretary, experience has shown that they alone are able to fill up. Have ever Indians been given a chance to occupy these posts?

Parliamentary Secretary: No.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: The experience of my friend is confined to himself only.

Premier: No. If my honourable friend had ever to deal with criminals or people who offend in British cantonments—I mean British soldiers—he would not have put that question.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: Is it the view of the Government that these posts will always be held by Europeans?

Premier: That does not arise. When the Army is indianised it will not be necessary.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know if the Government intends to try Indians in these posts?

Premier: In what posts? This post is on par with the post of a sub-inspector. There is merely the difference in nomenclature.

Sardar Hari Singh: What is the special privilege attached to the posts of European Sergeants?

Premier : The special privilege is attached to some Indian posts also. For instance, Inspectors and Reserve Inspectors get special allowances.

Sardar Hari Singh : Are they maintained only where there are European cantonments ?

Premier : Yes, mainly where there are European cantonments.

HEALTH OF COMRADE TEJA SINGH 'SWATANTAR.'

*2784. Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that Comrade Teja Singh 'Swatantar', State prisoner in District Jail, Campbellpur, is suffering from high blood pressure, if so, his present state of health and the steps the Government has taken to give the prisoner necessary medical relief ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : A reference is invited to the reply given to question No. *2770 put by Sardar Hari Singh.

COMRADE CHANAN SINGH, STATE PRISONER IN CENTRAL JAIL, LAHORE.

*2785. Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that Comrade Chanan Singh, State prisoner in the Central Jail, Lahore, has been suffering from some throat trouble for a long time, and that it is feared that the prisoner would ultimately fall victim to tuberculosis ; if so, whether the Government proposes to release him in the near future ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : The Medical Officer of the Lahore Central Jail reports that this prisoner suffers from chronic granular pharyngitis of a mild nature. With treatment the condition improves but the prisoner is liable to attacks of acute pharyngitis. The medical officer adds that the prisoner's general health is very good, and that there is no probability of his getting tuberculosis. His weight on admission to the Lahore Central Jail was 160 lbs. but is now 162 lbs. In the circumstances there is no question of releasing the prisoner on the ground of health.

REGISTRAR, JOINT STOCK COMPANIES.

*2786. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Registrar, Joint Stock Companies refuses to accept small payments sent by money-orders, and insists on getting treasury receipts ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that inconvenience is being suffered by people concerned in depositing small sums of Rs. 3 or Rs. 5 in the treasury for the required receipts ; if so, whether the Government intends to take any action in this matter ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Yes.

(b) The question of payment of these fees by postal money order or in cash at the office of the Registrar, Joint Stock Companies is being examined.

INCOME OF DISTRICT BOARD, ROHTAK, FROM PROFESSIONAL TAX.

*2787. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the income of the District Board, Rohtak, from professional tax in the year 1935-36, 1936-37, 1937-38, and the expenditure incurred by the Board for the realisation of the tax ;
- (b) how many objections were filed in the last 2 years and how many out of them were accepted ;
- (c) how many appeals were preferred against such orders and with what result?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana :

(a) Year.	Income from Professional tax.	Expenditure incurred for the realisation of the tax.
	Rs.	Rs.
1935-36 .. .. .	14,276	6,704
1936-37 .. .. .	16,135	5,597
1937-38 .. .. .	15,252	5,764

(b) Year.	Number of objections filed.	Number of accepted objections.
1936-37 .. .. .	361	176

(c) No appeals were preferred against the orders of the district board authority rejecting the objections.

HEARING OF CASES BY MAGISTRATES OUTSIDE HEADQUARTERS:

*2788. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of stipendiary and honorary magistrates in the province who went to visit the spots in connexion with cases pending before them during the financial year 1937-38 ;
- (b) the number of such visits ;
- (c) the amount of travelling and halting allowance drawn by the two classes of the magistrates during the year 1937-38 ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that the said practice of visiting spots proves costly and inconvenient to the parties concerned who have to take their counsels and witnesses with them ;
- (e) the steps, if any, that the Government proposes to take in the matter to avoid this inconvenience to the litigant public?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a), (b) and (c) It is regretted that it is impossible to collect this information without an expenditure of time and labour incommensurate with the results to be achieved.

(d) The practice referred to may occasionally cause inconvenience to parties and extra expense in counsels' fees, but as far as witnesses are concerned the hearing of cases on the spot more often saves trouble and expense. Further it must be borne in mind that in chalan cases the expenses of witnesses are paid by the Crown.

(e) The paramount consideration must be whether the court concerned, by visiting the spot or trying a case there, is enabled to reach a just decision. Government are not satisfied that unjustifiable inconvenience is caused so frequently as to warrant any interference with the existing discretion of the courts.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that in the criminal law there is no provision for an inquiry being held at the spot? On the other hand, law requires that courts should be held in their usual places. (Voices : Is this a supplementary question?)

Mr. Speaker : No.

Lala Duni Chand : The Honourable Finance Minister has tried to make out that holding enquiries on the spot in some cases facilitates coming to the right conclusion. I want to know whether criminal law makes any provision for holding inquiries on the spot. So far as I know there is no provision whereby a court can be held at the spot.

Mr. Speaker : That is a legal question and therefore cannot be allowed.

Lala Duni Chand : There is a similar provision in the Civil Procedure Code but there is no such provision in the Criminal Procedure Code. Therefore, it follows that so far as the criminal law is concerned this procedure is not in order.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Is the Honourable Finance Minister aware that though it costs four or five rupees per case to the Crown, the litigants have to pay ten times more in the way of fees of counsel, etc?

Minister : I am not aware that the fee of the counsel mounts up by ten times because of this circumstance.

Lala Duni Chand : Has it come to the notice of the Government that certain magistrates hold courts in the mofassil for the sake of more income ?

Minister : No.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : If it does not cost ten times to the litigants, how much does it cost ? At least no lawyer will go for less than Rs. 50 to an outside place.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that lot of complaints are made against the magistrates who go to different parts of the district and hold trials and inquiries there ?

Minister : Against whom ? The magistrates ?

Lala Duni Chand : Have any complaints come to the notice of the Government that the people are dissatisfied with the magistrates going to different parts of the districts and holding inquiries there ?

Minister : I have already answered this question. I said that Government are not satisfied that unjustifiable inconvenience is caused so frequently as to warrant any interference with the existing discretion of the courts. That is quite a clear answer.

DELAY IN GAZETTING OF ELECTIONS TO DISTRICT BOARD, AMBALA.

*2788. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that in spite of the general elections of the District Board, Ambala, having taken place and completed by the end of January, 1938, the names of the elected members have not been gazetted so far nor have any members been nominated and consequently the new district board has not been constituted ;

(b) the reasons for the delay ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) The publication has been delayed because the matter is under correspondence with the local officers.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know the reasons for not publishing the names of the newly elected members notwithstanding the fact that the elections were over about five months ago ?

Minister : I have already said that the matter is under correspondence with the local officers. The delay has taken place because a suitable representative of the scheduled castes has to be selected.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if it was difficult for the Government to find a suitable member of scheduled castes to be nominated during the last five months ?

Minister : A reminder has been issued and the delay is being enquired into.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do the Government realise that it is against the spirit of the Act to delay the gazetting of election results by such long periods as six months or so ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed as it asks for an interpretation of law.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I want to know whether the delay was just in consonance with the spirit of the Act or was it against it ?

Mr. Speaker : That means an interpretation of law and that cannot be asked.

Premier : It is not against the spirit of the Act to appoint a member of a scheduled caste on the committee.

GRANT OF MONOPOLY FOR LORRY TRAFFIC ON KACHA ROAD BETWEEN RUPAR AND ANANDPUR.

*2790. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that owing to the Kacha road between Rupar, Ambala district and Anandpore, Hoshiarpur district having been declared a hill road the monopoly of the use of the road for lorry traffic has been granted to a particular person and consequently no other licensee of motor vehicles can use this road ;
- (b) whether he is aware of the fact that the said restricted use of the road has resulted in inconvenience to the travelling public and the heavier charges from the public ;
- (c) whether it is also a fact that the District Board, Ambala, on 18th March, 1938, or thereabout passed a resolution recommending to the Government that the said hill road be no more treated and classified as such and if so, what orders the Government has passed thereon.

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : I regret that the answer to the question is not yet ready. It will be communicated to the honourable member when ready.

RULES REGARDING TOURING BY MINISTERS AND THEIR SECRETARIES.

*2791. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether there exists any rules on the subject of touring by the Ministers and their secretaries ; if so, the purposes for which touring by them is permissible under the rules ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : The rules will be found in Appendices A and P to the Travelling Allowance Rules. Travelling allowance is of course only charged for journeys performed in the public interest.

WARDHA EDUCATION SCHEME OF MAHATMA GANDHI.

*2792. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether the Wardha Scheme of Mahatma Gandhi to impart basic education for seven years with some sort of village industry as its necessary concomitant has been considered by the Government and if so, with what results ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : Government has recently appointed a committee to overhaul and reorganise the entire syllabus and curriculum of the 1st to the 8th class, and copies of the Wardha Scheme have also been supplied to the members. I have no doubt that the committee will give due consideration to it in drawing up the new syllabi and curricula.

EXTENSION OF SCHEME OF PROVIDING DISPENSARIES IN RURAL AREAS.

*2793. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) with reference to question No. 18 put by me on 17th June, 1937, and the reply given thereto to what further extent the ideal of providing one dispensary for the mean of 30,000 population and 100 squares miles as stated by the Honourable Minister has been attained since the reply was given ;
- (b) the number of fresh rural dispensaries started since then ;
- (c) whether the scheme of subsidised dispensaries has been extended to other districts besides Montgomery and Lyallpur as promised by him ;
- (d) whether the experiment of the doctors in charge of rural dispensaries being required to tour and go to the neighbouring villages and grant medical relief in five districts as promised in reply to my question has been tried and if so, in which districts ;
- (e) the number of private practitioners who have been granted subsidies since the question was mooted on 17th June, 1937 ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) In order to complete the original scheme of opening 375 rural dispensaries, the question of giving administrative approval for the opening of the remaining 15 dispensaries during the next financial year is at present under the consideration of Government.

(b) None so far.

(c) Yes, it has been extended to the Gujranwala district where two rural dispensaries have been converted into subsidised dispensaries. In the Jhang district a subsidised dispensary has been opened by the District Board, Jhang, for which no grant is paid by Government.

(d) The experiment of doctors in charge of rural dispensaries touring in the neighbouring villages is being tried in the districts of Lahore, Hoshiarpur, Karnal, Gujrat and Montgomery. The experiment is about to be started in one selected tahsil in all other districts.

(e) Two.

REMOVAL OF THE GRIEVANCE OF PUBLIC BATHING IN SUTLEJ RIVER AT THE HEAD WORKS OF SIRHIND CANAL.

*2794. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that at the head-works of Sirhind Canal at Rupar the entire volume of water of Sutlej river is taken into the canal and no water is allowed to pass through the gates and consequently great difficulty is experienced by the public in regard to bathing in the river ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that on the occasion of important fairs such as Baisakhi fair, Panchbhikam fair, etc., when large numbers of people bathe in the river as a matter of religious observance great hardship is experienced by the public owing to there being no water in the river ;
- (c) what steps the Government intends to take to remove this grievance of the public ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) First part.—Yes, up to the authorized full supply of the Canal whenever it is required for irrigation purposes.

Second part.—Government is not aware of any such difficulty, no complaints having been made.

(b) Government has no information about it.

(c) It is not possible to escape water in the river below the Weir without serious loss to the cultivators on the Sirhind Canal who have a right to the water.

OBJECTION AGAINST ENTRY OF HANS RAJ ' WIRELESS ' INTO PUNJAB.

*2795. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government is aware that Hans Raj ' Wireless ' has been released by the Sind Government ;
- (b) whether the Punjab Government has any objection to his coming to the Punjab ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daultana) : (a) Yes.

(b) Hans Raj has been released by the Sind Government on the condition that he does not visit the Punjab during the unexpired portion of his sentence.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the honourable member whether the Sind Government issued this order after consulting the Punjab Government ?

Parliamentary Secretary : That does not arise.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Has the Punjab Government received any application from the father of Hans Raj ' Wireless ' that Hans Raj should be permitted to enter the Punjab for marriage ?

Premier : Yes, and an answer has been sent to him.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will Government state the contents of the reply that was sent in response to that request ?

Premier : I cannot give him the answer, but if the honourable member wants to find out, he can ask the Home Secretary who will tell him.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is he permitted to come to the Punjab for his marriage ?

Premier : Had my honourable friend heard the answer given by my colleague he would not have asked this question.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I want to know whether his father made a request for permitting him to come to the Punjab for his marriage. Is the answer in the affirmative or in the negative ?

Premier : The answer is that he was released by the Sind Government on the condition that he will not enter the Punjab for the remaining portion of his sentence.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the honourable Premier please give us the answer that he has sent to the father of Hans Raj 'Wireless' ?

Premier : I have already told my honourable friend that I cannot give an answer off-hand. If he asks the Home Secretary he will get a gist of the answer.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it a fact that the condition that the prisoner will not enter the Punjab, was imposed by the Sind Government, in accordance with the wishes of the Punjab Government ?

Premier : That does not arise out of this question.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : Are orders of the Sind Government binding on the Punjab Government ?

Premier : They are binding on Hans Raj.

Sardar Partab Singh : May I know from the Premier whether the condition imposed by the Sind Government on Hans Raj that he should not enter the Punjab is violated when he asks for permission from the Punjab Government ?

Premier : That undertaking was not given to the Punjab Government ; it was given to the Sind Government.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Is it a fact that it has been published in the newspapers that the Punjab Government has not permitted Hans Raj to enter the Punjab ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

Premier : There are several lies published in the newspapers every day and this is one of them.

Mr. Speaker : When I disallow a question it should not be answered.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Premier if Hans Raj violates the orders of the Sind Government asking him not to enter the Punjab, will the Punjab Government take any action against Hans Raj ?

Premier : Certainly, if he violates the order of the Sind Government, Punjab Government will take action.

Sardar Hari Singh : Under what section of the Indian Penal Code ?

Premier : That does not arise out of this question. When the situation arises I know how to take action.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Punjab Government take action for violating the order of the Sind Government ?

Mr. Speaker : That is a hypothetical question. So, I disallow it.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Premier please state the position of the Punjab Government in regard to permitting him to enter in the Punjab or otherwise ?

Premier : I cannot say beyond what I have already stated.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Has the Punjab Government any objection to Hans Raj coming to the Punjab ?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Are Government prepared to exert their pressure and influence on the Sind Government in order to bring a Punjabi back to the Punjab ?

Premier : I do not think it will be fair on the part of the Punjab Government to exert their influence on another Government. They are our equals, not subordinates.

LALA HARBHAGWAN DASS, PATWARI, AT NURPUR-TIWANA, DISTRICT SHAHPUR.

*2796. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Lala Harbhagwan Dass has been holding the post of revenue patwari at Nurpur-Tiwana, tahsil Khushab, district Shahpur, for the last five years ;
- (b) whether the local public has any grievances against him ; if so, whether these have been inquired into, if not, why not ;
- (c) whether on the 25th January and 10th February, 1938, the public of Nurpur-Tiwana addressed registered memorials against the aforesaid patwari to the Commissioner, Rawalpindi division, Deputy Commissioner, Shahpur district, the Sub-Divisional Officer and the tahsildar of Khushab ;
- (d) if the reply to part (c) be in the affirmative, whether the aforesaid officers have taken any action on these memorials to redress the grievances of the public ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the above mentioned patwari had been transferred first from Borah and later on from Jawrah Kalan to Nurpur-Tiwana as a result of public complaints against him ; if so, the reasons for not taking any serious action against him so far ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : I regret that the information is not yet ready.

RELEASE OF PRISONERS BEFORE TIME.

*2797. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the names and number of prisoners released by the Government since the Budget Session before the expiry of their actual sentences ;

[Bardar Sohan Singh Josh.]

- (b) the term of sentences awarded to them ;
- (c) the term of sentences undergone by them ;
- (d) the remission earned by them while in jails ;
- (e) the term of sentences remitted by the Government ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : To collect the detailed information asked by the honourable member would involve an expenditure of time and trouble incommensurate with the results to be achieved. I may state, however, that 259 prisoners of all kinds have been prematurely released since the budget session of the Assembly. In addition orders have been passed in 80 cases directing premature release on future dates.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know how many more have been put in jail ?

Minister : As many as have been duly convicted by courts of law (hear, hear).

ARREST AND CONVICTION OF PRISONERS FROM THE AJNALA TAHSIL.

*2798. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state the names and number of persons arrested and convicted under section 124 (A), Indian Penal Code, from the Ajnala tahsil, district Amritsar, since March, 1938, and the class assigned to each of them in jail ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : A statement showing the names of those being tried under section 124-A, Indian Penal Code, in the Ajnala tahsil since March 1938, is laid on the table. These cases are still pending. No. 8 and No. 10 have been allowed better class treatment while the rest are being given ordinary class treatment. The question of jail classification arises only on conviction and not while the prisoners are under-trial.

Names of persons arrested for speeches made in the Ajnala tahsil since March, 1938.

CANCELLATION OF NOTIFICATIONS NOS. 30809 AND 30810-JUDICIAL, DATED 31ST OCTOBER, 1928.

*2799. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether the circumstances that led to the issuing of Punjab Government notifications Nos. 30809 and 30810-Judicial, dated the 31st October, 1928, against residents of village Sabrah, district Lahore, still exist and if not, whether the Government has considered the question of cancelling these notifications ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The honourable member is referred to Punjab Government notifications No. 2763-J-38/17260, No. 2763-J-38/17261, and No. 2763-J-38/17262, dated the 4th May, 1938. These notifications have cancelled or modified the effect of restrictions existing against a number of residents of Sabrah village, whose conduct has been satisfactory.

INVESTIGATION OF CASES IN THE AJNALA TAHSIL BY THE SPECIAL POLICE STAFF.

*2800. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of cases handled by the special staff of police during March, April and May, 1938, in the Ajnala tahsil, district Amritsar ;
- (b) the number of cases among these which resulted in convictions ;
- (c) the number of persons in the cases above mentioned detained by the special staff for investigation purposes and subsequently let off ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Twenty-three.
(b) Three cases ended in the conviction of the accused, one resulted in the acquittal of the accused, ten are under trial, four are still under investigation and five have been filed as untraced.
(c) Nil.

APPOINTMENT OF NON-OFFICIAL VISITORS OF JAILS.

*2801. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the rules governing the appointment of non-official visitors of jails ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that before April, 1937, some of the non-official visitors of jails were appointed from amongst the members of the Punjab Legislative Council ;
- (c) whether the Government has considered the question of continuing the old practice again ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) The honourable member is referred to the answer given to question No. *780<sup>1</sup> asked by Chaudhri Kartar Singh.

- (b) Yes.
- (c) A number of members of this House are already non-official visitors of jails.

CANDIDATES ACCEPTED BY DEPUTY COMMISSIONER, LUDHIANA, FOR TRAINING AS PATWARIS.

*2802. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) the total number of candidates recently accepted by the Deputy Commissioner, Ludhiana, for training as patwaris at the Patwar School ;

(b) of these how many were :—

(1) statutory agriculturists ;

(2) matriculates ;

(3) over the specified age-limit, and

(4) without the minimum educational qualifications ;

(c) whether the communal representation of candidates selected is in accordance with the communal population of the district ; if not, which community is under represented ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : (a) 54.

(b) 1 45.

2 41.

4 Nil.

(c) I must decline with regret to answer this part of the question which savours of communalism on the floor of the House. I am sorry to have to adopt this attitude but Government consider it necessary in the public interest to establish a convention in connection with such matters. I shall, however, always be prepared to examine any particular instance of disproportionate representation which honourable members may bring to my notice in a more informal way.

NUMBER OF DACOITIES AND MURDERS COMMITTED WITHIN JURISDICTION OF THANA SHAINA IN THE LUDHIANA DISTRICT.

*2803. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) the total number of dacoities and murders committed within the jurisdiction of thana Shaina in the Ludhiana district, during the year ended 31st March, 1938, and the number of such cases in which firearms were used by the culprits ;

(b) whether it has been brought to his notice that the illegal in question itself and the adjoining territories of states are swarming with armed criminals ;

(c) the total number of licensed firearms within the jurisdiction in question ;

(d) whether he has been informed that the number of licensed firearms is insufficient to enable the villagers to cope with the armed criminals successfully ; if so, what action Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan :

- (a) Dacoities .. Nil.
Murders .. One, in which no firearm was used.

(b) Five such men are known. They are believed to move mostly in adjoining state territories.

(c) Fifty-three.

(d) The Deputy Commissioner states that arms licenses are issued in the ilaqa as a measure of village defence, and he considers the number sufficient.

SUMMER TIME OF SITTINGS OF LUDHIANA COURTS.

*2804. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the summer time of the sittings of the Ludhiana courts and that of other courts in the province ;
(b) whether it is a fact that the village litigant public are put to great inconvenience and expense by the present summer time of the courts at Ludhiana, if so, what action Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : I regret that the reply to this question is not yet ready.

REPRESENTATION AGAINST THE COLONIZATION OFFICER, LYALLPUR.

*2805. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether sometime ago he received a representation from the residents of Pir Mahal and other areas in the Burala extensions (district Lyallpur) against the Colonization Officer, Lyallpur ; if so, whether an inquiry was made into the allegations made in that representation and if so, the result of the inquiry and the action that the Government proposed to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : An anonymous complaint was received and destroyed.

REPRESENTATION AGAINST THE CORRUPT PRACTICES OF THE PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT OF THE FAZILKA MUNICIPALITY.

*2806. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state whether some time ago he received a representation against corrupt practices of the Public Works Department of the Fazilka Municipality ; if so, what action does the Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : No such representation appears to have been received.

*2807. Cancelled.

ADJOURNMENT MOTIONS.

FAILURE OF AMBALA WATER WORKS.

Mr. Speaker : Before the Hon'ble Member moves his motion, I would like to know whether the supply of water is a municipal affair ?

Lala Duni Chand : It is an affair of the Public Works Department and the expenditure is met partly by the Municipal Committee and partly by the Government.

Mr. Speaker : Is the shortage of water experienced every year ?

Lala Duni Chand : Every year, but this time it was unbearable.

Mr. Speaker : I do not consider the motion to be in order as there is no question of urgency and responsibility of Government is not involved.

Lala Duni Chand : The public has been put to great inconvenience. Is it not a matter of urgency ? I will read out my motion. It runs thus :—

" I ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the virtual collapse of the water works supply of water at Ambala city during the month of May, 1938, with the result that there was practically a water famine in the whole month and a very large majority of the population of the city numbering about 25,000 souls, were subjected to unbearable conditions."

Nothing would be more urgent than this. My object is that the attention of the Government should be drawn to this matter so that they may take immediate action.

Mr. Speaker : The object of an adjournment motion is not to take action. The motion is out of order.

DACOITY IN SHAHPORE VILLAGE.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural) : Sir, I ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the failure of the police to detect and arrest the offenders numbering 9 who after arming themselves with firearms committed a dacoity in the house of Lala Babu Ram, a money-lender of Shahpore village, Ambala district, about three miles from Ambala Cantonment, on 23rd April, 1938, at about 7-30 p.m., the operations of which lasted for about an hour and a half and were witnessed by a large number of the inhabitants of the village, and in course of which the said Babu Ram, his sister, his son and a neighbour were seriously wounded and considerable property was looted.

I think this motion is strictly in order.

Mr. Speaker : I wish I could agree with the honourable member. What is the object of his motion ?

Lala Duni Chand : The object is to show that the police failed in its duty and could not detect and arrest the offenders in the village of Shahpore which is about 3 miles from Ambala Cantonment. It is a most serious matter.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order, Sir. I am sorry to say that the honourable member has said that Ambala is 3 miles from this village. It is 7 miles from this village and the police reached there within half an hour.

Lala Duni Chand : It is exactly 3 miles. I can bear a personal testimony. The police did not reach the spot in time, though they had been informed on the phone. I would inform that the dacoity operation lasted for about an hour and a half.

Mr. Speaker : The question is whether the police arrived when the dacoity was being committed.

Lala Duni Chand : The police did not come in time.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member's motion is that the police did not come in time, and that therefore the Government should be criticised. Is any administrative responsibility of Government involved ?

Lala Duni Chand : The question is whether the conduct of the police in relation to acts of this kind cannot be called in question. Is it not the administrative responsibility of the Government ? The dacoity took place at about 7-80 P.M. on the 23rd April.

Mr. Speaker : But what conduct of the police is to be criticised ? It is not mentioned in the motion.

Lala Duni Chand : Failure of police to detect and arrest the offenders

Mr. Speaker : As I read the motion, I think, it is out of order.

REMISSION OF LAND REVENUE AND ABIANA.

Sardar Ajit Singh (South-West Punjab, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the inability of the zamindars of the province to pay the present rabi muamila and abiana due to the heavy fall in prices of main agricultural produce like wheat, gram, etc., and the failure of the Government to adopt certain measures possible to raise the prices or allow sufficient remission to enable the zamindars to pay their land revenue and abiana.

Mr. Speaker : To achieve his object the honourable member may move a substantive motion. I rule his motion out of order.

REMOVAL BY POLICE OF BOOKS AND PAPERS OF THE SHIROMANI GURDWARA PRABANDHAK COMMITTEE.

Sardar Kartar Singh (Lyallpur East, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the action of the police in taking away the books and papers of the Shiromani Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee—a statutory body—on 10th June, 1933, making it practically impossible to carry on the regular work for the management of the said committee as well as of the gurdwaras under its supervision.

Mr. Speaker : Presumably the police acted according to law.

Sardar Partab Singh : The police could have taken copies of the books and papers that they wished to see. They should not have taken away the books.

Mr. Speaker : Is there any law which forbids the police from removing books in such cases ?

Sardar Partab Singh : I am sorry I am not well armed with a knowledge of the law on the point.

Mr. Speaker : I hold that the motion is out of order.

TREATMENT BY THE POLICE OF THE HONOURABLE SPEAKER AT THE SIMLA BARRIER.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Hoshiarpur West, General, Rural) : I have already sent a note that I withdraw my motion<sup>1</sup>.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has certainly given notice to withdraw his motion. But as the motion concerns me personally, I consider it my duty, as the Speaker of this House, to invite attention of the honourable members of the House to the facts of the case. What happened is that the car, in which I travelled from Kalka to Simla, had so little leg room that I could not stretch my legs throughout. So I felt tired and got out of the car at the Simla Barrier to have a little walk. After I had walked about a hundred feet, someone said from behind, "Babuji apna nam de jao." I did not reply, as my second car, which was coming behind, contained my luggage bearing my name cards. Nobody stopped, me nor did anybody come after me, nor was I insulted or molested in any way. Nothing of the sort happened. The Press reports were entirely wrong and misleading. I am thankful, however, to the honourable members of this House for taking notice of the incident. (Cheers).

Premier : It is in this spirit that adjournment motions are moved frivolously without making enquiries and verifying facts and thus the time of the House is wasted. I appeal to my honourable friends that in future they may verify facts before coming to the Assembly with their adjournment motions.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I want to make one submission. When we read a news in the papers and the news is not contradicted and when we find that it was a direct insult not only to you but to the whole House and I say to the whole province if that news were correct, are we not within our right to invite the attention of the Government about this by way of an adjournment motion ? The Honourable Premier has accused us of giving notice of frivolous motions. I beg to submit that he is not justified in making that allegation or accusation against us. We realise our responsibility and when we knew that the information was wrong we did not take a minute to withdraw the motion and we did not waste the time of the House. The motion was before the Premier for such a long time. If he found that we were wrong, I think it would have been good of him had he informed us that there was no truth in it and we would have believed him and not even wasted that one minute and he would have been saved the remark accusing us of making frivolous motions.

Premier : May I ask in which paper this news appeared ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : In all the vernacular papers—Praja and Vir Bharat.

Mr. Speaker : What surprised me is that no honourable member took the trouble of referring to me. I was here and accessible. Had any gentleman taken the trouble of coming to me I would have given him the true facts.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I beg to submit that only a day or two ago we were informed that there was no truth and I asked my friend Chaudhri Kartar Singh to meet you. He has now withdrawn it and it is unfair on the part of the Leader of the House to say that we move frivolous motions and I hope he will not bring that charge again.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Even on the basis of the statement you have made, we want to know from the Government and I think we are perfectly justified in asking the Government whether the real object of the enquiries that are made at the barrier is to find out whether a man is vaccinated or not or whether he is suffering from any infectious disease, etc., as they pose that is their object.

An honourable member : Is the word 'pose' parliamentary ?

Mr. Speaker : I have consulted books of reference and come to the conclusion that the word 'pose' is not unparliamentary.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I should like to know whether that is their real object or whether their object is something else.

RIOT AT CHINIOT.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Hoshiarpur West, General, Rural) (Urdu) : I beg to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the failure of Government to control the situation created at Chiniot in the Jhang district on 7th June, 1933.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has not stated in his motion, as worded, that the police was informed beforehand or that the authorities were informed that such and such a thing was going to happen. Then how does the responsibility of the police come in ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : 'Failure of the police,' that is the wording.

Mr. Speaker : Was the police informed ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Yes.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Sir, I merely wish to submit that this riot took place at a distance of 100 yards from the Railway Station of Chiniot and the mob remained there from 10 A.M. to 6 P.M.

Premier : What caused the riot ?

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Do not lose patience. I am coming to that. In the meantime I was observing that the tahsildar and the sub-inspector were both present in the city. Moreover, Lyallpur is near by, at a distance of 22 miles only and the police could be sent for from there. Again, Jhang is within easy call and the police of that district could be requisitioned at once. What needs explanation is that the mob remained there from morning till evening and yet the local officers could not see their way to control the situation. It is a pity that the tahsildar and the sub-inspector did nothing to hold the lawless mob in check in spite of the fact that both of them were present in their headquarters. It was only at 12 o'clock that a telegram was sent to the higher officers and the investigation started the next day.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order. The honourable member who has just now explained the reasons for the adjournment motion said that certain police officers or certain tahsildars had not taken action which he desired them to take. But the adjournment motion refers to the failure of the Government to control the situation. I submit that even on his own statement it is not clear how the Government comes in in-controlling or not controlling the particular situation.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : The honourable member ought to know that the tahsildar and the sub-inspector represent the Government of the day on the spot and if in that capacity they fail to perform their duties properly, the Government can with justification be held responsible for negligence in coping with the situation.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I give some information on the point? The information that I have received from Chinot is this. A certain goldsmith became a Muhammadan, that is, he changed his religion and later on married a Muslim woman. Then that man and his wife came back to Chinot and on the pressure of his friends he and his wife were converted to Hinduism. That goldsmith and his wife were going from Chinot to another village in order to find a living. Some Muslims of that place when they came to know that that man was taking that woman with him and that the woman was converted into Hinduism, got naturally infuriated—(An honourable member : Why naturally?)—because they always feel like that whenever such a thing happens. This information which was in the possession of some persons was communicated to others and a large number of people began to gather.

When this thing was going on, I am informed, and I have that information in writing from some persons in Chinot—they communicated to the Thanedar and the words used in the communication—I am sorry I have not got it here—are that some notables of the town including pleaders and municipal commissioners went to the Thanedar and apprised him of the serious situation that was developing in the town and that large numbers of Muslims were gathering and that there was a danger of breach of the peace. Then as the crowd was swelling, they began to move towards the town and when they were coming towards the town they met one Buta Ram in the way and they fell upon him.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : On a point of order. I am sorry to have to raise it, but the real facts which led to the fight do not concern us at all. What we want to discuss is that the police did not make any adequate arrangements to stop this communal fight.

Mr. Speaker : I do not want details. All I want to know is what happened there. Were any murders committed ? (Voices : Yes). Has the case been challaned ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : No challan has been filed in the court up to the present day.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : The police is making enquiries but no challan has been put forward.

Mr. Speaker : The question is whether the case has been sent up to court.

Premier : The report I have received is that there was a riot in Chiniot on the evening of 7th of June and the situation was immediately controlled by the police. As a matter of fact the report which I have received shows that they did very well indeed. The police got back the alleged husband and wife and kept them in the thana because there was a danger of their being lynched by the crowds outside and when the sub-inspector came to know that there were stray assaults, he went at once with all the available police and got the situation under control immediately. Further police arrived from Jhang and there was no recurrence of the trouble or any incident after that. All that happened within about half an hour or three quarters of it.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : How many persons were killed ?

Premier : One was killed and six or seven were injured from both sides.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The position is like this. The Honourable Premier has mentioned the fact about the bringing of the couple to the thana. The fact is that this couple was brought back to the thana by the people and there the woman made a statement that she was major and she was the wife of the goldsmith and wanted to remain with him, but in spite of the fact, as reported to me though I cannot vouch for it, in spite of the fact that the Thanedar was apprised of the serious danger.....

Premier : May I point out that this matter in regard to whether she is the wife of that gentleman or not is sub-judice.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Sir, if you allow me to say a few words, I would prove that the case of the husband and wife has nothing to do with the matter now under consideration of the House. The point that requires elucidation is, why did the sub-inspector of police fail to control the situation in spite of the fact that the crowd remained at a distance of 100 or 150 yards from the railway station from 10 A.M. to 6 P.M. ? May I ask whether it is not the duty of the Government to prevent people from creating disturbances, and to save the lives of the innocent people ?

Premier : I merely wanted to repeat what I have already stated that these stray assaults took place within about three quarters of an hour and as soon as the Police came to know about it they went to the spot and took the situation under control at once. I also submitted that this case is sub-judice as to whether the man and the woman are husband and wife and the other case in which people were murdered and injured is, I believe, still under investigation.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : We are not concerned with the case about the wife.

Premier : That is very material.

Mr. Speaker : The matter does not appear to be so important as it is sought to be made ; yet I think if the facts, as stated, are correct, there is something. One thing, however, I would like to know. Will the Honourable Premier please send a telegram and ascertain where the case stands ?

Premier : I have got information already. As I submitted, a case under sections 304, 149, 395 and 328 was registered by the Station House Officer and investigation is going on.

Mr. Speaker : I want to know when it is going to be sub-judice.

Premier : I am not certain but we can enquire about it whether it is already sub-judice or not.

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier may inquire and report when we meet next. The difficulty is that even if I allow the motion now, it cannot be discussed immediately, it shall have to be discussed later, and by that time the case might become sub-judice. The case should not be sub-judice (i) when the motion is admitted and (ii) when the motion is discussed.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I through you make a submission to the Premier, because this matter is not going to be taken up now.....

Mr. Speaker : As the matter is bound to be sub-judice before long, the House should know, if possible, whether it is already sub-judice, and, if not, whether it is likely to be sub-judice before the 27th instant, the next day on which the Assembly meets and the motion can be discussed. I hope the Honourable Premier will be able to collect the requisite information.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : If you feel it is in order, you may announce the motion in order and fix time for its discussion but if we find later on that the matter is sub-judice you may disallow its discussion.

Mr. Speaker : I am already treating the motion very sympathetically. According to the decision of the Presidents in India, if a case is bound to come before a court of law, it should not be admitted. So let us wait till the 27th. Just now the Government is not in a position to give any information to the Assembly or discuss the motion. Consequently I cannot allow it to-day.

Malik Barkat Ali : Does not a matter become sub-judice as soon as a report is registered with the police and the police starts investigation ? Where is the guarantee that the police will not challan a case ? Again the police may or may not challan, still the private complainant can take the case to court. My submission is that as soon as a case is registered, the police starts investigation and the matter becomes sub-judice in the eye of the law.

REPRESSION IN KARNAL DISTRICT.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla General) (Rural): Sir, I beg to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the repression reported to and practised in Karnal district as evidenced by the ill treatment and persecution to which Swami Sewa Nand and other Congress workers were subjected by the police on or about 3rd May, 1938, with the object of stopping legitimate and constitutional political work in Karnal district.

I do not know what will be the fate of this adjournment motion but I beg to place before you very clearly and definitely two aspects of this motion. The first aspect is that since the middle of April last all sorts of repression is going on against the political workers of that district. No meetings arranged by the political workers are being allowed.

Premier: Is my honourable friend making a speech?

Mr. Speaker: What sort of repression was exercised?

Lala Duni Chand: Meetings were stopped. Workers had been ill-treated and assaulted.

Premier: By whom?

Lala Duni Chand: By your men.

Premier: What do you mean by the words "your men"?

Mr. Speaker: I rule the motion out of order.

Lala Duni Chand: I want this adjournment motion to be admitted on two grounds. First, that repression is going on and secondly, that on 3rd May, 1938, Swami Sewa Nand and others were ill-treated and were subjected to all sorts of repression. They were assaulted and were not allowed to hold a meeting.

Premier: But they could go to a court of law?

Lala Duni Chand: In my humble opinion the entire subject of repression in Karnal district is a specific single matter but if you think otherwise then I take my stand for the admission of this adjournment motion on the ground that on a particular day, namely, 3rd May, 1938, the police assaulted Congress workers and did not allow them to hold a public meeting. I have given the name of a prominent man Swami Sewa Nand who was ill-treated. So, this is by itself a matter on which I can move an adjournment motion. My humble submission before you is that if a number of acts have been done in the course of a certain time to repress a perfectly legitimate and constitutional movement, that repression, taken as a whole is a specific single matter. My adjournment motion can be admitted on this ground.

Mr. Speaker: If any person was assaulted and beaten, the person or persons aggrieved should have resorted to a court of law. Therefore, the motion is not admissible on that ground. The second reason advanced is that political meetings are not allowed to be held and thus the Congress is harassed. What has the Honourable Premier to say?

Premier : So far as the Government is concerned, we have issued no orders to stop any meetings. I can assure my honourable friend on that point.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mr. Maqbool Mahmood) : On a point of order, Sir. The adjournment motion, as worded by my honourable friend opposite deals not with an individual incident but with the alleged repression resorted to and practised in Karnal district as evidenced by the ill-treatment and persecution to which Swami Sewa Nand and other Congress workers were subjected by the police. As very rightly pointed out by you, if they wish to deal with one incident the best remedy is a court of law. If the point of attack is the alleged general repression, then it is not a definite matter. The motion is, therefore, in my opinion, out of order.

Mr. Speaker : Who has interfered ?

Lala Duni Chand : It is the police.

Mr. Speaker : I think resort could be had under the law to the District Magistrate or the Superintendent of Police. If they also had refused to interfere, then there may have been some justification for coming to this House.

Lala Duni Chand : The Police dispersed a perfectly constitutional and legitimate meeting without any orders of the Deputy Commissioner.

Mr. Speaker : That is all the more reason why the Deputy Commissioner and the Superintendent of Police should have been approached.

Lala Duni Chand : I want to approach the House and not the Deputy Commissioner.

Mr. Speaker : The House is not a Police Station or a District Magistrate's Court. Millions of people are molested and harassed every day, and if every aggrieved person's complaint is to be placed before this House by a question or an adjournment motion, it would be impossible for this House to hear and dispose of all such complaints. About every incident and about every candidate or clerk in a Government office there are a series of questions. So far I have been very tolerant and indulgent, but there is a limit. Why should not the persons aggrieved go to the Superintendent of Police and the Deputy Commissioner ? I disallow the adjournment motion.

APPREHENSIONS OF CRIMINALS IN LUDHIANA DISTRICT.

Sardar Lal Singh (Ludhiana Central, Sikh, Rural) : Sir, I beg to move for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the failure of the Government to apprehend several desperate criminals and proclaimed offenders who have been responsible for many recent murders in broad day light in villages Man, Jodhpur, Channanwal of district Ludhiana and who emboldened by the inaction of the police move about armed with firearms committing a series of dacoities and other crimes spreading terror and lawlessness as a result of which a serious state of insecurity prevails in the villages of thanas Shaina and Jagraon.

Mr. Speaker : Is the police responsible for it ?

Sardar Lal Singh : It is due to the inaction of the police. It is said that Government is lax intentionally so that the Congress may not gather force. There have been several petty officials who say "let the Congress do it," and the result is that some of the people have actually deserted their villages. There is so much insecurity that no one's life is safe.

Mr. Speaker : Was a complaint made by the honourable member to the local authorities ?

Sardar Lal Singh : Yes. I have made several complaints, but I am sorry to say that Government officers had not the decency to reply.

Premier : What kind of complaint ?

Sardar Lal Singh : Complaint to the effect that an innocent woman while proceeding to the police station Shaina to make a complaint was murdered in the presence of a lambardar in broad day light ; and that man has been frequently seen in that village in the company of several people armed to the teeth and the police has done nothing.

Mr. Speaker : In view of what the honourable member has stated it is not a definite matter.

Sardar Lal Singh : The state of insecurity is as much definite as it can be.

Premier : May I point out that in this particular ilaga, Government have not only taken precautions by providing additional police and police lorries, but has also encouraged the people to take licences for arms and have distributed buck shot ammunition free in 65 villages, with the result that there has not been a single murderous dacoity in this ilaga during the past year.

Sardar Lal Singh : There has been a dacoity only four days ago, in which an innocent woman proceeding to her destination was robbed.

Premier : During the last year, after these arrangements, there has not been a single incident of the type mentioned in this ilaga.

Sardar Lal Singh : We have seen a notorious dacoit Gurnam Singh going as far as Kapurthala State. I am surprised to hear from the Premier that there has been no dacoity.

Premier : Gurnam Singh and other dacoits who are terrorising lives in the Indian States which lie on the border of Ferozepore and Ludhiana districts and as to why they live in those States is no reason for an adjournment motion.

Mr. Speaker : According to the Honourable Premier, action has been taken by Government. Extra police and lorries have been provided, licences for arms have been given. I think the honourable member must have heard that many dacoits on the Continent as well in India have not been detected or caught for years. They have defied the police. Discussion of Government's responsibility in this case will be justified only if Government has failed in its duty as Government. The Premier has stated what the Government has done. The Government could provide additional police and supply other facilities. All this has been done.

Sardar Lal Singh : The question is whether Government have failed to take any steps; that is what I want to discuss. There are about four or five desperate criminals going about during the day time in the villages. It is impossible that the police are unaware of it and yet they do not do anything.

Mr. Speaker : What does the honourable member expect Government to do ?

Sardar Lal Singh : Is it within the purview of this adjournment motion ?

Mr. Speaker : I must know what Government could do but has not done.

Sardar Lal Singh : Government can arrest those dacoits with the help of the military if the police is insufficient. (Voices : Martial Law).

Premier : Have the police not arrested several notorious dacoits ? (Cries of no, no).

Sardar Lal Singh : What we want to say is that the police officers are not only inefficient but that their inaction makes people think they are actually in league with the dacoits and do not want to arrest them and there is no security of life or property.

Lala Duni Chand : The question of the responsibility of the Government does arise.

Premier : I understand that during the twelve months these precautions had been taken there has not been a single case of murderous dacoity in that Wazir.

Sardar Lal Singh : Is the Premier aware that only about ten days ago in village Shama two men who had been at the house of the Sub-Inspector of Police, two local men, went actually to a shopkeeper, molested him and tried to wrest money from him ?

Mr. Speaker : I request the Honourable Premier to ascertain the facts of this case by Monday next when I will consider the question of admissibility of the adjournment motion.

Premier : As a matter of fact I will give you more information of what we have done. We have distributed free arms to the people.

NOMINATION TO LYALLPUR MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Speaker : We will now take up the adjournment motion.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to move—

That the Assembly do now adjourn.

Mr. Speaker, in accordance with your instructions that we should be as brief as possible, I promise that we on this side will attempt to castigate Government in as brief a span of time as possible. Let me make one complaint. This Government and our Ministers opposite have been in-office for the last 15 months or so. We knew at the time of their resumption of office that they were a reactionary Ministry. We knew that their policy and programme were reactionary, but the events of the last 15 months have shown that they are more reactionary than we thought in our wild imagination. Mr. Speaker, irregularities are being committed by these gentlemen, mistakes after mistakes are committed and when the time of reckoning comes they turn their tails and fly away instead of facing the music.

The recent action of the Government or the Government officials in making nominations to the Lyallpur municipal committee is nothing short of a scandal, a virtual suppression of a very important and first class municipality. Lyallpur, as you know, is one of the most important towns of the Punjab. I should call it a nerve centre of the commercial, industrial and other activities of the people of the colonies. That is a premier municipality in that part of the Punjab. The action taken with regard to that municipality is very deplorable. It is not only deplorable but it reveals Government's policy in regard to matters concerning local self-government in its hideous nakedness. What has the Government done in this case? What are the facts of the case? Here are the facts of the case. At the last general election, the Muhammadans of Lyallpur did not unfortunately participate in it, because they had a grouse against the system of election. They wanted separate electorate. They wanted their representation through the door of separate electorates. They protested against joint electorates. They boycotted the election and therefore no Muhammadan was elected to the municipality for no fault of the Government and for no fault of the law in force. What was the result of that? Twelve Hindus and Sikhs were elected and two were nominated—one Hindu and one Muslim. So 14 members constituted the municipal committee. Since then there has been a complaint by the Muhammadans of Lyallpur that they were not represented on the committee. Their complaint was genuine and it ought to have been redressed in time, but in a proper manner, in a proper fashion and in a proper method. It has also been said that the municipality of Lyallpur, whose general election is over-due, passed many resolutions urging upon the Government to hold the general elections which were over-due, but the Government paid no heed to their representation and did not hold general elections, which was the only proper method to redress the grievances of the persons aggrieved. What has the Government done now? Instead of holding elections at the proper time, they have made 12 new nominations to the Lyallpur municipal committee under the Municipal Act and in this way the number of nominated members has been increased to 14 as against 12 elected. So, as a result of Government's action, the official nominees control that body now, and have swamped the elected element. So virtually, or I should say, actually the power over municipal affairs, which was vested in or which was possessed by popular representatives of the people, has been transferred, with a single stroke of the pen of the gentleman opposite, to the official nominees. They say that they have made nominations to please the Muhammadans. (Minister for Public Works: No, I gave them due representation). The Honourable Minister will have his chance. What is the result of these nominations? The Lyallpur municipality is actually in the hands of the Unionist Government, but not in the hands of poor 9 Muslim members of the committee. They do not possess any effective voice. Our complaint is not that Muhammadans have been nominated. Our complaint is that the Lyallpur Municipality has been taken over by the Unionist Government from the hands of popular representatives of the people. As a result of these nominations, 9 Muhammadans, 2 Hindus and 1 depressed class have been nominated to this committee. As a protest against the Unionist fiat 7 honourable, respectable, well-placed and influential members of that committee have resigned, including Sardar Sampuran Singh, M.L.A., who was the President of the committee and Dr. Nand Lall, Vice-President. Sardar Sant Singh, M.L.A. (Central), a well-known public man and famous legislator, Seth Ram Narain Vermani, ex-M.L.A., Mr. Ganesh Dutt, Lala Diwan Chand and Lala Bhagat Ram have also resigned as a protest against the action of the Government. A critical and tense situation has been created there. They have resigned as a protest against the nominations which resulted in the transfer of the control from the hands of popular representatives into those of the Unionist Government.

Minister for Public Works : They have resigned from a municipality, the normal life of which had expired in February 1937 and they were keeping themselves in office by certain tactics.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I take it that the Lyallpur municipality is no longer in existence ?

Minister : It is in existence but beyond its normal life.

Sardar Hari Singh : Then my contention is that these gentlemen have resigned from that committee which is still in existence, not because of its being in existence beyond its normal life but because of the action taken by the gentleman opposite. Let not the impression be carried away that I am against the Muhammadans being nominated to the committee. I would be glad if all the members of the committee are Muslims, provided they are elected by the people and they are responsible to the people and they continue to enjoy the confidence of the people of Lyallpur. I would go further and say that I would not mind if all Ministers of the Punjab Government are Muhammadans provided they are of the type of Dr. Khan Sahib (Hear from the Opposition benches) and are elected by the people and are responsible to the people. This is our position in this matter. My grouse is to the following effect—that in the garb of providing representation to the Muslim population of Lyallpur, they have, in reality, in actuality, provided representation to their own party and in an overwhelming majority. In this connection, I take it that the real object of the Government is—and that will be their reason and justification—that they want to provide representation to the Muhammadans pending the next elections. Supposing that is the position of the Government for a moment. Then why have they nominated 2 Hindus along with 9 Muslims? Again, they have been in office for the last fifteen months, why did they not tackle this question earlier? Those who profess to be solicitous of the protection of the interests of Muslims, after joining the Muslim League, I ask them, why did they not tackle this question earlier? Why did they not hold the elections to the committee earlier? Why have they been shirking the issue for so many months if they agreed to give representation to Muhammadans? Even now the Muhammadan population of Lyallpur is not represented on the committee at all. These are the nominees of the Honourable Minister and they will act according to the instructions of the Minister. So this action of the Government is open to attack from many points of view. The validity of the action of the Government can be questioned from the point of view of propriety and also from the constitutional point of view. This action, I submit, is undemocratic and it is calculated to frustrate the development of self-government in the Punjab. This shows that our Ministers are assuming the roll of dictators, Hitlers and Mussolinis, in this land of five rivers. This is clearly an attempt to gag the popular will and the expression of popular opinion.

Now, let me examine the action of Government from the constitutional point of view. In section 12 of the Municipal Act it is laid down in the proviso that unless the Local Government otherwise direct the appointed members shall not exceed one-fourth of the whole committee. It is clear, therefore, that in the present case the nominations have been made under the instruction of the Local Government. It is not open to the Honourable Minister to say now that the Commissioner took the action or the Deputy Commissioner took the action. The increase in the number of nominated members has been effected under the order of the Government. Section 14 lays down that action can be taken under two conditions. One is that the majority of the electors should make a request to Government that the number should be increased and so on. Can my honourable friend the Minister say that a majority of the electors requested him to increase the number of nominated members of the committee? I am sure his answer will be in the negative. Another condition under which action can be taken under this section is that public interest must be affected. What is the public interest which was affected in the Lyallpur municipal committee which was not affected for the past three years and a half or even for the past 15 months during which period the ministry has been in office? What immediate urgency has arisen to call upon the Minister to increase the number of nominations to this committee? Granting that these two conditions had been fulfilled for the purpose of argument, nominations to the committee can be made only if sufficient number of members had not been elected to the committee. Does the Honourable Minister mean to say that twelve members elected to the committee do not form a sufficient number? Further, in order to make his action under this section justifiable, the proper time for nomination was just after the general election and not after 3½ years after the general elections. So the action of the Honourable Minister in making nominations now is improper, illegal, unconstitutional, reactionary, retrograde and what not.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved is—

That the Assembly do now adjourn.

Parliamentary Secretary (Shaikh Faiz Muhammad): Sir, after hearing the honourable mover I am in a way glad that my objection to the admissibility of the adjournment motion did not prevail. From the speech which the honourable member has made it is clear that either he is totally ignorant of the real state of affairs prevailing in Lyallpur or he has been wrongly informed. Apart from the fact that my honourable friend has indulged in vague generalities and platitudes, he has said nothing which can possibly justify an attack on the action of the Government in relation to the Lyallpur municipal committee. In order that this House may be in a position fully to appreciate the implications of this adjournment motion and also the implications of the action taken by Government it is necessary for me briefly to recapitulate the history of the Lyallpur municipal committee for the last decade and a half. First of all, I may inform the House that joint electorates have always obtained in the municipal committee of Lyallpur. As long back as 1928-24 the Mussalmans represented to the Government that they could not secure their due share of representation on the committee through joint electorates and that therefore they should be allowed separate electorates. This representation was rejected by the Government and I think it was rightly too. Later on in 1924, the municipal committee which consisted of a majority of non-Muslims represented to the Government that it was impossible for the minority communities to be properly represented on the committee through joint electorates and that therefore separate electorate should be introduced. This proposal of the committee was also turned down by the Government. Instructions were, however, issued to local officers that the municipal area should be divided into six wards of two members each. It was hoped that under this arrangement it would be possible for the minorities to secure proper representation. The constitution of the committee at that time consisted of 16 members out of which 12 were elected and four were nominated. Unfortunately, however, in the elections that followed in 1924 and 1930 this expectation did not come true. In 1931 the Mussalmans again revived the question of separate electorates. This time the local officers also supported the demand. The Commissioner of the Multan division, I think it was Mr. Salusbury who held the office then, observed that attempts to secure due representations of minorities on the municipal committee through joint electorates had definitely failed and that the only solution was separate electorates. In spite of this the Government did not agree to the conversion of the joint electorates into separate electorates. (An honourable member: Very wrong of the Government.) It was not this Government. Then came the elections of 1933, which the Muslims boycotted as a protest. At that time all the 12 seats open to election were captured by non-Muslims. Some time later two Muhammadans were appointed to the committee, but they also resigned. Thus in 1933 the committee consisted entirely of non-Muslims. A few months later or rather a year later, realising the awkwardness of the position Government offered to nominate five Muslims to the committee. But the Muslims did not agree to this because their contention was that ever since 1923 the population of Lyallpur had more than doubled and according to the accepted formula known as the Beazley formula the municipal committee should consist of 21 members out of which 9 should be Mussalmans. The Government did not accept this contention. In August, 1936, the Lyallpur municipal committee of which my honourable friend opposite was the President passed a resolution saying that since the population of the municipality had more than doubled the committee should consist of 26 members according to the Beazley formula. This time the Government accepted the proposal and ordered the local officers to undertake the re-alignments of the wards. Incidentally I may say that the committee proposed that there should be single member constituencies. This position was also accepted by the Government and it was ordered by the Government that the town should be redistributed into wards and the electoral rolls revised accordingly, so that the next elections due in February next might take place under the new constitution. Before the notification regarding the reconstitution of the committee could be issued the tenure of the previous Government expired and the new Government came into power. At that time the local officers represented that it was impossible to hold elections earlier than November, 1938. I think I am not letting out any official secret when I say that the present Minister wrote back that he would much rather prefer election to nomination and therefore he asked that the work of redistribution of the town wards and the revision of electoral rolls should be expedited. But the local officers again reported that the work could not be expedited because the distribution of wards and the preparation of electoral rolls had to be done according to certain rules which necessitated their publication, invitation of objections from the people, disposal of the objections and so on and it was estimated that a year would elapse before the new elections took place. In the meantime representations were received from the people of Lyallpur. I have got these representations here in which all sorts of allegations are made against the majority party in the committee, the party in power. These representations were received not only from the Muhammadans of Lyallpur but also from the Hindus and Sikhs of the town. Not only that. Six out of the 14 members of the committee elected, all non-Muslims, also represented to the Government that things in the committee had gone from bad to worse and that pending elections, nominations should be made. I would like to read only one extract from the representation which was made to the Government by the 6 non-Muslim members of that committee. "We consider that for the peace and harmony of the town and for the smooth and efficient administration of the committee, it is absolutely necessary that Muslim representation be made at once by nomination, so that the interests of all communities be adequately represented." This is the representation sent by six sitting members of the committee—all non-Muslims. Then, Sir, certain other letters were also received from Lyallpur people, very responsible people, who said that the relations of the various communities had become very strained and that it would be in the interests of harmony and good relations among communities that if possible elections should be held forthwith and if that is not possible, then pending the elections, nominations should be made. Now, Sir, it was in these circumstances, that after revising the constitution by raising the total number of members on the committee of Lyallpur from 16 to 26, Government ordered that pending the preparation of electoral rolls and the redistribution of wards and pending the receipt and disposal of objections, nominations should be made. I may also refer to the notifications actually made. There is no intention on the part of the Government to revert to separate electorates. All that has been done is that pending the elections and for a period of one year or it may be six months or nine months, the Muslims who were keeping out of the committee as a protest have been nominated, so that all the communities may be properly represented on the committee during this period and after that elections will be held. Honourable members may refer to the notification No. 547-C., dated 18th June, 1938. It says "whereas it is expedient to increase the number of seats as a temporary measure, therefore in exercise of powers conferred upon the Government by section 27 Government are pleased to direct that the number of seats be increased by ten." Again, "In exercise of the powers conferred by section 27 Government are pleased to direct that these ten seats shall be filled by appointment and the persons so appointed shall remain in office until the result of the next elections." Therefore, it is clear that these nominations have been made as a temporary measure. The constitution of the committee is 26. Out of this 21 seats will be open to election and 5 to nomination. So nothing has been done which can possibly be construed as an intention on the part of the Government to deprive the people of Lyallpur of the right of election. These nominations have been made not because Government wanted to nominate some persons on the committee of Lyallpur, but because the people of Lyallpur themselves repeatedly pressed for it. Representations signed by thousands of people, Hindus, Muslims and Sikhs, all classes of people, were received by the Government and it was considered highly undesirable that any one community should totally be eliminated from the committee. Government therefore took this action.

There is another point which I must bring to the notice of the House. It has been insinuated that the persons nominated are members of the Unionist Party and that they represent nobody. I want to remove the misunderstanding. The Deputy Commissioner, Lyallpur, recommended certain persons to be nominated and he definitely stated that in making the selection he had been influenced by the consideration as to who would be the people who would stand the best chance of being elected. Government, therefore, accepted his recommendations and appointed the persons who not only do not belong to the Unionist Party but who are in some cases definitely opposed to it. In this connection I may mention the name of my friend Bana Feroz-ud-Din. He is not a member of the Unionist Party. He has always been opposed to it and I think he is connected with the Ahrar movement. Some other members also have been appointed who are not at all connected with the Unionist Party but have all along been in the opposite camp. It cannot, therefore, be said that in making these nominations Government has been influenced by party considerations. In view of this statement of facts which can be easily verified I hope that this adjournment motion will be withdrawn.

Dr. Satyapal (Sialkot-Amritsar, General), Rural: I rise to support the adjournment motion so ably moved by my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh. I have very attentively listened to the exposition given by the Ministry but I must confess that I am absolutely unconvinced as to the desirability of nominating 14 gentlemen on a committee which has already a strength of only 12 elected members. That is a clear indication of the Ministry's desire to out-vote the elected representatives of the town. The point made by the Parliamentary Secretary, I suppose, is that the Muhammadans were not represented on the committee. That is a very sad thing, but it is no redress of that grievance. The Government knew that for all these years the Muhammadans had boycotted the municipal committee. The Government ought to have taken earlier action in restoring the confidence of these Muhammadans by meeting their grievances, but they should not have resorted to the process of nomination which is a direct negation of democracy for which we are all striving. (Hear, hear and Opposition cheers.) What argument can the Ministry advance in placing these 14 men at a time when the Ministry itself thinks that a new committee is going to be created? There could be no difficulty in calling for new elections now. The present members of the committee have been trying their best and crying themselves hoarse over this that this committee should go and a new committee should be constituted. The Government has been adopting dilatory tactics in order to force these nominated members on the committee and thus to weaken the elected members of the committee. Of course I welcome the nomination of a member of a scheduled caste but he could be elected. He could come through the channel of election. (Voices: He cannot.) Why can he not? If one could be returned to the Assembly, he could also be returned to the municipal committee. Seats could be ear-marked for them. A seat can be reserved and yet a man can come through the channel of election. The principle of nomination stinks in our very nostrils. While in other provinces where the Congress Ministry is in power they are abolishing all the places which were in the hands of the Government, the honorary magistrates, the lambarbars, zaildars and so on, here in the local self-government, a locally conducted body, our ministry gives us this boon that it out-votes the elected representatives on the committee. But we must not expect anything good from this Ministry. (Hear, hear from Opposition benches.) Why should we wail over it? It is only to do our duty that we are calling the attention of the Ministry to such glaring instances of undemocratic and unjustifiable misdeeds; otherwise we know that it is all a cry in the wilderness. They find themselves securely entrenched behind the strength that they have got, but if the Ministry would just give a moment's consideration to this fact, is it creditable for the Ministry to manage its affairs in such a manner that a premier town like Lyallpur should have a committee with a majority of nominated members whose only wish and aim is to support the Government? The honourable member on the opposite side said he had received a representation. Well, do not talk of these. I could get representations on any side. The Government in power can secure representations from people who hang on to them for favours (hear, hear) and for rewards they can easily sign any representations that you like. It is very unfortunate and I have to admit it with shame that in my country people would give representations signing their own death warrants only if they were assured of rewards (Voices: after their death, for their children) I know people are ready and quite agreeable to sign any representation to support the Government as long as they know that they can get some crumbs from the table of the Government and they can feed themselves. This is very unfortunate—I admit it to my shame—and this fact is of no value. The question is this that seven respectable representatives of the town duly elected. . . . (Voice: Congress members). Yes, Congress members. The Congress is a very respectable and responsible body, not like the Unionist Party. (Hear, hear from the Opposition.)

Mr. Speaker : That is not fair.

Premier : No, Sir. My honourable friend is at perfect liberty to beat his own drum which is hollow.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : All drums are hollow.

Dr. Satyapal : If the drum is so hollow, why are they so quickly irritated? Unless a man is hit, he never smarts. When it is their turn they hit us and when it is our turn we hit them. It is all fair.

Mr. Speaker : My request is that, if necessary, the honourable members may hit each other outside the House, but not in this Chamber. (Laughter.)

Sardar Hari Singh : Parliamentary hits here.

Dr. Satyapal : I would not take notice of this that the drum is hollow, because that drum sounds the loudest in seven out of 11 provinces in this country and the solid drum which cannot sound and which cannot do any good to any body is only confined to this unfortunate province or a couple of others.

Premier : Empty vessel makes much noise.

Dr. Satyapal : And that is why you are loudest at this time. (Laughter.)

Mr. Speaker : I hope the honourable members will appreciate now, why I am anxious that hits should not be exchanged on the floor of this House.

Dr. Satyapal : I was making this point that the Government that was solicitous to get the representation of Muhammadans on the committee should have immediately ordered fresh elections. We do not grudge this, as Sardar Hari Singh very ably put it. Let all 26 members be Muhammadan, we do not mind it. We do not belong to a school which thinks that religion plays any part in civic or political matters. We are quite safe in the hands of Muhammadans, provided they are nationalists and do not belong to this League or that League (hear, hear). So our contention is this that if the Ministry was anxious to find a representation for the Muhammadans it should have immediately ordered fresh elections and then they could have been satisfied. We are quite prepared to concede this point that if a minority community thinks itself unable to be fully represented through the method of joint electorate, seats should be reserved for that community, but the method of joint electorates must always be retained because that is the only democratic principle. Therefore, instead of maintaining the democratic principle of bringing the Muhammadans through election, the Ministry brings them through the door of nomination with a view to overawe the elected members.

Premier : You cannot overawe elected members like this.

Dr. Satyapal : They have resigned because of this. They felt so humiliated and they also felt that these 14 members will so out-vote them in every matter that a self-respecting individual could not continue there. I do not think any member had any alternative but to quit such a committee and not to be a puppet in the hands of the Ministry (hear, hear). No body would like to be a tool in the hands of the 14 members who have been nominated, not because people wanted them, but because the Government wanted them.

The fact is that Lyallpur is a very important commercial town and it has very important civic affairs to deal with. The Government was feeling that the power of the representatives was increasing and in order to curtail and cripple that power it has resorted to this wild device of forcing fourteen nominated members on the twelve elected members so that they may be out-voted in every matter and when Pandit Jawahar Lal or any other nationalist leader goes there, instead of offering him an address, they should honour the Deputy Commissioner and the Commissioner. So, I beg to support the adjournment motion moved by Sardar Hari Singh and I hope that the House will give it its full consideration. (Loud applause.)

Malik Barkat Ali (Eastern Towns, Muhammadan, Urban): Sir, I welcome the adjournment motion moved by a member of the Congress party and supported by the President of the Punjab Provincial Congress Committee, because, to my mind, this motion furnishes a most conclusive proof of the complaint to which Mr. Jinnah gave expression in the course of the correspondence that passed between him and Mr. Gandhi and later on between him and Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru. (Chaudhri Kartar Singh: Shameful.)

Mr. Speaker: The word 'shameful' is unparliamentary and should be withdrawn.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu): I am prepared to obey the ruling of the Honourable Speaker but I wish to point out that on some previous occasion you were pleased to rule with regard to a point of order raised by Diwan Chaman Lal that the word shameful was not unparliamentary.

Mr. Speaker: I do not recollect, but if I did, as alleged, I change my opinion and request the honourable member to withdraw the word.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh: I withdraw the word 'shameful'.

Malik Barkat Ali: I was submitting that this adjournment motion furnishes a conclusive proof of the complaint to which expression was given by Mr. Jinnah in the course of that historic correspondence which passed between him and the Congress Leaders that the Congress organisation was mainly a Hindu organisation and moved under Hindu impulses. (Voices from Opposition benches: No.) When I read this adjournment motion, I felt that the object of this adjournment motion was to protest against some conduct of the present Government under which the present Government had changed the constitution of the Lyallpur Municipal Committee and increased the nominated element disproportionately as against the elected element. What are the facts? So far as the facts go, we have been told by the Parliamentary Secretary that prior to 1937 the total strength of the Lyallpur Municipal Committee consisted of sixteen members out of which twelve were elected and four were nominated. The new strength that has been fixed for this Committee under the orders of the present Government is, I believe, 28 out of which 21 are elected members and five are nominated members. In the face of these facts it will be conceded that nothing has been done by the Government, so far as the permanent constitution of the Lyallpur Municipal Committee is concerned, whereby the nominated element has been increased out of proportion to the elected element. Coming now to the circumstances under which these nominations have been made, we have been told by the Parliamentary Secretary that ever since 1928-29 the Muslims of Lyallpur have been clamouring for separate electorates. They claimed for separate electorates because joint electorates did not permit them to be represented adequately in the municipal committee of Lyallpur. They protested in the year 1923. They have been protesting ever since and the Government of the day turned down those protests, although those protests and clamours were perfectly justified. It is impossible in the condition of things prevailing in this country and the province at large for any minority and particularly for the Muslim minority to get its representation in an elected house except through separate electorates. The Congress has been certainly stressing on joint electorates. Whatever the theory of joint electorates may be, the facts stare us in the face—they have been staring us in the face—and in view of these facts, the Communal Award has laid down that the representation of Muslims in the legislatures of various provinces as well as the legislature of India shall be through separate electorates. The Muslims want this principle to be extended to local bodies and I shall be very sorry if the present Government, in view of what has taken place, does not take courage in both its hands and give to the Muslims of Lyallpur what they have been demanding and clamouring for, i.e., separate electorates. Because since the year 1923 joint electorates have been tried and they are in force to-day, but what do we find? We find that all through these years the Muslims of Lyallpur, according to the admission of the Government itself, have not been able to secure their adequate representation in the municipal committee of Lyallpur. Muslims clamoured. Their protests were turned down. Ultimately, Muslims had to resort to the only other weapon—which the Congress introduced in this country, namely, the weapon of boycott. The Muslims boycotted the municipal committee for various reasons, and yet I never heard, on the side of the Congress, any sympathy with this Muslim grievance. My friends of the Congress never uttered a word, while the municipal committee of Lyallpur went absolutely unrepresented since 1933, so far as the Muslims were concerned. The Muslims later on represented to Government that in view of the increase in population the strength of the members be increased and this demand was actually supported by some of the elected Hindu members and ultimately the number was increased to 26 out of which 21 were to be elected members. We have been told that the Government was certainly keen on the Muslims entering the municipal committee through the door of election. But elections cannot be held in a day. In fact, the elections could not be held earlier than a year. The Muslims found that their boycott was resulting in any amount of harm to Muslim interests. They accordingly made many representations. I have been in touch with the Muslims of Lyallpur and I am really surprised that my friends, knowing the unanimous mind of the Muslims of Lyallpur, should have taken upon themselves the duty of telling the Government that Muslims should have been represented through elections, knowing that elections cannot be held for another eight months or so. Yes, they should have been represented through election and they will be represented a few months hence through election. It is only a question of a few months. There have been any number of complaints against the administration of municipal affairs by the twelve elected non-Muslims members and those complaints have been appearing in the Muslim press. It may be that our Congress friends do not read the Muslim press and do not know as to what is passing in the minds of the Muslims of Lyallpur as to the treatment they are receiving in the matter of the municipal affairs of Lyallpur. But that cannot wipe off the fact that there was a great Muslim grievance and the Muslims felt after all these years of boycott that they must be represented in the municipal committee and wanted Government to represent them even though for the time being through nomination. The Muslims are satisfied with the nominations for the time being. They are satisfied with the representatives whom the Government has nominated. The Government has nominated those men who could not have been nominated under other circumstances. The Government has nominated leaders of the Ahrar party. The Government has nominated gentlemen who were actually elected by the Muslims. I say, why are you taking it upon yourself to oppose this action of the Government, because so far as the aggrieved community is concerned, namely, the Muslims, they are satisfied. It is the Muslims who have to decide whether they should wait and have election under the present circumstances after the next eight or nine months or whether they should have immediate nominations as the better course. The Muslims know that election cannot be held during the next nine months. The authorities find themselves helpless in view of the rules that stand. Therefore, if the Muslims are content to have nominations for the time being and they have got those nominations, who are you to tell them that an election is better than nomination, they should refuse nominations? (Loud applause.) You are not our representatives. You are not our friends. It has been stated on behalf of members of the Congress party that provided election is resorted to, all seats can go to Muslims. We are accustomed to these statements. It is not for the first time that such offers have been made to us. An offer of this thing was made by a much greater leader. Mahatma Gandhi has been offering the Muslims a blank cheque. Recently Mr. Subhash Chandra Bose, the President of the Congress, said that the Muslims can have all the Ministries. We can understand these things and these offers. We can understand the implications of such professions. The proof of the profession, Sir, is in the practice thereof. I am really surprised that in this tiny matter and over this small matter the Congress should have gone to the length of taking upon itself the odium of opposing that which the Muslims welcome. The only inference and the only way in which we can understand this attitude is this that those friends.....

(Malik Barkat Ali)

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: Sir, may I point out that the honourable member is not speaking to the motion? The question under discussion is the nomination and not the nomination of Muhammadans.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member should speak to the motion.

Malik Barkat Ali: I was submitting that the party which stands aggrieved at the present moment is the Muslims. Nine seats of the Muslims have been filled.....

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: The honourable member says that so many Muslims have been nominated; this has nothing to do with the motion under discussion.

Mr. Speaker: The motion as worded has nothing to do with Muslims.

Malik Barkat Ali : I respectfully submit that so far as 14 nominations are concerned, nine nominations are of the Muslims and the result thereof is that within the interregnum of the few months preceding actual election, those non-Muslim elected members, who are now ruling the roost, will not be able to rule and the Muslims of Lyallpur will be protected against the dominant Hindu and Sikh administration. The Muslims prefer under the circumstances to be nominated.

Mr. Speaker : The motion as worded, has nothing to do with Hindus or Muslims. So, the honourable member should confine his speech to the motion.

Malik Barkat Ali : I respectfully submit that the circumstances under which these nominations have been made, are absolutely and most intimately connected with the complaint of the Muslim community of Lyallpur and the adjournment motion is inspired by a communal feeling. The real situation and the mentality behind the motion have got to be exposed. I, therefore, strongly oppose the adjournment motion : it causes me grief that my friends of the Congress who stand undoubtedly for a very great cause, should have unthinkingly taken upon themselves to oppose something which the Muslims of Lyallpur welcome and which the Muslims of the province approve of. So far as it is a question of principle, that really does not arise. They know that under the new constitution going to be inaugurated at the time of the next election 21 seats will be filled by election. My submission is that it is not really a question of nomination versus election : it is something else which is responsible for the adjournment motion. It is for this reason that I oppose this motion. (Voices : No.)

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Does the League represent the Muslims ?

Malik Barkat Ali : We represent the Muslims.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has made a speech. If he wanted to say more than he has, he should have done so when he was in possession of the House. He cannot make a second speech.

Malik Barkat Ali : I am very sorry but I had to reply to my friend. I have told him that it is not the Congress but it is the Muslim League which represents the Muslims.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Lahore City, General, Urban) : Mr. Speaker, it is most unfortunate that irrelevant matters and matters on which there is a very wide difference of opinion have been brought in simply to defeat the very object of the adjournment motion. Sir, I would reply to what my learned friend the previous speaker has said. What we object to is this, that the Government should not have nominated a certain set of people ; whether they were Muhammadans or Hindus we are not concerned with. It is said that we moved this adjournment motion because it is the Muhammadans who have been nominated. Sir, I shall be the first man and I think it to be my duty and I shall be proud to perform that duty, if I find that poison is being administered to a Muhammadan, I will come forward and save the Muhammadan from that poison. Communalism is the most retrograde step which Malik Barkat Ali advised the Government to take and I am glad to find that the Honourable the Premier remarked just now that it would be a most retrograde step if Government were to agree to separate electorate. Let us look at the arguments. He said that the minority should have the right to choose between joint and separate electorates. Well, Sir, are Muhammadans in a minority in this province, and does he want to carry this thing even in every district and every town and village? I think, if his advice were to be accepted by the present Government, the days of the Government will be only numbered. Sir, it is said that the Congress have moved this adjournment motion simply because the Muhammadans were nominated. No. I would say it is far from truth. We moved this adjournment motion because Government had been showing favouritism and nepotism. How does nomination affect the number of Muhammadans on the Lyallpur municipality? The number of seats is 26 and out of this 21 shall be elected and 5 shall be nominated. After this nomination is over whatever number is fixed for the Muhammadans or the Hindus, it will be elected. But does it imply that we are protesting against the nomination of Muhammadans? We protest against the principle. If people want either joint electorate or separate electorate, whatever they want, they should have; and if all the Muhammadans were elected we would not have raised our voice. If people think that Muhammadans can perform the civic duties better, we shall welcome it. If anybody sees things from the point of view of communalism it is only those who have got inferiority complex (hear, hear) and who are prepared to sell themselves for their own advantage. It is said that they have boycotted because the Muslims have been nominated. This Government came into power on the 1st of April, 1937. Why did they not take steps to hold elections to the Lyallpur municipality? They only suggested that the municipality be divided into many wards and they demarcated them. The municipal committee accepted the suggestion of the Government. Why did they accept it if there was any objection to the division of the town into wards? Why did not the Government expedite the matter? Why did they sleep over the matter for months and months and why did they run the municipality for full one year without any election? Now they have nominated members to that committee. It is to that method of nomination and it is to that principle of nomination that we object. They could have easily divided the town into wards by executive order and ordered an election. Why did they not do so? There should be no nominations to municipal committees. We were expecting that Government may bring in some measure to abolish nominations altogether. But what do we find? We find that nominations of a large number of members which have out-voted the elected element has been resorted to. The same thing has been done at Amritsar. More members have been nominated than elected members. (Voices: No, no.) I will tell you how? When the Government found that nationalists were returned in a very large number and that the nationalists would capture the municipality, they nominated one more member than they were entitled to. Is it not so? Let them deny that. They wanted to suppress the nationalists from serving the town and serving the country. I submit that this is a worse method of suppression, nominating people of their own views to municipalities. What about Lahore? In Lahore they have suspended the municipality. The premier municipality of the premier town is still under suspension. Does it reflect well on the Government? The old bureaucratic government of which some of those who sit opposite, were members are responsible for the suspension of that municipality. They have not removed that suspension in spite of the requests and demands of the people of Lahore..

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not relevant.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I was quoting an example to show how this department of Local Self-Government is run and the example which I was quoting is that the Lahore municipality is also under suspension. That is the way in which the present Government is running these institutions. We want to censure the system of Government for running the municipalities by resorting to nominations where people should have been given the right of electing their own representatives. Why bring in communalism? Why bring in the Congress and the League questions, the fair names of Mr. Bose, Mr. Jinnah and Mahatma Gandhi? Why not discuss this question, if you want, on the platform outside? Why bring in communalism on the floor of the House and disturb the peaceful and calm atmosphere which we want to create? It is their party, it is the Muslim League which has done it. I would submit that we are here to criticise the Government when they do any bad thing. It is our duty to censure the Government if they go out of their way and adopt wrong, anti-national and anti-democratic methods. It is only for that act of nomination that we are censuring the Government. Let not the impression be carried away that because the number of Muslims is increased, therefore, we want to enter our protest. Never. If we wanted to protest against it, we could bring in resolutions and say that they have increased the number of Muslims. That is not the point. We do not object to the increase of Muslim members and to giving a larger representation to Muslims on the Lyallpur municipal committee. We only object to the method of nomination and the Government has got no reply to give except that they want to favour those whom they want to favour. Why did not the Government introduce the method of election? Some of the members had boycotted before and now some others have boycotted. What is the Government going to do? Are they going to wait? Will they be justified in waiting? They should not wait. They should introduce the method of election immediately and thus set right the wrong of favouritism and nepotism. With these words I support the adjournment motion.

Lala Harnam Das (Lyallpur and Jhang, General, Reserved Seat Rural). (Urdu) : Sir, I rise to oppose the adjournment motion under consideration. My friends of the Opposition have raised this question as to why elections were not held and why nominations were made instead. The term of the Lyallpur municipal committee ended in 1937, and it was the duty of the members, who have tendered their resignations on account of these nominations, to constitute wards. But as they have shown a lack of sincerity on their part, the work has not been accomplished. My honourable friend Dr. Satya Pal has asked as to why elections were not held. My submission is that if we were to take up the work of redistribution of wards now, it would take at least a year to finish it. All of you are perhaps aware of the fact that while the wards are being constituted, objections are raised and also it is essential to consult public opinion, and all this takes time

Many difficulties have to be faced in this connection. It would have, therefore, necessarily taken a year, and it was in no way justifiable to let the minorities remain without any representation all this time. Owing to the fact that elections to the Lyallpur municipal committee are held on the basis of joint electorates, the depressed classes were not in a position to send their representatives to the committee and similar was the case with Muslims who could not get due representation. Notwithstanding the fact that besides the Hindus and Sikhs other communities also live in Lyallpur, none of them was adequately represented on the committee. I just want to relate an instance of how we are deprived of our representation. In Chak Jhundra there was a separate ward for the depressed classes, but our Hindu brethren by clever manipulations divided the ward into two. Now no member of the depressed classes can stand for election as their community has been divided into two separate wards. Why has the Opposition been so greatly agitated now over the representation that has been given to the Mussalmans? Why are they raising such a storm? May I inquire why the Congress remained silent on the occasion when the Mussalmans withdrew from the municipal committee?

Chaudhri Kartar Singh: Ask Sir Fazl-i-Husain.

Lala Harnam Das: When the Mussalmans were deprived of their due share you were alive; the Congress was alive; why did you not take up the cudgels on behalf of the Mussalmans?

On the basis of joint electorates we could not get even half the representation which was really due to us. But now we are very grateful to the Government who have taken a step in the right direction to increase our representation in local bodies and I hope that the present Government would give us our due share in every branch of administration.

I would like to make one more submission in connection with the scheduled castes. They are too poor to stand for municipal committee and district board elections. If any member of a depressed class happens to stand as a candidate his opponent belonging to a higher caste tries to overawe him by saying 'you are a member of the depressed class, how dare you stand against me, you had better withdraw, otherwise you would surely be defeated and thus lose your money and waste your energy for nothing.' I remember an incident of this type, how a candidate of a depressed class was obliged to withdraw in Sham Churasi.

An honourable member: He might have been bribed to withdraw his candidature.

Lala Harnam Das: The Achhuts are not so degraded as to accept money from candidates belonging to a higher class. It is the so-called high class people who are open to bribery and corruption.

Now I wish to make a few submissions with regard to the Simla municipal committee.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member is irrelevant. In fact he has been irrelevant throughout. As the duration of speeches is limited to 15 minutes, I overlooked the irregularity.

Lala Harnam Das : Sir, the Leader of the Opposition was giving instances from here and there. I do not think there is any harm if I have also followed suit. I may also submit that I have made my maiden speech to-day and if I have indulged in irrelevancies you are to please overlook them. I was submitting that the population of the depressed classes is generally scattered. They do not reside at one place within the limits of municipal committees. A separate ward, therefore, cannot be allotted to them, and this makes it impossible for them to successfully contest municipal elections. Under these circumstances it is very necessary to give them representations by nomination. (Interruptions.)

Mr. Speaker : No interruptions please.

An honourable member : But the honourable member is irrelevant.

Lala Harnam Das : When the Congress Ministeries have nominated the members of scheduled castes as honorary magistrates and given them some share in the administration, I do not think it behoves our Congress friends sitting in this House to oppose us.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani (Muzaffargarh, North, Muhammadan, Rural), (Urdu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the honourable mover of the adjournment motion has two main objections against the Government. First, he objects to the principle of nomination in the local bodies and, secondly, he accuses the Government for not holding the general election of Lyallpur municipal committee in time. I shall deal with these objections serially. But before doing so I must acquaint the House with a brief history of the Lyallpur municipal committee. The representation in Lyallpur municipality has always been through joint electorates. In 1923-24 the Muslim residents of Lyallpur represented to the Government that they could not secure due representation in the municipal committee through joint electorates and that separate electorate may be introduced in order to remedy this defect; but the Government turned down their request. Government, however, redistributed the municipal wards by dividing the area into six wards of two members each in the hope that the Muslims will secure due representation through this plan, and fixed the strength of the committee at 16 (12 elected and 4 nominated). This hope did not come true in the elections held in 1927 and 1930, respectively. The Muslims again represented their case for separate electorates to the Government but the proposal which was also supported by the local officers, was again turned down by the Government. Despaired of receiving justice from the Government the Muslims of Lyallpur boycotted the elections held in 1933 and all the twelve seats were captured by non-Muslims. The Government nominated two Muslims on the committee, but they resigned their seats under the pressure of Muslim public opinion. The committee thus consisted entirely of non-Muslims.

Sardar Sampuran Singh (sitting): That statement is wrong.

Mr. Speaker : I object to the way in which the honourable member has made that remark.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I beg your pardon, Sir. This statement has been repeated several times that there was no representation of Muslims, on the municipal committee of Lyallpur. It is a wrong statement because Government nominated Muslim members.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : And they resigned.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Two only.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : That means both the Muslim members who were nominated by the Government.

Realising the awkwardness of the situation, Government offered to nominate five Muslims by enlarging the strength of the committee, but the Muslims did not accept this offer, as it would not have given them their due representation. According to my honourable friend's notion of nationalism, no harm is done if an important community remains unrepresented in the municipal committee of his town.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : My statement is being misrepresented.

Mr. Speaker : I have not allowed the honourable member to speak.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : He is making a wrong statement.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Sir, in 1936, the municipal committee represented to the Government that since the population of the town had increased to more than 47,000, the strength of the committee may be increased to 28 members in accordance with the Government formula. A similar representation had been made by the Muslims of Lyallpur on a previous occasion, but was rejected by the Government. Soon after the new Government came into power, they took up the question and decided to revise the constitution of Lyallpur municipal committee in accordance with the unanimous wish of both Hindu and Muslim residents of Lyallpur which was in consonance with the Government formula. The new constitution was notified in the Gazette and the local officers were asked to revise the wards and electoral rolls accordingly so that the next general elections which were due in 1937, may be held under the new constitution. The majority party in the committee consisting entirely of non-Muslims adopted obstructive tactics, with a view to prolong their tenure, by delaying the elections. The local officers reported that in view of the attitude taken by the existing municipal committee which had already outlived its normal life, it would not be possible to hold general elections before November, 1938. In view of the above facts the Punjab Government decided to nominate 12 members as a temporary measure for two reasons. First, because it was considered undesirable to keep the Muslim and scheduled caste minorities unrepresented on the committee and, secondly, to counteract the dilatory tactics adopted by the majority party in the committee. The nominated members included 9 Muslims, 2 Hindus and one scheduled caste. I might also mention here that the Government during this period received representations both from Hindus and Muslims including six non-Muslim elected members of the existing committee, accusing the majority party in the committee of jobbery, nepotism and corruption and requesting the Government to nominate additional members. After hearing these facts the House will, I am sure, agree with me that the action of the Punjab Government in nominating additional members to Lyallpur municipal committee was based on equity, justice and fair play and was only a temporary measure pending the next general elections.

(K. B. Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Garmanj.)

Now coming to the questions of nomination, Sir, my honourable friend the mover of the adjournment motion and other honourable members sitting opposite have described the principle of nomination as undemocratic and anti-national. Before expressing my own views on the subject I would like to acquaint the House with the views of one of the greatest Congress Prime Ministers, on the point. Mr. C. Rajagopalachariar, Premier of Madras, speaking on the Madras Local Board (Amendment) Bill, 1937, made the following observations :—

"The solution of my friends who are opposing the bill, is, 'let there be only elected members and let the minorities take care of themselves.' I do not wish to fall into that trap. If you remove all nominated members, what have you done? You have given no representation to Muslims, no sufficient representation to Harijans, to Christians and so on. It is no good advice, Sir. If such advice had come even in the committee room, I would have explained the things further, and taken the members to task for giving advice that puts the Government in danger. Suppose all nominations are abolished, what is the answer to Swami Sahaja Nandan's objection? Then, we cannot hold office without explaining to everybody and without justifying every step that we take. Then we will be tried not only by our own opponents but by our own ideals. Therefore, we cannot accept the advice which the honourable member for Indian Commerce gave."

The amendment was put and lost. Sir, these are the views of one of the greatest Congress leaders on the subject of nominations. I am surprised to find such a diversity of opinion between the Congress Premier of Madras and the Congress leaders of the Punjab on such a question of vital importance and principle. The Persian proverb :

من چه می سرانم و طنبور را من چه می سرانم

aptly applies to this case. There should be uniformity in the ranks of the Congress at least on questions of principle. Sir, I am not surprised by the remarks of our Congress friends that nominations to local bodies are anti-national and undemocratic. The term "nationalism" in the Congress dictionary is capable of different interpretations according to the circumstances. Some years ago when the Punjab Government decided to give more representation to Muslims in Lahore municipality on the basis of their population and voting strength, the Hindu members including the Congress group and our Congress leader resigned their memberships under the pretence of nationalism. Now again the non-Muslim members of Lyallpur municipality have taken similar action. Does the Congress nationalism mean a denial of the right of representation to minorities in legislatures and local bodies? The failure to realise that the success of a democratic system of Government depends on the majority securing the acquiescence of the minority, is one of the greatest stumbling blocks in the way of rapid progress towards self-government in India. Every minority is as much a part of the nation as every majority is. You cannot build a nation without giving a sense of security to your minorities. One honourable member from the Opposition remarked that communalism has been introduced in this debate unnecessarily, but let me tell him that communal problem is a problem of fact. We must be honest and face the fact. We cannot solve this great problem unless we face it and try to overcome the difficulties that lie before us. We cannot solve this tangle by evading the issues and by declaring like Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru that "there is no communal problem in India." Let me warn my friends who talk so loud of nationalism, that unrestrained nationalism is not an unmixed good in the west and in India it may become only a cloak for the rank communalism of the majority community or the oligarchy of the dominant class. If Indian nationalism should come to mean what European nationalism meant—the oppressive crushing out of diversity in order to secure uniformity—then the future of India is black indeed. Nationalism is a jealous and exclusive force even where there is a substantial degree of homogeneity. In India with its infinite variety, it may work undreamt of evil. The greatest contribution that India can make to the world would be the discovery of a new path which would reconcile her age-old diversity with the age-old unity of which she is again becoming freshly conscious. Sir, the House will agree with me that there is nothing anti-national or undemocratic in giving a representation to an important minority in a democratic institution like a municipal committee. Let us also remember the fact that nominations to local bodies are now made by a popular and representative Government and not by an irresponsible bureaucracy as was the case in the past.

I have already explained the position of the Government with regard to the second objection raised by the Opposition that the general elections of Lyallpur municipality have been unnecessarily delayed by the Government. After hearing the facts mentioned above, the House will agree that the present Government lost no time in revising the constitution of Lyallpur municipality and was anxious to hold general elections under the New Constitution as early as possible. My friend Sardar Hari Singh should blame his own friends and not the Government for delaying the elections, by adopting obstructive tactics in order to prolong their tenure. Before I conclude, I must make it clear once again that the recent nominations were made only as a temporary measure pending the next general elections of Lyallpur municipal committee. Every effort will be made by the Government to expedite the elections under the New Constitution which provides 21 elected and 5 nominated seats in the municipality. The Government considers it necessary to retain the system of nominations in order to give due representation to important minorities such as scheduled castes in the local bodies, as without nominations there is no chance for the scheduled castes and other minorities to secure due representation in the local bodies. If the honourable mover of the adjournment motion proposes to censure the Government for their having done justice to the minorities, let me assure him that we on these benches feel proud of having done so, as our Government is pledged to keep the scales of justice even between various sections of the population and to safeguard the legitimate interests of the backward and down-trodden classes. (Cheers).

With these words, Sir, I oppose the adjournment motion under discussion.

(Several honourable members moved for closure.)

Mr. Speaker: 'The question is—'

That the question be now put.

The motion was carried.

Sardar Hari Singh: Sir, the Unionist party or rather the ministerial party is very fortunate in possessing a galaxy of very fine orators in English as well as in Urdu, but their misfortune is that they have always invariably a very weak case to defend. Therefore like a lawyer who has to defend a weak case, they begin to befog or side track the real issue and so in regard to this adjournment motion the real point raised by me, that is the objection to nominations has been missed or unnecessarily clouded by my friends opposite. The eloquent speakers opposite have harped on a wrong theme which had no connection with the point under discussion. First take my heavy-weight friend opposite, Khan Bahadur Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani. (Interruption.) I withdraw that word if it offends my friend opposite. He quoted the opinions of Mr. Rajagopalachariar from a certain book. But let me remind him that the Congress manifesto is that nominations should be abolished in all local bodies, in all self-governing institutions and that principle has been put into practice by most of the Congress governments, including the Frontier Government, the United Provinces Government and several other governments, even the Sind Government which is a semi-Congress Government. Let me make it once more clear as I made it clear in my speech in the beginning, that I will not mind if all the members of the Lyallpur municipal committee are Muhammadans, provided they are elected by the people and they serve the people. The question is not that Muhammadans have been nominated.

Let me tell my honourable friend Malik Barkat Ali, a great lawyer, a legal and constitutional luminary, a great orator and a very eloquent speaker, that the community about whose welfare he is so much solicitous has also our full sympathy. We do sympathise with the cause of the Muhammadans of the Punjab and of India. Let me tell him I am not at all against the nomination of Muhammadans to Lyallpur municipal Committee. He unnecessarily smelt a rat in this adjournment motion and suspected me and my friends of ulterior motives. I have every faith in him and his sincerity and let him also have faith in my sincerity. I moved it with a view to censure the Government for making nominations of Muhammadans and not electing Muhammadans to the municipal committee. I want Muhammadans to have an effective voice in the committee, but not through the door of nomination by the Minister, but by election by the voters. This is what we want. It is nomination which we are protesting against.

Now to come to the Parliamentary Secretary who has played the roll of a historian and a chronicler of self-government events. He has narrated the affairs in connection with the Lyallpur municipal committee from the year 1931 to 1938 and served us with a rigmarole of facts whether right or wrong. His point mainly was that the Government has taken this action because it had received complaints against the party in power from a number of people, Muslims, Sikhs and Hindus. That was one of his points and may I remind him that there are complaints against every municipal committee in the Punjab and against every institution and that the largest number of complaints are against the Unionist Ministry itself? Let the Ministry abdicate (hear, hear). (Interruption.) He says with a flourish that letters have been received from six members of the municipal committee that nominations should be made. May I ask him whether he has not or the Deputy Commissioner has not received seven letters from seven members to the effect that nominations should not have been made. As against six members seven members have sent him letters of resignation protesting not against the Muhammadans being nominated but against the nominations. After all those who have been harping on Muslim rights, what do they want? May I put them a question? There are only 9 members from the Muslim community out of a total of 26. If they say they are Muslims and they want to protect the Muslim rights and they do not care for others, they would be at the mercy of 17 non-Muslim members some of whom are nominees of the Government. Further on the Parliamentary Secretary was pleased to say that he or the Government had received letters from many gentlemen to the effect that if nominations were not made, communal relations would be strained. May I know if the communal relations have been eased by these nominations or aggravated? (Hear, hear.) Let him answer this question whether these relations have been improved or worsened. He further went on to say that the Deputy Commissioner had written to the Government that he had chosen such persons for nominations as were most likely to be elected if an election were held. (Interruption.) I thought he had said that the Deputy Commissioner had nominated such members as would most likely be elected if an election were held. Now let me tell him that the Deputy Commissioners usually appoint or nominate such members who go to their bungalows daily, who are unpopular with the people, who know nothing else than licking the shoes of the officials, and such people as are nominated by the officials are generally prosecution witnesses in police cases and are thoroughly unpopular with the people: Is he sure that these people who have been nominated to the municipal committee are popular with the population?

Parliamentary Secretary (Shaikh Fais Muhammad): I want to remove a misunderstanding. The Deputy Commissioner recommended persons who had been recommended by men like Khawaja Ghulam Hussain and Sardar Sampuran Singh.

Sardar Sampuran Singh: Not at all. It is a lie by the reporter who told you.

Sardar Hari Singh: Malik Barkat Ali has said certain very harsh things against the Congress Party and against the Congress programme. Let me tell him that if the Congress had come into power in the province on the 1st of April 1937, it would not have taken a year and a quarter to redress the grievances of the Lyallpur Muslims (Hear, hear). Within two weeks of assuming the reins of office, the Congress would have redressed the grievances of the Lyallpur Muslims, but, Mr. Speaker, the Muslim League-cum-Unionist-cum-Khalsa Nationalist-cum-Hindu Progressive Government has taken a year and a quarter to redress the grievances of the Muslims and that too in a very strange manner which does not do them any credit at all.

It was said that elections have not been held because there are rules which do not allow elections to be held before a proper or before a certain time. I say why cannot they change the rules? If they can bring legislative measures of a far-reaching character and pass them within a week's time, why cannot they change the rules which govern the Lyallpur Municipality? A chit has been passed on to me for the purpose of putting a question to Malik Barkat Ali and it is this. How would he like it, to secure representatives of Muslims in the Congress provinces, all the Muhammadan members to municipal committees and other self-governing institutions were nominated by the Congress ministries? Would he think them to be the representatives of the Muslims?

Malik Barkat Ali: As a permanent arrangement it is vicious, but as a temporary arrangement it is tolerable.

Sardar Hari Singh: Again I put him another question for my enlightenment and ask him whether the Muslim League manifesto which was broadcast on the eve of the election days favoured nominations or whether it is against nominations? Does it favour the repeal of repressive measures or enactment of further repressive measures? Malik Barkat Ali and other friends unnecessarily entered into a controversy regarding joint versus separate electorates. That is a question which has been discussed threadbare from various platforms, in various books and in the press for many, many years and it will continue to be discussed. He need not have entered into this controversy at all. Before finishing my speech I once again want to make it clear that we are against nominations. We want the Muhammadans of Lyallpur to send their representatives to the Committee through the door of elections. Let them have more than 9 members. If I had my way I would give them 12 seats out of 26. I would go to the extent of giving them 13.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: Before you put the question, may I ask one question of the Honourable Minister in charge in connection with this matter? From the speeches it appears that the grievance of the Lyallpur Muslims was that they wanted separate electorates instead of joint electorates and this demand of theirs was not accepted by the Punjab Government right from the year 1923 up to this time. Now it has been mentioned by some of the speakers that the Government has redressed their grievance by taking the step that it has. I just want to know from the Honourable Minister in charge whether that grievance of the Muslims of Lyallpur has been removed or is intended to be removed or whether the Government has decided to introduce separate electorates in place of joint electorates. That was the only grievance and it was on this grievance that the Muslims of Lyallpur boycotted elections of 1933 and on nothing else.

Minister of Public Works (The Honourable Nawabzada Major Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana): The grievance of the Muslims has been redressed by giving them their due share of representation. There is no idea of changing joint electorates into separate electorates. Joint electorates would remain but it is expected that Muslims would get their due share by revision of wards. Failing that they will get their share by nomination. The present nominations have been now made for the purpose of giving every community its due share as a temporary measure. Nominations may not be a suitable or a very good mode of selection to set right communal inequalities, but unless and until an alternative is suggested we do not know what to do, pledged as we are, to protect the minorities. I would like to know how you would give the scheduled castes their representation. If you have joint electorates without nominations, the result will be that they will go to the wall. These very nominations, that are objected to to-day, were offered by the last Ministry to the Muslims of Lyallpur and they did not accept them at the time because the number offered was not according to the formula. Now we have given them the seats they were entitled to.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : That is incorrect. My question was simply whether you were going to introduce separate electorates in place of joint electorates. I am not against nominations.

Minister : The second point that has been made out against the Government is this. (Voices from opposition benches : Is he making a speech ?)

Mr. Speaker : Yes. He is the Minister concerned and is, therefore, replying to the debate. (Uproar).

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : May I suggest one method of redressing inequalities of minorities and that is to follow the practice of the United Provinces Local Bodies Act.

Minister : I had no mind to take part in this debate but I was asked certain questions. In order to clear the position of the Government I thought it necessary to state facts. Another point that has been sought to be made against the Government is why they did not expedite the elections. This Government came into office on the 1st of April, 1937.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : The question was put. You gave permission to the honourable mover to reply. After that the question of honourable member over there was out of order and so is the reply.

Mr. Speaker : After replying to the honourable Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang's question, the Honourable Minister is addressing the House in reply which he proposes to give.

Minister : There was one thing more that I wanted to say and it is this. Elections could not be expedited because certain rules have to be followed. Some suggestions has been made that rules should be wiped out. That may be the mode of doing things with certain people and parties but this Government would ordinarily like to go according to the rules. The life of the Committee expired in the year 1937. A group of people, who were in power, wanted to prolong its life.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Lie. Wrong.

Minister : The man who says that it is a lie is a liar. The committee was asked to suggest the alignment of wards and although its life expired in 1937 it wanted to prolong its life by delaying the alignment. A group of non-Muslims was in power, and another group also of non-Muslims was finding it difficult to run things properly represented to us to make the nominations.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Again wrong. You do not know facts. (Interruption).

Sardar Hari Singh : It is a convention in the House that even questions put on communal matters should not be answered by the Government and we have agreed to that convention being adopted. Now these gentlemen, when it is made clear to them that our motion is not on communal grounds, are again harping on communal things.

Premier : They are not.

Sardar Hari Singh : My point of order is not finished.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member mean that the Honourable Minister is irrelevant ?

Sardar Hari Singh : No. He is touching communal matters.

Minister : When nationalists come forward and preach communalism under the garb of nationalism, we can only reply by referring to communal rights involved.

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of order. He has used the words "Under the garb of nationalism." I think that sentence is very unparliamentary.

Minister : I have not used any unparliamentary word. Now that the word 'pose' has been declared to be a parliamentary word, I say that communalists are posing as nationalists and they come forward and preach communalism in the garb of nationalism. However we are pledged to the minorities and must give them their due share. The elections are shortly to be held and it is a question of a few months. Capital has been made of the fact that seven members have resigned. I know the reason for their resignation. It may be a protest against nomination or it may be an attempt to obtain votes for the next elections.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I am not standing for elections. (A voice : The Honourable Minister has imputed motives.) (Interruptions.)

Mr. Speaker : What did he say ?

Sardar Hari Singh : He said this adjournment motion may be a stunt to get votes at the next elections.

Minister : I did not say anything of the sort. What I said was that the idea underlying the protest against nominations may be to get votes at the next elections as it happens many times that before elections violent speeches are made and resignations are tendered and walk-outs are staged to catch popular imagination. I did not impute motives to anybody (interruptions).

Mr. Speaker : In view of what the Honourable Minister has said no explanation is called for.

Minister : We have made the nominations temporarily to give everyone his share till the elections are held. I think there is no justification for this adjournment motion. (Hear, hear.)

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I rise on a personal explanation. This insinuation is totally wrong that we resigned with the idea of getting votes, because I am one of them and I have no intention to stand for elections. (Interruptions.)

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Assembly do now adjourn.

The Assembly divided : Ayes 81 ; Noes 89.

HOURS OF SITTING.

Mr. Speaker : Now the Assembly will proceed with the Government business. If necessary we shall continue up to 9 o'clock.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Sir, I have to make a submission. To-day is Friday. Saturday and Sunday are off days. Those who have to go can only go up to 7 o'clock. After that either they cannot leave the barrier or if they leave the barrier they cannot catch the train at Kalka. Therefore, I submit that we should sit only upto 7 o'clock and take up the Government business on the next Government day.

Mr. Speaker : The Leader of the House is anxious to have the Government Bills finished as soon as possible and yesterday when I fixed from 9-30 to 5-30 for the adjournment motion, I expressly stated that after that the Government business would be taken up and continued till it was finished.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : The Bills are also important. Why not have them on Monday morning? It would be unfair if they are taken up at the sag end of the day and when honourable members are away.

Mr. Speaker : What has the Leader of the House to say?

Premier : If my honourable friends opposite are prepared to allow me to take up private members' day, I will be prepared to finish the business to-day at 7 o'clock and then go on with the Bills on the 29th.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : We are prepared to sit on the 30th even if it is a holiday and do this work.

Premier : It may be a holiday for my honourable friend, but there is no holiday for me or for my colleagues.

Mr. Speaker : If we sit on the 30th, it would mean that we shall be sitting throughout the week. That cannot be.

Premier : Moreover, Sir, we have got a select committee meeting in the morning and we have to do other public work as well. My honourable friend, the Leader of the Opposition will agree with me that it is not my fault that we are taking nearly 3 hours of the day fixed for Government business for business which is not Government business. As you are aware, the Parliamentary convention is that Government business takes precedence over other business and there it is rarely that the private members' day is left entirely for private business. It is often taken up by Government business, because Government business takes priority over other business. I hope my honourable friend will follow that convention and recognise that public business must take precedence over any private business.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Yesterday when we were told that the adjournment motion would be taken up after the day's business was finished I was prepared to sit very late in the night.

Mr. Speaker : What about holding a sitting on the 2nd of the next month ?

Premier : The trouble is that we will not then have sufficient time for the presentation of the report of the select committee and we want to have this Bill passed this session and we also want to finish the business of this session before the 9th July. That is my difficulty.

Mr. Speaker : What about sitting on Sunday ?

Premier : We have got the Cabinet meeting fixed for that day.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I suggest that instead of meeting at 2 p. m. on Monday we can meet at 11 a. m. that day. That should solve the difficulty very easily.

Premier : Monday morning is not free. My hands are full that morning.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Yesterday the Honourable Premier did not move his motion for reference of this Bill to the select committee because the members on his side were not prepared to work longer and he wanted to accommodate them. Therefore, if this adjournment motion was taken up to-day, it is not our fault. We are entitled to have time out of the time allotted for Government business to discuss adjournment motion. That is our privilege.

Premier : It is not your privilege.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : If the Leader of the House is not prepared to give us time other than the ordinary sitting hours then we must have time out of the time of Government business. We were prepared to sit as long as the Government wanted us to work yesterday, but he and his party were not prepared to work and so he did not move the motion relating to this Bill. If the Honourable Premier is not prepared to accommodate us to-day the only course open to us is to walk out.

Premier : You know what happened yesterday.

Mr. Speaker : I gave an undertaking to the Premier that the adjournment motion would be taken up as the first item of to-day's business and after it, we shall sit till the Government business of the day was finished. Can we not sit for two extra hours to-day and for two extra hours on Monday?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : If we sit two hours more we cannot catch the train at Kalka.

Premier : My honourable friend wants to go to Lahore at the expense of public business. I am afraid this session was not meant for them to move about between Lahore and Simla, but to transact public business. I do not want to impute any motives to him, but it has been suggested that if he walks out now, it is because he believes that in any case he will have to walk out in the course of the debate on the Bill. I do hope that my honourable friend will have that sense of responsibility to see that public business is not thwarted or obstructed.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : If the Honourable Premier had any sense of responsibility, why did he not fix up the 20th June for the transaction of Government business after His Excellency the Governor had addressed the Assembly? Was not public money wasted by the honourable members being here on that day simply to hear His Excellency's address?

Mr. Speaker : That day was not fixed by Government. It was fixed by His Excellency the Governor for addressing the members of this House.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : We could have transacted some business after His Excellency the Governor had finished his address. It has been the practice of the Central Legislature to do business after His Excellency the Viceroy has addressed the legislature. Having got Saturdays off we are entitled to go away to transact our own business. It is not therefore just on the part of the Honourable Premier to impute motives and say that we go to Lahore and waste public money. You cannot say that we do not come here at a sacrifice.

Premier : I have already submitted that we have got other public work to do on off days and so far as I am personally concerned I have to do other public work.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : We have also got public work to attend to.

Mr. Speaker : I suggest that we may sit for two extra hours on Monday and Tuesday next.

Premier : I am afraid I have not made myself clear. My difficulty is that I must get this Bill passed in this House this session. The Bill has to go to select committee and then the report of the select committee has to be presented to the House in time for it to be considered by this House during this session.

Mr. Speaker : Does the Honourable Premier think that it will be finished to-day?

Premier : I am almost certain. After all about two hours and a quarter must be sufficient to discuss this motion.

Mr. Speaker : To my great regret, I am unable to find a way out of the difficulty.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Very well, Sir. We have then no alternative but to walk out.

REGISTRATION OF MONEY-LENDERS BILL.

The quorum of the committee shall be five.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri (Rawalpindi Division, General, Rural): I beg to move—

Sir, the registration of money-lenders has been the subject matter of many legislative attempts not only in the Punjab and the other provinces of India, but also in the Central Legislature. But so far these attempts have always had one result, i.e., they have invariably failed because after investigation and careful consideration of the question it was found, firstly, that it was impracticable to find a definition of ‘money-lender’ which would relate to the transaction of money-lenders and which would not oust the casual lender who by common consent is the most honest and cheapest giver of credit. Secondly, it was found that the registration of money-lenders, which is bound to reduce the number of money-lenders and absolutely oust the casual lender, would so far reduce the facilities for credit that the trade and industry would be seriously hampered. It was noted that the banking facilities which existed in other countries and which are the main source of supply of credit for trade and industry are absolutely wanting in this country. They exist only in name. Therefore in spite of the fact that there was an Act called the Money-lenders Act in England which required registration of money-lenders, the conditions in India being entirely different from the conditions in England, all the provincial governments and the Indian Government have so far come to the conclusion that the registration and licensing was unsuitable for conditions in India. Now, Sir, for the first time this matter came up before the Indian Legislature in 1918 when they had before them the British Money-lenders Act which provided amongst other matters for the registration of money-lenders. The Government of India after calling for the reports from the various provincial governments and after instituting their own enquiries, introduced what is now known as the Usurious Loans Act and definitely rejected the provisions of the British Money-lenders Act dealing with the registration of money-lenders as definitely unsuited to the conditions in India. That was, Sir, in 1918. Again this question was taken up for the second time in the Imperial Legislature in 1928 on the motion of a private member, I think it was Mr. Yamin, now Sir Yamin Khan, which amongst other matters dealt with the registration of money-lenders. Mr. Haig speaking for the Government of India definitely opposed that motion and pointed out that this was a matter which was absolutely impracticable. If you refer to page 2590 of Volume III, Part III of the Assembly Debates for the year 1928 you will notice that Mr. Haig observed:—

“ The question of registration of money-lenders was one of the questions specifically considered by the Government of India prior to the legislation that attended the Bill of 1918. All Local Governments were then consulted on the matter, and with your permission, Sir, I shall read the replies of some of the Local Governments on this subject. They were all unanimous that the definition of the term ‘money-lender’ and the registration of money-lenders were practically unworkable. The Government of Madras reported:—

‘ The registration of money-lenders would be a formidable and almost impossible undertaking and would be so far from complete as to be useless.’ ”

The views of the Government of Bombay are very pertinent and deserve being placed before you in some detail. The Government of Bombay stated—

"The problem of dealing with money-lenders in England is totally different from that of dealing with them in this presidency, and arguments from the success of the Money-lenders Act in England are, in the view of the Governor-in-Council, full of danger. In England a small and fairly well-defined class of professional lenders catering for a comparatively small class of borrowers has been taken under control without difficulty and without interfering with or unsettling the whole of the credit system of the country. In India practically every one with a little money in hand lends it out, and the agriculturist who has saved a few rupees is often quite as rapacious as any ashakar. Registration of money-lenders would represent enormous difficulties in India and in fact may be said at once to be impracticable. Even to arrive at a satisfactory definition of 'money-lenders' would be a hopeless task."

Sir, that was the result of two legislative attempts by the Government of India, by a Government which is responsible for good government in this country.

7 P.M.

Again, the matter does not rest here. The Government of India appointed a committee, the Central Banking Enquiry Committee, whose object in the first instance was to deal with this matter of finance and credit and their unanimous recommendation was that the restriction of money-lenders was uncalled for and unnecessary. That is an expert opinion which should not be set aside lightly. There was in addition to that Central Banking Enquiry Committee, as the House is aware, another committee called the Punjab Banking Enquiry Committee. This committee was presided over by Mr. Calvert than whom the zamindars have had no greater friend. This is the gentleman who is responsible for the theory that the restriction of credit is a panacea for all the ills of the zamindar. I do not agree with that theory, but this is a theory which seems to have been accepted by the present government. Now what was the recommendation of this Committee with respect to licensing and registration of money-lenders? Their conclusion was also this, that the registration of money-lenders is neither necessary nor workable.

Then, Sir, an attempt was made by one of the distinguished members of this Assembly who also happened to be a member of the old Punjab Legislative Council, I mean Mir Maqbool Mahmood. He brought forward his famous Money-lenders' Bill in the last Punjab Legislative Council. Expert opinion was against his Bill. But he had the majority with him and the Bill was passed by the Punjab Legislative Council. But Sir Malcolm Hailey, who was then the Governor thought that the Bill would ruin the credit of the Punjab and would destroy not only rural credit but also affect adversely the credit in the urban area. He therefore took rather the unusual step of not giving his assent to the Bill and did not even consider it worth while to return the Bill for reconsideration to the Council. He said that he would ask his Government to put before the Council certain provisions which would regulate the business of money-lending. True to his promise, his Government introduced what is now on the statute book and what is known as the Regulation of Accounts Act which requires money-lenders to keep accounts in certain form and to submit returns at proper intervals and which prescribes penalties for failure to observe its provisions. Therefore a Governor of whom you cannot say that he was not a friend of the zamindar or to whom the interests of every class in this province were not as dear as it is to you or me, had to give the advice to enthusiasts that they should go so far and no further. After this attempt had failed, in 1933 the Punjab Government brought forward the Punjab Relief of Indebtedness Act. Now the Punjab Relief of Indebtedness Act is not an enactment which deals with one topic only. It deals with several topics. It dealt with insolvency procedure; it dealt with usurious loans; it created debt conciliation boards; it prescribed and enforced the rule of damduput; it enacted provisions regulating deposit; it amended the Punjab Redemption of Mortgages Act of 1918; it amended the Civil Procedure Code with respect to provisions of arrest and it also amended section 60 of that Code which gives exemptions to debtors from attachment with respect to certain portions of their property. It practically went the whole length of legislation which might possibly arise between debtor and the creditor, and it gave very extensive relief to the debtors. I was a member of the Select Committee and I am in a position to state that the registration of money-lenders was urged in the select committee, but the Punjab Government did not accept it. That was the second time when the Punjab Government, after consideration, refused to legislate on the subject.

Then only a couple of years ago, Sir Chhotu Ram introduced the Debtors Protection Bill which again dealt with several topics and one of the numerous subjects on which he proposed to legislate was the registration of the money-lenders. This Bill of Chaudhri Chhotu Ram was at that time described by the then Legal Remembrancer "the Slaughter of Legal Enactments Bill" and it was with respect to that Bill that one of the most experienced and able senior officers of the Indian Civil Service, the then Commissioner of Multan, who had been our Chief Secretary and a member of our Council for a number of years, observed:—

"I greatly regret that I can find no trace of justice or sound sense in any of the provisions of the Bill now presented..... It would result in a total destruction of agricultural credit and it offers nothing in its place..... I can only recommend that the present effort be scrapped in toto."

(Honourable members: What is his name?) It is Mr. Garbett. His opinion is public property as it is printed in the opinions on that Bill—His opinion referred to this provision about the registration of money-lenders also which was a part of the Bill. Chaudhri Chhotu Ram moved that the provisions relating to the registration of money-lenders should be enacted by the vote of the House. But this was defeated by the very House which gave him ample support for his other provisions. Why? The reasons were no other than those already stated by me, because this provision would kill rural credit and also urban credit, thus adversely affecting the trade and industry of the province. Why, I ask him why, when the House with the majority at his back gave him full support with respect to other proposals, did they not pass this proposal? This did not happen years ago. It occurred only two years ago and who were the gentlemen who opposed these provisions? Well-known zamindars who are now sitting in the House, persons of the ability and experience of men like Nawab Muzaffar Khan, Sir Firoz Khan Noon, Sir Jogendra Singh, Thakur Pancharam Chand and others. I am surprised to see a smile on the face of Nawab Muzaffar Khan. Does it mean that when he voted on that occasion, he was not voting on his own conviction? Was he voting by order?

Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan: On Government benches we had to vote according to Government opinion. You know it.

Raj Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri: I know it very well, but you were a member of the Government.

When a provision has only two years before been rejected on the floor of this House by the votes of this House, is it fair that without the occurrence of any new events, without demonstrating any further necessity for that legislation, this Assembly, simply because it has got a majority at its command, should try to enact a measure which the Government of India, and the Punjab Government, presided over by three such illustrious persons as Sir Malcolm Hailey, Sir Geoffrey deMontmorency and Sir Herbert Emerson, opposed. Nobody knows more than Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram that Sir Donald Boyd opposed this proposal of his and later in spite of his best efforts he was not able to carry the House with him. So, this is the history of the legislative effort in the Punjab and the Central Legislature with respect to registration. Let us now see what has been done in other provinces of India? After all we are not a solitary unit. There are ten other provinces in British India where the problems are similar. The House must be aware that every one of those provinces has undertaken and passed legislation relating to the transactions between the debtors and the creditors, and has tried to give relief in its own way to the debtors and to the debtor agriculturists. There are the United Provinces Acts, there are the Bengal Acts and there are similar Acts in other provinces. Has any province so far passed an Act requiring the registration of money-lenders? There are eleven provinces and in none of them up till today is there an enactment requiring registration and licensing of money-lenders. Why should you always be the first in giving the wrong lead? (Interruption). There is the entire experience at your beck and call, of your own province, of the Indian Legislature, of other provinces to be found in official records and yet you come forward with unauthenticated stories of what other provinces have done. Point to me one Act of any other province. I do not want to look at Bills which may or may not be passed and which may be amended out of all recognition. Now look at the history of enactment and contents of the Bengal Money-lenders Act, 1933. The Act contains provision dealing with usurious loans, dealing with restoration of property, dealing with payment of instalments, etc. If you look at the Bengal Money-lenders Bill, as it was first introduced in the Bengal Legislature, you would find that sections 5, 6 and 7 of the Bill definitely provided for the registration and licensing of the money-lenders. The matter went before the Select Committee and it was considered. Other provisions were adopted, but this provision with respect to the registration of money-lenders was definitely dropped and the Bengal Money-lenders Act of 1933 which is on the Statute Book contains no provision with respect to registration of money-lenders. There must be some reason why the Bengal legislature, in spite of the fact that this matter was placed before them, considered it improper to enact a proposal of that kind. I am told that the Bombay Government has recently brought forward a Bill which is known as Bill No. VIII of 1933. It deals with several matters, e.g., regulation of accounts, damdupal, usurious loans and amongst other matters it contains a provision with respect to the registration of money-lenders. I do not know whether that Bill has been passed. In spite of my best endeavours to get it, I am told that no Act of the Bombay Legislature exists which contains that Bill. I certainly was not able to get it. But if you look at the provision in the proposed draft of Bombay Money-lenders Bill relating to registration of money-lenders, you will notice one thing, that the registration of money-lenders is not placed in the hands of the Collectors but is placed in the hands of the Registrar of money-lenders as in the case of registration of partnership or registration of companies. All that you have to do is to put an application and you would be registered unless your case falls within four definite clauses which are specified in the Act. According to the Bombay Bill, if you find that you have been unjustly treated by the Registrar—as you may be by the Registrar of joint stock companies, then it is definitely provided that you can appeal to the civil courts and competent courts are definitely specified there, e.g., Sub-Judge 1st class, in areas outside Bombay and the High Court of Bombay with respect to money-lenders having transactions over ten thousand and Small Cause Court, Bombay, with respect to transactions below ten thousand. Therefore there is no precedent so far in any province in India for registration and licensing of money-lenders.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker left the Chair and it was occupied by the Deputy Speaker.)

If you would refer to the reasons which are given in the Preamble for the introduction of this piece of legislation. I venture to submit, they are neither genuine nor convincing. One of the reasons given is, that the Statutory Report of the Reserve Bank of India, Agricultural Credit Department, 1937, recommends the registration of money-lenders. A careful perusal of the whole of that Report would show that they only recommend legislation for reasonable regulation of money-lending, although registration is also mentioned. But with respect to our province, their observations which occur in paragraph 10 are more pertinent. With respect to necessity of regulation of money-lending, they observe—

“The money-lender undoubtedly serves a necessary function in the village economy and regulation of his business is long overdue. The pendulum now appears to have swung to the other extreme and the various enactments relating to agricultural debts have undoubtedly seriously impaired the activities in many parts of India.”

In the Punjab “the pendulum has definitely swung to the other extreme”. We are far ahead of all other provinces in indebtedness legislation, legislation which is in some cases unjust and harsh in the extreme. In the Punjab we have passed more Acts to the disability of the creditor than any other province. In fact the attempt of the Punjab Legislature has been to prevent the realisation of the creditors' money, and to find means how the propertied (not the poor indigent person) agriculturist class can evade payment of its dues. There is just one line in this Reserve Bank Report where it is stated as follows:—

“Companies, banks and insurance companies which have to deal with an enlightened public are required to submit to regulations and there is no reason why money-lenders who have to deal with illiterate ryot should claim exemption. We are, therefore, in favour of reasonable legislation for regulating money-lending and making registration compulsory.”

Minister for Development: Please repeat.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri: I repeat this sentence in deference to Sir Chhotu Ram's wishes. It is "reasonable legislation for regulating money-lending." It is certainly not meant for our province where regulation of money-lending as evidenced by Regulation of Accounts Act, Relief of Indebtedness Act, Debtors' Protection Act has gone far beyond the 'reasonable.' The report only recommends reasonable regulation of money-lending in provinces where it does not exist. We have certainly long passed beyond that stage. In fact we have absolutely killed the non-agriculturist rural money-lender. It is no question of regulating it.

Minister: Why are you afraid of being registered?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: There will not be registration of corpses.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri: Reliance upon this one sentence in the report, in the face of the expert opinion detailed by me, shows the straits to which the Government has been reduced, in finding some support for their legislation. What has the Government to say to the reports of the Central Banking Enquiry Committee, the Provincial Banking Enquiry Committee, the opinion of the Government of India on two occasions and the expert advice of such experienced statesmen as our three celebrated Governors, and also of a government of which Sir Sikander and Nawab Muzaffar Khan were members? The mover has nothing more to rely upon than this observation, innocuous and quite proper so far as it goes in this report of 100 pages which the directors of the Reserve Bank of India are being asked to publish after every six months, not as a result of any enquiry, not as a result of any investigation but as a result of observations. Therefore, Sir, the reason which is given in the preamble cannot possibly have produced the Government to embark on this legislation. The Government does not say that they have the balance of expert opinion on this point in favour of registration of money-lenders. Does the mover, seriously wish the House to understand that it is this sentence in the report, which has induced him to come to a conclusion opposed to that which had been taken on the floor of the House by the elected members of the Legislative Assembly only a couple of years ago? It is really unfair that the learned Premier should have relied upon that half a line in this report in support of the proposal which evidently is not meant for our province. But with respect to our province, as already pointed out by me, the more relevant observation is to be found in paragraph 10 and that is that the pendulum has gone to the other extreme. Now, Sir, the other reason which is given by Honourable the Premier is that he wants to catch the agriculturist money-lender and his object in doing so is that as soon as he is registered he will declare him as not entitled to some of the benefits so far enjoyed by the statutory agricultural tribe under the Land Alienation Act. Now the Premier says that he stated so to a deputation which waited upon him and in pursuance of that promise he made he is asking for registration of money-lenders. I do not know whether he still sticks to that promise. I see Sir Chhotu Ram is shaking a dissent to this observation. Sir Chhotu Ram who, I may respectfully submit, is responsible for most of the legislative monstrosities of our province is the real author of this legislation; and I have not the slightest doubt that it would have been in a much more reasonable form if it had really been sponsored by a Muslim member. I may be pardoned for expressing my honest opinion, as to how I and some others feel on the subject and I do not wish to conceal it. The Premier has not entered any caveat to my statement but Sir Chhotu Ram has said, if I have heard him right, "we have made no promise". Sir Chhotu Ram has evidently pulled up the Premier. He says "Oh, promise or no promise, we are the masters of the situation and we can do what we like." Therefore, Sir, it is up to the Premier to say whether he still wishes to carry out what he stated in the preamble.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Who led the deputation ?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : It was led by Lala Durga Dass who was the representative of the Associated Press in Simla those days.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Most foolish.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : I do not believe that this Registration Bill has been introduced in response to that request. It is an obvious attempt to find some reason and a very weak effort in making out a case. It is for the Honourable the Premier to say if this is the impelling motive. I will accept it without hesitation if he says so. Obviously this deputation waited upon the Premier with the grievances of the non-agriculturists, none of which has so far been redressed, or even an attempt made to deal with them. And yet legislation of such a far-reaching and contentious character and dealing with a matter against which the whole deputation would have raised their voice in loud protest, if they had known of it, is being attributed to a promise made by the Premier to that deputation. The reason, to say the least of it is disingenuous. A question was asked, why do you object to the registration of money-lenders? I would like to make myself perfectly clear and explicit to those persons who wish to appreciate our point of view so as to enable them, if they so desire, to relieve our apprehensions and solve our difficulties. With respect to rural lending, the prophesy of Mr. Garbett that "it would result in a total destruction of rural credit" has come out to be true and Sir Chhotu Ram's Bill—Debtors' Protection Bill—has completely destroyed rural credit. Whether it is good or bad I do not wish to venture an opinion, but I leave it to my zamindar friends who are conversant with rural conditions and whom it affects, to say whether it has not entirely destroyed the credit which the zamindars enjoyed with the non-agriculturists and whether at the time of the real necessity, say a criminal case, or purchase of a bullock, the zamindars, have not to part with their assets and even land to their wealthier brethren, for a song. Their needs are being met by the wealthier classes of zamindars and that is the only substitute they have. If that were not available, no member of the notified agricultural tribe would be able to get any credit. I venture to submit that the non-agriculturist would be the greatest fool in the world if, in the face of the existing legislation preventing recovery of debt, he advances one rupee to the richest man of that class. Therefore rural credit is entirely destroyed and such that exists, is only for the purpose of facilitating the winding up of the old business and for realisation of a small portion of the old dues. But, Sir, what I feel anxious about is that when you have successfully destroyed rural credit kindly do not destroy urban credit, do not destroy the credit of the petty trader, the artisan, or the petty worker in urban areas, whose only means of subsistence is petty trade as hawker, ordinary grocer which trade he does not carry on with his own money, but by borrowing one or two hundred rupees. That borrowed capital does not come from banks, not even always from professional money-lenders but it comes from the casual money-lender, more often from the landlord of the shop he has rented or some friend. This comes from persons who are not regular money-lenders but from those who year in and year out consider it a safe investment both for the lender and the borrower. Once you make this registration compulsory this casual money-lender will practically disappear. No person would like to risk the non-realisation of his debt on the ground of want of registration, and no casual lender would like to undertake the trouble of registration with its disabilities and penalties. Sir, if the sources of credit of this trading class are impaired, they will not be able to carry on their trade. If you go to any bazar, and look at the shops, whether it is a trader dealing with imported British goods like cloth, or country made articles, the valuable stock which catches your eyes, has been purchased with borrowed capital and only a small portion is that of the owner of that business, perhaps a margin only of 20 or 30 per cent. Those shopkeepers who appear to be prosperous, their entire stock in trade is not theirs. In 80 per cent. cases they live on borrowed capital and where does it come from? There are hardly any joint stock companies or banks of any magnitude and there are no co-operative societies. It does not even come from regular money-lenders like the well-known Lala Bulaqi Dass of Lahore. Kindly remember that I am not opposing this legislation in the interest of the money-lender. If our trade and industry would not suffer and our business could be carried on without the money-lender and if the whole class of money-lenders disappeared I would not shed one drop of tear I oppose this legislation on the ground of restriction of necessary credit and the consequent necessary and inevitable restriction on trade. I oppose it more in the interest of the borrower than that of the lender.

Sir, what I am anxious for is that if you have succeeded in destroying the rural credit, you should not do anything by which you destroy the urban credit also. You are all here representatives of the agriculturist class and you are entitled to support their case. I do not know whether the agriculturist, the petty agriculturist, does not remember his sahukar and prefers him to the co-operative society which in some cases is now lending money; whether he is not remembering with affection and gratitude the treatment which the sahukar—in some cases—metes out to him as compared with the treatment that the co-operative society or the co-operative bank metes out to him. I have heard that view expressed on the floor of the House by zamindar members. You are the representative of notified agricultural tribes and are not afraid of further restricting your credit by registering money-lenders. I do not wish to enter into argument with you on this subject and would accept that what you consider good for them must be good for them. Therefore I, for one, would not oppose any legislation which registers money-lenders who deal with members of notified agricultural tribes. But if you insist on registering even those persons, who live in towns and who supply us credit there, if you are going to register non-agriculturist money-lenders in towns who deal exclusively with non-agriculturists whom I and my friends represent, I would tell you that you have received no demand from any one for such registration. There is no cry in the country for such legislation. We on behalf of this class wish emphatically to assert that whatever you might do to regulate the transactions between lender and borrower, between a money-lender and an agriculturist, you will be creating unnecessary hardships and difficulties if you legislated for registration of those money-lenders who lent money to traders only. On behalf of the borrowers in urban areas, on behalf of the traders and shopkeepers who live on trade, I request you, don't restrict their credit by insisting upon registration of those who lend money to them. None of the urban debtors or urban creditors whom I claim to represent, has ever asked for registration of money-lenders. Do not destroy our credit, because trade will not exist if the credit is gone. I cannot carry on my trade when my credit is gone. Therefore, Sir, I would say that the registration of money-lenders and licensing of money-lenders is likely to restrict the credit to such an extent in urban areas that it would hamper trade and industry. I should like to put a question to my honourable friend the Premier, who would like to carry on the business of money-lending in this province, if he knows that revocation of his licence on one occasion may lead to the total destruction of his advance? This is a provision in the Act. Supposing I am one of the money-lenders and that my business is a flourishing one and runs up to 30 or 40 lakhs of rupees. With that legislation on the Statute Book and with 30 or 40 lakhs being my business capital, do you think, I would like to run the risk of losing 30 or 40 lakhs, on the ground that on an occasion or two I or one of my numerous agents had failed to send six monthly returns required by the Regulation of Accounts Act? Would any of you be prepared to take that risk, even if the amount involved was Rs. 10,000 provided it comprised your entire assets?

This legislation has, in some quarters, been described as vindictive and communal. It has been said, what do you want by registration of money-lenders when money-lending has ceased to be profitable? It is stated by some persons that it is brought forward not with the object of giving any relief to any debtor but with the idea of putting indignity and insult on and ruining the business of those, whom influential members of the Government have always proclaimed throughout the province as their enemies. I have no reason to think that this is an uncharitable view which is often taken. Again, another view which is being persistently put forward is that under the communal award, this Assembly consists of a majority of Muslims and according to Muslim religion the taking of interest is forbidden and the money-lender, whether he is agriculturist or non-agriculturist, must ex hypothesi belong to non-Muslim communities like Hindus and Sikhs. (A voice: What about Pathans?) Pathans do money-lending business, but they do not want the assistance of your courts. They have got a danda in their hands. (Pir Akbar Ali: What about Khojas?) Khojas do not lend money in this province but they lend in Bombay. I put a question to my honourable friend Pir Akbar Ali, who is one of the oldest, most respectable and ablest lawyers in the Ferozepore district, a person who has come in contact with money-lending transactions. I ask him what is the percentage of Hindu and Muslim money-lenders in his district. I am prepared to accept his statement. I have personal knowledge on this subject. I have practised in the headquarters of a district and I have also practised for a long time in the High Court on account of which I am familiar with convictions in almost every district in the province. Besides, I have studied this question in all its essential details, and I make bold to say that the overwhelming majority, more than 95 per cent., to be on very safe side, very likely 99 per cent., of the money-lenders are Hindus and Sikhs. Therefore, Sir, this measure savours of communalism. I wish, that there were some Muslim money-lenders, so that restrictions imposed on money-lending and penalties proposed had been made more reasonable. As it is, it is one community legislating for the other and the legislation proposed does not give any quarter. The legislation in the framing of which my honourable friend, Sir Chhotu Ram, appears to have a leading hand is of a most drastic and one-sided quarter and appears to have been conceived in a spirit of vindictiveness rather than with a desire to regulate money-lending. With a view to illustrate the partisan character of this legislation, may I draw attention to an exception drafted to this legislation, which could only have come from persons who thought they had only one interest to protect, in utter disregard of all other interests? Kindly see the proviso in the Bill. A landlord lending money to his tenants on interest is not to be registered as a money-lender. A milk-man, who lends money on interest to the person who supplies milk to him, is to be registered. A butcher who in the course of his business has to make an advance to a person who supplies animals to him, is to be registered. A commission agent, who deals in so many articles and who gives money to a person and charges certain amount of interest, is to be registered, but this privileged class, dealing with the most illiterate masses, the tenants, and on terms—I as a lawyer know what those terms are—under which an advance of Rs. 50 either in cash or kind if not repaid at the harvest time, becomes  $1\frac{1}{2}$  times or  $1\frac{3}{4}$  times, an interest much higher than the interest which is permitted, these persons, should not be registered as money-lenders. I know of some big landlords who keep regular legal munshis. I know of big landlords who have got regular engagements with lawyers at headquarters to bring suits against tenants for such advances and who obtain decrees and execute those decrees relentlessly against those tenants. Yet under this legislation while you are registering other money-lenders, in fact everybody, you are excluding landlords who lend money to their tenants. Such unabashed partisanship could hardly be excelled. No doubt, it is on a par with your other legislative efforts. The less said about the mentality which underlies such legislation, the better. What justification is there for excluding yourselves if you include every one else?

Then, again, what happens to a money-lender whose licence is not renewed? Suppose his debts are going to become time-barred and the licence is not renewed for six months. There is no provision in the Act for extension of time. Therefore I submit that this legislation is entirely unnecessary, and uncalled for. Past legislative experience of other local governments, expert knowledge of the banking committees, the recent defeat in our own Legislative Council of this very measure by the votes of the House and the rejection of it on two occasions by the Imperial Legislature with the unanimous opinion of all the local governments and our own experience of the rural conditions and of the debt legislations of this province, are sufficient to induce any government to stay its hands. (Cheers).

Mr. Deputy Speaker: Motion under consideration, amendment moved—

That the Punjab Registration of Money-Lenders Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 15th January, 1939.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath (East Punjab Landholders) : To the exhaustive survey of the subject which has just been made by my honourable friend sitting on my right I have hardly anything to add. I give my unqualified and whole-hearted support to the motion that he has moved. I do not understand why Government should be chary of circulating the measure for eliciting public opinion. What will happen to this matter which has been considered to be fraught with difficulties, and against which official opinion has been adverse for a long time, if it is delayed a little longer? Why hustle this measure simply because there is an Act passed by the Bombay Council? What will happen if time is given for eliciting public opinion? Well, there may be agitation. But that agitation will be there even if the Bill is passed now and assumes the form of an Act.

Then there is another matter. A promise has been held out that necessary amendments will be made in the Land Alienation Act so as to take away from agriculturist money-lenders the privilege which the Land Alienation Act gives them. We have not got that Bill before us now. Will it ever come up at all? Will it be passed by this Assembly? Will it be acceptable to the members of this House?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: I hope, not.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath: I may warn the Government that a measure of this sort is going to cause great economic catastrophe in the province. We should be very cautious before we hustle this measure. I have nothing more to say as the subject has been very well dealt with by my learned friend. As I have already said I support the motion for circulating the Bill for eliciting public opinion.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division General, Rural) : I shall not take much time of the House on this measure. I propose to speak in support of the motion so ably moved by my learned friend, Mr. Puri. He has said practically all that can be said on the subject. Sometimes I think, and I have given expression to it before, that it is utterly useless to speak in this Assembly. It would be disrespectful to quote a Punjabi proverb which refers to weeping before people who cannot see. (Interruption). You may put it like that. That would suit the zamindar government better. Anyhow, it comes to the same thing. (Interruption). If you take my honest opinion all the mischief is due, I must endorse what Mr. Puri said, to the Honourable Minister from Rohtak. (Laughter). I can almost lay a wager on this that if he was not in the Cabinet, probably none of these measures would have been brought forward. (Hear, hear). He may feel proud of this. He may think it very creditable of him.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: All these remarks are irrelevant to the motion.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: The Honourable Revenue Minister may not be a dummy, the Premier is certainly not a dummy, but certainly the Honourable Chaudhri seems to have got the better of both of them and he seems to have drafted these measures which will not do credit to any government whatsoever.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member will please speak to the motion.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Now, coming to the Bill, it has been very exhaustively pointed out by Mr. Puri giving facts and figures that several attempts have been made to enact such a measure, but all attempts ended in failure or had to be abandoned. I sincerely feel that no case has been made out for again taking up this matter within the short space of probably less than two years. Is it that there is no wisdom now in the present Cabinet? Or has fresh wisdom dawned upon them, or is it that the previous government did not possess sufficient sense of duty? The previous Government did not all consist of banias? There was no bania in the official benches then unless I am considered a bania. But certainly I am not a bania unless the Honourable Chaudhri Sahib defines anybody who is not a statutory agriculturist as a bania. Then, according to him the Hindu Sabha is a bania sabha and every person who does not come within the four corners of the Land Alienation Act which is his Veda, as some of his followers have said, is a bania. Unfortunately ever since his childhood he has been suffering from what I may describe appropriately as bania-phobia.

It is as a result of that phobia, bania-phobia, that this crop of Bills has been brought up before this House. One important question has been raised, but has not been fully discussed. My learned friend has said that it would restrict credit and this is not denied. But I heard some voices say, it is a very good thing if credit is restricted. I would agree with them if credit is restricted to a small extent. But restriction of credit does not mean that credit should be destroyed altogether. I am not a money-lender by any means. I am not even by birth an urbanite. I am not a city bird. I am a pacca peada in the fullest sense of the word. I have been brought up in rural surroundings. I know peasant life inside out. I know money-lenders' life inside out. I know the relations that have subsisted between them at least for the last 54 years, ever since I was five years of age and could see and understand something of the people and their relations. I can assure you that the peasants themselves, the agriculturists themselves, whom it is intended to protect by means of this legislation, will far from bless you, the authors of these Bills and these Acts. It is very easy for gentlemen earning several thousands a month or getting fat salaries or having large acres of land, hundreds or thousands of squares of land, to say that it is a very good thing to restrict credit. To them restriction of credit simply means reducing the number of motor cars that they possess, or reducing the number of horses that they might be keeping or reducing the number of grey dogs that they might be keeping or cutting down some other luxuries. But to the poor villager, restriction of credit means sometimes starvation because he always lives on the verge of starvation. The profession of agriculture, according to the report of the Reserve Bank itself on which this Bill is based, cannot be carried on without borrowing. These are not my words. It is most unfortunate, but it is an occupation which, according to the experts of the Reserve Bank and others, cannot be carried on without borrowing, because agriculture depends on so many chances, so many accidents and is subject to so many calamities. A bullock dies. What is the poor agriculturist to do? It is all very well for Sir Chhotu Ram to say that credit should be restricted. He has nothing to replace his bullock and his land which was in watar, is drying up and unless it is ploughed in time it is gone and he will have to wait again before the heavens are pleased to send down rain. Again the time of sowing the crop comes and he has not got seed. I am telling you actual facts of an agriculturist's life. He has not got any seed. He has to go to one lender or another. He may be a chaudhri or he may be a bania. He has to go to some one for seed and if his land is ready and seed is not available, he misses the season and he cannot expect any crop. Take again the case of a person whose son is ill or whose wife is ill or who has been involved in some criminal case. He has got no margin, no surplus. What is he to do? He must go and borrow. He cannot do without borrowing. Again take the case of a poor man's son who is reading in a college. He is going up for his degree examination. The father is poor; his bullocks have died or some other calamity has befallen him and he has to spend his money there. But the boy has to appear for the B.A. examination. He cannot find the admission money and he has to borrow. His failure to sit in the examination may change the whole course of his life. If he does not pass his B.A., but is only content with his Intermediate examination he will have to be a clerk on Rs. 20 or 30. But if he becomes a B.A. and passes his law he may become one of the leading lawyers and like some of my honourable friends here may be able to earn lakhs or he may become a minister. You say credit should be restricted, credit should be destroyed. But when you actually go to the necessities of life, then you realise that it is fatal for those whom you want to protect. You restrict credit so much as almost to destroy it. I have gone through the report of the Reserve Bank directors issued under section 55. I have not been able to discover any strong reason for the registration of money-lenders. There is just one small suggestion somewhere that it may facilitate their employment under the Reserve Bank to assist in agricultural credit. There is some such line somewhere in the report so far as my memory helps me. Besides that there is absolutely no reason given. It is considered that when a person belonging to a profession like that of money-lenders is required to register himself he is probably treated as a criminal. It is no reply to say that doctors are registered, that lawyers are registered and that companies are registered and so on. They are on an entirely different footing. Their number is limited. But the number of money-lenders is really unlimited, because in this province every one almost who can afford a little money or has a little surplus, must oblige some one who comes to borrow. I use the word 'oblige' because yesterday the Honourable Premier was pleased to say that when a money-lender makes an advance to a borrower, he does it not out of any sympathy but in order to enmesh him, to entrap him just as a spider entraps a fly in its web. I must say that it is most uncharitable on his part to say so. I was referring to the general assistance given by money-lenders to the borrowers. I can quote thousands of cases where not a penny would have been advanced for the sake of making profit or for the sake of interest. The money was advanced to help the poor agriculturist or the poor neighbour because those people have to live in the same village and they have to treat one another as sympathetically and as fraternally as possible. Thousands of such cases can be quoted. It would, therefore, be the height of ingratitude for the borrowers as a class to say that money was advanced to them simply because the baniyas wanted to loot them or simply because they wanted interest. No doubt the lender took interest. That was because he had to pay interest somewhere else. He has not got any money in his house. He borrows money from somewhere at Rs. 1 per cent. and advances it at Rs. 1-8-0 per cent. This is the nature of business that goes on. He runs a risk because he is 8 P.M. bound to pay to his creditor, but he is not sure of realising his money from an agriculturist whose fortunes are subject to so many vicissitudes, to some of which I have already referred. Therefore, naturally he must take a little more interest than he is paying. As you know the rate of interest is in proportion to the amount of risk involved or to the security offered. You cannot therefore say that this is a class of blood suckers, a class of robbers or thieves, who are out to rob the poor ignorant helpless agriculturist.

Then again it appears that the framers of this Bill were visualising only the village money-lender and his so-called victim, the agriculturist. I would not repeat what Mr. Puri has said; but certainly this is a most important consideration and I would ask my honourable friend, the Premier, if he is the author of this Bill, or Sir Chhotu Ram if he is the author, or any other gentleman who may have taken part in the drafting of it, whether he was at the time taking a comprehensive view of the money-lenders, whether they were at all thinking of the urban money-lenders who had no dealings at all with the villagers and in whose case the question of the poor agriculturist does not at all come in and in whose case no question of any fraudulent transaction can arise—because it is one big baniya lending to a small baniya and both are astute. They know what they are about and the wealthy baniya is not in a position to cheat the other baniya either because he is wealthy or because of some other reason—both understand the business and no question of any fraud can arise there. Has it ever occurred to them that they are putting all these people also in great difficulty and their measures will affect trade and commerce in cities as well? My honourable friend, Sir Chhotu Ram, ejaculated a remark. He said it does not matter. The money will go to industry. Do you think that when you are destroying public confidence in your government, any industry can flourish? Take my word for it that by these measures you are destroying public confidence in your government, I mean the confidence of the people who count. It is not the confidence of the people who live in the villages and have two or three acres and carry on cultivation. It is not they who are likely to encourage industry. It is those people, the others whom you are ruining, whose business you are destroying, who can be relied upon to give an impetus to industry in this province. Once they find that their property is not safe, that their transactions of 36 or 48 or 58 years are being set aside so ruthlessly, do you think they are going to invest their money in this province? Even many years before some people were reluctant to invest their money in this province and I tell you most respectfully and with as much conviction and all the earnestness that I can command, that it is fatal for any government to destroy public confidence in itself and if you contemplate dispassionately and consult people outside who are not your official opponents and who are not even members of the Assembly and on whose judgment you can rely and in whose friendship you can trust, you will be convinced that these measures which you are bringing forward are not calculated to enhance confidence and will result in destroying the confidence, whatever little of it there is, in the Government of the province. There will be no question of the encouragement of industry. It cannot be said that if money-lending is totally stopped, industry would develop. There may be something if normal conditions prevail in the province, but as normal conditions do not prevail in this province owing to various reasons, industry is not likely to develop and will not be encouraged in this province. People who can spare some money would rather invest it in concerns which are under other governments whom they can trust. Apart from this, remember no industry can be carried on without borrowing. For the development of industry borrowing is absolutely necessary. Point out to me one industry in the Punjab or anywhere else in India which is being carried on without borrowed money. No one can carry on without borrowing, howsoever rich he may be. Even the richest man has to borrow. Even owners of lakhs have to borrow and if borrowing and lending are going to be reduced to these straits in this province, do you think there is any hope of industries being developed in this province? Certainly not. It would be impossible to give any impetus to industry in these circumstances. My friends are becoming impatient. (Honourable members: Go on).

Before I sit down I must come to the statement of objects and reasons attached to the Bill. It is stated therein "It is further a step towards the fulfilment of an undertaking which the Premier gave to a recent deputation as to agricultural money-lenders being placed for the purposes of the Alienation of Land Act in the same position as non-agriculturists in the matter of the power to purchase land. The Alienation of Land Act will be amended in due course so as to place agriculturists money-lenders registered under this Bill on the same footing as non-agriculturists in this matter." Now I do not know what this deputation was; but with the utmost respect to the personnel of the deputation I would say that it was a most unwise request to have been made to the Premier. They did not understand what they were asking for. I say it with great respect although some of them might be very astute men of business. I would say again that the Bhoja Raja (Raja Narendra Nath) himself does not understand what the fulfilment of this promise implies. (Interruption). I use the term Bhoja Raja as a term of endearment and I mean no disrespect and the other day Honourable Minister of Revenue was unduly excited over it. Raja Sahib himself fears that this promise might not be fulfilled. I hope it will not be fulfilled. (An honourable member: Why?). I must explain the position. Raja Sahib thinks like the deputationists that it would be a solace to him if agriculturist money-lenders are also placed in the same position with respect to Land Alienation Act as the non-agriculturist money-lenders. In the first place I would say that it is a wish which is rather impious. It does not improve your status. It brings down the status of the others. It is like the koospusht old woman in the story (Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath): It is a step towards equalisation for which we have been pressing). Sometimes God teaches wisdom through the mouth of babes. You are an already elderly man and you should learn a little wisdom from me to-day. (Interruption). Please listen. (Bai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri: Why elaborate this point?) Raja Sahib is feeling rather excited over it.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member should not be personal.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : It is like the wish of a koozpusht woman about whom we used to read in some Persian textbook. She was a hunch-back—and what she said was, that she did not want that her back should be straightened but she wanted the backs of her neighbours to be bent like hers. What will Raja Sahib gain if the agriculturist money-lenders are also placed in the same position as he himself is. Does it equalise? It does not. Listen to me. What is the implication of it? After that he will join with me in hoping that the promise is not fulfilled. Who are the money-lenders in this province among the agriculturists? There were nineteen thousand money-lenders among the agriculturists some time ago. Can you say that one per cent. of them belong to any other community than the Hindu and the Sikh ?

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : No.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member should address the Chair.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : All right. What did this request mean? The request meant that the whole land of the people who mortgage or sell should pass to another community but not to the Hindus or the Sikhs. This will be the result and, therefore, I say that it was a most unwise request that the Hindu deputation, it was a Khatri deputation, made to the Premier. The number of agriculturist creditors was nineteen thousand many years ago and now it must be thirty thousand. It is increasing every day. Go to Amritsar district. Who are the money-lenders there? As many as 85 per cent. of the money-lenders in Amritsar district are Sikh jats who are in a position to realise debts by usufructuary mortgage or by purchasing the land. If they are placed in the same level as banias then what happens? They lose their money. Will they make this demand? Certainly they will not. Ask them—there are thirty thousand of them—whether they are prepared to be placed in the same level in this respect with Raja Sahib howsoever exalted he may be. They will certainly not agree. I am not a koozpusht. My back may be bent but I do not want that the backs of my Hindu and Sikh agriculturist friends should also be bent. I, therefore, say that the request which the deputation made was absolutely unwise and was not properly considered and I, therefore, hope that the Premier, who seems to be too ready to accede to that request, will not comply with that request. It will create a grievance among the Hindu and Sikh Jat money-lenders and as these people are crying that you are ruining them, they will cry that you are ruining them by complying with the wishes of the Khatri deputation.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : I know all the facts and I know the consequences.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Then it means that you also want to reduce them to your own level.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : Yes.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : If there were money-lenders in all communities, and probably this is what they thought, then the case might have been different. I am not an authority on Muslim law but so far as I understand it, it is not considered hatal in Islam to take interest or even to pay interest. But I know that thousands of pious Muslims also pay interest and there are some—I do not know how many—who also take interest but their number is very small. The fact remains that not 5 per cent. of money-lenders are Muslims or Christians.

Pir Akbar Ali : Wrong.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : A vast majority of the money-lenders among the agriculturists are first Sikhs and, in the second place, Hindus.

Pir Akbar Ali : Who are the borrowers?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : The borrowers are your brethren and some of their brethren but it means that if they are also made koopusht like the Raja Sahib they will also suffer. Therefore, I do not think much of this promise given in the Statement of Objects and Reasons which Raja Sahib considered to be some quid pro quo for the misery and hardship which this Bill proposes to inflict upon his class of people. It is certainly no quid pro quo and I would leave it absolutely aside as a wash-out—nothing more than a wash-out—I do not attach the slightest importance to this part of the statement of Objects and Reasons. It does not advance the case of the sponsors of this Bill. There is, therefore, nothing left which can be said in support of a measure like this. I would not like to discuss, nor can I properly discuss, the various provisions of the Bill but I would just in passing make a brief comment on the principles, if any, underlying some of the clauses. In the first place, you have defined "money-lender" as one who carries on the business of money-lending. Who has to decide whether a person is carrying on the business of money-lending? It depends upon the whim of every sub-judge.

Premier : But see the definition of 'loan.'

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I am referring to the definition of "money-lender" which simply means,

"..... a person, including a firm, but not being a bank or a company or a co-operative society, who carries on the business of advancing loans, ....."

Let us take the definition of "loan." Does it carry the case any further?

"Loan" means an advance of money made with the object of pecuniary gain, whether secured or not, together with any other advance either in cash or in kind which the court may find in substance to be a loan, but shall not include an advance in cash or kind made by a landlord to a tenant....."

It does not advance the case any further. Money-lender is a person who advances loans or carries on business of advancing loans. But who is to decide? What are the criteria in the Bill for deciding whether a man is carrying on the business of money-lending? There are thousands of people who are lending now and then. Is it lending to three persons which would be tantamount to carrying on the business of money lending? Is it lending to half a dozen or to one hundred people which would be tantamount to carrying on the business of money-lending? Is there any provision in this Bill which would exclude a person who has lent only once or who has got one asami from the definition of a money-lender? Certainly not. And that was the reason why on so many occasions the attempt to pass a measure like this was abandoned and why all the local governments throughout India opposed it. Their main plea was that it was impossible to define a money-lender, and now we find some great legislators and jurists in the Punjab Government consisting of zamindars, who are trying to surpass all the legislators and jurists in India. (Premier: And in England.) Unless things are to be carried on in a rough and ready manner and the car of Jagan Nath is to be driven on irrespective of who is crushed under it, I submit that this Bill cannot be justified in any way. Of course any law that you pass will operate but it will operate in the same manner as a car driven at fifty miles' speed would operate on the Dusehra grounds where the meta is at its thickest. Certainly no government can justify its conduct when such is the result apprehended by those who are in a position to know and to understand. Do not do everything in Jatka manner. In ordinary matters you may proceed in that manner but in the case of making laws, for heaven's sake, show some acumen, some sense, some reason and a little more intelligence before you legislate for 28 millions of people living in this province. Certainly the way you are proceeding is far from satisfactory. What are you doing next? You say that no claim would be entertained unless the plaintiff is registered and, secondly, unless he holds a valid licence. In another part of the Bill you say that a licence may be taken within six months after the operation of this Act. Now supposing my limitation expires on the day this Bill is enforced. I bring a suit. What is to happen to my suit? You have made no provision for such things—absolutely none. My suit will be thrown out simply because I am neither registered on that day nor do I hold a licence on that day. Throughout this province where there are more than 40,000 money-lenders and they have probably millions of debtors, there must be hundreds of cases, if not thousands whose limitation may be about to expire or may expire on the day the Act is enforced. Even within the next four days they cannot obtain a licence. There is a procedure to be prescribed for obtaining a licence. Licences cannot be obtained in every village. Probably one will have to go to the tahsil or the district head headquarters to obtain a licence. In the meantime many suits may become time barred and be thrown out by courts. You have not taken any cognizance of such a contingency. Perhaps it was far beyond you to have visualised such things.

Sir, even if we were to assume that registration is necessary for certain purposes, if not for anything else, at least to know the number of money-lenders and as the directors of the Reserve Bank say in order to approach them to extend credit to agricultural areas, even if we concede that, the penalty proposed is simply preposterous. No reasonable man could ever think of imposing such severe penalties with such dire consequences to people concerned. What do you do? You say a money-lender's licence may be cancelled, if he has contravened the provisions of Section 3 of the Regulation of Accounts Act more than once. Now if I am not mistaken the reference is to the sending of copies of accounts, I have not got the Act before me. Supposing a money-lender has failed to do so in two or three two-penny half-penny cases and the man after this Bill is passed brings a suit for Rs. 10,000 against a barrister worth 2 lakhs in Lahore. It is produced in evidence that this man had such and such debtors and on one occasion he did not send a copy of the account to X and on the second occasion did not send a copy of the account to Y, therefore his suit must be dismissed, not only should be dismissed but his name should be removed and his licence cancelled. You do not make any provision against this. The money-lender might have thought, well I need not send the copy of account in these petty cases. He knows if he does not send a copy of the account his suits might be dismissed. He does not send because he thinks it is not worth while to do so in petty cases. He knows that if without complying with this section he brings a suit, the suit may be dismissed or he may not be awarded interest. He does not mind it. Probably that is the reason why he does not comply with Section 3 of the Act. Now how could he know that for that omission under some law which might be made ten years later his suit for Rs. 10,000, not against a jat, but against a rich banker or a barrister, or a rich factory owner might be dismissed! When you drafted this measure, did you ever think of these things?

Mr. Deputy Speaker : Please discuss only the principle of the Bill.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : There is another point which deserves consideration. The section says:—

“ Has been held by a Court to have contravened the provisions of section 3 of the Regulation of Accounts Act, more than once.”

This provision does not say when, whether after the commencement of this Act or even before the commencement of the Act. Were you conscious of this? If you were, then you are consciously inflicting oppression and tyranny on this class of people. In sub-clause 6 you have mentioned “ after the commencement of this Act.” It would be interpreted by the courts to mean that only in this case you wanted the penalty to arise after the commencement of the Act. Who drafted the Bill I do not know!

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member should confine himself to the principle of the Bill.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : It is the lack of principle that I am pointing out to you. Am I not entitled to point out the lack of principle, the lack of wisdom and foresight, and the lack of fairness and equity of the legislative measure which is under discussion in this House? What are the principles? Where there is no principle what is to be discussed? It is the lack of principle to which I am referring.....

Mr. Deputy Speaker : At this stage the honourable member should discuss only the principle of the Bill.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Also lack of principles and omissions. The learned Premier is conceding the force of my arguments. He is realising the omissions. If he will go through the Bill he will take note of more. I am referring to them here as I am not in the select committee, not that I want to be. Then go further. In sub-clause (iv) it is stated—has had his suit dismissed as vexatious, fraudulent or frivolous.

The Bill does not say the kind of suit. I bring a suit for injunction, I bring a suit for dissolution of partnership, I may bring hundreds of suit. One of these suits may be dismissed by a sub-judge who does not understand. He says ' it is a vexatious case between two brothers, I dismiss the case.' If any of my suits is once held to be vexatious and is dismissed then all my debts go and my name is absolutely obliterated from the register of moneylenders and my license is forfeited. Is this the law that you want to impose upon this province? Have you any sense of fairness?

In the same way there are other provisions which the learned Directors of the Reserve Bank of India never contemplated. When they suggested this registration they never dreamt that some wise Ministers in some provinces of India would adopt this suggestion and would impose such penalties and disabilities on money-lenders and that they would frame such a law. I would make one proposal to the Ministers and that is this. Let them send this Bill to nobody else but to the Directors of the Reserve Bank themselves. Have they done that? Are they acting upon the recommendations of the Directors of the Reserve Bank? The motion is for circulation. That will be defeated, I know. I know all these gentlemen are waiting here for voting. Some are hungry, some want tea and some want dinner and so on, but still they are here. If they are not going to agree to the motion for circulation, what objection have they got for waiting for 10 or 15 days to get the opinion of Reserve Bank Directors? Refer this Bill to the Directors of the Reserve Bank whose suggestion, they say, they have adopted. If you have already approached them, my suggestion carries no force. If you have not approached them, then I would respectfully submit that you better send this Bill to them. If you have already sent this Bill to them and if they have made any suggestions, you should adopt those suggestions. I am afraid that in a hurry to rush this Bill through this Assembly you have not approached them. Are there any experts whom you have consulted? Has this Bill been circulated even to deputy commissioners, district judges and High Court judges?

(At this stage Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.)

Now, Sir, coming to the actual question of circulation will the Honourable Premier tell us if he has consulted the judges of the High Court, if he has consulted the district judges, if he has consulted any other officers who are competent to pronounce opinion on the subject? If he has not, what is the hurry? Are the heavens going to fall or is the earth going to shrivel up, if my honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Puri's amendment is accepted? After all for 90 years, since its annexation, the Punjab has gone on without this registration of money-lenders. What is going to happen if those gentlemen are consulted? Consult judicial officers, consult the Directors of the Reserve Bank, consult prominent businessmen and then, if they approve of this Bill, you will have some justification. Why rush it through? As the Honourable Raja Sahib pointed out in a paternal and affectionate manner, there would be no harm if this Bill is circulated. It would not take very long. It would satisfy at least those who are going to be affected by it. They must be given an opportunity of expressing an opinion on the merits of this Bill, and also those who are in a position to express their views should be given an opportunity of giving an opinion. I would earnestly ask you—I am not simply saying this for the sake of making a speech—to consider it seriously. You will not lose anything. You will be the gainer. You will be able to mend and repair your confidence, which is so badly damaged by accepting this amendment and by consulting competent people. That is all I have to say and with these words I strongly support the amendment.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan): Sir, I am afraid that it is my misfortune always to come last when the House is restive and tired. Excellent speeches have been made to-day by my honourable friends, Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang and Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri, who have specialised in the subject. I cannot, I believe, claim the same eloquence, but I shall try very briefly to meet, as best as I can, the points which they have made. My honourable friend Mr. Puri started by the remark that this Bill is going to kill not only the casual lender, but the whole of the money-lending class. I am afraid that his rhetoric has outrun his logic, because if he had read the Bill carefully, he would agree with me that our object is to weed out the dishonest money-lender and to put the honest money-lender on a pedestal where he was held in the past when he was honest and enjoyed public respect. That is the main object of the Bill. We have no sinister motive. We do not want to kill the honest money-lender. We do not want to wipe out honest money-lending. We merely want to weed out the black-sheep from amongst money-lenders, as my honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Puri, himself admitted that there are black-sheep amongst them as elsewhere. We want to weed out those black-sheep so as to make this profession as honourable, dignified and respectable as it used to be in the olden times. This is our main object. My honourable friend, Mr. Puri, also made a point that it was going to hit hard those poor hawkers who go about and who do not borrow money from money-lenders, but borrow from casual lenders say Rs. 50 or Rs. 100 and set up their trade and go from street to street and make their livelihood that way. My honourable friend, Dr. Gokul Chand, said that credit has already been restricted and that the money-lender has got no work to do and that he has got no scope for his capital and there is no place where he can invest his capital. I may assure them that this measure is in the long run going to help money-lenders because they will be privileged to lend their money to those people. It would not be necessary for a casual lender to give help to those hawkers. Those money-lenders, who may not find any outlet for their capital will have plenty of outlet for their investment in lending money to those hawkers and other small business men. But what would the casual money-lender do who cannot advance money? That was the point which my honourable friend Mr. Mukand Lal Puri made. What he would do I cannot say or prophesy, but I know what he should do and that is that he should invest in gilt-edged securities, he should invest in industries of the province as they do in other countries. The man who has got small savings, should invest his money in safe securities, in safe investments, in railway shares and gilt-edged securities and that is how those countries flourish because they find no difficulty to borrow money from small investors in the country as well as from the biggest capitalist. (Dewan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath: What about those who need money?) My honourable friend the Raja Sahib has put me a question. He says, what about those who need money? My honourable friend Dr. Gokul Chand said that the money-lender has got no scope for lending out his money because his business is risky. If he is an honest money-lender, not a black-sheep, he will have every scope to lend his money to these needy people.

Another point which my friend Mr. Puri raised was that the conditions in India are quite different from those of other countries. Why are they different? Because hitherto we did not possess full responsible powers and therefore could not set our economic position in order. But now we, as people's chosen representatives with fuller powers placed in our hands under this new constitution want to place our economic position on a solid and sound foundation and bring our country up to the level of other advanced countries of the world. When you weed out the dishonest money-lenders and bring in this Bill many people who were lending money hitherto would prefer to deposit their money in banks. There will thus be an incentive to open more banks which when they come into existence would be able to meet the requirements not only of urban areas, but I hope in time to come of rural areas also. Is that an ideal for which we should not strive? There are several people who say that democracy cannot succeed in this country and that this country is not suited for democratic government. It may be so in certain respects under the present conditions, but is that any reason why we should not strive for the emancipation of our country? Is the honourable member prepared to concede that because there are some people who think that reforms are not suited to this country we should not work them and ask for more reforms? I am afraid that argument is not likely to hold water.

The honourable member further pointed out that there was some difficulty with regard to definition. I think that point was also laboured to some extent by my friend Dr. Gokul Chand Narang. I concede that it is extremely difficult to have a water-tight definition of the words "money-lender" and "loan." But we have tried our best to arrive at a suitable definition of these terms. I shall welcome any constructive suggestions in the select committee which would make the definition more exact and less open to doubt. My honourable friend said that we would be leaving everybody at the mercy of sub-judges of the 4th class if we retain the present definition. But what is the definition in the English Act? Has my honourable friend seen that? If he had seen it, probably he has forgotten it. We have copied the basic definition of the English Act and not only that but the Bombay Bill also is based on the English Act; so also the Central Provinces Act.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : But the English Act was in existence when all the local Governments made their recommendations against this measure.

Premier : If my honourable friend will allow me, I will read to him an extract from a speech made by the Honourable Mr. Munshi when he introduced a similar Bill in the Bombay legislature. But before doing so I should like to refer to a point mentioned by Mr. Puri, namely, that in the Bombay Bill there is a provision giving right of appeal over the decision of the registering officer.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : This is wrong. Here is the Bill. In that Bill the provisions defining "competent courts" are very specific and definite. If anybody is dissatisfied with the orders of the Registrar of money-lenders he can go to civil courts, which are specified and whose functions are detailed.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : And not to the collector or commissioner.

Premier : My honourable friend Mr. Puri says that in Bombay they have given right of appeal to civil courts, while Dr. Narang says that we would be leaving these money-lenders at the mercy of sub-judges of 4th class who may not do justice or who may not understand the law. I may point out that we have given the right of appeal to a much higher dignitary, the commissioner. He is one of the seniormost and experienced officers and even now discharges important judicial and semi-judicial functions.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : But the decisions of the commissioner have been set aside by sub-judges of the 4th class. What then is the value of the commissioner's decisions ?

Premier : My honourable friend is quite correct. But we are not going to allow any anomaly of that sort to creep into this law. This is what Mr. Munshi said in regard to dual control, that is, control both by the executive and the judiciary.

"Therefore to-day, we have in different provinces in India several money-lending Acts which give to courts control over money-lending transactions which come before them. Now, as a matter of fact, most of them followed the lines suggested by the Banking Enquiry Committee which adopted the old English Act of 1900. But that Act which gave judicial control over money-lenders did not prove much of a success in England; and Parliament enacted another Money-Lenders Act in 1927, which, for the first time gave control over money-lenders not only to courts of law but also the executives. It introduced administrative control in the shape of licensing and registration. The control was dual. The money-lender had to be licensed and registered. If he was disqualified for any reason, he was removed from the list of money-lenders. The court also could do the same if it found that he was disqualified. The judicial control over the terms and conditions of money-lending was maintained."

Just as we have got the Relief of Indebtedness Act and the Regulation of Accounts Act. The courts will still have jurisdiction over those spheres.

"The court had control over the rate of interest; it had control over various other items. Penalties also could be imposed under certain circumstances. So, it was the 1927 Act which ultimately gave a complete machinery for administrative as well as judicial control over money-lenders. And experience during the last nine years in England shows that that Act has been working much more successfully than the previous Act."

This is what the Honourable Mr. Munshi said and he merely cited the experience with regard to the English Act.

My honourable friend, Mr. Puri, made another point. He said, "Look at the risk which the money-lender would be taking if his licence is cancelled or if his licence is not renewed." He said, a man may have forty or fifty lakhs outstanding which he would like to get back, but if in a small transaction he makes a slip, then it will be impossible for him to realise the other money. That certainly would happen if the limitation with regard to that transaction is likely to run out. But if the honourable member had studied the actual provisions of the Bill he would have found that it is left to the discretion of the registering authority to specify the time for the cancellation of the license. Is it conceivable that the registering authority will not take into account all these various factors? If a man has made a slip with regard to a loan of Rs. 80 or Rs. 40 and he goes and proves to the registering authority that he has got forty lakhs out on loan, do you think the registering authority would be so callous as to disable him from recovering his 40 lakhs, or even if the registering authority makes a mistake, the commissioner will not rectify that mistake? I am afraid that he is trying to attach too much importance to the risk which in my opinion exists not only in this enactment but in all other similar enactments. My honourable friend is a lawyer and he knows perfectly well that touting is prohibited. Lawyers do not resort to touts because they know that if they do so, they would be in trouble and their license would be taken away. The lawyer concerned may have a practice of Rs. 10,000 a month. But if in a small case worth Rs. 500 he is caught because a tout has got the case for him, not only this Rs. 500 is gone, but his entire practice for the year, if he is debarred from practice for one year as punishment, amounting to Rs. 1,20,000 is gone. But does that mean that the law relating to touts is a very serious or unfair bar to the legal profession? Similarly when we have weeded out black sheep and only honest money-lenders are left, you will find that they will take good care and their business will be much more flourishing and respected than it is now, because dishonest money-lenders will be weeded out and the others will keep accounts regularly and properly. But if by some misfortune they make a mistake, the registering authority cannot be so callous or senseless not to take into account their antecedents and past record and the various factors under which the license is to be cancelled or the period for which it is to be cancelled. Then there is also the appellate authority which can rectify any mistake committed by the registering authority. So that point also does not seem to be very convincing and can nevertheless be discussed in the select committee, to remove any genuine ground for doubt or difficulty so far as it is likely to affect honest money-lenders.

Now, another point made by both of my honourable friends, Mr. Pur and Sir Gokul Chand Narang, was that by enacting this law we will be absolutely wiping out rural credit. Very likely it will have the effect of further restricting credit. But what was the object of the Land Alienation Act? It was meant definitely to restrict credit. But what is the actual result? We do not find any restriction of credit. On the other hand we find that credit has been growing and the amount of money given on loan to the agriculturists prior to the passing of the Land Alienation Act was one-fiftieth of what it is to-day. Has it, therefore, in any way killed credit? No. But as a matter of fact I think that it will bring out and encourage honest money-lenders and honest borrowers, and the honest money-lender would not lend his money to a dishonest borrower and when both sides are honest, credit is bound to increase, because the property on which that credit is to be based is still there. This enactment is not going to take away that property. In any case, let us assume for a moment that credit is restricted to such an extent that there will be inconvenience. We have the representatives of rural property clamouring "we are slowly dying, we are having a lingering death and if you give this particular medicine we hope to survive and live and if we do not survive it is our own risk." So why should my friends feel nervous about it? (An honourable member: Have you consulted them, those poor villagers and petty shopkeepers?) We have got 138 representatives of those people in this House and it will be for them to say whether those people want this remedy or not. Similar misgivings were prophesied with regard to the other measures enacted in this House relating to the agriculturists. But what do we find? The agriculturist is still alive. The money-lender is still alive, not only alive, but kicking and in spite of all that legislation he is still alive and kicking. I do not think that this extra piece of legislation will in any way affect him. My honourable friend Sir Gokul Chand Narang gave an illustration of the hunch back. May I in reply point out the Punjabi saying that kubbe nan lat kari a gas. It is very likely that this legislation instead of doing money-lenders damage will do them good. (Interruption). I am quite certain that it will have that effect. It will mean that dishonest money-lenders will go away and honest money-lenders will flourish.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath: The whole business of money-lending will be done by a particular class.

Premier: Now, Sir, let me take one or two points made by Sir Gokul Chand Narang. He said the previous Government was not a baniya government and why did they not bring forth similar legislation before the House or pass Registration of Money-lenders Act. My honourable friend will remember that attempts were made not once but several times in this respect. First in 1925 an attempt was made to get the money-lenders registered. Again in 1933 a further attempt was made. Then again in 1934 we made another attempt but were thwarted. Why? Because the previous Government wanted to take the line of least resistance. They knew that if they did anything which did not suit agriculturists, those poor dumb people will say nothing, but if they did anything which was likely to cause even a pin prick to the class belonging to my honourable friends' category there will be a howl in the press and from the platform and there will be resolutions and telegrams from every mandi in the province and from every small and big town and every bar association and other associations. They, therefore, took the line of least resistance. They tried their best and they thought "if we can get on without trouble, all right let us go on" and if there was any likelihood of any trouble or a hue and cry being raised or where they would find themselves facing a possible agitation, because of the power of the press or due to the vociferousness of the classes whom the legislation affected, they naturally said, "all right Chaudhri Sahib, all right Sardar Sahib, we had better take a middle course and leave things to drift." (An honourable member: And you want to give a big blow?). I want to cut at the very root of the disease and remove that disease so that that disease does not spread any longer. This is not going to do any harm to the honest money-lender but it will do damage and elbow out the dishonest money-lender.

My honourable friend, Sir Gokul Chand Narang, also mentioned two practical difficulties with regard to some of the provisions of the Bill. One of them, I think is a very important one and I asked my honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Pari, to make a note of it and if we find that that omission must be rectified, I will be only too glad to have it rectified in the select committee. We do not want to give a retrospective effect to fraudulent acts and omissions committed antecedent to the commencement of this Act, and if the Bill is defectively worded, we will rectify it in the select committee. (Hear, hear.)

Now, Sir, both my honourable friends referred to the Reserve Bank's report and said that it was not the report of experts. Mr. Puri said, after all why worry about Reserve Bank's report which is not a report of the experts, which was hurriedly drafted and sent to the various governments? Now a statutory body created specially to control the fiscal policy of this country, the currency of this country, in whose control you have given the whole currency policy of the country, according to my honourable friend, is not a representative or an expert body, as if you can find a better body than that anywhere in any country whose opinion would have more weight. Now this is a body which is more or less charged with the responsibility of keeping liquid the finances of the country as a whole. And who are the members or governors or deputy governors or directors of that Reserve Bank? All the leading businessmen, all the leading financiers of the country and further although not one of them belongs to the agriculturist class, they have made a recommendation, knowing full well that their own personal interests should be subordinated to the bigger interests and wider interests of the country. Instead of giving credit to those patriotic gentlemen who have been selected and some of them elected by experts and businessmen, instead of showing them our gratitude for giving us a lead in this matter and for having the courage of their conviction incorporating in their report which they submitted to the Government of India and also sent to the provincial governments so that we might take advantage of their ripe and mature experience and views.....

Sardar Sahib Sardar Santokh Singh: Did they hold any regular enquiry? Did they take any evidence?

Premier: If my honourable friend would hold himself in patience, I will come to that point. Mr. Puri also said that they recorded their views haphazardly without making any enquiry. Let me inform my honourable friends, if they have any misapprehension on that point, that Mr. Darling, who is one of the biggest practical economists in India at the present moment, was put on special duty and he went from province to province for 18 months and this report is based on his investigations. It is on his enquiries and on the personal experience of those experts and financiers that this report is based. Now what do these people say? My honourable friend read out to the House a paragraph which he thought suited him. But as a matter of fact the major portion of the balance of views in that paragraph were in favour of the enactment which is before us. Now let me read out to you paragraph 11 of that report which is really germane to the point and not paragraph 10 although it also supports my contention.

"It is true that there are innumerable ways of evading debt legislation and that legislation alone will not succeed in improving the methods of the money-lenders. It is only natural that money-lenders both good and bad should dislike the new restrictions imposed on them and the impression that recent debt legislation has resulted in a contraction of credit of the agriculturist is probably true. In areas where such legislation is in force it is said that money-lenders have discontinued lending except to old and trusted clients of their own tenants and have restricted their loans to the minimum."

[Premier.]

All to the good—

“ But though this has probably caused some hardship to the cultivator it has not been an unmixt evil. It has taught him to try to live within his means and so far there are no complaints of land remaining uncultivated for want of finance. The legislation for regulating money-lending must not, however, be judged by this temporary result. Money-lenders who conduct their business honestly and whose dealings are above board will soon find that they have nothing to lose from enactments which regulate rates of interest, insist on the maintenance of proper and regular accounts and the furnishing of accounts and receipts to debtors, restrict usufructuary mortgages to a reasonable number of years, allow debtors to redeem certain old mortgages and in general protect the ignorant cultivator from his own folly. Such legislation stands in a different category from legislation which presumes dishonesty on the part of the creditor. It only requires him to conform to certain standards and by doing so tries to ensure that he will not take undue advantage of the ignorance or necessity of the borrower. Companies, banks, and insurance companies which have to deal with an enlightened public are required to submit to its regulation and there is no reason why money-lenders who have to deal with illiterate ryots should claim exemption. We are therefore in favour of reasonable legislation regulating money-lending and making registration compulsory for all money-lenders. We suggest further that apart from any penalties which might be prescribed in such legislation for violation of its provisions a procedure should also be devised for the inspection of the accounts of money-lenders. This will impose a salutary check which will be more effective in eliminating malpractices than any other sanctions. If the business of money-lending is regulated in this manner it will also be possible to obtain more accurate information regarding the incidence of agricultural indebtedness by reference to the account books of the money-lenders and measures to deal with it can then be discussed on surer grounds.”

They go even further than our Bill. Then they go on to say :

“ It will further be possible to create a privileged class of money-lenders who may be licensed and approved for dealings with the Reserve Bank on conforming to our regulations on the general lines suggested in Chapter V for indigenous bankers and in the special manner indicated in paragraph 41, Chapter IV.”

Thus this measure, if enacted, is going to be of real benefit to the honest money-lender not only for the reasons which I gave, but also for the additional reason, a very cogent reason which the Directors of the Reserve Bank have given here.

The significance of this must be realised. I do not think my honourable friends have quite caught the import of the last sentence which I have read. Now what happens? A money-lender has got Rs. 500 and he has to lend it to his clientele. He charges exorbitant interest on it because he has to make as much as possible out of it. If that money-lender was an honest money-lender and if this enactment is passed, I still prophesy that within a few years, within the next decade, or much earlier than that, almost all the dishonest money-lenders will be weeded out. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: Probably dishonest money-lenders will get themselves registered and honest money-lenders will walk out.) I should like to stick to my opinion that the honest money-lenders will then get themselves registered and out of these, those who keep their accounts regularly and who are more or less regular with regard to the statements which they have to furnish to borrowers and comply with the various provisions of the law, will soon find themselves on that privileged list of the Reserve Bank. What will happen then? They will be able to borrow at 2½ or 3 per cent., at very cheap rates, and instead of lending out only Rs. 500 at 12 and 25 or more per cent., they will be able to borrow Rs. 10,000 at 2½ or 3 per cent. and lend it out at 4 or 5 or 6 per cent. and thus make a bigger profit, an honest profit and an honest living. (Hear, hear). That is the benefit which will accrue as a result of this legislation.

Now, Sir, before I conclude I should like to refer to one or two points which my venerable friend, Raja Sahib, made. His speech was as usual brief, to the point, and, if I may say so, short and sweet. He chafed me, as usual again, for hustling this measure through the House. He said there would be an economic catastrophe if we pass this legislation because we have not consulted anybody outside the coterie of five or six ministers. That is not a fact. Let me remind Raja Sahib that we have consulted every class of interest, officials, money-lenders, bankers, commercial magnates, commercial concerns, associations, chambers of commerce, judges of High Court, sub-judges, district judges, deputy commissioners, commissioners and others, in fact every category including district boards and municipal committees. Let me show to Raja Sahib the volume of opinions which we have got. This is the book that we have got with regard to this matter.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : This should have been circulated to members.

Premier : We have got opinions from all sources in this book and the Select Committee will be at liberty to refresh their memory with regard to these things should it so desire.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : This is the old book.

Premier : Yes.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Not new ?

Premier : My honourable friend says that this is an old book. Well, we have opinions of High Court judges and everybody else with regard to this very matter of registration. As a matter of fact, if my honourable friend had taken the trouble to see, he would have found lot of material in the old debates of the old Legislative Council itself. We know that there is only one specific remedy for malaria at the moment, i.e., quinine. We know the malady and we know the remedy. No fresh remedy has been suggested. If my honourable friend can suggest some better remedy, then we will try to follow that.

Before I finish, there are just one or two points that I would like to make, but before I do so I might say with due deference to my honourable friend opposite that when he referred to agriculturist money-lenders, he looked at it from a purely communal point of view and he tried to twit Raja Sahib on his "folly" in trying to welcome... (Interruption). (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I never said that. I would never dream of using such a word for Raja Sahib). He said that Raja Sahib was unwise in accepting that attitude. Let me say that he looked at it from a communal point of view. Raja Sahib looked at it from the point of view of principle. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : From a Koozpusht's point of view). He looks at it from the point of view of principle and not a garbled version or even through coloured, communal or jaundiced glasses. Sir Gokul Chand also said that if such bills are passed there will be no confidence left in this Government, and, that people would invest money outside the Punjab and thus it would fly out of the Punjab. My honourable friend is aware that we have got several Acts already on the Statute Book in which we have tried to place restrictions on the agriculturist classes also. What has been the fate of those enactments? In spite of the big majority of agriculturists in this House I can confidently assert they will support them in future as in the past. I am proud to say that we not only enjoy the confidence of reasonable elements of every class in this province, but also the confidence of the capitalist class in other provinces. I cannot divulge names but let me tell him.....

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : We know the names.

Premier : I may tell my honourable friend opposite that I have received letters from eminent capitalists from a neighbouring province saying that they would be glad if I could give them a foothold in the Punjab. That is the position.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Have they seen these Bills?

Premier : They know all these enactments.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Not at all. Let them see the Bills.

Premier : I think that I have taken a lot of time of this House and I would wind up by making just one more point and explaining to Raja Sahib what my position is with regard to the agriculturist money-lenders. Some doubt has been expressed by my friend Mr. Mukand Lal Puri and also Raja Sahib whether I am going to redeem that undertaking which I gave to that deputation. So far as I am concerned—of course it is for the House, because they are the final authority, to add to or delete from any enactment or any provision or clause in this Bill—I can assure him that I not only want to redeem my undertaking, but that a Bill has already been drafted towards that objection.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Would you exclude them from all provisions of the Land Alienation Act?

Premier : I will exclude them from those provision of the Land Alienation Act which place them in a position of vantage against their debtors. I would not exclude them from those provisions which are more or less in the nature of disability. For instance what can an agriculturist money-lender do? He can lend money to agriculturists and he can purchase their land. A non-agriculturist cannot. I am going to restrict him that he will not be able to purchase land of his agriculturist debtor (loud applause).

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Why not exclude him from all the privileges of Land Alienation Act?

Premier : Not only this, I have got one or two other provisions under consideration which perhaps would prove acceptable not only to the non-agriculturists, but also to other agriculturists who do not belong to notified agricultural tribes. However, I have taken enough time of the House and it is not necessary for me to labour these points further. I trust that the House, including my honourable friends on my right Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath and Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri and Dr. Sir Gokul

Chand Narang will not press their motion and instead support us in the motion which I have moved. (Loud applause).

Voices : Question be now put.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That the question be now put.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Punjab Registration of Money-lenders Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 15th January, 1939.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That the Punjab Registration of Money-lenders Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the following with instructions to report on or about the 28th June, 1938 :—

The Honourable Minister of Development.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

3RD SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Monday, 27th June, 1938.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 2 p. m. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

SCHEME FOR SUPPLY OF DRINKING WATER TO AMBALA DISTRICT.

*2808. Lala Duni Chand: With reference to the reply to my question No. *231, asked on 17th June, 1937, will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state whether the scheme stated to have been submitted by the Superintending Engineer, Public Health Circle, to solve permanently the question of scarcity of water in Ambala City has been considered by the Government, and, if so, with what result?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye: As the Government made a grant of Rs. 5,000 for sinking new wells and another grant of Rs. 15,000 for the purpose of purchasing new machinery for pumping water, Government is not in a position at this stage to take any decision on the scheme referred to in the question.

Lala Duni Chand: May I know what that scheme was that the Superintending Engineer was to submit to the Honourable Minister?

Minister: To make supply of water available from Ghaggar.

Lala Duni Chand: Can the Honourable Minister give any idea of what that scheme was?

Minister: It was intended to construct works and make water available from Ghaggar.

Lala Duni Chand: May I know why is it that the scheme has not been accepted by the Government?

Minister: Because it involves an expenditure of more than 8 lakhs of rupees.

Lala Duni Chand: May I know if Government is contemplating any permanent solution of the water supply difficulty at Ambala or is it content with shelving it as it has been doing during the last 3 years?

Minister : Government has done more than its duty in this case. It is an urban area and in the matter of an urban area the scheme has, in the first instance, to be formulated by the local body; they then come up to Government for a grant which if granted usually does not exceed 88 per cent. In the past we have been granting grants-in-aid to the local body up to 100 per cent.

Lala Duni Chand : My question was different. I wanted to know from the Minister whether Government have got any intention of finding a permanent solution of this question or whether they are content with shelving the question for all time to come.

Minister : Primarily it is the concern of the local body. Government would be prepared to solve it in co-operation with the local body and the citizens of Ambala.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that several schemes have been submitted by the Municipality of Ambala in connection with the solution of the problem of water supply?

Minister : They have first to make funds available.

Lala Duni Chand : Have Government called upon the Ambala Municipality to supply funds, if so, how much?

Minister : I would say that the Ambala Municipality has expressed its inability to supply funds.

Lala Duni Chand : Do I understand clearly and definitely that Government is not going to solve this problem, and the conditions will remain as they have been?

Minister : You can draw your own conclusions. Government is always willing to help and to do its part of the duty.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that when the Honourable Minister for Education was pleased to pay his visit the first time, he was kind enough to say that he would help the Municipality?

Minister : In co-operation with the citizens of Ambala and the local body, Ambala.

Lala Duni Chand : Has Government any idea of taxing the people of Ambala for this purpose?

Minister : It is for the Municipality to decide that.

PAYMENT TO DOCTORS OF FEES REALIZED FROM FAMILY WARD PATIENTS.

*2309. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state the aggregate amount paid to the doctors out of the fees realized from family ward patients in Mayo Hospital, Lahore, during the last financial year?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : Rs. 14,927 as detailed below :—

	Rs.
(1) Visiting Surgeons and Physicians' fee ..	12,479
(2) Anæsthetist's fees .. ..	2,448

POLICE OFFICIALS TRAVELLING FREE OF CHARGE IN PUBLIC LORRIES.

*2810. Lala Duni Chand: With reference to the reply to my question No. *261 asked on 17th June, 1937, will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to place on the table of the House a copy of the special orders issued by the Inspector-General to check the mal-practices of police officials travelling free of charge in licensed public lorries and state in how many cases action has been taken during the last financial year against those found guilty of disregarding these special orders?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh): A copy of the special orders issued by the Inspector-General of Police is laid on the table. During the year 1937-38 departmental proceedings were taken against 55 police officers for contravening the orders of the Inspector-General of Police, dated the 2nd February, 1937. In addition, action was taken against five other officers for travelling in public vehicles without paying the regular fare.

Lala Duni Chand: Has Government by this time come to know that the subordinate officials generally travel free in lorries or taxis?

Parliamentary Secretary: No, this statement is incorrect.

Lala Duni Chand: Does Government know this fact?

Parliamentary Secretary: My reply is perfectly clear that anyone contravening these orders of the Inspector-General is severely dealt with. Action has been taken against sixty police officers.

Lala Duni Chand: May I point out that my question was different? I wanted to know whether it is within the knowledge of Government that ordinarily subordinate officials travel free in public vehicles?

Parliamentary Secretary: It is not within the knowledge of Government that ordinarily the police officers travel free. But whenever they are found to be travelling free, action will be taken against them.

Lala Duni Chand: Is it true that ordinarily subordinate officials travel free?

Parliamentary Secretary: No.

Sardar Hari Singh: Is it a fact that invariably they travel free?
(Laughter).

Parliamentary Secretary: No.

Extract from the Inspector-General of Police's standing orders for the guidance of District Traffic Staffs.

(f) Attention is invited to the orders contained in Police Gazette Memorandum No. 547-A, dated the 2nd February, 1937, which are intended to check both the disregard of traffic offences by police officers and the objectionable practice of obtaining free rides. In connection with the latter complaint one Superintendent of Police has issued orders that all officers in his district should hand over the lorry voucher to the driver of the vehicle at the commencement, rather than at the close of the journey. In this way gazetted officers, when checking vehicles and finding police officers seated in them, are able to ascertain whether the voucher is with the driver or with the officer. Superintendents of Police in other districts might like to adopt this system.

Copy of Memorandum No. 547-A, dated Lahore, the 2nd February, 1938, published in the Punjab Police Gazette, dated the 10th February, 1938.

Several cases have recently come to the notice of the Inspector-General in which Police Officers have themselves travelled in over-loaded public vehicles contrary to the orders in paragraph 8 of this office letter No. 513-M.B., dated the 4th July, 1933, and there is reason to believe that some Superintendents of Police are treating such cases too leniently. Inspector-General, therefore, calls the attention of all Superintendents of Police to the importance of checking such breaches of the law by the award of severe punishments, and directs that offenders shall be placed under suspension when detected by Gazetted Officers, of districts, the Assistant Inspector-General, Traffic, or Inspectors, in charge of Range Mobile Patrols.

PRISONERS STILL IN JAILS OUTSIDE PUNJAB.

*2811. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state the number of prisoners still confined in jails in the Punjab or outside belonging to the following classes of prisoners, namely :—

- (1) The state prisoners confined under the State Regulation No. 3 of 1918.
- (2) Babar Akali prisoners that is those prisoners who were tried by special tribunals in connexion with terroristic crimes committed in Doaba district of the Punjab.
- (3) Conspiracy cases prisoners that is those prisoners who on their return from foreign countries were tried by special tribunals at Lahore in 1915 or thereabout for waging war and committing other similar crimes.
- (4) The prisoners tried by ordinary courts of the Punjab since 1st April, 1937, till now for political or semi-political offences such as the offence under sections 124-A., 153-A., Indian Penal Code, section 108-A., Criminal Procedure Code.
- (5) Persons dealt with under Criminal Law Amendment Act of 1937 ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (1) 3.

(2) 9. Orders for the early release of six of these prisoners have already been passed.

(3) 3.

(4) 5, nil, and 1 respectively.

(5) None.

MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH, FERROZPORE.

*2812. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Medical Officer of Health, Ferozepore, who has been entrusted with the work of Medical Examination of School children is allowed private practice as well ;

(b) whether he is being paid any special allowance for Medical Examination of the School children ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) No.

(b) No.

*2313.—Cancelled.

TRANSFERS OF A PUNJABEE CONVICTED IN SHANGHAI TO OLD
CENTRAL JAIL, MULTAN.

*2314. Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state—

(a) whether he is aware of the fact that a Punjabee convicted in Shanghai (China) has been transferred to Old Central Jail, Multan, recently ;

(b) when and on what grounds he was convicted ; what is his term of imprisonment, and when it expires ; what is his present state of health and whether anybody has interviewed him in the jail so far ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes.

(b) He was convicted in Shanghai under section 29 (1) (a) of the Larceny Act, 1916, for aggravated robbery on the 18th of March, 1935. The offence for which he was convicted and to which he pleaded guilty, was that on the night of the 1st of February, 1935, he and one accomplice, both armed with pistols, broke into the bed-room of a Chinese lady and, after threatening to shoot her, carried off a sum of 7,500 dollars which represented the wages for distribution the next day among the employees of a factory managed by the lady's father-in-law. In escaping they shot and wounded a Chinese accountant who had been awakened by the noise. The sentence awarded was imprisonment with hard labour for fourteen years and deportation. The date of release cannot be exactly determined owing to remissions that may be earned. On present calculations he is due for release in November, 1948. His present state of health is good and his weight is above average. He was interviewed by his younger brother on the 31st of March last.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know as a matter of information whether the Punjab Government recognise the Shanghai courts ?

Minister : That does not arise out of this question.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know who is this Punjabi and to what place he belongs ?

Minister : I have not the name with me here but his record is fairly vicious, and the honourable member need not pursue it with any degree of interest.

Sardar Hari Singh : Who is this Punjabi ?

Minister : This Punjabi was convicted in Shanghai. I have not got his name here.

TRANSFERS OF POLITICAL PRISONERS FROM ONE JAIL TO ANOTHER.

*2315. Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

(a) whether transfers of political prisoners from one jail to another are intimated immediately to the relatives of those prisoners, and ; if not, why not ;

[L. Bhim Sen Sachar.]

(b) whether it is a fact that the jail authorities do not acknowledge letters of the relatives of the political prisoners unless letters addressed to them are accompanied by reply-paid post cards or envelopes; if so, the reasons therefor?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal: (a) There are no specific orders in respect of any class of prisoner that transfers from one jail to another are to be intimated to relatives but Superintendents have been instructed that if any prisoner wishes to inform a relative of his transfer he should be allowed under paragraph 551 of the Jail Manual the privilege of a special letter.

(b) Government has no reason to believe that Superintendents of Jails do not acknowledge letters from relatives of any prisoners when such action is required; the matter lies within the discretion of individual Jail Superintendents.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: Will it not be desirable if information is automatically made available to the relatives of a prisoner when he is transferred from one jail to another as it will save considerable inconvenience?

Minister: That is a matter of opinion. Every possible facility is given to every prisoner to intimate his transfer to his relatives. We do not know how many relatives he may wish to have the information.

PUNJAB CABINET AND JOINT RESPONSIBILITY.

*2316. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether the Punjab Cabinet acts on the basis of what is known in constitutional nomenclature as "Joint Responsibility"?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daultana): Yes.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: Is it open to any Honourable Minister to say disparaging things in the public against another Minister?

Mr. Speaker: How does this arise out of the question?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: My question was whether the Punjab Cabinet acted on the basis of what was known in constitutional nomenclature as "Joint Responsibility" and the answer was 'Yes'. I want to know whether it is open to any Minister to say certain things which are disparaging to other Ministers in the public?

Premier: It is a very hypothetical question.

Mr. Speaker: Yes, it is hypothetical and does not arise out of the question.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: I am seeking information on the basis of joint responsibility. When the answer of the Government is that there is joint responsibility, the question arises whether any Minister has a right to misrepresent another Minister in public, because that would be in contravention of the principle of joint responsibility?

Mr. Speaker : Ministers may be working harmoniously ; but yet they may not like each other. The honourable member may ask a notice question instead of a supplementary one.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I want to know when it is admitted on the Government side that there is joint responsibility, whether one Minister can say disparaging things against another Minister in public, if that is so, then it is a great constitutional mistake.

Mr. Speaker : No question regarding Parliamentary practice and speeches made by one Minister with regard to other Ministers can be asked.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Even in respect of public matters ?

Mr. Speaker : Yes.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Then the entire edifice of joint responsibility falls to the ground.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member's question is disallowed.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Premier please state whether the Bills introduced recently in the Punjab Assembly enjoy the consent of all the members of the Cabinet ?

Premier : My honourable friend is apparently quite ignorant of the functioning of democratic form of government. The convention is that whatever is done by the Cabinet is not divulged by the Ministers even to their successors.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is that an answer to my question ? I refuse to learn principles of democratic government from the Premier. He can only say that he cannot divulge the secrets of the Cabinet. May I again ask him if he had the consent of the Cabinet with regard to these Bills ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Do you disallow this question or does the Honourable Premier refuse to answer ?

Mr. Speaker : He clearly stated that the question related to internal affairs of the Cabinet. Therefore it could not be asked.

Premier : That is a convention of democratic form of government in every country. I may add further that when the Ministry goes out of office, all its papers are sealed and even its successors have no access to them.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I draw the attention of the House to the fact that when there was a rumour regarding the resignation of Mr. Eden, questions were asked in the House of Commons and answers were given ? I listened to them with my own ears.

Mr. Speaker : The Parliamentary practice, as given in Campion, page 128, paragraph 18, under the heading "Responsibility of Ministers", is that a question cannot be asked to seek information about matters which are in their nature secret, e. g., the decision of the Cabinet and other committees, etc. Our practice is the same.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : With regard to any decision by the Government, can any Minister say that he has no connection with it ?

Mr. Speaker : This is a hypothetical question and is, therefore, disallowed.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the principle of joint responsibility apply to the legislation that is introduced in this House ?

Premier : How does it arise out of this question ?

Lala Duni Chand : I am not asking you to divulge what the views of the Ministers are. I simply want to know whether the principle of joint responsibility applies to the legislation that is put in the Legislative Assembly ?

Premier : As I have said, I am in honour bound not to divulge the views of the Cabinet. Any act done by any single Minister means, according to the basis of joint responsibility, that the whole Cabinet takes responsibility for it.

Lala Duni Chand : May I point out that it is not a question of anything being divulged, but I want to know whether the principle of joint responsibility has been accepted and whether that principle applies in the case of legislation ?

Mr. Speaker : I don't think the honourable member can ask the question ?

Lala Duni Chand : Why does the Honourable Premier hesitate to answer that question ?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is it a fact that the Honourable Minister for Development said in a public speech that the Honourable Minister for Finance represents the Mahajans ? Does the Government feel that that speech was delivered by a Minister against his fellow Minister and is not in contravention of the principle of joint responsibility ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : On what grounds do you disallow this question ? (Voices : Order, order.)

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question as a supplementary question. The honourable member may give notice for it.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : You have always been pleased to give reasons.

HISSAR COMMUNAL RIOT AFFAIRS.

*2817. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether in the second week of May last the Commissioner, Ambala division, passed any orders regarding the disputed matters of cow slaughter, and the chabutra, in the Hisar communal riot affairs ;

(b) whether he would be pleased to lay a copy of those orders on the table of the House ;

- (c) the communal situation after passing these orders, and the reasons why they were passed after so much delay?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana): (a) No.

- (b) and (c) Do not arise.

STRICTURES PASSED BY HIGH COURT BENCH AGAINST POLICE IN MURDER CASE OF VILLAGE DHANGER, DISTRICT HISSAR.

*2818. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it has come to the notice of Government that in respect of a murder case of village Dhangar, district Hissar, the High Court Bench consisting of Honourable the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Bakhshi Tek Chand while acquitting the accused passed strong strictures against the conduct of the police concerned, in the month of April last;

- (b) the action Government has taken or propose to take in the matter?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) (a) Yes.

- (b) The Superintendent of Police, Hissar, has been instructed to hold a formal enquiry into the case and to submit a report.

NUMBER OF CONGRESS WORKERS ARRESTED DURING LAST SIX MONTHS IN DISTRICT KARNAL.

*2819. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and the names of Congress workers who were arrested as such during the last six months in the district of Karnal and the sections of the Law under which they were tried;

- (b) the dates of their arrests and the period of their respective trials and also whether their bails were accepted or not;

- (c) whether it is a fact that some of them are being tried under section 117, Indian Penal Code?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana): (a) None.

- (b) and (c) Do not arise.

COLLECTION OF PARTICULARS re GAUR BRAHMINS IN ROHTAK AND KARNAL DISTRICTS.

*2820. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether in the districts of Rohtak and Karnal the Government is ascertaining through the patwaris the number of Gaur Brahmins and other particulars about them; if so, the object of collecting this information?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : No particulars regarding Gaur Brahmins are being collected in the Rohtak and Karnal districts.

REPORTS OF FORCED LABOUR IN THIS PROVINCE FROM ABCHAR CONGRESS COMMITTEE SECRETARY.

*2821. Master Kabul Singh : Will the Honourable Revenue Minister be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he has received any reports of the continuance of the use of forced labour (begar) in this province from Abchar Congress Committee Secretary ;
- (b) what steps the Government intends taking to abolish the system ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : No reports have been received by Government or the Deputy Commissioner. It is understood that the local Congress committee made a complaint to the Superintendent of Police as to certain carpenters and labourers having been employed by the thamedar without payment. The Superintendent of Police, however, after enquiry came to the conclusion that the men had been paid.

CRIMINAL COMPLAINTS FILED IN OTHER PROVINCES AGAINST PER-SONS RESIDENT IN THE PUNJAB.

*2822. Mr. K. L. Gauba : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of criminal complaints during each of the last ten years or for such period as may be convenient which were filed in other provinces against persons resident in this province, in which warrants or summons were received in the Punjab from the Courts outside the province calling upon the accused to stand their trial outside this province for alleged criminal offences committed by them ;
- (b) whether Government is aware that it has become a very common practice for persons who have some grievances to ventilate against or a civil dispute with a person to file a false or baseless criminal complaint against him in another province ;
- (c) the total number of criminal cases during the last ten years in other provinces against persons resident in the Punjab, in which before the promulgation of the Adaptation of Indian Laws Order, 1937, the Governor-General in Council, and after the promulgation of the said Order, the Provincial Governments of the other provinces under section 527 of the Code of Criminal Procedure transferred criminal cases against persons resident in the Punjab for trial to courts in the Punjab ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that the largest number of such complaints against residents of this province is in the United Provinces,

(e) whether any rules have been framed by the Punjab Government regarding the type of case making provision for a recommendation or request being made to the Government of another province to transfer a criminal case filed in that province against a resident of the Punjab to courts in the Punjab under section 527 of the Code of Criminal Procedure; if so, whether he will be pleased to lay a copy of such rules on the table of the House;

(f) whether it is a fact that in connexion with a complaint filed in Madras Presidency, against certain residents of Montgomery district, who had never been to Madras, the Punjab Government in 1930 or 1931 or thereabout issued some circular on this matter and if so, whether Government will kindly place a copy of that circular on the table of the House?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) It is regretted that it is not possible to collect the information required.

(b) Undoubtedly this deplorable method of harassing the opposite party in a civil dispute is sometimes used. Such instances, however, which come to the notice of Government, are very few and only ones which in the last year have been reported have been cases in which residents of the Punjab have been the offenders. In both these cases action with a view to criminal prosecution has been taken. If any instances are brought to the notice of the Punjab Government, in which residents of the Punjab appear to have been harassed by false cases in other provinces, the question whether such cases should be taken up with the administrations concerned will be considered.

(c) It has only been possible to trace two such cases.

(d) Government have no information on this point.

(e) No such rules have been framed.

(f) No such circular is traceable.

WOMEN IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE.

*2823. Mrs. Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the number of women in Government service on 31st December, 1937, with reference to each department?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : A statement showing the number of women in Government service on the 31st December, 1937, in various Departments is laid on the table.

Mrs. Duni Chand : Do the Government intend to consider the advisability of appointing women to Government posts where they can be found useful?

Parliamentary Secretary : It does not arise out of the question but if the honourable lady member gives notice of the question it will certainly be looked into sympathetically.

Chaudhri Fazal Karim Bakhsh : Will the Parliamentary Secretary be pleased to state whether he is aware of the fact that the number of women in Government service is very low and whether Government intend to make up the deficiency ?

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC IN THE PUNJAB.

*2324. Mrs. Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of cholera cases in the Punjab up to 31st May, 1938, due to recent cholera epidemic and the number of deaths in such cases ;

- (b) the preventive measures, if any, taken by the Punjab Government before cholera epidemic broke out in several districts in the Punjab ;
- (c) the measures taken after the cholera epidemic appeared in the Punjab ;
- (d) whether Government contemplates any well considered plan to prevent the spread of a similar epidemic in future ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) 5,833 cases and 2,971 deaths.

(b) The measures taken to prevent the importation of cholera in the Punjab from the Kumbh Fairs at Hardwar were :—

- (i) Wide publicity was given that all intending pilgrims should receive protective inoculation prior to their departure and were warned regarding the risk entailed in consuming food or water from unauthorised sources.
- (ii) Elaborate arrangements were made for early detection of cases of cholera and minor illnesses preceding the disease among passengers by establishing Railway and Road inspection posts at a large number of strategic points.
- (iii) Arrangements were made for immediate isolation and treatment of cases and suspected cases of cholera and the segregation and following up of contacts and also for disinfection of infected articles.
- (iv) The Epidemic Diseases Act was applied to several districts from which the largest number of pilgrims had gone to the Fair.
- (v) All available Public Health Staff in each district was mobilized for anti-cholera measures. Disinfectants, vaccine and essential oil mixture were kept in readiness for emergency at definite points selected in each district.
- (vi) These arrangements were supplemented by the provision of accommodation for cases at dispensaries and hospitals.
- (vii) Special precautions were adopted for prevention of spread of infection in hill areas.

(c) The measures taken after the cholera epidemic appeared in the Punjab are :—

- (i) Extension of Epidemic Diseases Act throughout the Province.
- (ii) Twenty Sub-Assistant Health Officers and 9 Sanitary Inspectors have been engaged as emergency staff, in addition to the existing epidemic staff of 10 doctors and 15 Sanitary Inspectors, to combat the disease in the most heavily infected localities and this staff has been further supplemented by the staff employed by local bodies.
- (iii) 967,867 c.cs. cholera vaccine have been issued free of charge for use in rural areas and 268,085 inoculations have been performed up to 28th May, 1938.
- (iv) The Director of Public Health, Punjab, has visited several districts and discussed the anti-cholera measures with the local authorities.

[Minister for Education.]

- (v) Similarly, Assistant Directors of Public Health are constantly on the move visiting infected localities to supervise anti-cholera measures and also to tender advice to local authorities.
- (vi) The civil authorities on the advice of the Public Health Department have prohibited fairs in several places and the public is advised to postpone marriages and other gatherings which help in the spread of the disease.
- (vii) Public is kept informed by weekly Press Communiqués regarding cholera situation in the Province and of the mode of the spread of the disease and methods of personal protection by radio talks.

(d) Although it is not practicable to elaborate a plan as the spread of such epidemics depends on factors over which no control can be exercised in the present state of our knowledge, it is, however, proposed to submit a resolution to the Central Board of Health to advise the Government of India to require the various Provincial Governments to take steps to prohibit the entry into a fair of any person not inoculated against cholera immediately before coming to the fair.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Is it a fact that the number of cholera cases imported into this province from Hardwar was much larger on this occasion than on any previous occasion ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Has the Punjab Government made any representation to the "peoples Government" in the United Provinces to take adequate preventive measures in future in order to check the spread of epidemic in other provinces of India ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Does Punjab Government propose to acquaint the United Provinces Government with the measures which are adopted in the Punjab on the occasions of fairs and other large gatherings for the prevention of epidemic diseases for the guidance of that Government ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow this question.

Mr. E. Few : Has the Government considered the advisability of sending to the United Provinces Government a bill of expenses incurred by this Government on cholera cases imported into this province ?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : On whose suggestion or recommendation does the Government recommend cholera inoculation to the public ?

Minister : On the recommendation of Government experts in the Public Health Department.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know if the Honourable Minister is aware that this subject is very much controversial and that there are a very large number of physicians in the world who do not accept the preventive value of inoculation ?

Minister : I am not aware of it.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is the Honourable Minister prepared to state that there are medicines in other systems of medicine such as Ayurvedic, Homœopathic and Unani which are considered to have preventive value in cholera cases ?

Minister : Not as compared with inoculation.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is the Honourable Minister prepared to study the question ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Were Ayurvedic or Unani systems of medicines used on these occasions ?

Minister : No.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is the Honourable Minister aware that the Governments of Bombay, Bengal and the Central Provinces use homœopathic remedies for prevention of cholera ?

Minister : But not throughout India.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know in what manner the precautions pointed out by the Honourable Minister were made known to the villagers in the Punjab ?

Minister : By the issue of posters and by advertisements in papers.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Do Government think that they have a right to enforce a theory on the public which is not accepted universally ?

Minister : That theory has been accepted by the Government.

An Honourable Member : What did the advertisement cost the Government ?

Minister : I cannot give figures off-hand. If the honourable member gives notice I shall collect them for him.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Does the Government think that whatever theory it accepts it has a right to enforce on the public ?

Minister : Certainly.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : May I draw your attention to the fact that Khan Bahadur Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani has committed a similar indiscretion which I had done some time back and which led to your ruling my talking in English in this House ? I hope you will give the same treatment to him which you have given to me.

Mr. Speaker : I stick to the practice of the House.

REFUSAL TO GRANT AN INTERVIEW WITH AMARJIT SINGH, PRISONER.

*2825. Sardar Ajit Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state the grounds on which the Superintendent, Old Central Jail, Multan, on my application for interview with Amarjit Singh, a convict under section 124-A, informed me in his letter No. 289-B., dated 16th May, 1938, that the convict was not entitled to have an interview ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : Under paragraph 550 of the Punjab Jail Manual convicted prisoners are allowed only one interview every three months. Amarjit Singh had an interview on the 6th May, 1938, and is, therefore, not entitled to another before the 6th August, 1938.

DETENTION OF STUDENTS IN LAW COLLEGE.

*2826. Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Riasat Ali : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of the students detained on account of shortage of lectures in the three classes of the Law College in May, 1938 ;
- (b) the number by which the lectures were short in each case ;
- (c) the date on which the students of the P. E. L. classes were allowed leave preparatory to examination ;
- (d) the date on which the list of these students was put up on the notice board ;
- (e) the names of the students who applied for condonement on medical grounds with the result in each case ;
- (f) whether any invidious distinctions were made in the matter of condonement ; if so, why ;
- (g) the total number of lectures delivered and attended in each case ;
- (h) the date and time on which the only student detained in the P. E. L. class was informed of this decision ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Only one student of the P. E. L. class was detained on account of shortage of lectures in the three classes of the Law College in May, 1938.

(b) He was short by fourteen lectures.

(c) On 25th April, 1938.

(d) On 25th April, 1938.

WATERLOGGING IN THE DISTRICTS OF GUJRANWALA AND SHEIKHPURA.

2827. Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that waterlogging of a large area of agricultural land in the districts of Gujranwala and Sheikhupura has occasioned great hardship to a large number of the inhabitants of these districts and has deprived them of their main source of livelihood ; if so, what action Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Government is aware of the existence of sem in the Gujranwala and Sheikhupura districts. The latest sem survey shows a decrease of 449 acres in Sheikhupura and of 183 acres in Gujranwala.

In the tahsils of Hafizabad and Sheikhupura of the Gujranwala and Sheikhupura districts respectively, drains have been or will be dug, where waterlogging is still prevalent. Government is also considering measures other than drains to meet the situation arising out of waterlogging, thar and kallar ; a special officer has been appointed to investigate the problem and to suggest means how to meet the situation.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do the Government intend to give lands in exchange for the lands waterlogged ?

Minister : I am afraid I cannot commit Government at this stage.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Did the Government have any opportunity of looking into this matter previous to the receipt of notice of this question ?

Minister : I should think that previously some land was given to some of these people.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do I take it then that the same policy is intended to be pursued in regard to these lands ?

Minister : I have already said that I am not going to commit myself. But if it is possible to do something Government will sympathetically consider the question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do I take it that the Government is looking into the matter ?

Premier : Very much so.

ACQUIRING OF LAND AT NARANG, TAHSIL SHAHDARA.

*2828. Sardar Jagjit Singh Man : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that Government acquired a piece of land at Narang, tahsil Shahdara, district Sheikhpura, for auctioning it for the proposed grain market at that place, if so, the date when this land was purchased and also the date when Government proposes to auction this land ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : First part.—Yes. The acquisition proceedings were complete in 1931.

Second part.—Sites will be put up for auction after the plan for drainage is complete. The plan is being prepared by the sanitary authorities and it is hoped, will be ready very shortly.

Sardar Jagjit Singh Man : May I know if the Government has received lot of representations from the people of that Ilqa pressing for the opening of mandi at an early date ?

Minister : I am afraid I cannot very well give my honourable friend the information, but if any representations we received Government will certainly give them sympathetic consideration.

STRICTURES PASSED BY THE HIGH COURT IN CASE CROWN versus MIRZA SULTAN AHMAD AND NABI BUX.

*2829. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether a recent judgment of the Lahore High Court in the case Crown versus Mirza Sultan Ahmad and Nabi Bux, of Ferozepore district, under section 802, Indian Penal Code, in which strictures have been passed by the Court on the prosecution to the effect that ' the prosecution was not averse to producing false evidence ' has been brought to his notice ; if so, action taken by the Government in the matter ?

EXEMPTION OF PERSONS FROM PAYMENT OF THE COSTS OF PUNITIVE POLICE POST AT VILLAGE BURKI (HOHBIARPUR).

*2330. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the number and names of persons who were exempted from payment of cost of the punitive police post quartered in village Burki, tahsil Garhshankar, district Hoshiarpur, and the reasons for exemption in each case?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) The additional police post was established in 1922 and withdrawn in 1925. It is regretted that after this lapse of time the information asked for cannot be collected.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I inform the honourable member that I am referring to the recent police posted at that place—that is in the year after 1931 and not the police posted in the year 1922?

Parliamentary Secretary : From the question it is not clear whether the honourable member referred to the year 1931 or 1922.

Sardar Hari Singh : When a question is put clearly it refers to the most recent case.

Parliamentary Secretary : It is not within my knowledge, but I will collect the information for the honourable member if he gives fresh notice.

STRIKE OF LABOURERS AT AMRITSAR.

*2331. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the causes of the recent strike of labourers of the textile mills at Amritsar ;
- (b) the number of mills affected by the strike ;
- (c) the number of strikers in each mill ;
- (d) action taken by the Government to put an end to the strike ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) The principal if not the only cause was the demand for increased wages.

(b) and (c) A statement is laid on the table.

(d) The Director of Industries and Superintendent of Industries, Amritsar, amongst others, assisted in bringing representatives of both sides together for a discussion.

Sardar Hari Singh : What has been the result of the discussion ?

Minister : I am not aware of the result yet.

[Minister for Development.]

PUNITIVE POLICE POST AT RUKKI, TAHSIL GARHSANKAR.

*2832. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the period for which punitive police post was posted at village Rurki, tahsil Garhsankar, district Hoshiarpur, in the year 1922 ;
- (b) number of policemen posted ;
- (c) monthly cost of the post with details ;
- (d) total money realized from the village ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) : I would ask the honourable member to refer to the reply given to question No. 209<sup>1</sup> asked by the honourable member for Amritsar City (General) Urban Constituency in January last. Entry 6 in the statement furnished with the reply of January last gives most of the details for which the honourable member now asks.

PROVINCIALIZATION OF CERTAIN ROADS IN JULLUNDUR DISTRICT.

*233. Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government have decided to provincialize the principal metalled roads of the district boards ;
- (b) whether there is a proposal to provincialize Jullundur-Nakodar and Nawanshahr-Phagwara roads of the Jullundur District Board ; if not, reasons for the same ;
- (c) whether the Government intend to take any other roads of the Jullundur District Board under the control of Public Works Department ; if so, which of them and the reasons for preferring them to those mentioned in (b) above ;
- (d) whether the district authorities of Jullundur or the Chairman, District Board, Jullundur, were consulted when Kartarpur, Kapurthala and Phillaur-Rahon roads were taken over by the Public Works Department ?

The Honourable Major Nawabzada Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No. Government have decided to provincialize the non-competitive, metalled, Class II roads of the District Boards. Most of these roads are the principal metalled roads of the Boards.

(b) No, because both these roads are competitive with the North-Western Railway.

(c) Government contemplates taking over the roads from Phillaur to Rahon and Kartarpur to Kapurthala during 1938-39 and the road from Nakodar to Sidhwan during 1939-40. All these roads are non-competitive, hence preferred.

(d) No, because the selection was not to be made only from the traffic point of view but from the various points of view taken up in the recommendations of the Transport Advisory Council.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Is it a fact that a few days ago when His Excellency the Governor addressed this House he mentioned about the 8 years road Programme by which they are going to provincialise all the district board roads, whereas now in answer to Part (a) of my question the Honourable Minister says ' no ' ? May I know which statement is correct ?

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : Is the Government prepared to provincialise the road between Phillaur and Rahon ?

Minister : As I have already said, Government contemplates taking over the road from Philleur to Rahon during 1988-89.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : May I know whether the district board roads existed before the railway branch lines were constructed ?

Minister : If the honourable member gives me notice, I shall find out the year.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : I may inform the Honourable Minister that the railway branch lines were constructed in 1914 while the District Board roads existed long before that.

Minister : Thank you for the information.

LAND SETTLEMENT IN HOSHIARPUR DISTRICT.

*2834. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state when the next land settlement begins in the Hoshiarpur district ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The term of the current settlement of the district expires in kharij, 1948 in Una tahsil and in rabi, 1945 in the other three tahsils. The district will be due for resettlement then.

LAHORE DRAINAGE SCHEME.

*2835. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to place on the table of the House the report of the sub-committee appointed to explore further the possibilities for the Lahore Drainage Scheme ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Government are not aware of the formation of any sub-committee to explore further the possibilities for the Lahore Drainage Scheme.

EXTRA EXPENSE INVOLVED IN HOLDING SESSION OF PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY AT SIMLA.

*2836. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the estimated extra expense that would be involved in holding the summer session of the Punjab Legislative Assembly at Simla this year ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : Estimates indicate that no extra expenditure is involved.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know the total estimated cost of holding the session here ?

Parliamentary Secretary : The honourable member's question related to the difference between the two estimates and the answer with regard to that has been given. With regard to the supplementary question I want notice.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the honourable member how he has arrived at the conclusion that there will be no difference without actually calculating the estimates ?

Parliamentary Secretary: We have calculated the difference in the travelling allowance of members if the session was held here or in Lahore and we have added to that figure the additional expenditure this year of getting the Assembly office to Simla. We have deducted from that the expenditure that would be required for taking the ministers and other officers required to Lahore and the expenditure for electricity, etc.

Sardar Hari Singh: That is why I asked the honourable member to state the figures on the basis of which he has arrived at this conclusion.

Parliamentary Secretary: I have said that I want notice of that question, if the exact figures are required. But I have answered the question on the basis of the calculations worked out carefully.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know if he has got the figures with him now?

Parliamentary Secretary: I am afraid not here.

Lala Duni Chand: Is it true that the Parliamentary Secretary has adopted the rule of convenience?

Mr. Speaker: The question is disallowed.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know whether in his calculations he also included the cost of the move of the Secretariat of the Assembly to this place?

Parliamentary Secretary: It has been done and we got very exact figures from the Secretary of the Assembly.

SIMLA EXODUS.

*2337. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state the estimated extra expense that would be involved in exodus of the Punjab Government to Simla this year?

The Honourable Mr. Manshar Lal: The estimated expenditure for this year is—

	Rs.
(a) Required Officers .. .. .	1,46,834
(b) Officers permitted to recess at Simla, Mashobra or Mahasu .. .. .	8,564
Total .. .. .	1,55,398

In reply to question No. *64<sup>1</sup> last year, (b) was not included.

GURDASPUR CONSPIRACY CASE PRISONERS.

*2338. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the dates when the release of Gurdaspur Conspiracy Case prisoners convicted in 1932 to seven years' rigorous imprisonment, named Tara Singh and Hazara Singh, now confined in Central Jail, Montgomery, is due;

- (b) their weights on admission and present weights;

- (c) the present condition of their health ;
 (d) whether the Government has considered their cases for purposes of release ;
 (e) whether Government intends releasing them before the expiry of their sentences ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) The attention of the honourable member is drawn to the reply given to part (b) of starred Question<sup>1</sup> No. 818 put in the last session of the Assembly.

	Weight on admission.	Present weight.
	Lbs.	Lbs.
(b) 1. Tara Singh .. .. .	110	105
2. Hazara Singh .. .. .	106	101
(c) Fair.
(d) and (e) Their cases are under consideration.

VOTERS FOR ELECTION OF FELLOWS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF THE PUNJAB.

*2839. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of registered graduates, who were effective voters for the election of Fellows of the University of the Punjab in 1987 and 1988 ;
 (b) the total number of votes polled in 1987 and 1988 ;
 (c) the number of votes secured by each candidate ;
 (d) the number of invalid votes in each year ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye :

- (a) 1268 in 1987 and 1265 in 1988.
 (b) The total number of votes polled in 1988 was 706.
 (c) The number of votes secured by each candidate was 462 and 244 respectively in the year 1988.
 (d) The number of invalid votes in 1988 was 10.

The information asked for in (b), (c) and (d) for the year 1987 is not available.

PREPARATION OF A REGISTER CONTAINING THE NAMES OF GRADUATES OF NOT LESS THAN SEVEN YEARS' STANDING.

*2840. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the General Secretary of the Punjab Graduates' Union addressed a letter to the Registrar, University of the Punjab, on 15th May, 1987, communicating the decision of the Executive Committee of the Punjab Graduates' Union requesting the Syndicate to get a register of graduates prepared containing the names of the graduates of not less than seven years' standing ;

[Ch. Krishna Gopal Dutt.]

- (b) whether the Assistant Registrar in his letter, dated 28th June, 1937, No. 6027, inquired the object and reasons which led the Executive Committee of the said Union to pass the resolution under reference;
- (c) whether the General Secretary of the said Union in his letter, dated 12th July, 1937, mentioned the following reasons for passing the said resolution :—
- (i) whereas the number of voters was 3,907 in the election held in the year 1930, the number of voters dwindled to a bare 770 in the last provincial Assembly election, thus virtually rendering this constituency a 'Pocket Borough'.
  - (ii) the Provincial Legislative Assembly Order, 1936 (188) provides that a person is eligible if he "has been for at least seven years a graduate of the University and was registered as such in the University register throughout, two years immediately preceding the prescribed date." "Several members of our Union have requested you for the registration of their names under the above rule but you have declined to do so."
  - (iii) "to remove all ambiguities my committee requested the Syndicate through your goodself to prepare the said register."
- (d) whether the Syndicate appointed a sub-committee to consider and report what action, if any, was required on the said representation from the General Secretary of the Punjab Graduates' Union;
- (e) if so, the personnel and recommendations of the said sub-committee;
- (f) whether their recommendations were unanimous;
- (g) whether the Syndicate considered the proceedings of the said sub-committee; and, if so, the steps taken by the Syndicate in this connexion?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye :

(a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes.

(e) The following sub-committee was appointed by the Syndicate :—

(1) The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal, M.A., Bar.-at-Law.

(2) Bai Bahadur Lala Durga Das, B.A., LL.B.

(3) Dr. Khawaja Shuja-ud-Din, M.A., LL.D., Bar.-at-Law.

(4) Lala Mehr Chand Mahajan, B.A., LL.B.

(5) Lala Jagan Nath Aggarwal, M.A., LL.B.

The meeting of the sub-committee was attended by the following gentlemen :—

(1) Bai Bahadur Lala Durga Das, B.A., LL.B.

(2) Dr. Khawaja Shuja-ud-Din, M.A., LL.D., Bar.-at-Law.

(3) Lala Mehr Chand Mahajan, B.A., LL.B.

(4) Lala Jagan Nath Aggarwal, M.A., LL.B.

The sub-committee recommended that register be maintained and it be notified that the University proposes to maintain a register of graduates of five years standing or over, and that those who wish to be enrolled therein should apply to the Registrar giving the necessary particulars.

(f) Yes.

(g) Yes. The Syndicate has decided to ask the Punjab Government to request the Government of India to refer the question to the Federal Court for decision.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know if the Punjab Government has actually referred the matter ?

Minister : No, Sir.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know the reason why ?

Minister : So far as I am aware the matter is under consideration.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that the comparative paucity of the registered graduates is due to the fact that the graduates are disinclined to pay the registration fee, and, if so, whether the Honourable Minister will recommend the abolition of the registration fee ?

Minister : That is a request for action. I know in some cases the fee is paid by the candidate.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do Government contemplate the abolition of the fee ?

Minister : That is required under the Indian Universities Act.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : But the Act is open to amendment.

Minister : Not by the Punjab Government.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I know that but the Punjab Government can certainly move in the matter.

DEBT CONCILIATION BOARDS.

*2341. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the districts where Debt Conciliation Boards have been recently set up with the names of the members of each such board, their educational and other qualifications, if any, and also their financial position ;
- (b) the names of the districts where Debt Conciliation Boards are contemplated to be set up immediately with the names of those whose names have been recommended by the subordinate authorities stating therewith their educational and other qualifications, if any, and also their financial position ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) A statement giving the required information is laid on the table.

(b) Government contemplates setting up Debt Conciliation Board as soon as possible in each district in which no Board has yet been established except Simla, and an additional Board in the Jhang district where the work is beyond the capacity of a single Board. It is not desirable in the public interest to disclose the contents of confidential correspondence between Government and subordinate officials on which orders have not yet been passed.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know from what point of view the Government did not consider it advisable to give this information ?

Minister : It is confidential correspondence which cannot be disclosed.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know whether the matter is not public ?

Minister : On the ground that the correspondence is confidential, I am not prepared to disclose it.

Lala Duni Chand : In view of the previous admission of the Honourable Premier to the effect that they have nominated as members of the Conciliation Board in Ambala district their own men, will the Honourable Minister be pleased to tell the House whether the same policy will be followed now in other districts ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

DEBT CONCILIATION BOARD, KASUR TAHSIL.

*2842. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Sub-divisional Officer, Kasur, has up till now recommended any names for appointment to the debt conciliation board under contemplation for Kasur tahsil ;
- (b) the educational and other qualifications, if any, of the persons recommended by the Sub-divisional Officer, Kasur, with their financial position ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) and (b) It is not in the public interest to disclose confidential correspondence of subordinate officials.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is it a fact that the Sub-Divisional Officer, Kasur, has recommended the name of a gentleman who is absolutely uneducated ?

Minister : I refuse to answer that question.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has the Government laid down certain rules with regard to minimum qualifications for persons who are nominated to the boards?

Minister : Government has prepared certain instructions which are confidential.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know why are those instructions with respect to the appointment of a Government servant or members of the conciliation boards confidential?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is there any educational test applied while nominating these persons?

Sardar Lal Singh : Has the Public Services Commission any say in the matter?

Minister : Absolutely none.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : Is there any consideration of age when making appointments?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it open to a subordinate officer to nominate a wholly uneducated person to a debt conciliation board?

Minister : If he is otherwise fit to discharge the functions of a member of the debt conciliation board, he may be appointed.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if the confidential instructions are based on the principle of efficiency and competency of the members to be appointed?

Minister : Certainly.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Are the instructions based on some educational qualification also?

Minister : No.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : How many of the persons working on the various debt conciliation boards are uneducated?

Minister : Not one.

Lala Duni Chand : Are the members of a debt conciliation boards supposed to know a smattering of law?

Minister : No.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : How many out of these persons, who are working on these boards, are defeated candidates?

Minister : To my knowledge not even one.

Lala Duni Chand : Would ignorance of law be an additional qualification for the post? (Laughter).

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Do the Government expect knowledge of law relating to conciliation boards and other allied and kindred matters from the uneducated members?

Minister : Not from every member of the conciliation board.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What about the uneducated members?

Minister : There is not one among these members who is uneducated.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What is the qualification fixed for nominating members to the board ?

Minister : I am not prepared to define it.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the community and baradari of a person taken into consideration while making appointments to the debt conciliation boards ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Are these appointments reviewed every year ? Are they permanent or what ?

Minister : It is open to the Government to dissolve a conciliation board at any time the Government thinks it fit.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is it necessary to include a bania among the members of the board ?

Minister : One representative of money-lending interests is required to be on a board.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : What are the main considerations for making the appointments ?

Minister : I am not prepared to disclose that.

BIHTA RAILWAY DISASTER.

*2843. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether any officer was deputed to meet the Punjabi injured and sufferers in the Bihta Railway disaster ; and, if so, whether he prepared any list of the sufferers and whether any relief was given to them ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : No. Medical assistance was offered to the Administration of the East Indian Railway, but was not needed.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Was any list of the Punjabi sufferers prepared ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am afraid it does not arise out of the original question, but if the honourable member wishes, I shall have it looked into.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : My question is there, whether he prepared any list of the sufferers or not.

Parliamentary Secretary : Obviously the first question answers the second also which is "whether he prepared any list of the sufferers." As nobody was deputed, obviously that list could not be prepared.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Parliamentary Secretary let me know that when the Premier accepted my suggestion, why the officer was not appointed ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am not aware at the moment of the exact terms of the acceptance by the Premier of the suggestion of the Leader of the Opposition, but whatever assurance was given, presumably it must have been carried out; and, as the answer states, medical assistance was actually offered to the East Indian Railway, but they said that it was not needed.

RECOGNITION OF THE SANATAN DHARM HINDI SCHOOL, OKARA.

*2844. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether the Sanatan Dharm Hindi School, Okara, has been granted recognition by the Government; if so, when it was recognised and if not, why not?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

SALE OF A CERTAIN PLOT OF LAND BY THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, DINGA.

*2845. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any encroachments were made on lands belonging to the Municipal Committee, Dinga, by certain residents of Dinga, district Gujrat; if so, when and whether these encroachments still exist or have since been removed;
- (b) whether the Dinga Municipality has recently adopted any resolution for sale of a piece of land encroached upon; if so, whether it is intended to sell it by calling for tenders or by open auction?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes. The encroachments were made in November, 1937, but they have since been removed.

(b) Yes. The land from which encroachments have been removed will be sold by public auction.

Seth Sudarshan : Did Khan Sahib Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din of Koliahtahsil Dinga, build a house on municipal land without permission?

Minister : It does not arise out of this question.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Was any encroachment made by this gentleman?

Minister : If you will give notice, I will find out for you. The encroachments referred to in your question have been removed and there is no encroachment at the present moment.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Have all the encroachments been removed?

Minister : Yes.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : The Honourable Minister cannot put his hand in the pocket of his trousers while speaking.

Minister : I will be glad to get a ruling on that point. I know that there are many people on that side who are in that habit.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : It is disrespect to the Honourable Speaker as well as to the House.

Mr. Speaker : I am not quite sure.

INHUMAN LABOUR IN JAILS.

*2846. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether the system of inhuman labour like oil pressing, etc., has been stopped in jails in the Punjab or not ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : Steps have been taken to stop the production of oil by manual labour.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Has any other labour with the exception of oil pressing been stopped ?

Minister : The question of continuing other kinds of labour, that will be found unsuitable, is being considered.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do the Government wish to appoint a committee to go into this matter with a view to overhaul the whole system ?

Minister : I have not thought about it.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do the Government propose to appoint a committee in view of the fact that all other progressive provinces have already taken up this action? (Voices from Opposition benches : This is not a progressive province).

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does the Honourable Minister propose to give thought to it ?

Minister : Certainly.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : May I, Mr. Speaker, proceed to make a few observations on the non-voted items included in the Supplementary Estimates? I will make my remarks on the non-voted items which have got to be discussed. Under demand No. 1—Land Revenue, there is an item of Rs. 9,250. Under grant No. 8—Charges on Irrigation Establishment there is an item amounting to Rs. 1,500. Under grant No. 84—major head : 57—Miscellaneous—there is a big item of Rs. 7,810. The total of these items comes to Rs. 18,060. Though the amount is not very big yet I would like to make a few observations on each of these items seriatim. Rs. 9,250 under demand No. 1—Land Revenue—is a charged amount and it represents the pay and travelling allowance of one I. C. S. officer alone for 5 months. He is the settlement officer appointed for five months in connection with the Gurgaon settlement operations. His pay alone comes to Rs. 7,050. Special pay to be given to him would come to Rs. 750, i.e., at the rate of Rs. 150 per month and his travelling allowance alone would come to Rs. 1,450. So this gentleman alone will get Rs. 9,250 whereas the other four officers employed in connection with these settlement operations will be getting

[S. Hari Singh.]

Rs. 7,905 only. One I. C. S. officer gets as much pay as 4 Indian officers who will be working harder than the I.C.S. officer. I have one more point, that is, why is Rs. 150 per mensem being granted to this man as special pay? I want to know whether the conditions of service require this privilege being granted to him or whether our Ministers have done it out of likaz or regard for the officer. I want to stress this point in particular, why Rs. 150 is going to be paid to him as special pay. Where is the necessity for this? I have calculated that in the settlement operations, besides this officer there will be 204 other bigger and smaller officers working. The I. C. S. officer will get 1/5th of the pay which is going to be paid to 204 poor Indians. It comes to this that one I. C. S. officer is costing the revenues of the province as much as 80 Indians. That is a commentary of our financial arrangements and that shows how the revenues of the province are being squandered in the payment of these high officers. I would submit that Government should have appointed an officer whose pay would be voted by the Assembly.

Coming to demand No. 4 we find that Rs. 1,500 would not be voted by this Assembly. Why? What is this the cost of? This is the cost of one executive engineer whose pay is Rs. 875 per mensem plus overseas pay at the rate of Rs. 250 per mensem. This pay of the executive engineer would be charged to the revenues of the province. We also find one superintending engineer whose pay will be Rs. 2,150 per mensem and overseas pay Rs. 177-12-0 per mensem. The pay of the superintending engineer is voted but the pay of the lower officer working under him is not voted by the Assembly. I also want to bring this fact to the notice of the Assembly that overseas pay of the higher officer is Rs. 177 and the overseas pay of the lower officer is Rs. 250. The lower officer gets Rs. 875 a month only and the higher officer gets over two thousand a month. The special overseas pay of the lower dignitary is greater than the pay of the superintending engineer. Why this difference? I want an explanation for that. Then there is travelling allowance which is to be paid to the executive engineer on the same scale which is meant for the superintending engineer. If there is so much difference in pay there must be difference in the travelling allowance paid to these officers.

Coming to demand No. 14 the amount charged is Rs. 7,810 under the head Miscellaneous and it is the pay of officers. This is due to the extension in the period of the Land Revenue Enquiry Committee. Towards the end of the last session of the Assembly, I asked the Revenue Minister the time by which we might expect the report of the enquiry committee to be in our hands. He said he expected that the report would be in our hands by the end of April.

Revenue Minister: I never said that. I said that the report would be signed by that time. It has been signed, but is not yet printed.

Sardar Hari Singh: That meant that the term of the committee would not have to be extended. If the report of the enquiry committee was signed by the end of April that means that the enquiry committee would not be paid any longer from the revenues of the province. But we find that instead of the 15th of April the last day it had to work, the date was extended up to the 18th May. My grouse is that at the time of the annual budget the period that was required in order to complete the labours of the committee ought to have been foreseen by the Finance and Revenue Ministers. Why did they not see that a little more time would be required for the completion of the labours of the committee? The House requires an explanation why they could not foresee that the committee would require more time. We are told that the secretary and officers of the committee have been paid up to the 19th May. Why did the secretary require one more week? The secretary is to be paid up to the 26th May. The House has the privilege of having an explanation from my friend the Revenue Minister.

Revenue Minister: I will deal in the reverse order. When I said that the report would be ready by the 15th April that was the approximate date. I could not be sure. The report was received from the chairman ready signed, but it required a little more time to clean up things, unless my honourable friend wishes that the report should be left unfinished. When we have undertaken a work we ought to see that it is finished and is ready in every respect. As regards the secretary he had to clean the rest of the things and if seven days are taken I cannot understand how my friend raises this objection.

Sardar Hari Singh: Not a single day more should have been taken.

Revenue Minister: The honourable member says that not a single day more should have been taken. The secretary was needed to put things in order. It is necessary that he should do it. I cannot understand my friend raising this objection. He had to clear up things and send the report for being printed.

Then my honourable friend has pointed out the difference in the pay of the superintending engineer and the executive engineer. My honourable friend does not know that Mr. Crump who is appointed as a special officer was the superintending engineer and that we have appointed him after his retirement because he was a special officer well acquainted with the work he had to do.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I correct my honourable friend?

Mr. Speaker: Let the Honourable Minister finish.

Minister: I am not going to give way to him. Mr. Crump was a specially trained officer in this work and he had been tried in this work. His services have again been taken by the Government for this special work. We are giving him the pay which he used to draw. We are not giving him anything extra or more than he was getting before. His pay is voted, because he is not now a Government servant belonging to the Imperial Services. He is specially engaged for this work. Therefore his pay is voted. As regards the executive engineer, he belongs to the Imperial service and his pay is not voted. As regards the travelling allowance, there may be a difference of Rs. 2. This officer is given the same travelling allowance as is given to the executive engineers. Does my honourable friend want to give him a higher travelling allowance? I do not think that it is his intention. That is the reason for this difference in pay and in travelling allowance.

I think his other question is, why is it that we are appointing an I. C. S. officer to carry on the settlement work of Gurgaon? Does my honourable friend want to put clerks to do this work? I may inform the honourable member that our arrangement would be cheaper, perhaps more than 100 per cent. cheaper than keeping clerks to do the settlement work, which is of a technical nature. He must understand that in Amritsar settlement works we have appointed an I. C. S. officer, in Lyallpur we had appointed an I. C. S. officer and in other places we have appointed I. C. S. officers. If we go out of our way and appoint some ordinary officer or a mere clerk, the work would suffer. He says that it is for the purpose of khaz that we have appointed this I. C. S. officer. There is no question of khaz. A special pay of Rs. 150 is always given to any settlement officer who does this work. (Sardar Hari Singh: Why?) Because this was the custom before. (Interruptions). I am not going to give way. We have done nothing more and nothing less than what has been the custom before. If this officer who is going to tour about in the country is going to get an extra pay for the extra work which he is doing in the settlement operations, he has to put in very hard work. Is it right for my honourable friend to object to that extra pay? (Sardar Hari Singh: Certainly). We have given this pay because we have been giving this in the past. We have been following the procedure that has been adopted hitherto. Not only this, but we have given this I. C. S. officer one P. C. S. officer as his assistant to work in this department. On the other hand, the work of settlement cannot be carried on by one or two or four men. This work is of a technical nature and unless we appoint patwaris, kanungos, tahsildars and naib-tahsildars we cannot possibly expect that this work would be done properly or thoroughly, specially in a particular district which is very badly placed as regards assessment. We would not take up this question, but our friends from Gurgaon pressed that it is necessary that Gurgaon should be settled first and that is why we have started this work.

SUPPLEMENTARY DEMANDS.

LAND REVENUE.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manchar Lad): Sir, I beg to move that—

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 89,970 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Land Revenue.

Mr. Speaker: The motion moved is that—

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 89,970 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Land Revenue.

Sardar Hari Singh: On a point of order, Sir. May I draw your attention to page 6, item (6), of the Supplementary Estimates, 1938-39, where it is said:—

"One Settlement Officer (I.C.S.) on time scale pay Rs. 7,050."

That is his pay. The next item is:—

"Special pay to the Settlement Officer at Rs. 150 per mensem."

and the total of special pay comes to Rs. 750. These two items taken together constitute Rs. 7,800, charged. My point of order is that unless it has statutory sanction, it cannot be included in the charged item, but it must be included in the voted item. The pay of the officer is a charge on the revenues of the province because he is an I.C.S. officer, but anything given to him over and above his pay cannot be a charge on the revenue of the province. It must be voted by the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member's objection is that this special pay should be voted by the Assembly. May I know under what law?

Sardar Hari Singh : Because there is no statutory obligation.

Mr. Speaker : Under section 78 of the Government of India Act, the expenditure which is not a charge upon the revenues of the province is votable, while the expenditure that is charged on the revenues of the province is non-votable.

Sardar Hari Singh : But this special pay is not a charged item. If that is so, the Government by way of reward to these officers, may give them a special pay of Rs. 500 or Rs. 1,000 and thus become bankrupt to-morrow. We cannot include that in the charged item. I am perfectly certain that this item cannot be a charged one.

Mr. Speaker : Under what section does the salary or special allowance of an I. C. S. officer fall?

Sardar Hari Singh : No where.

Minister for Revenue : I can only say this much that this special pay has been paid to the settlement officer as has hitherto been the case.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : May I draw your attention to the relevant section 247 (4) of the Government of India Act which says—

The salary and allowances of any such person as aforesaid shall, if he is serving in connection with the affairs of the Federation, be charged on the revenues of the Federation and, if he is serving in connection with the affairs of a province, be charged on the revenues of the province.

Sardar Hari Singh : That sub-section refers to the salaries and allowances fixed by the Secretary of State and not to those fixed by the Ministry.

Mr. Speaker : What are the honourable member's reasons for that interpretation?

Sardar Hari Singh : Let the Honourable Minister deny it.

Minister for Finance : The opening words of section 247 are—

The conditions of service of all persons appointed to a civil service or a civil post by the Secretary of State shall—

But when you come to sub-section (4) of that section there is no mention of the Secretary of State. Therefore it follows that the pay and allowances of an officer appointed by the Secretary of State, if he is serving in connection with the affairs of a province shall be charged to the revenues of the province.

Sardar Hari Singh : Yes, the pay and allowances fixed by the Secretary of State and not by the Ministry.

Minister for Finance : The conditions of service of all persons appointed to a civil service or a civil post shall be as hereinafter that is, the salary and allowances of such persons serving in a province shall be charged to the revenues of the province. This reproduces the earlier well-known statutory provisions.

Sardar Hari Singh : The special pay of the settlement officer does not fall under this provision.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : It would be simply ridiculous to believe that we can give any allowance to any member of the I. C. S. and make it a charge on the revenues of the province. I think that interpretation is not a sound one. Otherwise it would be very easy for the Government to make the province bankrupt by giving any amount of allowances to the I. C. S. officers and making the same a charge on the revenues of the province, and the Assembly shall have no voice in the matter. That will be simply taking away the right of the Assembly. Even looking at the section from the commonsense point of view it is clear that that cannot be the meaning of the word 'allowance'. The word 'allowance' here means only such allowances which are contained in the conditions of service of the I. C. S. officers in the covenant with the Secretary of State. Every other allowance given by the Ministry or by the local governments comes under the control of this House.

Mr. Speaker : A special pay is not necessarily an allowance.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : May not be. Then the matter becomes still worse.

Minister for Finance : The argument on the other side based on the ridiculousness of the proposition will amount to this that the Secretary of State, if he so chooses, can fix any allowance. The Punjab Government considered the matter very fully—(Interruption). Will the honourable member please permit me to complete the sentence? The Punjab Government considered the matter fully as to what would be the proper allowance in the particular circumstances. I think the burden is entirely on the other side to show that the present provision is not reasonable. Here is the answer. What is the use of generating eloquence on so simple a matter and calling it ridiculous or saying that the Punjab Government may become bankrupt? The special pay proposed in the present case is only Rs. 150 a month. It is no use talking in the abstract. The question is amply resolved by section 247, sub-section (4), and that is all—that the salaries and allowances of a person appointed by the Secretary of State to the Indian Civil Service are charged on the provincial revenues: we are concerned with at the present moment.

Sardar Hari Singh : There is no question of bankruptcy. The question here is a technical one.

Finance Minister : That is exactly so, it is a purely technical question running on the terms of the statute.

Mr. Speaker : The arguments advanced by the Honourable Finance Minister are more convincing. The point is not free from doubt; but the explanation given by the Finance Minister considered with section 247 of the Government of India Act is more convincing than the reasons given by the honourable member who has raised the point of order.

Backwardness and Poverty of agriculturists of Gurgaon district.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General Rural): Sir, I beg to move :—

That the item of Rs. 60,840 on account of total (a) Settlement Operations in Gurgaon district, be reduced by Rs. 1.

As it will appear from my note, my object in moving this motion is to raise the question of the economic backwardness and poverty of the agricultural population of the Gurgaon district as likely to be affected by the proposed settlement. Sir, it appears to me rather surprising that the Government should have approached this Assembly for this item in the form of a supplementary demand. It appears from the note attached to the supplementary estimates that it was well within the knowledge of the Government that the term of the settlement of Gurgaon district will expire by the Rabi 1938. If that was a fact then it was the duty of the Government to have asked for this amount at the time of the general budget. In not doing so a wrong has been done to this Assembly. If this item had been demanded at the time of the budget then the House would have had the right of discussing more fully the question or the principle underlying the settlement operations in the Gurgaon district. I am sorry the Punjab Government made this obvious mistake. Now it appears from their note that the proposed settlement will last for more than 4 years and it is going to cost the Government 661 thousand and odd rupees. It is mentioned in the note that the object of this settlement is not to increase the assessment, but on the other hand the object is to decrease the burden of the agriculturists of the Gurgaon district. It is stated in the note that the Government is satisfied that the burden of assessment already imposed upon the agriculturists of the Gurgaon district is too heavy and therefore it is in order to grant relief to the agriculturists of the Gurgaon district that the proposed settlement has been undertaken. In the first place I submit that if the Punjab Government was really anxious to afford relief to the agriculturists of Gurgaon district they could have done so in a better way than the one that they propose now. I do not know what is the exact land revenue income from the Gurgaon district. It may be roughly 5 or 6 or 7 lakhs of rupees. I shall be glad if I am given the correct figure. Now you may observe that every year for the next 4 years or more something like Rs. 1,50,000 is to be spent on an average. It can be seen whether this will be a burden on the people of the Punjab in one form or the other or not. It was very easy for the Punjab Government to appoint an expert committee of two or three men and that expert committee aided by the knowledge of the district officers and aided by the advice of the representatives of the people affected by the settlement could have very easily settled the question. I could well understand if the Government was to increase the assessment. In that case the settlement would have been necessary. But it is quite clear from the note attached to the supplementary demands that the object is quite otherwise. If that is the object there is no reason why this costly settlement should be started. I submit that in view of the admitted backwardness, the admitted poverty of the people of the Gurgaon district, this settlement will add further to the miseries and troubles of the agriculturists of that district. I see no justification why this operation is going to be started at a heavy cost from October next. Sir, I would say that a large number of subordinate officials will be going about in Gurgaon district. Even with the best of intentions of not troubling the people in any way a certain amount of trouble is inevitable. We cannot expect a very high standard of honesty from the subordinate settlement officials. They shall have to be entertained; they shall have to be paid in different ways. This will further add to the troubles and miseries of the agriculturists of that district.

Now as the settlement is going to be started I would like to make certain suggestions. If the real object is to afford relief then the settlement should be done in a manner that would give relief to the people of the district and this could be done only if the settlement is carried on on certain well defined lines. In the first place it is absolutely necessary that a certain number of land owners, small land owners of Gurgaon district, should be exempted from any kind of burden of land revenue. I know a good deal about the Gurgaon district and its people. They are the most economically depressed and extremely poor people. I know for a fact that a fair percentage of the agriculturists of the Gurgaon district do not get two meals a day. It is a fact. I have been to the different parts of that district. I represented this district as a member of the Central Legislative Assembly for three years. I know all about the economic condition of the people of that district. Sir, the Government should make the assessment on what I should call a progressive or graded scale. If really any relief is to be given to the people of the Gurgaon district, a fair percentage of the land owners should be exempted from the liability of the payment of any land revenue. If that is not done, no relief could be granted. The land owners of the Gurgaon district may be divided into three different classes, the poorest class, the middle class and the topmost class. The topmost class should be taxed as heavily as the Government may be pleased. But I want that the poorest class should not be taxed. If this scale of assessment is adopted, then some kind of relief would be granted to the people of that district. It is a district which is within the zone of special influence and special jurisdiction of Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram. The majority of the people of that district belong to his beloved caste, namely Jats. I shall be happy if his kith and kin are granted some relief. Let the non-agriculturists, let the menials dependent upon agriculture starve. I do not mind. The Punjab Government is going to pursue that policy. Government wants to kill a certain section of the people and help other sections. I doubt very much whether the Punjab Government will be able to achieve its object. In any case, I do not mind; let the non-agriculturists starve; let those menials who live upon agriculture starve, but let not the beloved Jats of the Gurgaon district starve. I know a very large number of Jats of Gurgaon district are in an extremely depressed condition. As I see the details of settlement operations, I do not see any bright future before them except that they are going to be burdened further. I submit that unless the entire policy of the settlement is changed, no relief can be possibly granted. We on this side have represented quite a number of times that unless income-tax basis is adopted in regard to the taxation of agricultural income, there can be no real relief to the agriculturist.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please speak to the motion ?

Lala Duni Chand : I submit that the people of the Gurgaon district should not be oppressed. I want that their burden should decrease. I want that a real relief, the relief that the Government has professed to grant to them, should be granted. That relief cannot be granted by spending about 6½ lakhs during the next four or five years on these settlement operations. With these words I move my amendment.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, amendment moved—

That the item of Rs. 80,340 on account of total (6) Settlement Operations in Gurgaon district, be reduced by Rs. 1.

Chaudhri Muhammad Yasin Khan (North-West Gurgaon, Muhammadan, Rural) : I am extremely surprised to hear the remarks of the honourable mover of this cut. I will only say in reply to his remarks that God save us from our friends (Hear, hear). The honourable member who has just sat down saw Gurgaon only in 1930 for the last time and he knows very little of that district. With your permission, Sir, I want to bring the facts to the notice of this Honourable House. The Honourable Premier paid his first visit to Gurgaon district on the 6th of May, 1937. The zamindar league of the district made a unanimous representation that the settlement which was due in 1938 should not be postponed for any reason and that request was made under the apprehension that the Punjab Government may not postpone the settlement on the pretence of expenses. After that the Honourable Minister for Development paid a visit to the district in August last and on all occasions and at all places the zamindars who gathered together in thousands made this request that the settlement operations should be started in their ordinary course. After that in April last the address which was presented to the Honourable Premier by the Anbala Divisional Conference on 16th April at Gurgaon contained as one of the requests of the zamindars that the settlement of the district should not be postponed. Last year all the five members of the Legislative Assembly from Gurgaon made a joint representation to the Honourable Minister for Revenue that the settlement should be started in time and should not be postponed. So the settlement is due and it is being done in time and not before time. Thirty years have passed and the settlement of the district is due and that is why it is being done and unlike my honourable friend the previous speaker, the Gurgaon people have full confidence in the Punjab Government (Ministerial cheers). The Gurgaon people hope that justice will be done to them and those who want to speak on this motion will be well-advised to see the Gurgaon people first rather than come to this House to waste its precious time.

Sardar Hari Singh : Are they happy and prosperous ?

Chaudhri Muhammad Yasin Khan : My honourable friend does not know the district. It is the unanimous desire of the Gurgaon people that settlement should be started in due time as it is being done and the Gurgaon people are very much indebted to the Punjab Government for its having acceded to their request. I oppose this motion.

Sardar Sampuran Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural): I wish god-speed to Gurgaon district and the honourable member of the House who has just sat down. I have every sympathy with him and I have not got up to contradict him. The only thing which I want to say is that the Government has very wonderful ways of beginning things and still more wonderful ways of finishing them. It was in this very hope and with this very idea that the settlement of Lyallpur district was started.

Revenue Minister: Has Lyallpur got anything to do with this motion?

Sardar Sampuran Singh: We were actually told that we were going to be gainers to the extent of 27 lakhs of rupees per year. What did we get? I may tell my honourable friend that if they want this settlement in the hope of getting their revenues reduced, they should get definite promise from the Government so that they may not go back upon their word. As I said in the beginning, I wish god-speed to the Gurgaon district if they succeed in getting their revenue charges reduced, but they should not believe in the smooth words of the Government at this stage of the settlement.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Southern Towns, General, Urban) (Urdu): Sir, I think, I must hasten to point out that I am not going to make a lengthy speech. It is quite obvious that the Government intend starting settlement operations in the near future in Gurgaon district. The cut motion moved by my honourable friend Lala Duni Chand seeks to invite the attention of the Government to the fact that the poverty of the zamindars of the Gurgaon district is likely to be increased by the proposed settlement. It has been said by an honourable member sitting on the opposite benches that the settlement operations will lighten the burden of the zamindars of the Gurgaon district. I may tell him that it was quite wrong and that he is as usual trying to conceal the facts. Anybody who is well aware of the condition of the zamindars of Gurgaon district will not say so. I am surprised to hear the remark made by the honourable member opposite who has spoken against the cut motion saying that the zamindars of the Gurgaon district are better off and they are anxious for the settlement operations to be completed in that ilaga. God save us from such persons who profess to be the friends of the zamindars of Gurgaon district and make such statements on the floor of this House. I beg to differ from my honourable friend. In reality the zamindars of the Gurgaon district are very much down-trodden and poverty-stricken and their condition is really miserable.

I am sorry to observe that the Government are in the habit of making promises during settlements that they would try to lighten the burden of the poor cultivators but when the settlement is over we find that these promises are honoured only in the breach. Land revenue is increased in every settlement and I am afraid history will repeat itself in the case of Gurgaon district as well.

As to the question of Lala Duni Chand's experience, I may submit that he took a very keen interest in the affairs of this district when he represented Ambala division in the Central Assembly. His knowledge is not old but I am speaking of recent experience of the district a portion of which I do represent. I say the Government has been increasing the land revenue as a result of this settlement and that settlement. The district of Gurgaon adjoins my district and on account of this I am fully aware of the conditions prevailing in that district. In the Rewari tahsil, which adjoins the Jhajjar tahsil, people suffer from scarcity of drinking water and the Government does not pay any serious attention to this difficulty. Perhaps the apathy of the Government is due to the fact that political activities in that claga are at the lowest ebb and the poverty-stricken people are too loyal to make any complaint against the Government. The result is that even a police constable or a chaukidar can commit all sorts of atrocities on them without any fear of being reported against to the higher authorities who too in their turn do not take any notice. Let us see whether during the next four years of settlement some grievances of the people are redressed. One of their long standing complaints is that begar is taken from them by government officials, and, unfortunately there exists and in an increasing degree this cruel practice under the Unionist Government.

Coming to the poverty of the people of Gurgaon, I may be permitted to say that the grand processions of elephants that were recently taken out there in honour of our Honourable Ministers should not be taken as an indication of their prosperity. It was merely a cloak to hide their miserable plight. If the residents of that district entertain any hopes about getting some relief in the coming settlement, I might assure them on the basis of my past experience that they are sadly mistaken. Settlements are invariably intended by Government to increase their revenue and thereby add to the burden of the peasants.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is repeating the arguments already advanced by him.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : One word more and I have done. I merely wished to throw some light on the aims and objects that the Government has in view in carrying on these settlements from time to time. If the settlement in the district of Gurgaon is also to be carried out on the same lines I am afraid no advantage will accrue to the agriculturists. It seems out of the question to hope that small holders will be exempted from the payment of land revenue. All that can be expected is that the settlement authorities will reduce land revenue in certain areas and increase it in certain other parts of the same district.

With these few words, Sir, I strongly support the cut that is under the consideration of the House.

Minister of Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia) : My friends on the opposite benches are labouring under a delusion that settlements are taken in hand for the purpose of increasing the revenue of the district.

Sardar Partab Singh : I wish to ask one question through you.

Minister : I am not giving way. That is not generally the question. The settlement of a district is done with the purpose of seeing whether the assessment is heavy so that it should be reduced, or whether the assessment is low so that it may be increased. On the other hand, the assessment is also done for the purposes of correcting the records, settlement maps, etc. These are the objects with which the settlement is undertaken. My friends opposite are always of the view that they are being undertaken with the purpose of increasing land revenue. My honourable friend Lala Duni Chand said that it should have come in at the time of the last Budget. My friend should understand that at the time of the last Budget we had not come to any decision on the subject. We had to decide whether we had to start settlement operations in Gurgaon, Rohtak or Karnal. These are the three districts which have to come under settlement operations. On the special request of my friends from Gurgaon, who saw me in Lahore, I agreed and I persuaded my other colleagues that we must take in hand the settlement operations in Gurgaon district. I may be permitted to say that this thing was decided after the Budget session was over. Therefore we could not possibly foresee whether we had to start settlement operations in Gurgaon, Karnal or any other place. Last year we could not come forward with a demand and this is the only occasion when we could come with a demand for five months only. The regular demand for next year will come up later when the new Budget is put before the House. My friend said that the difficulties of the people have increased. I do not know what he means, thereby. I do not know what are the difficulties that the people have to face when settlement operations start. I may be permitted to say a few words with regard to the condition of Gurgaon where we are undertaking this settlement. My friends perhaps do not know that the settlement of Gurgaon has practically broken down. It has broken down because people are not able to pay the land revenue and in spite of the very big remissions that we had been giving to this district, the difficulty is still there. Do my honourable friends think that even after doing all that is possible for Gurgaon people, we should sit tight and do nothing or that we should postpone the settlement operations indefinitely and let the present settlement conditions go on as they are? The position is that there is keen demand for resettlement of this district and I am trying to meet that demand by appointing an officer of the I. C. S. to be Settlement Officer of the district. The last settlement, as my friend has himself said, was held in 1929 but the backwardness of the district has to be kept in view as also the economic position of the people of the district. My friends questioned the state of affairs as regards the demand and revenue. They would be interested to know that out of a total demand of Rs. 15,85,621, Rs. 12,88,127 were recovered. Besides that the condition of the people is such that they continue to be under debt on account of taccavi loans and loans due to co-operative societies. The extent of these loans comes to about 50 lakhs of rupees which is a very heavy burden upon the people. We want to see that the settlement is just, equitable and proper. We want to give relief which we have been giving by way of remissions in cases where we could not give relief by way of reducing the demand. I think we are doing our utmost in this matter. As regards the population, in the year 1921 it was 6.82 lakhs and in 1951 it was 67.40 lakhs. The number of wells has increased, the area under well irrigation has also increased and the number of bullock carts is also on the increase. With all these things our objective is to start the settlement not with the idea that we have to make any increase. My friend forgets, as I told him at the time of the Budget, the remissions that we have given under a sliding scale. He forgets that every year we give relief.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : The result is more burden.

Minister : Certainly not. I repudiate that charge (Hear, hear) as emphatically as I can.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : How much less burden ?

Minister : Up to this time the old settlement continues. The new settlement has not come into force up till now. We are giving remissions to the tune of 25 to 30 lakhs a year.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I pay more.

Minister : You pay more because you are able to pay more. Therefore, you must pay more. If you like we will charge you still more.

Therefore we reduce the land revenue where it is possible to do so. The probability is that the demand would go down ; it would not go up. I can assure my honourable friend that the probability is that the demand would go further down than what it has been in the past. I am not able to give figures, but my friends can rest assured that this settlement would be for the benefit of the people of Gurgaon. My friend Lala Duni Chand does not belong to that district but there are other friends who belong to that district. He has never come forward and said : do not have this settlement ; it is not a good thing. His advice is for those people. I am not going to accept the advice of my honourable friend. There is no reason why this ent should be allowed.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the item of Rs. 60,340 on account of total (6) Settlement Operations in Gurgaon district be reduced by Rs. 1.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 89,970 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Land Revenue.

The motion was carried.

FORESTS.

Finance Minister (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I beg to move—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 3,39,000 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Forests.

Mr. Speaker : Demand moved is—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 3,39,000 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Forests.

Settlement of claims of Raja Sir Daya Kishan Kaul in respect of Jallo Resin and Turpentine Factory.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to move—

That the demand be reduced by Rs. 100.

I move this reduction in order to elicit further particulars of the settlement and to find out whether it is justified. In the note under this demand it is said that the sum of Rs. 3,39,000, which is quite a big sum for a poor province like the Punjab will be paid to Raja Sir Daya Kishan Kaul as a result, and in consequence, of the termination of a certain agreement entered into by the Punjab Government with the said Raja Sahib in the year 1922. The partnership expired on the 31st January, 1937, and for a year or so negotiations were going on between the co-partner and the Government. On the termination of the partnership Sir Daya Kishan Kaul was paid the sum of Rs. 9,19,781-0-2 and there was still an amount outstanding against the Government on account of what we are told was his right, title, claim, so on and so forth. The interest comes to Rs. 28,425-4-0 at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum. My first objection is to the high rate of interest paid to the co-partner. If it was a part of the agreement deed we may have no objection, otherwise we must object to such a high rate of interest being paid to Raja Sir Daya Kishan Kaul on account of some outstanding claims against Government. We are further entitled to know the main particulars of the agreement deed and the details of Rs. 3,39,000 paid to the co-partner, the amount paid by way of good-will and the amount paid on account of claims and various rights. This House is entitled to know fuller details of this matter before we vote Rs. 3,39,000. That is not a mean sum; we also want an explanation why such a high rate of interest has been paid to the co-partner.

Mr. Speaker: Demand under consideration, amendment moved is—

That the demand be reduced by Rs. 100.

Malik Barkat Ali: I desire to bring it to your notice that this amount has been paid. If the amount has been paid, can it come in the shape of a supplementary grant before the House? I refer you to page 21 of the Supplementary Estimates where it is said that the balance of Rs. 3,39,000 determined by the Government after protracted negotiations with the outgoing partner has been paid.

Mr. Speaker: A similar point was raised during the budget session when I said, if I recollect aright, that we might wait till our rules of Procedure were passed.

Malik Barkat Ali: You were pleased to hold that a certain sum of money spent as an excess grant can only come before the House after it has been placed before the Public Accounts Committee.

Revenue Minister (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia). My friend has again come up with the proposition that we are probably squandering away the money of the province (hear, hear). My friend says (hear; hear) (Interruptions).

Mr. Speaker: The Honourable Minister may go on with his speech.

Minister: In the matter of this concern, which is valued at several lakhs, may be over 20 lakhs, the Government and Raja Sir Daya Kishan Kaul were the two partners. In the original agreement it was provided that either Sir Daya Kishan Kaul should buy us out or we shall buy him out. We find, Sir, that it was a complicated proposition for Government to buy him out. Any reasonable man having the best interests of the Province could say that we should not buy him out. The sum of Rs. 3,39,000 has been paid to him to settle up all his claim and interest. Does my honourable friend wish that we take it away and utilise it for the benefit of the province and give the gentleman who had invested his capital no compensation?

The second point that I wish to bring to the notice of the House is that besides that capital he had shares in raw material, royalty and all those other things that were provided. In the agreement it was provided that if we could not come to an agreement between ourselves, the matter would be referred to an arbitrator and that the decision of the arbitrator would be binding on both parties. What have we done? We have tried to avoid the procedure of arbitration, which is a lengthy process and as such may entail longer time. To come to an agreement we had to spend nearly one year and for that purpose it was agreed that the amount that was due to him, as share in raw material, royalty and all other things, should not be paid only in cash but he should have the benefit of the interest that was provided in the agreement. That is what we have done. We have not done anything else. Two respectable accountants, one from his side and the other a chartered accountant from our side, were appointed and they went into the case thoroughly and after going into all the details, they made a report. On the basis of that report, the amount which was due to him has been paid with interest. It is not fair to take this money into the exchequer of the province and deprive that gentleman of his share when he is leaving his partnership. In these circumstances, I am sure that my honourable friend would not press his motion.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I would ask the Honourable Minister one or two things. How much capital was invested by that party, and was any depreciation for that deducted from the capital investment and how much profit was he supposed to have made during these 15 years? If he answers these three questions, the whole thing will be quite clear.

Minister : I have not got that information but I could satisfy his curiosity.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That the demand be reduced by Rs. 100.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker : The question is that—

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 3,39,000 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Forests.

The motion was carried.

IRRIGATION WORKS.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : Sir, I beg to move that—

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 1,51,000 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Irrigation Works.

Mr. Speaker : The motion moved is that—

A supplementary sum not exceeding to Rs. 1,51,000 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1933, in respect of Irrigation Works.

Khawaja Ghulam Samad (Southern Towns, Muhammadan, Urban) (Urdu) : Sir, I want to say a few words regarding the allocation of a sum of Rs. 1,26,000 on account of Karol Project in the Supplementary Estimates. The scarcity of water in the villages of the Ambala division has time and again been brought to the notice of the Government. But I am sorry to say that Ambala division has been very badly neglected in respect of arrangements for water supply that have hitherto been undertaken by the Government. Nothing has so far been done to remove the grievances of the people of those villages who are suffering great hardships owing to the scarcity of water. Justice demands that a fair share should be allotted out of the sum of Rs. 1,26,000 to Ambala division where conditions are growing from bad to worse owing to the scarcity of canal water.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is discussing only one item out of the total demand. Does he not wish to oppose the whole demand ?

Khawaja Ghulam Samad : I am raising the question of tube-well investigation in the whole province.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member cannot discuss that item alone when discussing or opposing the whole demand.

Khawaja Ghulam Samad : I am discussing the whole demand.

Mr. Speaker : Does the whole demand relate to tube-well investigation in the whole province ?

Khawaja Ghulam Samad : The point which I have brought before the House is that the people of Ambala division are suffering great hardships owing to the scarcity of water. Such experiments should have been made earlier in places where there is scarcity of water and not in territories where there is plenty of water like the territory chosen for tube-well investigation.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is again speaking to a particular item in the demand and referring to a particular area.

Khawaja Ghulam Samad (Urdu) : I have referred to Ambala division for illustration purposes. Besides, the grievances regarding the scarcity of water in Ambala division have many a time before been brought to the notice of the Government.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not speaking to the whole demand.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh (Jullundur West, Sikh, Rural) : I oppose the whole demand. The demand consists of two parts ; the first is about Rs. 25,000 to be allowed for a special officer about water-logging and the second is the tube-well investigation scheme (Karol Project). The latter project relates to tube-well investigation near Lahore. What I wish to point out is that there is great difficulty in my part of the province, that is the Jullundur and Hoshiarpur districts, where the water level is very low.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not in order in raising the question of his district alone.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : My contention is that there is canal irrigation in Lahore and there is no need for tube-well investigation in that district whereas in my district where there is no canal irrigation it is desirable to carry on this investigation.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member cannot discuss that. He may discuss why the Government's proposal should not be accepted, but he cannot suggest that the investigation should be done in any specified area.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : I am explaining why the Government's proposal should not be accepted. My reason for objecting to the proposal is that there is plenty of canal water in the Lahore district and that, therefore, there is no necessity for any tube-wells there.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is quite welcome to say that, but he is suggesting that this money should be spent elsewhere.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : I am contending that this money should not be spent in Lahore, but it should be saved to be spent in my part of the province.

Khan Bahadur Captain Malik Muzaffar Khan (Mianwali South, Muhammadan), (Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, I rise to support the cut motion under discussion, and I want to make some suggestions in this connection. I have come to know from the speeches that have been made on the floor of this House that the Government is going to undertake tube-well investigation in Lahore district. I wonder whether Government has actually any intention of doing so. I do not think there is any need to adopt tube-well investigations in an area like the Lahore district where the canals are sufficient for irrigation purposes. My submission is that the Government should undertake tube-well investigations in those areas where there is no possibility of extensions of canals. In this connection, I would like to mention Mianwali and Campbellpore districts and tahsil Khushab where even potable water is not available and the people living there are suffering great hardships owing to the scarcity of water. In all the western districts and especially in the district of Mianwali tube-well investigations should be started. I do not understand why Government spend lakhs of rupees on those ilagas where there is absolutely no need of undertaking tube-well investigations.

Sardar Sampuran Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural) : Sir, I congratulate the Government on the fact that once at least they have tried to take a step in the right direction. This question of waterlogging is really a very serious problem in this province and what I am astonished at is that they should have taken this matter seriously so late in the day. Mr. Crump is admittedly a very capable engineer and has been in the department for so long and it is really a pity that he should not have been employed on this important work for such a long time. The Government spent lakhs of rupees on surveying areas in the Amritsar and Gurdaspur districts for finding out the sub-soil water and with the idea of having tube-wells in that area to make irrigation perennial. It was reported by the department—I mean by the lift irrigation branch of the Agriculture Department—that these tube-wells will not only pay their way but will bring still more money to the Government in the form of khush kassati. That scheme, after so much money having been spent, was shelved. My grouse against the Government is that they start things too late and then in a very half-hearted way do things and before anything matures they abandon them. So far as tube-well investigation is concerned, I have to make only one remark. Lahore is not the place where they should try this scheme, because Lahore area is irrigated by the Upper Bari Doab and moreover the sub-soil water there is not very far and irrigation can also be done by ordinary wells with great advantage. In these circumstances, I would submit that part II of this demand should altogether be rejected, not because the scheme is bad but because Lahore is not quite the right place for this work.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member is discussing only one item of the demand and not the whole demand.

Sardar Sampuran Singh: My line of argument was only to show that the place they have selected for this scheme is not the right one.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know whether when the items in the demand are not connected with each other as regards the subject matter or otherwise, we cannot discuss the whole demand item by item?

Mr. Speaker: If an honourable member intends to discuss a whole demand item by item he should move amendments to as many items as he wishes to discuss.

Sardar Hari Singh: But we have to discuss one item after another.

Mr. Speaker: In that case notice of amendments to every one of those items should have been given.

Revenue Minister (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): A great deal of stress has been laid on the fact that this thing is being done, that thing is being done and so on. I shall not be in order to speak on any separate item. But in carrying out the experiments on tube-wells in the province we have to collect a good deal of information before we launch out a big scheme of expenditure. The scheme in Lahore is a sort of experimental scheme to see whether we can pump sub-soil water by means of electric current which is available in Lahore. As regards the complaint of my honourable friend Khwaja Ghulam Samad, I may inform him that the special officer went to Ambala and he had a talk with the district board members on this subject and any scheme that he proposes to put forward would certainly be sympathetically considered when the whole scheme of irrigation of tube-wells is taken up. As regards Sardar Gurbachan Singh who said that we should have started the scheme in Jullundur, the matter was discussed in the conference of which he was a member only as recently as two or three days back, and he knows that that conference is recommending to the Government that some tube-well experiments should also be started in Jullundur and Hoshiarpur. That is also going to be sympathetically considered by the Government when the recommendation of that conference comes before the Government. In these circumstances I think we are trying to meet the demands of everybody. But we cannot meet the demands of some of our friends from long distances. But I may remind Captain Muzaffar Khair that in a short time the Thal project is going to come into existence and his complaint of not having canal water will be met by that. In these circumstances, I think these experiments have also to be conducted with an idea whether we could supplement the supply of canals.

water in Western Jumna Canal and Sirhind Canal and in other ways to carry water to the areas which are thirsting for water. That is the reason why we are making these experiments and to thwart us and throw out the demand would be to throw out the good work which is going to be done by the Government.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup (Rohtak Central, General, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, I wish to make it clear at the very outset that I am not opposed to the scheme but I mean to oppose the method in which it is intended by the Government to carry it out. My main objection is against the piece which has been selected by the Government to sink tube-wells. I may be permitted to suggest that Ambala division should have been preferred to Lahore in this matter because it is the Ambala division which suffers most from the scarcity of water, and I must make bold to observe that it would be nothing short of sheer waste of money to spend it on water supply in the Lahore division where water supply is already more than sufficient. In view of these hard facts I may be allowed to remark that the Ambala division would have been a better choice in this connection. That is all I had to say.

Mr. Speaker: The question is—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 1,51,000 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Irrigation Works.

The motion was carried.

IRRIGATION ESTABLISHMENT.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal): Sir, I beg to move—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 56,600 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Irrigation Establishment.

Mr. Speaker: Motion moved is—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 56,600 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment of the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Irrigation Establishment.

Subsidence of water table in Bist Doab Ilaga.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural): Sir, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 13,800 on account of total A-(4) Executive-Bist Doab Sub-Division—be reduced by Rs. 100.

My object in moving this cut motion is to criticise the delay in devising measures to face the menace of subsidence water table in Bist Doab Ilaga and to make suggestions.

Mr. Speaker: This motion is out of order, and so are the other two on this demand.

SARDAR HARJAN SINGH: That the item of Rs. 13,800 on account of Total A-(4) Executive—Bist Doab Sub-Division—be reduced by Rs. 10.

REMARKS:—To criticise the delay in devising measures to face the menace of subsidence of water table in Bist Doab Ilaga.

SARDAR LAL SINGH: That the demand be reduced by Rs. 1.

REMARKS:—To raise a discussion on the general policy of Irrigation Department in reducing canal water supply generally and in Ludhiana District in particular.

Sardar Hari Singh : Then I suppose I can have my say on the contents of the demands. I am prepared to discuss this demand item by item. One of the items is Rs. 18,800 and may I with your permission first have my say on this item? My honourable friend the Revenue Minister wants this sum in order to implement the recommendations of the Bist Doab Conference held at Simla on the 27th of May, 1938.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is now discussing items. This is not in order.

Sardar Hari Singh : I wish to discuss all items. I cannot help doing this. I must discuss the contents of the demand and in so doing I must discuss the items.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member gave notice of nominal cuts only. Had he given notice of substantive cuts, he could have discussed the items.

Sardar Hari Singh : Sir, I beg to assert my right to have my say on the contents of that item.

Mr. Speaker : I will read out to the House the practice of the Parliament as stated in May—

"In dealing with the items of an estimate it has been ruled that items must be dealt with separately and that an amendment including more than one item cannot be proposed by way of reduction of an item and must be moved as a reduction of the whole grant. Nor can a proposal be made for the reduction of the whole grant, for the purpose of renewing discussion upon an item on which a question has been proposed or debate arisen or upon any item previous thereto." (Page 534).

From this I conclude that when an honourable member wishes to discuss the whole demand, he cannot discuss the individual items of that demand, unless he has given notice for the omission or reduction of each item.

Sardar Hari Singh : We have also to note that the practice in the Parliament is different from what we have here and we must first adopt that practice in presenting demands. The only solution of this difficulty is that we may be allowed to speak on any of the items we please.

Mr. Speaker : The solution of this problem is that we may follow Parliamentary practice in this respect. Sir Erskine May says:—

"A grant may be submitted to the decision of the committee, at the discretion of the mover, by a proposal of the items of which a grant is composed in separate resolutions. For instance, an estimate for the purchase of land at South Kensington comprised three items. The first item was moved as a separate grant which was agreed to; and the other two items, taken together, were proposed as another grant, which was negatived—a course which was pursued with the express sanction of the chair" (page 530).

It is for the Government to decide whether it will follow the Parliamentary practice or not.

Minister for Finance : But to-day the demands have been moved.

Mr. Speaker : If the Honourable Finance Minister has no objection, the items may be allowed to be discussed as a special case.

Minister : There is no objection. Let them make a suggestion. We will take note of that.

Sardar Hari Singh : It is a subject on which so many Doaba people want to speak.

Minister : Naturally.

Sardar Hari Singh : I want to concentrate on item No. 4 under this demand on page 90 of the Supplementary Estimates which relates to the fall of water-table in Hoshiarpur and Jullundur districts. The Honourable Minister of Revenue proposes to spend Rs. 18,900 in order to establish a Bist Doab sub-division at Jullundur. I am grateful to him for this small mercy coming from him. A bird has whispered in my ear that the Honourable Minister says that he is doing something for the Doaba and that there is no reason why we should oppose his action in this respect. We are not opposing him. We are trying to help him with certain suggestions and we also want to make a complaint as to why the Government has made such a delay in coming to the rescue of the Doaba people. It has taken a year. It was during the last session held at Simla that some Members of the Legislative Assembly, I and my friends including some members from the Unionist Party itself, waited on the Minister of Revenue and his chief, the Premier, in the precincts of this Assembly and urged upon them the necessity of tackling the water problem in the Doaba. We told them definitely that there had arisen a desperate situation in that part of the country and that it required a desperate remedy and urgent measures. My grouse is that they have taken full one year in coming to a decision that a sub-division should be established in Jullundur in order that a comprehensive record of rainfall of the whole tract be recorded for the monsoon of 1938 and I hope he has already established this sub-division at Jullundur and that sub-division is in full swing. Secondly, he wants to observe the run-off of the two main drainages of the Doaba. Thirdly, he wants observation of flood levels along the Sutlej and the Beas rivers to ascertain whether it is possible for a system of inundation canals to be constructed to carry water during the period of floods into the Doab to assist in raising the sub-soil water table. It is said—

"In order to carry out this work it is essential that a sub-division be opened immediately so that the selection of an additional number of rain gauge stations and arrangements for observance of gauges may be made by the end of June and observation of run-off of the town Beins be arranged for before the arrival of the monsoon of 1938."

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Why do you object ?

Sardar Hari Singh : I am reading only certain relevant extracts. I want to say that the situation is such that it will not do to move in the fashion in which the Government is moving at a snail's pace in this matter. After full one year's labour it has produced the proverbial mouse in the form of that sub-division and it may take years to come to a conclusion. Who knows when the officers working in this sub-division may submit their report to the Government. They may take years over this work and go on drawing fat salaries and this Government, after a number of years, may say that such and such scheme is not practicable. There is no guarantee that this sub-division will be immediately tackling the problem. The situation in the Doaba is very serious and my friend will have to tackle the problem in a very serious manner. The people of Doaba have been agitated over this problem for a number of years. About two decades ago or rather thirty or forty years ago the whole of Doaba was a flourishing and smiling garden and for the last so many years it is being slowly converted into a desert. I dare say that there will be many members to support me in my statement that that tract of land which was one day such a prosperous and smiling garden is being converted now into a desert and unless Government come to the rescue of the people of that ilaga, these people would...

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I want to ask whether the honourable member is still discussing item No. 1 by narrating the history of the last forty years of the Doaba.

Sardar Hari Singh : I am discussing the seriousness of the problem. Perhaps, by this interruption, the honourable Parliamentary Secretary wants to show to the House that he is Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Revenue. Everybody knows that Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan is Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Revenue. If my honourable friend had visited Hoshiarpur district thirty years ago, he would have known that the ilaga from Dasuha to Garhshankar—a distance of 50 miles—was traversed in those days by small rivulets and those streams were perennial streams which irrigated the lands and there was no necessity of wells for irrigation in those days. But for the last three decades the water in the wells has been going down. Thirty years ago the water level was twenty feet below the surface but now it has gone down to 50 feet. In the course of twenty years it has resulted in a fall of 40 to 50 feet. The water level is constantly going down every year and the Government has not maintained the yearly record of fall of the water. It was the duty of Government to do so. The responsibility devolved upon them in this respect. They should have maintained a record of the fall of water from the very time when this state of affairs was brought to their notice.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : How does the honourable member know that the Government has not kept any record? The Government requires further data for which this staff is required.

Sardar Hari Singh : It appears from the note that the Government wants to have a certain record of rainfall, and other records. From that it appears that the Government has not been maintaining records of previous water-fall, etc. (Interruption.) There are so many questions at a time. I want one question at a time, so that I may be able to answer it. My proposition is that this very serious situation in the Doaba (Voices : Repetition) is not being tackled by the Government in the manner in which it ought to have been done. Hoshiarpur and Jullundur districts have been paying lakhs of rupees into the Government treasury since the advent of British Raj. Millions of rupees must have been paid into the Punjab treasury but in return they have not been given anything by way of relief either by construction of canals or other water-works. The Doaba people need drinking water as well as water for irrigating their fields. The people of this ilaga—the agriculturists—found it very easy to meet the land revenue demand of the Government by selling their mango crop because it was a tract of land which was rich with mango orchards and rich.

with crops of every kind but now the situation there is very serious and calls for immediate action and the expenditure of crores of rupees on the part of Government. Now the Government is going to spend a paltry sum of Rs. 18,800. We want that the Government should come next year for the vote of the House with a budget worth crores of rupees for the Doaba. If they can spend on the Haveli Project to the tune of 5½ crores, and again they are planning to spend for the south-eastern Punjab through the Bhakra Dam Scheme, and also more money for the Western Punjab, through the Thal Project, what stands in their way to spend crores of rupees for the Doaba people by opening canals, constructing dams to catch the rain water during the monsoon season and then letting it out for irrigation purposes in the dry season or by tube-well experiments ?

There are three suggestions to be made in this connection. One is that canals may be taken from the Sutlej and the Beas rivers. Secondly, tube-well experiments may be tried and, thirdly, big dams may be constructed in the Siwaliks in which rain water may be collected during the monsoon and in the dry season water may be allowed to irrigate the fields in the Doaba. It is certain that this scheme would cost Government crores of rupees, but it is worthwhile spending to satisfy the two districts out of 29 districts of the Punjab. We want that crores of rupees should be spent from the Government treasury for irrigation purposes and for supplying drinking water in that part of the country. I hope the present Government which is proud of calling itself a popular ministry will not grudge our part of the country its due share in the form of supply of water to the two districts.

Master Kabul Singh (Jullundur East, Sikh, Rural) (Punjab): Sir, I rise to support the cut motion under discussion. The question of the scarcity of water in the Doaba is not a question of recent times but it has been hanging fire for the last several years. Full fifteen months have passed since this Government came into power, but nothing substantial has been done so far to redress this grievance of the Doaba people. The present Government is going to spend about 14 thousand rupees for opening the Bist Doab sub-division but unfortunately this ilaga has failed to catch the Government's eye. It is very deplorable that our requests are always turned down by lame excuses and false promises of the present Government. Now, when we draw the attention of the present Government to the scarcity of water in the Doaba, they would go on putting us off for another two years. The Government would say like this. "The condition of your crops is quite good. This indicates that the water is quite sufficient for irrigation purposes in the Doaba and your complaints regarding the scarcity of water are baseless." This policy of giving evasive answer is very undesirable and it has been condemned many a time before in big conferences outside this House. Let me inform the Minister in charge that the Doaba was a garden of roses some years back but now on account of subsidence of water table it has become a desert. If the Government is going to accept our suggestion in order to face the menace of subsidence of water table it would be good and wise on its part; otherwise I am sure the people of that ilaga would revolt against the present Government, so much so that it would be out of their power to control them.

[Master Kabul Singh.]

It is obvious that the Government is taking great pains to complete the Thal Project, but nothing substantial is being done by the Government to redress the grievances of the Kisans of the Bist Doab ilaga. Is it because the members of this ilaga sit in opposition to the Unionist-cum-Muslim League Government? The Doaba can rightly take pride in the position taken up by their representatives.

(At this stage the Minister for Revenue pointed towards Sardar Sahib Gurbachan Singh.)

Master Kabul Singh: He is your relative.

Minister: You are also my relative.

Master Kabul Singh: Had some minion of the Government been sitting on these benches the Government would have considered this matter favourably. I may assure the Honourable House that the Doaba people do not believe in flattering the Government (Cheers). They know where the shoe pinches and how to stand on their own legs. If the present Government go on behaving like that the people of Bist Doab would be obliged to adopt measures for turning the tables on the present Government.

Sardar Harjab Singh (Hoshiarpur South Sikh, Rural) (Punjabi): Sir, we agree to the suggestion made by the Government but I think it is too late to bring forward such a scheme. I am very sorry to submit that the real scheme which is very necessary has not been put forward by the Government. For instance, in the Doaba the water level which was at 15 or 20 feet sometimes back, has gone down by 30 or 40 feet at present and almost every year the water level subsides by 2 feet or so. I am afraid if this continues for some years to come, the Doaba will become a desert like Bikaner and the residents of this ilaga will be obliged to leave their houses and migrate to other places in search of their livelihood. The attention of the Government has already been invited to the hardships of the residents of the Doaba, and I remember last year a deputation also waited upon the Honourable Premier and the Honourable Revenue Minister requesting them to take immediate steps to redress the grievances of the zamindars of the Doaba regarding the scarcity of water. But it is a thousand pities that the Government has so far been putting us off by saying soft words but has done nothing. Even at this time the Government evades us by saying that this matter is under consideration. Heaven knows when this consideration will end.

His Excellency the Governor was pleased to state the other day while addressing this Assembly, that his Government had granted a handsome amount for carrying out the Haveli Project, and that the Thal Project and Bhakra Scheme were also under consideration. But I would say it with much sorrow that the Governor has not paid any attention to the Doab ilaga which was populated centuries ago and which now is suffering hardships owing to the scarcity of water. We all collectively put these grievances before the Honourable Revenue Minister last year and he encouraged us by saying that Government was considering that case and in the near future a scheme would be brought forward for the desired purpose. Months have elapsed since that promise was made and we are still waiting for that scheme to be carried out which probably has been forgotten by the Honourable Minister for Revenue. In this connection my submission is that a canal may be taken from the River Beas into the River Sutlej. In this way the particular area between the two rivers would be much better irrigated and the zamindars of the Doaba would generally reap benefit out of it, and moreover the water level would rise. Besides, the water coming from the hills that causes damage to the fields of the Doaba in the shape of Ohos should be controlled. If this water is controlled properly by means of bunds and left in a small quantity, the land of the Doaba would be saved from inundations, and by so doing the water-table could easily come up, and thousands of acres of land that have been made useless would become fruitful. My last submission is that the Government may start tube well investigation in the district of Jullundur because in this ilaga also water level is sinking. With these words, I support the amendment before the House.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh (Jullundur West, Sikh, Rural): Sir, allow me to congratulate my honourable friend, Sardar Hari Singh, who has now woken up from his drowsiness. For the last year and a half, I have been moving cut motions to this very effect but not a single member from that side has supported me. They have been carrying on a false propoganda against us telling people that we have done nothing, while they themselves did not utter a word up to this time to bring this urgent need of the Doaba to the notice of the Government. But now when something substantial is coming before us, they have come forward to oppose this demand for opening of a sub-division at Jullundur.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member should not be personal.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh: May I know if I am personal in saying that my cut motions to that every effect were not at all supported by any member on that side, although, they say, they belong to the Doaba? Where were they then? (Voices from the Opposition benches: We moved cut motions.) Yes, not for moving them or discussing them in this House.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member will please speak to the motion.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh: I am speaking to the motion. The motion is that a sub-division should be opened in Jullundur. I am very glad that Government has taken some steps in this direction, though I must admit that this is not enough and lots more will yet have to be done and large sums of money will have to be provided, but I am not ungrateful for this first step that the Government has taken, and we will go on pressing the Government to take further steps immediately. I therefore oppose the cut motion of my friend.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Hoshiarpur West, General, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, all the three honourable members who have preceded me have thrown sufficient light on the deplorable fact that there is an extreme dearth of water supply in the Doaba. But it is gratifying to note that the Unionist Government has proposed to establish a sub-division in the Doaba with a view to improve the water supply in the ilaga, and I, on behalf of my party as well as myself, congratulate the Government for this right step in the right direction. At the same time I am sorry to observe that my honourable friend Sardar Gurbachan Singh has sought to give party colour to this question and tried to claim credit for having brought up this proposal before the House. Let me assure him that we, sitting on this side of the House, are not anxious to seek any credit. We can well realise that a party in power usually indulges in tall talk like this. But I would like to assure them, through you, Sir, that our party is always prepared to praise the Government provided they do anything for the good of the poor peasants. Besides, I should very much like the Honourable Minister for Revenue to assure us that unless and until the water supply in the Ambala and the Jullundur divisions is improved, no more money would be spent on the Haveli and the Thal projects. In this connection, it is important to remember that a few wells sunk in the cities of Jullundur, Hoshiarpur or Ambala will not suffice to improve the water-supply in these two divisions.

It cannot be gainsaid that the Government intends to please the landlords of other divisions by spending large amounts of money on the Thal and the Haveli projects. Nevertheless we appreciate whatever little good the Government is able to do in our much neglected districts and we feel little hesitation in congratulating them for this. But I would like to make it clear that the poor peasants of the Ambala and Jullundur divisions pay up the land revenue just in the same manner as the landlords do in the Rawalpindi or the Lahore division. You would be rather surprised to learn that while the zamindars of the Jullundur and Ambala divisions pay up every penny of Government dues, the big landlords of the Lahore and Rawalpindi divisions have large amounts of Government dues still outstanding in their names. It therefore equally behoves the Government to accord the same treatment to the residents of the Ambala and Jullundur divisions just as is meted out to the jagirdars of other divisions. With these few words, Sir, I beg to support the motion now before the House.

Sardar Mula Singh (Hoshiarpur South, Reserved Seat, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, I rise to support the out motion that has been moved by my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh. The object of this motion is to discuss the deplorable condition of the people residing in the Doaba. This ilaga includes the districts of Hoshiarpur and Jullundur and the main cause of the misery of the residents of this area is that a number of streams come down the Siwalik Hills and devastate the fields of the agriculturists. The tahsils of Garhshankar, Una, Dasuya, Hoshiarpur and Jullundur suffer most from this visitation. But it is a thousand pities that the Government has not been able so far to do anything to save the ilaga from this continuous ruination of the agricultural lands, in spite of the fact that the attention of the Government has repeatedly been drawn towards this in the Assembly as well as through the instrumentality of deputations and conferences. In addition to the ruin and suffering caused by chos, the inhabitants of this area constantly suffer from the scarcity of the water supply and the suffering of the depressed classes are even greater. Their miserable condition is better untold.

Even if a well is sunk 75 feet or 90 feet deep, the water level is not reached, with the result that in several cases wells are left uncompleted. There is no doubt that the Government has provided a small sum of money for improving the water supply in this area, but I would observe that this amount is totally inadequate for the purpose and is intended only to serve as an eye-wash. In fact, nothing is being done to raise the water level in this locality.

On the other hand, several lakhs of rupees are being spent on the Haweli Project and the Thal Project, in other divisions in order to benefit the landlords who are henchmen of the Government. But the influential representatives of our class like Rai Hari Chand and Sardar Gurbachan Singh are under the thumb of the landlords of other divisions. They accuse us that we failed on some previous occasions to support a motion which they had tabled in the interests of the Doaba. Let me remind them that when we pressed a similar motion in the last Simla session, the Government which they are out to support, did not show the least consideration for it and rejected it straight off. If they are really anxious to remove the hardship of the Doaba people caused by the scarcity of the water supply, here is an opportunity for them to prove their sympathy. We are presently going to organise a demonstration at Lahore in order to protest against the callousness of the Government in not doing anything to remove this difficulty. Are we to take it that all the seven honourable members representing the Doaba who are also members of the Unionist Party will join this demonstration?

Minister for Revenue: You had better attempt some constructive scheme in the Doaba itself. A demonstration at Lahore would be useless.

Sardar Mula Singh: That is for the Government to attempt. Our duty is only to acquaint them with the real situation. As for as our own activities are concerned, I may assure the Honourable Minister that we are already doing a lot of useful work.

Again, I wish to draw the attention of the House to the destruction caused by the choks that come down the Siwalik Hills. The Government should be well-advised to construct a dam which would prevent these choks from flooding the Doaba. Another scheme would be to construct a canal from the Sutlej to the Beas in which the water of these choks would flow and irrigate the vast area. If that be impracticable, tube wells may be sunk in order to improve the water supply there. I find that my honourable friend Sir Sundar Singh Majithia is signifying his disapproval by shaking his head. I am afraid he is justified in doing so, because he is completely under the influence of the Tiwanas and the Noonis. He dare not think of the welfare of the people residing in the Doaba. I may submit that the residents of the Doaba are suffering from the abovementioned natural calamities. I therefore request the Government that they should at least undertake some scheme in order to ameliorate the condition of the depressed classes in the districts of Jullundur and Hoshiarpur. If nothing is done in this respect, I would submit that the depressed classes as a whole would fall foul with the Government. With these words, I whole-heartedly support my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh.

Sardar Partab Singh (Amritsar South, Sikh, Baral, Punjab): Sir, I perfectly remember the time when the shortage of water supply in the Doaba came under discussion in the Punjab Legislative Council. If I remember right it was in the year 1931-32 that this matter was first brought to the notice of the Government. But for seven long years the Government remained silent and now when a representation signed by one lakh of people has been submitted and hundreds of conferences have been held complaining about the scarcity of water in the Doaba and literally the whole of the Doaba is up to get sufficient supply of water, the Government have come forward with a supplementary demand of Rs. 18,800 in order to supplement the recommendations of the Bist Doaba Conference held at Ellerslie on 27th May, 1933. In order to carry out this work the Government have decided to open a sub-division immediately so that the selection of an additional number of raingauge stations and arrangements for the observance of gauges may be made by the end of June and the observation of run off of the two Beins be arranged before the arrival of the monsoon of 1933. In my opinion the only object of the Government is to find out how much rainfall is recorded in Jullundur and Hoshiarpur, and nothing more. I am afraid that this sum of Rs. 18,800 is provided in the Supplementary Estimates with a view to secure jobs for some of the people belonging to the Government Party. It is a strange thing that though this question was brought to the notice of the Government as early as 1931-32 up till now the Government has done nothing to ameliorate the condition of the people of the Doaba. I am of the opinion that the sum of Rs. 18,800 that has been provided in the Supplementary Estimates is too small and paltry as compared with the troubles of the people of this ilaga.

Besides, I may point out that the wells in the Doaba are so bad that even if a few buckets of water are drawn the water becomes dirty and muddy and consequently unfit for human consumption. So the result is that the people get up very early and proceed towards the wells and await their turn in lines and every one of them tries his level best to reach earlier than the other in order to get pure water. I very regretfully say that the old wells have fallen down, and though many new wells have been dug up, still the troubles of the people remain the same as before. I respectfully submit that the Government or in fact the Irrigation Department, has realised 115 crores of rupees from the agriculturists of this province as land revenue. Up till 1936 the Government paid 33 crores and 80 lakhs as interest against the loan of 33 crores and 40 lakhs that was raised in England. The net savings of this department have been not less than 80 crores of rupees. Further, the Government dug out the Sirhind canal from the River Sutlej running through this ilaga and carried the water to other waterless tracts and thereby got a lot of benefit, but the result was that the Doab ilaga is being rendered waterless and barren. Everybody knows that the Doab ilaga which once was named as the garden of the Punjab, has been converted into a desert. It is a pity that after so many years the Government have come forward with only a paltry sum of Rs. 18,800 to help the poor inhabitants of this ilaga.

Besides, many a time the Government have accused that because the Doab ilaga is the hot bed of revolutionaries, therefore the Government do not wish to help its inhabitants. I may submit that the people of that ilaga have only small tracts of land and they are face to face with the scarcity of water. These difficulties compel them to go outside their own districts for earning their livelihood and thus they have first hand impressions of seeing the workings of free governments and countries. When they come back they naturally reflect in their ideas and actions the spirit of freedom. I make bold to say that the condition of the people of the Doaba has reached such a pitch that if ever a revolution breaks out, it will certainly start from this place. If my honourable friends over there wish to stop the breaking out of the revolution they should not only spend Rs. 13,800 but they should come forward with a sum of 5 or 6 crores of rupees. If they spend so much money I am sure that within a year all the seething revolutionary ideas emanating from the scarcity of water of the Doaba people would soothe down. Moreover, I can say that if the Government spend the abovementioned amount on the Doaba, they would not be losers in any way, for they have already realised to the extent of 80 crores of rupees as land revenue from the Province. If the Government think that the sum that I have suggested is too much and they can ill-afford to spend this huge sum on one ilaga only, I would suggest that a cut should be imposed on the salaries of the officers of the Irrigation Department in order to make up the loss that would be incurred by spending this sum. When I was in America I learnt that the American revolution broke out because the then English Government or the Parliament wanted to impose upon the Americans a duty on sugar. The result was that England lost America just for imposing an absurd duty on sugar against the wishes of the people of that country. I am inclined to think that owing to the mal-treatment of the Irrigation Department in Amritsar, Lyallpur and Ludhiana districts on account of the scarcity of water in the Doaba the revolution is bound to break out early and it will overthrow not only the Irrigation Department but the present Government that allows the autocratic Irrigation Department to do injustice to the people of the Province. This department draws much money in the shape of salaries and working expenses. It is a department of stiff-necked people and is a living example of Czarism in the Punjab. I am sure that one day this department is bound to have a fall. It would be better that it should mend matters before it should have a fall, and help the hard-pressed people. With these words, I support the contention of Sardar Hari Singh.

Rai Hari Chand (Una, General, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, at the very outset I wish to thank the Government for providing the sum of Rs. 13,800 for the Doaba in the Supplementary Estimates. But I am sorry to find that my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh and other Sikh members of the Assembly who are very alert and serious thinking people and who have been members of the previous Legislative Council, are blaming the present Government for the sins of the past Government. There is a Punjabi proverb which aptly applies to this and it is as follows:—

فانی خصم کو دھتی چٹی بہرے

(Interruptions).

If the last Government has not done anything to ameliorate the condition of the people of the Doaba, the present zamindar Government cannot be held responsible for their shortcomings. I am definitely of the opinion that if the honourable members on the opposite take this matter seriously into consideration, they would find that the present Government is conscientiously considering the question of giving relief to the people of the Doaba. As far as I have been able to find out from the Government Gazette and as a member of the non-official committee I can vouchsafe the fact that this question has been under the consideration of the Government for the past several years. The previous Government have not published any report nor have they taken any preventive measures, but I take pride in saying that since the year 1937 when this Government came into power and this matter was brought to their notice, they are considering it very seriously (Interruptions). When the honourable members on the opposite were speaking, none from this side of the House interrupted them, but it is a matter of regret for me to find that now when we get up to speak, my honourable friends over there interrupt our speeches so often. I would request them to give us the same allowance which they would like to have for themselves.

Coming to the story proper I may submit that two committees were appointed to inquire into the problem of the scarcity of water of the Doaba ilaga. One of the committees was an official committee and the other was a non-official one of which I was also a member. Both the committees considered this matter and at present many schemes are under consideration by which water would be supplied to the Doaba ilaga. I may also submit that the Government are trying their level best and are spending all the available money in order to give relief to the people of this ilaga. It is not an easy problem which the Government can solve in a single day. I was on the committee and I have seen the report for myself and I know the difficulties which the Government has to face in this matter.

The first thing the Government has to do in this connection is to discover the causes which have led to a fall in the water table of the Doaba. I need say nothing in indication of Government's policy. It is for the Minister concerned to defend the Government, but I should like to say this for the benefit of my honourable friend Sardar Partap Singh that this sum is not intended to raise the level of the water but is required for the preliminary arrangements to be made in this connection. By and by the Government will tackle the whole problem itself.

I once again take this opportunity of thanking the Government for bringing forward this supplementary demand for the benefit of the people of the Bist Doab.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Very spirited speeches with a good deal of enthusiasm have been made by my friends on the opposite benches, but my friends do not realize that this is a question which cannot be dealt with like a juggler and that you cannot have in a night's time Allah Din's palace built for you. I may be permitted to say to the honourable members that the question has been before the Government since 1917 and the Government has been trying to find out ways and means of meeting this difficulty. The subject as my friends know is not an ordinary one, but is full of technical difficulties which require to be examined before they can be dealt with in the ordinary way. I may tell my honourable friends that as soon as this Government came into office, hardly about 15 months ago they appointed an officer from the Canal Department in the person of Mr. Benson. He in dealing with this question has looked into all its aspects and has written a big note printed in the form of a book which was made available, if I am not wrong, to some of the non-official members who attended the conference which was called on the 22nd of this month. That conference was preceded by an official conference which dealt with the report of Mr. Benson and looked into the case very carefully. I may be permitted to say a few words as to the points that were considered by the committee. The following two matters had to be considered.

One is regarding the denudation of forest area which was chiefly responsible for turning this good shaga of Hoshiarpur and Jullundur and particularly of Hoshiarpur into chos. The second is the diminution of rainfall in the shaga, the increase of number of wells and the construction of the Sirhind Canal which is supposed to have done some damage to this shaga. All these points were considered one by one. As regards denudation of the forest, my honourable friends know what difficulties the Government is faced with when dealing with Siwalik hills wherefrom torrents after rain rush down and pass through the shaga below in the form of chos carrying along them heavy matter, boulders, stone and sand, and thereby spoiling the whole outlook of the district of Hoshiarpur. I have been there twice during this short time and I have had to pass over a cho almost after every mile of the road. It is sometimes difficult to cross these chos even on an ordinary conveyance. What we are doing in the areas affected by these chos is that we put in trees and grass in places whence these chos come. When people cut down all trees from these hill tracts, they never realize what will be the effect of the denudation of the forest growth. The result of that cutting the forest down is that the water from these hills comes down in torrents and trees, boulders, sand and stone are carried through the lands below to a great deal of ruination of the country. When we try to stop grazing of cattle, sheep and goats in these places we are faced with the difficulty that people complain that we are taking away their rights and their livelihood. These are the difficulties with which we are faced. Unless we do something in the way of growth of trees on these hill tracts which would stop denudation we cannot stop this erosion of the land. The next thing that we are doing in this matter is a sort of gully plugging in this area of chos so as to stop the damage which is being done to the country. We have been considering the question of waiband in the different tracts of the country so that the rain water should be conserved for the land and level of the well water may be raised. What happens in the absence of these wats is that the water flows out to the river and the land remains barren with the result that the water-level falls. Our friends have stated that we are not building dams. The question of building dams has also been considered and that matter is going to be taken up as soon as it is possible for the Government to do so. As regards tube-wells a good deal has been stated by our friends. We are not sinking any tube-wells in this part of the shaga for the reasons that I stated while dealing with the cut motion that was before us just now. I informed the House that we are trying to experiment with these tube-wells in some of these shagas and that point has been considered by the conference and its recommendations are going to be considered by the Government.

Then I come to the question of canals in this area. I find that this question is not free from difficulty. We have to take water from one river and perhaps put it into another. As my honourable friends know the water in the rivers is distributed amongst all people from higher up in the hills down to Sind into the Indus whose tributaries our rivers are. We cannot possibly go against the decision that has been arrived at by the Government of India in the distribution of water between different co-sharers. People to whom the water is distributed have their rights and we cannot take away those rights. If we take away a small quantity of water we have to give compensation to these other parties.

Sardar Sampuran Singh: Can you not do without that?

Minister: I am putting forward the difficulties that have to be overcome if we have to run a canal even for the purpose of raising the level of the water. But before we build a canal I think it is absolutely necessary that we must have a contour survey of the ilaga. My honourable friend Sardar Partab Singh has stated "give us 6 crores of rupees for this ilaga." Does he want to have that to be distributed to the people of the ilaga or for the purpose of carrying out these improvements on his special propaganda? We have to adopt these remedies to meet the needs of the people. We cannot distribute this money as the Sardar has in mind. We are collecting data as regards wells, we are finding out how many wells have been sunk, how many wells have gone out of use and what is the depth of water in these wells. We have also to consider what is the rainfall and what is the effect of the rainfall. This grant which has been demanded is necessary for the purpose of starting a sub-division in the place because we cannot possibly expect the headquarters in the Secretariat to run the whole show themselves. They must have somebody on the spot to go into these difficult questions, to go into these points and submit a report for the consideration of the Irrigation Branch. My friends have stated that crores of rupees have been taken away by the Canal Department by way of profits and crores of rupees have been given in interest to those people from whom the money was borrowed. Does my friend want us that we should declare a moratorium or wipe off our debts? Can we do that? I assert that we cannot do that. It will not be right for the Punjab to take that action. If the Punjab has to keep its reputation in the money market that it can repay its debts, you cannot do that. (Interruptions.) We are doing that, Sir. We can if need be arrange loans for the purpose of this ilaga. My friends have asked, why are we not attending to the Bhakra Dam first and why are we starting this Thal Project? Do my friends know that Mr. Bedford, who is in charge of the Haveli Project, is going to save us lakhs of rupees by finishing the Haveli Project much earlier than would have been done in the ordinary course? Lest I should be bound down to this in future, I may say that my expectation is that in about 18 months or in a year's time, we will have some portion of the present staff which is now engaged in Haveli available to be employed somewhere else. What are we to do? Are we to employ that staff on this thing which requires consideration and which requires a scheme to be formulated, or are we to keep that staff there and get our friends to criticise the Government for wasting money without doing anything? Before we live in a house we have to build it. Before doing anything we have to get the scheme properly drawn out and approved by the Finance Department. My colleague on my left, the Finance Minister, would not allow even a small item to be spent without criticising it keenly. Sometimes I have to press very hard to get my friend agree to the proposal. The Finance Department is there and the Finance Department must keep the strings of the purse very tight in its hands and would not allow anybody to draw anything which is not really needed. The conference has looked into this matter very carefully and as soon as we are ready with the scheme we will come forward before the House for the money to be provided. Criticism is quite all right, provided it is made with responsibility, but if criticism is simply for criticism's sake and not for constructive purposes, it is not a desirable thing. My honourable friends have said that I am under the thumb of other Ministers. (Opposition cheers) I am trying to do my duty according to my lights and I will go on doing my duty in spite of what my friends on the opposite benches say. I will try and do my duty to the best of my ability (Hear hear from the Ministerial benches). These are the things that require consideration. My friends know very well that this sort of criticism is not to be found in the provinces where responsibility has been placed on the shoulders of the Congress, in spite of the fact that section 144 is being applied and there are lathi charges, and other things are being done in the name of the Congress.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Only against the landlords.

Minister : I will come to the landlords later on. If you are a landlord I will deal with you. Let my friends say anything that they like I am not going to mind and listen to them and I will go on doing my duty and let the caravan pass (Hear, hear from the Ministerial benches).

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The question is—

That the question be now put.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The question is—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 56,600 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Irrigation Establishment.

The motion was carried.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION.

Finance Minister (The Honourable Mr. Manchar Lal) : I beg to move—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 1,00,630 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of General Administration.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : Motion moved—

That a supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 1,00,630 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of General Administration.

Village Improvement Scheme.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur (Sikh), Rural) : I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 21,550 on account of Village Improvement Scheme through District Staff, be reduced by Rs. 100.

The object of this out motion is to criticise the duplication of village improvement through Co-operative Staff and District Staff and to criticise the requiring of villagers to contribute not less than one-third of the cost and other features of the scheme. If you will read the note on page 33 of the Supplementary Estimates under the heading "Village improvement schemes through district staff" you will find that the Government proposes to spend this money through the district staff in order to improve village roads and it is also said that the villagers will be required to contribute not less than one-third either in cash or in kind including labour. We have to make two objections in regard to this item. In the first place there is going to be a duplication of village improvement work. The Co-operative staff is already carrying on the village improvement scheme. That is the proper staff to be given this money to carry on the work. Duplication will only mean waste of money. We have to make a very strong protest against the proposition that the villagers will be required to pay one-third of the money required for this work. The villagers are already overburdened with so many taxes imposed by the Unionist Government. They are not able to bear any other taxation at the present time and I want to know under what law the Government proposes to raise one-third of the contribution from the villagers. Will that be compulsory contribution or otherwise? This point has not been made clear. If they raise it by compulsion, we will resist it with all the might at our command. I think that no villager will pay the amount on account of this work whether it be by way of improvement of roads or otherwise. We cannot at all subscribe to this proposition and cannot support the Government in duplication of the work and in raising money from the villagers.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : Demand under consideration, amendment moved is—

That the item of Rs. 91,560 on account of Village Improvement Scheme through District Staff, be reduced by Rs. 100.

Sardar Kapoor Singh (Ludhiana East, Sikh, Rural) : I would have congratulated the Government for improving the roads by this allotment but I find that there are two or three defects in the scheme itself. You will find that according to this scheme some of the money is going to be contributed by the villagers and two-thirds of the money is going to be allotted by the Government. By this system that money is going to be used through the district agency. The result would be that those district agencies which are going to use that money will have a loophole to coerce the villagers for the full amount of labour which is required for the improvement of all these roads. The villagers are not going to contribute anything in cash. What they can simply do is to provide labour and when providing labour the district staff will not have labour which will only be due from the villagers, but the district authorities will coerce the villagers to give labour for that portion for which they will have to pay from the pocket of the Government. This scheme is, therefore, defective. Either there should be no contribution and the whole improvement should be effected by the Government itself or, on the other hand, the villagers should be paid this whole amount and they may be allowed to make improvements by the contribution or share which they may get from the Government. If by this arrangement the whole money or share of the money due from the Government is given to the villagers, they will not at the same time get return for their labour but they will get the thing done in the best possible manner. So, in my opinion, the best way would be that instead of the money being used through the district agency the amount of Government contribution should be paid to the villagers and those villagers might be asked to spend that money in the best possible way. This will result in saving to the Government, because there will be no corruption, misappropriation or any other waste. Not only these districts which are included in the scheme but some of the other districts as well, which have not been included in the scheme, might be benefited if my suggestion is adopted. With these remarks I support the motion.

Parliamentary Secretary (Chaudhri Tika Ram): The honourable member from Hoshiarpur, who moved the cut motion, has made two points—rather has taken two objections against the scheme. The first objection is that no contribution should be realised from the villagers and his second objection is that there is going to be a duplication and consequently waste of money and waste of energy if the proposed scheme is carried out. He has asked one question whether the contribution would be a voluntary one or whether it would be a compulsory sort of contribution. I desire to reply to these two objections. So far as his first objection regarding the contribution is concerned, I would like to place before you the difficulty which the Government had in this matter. The Punjab Government was supplied with certain funds out of the village improvement contribution of one crore given by the Government of India in the year 1935. The Punjab Government got eight lakhs and some thousands out of this sum given by the Government of India. Out of that money a considerable amount was not spent in time, because there were certain difficulties in the way of purchase of machinery and other schemes were not in hand and certain administrative sanctions had to be obtained for these schemes. Now these schemes are ready and Government had at its disposal only Rs. 1,13,000 and it had to divide this amount throughout the province. If it was going to divide it districtwise, the sum would have been of absolutely no use because there are 29 districts. Such a small sum as Rs. 1,13,000 would not have made any difference. So the Government adopted a scheme in order to encourage local initiative and local enterprise. They laid down the condition that only those villages will be allowed the benefit of this scheme which contribute, of course voluntarily, one-third the expenses of the scheme. This scheme relates only to the improvement of roads and those districts which are keen to improve the condition of their roads are required to meet one-third of the cost of this scheme, and only those districts which are prepared to agree to this condition will be allowed to derive a benefit out of this scheme. Only 11 districts came forward to contribute one-third of the cost voluntarily. Therefore the Government has allotted this amount among those districts and the amount placed at their disposal has been shown in the estimates, the amount allotted to each of the districts is stated quite clearly. In order to ensure the interest of efficiency the Government have had to do so. Of course, if more funds are available, the Government would be only too glad to provide money to all the districts in this way. With the present limited funds at its disposal Government could not do anything but formulate the scheme on this basis.

The other point raised by my honourable friend-Sardar Hari Singh was that this is going to be duplication and consequently waste of energy and money. My submission on this point is that village improvement is being done in the districts of the Punjab through several agencies. There are certain district boards who are helping in this scheme and there are also village community councils in each district. All these various agencies are engaged in this rural uplift work and so the Co-operative Department, which is one of the agencies, is doing, of course, very useful work. The kind of work for which this money is allotted required that some executive officers should be entrusted with this scheme, because of their experience of local conditions and the necessity of the co-operation of the district officials, i.e., patwaris, zaildars, tahsildars and naib-tahsildars and the revenue assistant. So the Government thought it wise to utilise the services of all these officials and has, therefore, decided to supplement the work done through the co-operative and other agencies by that of the district staff. What the district staff is going to do will be only this that they will be supplementing the activities of the Co-operative Department in the matter of the improvement of the village roads. Of course, the Co-operative Department has done very good work in this direction.

Mian Abdul Rab : The Parliamentary Secretary has been saying that so much amount has been allotted. May I know why such a big amount was allotted to the Multan division, and practically nothing has been given to the Jullundur division ?

Chaudhri Tika Ram : I have already explained that when this money, that is, Rs. 1,13,000 was available, suggestions were invited from various districts and this scheme of voluntary contribution was sent to all the districts. The districts that came forward and accepted this scheme have been allowed to have the benefit of the scheme. If more districts of the Multan division are ready and willing to benefit and accept the condition laid down by the Government, then, of course, those districts will also have the benefit of this scheme. Government had an open mind in this matter and made an offer to all the districts and only those districts which came forward to make voluntary contribution to the extent of one-third of the cost of the scheme have been allowed to have the benefit. If more districts come in, Government will very sympathetically consider the case of these districts. There are certain districts which are more interested in the scheme than others. Government has done nothing objectionable : it has only made an open offer to all the districts in the Punjab and only those districts which are prepared to accept the condition of contributing one-third of the cost of the scheme have been allowed to derive benefit from the scheme. If more funds are available Government will be too glad to allot various funds in the next budget. Therefore, I submit that there is absolutely no duplication. The district staff will only supplement the activities in this direction of the co-operative department and of the district boards and community councils and will only confine its activities to the improvement of village roads and as the co-operation of the revenue staff is very essential in this matter, this work could only be done with the help of the district officers. Therefore the Government has thought it wise to put this sum at the disposal of the district officers. I hope this should satisfy my learned friends Sardar Hari Singh and Sardar Kapoor Singh. I request they should withdraw the cut motion after the explanation I have given.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker resumed the chair.)

Sayed Amjad Ali Shah (Ferozepore East, Muhammadan, Rural): Sir, I have no intention to make a long speech. I only want to bring one point to the notice of my honourable friends on the opposite benches. They claim to have their hand on the pulse of the masses, but I am surprised to find that in this case they are rather ignorant. They do not realise what benefit roads can give to the agriculturists and consequently how keen the villagers feel over this problem of good roads. I would only draw their attention to what has happened in my district. There is a certain kutchha road at present running from Ferozepore to Mullanwala and the villagers on either side of this road have gone so far as to suggest to the district board that they would contribute a sum of one lakh if this road was made pucca. I am just giving this illustration to show how strongly the villagers feel on the subject of good roads. There is absolutely no question of coercion because if this scheme is put forward the majority of villagers will themselves come forward and support the scheme. My honourable friend tried to argue that if the Government have got no money, they should wait. I on the other hand think that by co-operation, some money coming from the villagers and some from the Government, such good schemes should be taken in hand as soon as possible, so that people might derive benefit as early as they can and if the Government have no funds to meet the entire cost then we should not wait, but better achieve something rather than nothing.

Pir Akbar Ali (Fazilka, Muhammadan, Rural): Sir, I have no intention to oppose this cut motion because I infer that the intention with which this motion has been made is not bad. But I think it is a lack of knowledge with which my honourable friend has brought forward this cut motion. The Parliamentary Secretary has fully explained how this sum is proposed to be spent. The districts, which have satisfied the Government that they will fulfil their quota, have been given this amount. But I would submit that there has been one defect in the distribution of that amount. Multan division is given more than its just share. It has been given Rs. 59,797, while, as a matter of fact, that division cannot claim to have done anything up to this time. Similarly, the Lahore division is also given Rs. 35,000 and that also, as a matter of fact, cannot claim to have done anything by way of self-help, while, in the Ferozepore district, the Bagha purana Nihalsinghwalla بگھا پورانا نھال سنگھ والہ road has been made by the villagers, the labour has been supplied by the villagers and only the material is supplied by the district board. Similarly in the case of Mukhu-Ferozepore road, people came forward with an offer that they would contribute a lakh of rupees if the material was given by the district board or the Government, or in the alternative, they were ready to give labour. None of the districts which have been given big amounts can claim to have done anything at all. I submit that the distribution made by the Government is very bad, and, therefore, I take exception to that. But I do not agree with the honourable mover of this cut motion that the villagers should not be required to contribute anything by way of labour or by way of contribution in money, because if the villagers are ignorant now and are not taught the lesson of self-help, the Government will not be doing anything for them. But the time will come when the villagers will know how to make their own roads themselves. So they must be taught a lesson of self-help. Do you wish that Government should plough for them, sow for them, cut for them and reap for them? No. You should rather congratulate the Government on the fact that they are going to teach a lesson of self-help to the villagers. On that ground, I think that this motion, though it might have good intentions, was brought forward through lack of knowledge and I hope that my honourable friend will withdraw it.

Mr. Speaker: The question is that—

That the item of Rs. 91,550 on account of Village Improvement Scheme through district staff, be reduced by Rs. 100.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker: The question is that—

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 1,00,630 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of General Administration.

The motion was carried.

OTHER DEMANDS.

The following motions were then put from the Chair and adopted:—

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 10,000 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Education (excluding European and Anglo-Indian Education).

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 10,500 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Medical.

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 22,100 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Co-operation.

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 55,900 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Industries.

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 51,300 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Civil Works.

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 1,35,700 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Civil Works not charged to Revenue.

A supplementary sum not exceeding Rs. 41,100 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Miscellaneous.

A token sum not exceeding Rs. 10 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1939, in respect of Capital Outlay on Hydro-Electric Scheme.

The Assembly then adjourned till 3 P.M. on Tuesday, 28th June, 1938.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Sad SESSION OF THE 1st PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Tuesday, 28th June, 1938.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 2 p. m. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the chair.

OATH OF OFFICE.

Mr. Dev Raj Sethi (Lyallpur and Jhang, General, Rural) was sworn in.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

FILM OF HIS MAJESTY THE KING'S CORONATION.

*2847. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state whether the Rural Reconstruction Department has recently secured a film of His Majesty the King's Coronation; if so, the purpose for which it has been obtained ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : Part (i) Yes.

Part (ii) The object was to place within the reach of those who have neither the means nor the opportunities to go to foreign countries certain products of the film industry calculated to interest them.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Has any money been paid by the Rural Reconstruction Department as price of this film ?

Minister : It must have been paid.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What is the cost of the film ?

Minister : I cannot give that information off-hand.

Sardar Hari Singh : In what manner is this film going to help to improve the economic condition of the agricultural classes ?

Minister : I did not say so.

Sardar Hari Singh : What for, then, was this film bought ?

Minister : I have not specified the object in my answer.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is it to drive home the lesson of imperialism ?

Minister : I have not said so in the answer.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : How is this film going to help the rural reconstruction work ?

Sardar Hari Singh : Is it not, then, a waste of money to have purchased this film ?

Minister : No.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it the object of the Rural Reconstruction Department to show such films to the villagers ?

Minister : Yes.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What is the object served by the film ?

Minister : Entertainment.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is the Honourable Minister aware that this film would be a rude reminder to the people of their subjection and slavery ?

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

FEES PAID BY THE FAMILY WARD PATIENTS IN MAYO AND LADY WILLINGDON MATERNITY HOSPITALS.

*2848. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether the fees of medical officers paid by patients who stay in family wards of the Mayo Hospital and Lady Willingdon Maternity Hospital, Lahore, are paid by the patients direct to the medical officers or through the Government ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : Fees from patients treated in the Private and Family Wards of the Mayo and Lady Willingdon Hospitals, Lahore, are realised through the office of the Medical Superintendents concerned. Some patients in the Mayo Hospital have paid their fees direct to the medical officers in spite of written notices in all the rooms of the Private and Family Wards. The Medical Superintendent has been instructed to take immediate steps to stop this practice.

FEES CHARGED BY DOCTORS FROM THE PATIENTS IN FAMILY WARDS OF THE MAYO HOSPITAL.

*2849. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether the medical officers in charge of family wards of Mayo Hospital and Lady Willingdon Maternity Hospital charge fees higher than what are fixed by the Government ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : No such case has come to the notice of Government.

Sardar Hari Singh : Did the Honourable Minister set up an enquiry and satisfy himself that the allegation was not true ?

Minister : No enquiry was set up.

CONFESSIONS MADE IN SESSIONS CASES.

*2850. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Finance Minister be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of confessions made by the accused in Sessions cases while the crimes were being investigated by the police from 1st April, 1937, to 31st March, 1938, in the Punjab ;
- (b) the number of cases among these Sessions cases in which confessions were retracted ;
- (c) the number of convictions in the Sessions cases above mentioned in spite of retraction of confessions ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : It is regretted that the information asked for cannot be given without an expenditure of time and labour incommensurate with the results to be achieved.

STATISTICAL RECORDS MAINTAINED BY LOCAL BODIES OF CATTLE.

*2851. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any statistical records are maintained by the Government in order to show the number of milch cows, buffaloes, and goats within the municipalities, notified areas, small towns, and rural areas in the Punjab ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, what was the number of cows, she-buffaloes and milch goats in the Punjab in the years 1936 and 1937 ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

LEGISLATION TO CONTROL IMPORT OF FOREIGN DRUGS IN INDIA.

*2852. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether he has received any request from Doctor Bidhan Chandra Roy, President of the Indian Medical Association, to move the Government of India to undertake legislation with a view to control the import of foreign drugs in India ; if so, what action has been taken or is intended to be taken ?

The Honourable Dr. Sunder Singh Majithia : Yes. It was considered that the matter was one for the Central Government.

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN PUNJAB GOVERNMENT AND SECRETARY OF STATE.

*2853. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether since the introduction of Provincial Autonomy, the Punjab Government corresponds direct with the Secretary of State for India in matters regarding services in respect of which the Secretary of State for India is under the Government of India Act, 1935, the final authority ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the negative, whether any channel of communication has been prescribed after 1st April, 1937; and if so, what is that channel ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) No.

(b) No.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has not the Punjab Government at all considered the question of high salaries of the Indian Civil Service and other officers ?

Parliamentary Secretary : There is another question with regard to that matter and when it comes up it will be answered.

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN PUNJAB GOVERNMENT AND SECRETARY OF STATE.

*2854. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Secretary of State has been addressed by the Punjab Government after 1st April, 1937, regarding the reduction of salaries of present or future holders of posts borne on the cadres of services to which recruitment is made by him ; and if so, with what result ;
- (b) whether he will be pleased to place the aforesaid despatch on the table of the House ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

Lala Duni Chand : Why was not a representation made to the Secretary of State for India in regard to the reduction of the salaries of those services whose appointment is in the hands of the Secretary of State ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I require notice of the question.

Munshi Hari Lal : Does the Government intend to make a representation to the Secretary of State on the subject ?

Parliamentary Secretary : That question also requires notice.

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN PUNJAB GOVERNMENT AND SECRETARY OF STATE.

*2855. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Punjab Government has ever addressed the Secretary of State for India after 1st April, 1937, on the question of the provincialization of the Indian Civil Service or the Indian Police Service ; if so, with what result ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) is in the affirmative, whether the despatch will be laid down on the table of the House ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

GORDON COLLEGE, RAWALPINDI.

*2856. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government is aware that under provisions of the Punjab Medical Registration Act, appointments of medical officers in Government aided institutions can be held by registered medical practitioners only ;

(b) whether it is a fact that Gordon College, Rawalpindi, which is a Government aided institution, has engaged the services of a German Doctor whose medical qualifications are not registrable in this province; if so, the steps Government propose to take in this matter; if not, why not?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes. The matter is being enquired into by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Punjab, and necessary action will be taken in due course.

COMPLAINT AGAINST THE PATWARI OF VILLAGE KASNI.

*2857. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that a representation signed by a large number of zamindars of village Kasni (Jhajjar) against the patwari of the village requesting for a departmental inquiry was recently submitted to the Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, through me and that the same was returned on 29th March, 1938, with the remark that the applicants be directed to appear personally in the court with application duly stamped; if so, the grounds on which this remark was based and the action that Government propose to take in the matter?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Yes. The Deputy Commissioner only demanded observance of proper procedure and Government propose to take no action in the matter.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is there any specific procedure fixed for applying for a departmental enquiry?

Minister : Yes.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : What is that procedure? What special method is adopted in case a departmental enquiry is demanded?

Minister : It is for the person concerned to put in an application and not for the honourable member.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : A matter concerning the public is everybody's concern.

Minister : It is more a matter for the persons concerned?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is it a fact that when an application was made to the Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, the applicants were asked to apply on a stamped paper?

Minister : Is it the object of the honourable member to find out whether a duly stamped application is regular or irregular? The question of stamps is not now under consideration.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is it compulsory for a person who applies for the institution of a departmental enquiry against a Government servant to submit the application in person?

Minister : He can simply send in his application and if it is considered necessary for the officer to call him he will do so.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : I made it clear in my question that the zamindars who requested for the departmental enquiry against the patwari were asked to appear personally with a duly stamped application?

Minister : Was the application sent to the Deputy Commissioner or to the honourable member ?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : It was sent to the Deputy Commissioner through me.

Minister : The Deputy Commissioner must have told them to apply to him direct.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is it necessary for an applicant to appear in person or can he submit his application by post ?

Minister : It is for the applicant to decide and not for me.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not too well known a fact that applications of this kind do not require any stamps ?

Mr. Speaker : That is a matter of law. It cannot be decided on the floor of this House.

Lala Duni Chand : It forms the subject matter of the question.

Mr. Speaker : May be, but questions asking for expression of opinion on matters of law cannot be asked.

Lala Duni Chand : My point is that if the law does not require any stamp duty on such applications, why did the Deputy Commissioner insist on their being stamped ?

Mr. Speaker : That is a matter which should be referred to higher judicial authorities.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not the duty of the Honourable Minister to enquire from the Deputy Commissioner whether he insisted on the affixing of stamps on the application ?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is it a fact that the application was returned because it was sent by post ? Would it have been accepted if it had been delivered to the Deputy Commissioner in person ?

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

EXACTION OF BEGAR FROM THE HARIJAN CHAMARS OF VILLAGE SHAHZADPUR (SONEPAT).

*2853. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government is aware that the Harijan Chamars of village Shahzadpur (Sonapat) sent a representation not very long ago to the Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, through me against the high-handedness of particular Government and semi-Government servants for exacting begar from them ;
- (b) whether Government is aware that the same representation was returned to me on 29th March last with the remark that the aggrieved persons be directed to appear in the court with application duly stamped ;
- (c) the reasons why the district authorities do not entertain applications for departmental action against the subordinates ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) A representation purporting to be from some Chamars and containing certain allegations against the lambardars of village Shahzadpur was presented to the Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, by the honourable member.

(b) Yes.

(c) Government do not agree that insistence by local authorities on the due observance of proper procedure can be regarded as refusal to entertain applications for departmental action.

Chaudhri Faqir Chand : Is it a fact that many depressed class people have been forced to leave their villages on account of the police exacting begar from them? What has the Government done to ameliorate their condition?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : May I know the proper procedure in submitting applications requiring departmental enquiry?

Minister : Everybody knows the proper procedure. It is not the proper procedure to submit applications through my honourable friend.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Even when they are submitted through some responsible persons?

Minister : That is interference with the district administration.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Would it be in contravention of the proper procedure if five persons make such an application?

Minister : No.

Sardar Mula Singh : Did not more than five gentlemen make a complaint before the Deputy Commissioner?

Minister : If they have put in an application in the proper form, he will certainly make enquiries.

Sardar Partab Singh : Was that application sent through Pandit Shri Ram Sharma not addressed to the Deputy Commissioner?

Minister : I am not going to recognise that procedure.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Are there any rules for addressing an application in a proper form?

Minister : We are not going to interfere with the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner.

Sardar Partab Singh : Does it mean that when an honourable member sends an application then that application is not in the proper form?

Minister : If the application is sent on his own behalf, it will certainly be in order.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : May I know whether the reason of returning the representation was that the application was sent by post?

Minister : Where was the necessity for doing so?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : If it had been handed over personally, would it have been acceptable?

Minister : Certainly. We do not want the honourable member to go and interfere with the district administration.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is the forwarding of an application by a member of the Assembly going to be construed by the Government as interference with the administration of justice ?

Minister : It is interference between the man and the Deputy Commissioner.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Does not the Honourable Minister think that the idea is to bring the matter more prominently to the notice of the authorities concerned ?

Minister : It is a matter of opinion.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do I take it that the mere fact that an application has been forwarded by a member of the Assembly vitiates the merits of that application ?

Mr. Speaker : That is an argument.

SUICIDE COMMITTED BY MAHESH DUTT SHARMA OF THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

*2859. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether one Mahesh Dutt Sharma, vaccinator of the Health Department, Karnal, committed suicide on 8rd December, 1967 ;
- (b) whether the letter which he left behind in his pocket complaining against the Health Officer, and the Vaccination Superintendent was brought to the notice of the Government ;
- (c) whether the Government made any inquiry into the allegations contained in the above-mentioned letter of the deceased ;
- (d) if the answer to (b) and (c) above be in the negative, the reasons therefor ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) A letter was produced during the inquest containing an allegation that the suicide was induced by ill-health for which the Vaccination Superintendent and the Health Officer were responsible. The letter, however, did not throw any light as to how these officials were responsible for his ill-health.

(c) No.

(d) No specific allegations were made in the letter in regard to which enquiries might have been held.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN GENERAL AND SPECIAL GROUPS OF AGRICULTURIST CLASS IN MAKING RECRUITMENT TO SERVICES.

*2860. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether in recruitment to the services in the Punjab any distinction is made regarding the general and special groups of the agriculturist class ;
- (b) whether the practice in this respect is the same in all the departments of the Punjab Government ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) and (b) I presume the honourable member refers to the distinction between district groups and separate groups of agricultural tribes notified under the Alienation of Land Act. In regard to recruitment for Government service this distinction is irrelevant. In recruitment for Government service regard is paid not to the question whether a person is or is not a member of an agricultural tribe, but whether he is a zamindar, i.e., whether he is a hereditary proprietor or tenure holder of agricultural land mainly dependent thereon and residing in a rural area or a cultivator of such land. The question whether this definition should be further clarified is under consideration.

INCLUSION OF JANGRA BRAHMINS OF ROHTAK AMONG AGRICULTURISTS.

*2861. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Khatias, who call themselves Jangra Brahmins, of Rohtak, have recently approached the Government with a representation that they may be included among agriculturists ;
- (b) whether those people presented an address of welcome to the Honourable Minister of Development at Rohtak, with this representation in view ;
- (c) whether the matter is under the consideration of the Government ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes, but their representation was returned to them for presentation to local officers.

(b) Yes.

(c) Does not arise.

JUDGMENT DELIVERED BY SESSIONS JUDGE, RAWALPINDI IN APPEAL FILED BY ONE FERDOSH KHAN.

*2862. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the result of the examination by Government regarding the judgment of the Rawalpindi Sessions Judge referred to in my starred question No. 1762,<sup>1</sup> dated 24th February, 1938 ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : The aggrieved persons have filed applications in the High Court for the expunction of the remarks made against them by the Sessions Judge. In addition the Financial Commissioners have ordered a departmental enquiry.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Am I to understand that this finding of the District and Sessions Judge has been questioned by the Financial Commissioners ?

Parliamentary Secretary : What I stated was that the parties concerned have moved the High Court for the expunction of the remarks. In the meantime a departmental enquiry on the basis of these remarks has been ordered by the Financial Commissioner.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do the Government approve of the Financial Commissioners ordering an enquiry in the presence of the final judgment of the District and Sessions Judge ?

Parliamentary Secretary : The procedure is that when remarks are made against a particular officer who has not had a right or an opportunity to defend himself with regard to those remarks, he is given an option or an opportunity to defend himself before action is taken.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : When the Sessions Judge acquitted this man, could the Financial Commissioners punish him ?

Parliamentary Secretary : There are cases where if in a judicial court full legal proof is not available but otherwise there is sufficient proof to show that though the facts as proved do not bring the case technically within the Penal Code but they amount to clear departmental improper action or indiscretion or inefficiency, I feel sure that the House would require the Government to take suitable action in such cases.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Do all the reasons which the honourable member has stated apply in this case ?

Parliamentary Secretary : Yes and no.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : If they do not apply, then why should the Financial Commissioners interfere in the matter ?

Parliamentary Secretary : They must have prima facie applied and then the enquiry was ordered and whether they actually apply will depend on the result of the enquiry.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Has the honourable member studied the case ?

Parliamentary Secretary : My honourable friend should give us the credit of doing our duty.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : My question is, has the honourable member studied the case ? And is he satisfied that the Financial Commissioners have acted rightly ?

Parliamentary Secretary : My honourable friend may take it that we are not in the habit of answering questions without studying the cases.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Why does not the honourable member give a definite reply ?

Parliamentary Secretary : Yes, [Sir, I have studied the case.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Then why does he say both 'yes' and 'no' ?

Parliamentary Secretary : Because his question does not arise out of the question tabled and if my honourable friend had been more careful in tabling his question or if he had asked for all the information that he required, he would have got it straight off.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : My question is quite clear and it contained everything.

MURDER OF SHRIMATI KISHEN DEVI, WIFE OF LALA SARAB DIAL.

*2863. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether the inquiry in the case referred to in my question No. *1498,<sup>1</sup> dated 24th January, 1938, is complete ; if so, whether the culprit has been arrested and the case challaned ; if not, when will it be completed ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) : The investigation into the murder of Shrimati Kishen Devi has now been completed. The case was filed as untraced on the 10th June, 1938, as no clue as to the identity of the culprits could be obtained. The investigation will of course be resumed, should further evidence come to light hereafter.

RESOLUTIONS AND BILLS.

*2864. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of resolutions given notice of by the honourable members of this Assembly during the last financial year and the number of resolutions discussed and disposed of ;
- (b) the action taken on the resolutions passed by the Assembly ;
- (c) the number of private bills given notice of during the last financial year ;
- (d) the number of bills introduced or allowed to reach further stages ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) The number of resolutions which were individually numbered prior to the 4th January, 1938, was 2,738, but the actual number would be considerably less if all the several resolutions which were exactly similar were treated as one resolution. Subsequent to the 4th January identical resolutions were all given only one number with the result that from that date to the 31st March, 1938, the total number was 275. The number of resolutions discussed and disposed of is nine.

(b) The honourable member is referred to the statement<sup>2</sup> laid on the table on the 27th January, 1938. The action taken on resolutions passed subsequent to the period covered by that statement will be similarly communicated to the House in due course.

(c) 39.

(d) 12.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that under the existing conditions the right of moving private bills and resolutions is not of any practical use or value ?

Mr. Speaker : That is a matter of opinion.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if the Government is prepared to do anything in the matter of giving greater facilities to the honourable members of this House with regard to moving of private Bills and resolutions ?

Mian Sultan Mahmood Hotiana : Has the Government appointed any committee about the Canal Department about which a resolution has been passed by this House ?

Mr. Speaker : That question does not arise from the question about the number of resolutions.

*2365-86.—Cancelled.

PASTEUR INSTITUTE AT KASAUJI.

*2367. Lala Duni Chand : With reference to the reply to my question No. *848<sup>1</sup> put on the 11th January, 1938, will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether the matter of the amalgamation of the Pasteur Institute of India, Kasauli, with the Central Research Institute, Kasauli, referred to the Punjab Government has been considered; if so, the decision or conclusion arrived at by them ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haya : Yes. In view of the economies that are likely to be effected the Punjab Government have agreed to the proposal that the Pasteur Institute of India, Kasauli, should be closed down and the Central Research Institute there should undertake the manufacture and issue of anti-rabic vaccine and maintain a treatment centre and quarters for 25 indigent patients.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if the Government knows anything about the disposal of the buildings belonging to the Pasteur Institute ?

Minister : That matter is being enquired into.

Lala Duni Chand : How is the valuable property of the Institute going to be disposed of ?

Minister : All the buildings are not being transferred and we have asked the Institute to put up their proposals about those that are not required.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that the work of the Institute is going to be actually transferred to the Central Research Institute ?

Minister : I have already answered that question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Does the arrangement include the transfer of the services of the officers ?

Minister : I do not know anything about that. We are not interested in these officers.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know how many employees will be brought under reduction as a result of these arrangements ?

Minister : I have told you that the Punjab Government is not interested in any officers or servants.

MONOPOLIES FOR FLYING MOTOR VEHICLES.

*2368. Lala Duni Chand : With reference to the reply to question No. *140<sup>2</sup> asked on 25th June, 1937, will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether any of those monopolies have been withdrawn so far and whether motor vehicles free of any restriction have been allowed to be run on any of the roads mentioned therein ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Yes, on the following ten roads—

- (1) Fatehjang-Gandakhas road in the Attock district.
  - (2) Khushab to Pail in the Shahpur district.
  - (3) Amritsar-Mehta road ..
  - (4) Amritsar-Lopoke road ..
  - (5) Baba Bakala-Mehta road ..
  - (6) Amritsar-Jhabal road ..
- } in the Amritsar district.
- (7) Mandi Baha-ud-Din-Phalia road in the Gujrat district.
  - (8) Mandi Baha-ud-Din to Kothala Sheikhan and Qadarabad in the Gujrat district.
  - (9) Garbhanker-Santokhgarh, and
  - (10) Balachaur-Nurpur roads in the Hoshiarpur district.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that according to the statement made earlier by the Honourable Minister even previously the number of monopolies was 65 and that now a larger number of people are being given monopolies for the use of the roads? If so, whether the Government is not going to abolish the system of monopolies ?

Minister : My honourable friend is assuming too much. We are making enquiries about these monopolies and wherever any difficulty is experienced by the people we will consider the question but we are not going to abolish the monopolies in this manner.

Lala Duni Chand : May I invite the attention of the Honourable Minister to his own admission that there were something like 65 roads on which monopolies had been granted ?

Minister : I think the reply to that question is quite clear.

Lala Duni Chand : Does not the Minister consider it scandalous that monopolies should be granted on King's road to particular persons and only particular persons be allowed to ply on those roads ?

Minister : Is that question permissible ?

Lala Duni Chand : That is the object of the question.

Minister : I want the ruling of the chair.

Mr. Speaker : If instead of using the word "scandalous," the honourable member had used the word "unfair," there would have been no objection.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know whether the question of abolition of monopolies is going to be considered by the Government, or has been considered by it ?

Minister : The Government will consider any complaint that is received in this connection.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that a large number of representations have been made to the local authorities and the Government to the effect that this system of granting monopolies should be abolished ?

Minister : I am not aware.

PURCHASE OF INDIAN AND NON-INDIAN ARTICLES.

*269. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that articles manufactured in India are now being preferred to those manufactured in other countries when these are required for use in the various departments and institutions under the Government ;
- (b) if so, the approximate amount of money spent in purchasing Indian and non-Indian articles so far during the present financial year by the Punjab Government and local bodies for use in the various departments and institutions under their control ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Yes—to the utmost extent consistent with economy and efficiency.

(b) The labour and expense involved in collecting this information would not be commensurate with the results likely to be achieved.

TRAVELLING ALLOWANCES DRAWN BY SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE, LUDHIANA.

*270. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the travelling allowances drawn by the Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana, in the months of April and May, 1938, and the places visited by him in pursuit of the proclaimed offenders ;
- (b) the number of proclaimed offenders arrested by the raiding party headed by the Superintendent of Police ;
- (c) the travelling allowances drawn by the City Inspector, Ludhiana ;
- (d) the date since which the work of the District Inspector has been entrusted to the City Inspector ; and
- (e) whether a City Inspector has been given anywhere thanas for supervision and inspection ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :
(a) Rs. 118-11-0 for visits paid to the jurisdiction of Police Stations Shehna and Sidhwan Bet.

(b) Two armed outlaws were arrested by parties led by the Superintendent of Police personally, in addition 17 proclaimed offenders were arrested in April and May, 1938, as the result of measures ordered by the Superintendent of Police.

(c) Rs. 84-10-0.

(d) From the 1st May, 1936.

(e) I am not making enquiries from districts. A City Inspector is not as a rule required to supervise thanas outside the city. But when the District Inspector of Ludhiana went on a refresher course in May last the Superintendent of Police considered the most convenient course would be to transfer his work temporarily to the City Inspector (in addition to the latter's ordinary duties), and Government have no criticism to make of the arrangement.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Is he aware of the fact that on account of absence of the City Inspector the crime has increased in the Ludhiana town ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am not aware of it.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Is he aware of the fact that the number of registered cases has increased ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I require notice for that.

Sardar Kapoor Singh : Was the City Inspector given any allowance for additional duties or not ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I require notice for that question also.

ORDERLIES OF A SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE.

*2671. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) the number of orderlies that a Superintendent of Police is allowed to keep under the police rules ;

(b) the number of orderlies that the present Superintendent of Police keeps ; and if more orderlies are kept by him than one the name of each of them, their educational qualifications and their home district ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

(a) One Constable orderly.

(b) It is not clear to which Superintendent of Police the honourable member refers.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : All the Superintendents of Police in the province ?

Parliamentary Secretary : If the honourable member will give notice of that question I shall get the information collected.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Are the duties of these orderlies defined anywhere ? What duties are to be exacted from these orderlies ?

Parliamentary Secretary : This does not arise out of this question.

COMPLAINTS OF CORRUPTION RECEIVED BY SUPERINTENDENT, POLICE, LUDHIANA.

*2672. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) how many complaints of corruption were received or came to the notice of the present Superintendent of Police and what action, if any, was taken in each case ;

[Ch. Muhammad Hassan.]

- (b) how many out of these complaints were proved to be true and how the offenders were dealt with, judicially or departmentally ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Babadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :
(a) The honourable member is referred to the reply given to his question No. *2581<sup>1</sup>. Subsequent to 1st April, 1938, two complaints of corruption were received by the Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana.

(b) Enquiry showed that one was false, while the second is under enquiry.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Is it a fact that one Munsha Singh made a complaint of corruption to the Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana ?

Mr. Speaker : That question gives rather than seeks information and is therefore disallowed.

DACOITS AND ABSCONDERS NEAR SEDHWAN BET.

*2873. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that dacoits and absconders haunt the neighbourhood of Sedhwan Bet, Manaka, Malha, Rasulpur villages of the Sedhwan Bet and Jagraon police stations and Rajewana, Kamalpur, Nurpur, Herain of Raikot Shehna and Dhapali of the Shehna police station ;
- (b) whether police patrolling parties were formed for the purpose of extensive patrolling in the ilaqas mentioned above ;
- (c) whether Superintendent of Police recommended some respectable people of the district for gun licences ; if so, the names of all those persons, their parentage, education and the extent of their property ;
- (d) whether the tahsildars were also consulted at the time of recommendations for gun licences ;
- (e) the number of gun licence-holders of each of the three tahsils in the Ludhiana district ;
- (f) the number of pistol or revolver licence-holders in each of the three tahsils in the Ludhiana district ;
- (g) whether pistol or revolver licence-holders are greater in number in towns and cities than in the villages in the Ludhiana district ; if so, the reason for the same ;
- (h) the name, place of residence, status and education of each of the pistol or revolver licence-holders ;
- (i) the considerations that prevail with the District Magistrate for granting pistol or revolver licences ;
- (j) whether tahsildars are also consulted in the matter of grant of licences for pistols and revolvers ;

- (b) the number of pistol or revolver licences that were granted by the predecessor of the present District Magistrate ;
- (d) the names of all these with their places of residence, their educational qualifications and the extent of their property as well as the services rendered to the administration by each one of them ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

(a) This ilaga has a reputation for sheltering dacoits and absconders.

(b) Two head constables and ten foot constables, all armed were deputed under the charge of an assistant sub-inspector to patrol the area of police stations Jagraon, Sedhwan Bet, Raikot and Shehna. This patrol has now been replaced by a section of mounted police consisting of one head constable and ten constables.

(c) No.

(d) The tahsildars are consulted regarding the financial status and general standing of applicants for licences.

(e) Ludhiana tahsil	..	..	..	..	715
Jagraon tahsil	..	..	..	..	228
Samrala	..	..	..	..	162
(f) Ludhiana tahsil	..	..	..	..	182
Jagraon tahsil	..	..	..	..	40
Samrala tahsil	..	..	..	..	12

(g) No. The number of pistol and revolver licences in villages is 99, and in towns, 85.

(h) The list runs to six pages, and I am giving instruction for it to be sent to the honourable member.

(i) Licences for pistols and revolvers are granted only in cases of real necessity to persons of approved character.

(j) Not necessarily in all cases.

(k) Six.

(l) A statement is laid on the table. Other details are not available.

Statement.

1. Lala Rakha Ram Ahluwalia, Proprietor Raikhy Theatre, Ludhiana. Was granted only for one year.
2. Dr. Autar Singh of village Ayali Kalan. Temporary licence was granted as he brought the weapon from Africa.
3. Dr. Sher Singh, L.M.D., Military Hospital, Lucknow, of village Pohir in this district. The revolver formed a part of his equipment.
4. Lala Diwan Chand, Sub-Divisional Officer, Canals, Jagraon.
5. Sardar Gopal Singh, M.L.A., of village Lal.
6. Captain Dr. Gurbakhsh Singh, P.C.M.S., Civil Hospital, Ludhiana (now at Amritsar). His revolver formed a part of his equipment.

TYPEWRITING MACHINES USED IN GOVERNMENT OFFICES.

*2874. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of typewriting machines used in Government offices throughout the Punjab and the annual amount spent on cleaning them ;
- (b) the annual amount spent on repairs and replacement of new parts of these machines ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : It is regretted that the information is not readily available. The time and labour involved in collecting the figures required will not be commensurate with the results.

Sardar Partab Singh : Is the Government quite sure that the time and labour involved in collecting the figures required will not be commensurate with the purpose for which the question is put ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN GOVERNMENT AND REMINGTON AND BONEO TYPEWRITER COMPANIES.

*2875. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased—

- (a) to lay on the table of the House the agreement entered between Government and Remington and Boneo Typewriter Companies, for inspecting, cleaning and repairing of typewriters, which came into effect from 1st October, 1931 ; and state
- (b) whether the tenders were called for before entering into the above contract ; if not, the reasons for not doing it ;
- (c) whether the Government received any applications from other firms than those mentioned above offering better and cheaper services ;
- (d) whether this agreement has placed a bar upon repair of typewriters by other firms, with the result that the offices are compelled to get dearer services than those available in the market locally ;
- (e) whether Government has received any complaint from any office regarding the dearer contract entered into by the Punjab Government ; if so, whether he would lay on the table of the House the correspondence that took place in this connexion, for the information of the honourable members ;
- (f) whether Government is aware of the fact that Honourable Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan, the then Revenue Member, in reply to question No. *5074<sup>1</sup> by Sardar Jawahar Singh Dhillon promised to revise this arrangement ; if so, what steps have been taken in the matter so far ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Copies of the agreements<sup>2</sup> are placed on the table of the House.

(b) and (c). Tenders were called ; but considering that these companies do not sell their spare parts, it has been found necessary in the public interest that the repairing, cleaning, etc., should be entrusted to accredited representatives of respective manufacturers of type-writing machines.

(d) As explained under (b) Government considered it advantageous to place the work of repairs in hands of the accredited representatives of the firms concerned ; so obviously others had to be barred out.

(e) Only one complaint in 1932 was received and the question was referred by the Deputy Commissioner to Government and it was dealt with under the agreement entered into with the firm.

(f) Yes, but after careful examination it was found necessary in the interests of economy and efficiency to maintain existing arrangements.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT AND PRIVATE COMMERCIAL COLLEGES.

*2876. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Education Department has issued any order prohibiting the recognition of private commercial colleges, regardless of their equipment and efficiency ; if so, the reasons for doing this ;

(b) the number of commercial colleges privately managed that applied for recognition and were refused ;

(c) whether any privately managed commercial colleges in the Punjab are recognised by the Education Department ; if so, their names and particulars ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haya : (a) The Punjab Education Department does not entertain applications for the recognition of privately managed Commercial Colleges as the existing institutions maintained by Government are quite sufficient to meet the demand. Moreover, the future of vocational training is under the consideration of Government.

(b) One.

(c) The Continuation Clerical classes maintained by the Young Men's Christian Association, Lahore, are approved since these classes, which were originally the only classes maintained by Government, were handed over to the Young Men's Christian Association in 1907.

GRIEVANCES OF SIKH UPPER SUBORDINATES IN IRRIGATION BRANCH.

*2877. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that none of the ten upper subordinates in the Irrigation Branch, promoted in recent years to Sub-Engineer grade, is a Sikh ;

[5. Partab Singh.]

- (b) whether it is also a fact that some of the Sikh Upper Subordinates fulfil all the necessary conditions laid down for such promotions and are drawing maximum pay of their present grade for the last several years ;
- (c) if reply to (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, the steps that he proposes to take to remove the grievances of the Sikh community in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes. There are not 10 but 9 sub-engineers ;

(b) Yes. Two only ;

(c) Promotion to the rank of sub-engineer is by selection. Upper subordinates who fulfil the conditions of the Punjab (Residue) Service Irrigation Branch Rules of 1935 are promoted by selection. In making selections, however, requisite qualifications being there, endeavour is made to remove the inequalities of any community not properly represented.

DAMAGE TO CROPS DUE TO BREACH IN INUNDATION CANAL NEAR SIDHAWAN BET IN LUDHIANA DISTRICT.

*2878. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Inundation canal (commonly known as King's way) near Sidhawan Bet in Ludhiana district in consequence of great flow of water, recently broke its embankments and the water damaged the fields of several villages in the neighbourhood ;
- (b) if the reply to the above be in the affirmative, whether the Collector or the Revenue Assistant and the Tahsildar of Jagraon, District Ludhiana, inspected the damaged fields and the said Inundation canal ;
- (c) the amount of the loss ascertained ;
- (d) whether Government intend to grant remission of land revenue and afford relief to the sufferers ;
- (e) the number of villages in the jurisdiction of Sidhawan Bet thana of the Ludhiana district that were affected ;
- (f) whether Government propose to take any action to avoid recurrence of such an incident in future ;
- (g) whether Government have been able to ascertain the cause of this breach and consequent flood ;
- (h) the name and designation of the officer who made the inquiry into the matter ;
- (i) whether the inquiry was verified by some senior revenue officer of the Ludhiana district ;
- (j) the area of land which remained under water and for how many days ;
- (k) whether officers of the Irrigation Department regularly inspect the banks of the said canal; and, if so, the date of last inspection by an officer of the Canal Department, his report, if any, with regard to this canal ;
- (l) the time taken to make the last repairs to the canal banks and the expenditure incurred in making these repairs ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : I regret the answer to this question is not yet ready.

CASES REGISTERED AT POLICE STATION KAHUTA.

*2879. Sardar Partap Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of cases registered at the police station Kahuta, district Rawalpindi, since April, 1936, and the number of cases among them which ended in conviction of the accused ;
- (b) the number of challans brought before the court, by the police of Kahuta, since April, 1936, when Mr. Mohd. Mulak, Sub-Inspector, took charge of the thana and were subsequently withdrawn at the instance of the prosecution branch of the police ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

- (a) The figures are 140 and 46.
- (b) 84 and 2.

SCHEME TO KEEP ALL POLITICAL PRISONERS AT ONE PLACE.

*2880. Sardar Rur Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance please state if the Government has under consideration any scheme or arrangements which when completed will enable them to keep all the political prisoners at one place ; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Mr. Manshar Lal : No. Government does not feel the necessity of such a scheme. The scheme has practical difficulties, and apart from these the finances of the province do not permit such special provision as this would probably involve building a special jail.

Sardar Rur Singh : Does the company of ordinary prisoners not in any way affect the habits of the political prisoners ?

Minister : I do not know. The honourable member might know.

MENTAL RECREATION OF POLITICAL PRISONERS.

*2881. Sardar Rur Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) how and in what precise manner the Government provides for the mental recreation of the political prisoners, what definite amount the Government spends for the upkeep and renovation of the jail libraries, what amount is spent in supplying new literature and what is the exact number of books in a jail library of an average size ;
- (b) whether he is aware of the fact that the library in the Old Central Jail, Multan, has not received a single new book since a long time, and the books at present available there with a few exceptions are of a very low standard ; if so, the action proposed to be taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Opportunities for mental recreation are not based on the offence of prisoners. There are, however, some distinctions based on the jail classification of prisoners. All jails have a jail library containing books and some newspapers available for the use of all prisoners, while A and B class prisoners can, in addition, get six and three books respectively at a time from outside sources. In some cases also they are allowed to play games like chess.

A sum of Rs. 8,000 per annum is allotted for the jail libraries of the province. Government have under consideration a proposal to increase the number of newspapers available.

I regret I cannot state the exact number of books in a jail library of average size. There are 265 books in English, Urdu, Hindi, Gurmukhi and Arabic in the Old Central Jail library at Multan.

(b) The honourable member is misinformed. Some new books have been purchased during the present financial year for this library. The books available provide for the needs of prisoners with different standards of education but Government has no reason to believe that books of a high standard are not sufficiently represented.

CIVIL SURGEONS AND THEIR HOURS OF WORK IN DISTRICT JAILS.

*2832. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state the number of hours devoted daily by the Civil Surgeons of the districts of Ludhiana, Ferozepore, Lyallpur, Jhelum, Multan and Sialkot to their work in their district jails of which they are the medical officers ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : A statement giving the required information is laid on the table.

Statement showing the number of hours devoted daily by the Civil Surgeons of the districts of Ludhiana, Ferozepore, Lyallpur, Jhelum, Multan and Sialkot to their work in their district jails of which they are the Medical Officers.

Serial No.	Name of the Civil Surgency.	Number of hours devoted daily to duty as Medical Officer of the local district jail.
1	Civil Surgeon, Ludhiana .. ..	1½ hours on Mondays and ¼ hour on week-days.
2	Civil Surgeon, Ferozepore .. ..	One hour daily.
3	Civil Surgeon, Lyallpur .. ..	From ¾ of an hour to 2 hours daily.
4	Civil Surgeon, Jhelum .. ..	¾ of an hour daily on an average.
5	Civil Surgeon, Multan .. ..	Approximately 1 hour daily.
6	Civil Surgeon, Sialkot .. ..	Two hours on Mondays and about one hour on other working days.

WHOLE-TIME MEDICAL OFFICERS IN JAILS.

*2883. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether in the Punjab there are any jails other than those where the superintendents are medical men where whole-time medical officers are posted ;
- (b) if so, how many such jails are there and what are the qualifications of such medical officers ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes.

(b) One : Montgomery Central Jail. The officer is M.B.B.S., P.C.M.S.

CIVIL SURGEONS AS MEDICAL OFFICERS.

*2884. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that in the district jails of Ludhiana, Ferozepore, Lyallpur, Jhelum, Multan and Sialkot, the Civil Surgeons of the district are the medical officer of the jails ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether they get any allowance ; if so, what is its amount ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes.

(b) Rs. 100 per mensem each.

TECHNICAL EXPERTS IN JAILS.

*2885. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether there are any technical experts engaged in order to educate the prisoners technically in the jails other than Central Jails or Borstal Jails ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the negative, the qualifications of persons that give technical advice or suggestions to the prisoners and what is the number of such jails ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes, except in subsidiary jails and smaller district jails. In those jails the number of prisoners is small and no industry is carried on which necessitates the employment of technical experts.

(b) Does not arise.

WORKING HOURS FOR PRISONERS IN PUNJAB JAILS.

*2886. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of hours for which a prisoner in good health is ordinarily required to do jail labour and the working hours for the prisoners in the Punjab jails during the winter and summer months ;
- (b) when these hours were fixed ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Working hours during the summer months are from 6-30 A. M. to 11 A. M. and from 2 P. M. to 5-30 P. M. During the winter months they are 7-30 A. M. to 11 A. M. and 12 NOON to 4-30 P. M. A task is allotted for these working hours, but if it is completed earlier the convicts are not given any extra task to fill up the remaining time. The allotted task is usually finished before the end of the working hours.

(b) The time allowed for labour has been eight hours since 1874 but the present distribution was introduced in 1908.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

FAILURE OF POLICE TO APPREHEND CRIMINALS IN LUDHIANA DISTRICT.

Mr. Speaker : Has the Honourable Premier been able to collect information regarding the adjournment motion of Sardar Lal Singh ?

Premier : Yes, I have got the information. The information which Sardar Lal Singh wanted is here put in a concise and brief form, it is this, and with your permission I will read it out to the House. Sardar Lal Singh's adjournment motion contains the following statements :—

- (a) Failure of Government to arrest several desperate criminals and proclaimed offenders who have recently committed murders in villages Man, Jodhpur and Chananwal, district Ludhiana.

This is the first part.

- (b) The second statement he made was that these men on account of police inaction of move about with firearms committing dacoities and other serious crimes and terrorising the ilaga.

- (c) The third portion of the adjournment motion was that as a result a state of serious insecurity prevails in thanas Shehna and Jagraon.

Am I correct ? Is that not the gist of the adjournment motion ? The information which I have been able to collect in this short time is as follows :—

- (a) There were two murders in Man in 1938. They are believed to have been committed by local people out of private enmity. Both murders are believed to have been committed by the same party and are under investigation, but the accused have not yet been arrested—one certainly is absconding.

That is the position with regard to these murders.

- (b) Now the information with regard to the second part of the adjournment motion is that there was one murder with dacoity in Jodhpur in 1938. This is believed to have been committed by a gang known as Zora's gang. Zora is a proclaimed offender of Faridkot who is wanted for a number of murders and dacoities in Ferozepore district and in Nabha, Faridkot and Patiala States. This is the first murder committed by this gang in the Ludhiana district.

- (c) There was no murder in Chananwal in 1938. There was one in 1937 but the facts are not known. Gurnam Singh, a well known outlaw of Ludhiana district, is however credited with the desire to murder his enemies in Chananwal. That is merely a surmise. Accordingly a permanent armed guard of 1 head constable and 4 constables has been placed in the village. A reward of Rs. 1,000 has been announced for the arrest of Gurnam Singh.

The next assertion is that these dacoits move about armed committing dacoities and other crimes. The answer to this is that they committed one dacoity with murder in Jodhpur this year referred to above. They also committed one armed robbery in police station Shehna. They have committed no other crime this year in police stations Shehna and Jagraon.

Since last cold weather there have been two patrols in the ilaga to catch these criminals and protect the villagers. One is of 12 armed men under a sub-inspector working in Shehna and Jagraon. The other patrol consists of a sub-inspector and 11 men all mounted; they patrol in the same ilaga. During the current year out of 41 proclaimed offenders in these two thanas 21 have been arrested by the police.

In addition to this, as I have already stated in this House on a previous occasion, we are trying to encourage respectable people to get arms and have also provided them with a certain amount of free ammunition, so that in case of emergency they might defend their villages and defend themselves. We have issued further instructions some time ago to encourage the distribution of arms in this ilaga so that there may be no danger on account of people being helpless. That is the position. Therefore I submit that so far as this adjournment motion is concerned it is unnecessarily alarming and there is no substance whatever in it.

Sardar Lal Singh : Will the honourable Premier give the total number of murders committed during the last year in Shehna and Jagraon ?

Premier : I have stated there was no murder in Chananwala in 1938. There was one in 1937. There was one murder with dacoity in Jodhpur in 1938. It is believed to have been committed by a gang known as Zora's gang.

Sardar Kapoor Singh : I want some information. About ten days back five murders took place.....

Mr. Speaker : I cannot allow discussion on the statement made by the Honourable Premier.

THE PUNJAB SUPPRESSION OF MISCHIEVOUS AND DEFAMATORY STATEMENTS BILL.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : Sir, I beg to introduce the Punjab Suppression of Mischievous and Defamatory Statements Bill.

Pandit Muni Lal Kahla : On a point of order, Sir. With regard to the introduction of this Bill I have to raise a point of order that this Bill cannot be introduced without the previous sanction of the Governor-General. Has that sanction been obtained ?

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please quote the law or rule on which he relies ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I am referring to section 108 of the Government of India Act, clause (2), sub-clause (b). It says :—

“ Unless the Governor-General in his discretion thinks fit to give his previous sanction, there shall not be introduced into, or moved in, a Chamber of a Provincial Legislature any Bill or amendment which—

* * * * *

(b) repeals, amends or is repugnant to any Governor-General's Act, or any ordinance promulgated in his discretion by the Governor-General; or

(c) affects matters as respects which the Governor-General is by or under this Act, required to Act in his discretion; or.....”

With regard to sub-clauses (b) and (c) this Bill proposes to amend, as is given in the statement of objects and reasons, sections 505, 124-A, 153-A, 499 and 500 of the Indian Penal Code and also according to clause (6) of this very Bill, it is proposed to amend the Act XXIII of 1931 in its application to the Punjab and then also this Bill intends or proposes to amend the the Indian States Protection Act of 1935.

Mr. Speaker : I have not been able to follow the honourable member's argument.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I am referring to sub-clauses (b) and (c) of clause (2) of section 108 of the Government of India Act. My submission in this case is that the Bill as it is presented to the House seeks to amend different sections of the Indian Acts.

Mr. Speaker : There is no reference to Indian Acts in clause (b). It refers to Governor-General's Acts.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : The Governor-General under the Government of India Act is authorised expressly to pass Acts under the circumstances.

Mr. Speaker : So far as I am aware up till now the Governor-General of India has passed no Act under the Government of India Act, 1935.

Premier : Sir, it is with great reluctance and with a great deal of hesitation that I get up to speak on this Bill. I cannot tell you how very sorry I feel, not only for myself but also for my province, that the necessity should have arisen for us to enact a law of this nature. But, Sir, I beg to submit that during the past 15 months it has been my privilege, or if you may like it, it has been my misfortune to warn the press in the province, not once, not twice, not thrice, but several times either through press communiqués, or through press interviews, or through press statements or orally in heart to heart talks with my journalist friends or from the platform. I had been hoping, and unfortunately it looks that I had been hoping against hope, that my friends of the press would take to heart those friendly warnings which I gave them and see that that section of the press, who are real offenders were duly persuaded to fall into line with the respectable section of our press, which is not only a credit to our province, but if I may say so, a credit to the whole of India. It is the black-sheep in any community which are largely responsible for doing damage to the interests of the community as a whole. In this case also let me submit at once and without hesitation and without any qualification that it is only that section of the press which has got no sense of responsibility, or, if I may say so, which has got no sense of decency, propriety or honesty which is responsible for bringing into discredit the whole press of the province, which is not only a disgrace to the press of the province of which every one of us should be jealous, but it is a disgrace to the province as a whole.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Have you in mind the Inqilab ?

Premier : I am not including or excluding any particular paper. But, if you will allow me, I shall very briefly refer to the occasions on which I issued warnings to my friends of the press. The first occasion was on the very first day of assumption of office by the present Government, when in the very first press communiqué or statement which I issued I solicited the help of the press with regard to communal matters and also their help with regard to matters which pertained to the welfare of the province. Subsequent to that I had an occasion to meet my friends of the press in an informal way and in pleasant surroundings. I, then, discussed the whole question with them and I was given an assurance that they would help me in not only restoring harmonious relations between the various communities, but also in improving the tone of the press. Subsequent to that I saw the journalists on another occasion and gave them my views in detail in regard to the grievances which I had against that particular section of the press. Then again, the representatives of the Associated Press and the Civil and Military Gazette saw me and I gave them an interview on the 6th of March last which was reproduced practically by all the papers in the province and was reproduced verbatim more or less in the Civil and Military Gazette. If you will allow me I will just read the concluding portion of that statement. This is what I said—

The communal press unfortunately has not responded to my repeated appeals, with the result that we are very nearly on the brink of a volcano. Unless the tone of this section of the press shows an immediate improvement I may have reluctantly to take action in the interests of the province.

There is the recent instance of the Shahidganj agitation. Instead of trying to ease the situation, which is the paramount duty of a national press, the tendency, I am constrained to say, has been in the opposite direction. Provocative articles have been appearing in the press almost regularly without the slightest heed to the consequences or the position of the province.

I hope that these newspapers will realize the consequences of their present trend. I have shown them every possible leniency, but there is a limit to everybody's patience. I have given them a long enough rope, but they should remember that the longer the rope the greater is the jerk when it comes. As you remember, I promised to examine the case of individual newspapers with a view to returning their securities. I have examined all cases, but found that in view of their attitude, instead of returning their securities, I should be quite justified in enhancing or forfeiting the securities. But I have so far taken no drastic action but only given them warnings. I am, however, afraid that their record is now sufficiently black.

I have been speaking all this time with regard to a particular section of the press. Subsequent to that there were two or three occasions on which I administered friendly warnings and I must confess, and it is my pleasant duty to say this, that I was supported by several journalists of repute in my endeavour to bring this section of the press to the right course. I hope that their support will continue. Then you are aware that several press communiqués were issued last year from Simla after those two or three riots which had taken place and reflected sadly on the fair face of the province. I have merely mentioned these facts to bring home to those journalists that I have given them every possible opportunity to mend their ways, that I have not allowed any opportunity to pass, which I could avail of to warn them that they were heading towards a precipice and that they were going to do damage not only to themselves, but also a bigger damage to the province as a whole. As I have already said, my warnings have all been in vain. That is one of the reasons that have forced me to draft this Bill with a view to getting it enacted by this legislature.

Now, if I were to read out the extracts from the papers which have been offending against decency, honesty and morality of the press, I think that I will have to be on my feet if not for a fortnight at least for a week, because I have sheaves and sheaves of cuttings to read; but I do not propose to take up the time of the House in reading all these extracts. I shall merely confine myself to the headings only which will give the reasons why it has been necessary for us to bring this measure before the House. I shall briefly read the headlines and if my honourable friends want me to read any particular extract in detail I shall gladly do so or, if necessary, I shall hand it over to them to read for themselves. But as I have said, it will take an enormous time to read all the extracts and it will not only take up the time of the House but I will myself get exhausted if I read all of them. The thing which I object to and which I think every public man will object to is the exaggerated and distorted accounts. Nobody will gainsay that this should be discouraged. Then again there are news about the attempt on the part of a member of one community to kill one of another community, murder news which are baseless but which are likely to incite, news which spread panic in the city, news about the arrests of innocent people who are not innocent, reports which are likely to provoke one community against another and all these accounts are given unnecessary prominence and in some places where they do not exist they are merely brought into news items to create mere sensation. Such news have appeared from time to time. Then, you remember the kidnapping scare. There was of course a certain amount of what you might call anxiety amongst people, but as you all know if there was one correct news there were a thousand false news which did not in any way help to allay that anxiety, but rather fanned the feelings of those people who were already anxious over these reports which were mostly false. Then there are mischievous reports deliberately published to provoke one section against another when there was no ground for provocation at all. Such news are concocted or based on something quite different with a view to provoke one community against another. Then, there are the inflammatory statements with regard to riots. You can mention a fact in a simple language, but instead of doing so the press adds mirch and masala in order to increase the sale of their paper. That is also very objectionable.

Lala Duni Chand : These are not the headings which you proposed to read.

Premier : These are the various categories of news to which I object and to which I hope everybody will object.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Will the Honourable Premier give instances ?

Premier : I shall give instances presently. I hope the House will agree with me that these things are objectionable. Now, I will come to facts.

Lala Deahbandhu Gupta : The existing laws are quite sufficient for the purpose.

Premier : My honourable friend has not made my position easy by the statement he has issued. It is one-sided and of course he is welcome to do so. But being a journalist himself I do not grudge him that privilege. My honourable friend wants instances. Let me quote a few instances. I will not read out the whole extract. But I have got here the whole file giving instances which have happened. Now a Muslim paper drew a comparison between Ala and Amritsar and in such language that it provoked a riot in Amritsar. Is not that objectionable ? I am sure my friends will agree with me that it is objectionable. Then another paper makes mention of Sikh-Muslim riots at Amritsar under flaring head-lines. The news is not entirely false as such. That is true news according to that paper. But it was very much exaggerated and a number of sensational head-lines were given with the result that it provoked the other side to issue similar rumours with flaring head-lines. Then another paper tells of the peaceful and innocent—I would not name—men of a certain community having been arrested, instead of pointing out that those people were largely responsible for throwing brick-bats and assaulting a certain procession. Then again another paper published proceedings of a meeting with regard to certain riots in a very sensational form. This is again a Muslim paper. Then a Hindu paper gives the news of a Muslim selling beef near a temple. Then another Hindu paper said that a certain family in Gujrat has started preaching Jehad with a view to the murder of Hindus and Sikhs. Then another set of articles appeared during the riots of Jandiala, Ala, Amritsar and other places of all those unfortunate incidents which happened, in very sensational head-lines with false news and in very provocative language likely to disturb the peace in other parts of the province. Let me give you a few instances of false and sensational news and reports. A certain paper reported that Muslims of a certain locality were bent upon raiding a certain village of the Sikhs. There was not an iota of truth in that report. But not only was it published once but published many times with glaring head-lines and even comments were made and leaders were written. Similarly a report from a correspondent in a Hindu paper said that a Sikh-Muslim clash was apprehended and was likely to take place at Garhshankar. There was no foundation whatever for this. It was intended merely to provoke the local Muslims and Sikhs to quarrel. That is why the news was published by that correspondent. Then another paper publishes that a Muslim of Khangarh Dogran openly displays a weapon and it said that he had come from Jandiala after murdering the Sikhs there to murder them here. This is another bit of news which is without any foundation whatever. Then another paper said that a small boy of 18 had been forcibly converted and big head-lines were given and there was no foundation whatever to there being any boy existing in that place and much less of his having been converted. Then another Hindu paper mentioned that a mandir had been demolished at Amritsar. My Amritsar friends and Dr. Satya Pal would have known at once if a mandir had been demolished and I ask him whether any mandir had been demolished there recently or within the past 15 months. Then another paper published the news that the Muslims had been preaching that they should sacrifice cows in front of a Hindu mandir. There is no substance, not an iota of truth in this news also. But you can imagine the feelings of Hindus throughout the province when they read that bit of news. I think it is a most provocative bit of news and if the Hindus ran amok and assaulted a few Muslims I would not be surprised, and I can understand their indulging in extreme revenge if this thing had been true. But there was not an iota of truth in this news. But it was published with impunity without regard to the consequences. Then a similar news was published by another paper in another district, that a cow had been sacrificed in a mandar itself by force by Muslims. Then you remember that famous case about Jandiala Sher-Khan where a riot had taken place and several murders had been committed. Three days later a news-agent published that another riot had taken place and four more people had been murdered. We telephoned at once and found that there was not the slightest truth in that news which had been sent only from Sheikhpura and this was published in the press without verification. Sheikhpura was on the telephone and yet that news was published without verification from any Government official or from another news agency which is an agency of repute not only in India but outside also and it was that other press which immediately contradicted that news when they verified that it was not true. There are also other instances. But I think these are sufficient to indicate the nature of material which has been appearing in the press which has forced my hands, as I said reluctantly, to place this measure before you. There are other things which are comparatively of a minor character, but even so very serious. For instance, a Muslim paper reported about sensational disclosures which it proposed to make with regard to an anti-Islam league of certain officials of the Canal Department at a certain place. I will not mention the names. But there was not the slightest truth. We asked them to report with a view to verifying the statement and we found that as a matter of fact the actual conditions were quite the contrary to what had been published. It was merely to damn some non-Muslim officials who were working there at that time. Again there was a report of a criminal assault on a girl which had no foundation whatever, but it was so provocative that it very nearly led to a riot. Then again another paper published the news that a deputy commissioner of a certain district had prohibited the Muslim employees of his office from saying their prayers. But there was not an iota of truth in that allegation and it was absolutely false news. But you can imagine what the effect of that news should have been on the Muslims throughout the province.

Then there are other articles which are of a scurrilous and abusive nature and I do not propose to refer to these articles. I think this would be sufficient for my purpose. As you are aware there are two distinct aspects of this Bill. One of them directly concerns the press and affects it and the other is more general and is likely to affect those people who are not concerned with the press but who make defamatory statements or disseminate false statements or news and you will find that one of the clauses in this Bill provides a certain amount of protection—no more than what the official himself has at the moment under the Penal Code. It merely gives Government the concurrent power to take action against the offenders and not forcing the officer himself to take action. That is the main difference with regard to the clause. I trust you will allow me just briefly to run through a few statements of that kind made by people which we have collected at random and made only for a period of a few weeks. I asked them to collect at random a few of these statements and I give you a few specimens.

A gentleman making a speech in a public meeting rebuked the Indians serving in the Army for killing their own brethren, in spite of the fact that this is a thing which is quite contrary to the orders of the Congress High Command, orders which I myself made sure of when I went to Calcutta. I had an opportunity of meeting one of the very prominent members of the Congress Working Committee and I asked what is your decision with regard to the preaching of anti-recruitment ideas, because I find that in Bihar, United Provinces, Bombay and in the other neighbouring provinces there are schemes for military training of young men, schemes for encouraging people to fit themselves for services in the Army; but on the other hand, some of our public men unfortunately are preaching anti-recruitment ideas in the Punjab. What is the correct position of the Congress in this matter? He told me that he was sure that that should not be the case. I said that I was almost certain that this was the case, because I had an opportunity of talking to one of those gentlemen and he said that they were preaching against imperialism. My Calcutta friend said that that was all right. I said that is not quite all-right because after all we want the defence to be more or less handed over to public control in due course, and if we dispense with the whole of the Army to-day and if we persuade our British rulers to leave this country to-morrow, who is going to defend this country and I am very seriously concerned about this matter, because I am very intimately connected with the defence because I am at the gate-way of India and I who had been fighting imperialist battles, now just when I am coming to fight the battles of my own country, should not be made impotent. I am not prepared to take up that position. He said that there was nothing of the sort and that they did not for a moment countenance any such thing. I hope my friends opposite will also make enquiries and make themselves sure that this is not the policy of the Congress and that they do not want to make any anti-recruitment propaganda or preaching as one of the basic parts of their policy and creed. It is not done in any other province and I hope that my friends opposite will also follow the lead of the High Command in this matter.

Then he went on to tar the whole of the Police force with a tarred brush without exception. He said that they were scorpions and snakes and that they should be killed, every one of them.

Dr. Satya Pal: Was this man prosecuted?

Premier: I cannot possibly prosecute every man. I do not want to soil my hands with the small fry.

Dr. Satya Pal : You would not prosecute those who advocate the killing of the policeman and yet you would bring in such a Bill. Is not the law of the land sufficient ?

Premier : Who said I do not advocate it ? I am merely telling you what is happening. If you want me to take a more drastic action, I do not want to do so.

Dr. Satya Pal : Why not ? If a man violates the law of the land, why not take action against him ?

Premier : If I can cure a man with quinine I would not give him arsenic. Here is another gentleman who in a public speech said that 80 per cent. of Government servants were badmashes.

Sardar Partab Singh : It is by way of retort to what happened here.

Premier : Another very brilliant speaker and perhaps he was himself very clever, said, not only all the policemen are criminals and in league with the criminals but that the Government is deceitful and puts the Congressmen in jail after concocting cases against them. He did not confine himself to the police but he went on further. (A voice : That is correct). My honourable friend says that is correct, but I suppose that he has forgotten what happened at the Congress Working Committee meeting. There, as my honourable friends are aware, this question was raised, the question of the liberty of the press and the liberty of the citizens, and every one of the Premiers, so I gather from the press reports, said that they were having that trouble and they will not only not allow licence to the press but they will also not allow hatred being preached against the Congress Government. These were the words used and my honourable friends say that I take objection to these things, but if my confreres in other provinces take objection to these things.....

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : But they are popular governments.

Rai Bahadur Lala Gopal Das : This is also a popular government.

Premier : More popular than others. Another gentleman preached to the ignorant yokels, and I want to emphasize this ignorant yokels. He said 'treat all Government officials with contempt.' This is the kind of advice which they give to the citizens of the Punjab, 'treat all Government officials with contempt.' They do not realize that if every Government official was treated with contempt some of my honourable friends would be hiding in their houses and would not come outside. (Voices : No, no). I am not talking about Sardar Sohan Singh Josh.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : We are not cowards.

Premier : The police of course are all badmashes and the patwaris are dishonest and treacherous, every one of them. (Voices : They are).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : You are not going to prosecute those who tell the truth.

Premier : A very decent public man said that the Congress workers should not be afraid of policemen, because they are their brothers-in-law. That is the kind of speech that a public man makes in a village or a town.

Sardar Hari Singh : These reports may be false and wrong.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May be? They are wrong.

Premier : Another gentleman who was for some time in the limelight but I am afraid who is still absconding made a speech and said the Punjab Police are wretches and low-bred (sab kamia hain) and they are worse than sweepers and cobblers. This is the kind of public spirit that they show. Another public-spirited gentleman said, "Police officers from the Inspector-General of Police down to the smallest constable are all corrupt."

Sardar Sampuran Singh : A small exaggeration only. (Laughter).

Premier : Badmash of course is a term ordinarily used in every speech while referring to the Police.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : They were using your vocabulary.

Premier : Another public-spirited gentleman called them as 'dogs.' He said "Policemen are all dogs."

Mian Abdul Aziz : If it is said that they are dogs, then do they become dogs?

Premier : They are the watch-dogs to look after you.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : But this is the American slang for a policeman.

Premier : Another gentleman—who is an educated person and is supposed to be a public man—said, "Government is tyrannical and consists of haramzadas." (Laughter). My honourable friends laugh. That is the kind of treatment meted out to these people. I am citing these cases because I am going to seek the help of my honourable friends of the Opposition and the President of the Provincial Congress Committee. He should see that at least the Congress workers do not indulge in these things.

Dr. Satya Pal : I deny it.

Premier : An honourable body like the Congress should not allow such things to be said.

Dr. Satya Pal : I take responsibility and say that no Congressman has ever used such words.

Premier : I will not take any more time of the House in quoting these things. An argument might be put forward that Government should not bring forward a measure like this—a measure which is being condemned by every section of the press. I have gone through the press comments during the past few days on this Bill and I confess that they are not favourable to this Bill. The Statesman and the Civil and Military Gazette have also criticised the Bill. My honourable friend over there is happy that the Statesman has also criticised the Bill. He must remember that the Statesman and other papers like the Statesman, when the original Press Emergency Bill came before the Central Legislature, supported that Bill. Why? My honourable friend should consider at his leisure the reason why?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Conditions are different.

Premier : Conditions were not different, but there was another set of people here whom they wanted to support. They cannot support me, but they wanted to support another set of people. (Voices : No.) My honourable friends say "no." They had confidence in that Government, and that is the reason why they supported them. The Civil and Military Gazette in its comments against this Bill say that it does not know what the position of the present Government may be later on and how this Bill is going to be worked. The Statesman has also said quite clearly that it is not so much the Act or the wording of the Act that is opposed as the spirit and the manner in which that Act is going to be applied.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : They have no faith in you.

Premier : The point which I was going to make was that if they had confidence in the previous bureaucratic Government—a foreign Government—I expected that very treatment from my own countrymen—they should have confidence in me, that so far as this Act is concerned, if it comes on the statute book, it will not be used against those journalists who are honest or those people who play the game. (Interruptions.)

Mr. Speaker : I cannot allow interruptions.

Premier : As I have said I do not grudge the criticism made by these newspapers and I am not surprised of it because after all it affects the whole fraternity of journalism but, as I have said, we do not want this weapon, because there is a section of honourable journalists among them. We have to add this weapon to our armoury because of those black sheep in the community which we want to get at. That is the main reason of bringing forward this Bill. But, unfortunately, it is impossible in a law like this to discriminate and if my honourable friends opposite or the friends of the press can make a suggestion whether we can discriminate or allay the anxiety of that section of the press about whom I am perfectly confident that they will play the game and continue to play the game, I am prepared to incorporate a clause in my Bill. But let them come out with their suggestions. What I want as a result of this Bill is to stop that scurrilous and irresponsible section of the press which is responsible for all the evils as a consequence of which there result various faults. I want to suppress dishonest and immoral news which are published in the newspapers. That is my main object. I think I have detained the House sufficiently long and I need not go into the merits of the clauses of the Bill because I had the privilege of receiving a representative deputation of the Punjab Journalists Association day before yesterday and I might take the House into my confidence and say that we had a heart to heart talk and discussion for over three hours in a very cordial atmosphere and I am glad to be able to say that I found my friends again very helpful and we came to the conclusion that the disease existed, the evil was there, but its eradication might be possible by another method. (Hear, hear.) It might be possible without going to the extent of a surgical operation and by perhaps administering harmless drugs. I am personally not satisfied that those gentlemen will succeed in removing the disease by administration of those harmless drugs. I have now had experience of the press for several years and during the last fifteen months I have been indirectly in touch with the various sections of the press and I have unfortunately come to the conclusion that it will require fairly drastic methods and remedies to eradicate the evil out of that section of the press. (A voice : مرغس پڑھنا گیا جون جون نوا کی That will not help you). My friend has correctly said مرغس پڑھنا گیا جون جون نوا کی I have tried to do everything possible but that section of the press is incorrigible and we have not been able to achieve any effective results. Some of the journalist friends amongst the deputation, for whom I have got the greatest regard and whom I hold in greatest esteem, put to me the suggestion that they will themselves try to help to eradicate this evil and that the Journalists' Association will themselves take effective measures against these people, provided I agree to postpone this measure. I put forward before them two alternatives. My first alternative was that I will pass this measure in this House but I will add a clause to it that it will not come into force unless I notify to that effect in the Gazette. I would give them as much time as they wanted—two or three months, four or five months or six months—and if during that period they were satisfied that they had not been able to effect that improvement which they hoped to effect in that section of the press, I shall notify the Act and it will go on the statute book. If, on the other hand, that section of the press showed any real sign of improvement and there was a genuine ground to believe that the evil was more or less on the wane and the malady would be checked then it would not be necessary for us even after six months to promulgate that law or bring it into force. Then we can wait further and see how this cure develops and eventually if the cure were effected, it would not be necessary to bring this Bill on the statute book at all. But there was criticism to this method that it will take away all the grace and that the idea which the Journalists' Association had before them or which they thought would be effective will not have the same force. The other alternative open to me is not to proceed further with this measure and leave it suspended in its present stage, i.e., I need not make further motion for its consideration or that the Bill be passed into law by this House.

I have in deference to the wishes of my journalist friends decided to adopt the latter course (hear, hear). I hope that they will do their best to eradicate the evil out of the black sheep of their community. I can also assure them that if they want my moral support or help in any manner it would be unstintingly placed at their disposal with a view to effect improvement. I have no desire to bring this law, which has been termed as a repressive measure, on the statute book. I want to give the fullest possible opportunity to the press, but I cannot possibly give the press unbridled licence. That is what I want to check and curb. In view of what I have said I will be perfectly content to wait for another six months, or if need be, longer, to see that we achieve the object without bringing this measure on the statute book. I hope that as a result of our conference and discussion the Punjab press will soon improve its tone and that the respectable and responsible section of the press will be able to persuade or even coerce, if necessary, the other section of the press so that the Punjab press in the real and true sense of the word be a popular and free press, a press which will do credit not only to the Punjab but to the whole of India. I do not wish to make the further motion.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I put one question to the Honourable Premier? Is the treatment which he suggests more dignified than the disease itself?

Premier : As I have already said sometimes you have to administer bitter medicine to cure a patient. My honourable friend is a doctor and he knows it.

THE PUNJAB ALIENATION OF LAND (FURTHER AMENDMENT) BILL.

Premier : Sir, if you permit me I want to make a subsidiary motion with regard to the Select Committee on the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill. It is this—

That the Select Committee on the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill be directed to make its report by the 2nd of July, 1938.

The date was left out the other day by oversight.

Mr. Speaker : The motion moved is—

That the Select Committee on the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill be directed to make its report by the 2nd of July, 1938.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Under the Rules of the Assembly a Select Committee, unless there are instructions to the contrary, cannot report earlier than two months. In this case you would remember Sir, that at the time of the introduction of the Bill I moved a motion that the Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion and amongst the grounds that I put forward I stated that the Bill has not had sufficient publicity, and if I am not mistaken the Premier in his reply stated that although the publication in the Gazette had been delayed there will be publicity enough when the Select Committee makes its report. Now, Sir, if that period is to be cut short the idea of publicity would be defeated. Therefore, it is most unfair that after the House has actually passed the resolution without limiting the time during which the Select Committee should report, the House should be asked at a later stage, to give directions to the Select Committee to make its report within three days. No publicity has at all been given to these Bills. I have repeatedly pointed out that a surprise is being sprung upon unsuspecting subjects and the circumstances show that this is being designedly done. Therefore, if the House at this stage goes back on its previous decision it will prevent the publicity altogether. Therefore, I oppose this proposal. The Select Committee ought to be asked to go on with their work. The minutes of dissent are still to be written, and those people who want to append minutes of dissent would get sufficient time under the resolution passed by the House. If this period is cut short the time for consideration will be denied to those people who after consulting the persons likely to be affected adversely by this legislation wanted to append minutes of dissent.

Premier : I am afraid my honourable friend raised the point of order and made a speech on a very technical quibble, if I might call it. I think he is making heavy weather for nothing. He said that those members will not get enough time who want to append minutes of dissent. The report has been signed and the report is ready.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : It is not signed.

Premier : The report has been signed. As a matter of fact in all such motions we mention a specific date, but through an oversight in this case the date was overlooked. We always go on till the thing is passed. With the permission of the House, I would rectify the mistake. If the House does not want it, I would be perfectly willing to withdraw my motion. But I think the House will agree with me that this mistake should be rectified and the Select Committee should be instructed to report by the 2nd July to enable us to proceed with the Bill during this session.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural) : Sir, I shall be failing in my duty if I do not say a few words in support of the protest made by my honourable friend Mr. Mukand Lal Puri. The other day I said a lot about indecent haste. Is it not an example of indecent haste? Is there any other word which would be appropriate to describe the haste with which the Government is rushing these measures through the House? The Honourable Premier said that there was an oversight. That itself is a proof of indecent haste, that they do not know what they are doing and that has been our grievance from the very beginning that no proper thought is given to the measures which they are placing before the House. The Honourable Premier says "I am trying to rectify an oversight. It is only a legal quibble." Are these Rules a legal quibble? It is a disrespect to the Rules of this House and the framers of these rules to call them legal quibble. I do not think that if the Honourable Premier were a lawyer he would call them a legal quibble. They are substantial rules of business of this House and they are intended to be acted upon. If he thinks that all these rules are rubbish, we ought better proceed as his predecessors used to proceed about 200 years ago without any rules or with rough and ready rules. Then he says "we have full confidence and support of the members of this House and if the honourable members want to carry this motion it will be carried, otherwise I am not particular if they do not want to carry." He knows fully well that it is his duty to observe decency and decorum and follow these rules. It is not expected of these gentlemen to suggest to him that he is going out of the ordinary procedure. He is referring to the members of the House knowing fully well that they would never say "No". It is his duty to show reasonableness and fairness and I may add, sense of decency.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : Sir, I did not wish to intervene in this debate at this stage, but I have been tempted by the speech of my honourable friend opposite. I have never before listened to a speech from my honourable and distinguished friend opposite conceived and delivered in such indecent haste. He stated that the honourable member in charge of the Bill had flouted the rules of procedure and with indecent haste had come forward with this proposition. I would ask my honourable friend—whose opinion and remarks so far as I am concerned are always entitled to respect—to look to the standing order 44 of the interim rules. It says—

"(2) Such report shall be made not sooner than two months from the date of the first publication of the Bill in the Gazette, unless the Assembly orders the report to be made sooner."

[Mir Maqbool Mahmood.]

The rule does not lay down that once a Bill is referred to a Select Committee, the House cannot specify a date by which the Select Committee report is to be submitted. I submit that this motion is made perfectly in accord with the Standing Orders of the Assembly by which we are governed at the moment. I am sorry to say that my honourable friend should have allowed himself in an indecent haste to make his statement.

With regard to the point made by my honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Puri for whom I have great affection, let me remind him that the draft rules, to which he has referred, have been adopted by the Assembly but they have not yet been given effect to. When those rules become law, he may rest assured that in the hands of the Honourable Leader of the House they will be observed in spirit and in letter. I submit that what we are doing to-day is perfectly straightforward and reasonable. We are only asking that the Select Committee may report on this Bill of a very few clauses— which I think involves no change of principle—within 4 or 5 days. The Bill has already been under consideration for a sufficiently long time in the hands of the Select Committee. With these words I oppose the objection raised by my honourable friend opposite and support the motion made by the Honourable Leader of the House.

Mr. Speaker : The question is that—

The Select Committee on the Punjab Land Alienation (Further Amendment) Bill be directed to make its report by the 2nd of July, 1938.

The motion was carried.

RULES OF PROCEDURE.

Mr. Speaker : Now the Assembly will proceed to consider the draft rules.

New Rules.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) :
Sir I beg to move—

That between the rules 133 and 134, the following new rule be added :—

“133-A. On a day fixed by the Governor before the last of the days allotted by him for the moving of demands for grants, further demands for grants may be moved :
Further demands for Grants.”

Provided that—

- (i) they are required for purposes which in the opinion of the Governor are of an emergent nature ;
- (ii) they are for new matters which have not been included in the original estimate of the year. Such demands shall be classified according to the original demands for grants, the details being shown by sub-heads of appropriation in detailed account heads under each grant.”

Certain new rules that were moved by me the other day were incorporated in the draft rules. The draft rules, as originally framed, leave out certain rules which are appropriately to be framed by this House and after a considerable discussion on the last occasion, the Leader of the House and the whole House agreed to the incorporation of those rules on similar grounds and on similar arguments. I beg to move that these rules ought to be incorporated in the rules framed by this House.

Malik Barkat Ali (Eastern Towns, Muhammadan, Urban): Sir, I rise on a point of order. My point of order is that these new rules of which notice has been given by my honourable friend contravene the Government of India Act and for that purpose I should like to refer to certain provisions of the Government of India Act, which, to my mind, make it absolutely clear that there can be no question of considering any supplementary grant unless and until the budget has first been passed and in accordance with that passed budget an authenticated schedule has been presented to this House. I draw your attention to sections 78 to 81 of the Government of India Act, 1935. Under the scheme of these sections, the first step is the presentation of the annual financial statement. Section 78 says—

4 P.M.

The Governor shall in respect of every financial year cause to be laid before the Chamber or Chambers of the Legislature a statement of the estimated receipts and expenditure of the Province for that year, in this Part of this Act referred to as the 'annual financial statement.'

Now according to section 79 this annual financial statement shall consist of two kinds of expenditure, one, expenditure charged upon the revenues of the province which this House can only discuss under certain restrictions and the other, votable expenditure which this House may assent to or reject. After the annual financial statement has been considered by the House and the votable items voted or rejected, comes section 80. It says—

The Governor shall authenticate by his signature a schedule specifying—

- (a) the grants made by the Assembly under the last preceding section;
- (b) the several sums required to meet the expenditure charged on the revenues of the Province but not exceeding, in the case of any sum, the sum shown in the statement previously laid before the Chamber or Chambers.

Section 80 also empowers the Governor to alter the various demands in the due discharge of any of his special responsibilities. As soon as the Governor has authenticated this schedule it is laid before the Assembly, but it is not open to discussion. It is this authenticated schedule which is the sanction for the Government for its expenditure in the course of the year. When this process has been gone through, section 81 comes into play. It provides for supplementary statements. It says—

If in respect of any financial year further expenditure—

I draw your attention to this expression "further expenditure", it is clarified in the latter part of the section—

Further expenditure from the revenues of the Province becomes necessary—these are very important words—

Over and above the expenditure theretofore authorised for that year, the Governor shall cause to be laid before the Chamber or Chambers a supplementary statement—

It is thus only after the processes referred to in the previous sections have been gone through that the Governor can present a supplementary statement. Now, the rules of which my honourable friend has given notice contemplate that even before the budget has been discussed, even as soon as the budget has been presented before the House, it is open to Government to put forward any supplementary demand and get it passed by the House. You will be pleased to see that these rules of which notice has been given by my honourable friend are also contained in the tentative rules framed by the Governor, but my submission is that they are ultra vires as they contravene the provisions of the Government of India Act. Now I will just draw your attention to some of these new rules. The first rule says—

[Malik Barkat Ali.]

On a day fixed by the Governor before the last of the days allotted by him for the moving of demands for grants, further demands for grants may be moved.

It comes to this that while the budget has not yet been passed, even before the number of days allotted for the discussion of demands for grants elapse, it is open to the Ministry to ask the House to sanction further demands for grants.

Provided—

- (1) they are required for purposes which in the opinion of the Governor are of an emergent nature ;
- (2) they are for new matters which have not been included in the original estimate of the year.

This rule, I submit, is fundamentally opposed to the procedure laid down in the Government of India Act. It may be said that the procedure of other countries allows such a thing to be done. I may point out that in the case of the United Kingdom, the Government even before the Appropriation Act is passed, in order to carry on the business of the Government for a few months, gets necessary credit from the Parliament. They get this credit for three or four months, because it takes some time for the Finance Bill to be passed and for the Appropriation Act to be passed. But this procedure is prescribed in the rules of the House of Commons. But we are from the beginning to the end governed by the Government of India Act and any procedure which conflicts with the provisions of that Act cannot be allowed simply for the reason that similar rules exist in the United Kingdom or that this procedure is to some extent supported by the financial procedure obtaining in other countries. My point is that the budget must first be passed by this House and authenticated by the Governor and the authenticated schedule presented to this House before any supplementary estimate can be presented to the House.

Mr. Speaker : The new rule is not yet before the House. So, I will propose it from the Chair before the point of order can be discussed. The rule is—

That between the rules 133 and 134, the following new rule be added :—

“133-A. On a day fixed by the Governor before the last of the days allotted by him for the moving of demands for grants, further demands for grants may be moved :
Further demands for Grants.”

Provided that—

- (i) they are required for purposes which in the opinion of the Governor are of an emergent nature ;
- (ii) they are for new matters which have not been included in the original estimate of the year. Such demands shall be classified according to the original demands for grants, the details being shown by sub-heads of appropriation in detailed account heads under each grant.”

Malik Barkat Ali : Shall I repeat the points that I have already urged ?

Mr. Speaker : Yes. The honourable member may summarise them.

Malik Barkat Ali: My point is this. Under sections 78 to 81 of the Government of India Act the budget must first be passed by this House. This House cannot entertain any supplementary demand unless and until the budget is passed by this House and is authenticated by the Governor and the authenticated schedule is placed before the House. It is only after the authenticated schedule of expenditure is placed before the House that an occasion can arise for the moving of supplementary demands. But the rules which my honourable friend wishes to be incorporated in the rules of procedure contemplate moving of supplementary grants even before the budget has been sanctioned and the schedule of expenditure authenticated by the Governor is laid on the table of the House. Section 81 of the Government of India Act clarifies the position beyond all doubt. Section 81 is the section under which the supplementary grants can be moved. Section 81 makes it perfectly clear that a supplementary grant must relate to further expenditure. The word 'further' postulates that some expenditure had already been provided or incurred, and it is felt that some thing more is needed than the sanctioned amount. Again section 81 clearly says 'further expenditure over and above the expenditure theretofore authorised for that year'. It is only after the expenditure for the financial year has been authorised that any question of a supplementary grant arises. According to the proposed rule moved by my honourable friend a supplementary grant can be moved during the period allotted for the passing of the budget, and therefore before even the budget has been passed, it will be open to the Honourable Finance Minister to table a supplementary grant. You will be pleased to see how absurd this position is. It may be, though I am doubtful, that after the budget has been introduced it is open to the Honourable Finance Minister, any time when it suits him, to ask for a raised or increased demand in place of the actual demand incorporated in the original budget. But there is really no question of moving a supplementary grant during that interim, because the Act definitely provides that you should first get the authenticated schedule presented to the House, and after that has been sanctioned, expenditure over and above that can only be by means of a supplementary grant. Therefore where is the question of moving a supplementary grant before the budget has been passed and before that schedule has been placed before the House?

Sardar Hari Singh: With your permission I may answer the objection raised by my honourable friend, Malik Barkat Ali. I think he has wasted his breath. All the while he has been harping on supplementary demands. Does he mean to say that there should be no supplementary demands presented before the House? I think his answer will not be in the negative.

Malik Barkat Ali: I am afraid my honourable friend has not understood me. I only say that supplementary grants or further grants can only be moved in the House after the budget has been passed and the authenticated schedule presented.

Sardar Hari Singh: My honourable friend is confusing further demands with the supplementary demands. These are two quite different kinds of demands. They form two distinct categories. I have nowhere proposed that supplementary demands should be moved before the annual financial statement has been laid before the House and the budget has been passed. Supplementary demands are always moved after the annual budget has been passed.

Malik Barkat Ali : Then what is a further demand ?

Sardar Hari Singh : If the House wants to have further demands presented by the Government, the House may have them.

Malik Barkat Ali : Before the budget is passed ?

Sardar Hari Singh : Yes.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : On the whole I agree with the point of order raised by Malik Barkat Ali and I am also of the opinion that section 81 makes it very clear that a further demand cannot be moved unless the budget has been passed or to put it more strictly and more accurately, it should be over and above the expenditure theretofore authorised for that year. Now this authorisation comes under section 80 (1), which says that the Governor shall authenticate by his signature a schedule specifying so and so. I think the only argument that could be raised in opposition to the argument advanced by Malik Barkat Ali would be, though it would be a far-fetched one, that it is not necessary that the authentication should be after the whole budget has been passed. Supposing five demands have been passed or granted by the House and it occurs to the Government that a little more money is necessary for a particular demand, the Minister in charge can approach the Governor and ask him to authenticate the five demands already granted by the Assembly and then literally it would be covered by section 81. If we interpret these sections too literally or absolutely literally it might be argued like what I have submitted, that it is not necessary that the whole budget should be passed, but that after a few or even one demand has been granted by the House and it appears that more money is necessary owing to something which has happened since that demand was framed—for instance in case of a flood or where some breach has been caused to a weir or a canal has been damaged by which a crore and 20 lakhs would be necessary instead of a crore—then the Finance Minister can go to the Governor and say, Sir, such is the emergency, will you kindly authenticate this demand ? In order to comply with section 81 he asks the Governor to authenticate the demand already passed with respect to Irrigation and before any other demand on the agenda is moved. This is the argument which with some show of reason based on a strictly literal interpretation of the sections of the Government of India Act might be advanced. But I am afraid, as I said in the beginning, it would be too literal and too academic. The intention of section 80 seems to be that the Governor would not authenticate the expenditure piecemeal, but that he would wait until the Assembly has had time to consider each demand and after the demands have been discussed then the Governor would authenticate the schedule of expenditure and send it to the Assembly and it is only then that if any further demand is necessary, it would be placed before the House. The other argument would be too literal and when you interpret a section too literally sometimes you misinterpret it and that interpretation would be open to objection. I would submit that section 80 makes it clear that the whole budget has to be authenticated as a whole and section 81 makes it absolutely clear that no further demand would be placed before the House until all the demands have been authenticated.

Advocate-General (Mr. M. Sleem): The point of order that has been raised is this, that section 81 of the Government of India Act bars this rule. I would submit that if you examine the language of section 81, you will find that it only applies when an authentication has taken place under the provisions of section 81. It says—

“ If in respect of any financial year further expenditure from the revenues of the Province becomes necessary over and above the expenditure theretofore authorised for that year.....”

There is no question of any piecemeal authentication.

“ the Governor shall cause to be laid before the Chamber or Chambers a supplementary statement showing the estimated amount of that expenditure and the provisions of the preceding sections shall have effect.....”

This rule just proposed is, I take it, not dealing with that stage. It is dealing with a stage before the Governor has authenticated the expenditure and therefore I submit that it is not out of order. The objection was not under sections 78, 79 or 80. Before he proceeds to authenticate it, it may be realised that further expenditure is necessary and I therefore think that section 81 does not stand in the way.

Mr. Speaker: How?

Advocate-General: My submission is that section 81 comes in after the expenditure has been authenticated. We are dealing with a stage in this rule when there has been no authentication.

Mr. Speaker: Is there any section in the Government of India Act which authorizes the Governor to put a supplementary demand before the Assembly before the annual budget is passed?

Advocate-General: Not before the annual budget is passed.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: What do you mean by ‘authorized’ by the Assembly or by the Governor?

Advocate-General: Authenticated by the Governor under section 80. Section 81 is a section dealing with the supplementary statement of expenditure which is only put forward before the House after the first stage is over, namely the expenditure for the year has been authenticated. This is the first stage. There are certain number of demands before the House, and the House has to consider these grants. Authentication is the subsequent stage and after that stage if there is any question of a further demand it comes in a further estimate of expenditure. I submit that there is no bar in any section of the Government of India Act.

Mr. Speaker: What about section 81?

Malik Barkat Ali: What does ‘further’ mean?

Advocate-General: My submission is that section 81 does not apply.

Mr. Speaker: If section 81 does not apply, will the Advocate-General point out any other section of the Government of India Act in which the Governor is authorised to place such a budget before the House?

Advocate-General : It is a question of terminology. All that happens is this that the Governor has under section 78 to place before the House an estimated statement of receipts and expenditure for the whole year. Then it goes on to say that the expenditure is to be put to vote. There is nothing there to bar the Governor saying that when I presented this I left out a certain item and now that the House is going into it, it may also consider this item. There is no rule which prohibits that.

Mr. Speaker : Unless the Governor is authorized by law, how can he place any matter before the House ?

Advocate-General : The rule proposed is this :--

On a day fixed by the Governor before the last of the days allotted by him for the moving of demands for grants, further demands for grants may be moved.

Supposing a further demand is moved which is not included, it certainly would not be barred under section 81.

Mr. Speaker : No question of being barred. The question is under what law the Governor has power or authority to move it.

Advocate-General : Only under section 78.

Mr. Speaker : Only annual budget can be placed under section 78.

Advocate-General : Annual financial statement would be included in it. It is in dealing with the annual budget that these things come in. If anything is not there it may be included in the annual budget. It is a part of that annual statement.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : This very section 81 refers to items which become necessary over and above those already authenticated, i.e. demands that have already been passed and authenticated under section 80. It does not refer to the stage when nothing has yet been passed. Then of course they can say that a clerical or other error has crept in and they can convert one crore into one crore and twenty lakhs.

Malik Barkat Ali : Where is the distinction between a supplementary and a further grant ? How does my learned friend make out that a further grant is different from a supplementary grant ? Because so far as the Government of India Act goes, there is either the budget or a supplementary or further grant. Having regard to the fact that the word further is used in section 81 and in no other section of the Government of India Act, my learned friend is wrong when he seems to think that further grants are different from supplementary grants.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : These estimates are such as would be placed before the Assembly by the Governor. Now, the Governor sends certain estimates to the Assembly. These estimates are taken up by the Assembly. They are passed. Then they go to the Governor and are authenticated. Before the Assembly has finished its deliberations the Governor comes to know that something has happened and that something more should form part of those estimates which are before the Assembly, and in such a case the Assembly will be within its rights to consider these estimates. After these estimates have been passed by the Assembly and they have been authenticated by the Governor it is only then that section 81 will come into operation. It will not come into operation till the Governor has authenticated the grants as they have been passed by the Assembly. Therefore my submission is that unless you are pleased to hold that there is a section in the Government of India Act, which I am not aware of, which says that the Governor cannot refer these estimates in two instalments before they are actually passed, section 78 permits the adoption of a procedure under which the estimate may be given in two instalments before the budget is passed.

Mr. Speaker : May I invite the honourable member's attention to the opening lines of section 78? They are as follows :—

78. (1) The Governor shall in respect of every financial year cause to be laid before the Chamber or Chambers of the Legislature a statement of the estimated receipts and expenditure of the Province for that year, in this Part of this Act referred to as the "annual financial statement."

How many annual financial statements can a Governor place before the Assembly under this section? I wish to invite the attention of the House to what happened when this Rule was last taken up. I have got the proceedings of 5th April, 1938, before me. I will read out my ruling with a part of proceedings. When Sardar Hari Singh moved this very Rule, I made the following observations :—

The annual budget or the demands for grants, contained therein, are voted on days allotted by the Governor for that purpose. The rule moved by the honourable Sardar Hari Singh empowers the Governor to have "further demands for grants" moved on one of the days, before the last, originally allotted by the Governor for the voting of the budget. It may happen that some of the demands for grants, specified in the budget, might have been disposed of before the day on which the Governor authorises the moving of "further demands for grants"; while no action may have been taken on the remaining demands for grants, mentioned in the budget. It may also happen that some of the further demands for grants, authorised to be moved by the Governor on a particular day, may be integral parts of demands already rejected or passed by the House; while some of these "further demands for grants" may be parts and parcels of some demands for grants, yet undisposed of. In the former case, the "further demands for grants" may be moved, like supplementary demands, as independent demands for grants; but in the latter case the "further demands for grants" shall have to be added on to the original demands for grants of the same class. In other words, an original as well as a "further demand" shall have to be put before the House as one increased demand and not as two independent demands. But according to parliamentary practice even a Minister of the Crown cannot increase the amount of a grant beyond the sum specified in the original estimate; and if such increase is considered necessary the original estimate has to be withdrawn and a revised estimate presented in its place. May I know what will happen if and when such a contingency arises?

Sardar Hari Singh then got up and said :—

May I explain the intention of the rule as moved by me? The intention is exactly as suggested by you. The further demands refer to the demands that have already been voted upon and not the demands which are yet to be voted upon.

I then got up and said, "What has the Minister for Finance to say?". What he said was—

I have nothing to say at this stage.

I then said—

The procedure is open to several further objections; but as an identical rule is being considered by His Excellency the Governor, in consultation with me, I prefer not to raise those objections here.

Diwan Chaman Lall then got up and said—

But we may be passing these rules now without the benefit of the objections you might have to raise on the point. Therefore, I think this is the proper stage at which you should indicate to us your objections.

[Mr. Speaker.]

I then got up and said :—

In the Government of India Act express provisions are made for the presentation to the Assembly of "the annual budget" (see Section 78) and for the submission of "supplementary demands for grants" after the authentication and authorisation of "the budget" (see section 81); but no provision is made for the presentation of further demands for grants, as proposed by the rule, moved by the honourable Sardar Hari Singh.

Later on I said :—

In England there is no law or rule which, like Section 81 of the Government of India Act, permits a 'supplementary demand' to be presented only after the 'regular budget' has been passed, authenticated and authorised under section 80. Consequently, in Commons, if the regular estimates have not been considered prior to the submission of the summer supplementaries, the two are considered together. On this point the practice of the House of Commons is that in addition to the ordinary estimates, which are submitted to the House of Commons as early as possible in each session, the various departments are often compelled to present further estimates for expenditure, which was not foreseen at the time when the original estimates were prepared. Such supplementary or additional estimates, as the case may be, are presented to the House of Commons as soon as possible. If the original estimate for the department in question has not been already disposed of in Committee of Supply, the supplementary sum is incorporated with the sum remaining to be voted for that department; if, however, the original vote has been agreed to, the additional money required is voted separately. But this cannot be done under section 81 of the Government of India Act, which expressly precludes the submission of 'supplementary demands for grants' before the authorisation of the 'annual budget.'

In America the national government and several states and local governments have legal provisions whereby the budget making authority may submit to the legislative body supplementary or additional expenditure estimates after the budget has been transmitted and before final action has been taken on it. It is particularly noticeable that in the United States of America the right to present supplementary or additional estimates, after regular budget has been transmitted and before final action has been taken on it, is regulated by statute, and not by rules or usage.

The rule, moved by the honourable Sardar Hari Singh, is open to several other objections as well. But in my opinion the best course would be to postpone consideration of the rule until the matter is further considered by all concerned.

I meant His Excellency the Governor and myself. Upon this the Honourable Finance Minister got up and said—

There are certain rules to be made by the Governor in the exercise of his discretion after consultation with you. Suppose a rule of this description were eventually to be framed by the Governor in the exercise of his discretion, what would happen if a further demand has to come up? Will you then say that the demand is ultra vires of the Government of India Act.

With regard to the four rules which Sardar Hari Singh proposes to include in the Rules of Procedure of the Assembly and of which he has given notice as new rules, I do not think that I will give way. I do not think I will be giving out any secret when I say that His Excellency and I are considering these rules. If we pass or reject them we will be placing an obstacle in his way. I am of the same opinion as Dr. Gokul Chand Narang and Malik Barkat Ali. I entirely agree with them.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : It will save time.

Mr. Speaker : Yes, it will save time and money. But it is a complicated matter. Suppose certain days are appointed for discussing certain demands; but after 3 or 4 days the Governor's list of further demands comes. It will interfere with the whole programme, because if this rule is framed, the Governor will fix a certain day on which the additional budget shall be considered. It may be that on that day the House, according to its previous programme, has to discuss Police or General Administration. So, if the Governor fixes, under the proposed rule, some other demand on that day, the House shall not be able to follow its programme and discuss the demand relating to the Police or General Administration. Therefore, at present, I am of the opinion already expressed. It will be better, I think, if the House waits till I have discussed the Rule with His Excellency the Governor.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : These rules must have been framed by Sir Herbert Emerson.

Mr. Speaker : No, they are to be made by him in consultation with me.

Sardar Hari Singh : Do you object to excess demands ?

Mr. Speaker : Yes, I object. In my opinion they are not permissible under the law as it stands.

Sardar Hari Singh : Excess demands should be left out and supplementary demands should be taken up.

Mr. Speaker : The Rule about the supplementary demands is bound to come in. Let us leave all these four rules to His Excellency the Governor and myself.

Sardar Hari Singh : Objections can be taken to further demands under the Government of India Act, but no objection can be taken to supplementary demands. Moreover I may draw your attention to the fact that we have already passed Rules 125-A, B, C and D, regarding the annual financial business. We have got the Rule regarding the annual budget. We should also have Rule regarding the supplementary demands.

Mr. Speaker : As regards Rule 133-B I have no objection. The Governor will have no objection. His Excellency and I have agreed that it should stand as it is. So that the rule may be moved and passed if the House has no objection.

Minister for Finance : May I make a submission, Sir? I gather that His Excellency and yourself have agreed to this rule. I take it that this rule is included in the Governor's Rules. I feel that if we pass these rules and the Governor, agreeing with the Honourable the Speaker, frames similar rules about supplementary demands, the two sets of rules may not be exactly in the same terms. There is a possibility of there being a conflict in the language of the Governor's Rules and the rules framed here. Where then is the advantage to be secured, even though this House may be able to claim the credit of framing some rules in that behalf? I do not think there is any good in doing so. If the Speaker and the Governor are agreed on certain rules, then those rules are going to prevail.

Mr. Speaker : I may further add that it is worth considering whether this House has the power to make these rules which impose some sort of duty on the Governor.

Sardar Hari Singh : There are four rules. Are all of them going to be deleted by the House ?

Minister for Finance : My position was perfectly clear. The Governor in his discretion, in consultation with the Speaker, may frame certain rules which cover the same ground, but their language may differ. My point is that there may be some difference. I was going to add that if there is any further virtue in these suggested rules, that will be duly borne in mind by the Governor.....

Mr. Speaker : If the House passes this rule, I shall be placed in a predicament, as I do not wish to be a party to any decision about these rules.

Sardar Hari Singh : This is not the only rule which the Governor is to frame but there are other rules regarding financial matters as well.

Mr. Speaker : There are two sets of rules. On the rules of one set both the Governor and I are agreed. But on the rules of the other set I differ from him and his advisors and the rule under discussion is one of the rules in the latter set. Therefore, I request the House not to pass it to-day ; and hope that the honourable member will withdraw his motion.

Sardar Hari Singh : Sir, I withdraw my motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Mr. Speaker : The remaining new rules need not be moved.

Sardar Hari Singh : No, Sir.

Mr. Deputy Speaker (Sardar Dasaundha Singh) : Sir, I beg to move—

That at the end, the following new rule be added :—

Subject to the provisions contained in the Act, or, any law, in force for the time being, defining the powers, privileges and immunities of the Assembly and of the members and committees thereof, and subject to the rules framed by the Governor under the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 84 of the Act, in all cases not provided for hereinbefore, the practice and procedure of the House of Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland as in force at the time shall be followed so far as they may be applicable to this Assembly.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the following new rule be taken into consideration :—

Subject to the provisions contained in the Act, or, any law, in force for the time being, defining the powers, privileges and immunities of the Assembly and of the members and committees thereof, and subject to the rules framed by the Governor under the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 84 of the Act, in all cases not provided for hereinbefore, the practice and procedure of the House of Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland as in force at the time shall be followed so far as they may be applicable to this Assembly.

The motion was carried.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : You will see, Sir, that this new rule proposes the incorporation of the whole procedure as it prevails in the House of Commons. Are we prepared really to import that procedure in this wholesale manner? After all our rules are few and simple, 100 or a few more. They make definite provisions only as to our needs and requirements, as regards particular contingencies. It has also been open to us, as you have been invariably pleased to do so, where direct and definite light can be sought in the Rules of the House of Commons, to follow them. But if we adopt a comprehensive rule of the description proposed, I may say that we shall be compelled to undertake an elaborate study of May's Parliamentary Practice and other technical works dealing with parliamentary procedure in the Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. That is not all. You remember, Sir, that all those rules, which have been evolved in the House of Commons, have a long technical history behind them and they have no real immediate application to our conditions; and in our efforts to apply them, we are certain to get involved in practical difficulties. We have these simple rules framed by ourselves. Let us proceed according to these rules. We have, further to help us, a large number of rulings of this House and of the Central Legislature where we work under parallel and comparable circumstances. I have no doubt in my mind that if we adopt this rule, we shall be cast on a study of all the elaborate technicalities in May's Parliamentary Practice based, as they are, on the peculiar conditions of British constitutional history and tradition. That practice has no direct bearing here. Those rules are highly technical and many of them really of obsolete character. We shall be embarking on an uncharted sea of artificial provisions, and we shall be involving ourselves in real and often inextricable difficulties, and I see no advantage in incorporating those rules. The new rule proposed by the Deputy Speaker is like this:—

That at the end, the following new rule be added:—

Subject to the provisions contained in the Act, or, any law, in force for the time being, defining the powers, privileges and immunities of the Assembly and of the members and committees thereof, and subject to the rules framed by the Governor under the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 84 of the Act, in all cases not provided for hereinbefore, the practice and procedure of the House of Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland as in force at the time shall be followed so far as they may be applicable to this Assembly.

Sir, I am not aware of any legislature, incorporating in such terms as these, rules from across the sea, from the Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. We have helpful rulings in abundance and I see on the table a book which contains rulings given by the Chair in the Central Assembly. Now, over and above this, if we incorporate this rule and follow the British technical procedure as it obtains in the House of Commons, I for one will feel myself in extreme difficulty in knowing, from day to day, where I stand. I am also sure that our members, particularly those who are not familiar with the English language, and not only with the English language but with all the intricacies of that peculiar language, I was going to say jargon, in which British parliamentary procedure chooses to express itself, they will find themselves in great day to day difficulty. I am making no confession when I say that I for one do not understand even half of this book—May's Parliamentary Practice. Much of it conveys no meaning whatsoever to me. And so far as the financial procedure therein is laid down, I understand it even less. Even in England a high authority—E. Hilton Young—speaks of the maze of parliamentary procedure in matters of finance where the path to tread is devious. He speaks of financial procedure as being planned on no orderly or scientific scheme and as having been evolved bit by bit to suit the conditions and needs of the moment. He characterises the procedure as a meaningless ritual, the 5 P. M. rules of the House for financial business being full of fossils involving waste of time on precautions against dangers which passed with the seventeenth century and have no application at present. My position is, therefore, simply justified and I think that many of our members would admit that they are probably also in the same position. In those circumstances, because of the extreme technicality of the British procedure and because of the obvious impropriety of bodily importing comprehensive practice from outside, I do not see any value or virtue in the proposition of the Deputy Speaker.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): I wish to add only one word in supplementing the objection on grounds of convenience raised by the Honourable Finance Minister. My objection is based on constitutional premises. I fear that my friend the Deputy Speaker has by accident omitted to consider these points. I grant that there is a great deal in the Parliamentary procedure that we can very well adopt. But I refuse to concede that we should abdicate the powers given to us under the Government of India Act to frame our own rules of procedure. While it is open to us to adopt by convention whatever suits us in the procedure of the British Parliament, we should retain our right to frame our own rules and to alter them from time to time as necessity may arise. I am confident that in view of this the Deputy Speaker will withdraw his amendment.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: In view of the wishes of the House I beg leave to withdraw the amendment.

Premier: I should like to submit one point. Our practice at present where our own rules are silent and where the practice of the House of Commons is not inconsistent with our rules, is to adopt the Parliamentary procedure. You have been adopting this practice all these years. I can assure you that in future you will have the fullest discretion to adopt the same practice. Therefore, this amendment is unnecessary. Besides there may be cases where our rules are silent and the Parliamentary procedure may not be applicable to our conditions. In such cases this amendment will fetter your discretion and our discretion also unnecessarily. Therefore, I suggest that the matter may as well be left to convention retaining to ourselves a right to alter that convention where desirable.

The amendment was by leave withdrawn.

Rule 50.

Mr. Speaker: Let us now take up rules, the consideration of which was postponed.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural): I beg to move—

That for Rule 50 the following be substituted:—

50. All proceedings of the Assembly shall be conducted in English or vernacular language but any member who is unacquainted or not sufficiently acquainted with the English language may address the Assembly in any recognised vernacular language of the Province.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this recognised vernacular language shall be in any case one of the following languages, viz., Urdu, Hindustani and Punjabi.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member's amendment is out of order. It amounts to this that between the words "English" and "language" the words "or vernacular" be inserted and in the explanation the word "Hindustani" be inserted between the words "Urdu" and "and". Now instead of suggesting his verbal amendments he has moved a new rule for taking the place of the original rule. The honourable member, an experienced lawyer as he is, will admit that, I hope, his amendment is inconsistent with section 85 of the Government of India Act.

Lala Duni Chand: I quite recognise the difficulty that is in my way and in the way of any honourable member who may like to move an amendment with regard to this rule. If really we are going to stick to the interpretation of section 85 which you have been pleased to put upon it—

Mr. Speaker: If I am wrong, the honourable member is welcome to correct me.

Lala Duni Chand: I admit that your interpretation is correct. I do not question it. But we have to find a way out of the difficulty. The House must be reminiscent of the lively controversy that was created last time.

Mr. Speaker: I have one humble suggestion to make. It may be that if something is done on the basis of that suggestion, some solution may be found. Now the first part of section 85 says: "All proceedings in the Legislature of a Province shall be conducted in the English language." This cannot be possibly changed except by the Parliament itself. Then the proviso—so far as it concerns this province—says: "Provided that the rules of procedure of the Chamber shall provide for enabling persons unacquainted or not sufficiently acquainted with the English language to use another language." This proviso is so widely worded that it may include the making of rules by this House as to what 'unacquainted' or 'not sufficiently acquainted' means. If honourable members appoint a small committee of three sound lawyers of this House to make a rule defining what 'unacquainted' or 'not sufficiently acquainted' means, perhaps the difficulty might be solved to a certain extent.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh Rural): Sir, I beg to move—

That in line 2, between the words "who" and "is" the words "declares that he" be inserted.

The motion was carried.

Mian Fazal Karim Bakhsh (Muzaffargarh Sadar, Muhammadan, Rural): Sir, I beg to move—

That in line 4, between the words "Assembly" and "in" the words "in Urdu or Punjabi or with the permission of the Speaker" be inserted.

That in line 4, between the words "any" and "recognized" the word "other" be inserted.

That the explanation be deleted.

Mr. Speaker: Rule under consideration, amendment moved is—

That in line 4, between the words "Assembly" and "in" the words "in Urdu or Punjabi or with the permission of the Speaker" be inserted.

That in line 4, between the words "any" and "recognized" the word "other" be inserted.

That the explanation be deleted.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): The amendment of my honourable friend suggests that the explanation may be deleted and that instead of the words 'recognized language' the words 'Urdu or Punjabi or with the permission of the Speaker any other recognized language of the province' be added. It attempts to codify the existing practice with regard to various languages used in debate.

Mr. Speaker: That will make the rule more complicated.

Parliamentary Secretary: I submit that an amendment has been moved with a specific purpose by the honourable member.

Malik Barkat Ali: May I in support of this position just draw your attention to the fact that so far as Urdu and Punjabi are concerned, we understand them very well, but any member may start speaking in Persian. Therefore, I submit that so far as Urdu and Punjabi are concerned, there is no restriction and the matter is crystalized by this amendment, but if there is any other language to be used, naturally it should be with the permission of the Speaker. This amendment clarifies the position and makes the matter perfectly clear, and further does not in any manner depart from the practice heretofore in force in this House. Urdu and Punjabi are clearly understandable by everybody, but so far as any other language is concerned, let the matter of the permission rest with the Speaker. This is really a very useful amendment and I certainly support it. Anybody may take it in his head to address this House in Persian or any other language which may be Greek to us. In case this is agreed to the explanation would become unnecessary.

Mian Abdul Aziz (Outer Lahore, Muhammadan, Urban): May I suggest one thing? Why not take all these amendments, Nos. 6, 7 and 13 together? As a matter of fact it is an attempt to modify this rule and I think all these should be taken together. I would suggest further that you should consider all of them together, besides 6, 7 and 13, because it is in no way against the spirit of section 85. Now those members who do not know English, are entitled to know what is being said in the House and if they are kept in ignorance they would object. I hope that is not the spirit of the law that they should be kept in ignorance.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): The rule as amended by my friend Mian Fazal Karim Bakhsh would read like this—

All proceedings of the Assembly shall be conducted in the English language, but any member who declares that he is unacquainted or not sufficiently acquainted with the English language may address the Assembly in Urdu or Punjabi, or with the permission of the Speaker in any other recognized language of the province.

The explanation shall be omitted.

Lala Duni Chand : I object to the proposal of the honourable member.

Mr. Speaker : The rule as amended will read as follows :—

"All proceedings of the Assembly shall be conducted in the English language, but any member who declares that he is unacquainted or not sufficiently acquainted with the English language may address the Assembly in Urdu or Punjabi, or with the permission of the Speaker in any other recognised language of the province.

Question is that the amendments proposed be made.

The motion was carried.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I propose—

That after the words "Urdu and Punjabi" the word "Hindustani" be inserted in the rule as amended.

Malik Barkat Ali : I just want to point out that there is no such amendment on the printed paper supplied to me.

Mr. Speaker : As no such amendment stands in the name of the honourable member, who has moved it, it cannot be allowed to be discussed.

The amendment of Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (No. 11)<sup>1</sup> is out of order because it relates to the explanation, while the other amendments, which have been moved and which have been carried, relate to the Rule itself.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That Rule 50, as finally amended, be adopted.

The motion was carried.

Rule 61.

Mr. Speaker : Rule 61 will now be taken up.

Lala Duni Chand : I beg to move—

That in sub-rule (1) lines 1-2, between the words "proposed" and "a", the words "and discussed" be inserted.

Mr. Speaker : Rule 61 under consideration, amendment moved—

That in sub-rule (1) lines 1-2, between the words "proposed" and "a", the words "and discussed" be inserted.

Syed Anjad Ali Shah : Sir, there is absolutely no need of this amendment because Rule 61 is more or less the same as laid down in the Manual of Procedure in the Public Business at page 127. There it is said—

"135. (1) After a question has been proposed, a member rising in his place may claim to move, 'That the question be now put,' and unless it appears to the chair that the motion is an abuse of the rules of the House, or an infringement of the rights of the minority, the question, 'That the question be now put,' must be put forthwith."

This amendment is, therefore, not necessary.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That in sub-rule (1), lines 1-2, between the words "proposed" and "a", the words "and discussed" be inserted.

The motion was lost.

<sup>1</sup>That in line 3 of explanation, for the words "Urdu and Punjabi," the word "Hindustani" be substituted.

(1) Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : I beg to move—

That in sub-rule (1), lines 6-7 for the words "decided without amendment or debate," the words, "if 50 members rise in support of it shall be decided in the affirmative without amendment or debate" be substituted.

The motion was lost.

Sardar Hari Singh : I move—

(i) That in line 8 of sub-rule (2) for the word "any" the word "a" be substituted.

(ii) That in line 9 of sub-rule (2) for the word "any" the word "the" be substituted.

Mr. Speaker : Amendment moved—

(i) That in line 8 of sub-rule (2) for the word "any" the word "a" be substituted.

(ii) That in line 9 of sub-rule (2) for the word "any" the word "the" be substituted.

Premier : If the object of my honourable friend in moving this amendment is to improve the language, then I would suggest that it should be left finally to the Drafting Committee.

Sardar Hari Singh : That is in case of a consequential amendment.

Premier : I hope my friend the Secretary will make note of it and see that this is not over-looked at the drafting stage.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That Rule 61 be adopted.

Mian Abdul Aziz : But I have put a proviso to that ?

Mr. Speaker : I rule the proviso to be out of order. It is vague and indefinite.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That Rule 61 be adopted.

The motion was carried.

---

Rule 83.

Sardar Hari Singh : I beg to move—

That in line 5 of proviso, for the word "four" the word "seven" be substituted.

Four clear days are not sufficient for us.

Premier : Four clear days mean six days.

Sardar Hari Singh : Seven clear days will mean nine days.

Premier : Exactly. Therefore, we do not want to give nine days. I think six days is a good compromise between four days and nine days.

Sardar Hari Singh : We want that members of the House should have as much time as possible. I therefore move my amendment—

(After some verbal discussion it was agreed to insert 5 for 7 days).

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That in line 5 of the proviso, for the word "four," the word "five" be substituted.

The motion was carried.

Sardar Kapoor Singh (Ludhiana East, Sikh, Ruraf) : Sir, I beg to move—

That at the end the words 'and Punjabi in Gurmukhi script' be added.

According to the rules, for those persons who are not acquainted with English the Bills shall be translated in Urdu. Those who are lawyers know that Urdu phraseology is so solid that some persons who know it cannot understand the Bills when they are translated into Urdu, not to speak of those who do not know Urdu. It is necessary that the Bills should be translated into Punjabi and at the same time in Gurmukhi script because some of us do not know Urdu at all. (A voice: Which Punjabi?) Punjabi of the Punjab. Those persons who come fresh from the Law College must have the experience that when they enter the courts they are not sometimes able to understand Urdu phrases which are found in the plaints. I know for certain that my honourable friend the Finance Minister would not be able to understand the translation of a Bill when it is made in Urdu. My friend has been an examiner. Let him be an examinee to-day. I would like to ask him as to what is meant by the phrase استعمال بالجر. The honourable member cannot suggest a Punjabi equivalent for it. At least I plead guilty that just when I entered the courts my munshi stated that a client had come and he wanted to sue another person for ازالہ حیثیت (I could not understand what it meant. I wonder if the Revenue Minister understands it.

Revenue Minister: It means under section 500.

Sardar Kapoor Singh: When rules have been made for the benefit of those who are unacquainted with English, at the same time for those members who do not understand Urdu, Bills should be translated in Punjabi with Gurmukhi script also.

Mr. Speaker: Rule under consideration, amendment moved—

That at the end the words "and Punjabi in Gurmukhi script" be added.

I wish further to add that the same point is involved in Rules 94 and 98.

Sardar Kartar Singh (Lyallpur South, Sikh, Rural): (Punjabi): Sir, I rise to support the motion now before the House. It goes without saying that the honourable members who do not understand English or Urdu do require the Bills to be translated in Punjabi in the Gurmukhi script. It is their privilege and right to have as full an acquaintance with the proceedings of this House as any other honourable member is entitled to have. I am inclined to think that not a single vote of the House should be cast without knowing the pros and cons of the matter under the consideration of the House. I, therefore, request that those honourable members of this House, who do not understand Urdu translations of the Bills and other business of the House, should be supplied with copies in the Punjabi language. Some of my friends have expressed the opinion that it is next to impossible to translate the difficult phrases of law into the Punjabi language. I would like to make it clear that this is not correct, for many laws have been translated by the court readers into the Punjabi language. Besides, the Gurdwaras Act has also been translated into

[S. Kartar Singh.]

Punjabi. If this change can be accomplished with a little inconvenience, I would request the Government that it should give effect to it without any delay.

I may submit that the Bills can be translated very easily into the Punjabi language. If any phrases are not to be found in Punjabi, they can be very easily coined. If this amendment is agreed upon, I am sure that all the honourable members of the House would understand the contents of the Bills and other business of the House.

Further, I may point out that there is yet another important matter which I wish to bring to the notice of the honourable members opposite. They are in the habit of declaring it over and over again that they are the protectors of the interests of minorities. I appeal to them that just as they demand protection in other provinces, in the same way, they should do justice here and give the minorities their due. It is just possible that by understanding the business of the House, the honourable members of the House may change their mind to cast their votes in favour or against a proposition. The casting of one vote can literally change the whole business of the House. I would, therefore, appeal to the Honourable Premier that he should accept this amendment in order to educate the honourable members of this House. I would also appeal to those honourable members of the House, who claim to be great supporters of the Punjabi language and who are at this time siding with the Government, that they should ask the Honourable Premier to agree to this amendment. They claim to have a great influence with the Government and if there is any iota of truth in it, I request them to exert their influence and get this amendment accepted. If they cannot do so, we would be justified in saying that our impression was right that they neither had any influence in the past nor have they any at present, and that they are supporting the Government in order to serve their own ends. (Hear, hear from the Opposition benches.) They claim that they are there in order to safeguard the interests of the Hindus and the Sikhs, but the truth is that they have no influence with the Government at all. I may submit that they will be seen in their true colours when voting is taken on this matter. We will surely press this amendment to a division. With these words, I whole-heartedly support the amendment now before the House.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan): Sir, I have listened with great interest to the speech of my honourable friend Sardar Kapoor Singh. He would have been more reasonable if he had also given the equivalents of the Arabic and Persian words which he quoted. That indicates the difficulty with which we are faced. But if my honourable friend had seen amendment No. 10, which is going to be moved by Bai Hari Chand, he would have found that we have ourselves tabled an amendment, which says that not only the Bill be translated into any language, but also transcribed into any script in vogue in the province, such as Gurmukhi, etc. Why are the honourable members opposite unnecessarily wasting the time of the House? If my honourable friends are satisfied, I would be prepared to accept further amendment to this amendment that the Bill be translated into Punjabi or in any other recognised language of the province. If this is going to satisfy them, the whole question will be settled.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Sir, Rai Hari Chand's amendment is a bit different. It says:—

"The Secretary shall, with the permission of the Speaker, cause the Bill to be translated....."

But we want it as a matter of right.

Mr. Speaker : The question is that—

At the end the words "and Punjabi in Gurmukhi script" be added.

Rai Hari Chand : I beg to move—

6 P.M.

That at the end the following be added :—

"or if requested by any member who is unacquainted with English and Urdu, the Secretary shall, with the permission of the Speaker cause the Bill to be translated into Punjabi or any other language of the Province or transcribed into any other script in vogue in the Province."

Mr. Speaker : Rule under consideration, amendment moved—

That at the end the following be added :—

"or if requested by any member who is unacquainted with English and Urdu, the Secretary shall, with the permission of the Speaker cause the Bill to be translated into Punjabi or any other language of the Province or transcribed into any other script in vogue in the Province."

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : There is a misunderstanding with regard to the purpose of this clause which I should like to clear up.

Mr. Speaker : The clause is so well-worded that it requires no comment.

Parliamentary Secretary : With regard to the discretion contained in the last clause, it is necessary to explain the position.

Mr. Speaker : The amendment is clear and everybody understands it.

Parliamentary Secretary : It is necessary that the purpose of this amendment and its underlying meaning should be explained before we can expect our friends to vote with us on this amendment. There appears to be some misunderstanding as to the purpose of this rule and the amendment which has just been voted upon. Sardar Kartar Singh particularly challenged those of our Hindu and Sikh friends who sit on this side of the House to oppose us on this controversial matter. In the first place, I submit, that that challenge was very uncharitable and I am sorry it came from Sardar Kartar Singh.

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of order, Sir. The honourable member has made a reference to the proceedings of the House in the current session and said that Sardar Kartar Singh has challenged the members.

Parliamentary Secretary: I wish to explain the purpose of this amendment. I submit that if my honourable friend will carefully consider the rules as they stood originally and the rules as they are now drafted, he will find certain important changes. It will be found that in deference to the wishes of our non-Muslim friends who sit on this side and who have strong opinions on this question we have evolved a very reasonable and honourable compromise. If the status quo was preserved the publication of Bills and the select committee's report could only be in English and Urdu and in no other language. We have gone a step forward and provided that if honourable members are not acquainted with English or Urdu they can get the Assembly papers not only translated in any other language but in any other script, Punjabi and Gurmukhi obviously being included. Therefore, I submit that if people want to pick holes only with a view to incite communalism surely we cannot satisfy them. But if dispassionately on merits it is sought by my friends forming the minority community to effect a compromise which is reasonable and honourable to all concerned they will find that such a compromise is offered in this amendment (hear, hear), thanks to the statesmanship of our Honourable Leader, the Premier, and the accommodating spirit of all parties concerned, a compromise is offered which will do honour to any Ministry in any province. Not only that, they will find that in the clause which has been proposed speaking in Urdu and Punjabi has been officially placed on the basis of our previous practice. I, therefore, appeal to all sections of this House that in matters of such controversial nature we should not look to the next election but to the next generation and try to evolve formulas which are fair and honourable to all concerned. (Hear, hear). I appeal to all friends with honour and courage to vote for this motion.

Sardar Samparan Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural) : I am rather astonished to see the enthusiasm of the honourable member who has just spoken on this motion. He seems to be very enthusiastic and naturally I think he should feel about it because he has scored a point so far as his compromising of the Urdu language is concerned. (Question). I will explain. He has given superiority to the Urdu language in this province of the Punjab where I am sure his own children and mother are speaking the Punjabi language. He has betrayed his mother language in this House, and he takes pride over it. My friends there are very enthusiastic about it, but they have done a great wrong to their own mother tongue. My sorrow about this matter is this. Those gentlemen who have fought all their lives in supporting the Punjabi language officially and have tried their best not only to give the Punjabi language the same status which Urdu has in this province, but have always argued and asserted that Punjabi is the language of this province of Punjab, have now given preference to Urdu and they have fallen a victim to it and they have compromised their position. I would say that if by compromise is meant that one has to come down and surrender himself and fall in with what you say, then you can have that compromise and we do not want to be a party to that compromise. (Hear, hear). With these words I oppose the motion.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan): I wish my friend from Lyallpur had not wasted his eloquence and bitterness on this House. I am sorry to say that he has imported into this debate that communal question which we all want to avoid.

Sardar Sampuran Singh: On a point of order. He calls it communalism. It is on that communalism—

Premier: My honourable friend has again risen to a point of order and wants to make the same incoherent speech to show his patriotic love for Punjabi. I know his patriotism and the patriotism of several other people in the province and when the time comes we will know who is the real supporter of Punjabi as he just professes to be a supporter of Punjabi.

Now what is the position under the existing rules? "If any member is unacquainted with English the Secretary shall, if requested, cause the report to be translated into Urdu." That is the present position. Under rule 46 (2) they have a right to get it translated into Urdu and no other language. Now you are aware that in rule 50 where we had formerly only 'Urdu' we have now got 'Urdu and Punjabi.' It is not only your mother tongue but my mother tongue also and I am equally proud of that mother tongue. My honourable friend should know that all of us have the patriotic sense like himself. It is not only the mother tongue of my friends on this side but my mother tongue and I am proud of that mother tongue. We have brought Punjabi into line with Urdu where speeches are concerned. Now what do we propose to do with regard to this particular rule?

We say that if any member is unacquainted with English—I am acquainted with English and I do not want any translation—but if any member is unacquainted with English he can go to the Secretary and ask him to give him a translation in Urdu. Similarly if my honourable friends are unacquainted with English and Urdu, they can go and tell the Speaker, 'we cannot possibly follow this; let us have a translation in Punjabi,—not only a translation in Punjabi but also in Gurmukhi script. That is what we are doing. Instead of getting it translated into Urdu, a member can get it translated either into Urdu or Punjabi and not only that, he can get it written in Gurmukhi script. That being the case, how have my honourable friends got the audacity—and if I may say not only the audacity but the courage—to try to throw dust into the eyes of my friends? But they cannot throw dust into my eyes. We should look at this question dispassionately and not only from the point of view of any community but from the point of view of the province as a whole.

Sardar Partab Singh (Amritsar, Sikh, Rural) (Punjabi): Sir, two things stand out very prominent in this amendment. One of them I have already explained to you. The other point is this. If the meaning of the words "The Secretary shall with the permission of the Speaker cause the translation of the Bill to be made in Punjabi....." is that the Secretary shall cause the translation of the Bills to be made into Punjabi with the permission of the Honourable Chaudhri Sir Shahab-ud-Din, then we have absolutely no objection to this rule. We have full confidence in Chaudhri Sahib and are sure that he will never hesitate in permitting the Secretary to get the Bills translated into Punjabi because he is the acknowledged champion of the cause of Punjabi in this province. He has the greatest love for this language and in fact it is he who has by his constant endeavours enhanced the prestige of Punjabi-speaking people in this province. As long as he occupies this Chair, our rights and interests will remain quite safe in his hands. But if some other gentleman happens to occupy this Chair who may not have any love for Punjabi, we are afraid no Bills will be allowed to be translated in Punjabi or written in Gurmukhi script. I do not wish to mention the name of any honourable member but I know that there are certain honourable members in this House who have absolutely no love for Punjabi. If any one of them happens to be elected as the Speaker of this House, he will not allow the Secretary to cause the translation of Bills to be made in Punjabi. It can never enter into the head of such persons that Punjabi is a fit language in which translation of Bills can or should be made. In view of these facts, I request on behalf of my party that Punjabi may be placed on the same footing as Urdu so that no such danger should remain. With these few words, I close my speech.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That at the end the following be added :—

“or if requested by any member who is unacquainted with English and Urdu, the Secretary shall, with the permission of the Speaker cause the Bill to be translated into Punjabi or any other language of the province or transcribed into any other script in vogue in the Province.”

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That Rule 83 as amended be adopted.

The motion was carried.

---

Rules 94 and 98.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the following amendment be also made to rules 94 and 98 :—

“or if requested by any member who is unacquainted with English and Urdu the Secretary shall, with the permission of the Speaker cause the Bill to be translated into Punjabi or any other language of the province or transcribed into any other script in vogue in the Province.”

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That Rules 94 and 98 as amended be adopted.

The motion was carried.

---

Rule 90.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That Rule 90 be adopted.

The motion was carried.

Rule 124.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That Rule 124 be omitted.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : A committee has now to be formed for examining the amended rules and report what amendments of a formal or consequential character should be made in the rules as a matter of drafting. I suggest the following names :—

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal,
Sardar Hari Singh,
Mir Maqbool Mahmood,
Advocate-General,
Sardar Dasaundha Singh,
Malik Barkat Ali, and
Bai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri.

The committee shall submit its report on or before the 6th July, 1938. The quorum of the committee will be three and the Secretary of the Assembly will be its ex-officio Secretary.

The Assembly then adjourned till 2 p.m., on Wednesday, 29th July, 1938.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

3RD SESSION OF THE 1st PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Wednesday, 29th June 1938.

*The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 2 p. m. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the chair.*

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

RECREATION FOR PRISONERS IN PUNJAB JAILS.

*2937. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether any time is allowed to prisoners in the Punjab Jails for exercise and recreation ; if so, whether any arrangements are made in the jails for outdoor and indoor games ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : There are special arrangements both for exercise and recreation in the Borstal Institution, Lahore. In other jails no such arrangements exist. The daily task allotted provides for many prisoners sufficient exercise. Superintendents of Jails, however, as far as possible, carry out the instructions which have been issued from time to time that physical drill should be arranged for the prisoners every morning.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Honourable Finance Minister to kindly state the reforms introduced by the present Ministry in the matter of exercise and recreation of prisoners in jails ?

Mr. Speaker : That is much wider than the original question.

Sardar Hari Singh : My question has emanated out of the answer given by the Finance Minister. It does concern exercise and recreation.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I put the question whether the present Ministry has issued any instructions to the Jail Superintendents in the matter of exercise and recreation to be allowed to prisoners in jails ?

Finance Minister : The Ministry has issued no such instructions.

Sardar Hari Singh : Does the Ministry intend to introduce reforms as regards recreation of the prisoners ?

Minister : If the Ministry feels that there is any necessity for a change in any particular direction, the Ministry will gladly do so.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has he considered this matter at all ?

Minister : No.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has it been brought to his notice that far-reaching changes and reforms are being made in the jails in Congress provinces ?

Minister : I am aware of no such thing. The report of the United Provinces Jail Reform Committee is still a confidential document and came into my hands only to-day and was probably issued only a few days ago.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Are the Government prepared to instal wireless sets in jails for the recreation of prisoners ?

Minister : I think that if the honourable member will exercise a certain measure of patience, he will hear in answer to one of the questions that wireless sets have been installed in some of the jails.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Which jails ?

Minister : I cannot say off-hand but I think there is one at Campbell-pur jail. Does wireless, Mr. Speaker, come within the scope of this question ?

Mr. Speaker : 'Recreation' is a very wide word.

Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Finance Minister let us know if any leisure time is left to the prisoners after they are free from their daily labour ?

Minister : Usually it is.

Sardar Hari Singh : Up to what hour ?

Minister : I gave particulars about hours only yesterday.

EDUCATION FOR PRISONERS IN PUNJAB JAILS.

*2838. Mumshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

(a) whether any arrangements are made by the Jail Department to impart education to the prisoners in the Punjab Jails besides the Borstal Institution ;

(b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, what expenditure was incurred in this direction during the year 1937-38 ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Arrangements to impart a certain measure of education exist in some of the jails, but in several of the jails these arrangements are at present of a very meagre character.

(b) Rs. 1,976. In addition in a number of cases writing material, books, small grants and even teachers are provided by Prisoners' Aid Societies.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has he considered the question of making better and satisfactory arrangements for the education of prisoners ?

Minister : I am considering this question.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if the question has been considered by the Government, namely, just as certain prisoners are qualified for certain kinds of work, similarly educated prisoners may be made to serve other prisoners by educating them or by teaching them ?

Minister : A very complicated question, but if the honourable member means that the agency of the educated prisoners might be utilised for the purpose of imparting education to other prisoners, then I would say that that is actually being done.

Sardar Hari Singh : What is the nature of the proposals he has under consideration at present ?

Minister : The nature of the proposals is concerning the matter with regard to which the question was put.

Sardar Hari Singh : What concrete proposals has he under active consideration at the present time ?

Minister : The question whether a large measure of education, and not the meagre arrangements which I have referred to, can be given to prisoners in our jails.

Sardar Hari Singh : For how long has he been considering these proposals ?

Minister : Not for very long.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : What are those legal arrangements ?

Minister : I said 'meagre arrangements'. I am not placing any unduly favourable complexion on any thing.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know what the Honourable Finance Minister understands by the word 'education' ?

Minister : Here it means education in the ordinary sense of the word.

LIGHT FOR PRISONERS IN JAILS.

*2388. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state if there are any facilities of light provided to the prisoners in the cells in the night for the purposes of encouraging them to study in the winter in the Jails in the Punjab that are electrically fitted or are without such fittings ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Electric light is provided in cells of the following jails where prisoners can study in the night if they so desire :—

- (1) New Central Jail, Multan.
- (2) Lahore Borsal Institution.
- (3) Gujranwala District Jail.
- (4) Ferozepore District Jail.
- (5) Karnal Subsidiary Jail.

(b) Kerosine oil lamps are supplied to those prisoners who express a desire to study in the night in the following jails :—

- (1) Old Central Jail, Multan.
- (2) Multan District Jail.
- (3) Gurdaspur District Jail.
- (4) Hissar District Jail.
- (5) Campbellpur District Jail.
- (6) Amritsar Subsidiary Jail.

(c) Instructions have been issued to provide lighting facilities in all the other jails as in (b) above.

TECHNICAL EXPERTS IN CENTRAL JAILS.

*2899. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether it is a fact that technical experts are kept in the Central Jails of the Punjab for the purposes of imparting technical education to the prisoners ; if so, their names, qualifications and monthly salaries.

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : Yes ; a statement is laid on the table showing the technical staff in the Central Jails.

SUB-ASSISTANT SURGEON IN PUNJAB JAILS.

*2891. Munshi Hari Lal: Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether it is a fact that a Sub-Assistant Surgeon in the Hospitals of the Punjab Jails is invariably or generally a borrowed officer from the Medical Department; if so, the ordinary term for which a sub-assistant surgeon stays in the Jail Hospital and the allowances, if any, that in addition to his pay is paid to him for his services in the Jail?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal: The reply to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. The normal term of deputation of a sub-assistant surgeon in the Jail department is about 2 years. In addition to his pay he receives a jail allowance of Rs. 15—40 per mensem according to the class of the jail to which he is attached.

REVISION OF ELECTION RULES.

*2892. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the attention of the Government has been drawn to the judgment of the election tribunal presided over by Rai Bahadur Bangi Lal accepting election petitions of Munshi Hari Lal, M.L.A., who was a candidate for the Punjab Legislative Assembly in the South-Western Towns (General Constituency) at the time of the recent General Elections of the Punjab Legislative Assembly and Shrimati Parvash Kaur, a candidate in the Amritsar Rural Constituency in the last General Elections of the Punjab Legislative Assembly ;

- (b) if so, whether the Government have issued instructions to the Returning Officers not to reject nomination papers of candidates for the Punjab Legislative Assembly on flimsy technical grounds ;
- (c) whether there is a proposal to so revise the election rules as to make it possible to lodge an appeal against the decision of a Returning Officer prior to polling ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daultana) : (a) Yes.

(b) Scrutiny of nominations is governed by statutory rules. Returning Officers have been asked from time to time to make themselves familiar with these rules.

(c) Yes ; the matter is under examination.

SHORTAGE OF WATER SUPPLY IN PASRUR TAHSIL.

*2333. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the attention of the Government has been drawn to the fact that Pasrur (a tahsil in Sialkot district, with a population of ten thousand people) is suffering acutely from shortage of water supply that its wells have dried up and its hand-pumps have failed ;
- (b) whether the Government have recently received any memorials from the Pasrur public and a resolution of the Pasrur Bar Association on the subject ;
- (c) whether Government is aware that the financial position of the Pasrur municipality is too weak to further any scheme of water-supply ;
- (d) if the answer to (a) is in the affirmative, what action the Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) No.

(b) No.

(c) While the question whether the municipal committee of Pasrur can further a water-supply scheme has not been examined as there was no need for it, the financial position of the committee is satisfactory.

(d) Does not arise.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister please care to enquire from the Deputy Commissioner, Sialkot, or the President of the municipal committee, whether the public of Pasrur did submit a memorial to this effect ?

Minister : They have not submitted any memorial to me and if the honourable member wants to know whether they submitted any memorial to the Deputy Commissioner, I will enquire if a notice is given.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : The question does not refer to the Education Minister. Did he draw the attention of the Deputy Commissioner or the local officials ?

Minister : I will enquire.

RENT CHARGED FOR ACCOMMODATION PROVIDED TO LEGAL PRACTITIONERS AND PETITION-WRITERS.

*2894. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the legal practitioners and the petition-writers work and sit in the various court compounds in the province ; if so, what kind of accommodation is allotted to the legal practitioners and the petition-writers separately ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the petition-writers are charged a rent for the accommodation provided to them whereas nothing is charged from the legal practitioners ;
- (c) if the answer to (b) is in the affirmative, the reasons for exempting the legal practitioners from the rent when both work on the authority of their licences ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that the petition-writers of Sialkot have given a notice to the Government under section 80, Civil Procedure Code, that the said rent charged from them is illegal, that this practice should be discontinued and that in case of non-compliance with this request the Government would be sued by them ;
- (e) if the answer to (d) is in the affirmative, the action the Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

SUMMER VACATION FOR SCHOOLS.

*2895. Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Riasat Ali : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether a circular was issued last year fixing the dates and periods of the summer vacation in the schools ;
- (b) if so, whether he will be pleased to lay a copy of it on the table of the House ;
- (c) whether it applies to Government schools only and, if not, the names of private aided schools in the Ambala division which have not complied with its provisions ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : (a) Yes.

(b) A copy of the C. M. (220-G. S., dated the 16th June, 1937) is laid on the table.

(c) It is not obligatory on the privately managed schools to close for summer vacation on the same date on which Government schools are closed.

GOVERNMENT OF THE PUNJAB, PART I OF GAZETTE.

Notification No. 219-G. S., dated the 16th June, 1937.

The Governor of the Punjab is pleased to authorize the following amendment to the Punjab Education Code, 11th edition reprints (1932) and (1934):—

Article 214. Substitute the following for the existing article as amended by corrigendum No. 74:—

"The summer vacation in—

Vacations in schools and colleges.

(i) Government schools.

(ii) Municipal Board, and

(iii) District Board anglo-vernacular schools for boys and girls.

shall be two calendar months commencing from about the end of the month of July.

3. The above mentioned schools, as well as the vernacular schools under private management in urban areas, and all anglo-vernacular schools under private management for boys and girls, (district board primary and vernacular middle schools excepted) shall be closed for spring vacation from the 1st to 14th April, including the Easter holidays if they fall within this period, otherwise from the 1st to 10th April.

3. District board primary and vernacular middle schools for boys and girls should be given two harvest vacations instead of the summer vacation, provided that the total duration thereof does not exceed nine weeks in the aggregate.

4. The summer vacation in—

(i) Degree colleges.

(ii) Intermediate colleges for women, and

(iii) Intermediate colleges for men shall be of 12 weeks, two and-a-half, and two calendar months, commencing from about the beginning, middle and end of the month of July, respectively.

5. All Government colleges shall be closed for spring vacation from the 22nd March to the 4th April, including the Easter holidays if they fall within this period, otherwise from the 22nd to the 31st March.

NOTE 1.—In the case of local body schools the exact dates of the vacations will be fixed by the local body concerned, and in the case of Government schools by the inspector.

NOTE 2.—Special periods may be fixed under paragraph 3 above with the sanction of the Department in the case of schools for boys situated in hill districts, schools for girls at places where the climate is extremely hot, and in the Government Middle School for Girls, Dera Ghazi Khan."

W. H. F. ARMSTRONG,

Under-Secretary to Government, Punjab.

[Hon. Mian Abdul Hays.]

No. 220-G.S. dated the 16th June, 1937.

Copy forwarded to the Divisional Inspectors and the Circle Inspectresses of Schools, and the Principals of all Government Arts and Professional Colleges for men and women in the Punjab, for information. Every effort should be made to close all Government and recognised institutions located in the same town for the summer vacation on such a date as will ensure their simultaneous re-opening.

MAN MOHAN,

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR,

for Director of Public Instruction, Punjab.

*2896.—Cancelled.

REMODELLING OF OUTLETS OF RAJBAB FATEHKI, LOWER CHENAB CANAL.

*2897. Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Riasat Ali: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the dates on which outlets Nos. 180 (left), 6985 (left), and 10760 (left) of Rajbah Sukheki, outlets Nos. 3190 (right), 5186 (left), 8000 (right), 8000 (left), 14000 (right), of Rajbah Fatehki and outlet No. 14000 (left) for Mauza Dobar, Hafizabad Division, Lower Chenab Canal, were first opened ;
- (b) the date on which remodelling, if any, has taken effect ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the water supply has now been considerably reduced due to the outlets having been constructed at a high level ;
- (d) the total amount of the irrigated area on the outlets mentioned above a year before and after the remodelling of those outlets ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the cultivation of cotton has especially suffered by the remodelling of the outlets ;
- (f) whether it has been brought to his notice that the zamindars of villages Sukheke, Dobar, Tabelewali, Mochiwala, Walgan Baran, have been ruined on account of the loss suffered and if so, the action that the Government intends to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: (a) In the year 1901. It is pointed out that there are no outlets at R. D. 8,000 Right and Left ; and at R. D. 14,000 Right and Left, on the Fatteki Minor. It is therefore presumed that the question refers, inter alia, to outlets at the following R. Ds. :—

R. D. 8,820-R instead of R. D. 8,000-R.

R. D. 9,050-L instead of R. D. 8,000-L.

R. D. 14,100-R instead of R. D. 14,000-R.

R. D. 14,470-L instead of R. D. 14,000-L.

(b) April 1938.

(c) The table below gives the amounts of reductions and increases that have been effected by the recent remodelling:—

Serial No.	R. D.	DISCHARGES.			TYPE OF OUTLET.
		Permissible.	Before Remodelling.	As designed at time of remodelling.	Before April, 1938.	After April, 1938.	Percent reduction.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

SUKHNI DISTRIBUTARY.

1	180-L	0.28	0.30	0.28	Orifice ..	4 inches diameter pipe.	4½
2	6,985-L	1.77	1.20	1.77	K. G. O.	A. P. M. ...	Increase.
3	10,760-L	0.49	0.53	0.49	Do.	Do.	7½

FATHEE MINOR.

4	3,190-R	0.81	1.05	0.93	K. G. O.	A. P. M. ...	11½
5	5,136-L	0.38	0.44	0.38	Do. ..	Do. ..	13½
6	8,820-R	0.46	0.65	0.55	Do. ..	Do. ..	18
7	9,655-L	0.61	0.66	0.61	Do. ..	Do. ..	7½
8	14,100-R	0.52	0.61	0.52	Do. ..	Do. ..	14½
9	14,470-L	1.07	1.00	1.07	Do. ..	Do. ...	Increase.

As will be seen, outlets Serial Nos. 2 and 9 had their discharges increased while those of serial Nos. 4 and 6 were only partially reduced on account of full reduction to their permissible discharge at one time being considered to be too drastic. The remaining outlets have had their discharges reduced to some relatively small extent, but in no case have they been reduced to give less than their authorised supply. The original outlets were of an obsolete type which had become rusted and worn out, and it was therefore necessary to replace them by those of modern design, which have been fixed at correct levels in accordance with present day practice.

[ Hon. Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia. ]

(d) The areas irrigated during the year 1937-38 are given in the table below :—

Distributary.	Outlet.	PERMISSIBLE AREA.			AREA ACTUALLY IRRIGATED.
		Kharif.	Rabi.	Total.	Kharif 1937.	Rabi 1937-38.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Sukheki ..	180-L	25	50	75	88	39	77
Do. ..	6,925-L	156	312	468	216	404	620
Do. ..	10,760-L	43	86	129	45	64	109
Fatteki Minor ..	3,190-R	72	143	215	159	276	435
Do. ..	6,136-L	33	67	100	83	145	228
Do. ..	8,820-R	41	81	122	91	126	216
Do. ..	9,055-L	54	107	161	171	250	421
Do. ..	14,100-R	46	82	138	90	163	243
Do. ..	14,470-L	94	189	283	220	342	571

Since the outlets were only remodelled last April and the kharif sowings are not yet complete, the actual figures for irrigation for a year, or even for a season, since the remodelling of the outlets, are not yet available.

(e) As cotton is still being sown, it is too early yet to say whether its cultivation has suffered by the remodelling of the outlets.

(f) The areas sown during the present kharif season as compared with the 'Permissible' areas are given in the table below :—

Village.	Permissible Kharif area.	Area sown up to 15th June 1938.
	Acres.	Acres.
Sukheki (including Walgan-Baran) ..	301	278
Dobar .. .. .	86	103
Tabelewali .. .. .	264	330

NOTE.—No part of Mochiwala village is irrigated from the Sukheki Distributary or Fatteki Minor.

Sowing will not be completed until the end of August, but the above figures would go to show conclusively, that the zamindars have not been ruined by the replacement of inefficient, worn out and obsolete outlets by efficient modern type ones.

REFRESHER COURSES AT PHILLAUR.

*2898. Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Riasat Ali : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the category of police officers who are required to attend the refresher course at Phillaur before promotion to the next higher grade ;
- (b) the year since this rule has been enforced with the reasons for enforcing it ;
- (c) whether any exemptions are granted from the rule and if so, on what grounds ;
- (d) whether Government is aware that this rule has caused a great dissatisfaction in police force ; if so, the action that the Government intends to take in the matter to remove that dissatisfaction ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

- (a) Senior inspectors and senior sergeants of police.
- (b) The refresher courses for inspectors and sergeants were instituted in 1933 to bring their knowledge of lines administration, office work and general duties up-to-date.
- (c) There has so far been no exemption.
- (d) Government has no information to this effect.

GIRLS' SCHOOLS IN KANGRA DISTRICT.

*2899. Captain Dina Nath : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of girls' schools in rural area of the Kangra district at present ;
- (b) whether the Government intends to open any new girls' schools in the district : if so, where ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

PANCHAYATS IN KANGRA DISTRICT.

*2900. Captain Dina Nath : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of panchayats in the Kangra district at present ;
- (b) whether the Government intends to establish new panchayats in this district ; if so, where and when ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Nil.

(b) The power of establishing panchayats was delegated to Commissioners of divisions in 1933. It is proposed to establish 17 panchayats in the Kangra district, vide Commissioner, Jullundur division's notifications Nos. 3217-D. C. and 3217-A.-D. C., dated the 11th June 1938, which were published in Part I-B of the Punjab Gazette, dated the 17th June, 1938.

Captain Dina Nath : How long will it take to establish panchayats in the district of Kangra ?

Minister : As early as possible. In a matter of this type it is not possible to fix the period.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Why was it not found feasible to establish panchayats before ?

Minister : Ask the last Government.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I seek the protection of the Chair. The reply to my question has not been given.

Mr. Speaker : I cannot extort answers.

Minister : I have said 17 panchayats are being established and I cannot say why they were not established before. The present Government came into office last year.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I am eager to know the causes as to why they were not established before ?

Minister : I can only say that it has now been decided to establish panchayats.

FERRY ON BEAS RIVER IN SUJANPUR TIHRA.

*2901. Captain Dina Nath : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government is aware of the fact that ferry on Beas river in Sujanpur Tihra, district Kangra, is very dangerous to cross throughout the year ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the people of that place sometime ago had submitted a representation to the Government for the construction of a bridge over the river Beas near Sujanpur and promised to contribute Rs. 20,000 for this purpose ;
- (c) if the answer to (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, the action that is proposed to be taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes, but only during heavy rains in monsoon and sometimes when the snows are melting. This is the case with all other Beas ferries.

(b) No representation has been made to Government but such representations have from the time to time been made to local officers.

(c) Sujanpur Tihra is not situated on any arterial or semi-arterial road and is not considered to be of sufficient provincial importance as compared with many other places in the Punjab so as to justify the construction of a bridge estimated to cost about 2 lakhs.

FALL IN PRICES OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCE AND RELIEF TO ZAMINDARS.

*2902. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether the Government is aware of the heavy drop in prices of wheat and other agricultural commodities in the Punjab ; if so, whether the Government intend to give any special relief to landholders and tenants in the matter of land revenue and abiana and, if so, its nature ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Yes. The question of remission of land revenue on account of fall in prices, where necessary, is under the consideration of Government.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know when the Government will take a decision in the matter ?

Minister : I am afraid I cannot give a definite answer beyond what I have said. The matter is under the consideration of the Government. I cannot say how long it will take ; but it will be expedited.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is there any other relief which is contemplated to be extended to the zamindars ?

Minister : We are only discussing the question of the fall in prices in areas where it applies.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know if it is a fact that land revenue is being collected in many parts of the Punjab ?

Minister : Relief may be given in the next harvest.

Sardar Hari Singh : Why are the remissions being given in instalments ?

Minister : We are expediting the matter as much as is possible. For Lyallpur orders have been issued.

Mr. Dev Raj Sethi : Will it have any retrospective effect ?

Minister : If any remission is due and is not given just at present that might be granted in the next instalment.

RESOLUTION REGARDING FEE CONCESSION TO STUDENTS OF DISTRICT BOARD SCHOOLS, LUDHIANA.

*2903. Seth Kishan Dass : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the District Board, Ludhiana, in its resolution No. 8, dated the 10th August, 1937, resolved to charge no fees from the students reading in all the high schools under the management of the District Board and belonging to the depressed classes up to the 10th class and submitted that resolution to the Government for its sanction ; if so, whether Government has accorded its sanction to the resolution, and if not, why not ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

Seth Kishan Dass : Sir, the question as tabled here differs in some respects from the one that I had given notice of. I wished to elicit information about the Jullundur District Board but I am being given information regarding the Ludhiana District Board. I do not require that.

Minister : If the question relates to Jullundur, the Punjab Government have accepted the recommendations of the Jullundur District Board (hear, hear).

REPRESENTATION OF DEPRESSED CLASSES AMONG PANCHAYAT OFFICERS.

*294. Seth Kishan Dass : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of panchayat and assistant panchayat officers in the Punjab at present ;
 (b) whether it is a fact that none of these officers belong to the depressed classes ; if so, the reasons therefor ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) There are at present 18 panchayat officers in the Punjab.

(b) Yes ; as the appointments were made by the previous Government no reasons can be given.

Chaudhri Jugal Kishore : How many Achhuts will be recruited as panchayat officers in the Punjab ?

Minister : That is a request for action.

Chaudhri Jugal Kishore : Will any member of the depressed classes be taken from the Ambala division ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do Government contemplate recruiting panchayat officers from the scheduled castes ?

Minister : No appointments have yet been made. I cannot anticipate the decision of the Government. All these considerations will be taken into account.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Minister whether any vacancy of a panchayat officer has occurred during the life time of the present Ministry ?

Minister : None has been filled so far.

Sardar Hari Singh : Have any vacancies occurred ?

Minister : None has been filled so far.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has there been any vacancy ?

Minister : Yes.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know whether in making these appointments the rights of the depressed classes will be considered ?

Minister : I have already replied. I have nothing more to add.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do Government propose to appoint some of these officers from amongst the depressed classes ?

Minister : No decision has yet been taken. How can I anticipate a decision ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Since how long have the vacancies been there ?

Minister : For some time. I am unable to specify the date. I require notice for that.

Sardar Hari Singh : What is the number of vacancies ?

Minister : I must require notice for that also.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What are the qualifications fixed for the panchayat officers ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow this question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What is the reason for not filling the vacancies ?

Minister : Additional appointments were also under consideration. We thought it would be better to fill all the posts together.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is there any Government circular saying that persons belonging to the depressed classes will not be nominated as panchayat officers ?

Minister : That is your imagination. Not to my knowledge.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is there any circular saying that the depressed classes are entitled to be nominated ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow this question.

AWARD OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATE TO TEACHERS.

*2905. Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that of the conditions laid down in Under-Secretary to Government, Punjab (Ministry of Education) C.M. No. 2791-X, dated 26th February, 1925, the one is that the teachers who enter service for the first time as teachers after 1st April, 1925, are ineligible for the award of a special certificate ;
- (b) if the reply to (a) above is in the affirmative, the number of such applications as have been rejected every year in the five divisions since the imposition of the above-mentioned restrictions ;
- (c) the number and names of such applicants as have been granted special certificates in spite of the above restriction and the reasons for granting them those certificates ;
- (d) the action the Government proposes to take in respect of such teachers as have fulfilled the other necessary conditions except the one laid down in the Punjab Government (Ministry of Education) letter No. quoted in part (a) above ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Yes.

(b) It is not in the public interest to collect this information.

(c) The Government is not aware of any exceptions.

(d) None.

Sardar Hari Singh : How is it not in the public interest to collect this information ?

Minister : It would serve no useful purpose.

MURDERS COMMITTED IN LUDHIANA DISTRICT.

*2986. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of murders committed during the first quarter of 1938 in the Ludhiana district ;
- (b) how many cases relating to murders were put in courts during this period with the result in each case ;
- (c) the number of parchas (cases registered) in each thana in the Ludhiana district ;
- (d) whether there is an appreciable increase in the number of cases registered in the said district and if so, the reasons therefor ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

(a) Five.

(b) All these cases were sent up for trial ; one resulted in acquittal, one ended in conviction and three are still pending.

(c) A statement is laid on the table.

(d) There has been slight increase which is accounted for by the stress laid on registering all possible cases.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that one of the causes of increase of murder in the Ludhiana district is the belief that prevails amongst the murderously inclined people that in the first place they will not be detected and if they are detected they will avoid prosecution by approaching corrupt investigating police officers ?

Mr. Speaker : This question not only gives information but makes an insinuation.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know whether it is an insinuation to say that such and such investigating officer is corrupt ?

Mr. Speaker : What information does the honourable member seek ?

Lala Duni Chand : I want to seek the information whether it is within the knowledge of the Government that one of the causes of increase of murder in the Ludhiana district is the belief that prevails among the murderously inclined people that in the first place they are not detected and if they are detected their prosecution is avoided by approaching corrupt investigating officers ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Is this increase due to the incompetency of the investigating and supervising staff ?

Parliamentary Secretary : No.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is this increase in murders due to corruption among the police officers ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

(c) Cases registered during the first quarter in each Police Station are as follows :—

INSPECTION AND SURPRISE VISITS TO POLICE STATIONS IN LUDHIANA DISTRICT BY SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE, LUDHIANA.

*2907. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- the names of the thanas in the Ludhiana district inspected by the Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana, during the last three months with the dates of inspection of each of them ;
- the names of the thanas among them which the said Superintendent of Police has kept for himself as a supervising officer ;
- whether the said Superintendent of Police has paid any surprise visits to any of the thanas in the Ludhiana district during the said period for the purpose of detection of corruption in his department ;
- if the reply to the above be in the affirmative, the names of the thanas to which the said Superintendent of Police paid surprise visits ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

(a) The Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana, inspected during the last three months :—

- P. S. Raikot from 24th February 1938 to 7th March 1938.
- P. S. Dehlon from 13th March 1938 to 21st March 1938.

[Parliamentary Secretary.]

- (3) P. S. Shehna from 27th March 1938 to 30th March 1938.
- (4) P. S. Sidhwan Bet from 6th May 1938 to 8th May 1938.
- (5) P. S. City Ludhiana from 1st June 1938 to 6th June 1938.

(b) The following police stations are under the direct charge of the Superintendent of Police :—

- (1) City Ludhiana.
- (2) Sadr Ludhiana.
- (3) Railway Police Station, Ludhiana.
- (4) Sahnewal.
- (5) Railway Police Station, Sangrur.

In addition he is responsible for and supervises the work of all thanas in the district.

- (c) Surprise visits were paid to check irregularities generally.
- (d) Dehlon and Shehna Police Stations.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : During the course of his surprise visit, was he able to find out any cases of corruption against this officer ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I require notice for that question.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Was any case of irregularity brought to his notice ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I also require notice for that.

RECRUITS ENLISTED BY SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE, LUDHIANA.

*2908. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the names of recruits enlisted by the Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana, during the months of January, March, April and May, 1938, with their educational qualifications and their home districts ;
- (b) the number of recruits from the Beit Ilaga enlisted during these last six months with the names and educational qualifications of each of them ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :
(a) The required statement is laid on the table.

(b) It is not clear what villages the honourable member includes in the "Beit" ilaga. Of the 21 recruits enlisted during the first half of 1938, two are residents of the Sidhwan Bet. One is educated up to 6th class, while the other has passed the middle standard.

Sardar Kapoor Singh : May I know whether these recruits are enlisted communitywise or ilaga-wise ?

Parliamentary Secretary : No particular rule is laid but both considerations are borne in mind.

Sardar Mula Singh : Whether in these six months any Achhut has been recruited from the Ludhiana district ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I require notice for that question.

REPORT OF THE FOREST COMMISSION.

*2909. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether or not Government intends to give this House an opportunity to discuss the report of the Forest Commission appointed in 1937 ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The report has only recently been received and is under consideration. Government will bear in mind the honourable member's suggestion and indicate in due course whether, and if so when, it should give the House an opportunity to discuss it.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know whether it is the intention of the Government to give this House an opportunity to discuss it ?

Minister : Certainly.

INQUIRY AGAINST THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER, RUFAR MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

*2910. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Public-Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that in pursuance of applications, dated 8th November, 1935, 25th March, 1936, and 30th March, 1937, addressed to the authorities concerned by Pandit Babu Ram Sharma of Rupar, district Ambala, containing serious allegations against the executive officer of Municipal Committee, Rupar, an inquiry was held by the Sub-Divisional Officer, Rupar, and also by the Senior Auditor; if so, the result of the inquiries held and the action, if any, taken on the matter as a result of the inquiries?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Exhaustive enquiries into the allegations made by Pandit Babu Ram Sharma against the Executive Officer, Municipal Committee, Rupar, were held by the Sub-Divisional Officer, Rupar, but nothing serious calling for any disciplinary action against him was found out. He was however directed to be more careful in the discharge of his duties.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know whether during the enquiry it was found that the allegations made against the executive officer were substantiated?

Minister : Apparently, according to this report, he was only found to be slack; and he has been informed to be careful in future.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : What were the reasons that necessitated this warning?

Minister : A certain amount of slackness.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Slackness in what?

Minister : In the discharge of his duties generally.

Lala Duni Chand : Has the Honourable Minister gone through the report?

Minister : I have given you the gist of the whole affair.

Lala Duni Chand : I want to know whether he has gone through the report?

Minister : How could I collect the gist, if I had not gone through the substance.

Lala Duni Chand : Then I understand that the Honourable Minister has been pleased to go through the report. May I know what were the main charges?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to place a copy of the report on the table of the House?

Minister : No.

Lala Duni Chand : Is there any objection to that?

Minister : Yes.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know what is the objection?

Minister : All communications between the Government and its officers are confidential.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it contrary to the public interest to disclose the wrong doings of certain officials?

Minister : There is no question of wrong doings. Certain allegation were made against the executive officer, but they were not substantiated.

DISTRIBUTION OF WATER FROM THE GHAGGAR RIVER.

*2911. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that one Gurdial Singh Karkun of Mahant Ram Singh of the Dera Nirmala Sadhus, Manimazara, tahsil Kharar, district Ambala, and several other persons who are entitled to get water from the Ghaggar river for irrigation purposes have recently complained to the Deputy Commissioner, Ambala district, and other authorities against Chaudhri Khair-ud-Din, darogha ab-i-Ghaggar as to the improper distribution of Ghaggar water for irrigation purposes by him ; if so, the action, if any, that the Government proposes to take in the matter ;
- (b) since how long the said darogha has been incharge of the control and distribution of Ghaggar water ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : It is regretted that the answer to this question is not yet ready. It will be communicated to the honourable member when ready.

EDUCATION OF THE CHILDREN OF CRIMINAL TRIBES.

*2912. Chaudhri Ghulam Rasool : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the amount of money that the Government spends annually on giving education to the children of criminal tribes in the Punjab ;
- (b) whether he will be pleased to lay on the table of the House a statement giving the number of students of the criminal tribes communitywise who have passed the eighth class and matriculation examinations during the last few years ;
- (c) whether the Government arranges to give higher education at its own cost to such students who may have passed the matriculation examination ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Rs. 87,000.

(b) Information community-wise is not available. The total number of students of criminal tribes, who have passed the 8th class and Matriculation examination during the last five years is given below :—

Year.	Middle Class.	Matriculation Examination.
1933	5	3
1934	12	8
1935	5	2
1936	17	1

[Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal].

(c) Government does not arrange to give higher education at its own cost to those students who have passed the Matriculation Examination. Ten stipends of Rs. 10 per month for criminal tribesmen have, however, been sanctioned and some of these have been allotted to post-Matriculation students.

Mian Abdul Rab : Is it the policy of Government to provide special facilities to educate and civilise the children belonging to criminal tribes ?

Minister : No, that is not the policy.

Mian Abdul Rab : Why ?

Minister : Firstly, paucity of funds ; and secondly, the unsuitability of a large number of these boys to take any advantage of higher education.

INSTRUCTIONS CONTAINED IN HOME SECRETARY'S LETTER ABOUT AUCTIONING LORRY STANDS.

*2913. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether or not the instructions issued by the Home Secretary to Government, Punjab, to all commissioners in the Punjab in his letter No. 6877-H-97180 (H.—General), dated 29th October, 1937, are being carried into effect throughout the province ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : So far as Government are aware the instructions mentioned by the honourable member are being carried into effect. The Punjab Motor Union recently drew attention to certain cases in which they assert that the instructions are not being followed, and these cases are being enquired into.

GRIEVANCES OF THE TENANTS OF TAHSIL UNA, DISTRICT
HOSHIARPUR.

*2914. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state the result of the inquiry recently held into the grievances of the tenants of tahsil Una, district Hoshiarpur, regarding Batai and Kankut system and other matters pertaining to the relations between them and the landlords ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The Deputy Commissioner's report has been received and it appears that the root cause of the strained relations between landlords and tenants is the batai rents. It is proposed to appoint a special officer with a view to seeing if he can persuade and help the parties to come to an amicable and fair agreement. Failing this, Government will consider what steps should be taken to solve the difficulty.

Sardar Hari Singh : When is the special officer going to be appointed ?

Minister : As early as possible.

AUCTIONING OF LORRY STANDS BY RENALA KHURD AND MONTGOMERY MUNICIPAL COMMITTEES.

*2915. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the time since the local bodies in Okara, Renala Khurd, Pakpattan, Arifwala, Chichawatni and Montgomery in the district of Montgomery are auctioning lorry stands (separately) ;
- (b) the total amount realized by the above local bodies during that period separately each year ;
- (c) the total amount spent on the lorry stands for providing sheds, water, light, waiting rooms, etc., for lorry drivers and travelling public separately each year and by each local body ;
- (d) the fees that the adda contractors charge from the lorry drivers for taking passengers in each local body ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that Renala Khurd and Montgomery Municipal Committees have taken open lands from Public Works Department and District Board and those places are being auctioned as lorry stands every year ;
- (f) if the answer to part (e) above be in the affirmative the amount of the rent which the above Municipal Committees pay to the Public Works Department and District Boards, respectively ;
- (g) whether it is a fact that the Punjab Government sometime ago issued a letter to all commissioners instructing the deputy commissioners to keep a watch on the receipts and expenditure of the local bodies through lorry stands and to meet any attempt in preventing the local bodies using the lorry stands as a source of revenue ;
- (h) whether any instructions were issued by the Punjab Government to local bodies not to levy fees on motor buses per passenger basis ;
- (i) if so, whether the instructions mentioned in parts (g) and (h) above are being carried out in the Montgomery district and if not, the action proposed to be taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Montgomery and Arifwala, April 1928 ; Renala Khurd, January 1931 ; Pakpattan and Okara, April 1930 ; and Chichawatni, April 1931.

(b), (c), and (d) A statement is laid on the table.

(e) Yes.

(f) The Municipal Committee, Montgomery, pays Rs. 860 per annum to the District Board, and the Notified Area Committee, Renala Khurd, Rs. 24 and Rs. 100 per annum to the District Board and the Public Works Department respectively.

(g) and (h) Yes.

(i) Inquiries are being made.

[Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh, Majithia].

EXORBITANT FEES BY LORRY Adda CONTRACTORS IN MONTGOMERY DISTRICT.

*2916. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether the Punjab Motor Union and Montgomery Motor Union have recently drawn the attention of the Government and the Deputy Commissioner, Montgomery, protesting against the exorbitant fees charged by the adda contractors and the heavy auctioning rates by the local bodies in the said district ; if so, the action Government proposes to take ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Yes. Inquiries are being made. The Municipal Committee, Montgomery, have already reduced their rates from seven to five annas in respect of lorries and from three to two and-a-half annas in respect of motor cabs. Both bodies are being asked to provide amenities at their stands in future.

EXECUTIVE ENGINEERS.

*2917. Khan Sahib Chaudhri Fazal Din : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that a member of the Indian Service of Engineers is promoted to the post of Executive Engineer after seven years' service ;
- (b) whether a certain percentage is fixed of the posts of Executive Engineers to which the members of the provincial service of engineers are promoted ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No.
(b) No.

APPOINTMENTS OF HAKIMS IN RURAL AREAS.

*2918. Khan Sahib Chaudhri Fazal Din : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he is aware that the Amritsar District Board has appointed some hakims in the rural areas ;
- (b) if so, what are their qualifications ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) They possess the necessary qualifications laid down in rule 2 of part IV of the District Board Rules, 1926, published with Punjab Government notification No. 3919, dated the 8th February, 1926, as amended by Punjab Government Notification No. 4485-L. G.-87/19883, dated the 20th May, 1938. A copy of the said rule is laid on the table.

Rule 2 of Part IV of the District Board Rules, 1926.

2. (1) No person asserting himself to be a hakim or vaiz shall be employed by a district board as such unless he—

Hakims or Vaizs—

(a) has passed one of the following examinations:—

- (i) the Hakim-i-Hasiq of the Tibbia College, Lahore;
  - (ii) The Zubdat-ul-Hukma of the Tibbia College, Lahore;
  - (iii) the Kaviraj of the D. A.-V. College, Lahore;
  - (iv) the Vaidya Vachaspati of the D. A.-V. College, Lahore;
  - (v) the Unani (Arabic) final Fazal-i-Tib-o-Jirahat of the Ayurvedic and Unani Tibbi College, Delhi;
  - (vi) the Unani (Urdu) final Kamil-i-Tib-o-Jirahat of the Ayurvedic and Unani Tibbi College, Delhi;
  - (vii) the Vedio (Sanskrit) final Ayurvedacharya Dhanvantri of the Ayurvedic and Unani Tibbi College, Delhi;
  - (viii) the Vedio (Bhasha) final Bhishagacharya Dhanvantri of the Ayurvedic and Unani Tibbi College, Delhi;
  - (ix) the Haziq-ul-Hukma of the Bhupindra Tibbia College, Patiala; or
  - (x) the Tabib-i-Akmal of the Bhupindra Tibbia College, Patiala; or
- (b) is a registered medical practitioner not being, in, nor having been dismissed from, the service of Government;
- (c) has a diploma showing that he has been the pupil of a practising hakim or vaiz, and has himself continuously and satisfactorily practised the profession for not less than seven years; or
- (d) is a sanad holder of the Takmil-ul-Tib College, Lucknow.

(2) Except with the previous sanction of the Local Government, no person describing himself to be hakim or vaiz shall be paid by any district board a remuneration exceeding fifty rupees per mensem, and without such sanction no hakim or vaiz who has not one or other of the qualifications specified in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-rule (1) shall be paid by any district board a remuneration exceeding twenty-five rupees per mensem.

(3) A district board may supplement the remuneration payable to a hakim or vaiz under sub-rule (2) by the supply of medicines either free or on commission sale.

(4) Every hakim or vaiz employed by a district board shall keep a register of patients and the Commissioner or the Deputy Commissioner or the Civil Surgeon or the Chairman or Secretary or any other person authorized in this behalf by the board may call for and inspect such register.

REPRESENTATION OF DEPRESSED CLASSES AMONG PATWARIS IN JULLUNDUR, HOSHIARPUR AND KANGRA DISTRICTS.

*2919. Seth Kishan Dass : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of patwaris in the Jullundur, Hoshiarpur and Kangra districts and the number of Sikhs, Hindus and Muslims among them;

[Seth Kishen Das].

- (b) whether Government is aware of the fact that the depressed classes are not represented or very inadequately represented in this service and, if so, whether Government intends to take any steps to give the depressed classes proper representation among these partwaris and, if so, what steps does it propose to take ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The figures are as under :—

					Total.
Jullundur	..	..	..	..	416
Hoshiarpur	..	..	..	..	485
Kangra ..	..	..	..	..	855

(b) I must decline with regret to answer questions which savour of communalism on the floor of the House. I am sorry to have to adopt this attitude but Government consider it necessary in the public interest to establish a convention in connection with such questions. I shall, however, always be prepared to examine any particular instance of disproportionate representation which honourable members may bring to my notice in a more informal way.

CANDIDATES FOR PATWARSHIP.

*2920. Seth Kishen Das : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of candidates for patwarship who passed out of the Training Class for patwaris opened in 1934 in the Jullundur district and the number of successful candidates who have so far been appointed to the posts of patwaris ;
- (b) the number of the candidates belonging to the depressed classes, who passed out of the said Training Class with the number of those among them who have been posted as patwaris ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that some of the successful candidates belonging to the depressed classes have not been posted as patwaris anywhere so far, if so, the reasons therefor ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) 294 and 188 respectively.

(b) 5. All are employed as patwaris.

(c) Six unaccepted candidates from the depressed classes were admitted to the school in contravention of the rules. They have not been accepted as patwari candidates so far.

Sardar Mula Singh : Will the Government open patwar schools in these districts in order to give proper representation to the depressed classes ?

Minister : Patwar schools are not opened for the benefit of any particular class.

Sardar Mula Singh : Is it a fact that in the patwar school which was opened in Jullundur in 1934 only a very small number of persons belonging to the depressed classes was admitted ?

Minister : I have no information regarding the year 1964.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the distinction between an achhut and a non-achhut a communal matter?

Lala Bhagat Ram Choda : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state whether those members of the depressed classes of Jullundur who have qualified as patwaris are not given any post for the mere reason that they are above 23 years of age?

Mian Abdul Rab : May I draw your attention to the fact that the Honourable Minister does not answer the supplementary questions without assigning any reasons?

Minister : I cannot add anything to what I have already said in my answer.

Sardar Mula Singh : Does the Minister's refusal to reply to any question regarding the depressed classes, as being on communal grounds, mean that they are to be allowed to remain backward?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know, if the depressed classes have got real grievances regarding their representation in services and if questions are disallowed on the ground of being communal, what other means are there for them to ventilate their grievances?

Mr. Speaker : Supplementary questions, not arising from the answer to the main question, cannot be allowed. If such questions are allowed the result will be that many of the questions of which other honourable members have given notice shall not be reached.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : The Honourable Minister refused to reply on the ground that the question savoured of communalism. Is the distinction between an achhut and a non-achhut a communal one? If so, will the same apply to the distinction between an agriculturist and non-agriculturist?

Sardar Mula Singh : On a point of order. If the Honourable Minister refuses to answer any question regarding the depressed classes on communal grounds, then it will mean that he will not do anything for the depressed classes.

Mr. Speaker : That is not a point of order.

BAN ON TEACHERS IN SCHOOLS IN HOSHIARPUR DISTRICT AGAINST THEIR BECOMING MEMBERS OF BOARD TEACHERS' UNION.

*2921. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the District Inspector of Schools, Hoshiarpur, has issued circular No. 10, dated 22nd May, 1938, to the teachers of

[S. Hari Singh].

District Board Schools warning them against becoming members of the Board Teachers' Union or attending its meetings on pain of dismissal; if so, the grounds for issuing this circular;

- (b) whether any action has been taken against any of the Board teachers for organizing the said Union;
- (c) whether the said Board Teachers' Union applied for recognition and that the recognition has been refused; if so, the reasons why recognition has been refused?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye: I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

SCHEME OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT.

*2922. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state the details of the scheme of Rural Development for the year 1938-39?

Parliamentary Secretary (Chaudhri Tikka Ram): A statement showing the schemes of Rural Development for 1938-39 is laid on the table. The detailed memorandum relating to each scheme was printed under the relevant head in the printed volume of the Schedule of New Expenditure for 1938-39.

CLOSING OF VICTORIA PARK AT LAHORE.

*2923. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the reasons why the Victoria Park at Lahore has for some time past been closed to the public ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : The Victoria Park has been temporarily closed to the public to save public money spent on it, as expensive grassing has been laid there which has not yet established itself.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I know how long will it take ?

Minister : It all depends upon the growth of the grass.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What is the expert opinion available to the Government ? Will it take two years for the grass to grow ?

Minister : The grass will grow as it grows and we can neither accelerate its growth nor retard it.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will he take the opinion of the Director of Agriculture as to how long will the grass take to grow ?

Minister : He has many other important things to look to.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will he throw it open to public ?

Minister : As soon as the grass has grown, the question will be considered.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it for the first time that grass is being grown in that park ?

Minister : I do not know, but if you give me notice I shall find it out.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it a fact that it has been closed to the public for the first time ?

Minister : I am not aware.

ARRESTS IN CONNECTION WITH LABOUR STRIKE IN TEXTILE MILLS AT AMRITSAR.

*2924. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the total number of arrests so far effected in connection with the labour strike in the textile mills at Amritsar ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) : The total number of arrests effected up to the 18th June, 1938, was 218.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know if any of the prisoners who were arrested and convicted in connection with the strike at Amritsar are still in prison ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I require notice for this question.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has the Government considered the question of release of prisoners ?

Parliamentary Secretary : The matter is under consideration of the Government.

KING GEORGE MEMORIAL FUND.

2025. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the total amount of King George Memorial Fund collected in the Ludhiana district ;
- (b) the names of all those who made contributions towards the said fund ;
- (c) the amount spent locally ;
- (d) whether any committee or an individual kept regular accounts of the King George Memorial Fund ;
- (e) whether the accounts of the amount spent locally were kept by a committee or an individual ;
- (f) whether these accounts are open to inspection by the public ;
- (g) whether the accounts have been audited ; if so, by whom, if not, why not ;
- (h) the names of the members of the committee in charge of the accounts of the King George Memorial Fund ;
- (i) whether the accounts kept have been published ;
- (j) whether Government intends to publish them for the satisfaction of the contributors ;
- (k) whether it is a fact that public men have been asking for the inspection of the accounts and their requests have not been acceded to ;
- (l) whether it is a fact that subscribers have generally been consulted for spending King George Memorial Fund locally in all the districts of the Province ;
- (m) whether it is a fact that in the Ludhiana district the Deputy Commissioner has of his own accord spent a portion of the King George Memorial Fund without consulting the subscribers ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana): I am not prepared to take up the time of the Assembly in answering questions which do not relate to the public administration, but if the honourable member was a subscriber to the fund, and wishes to know that his subscription was properly utilized I shall do my best to satisfy him, if he approaches me informally.

Sardar Hari Singh: There is an insinuation in the answer given by the Parliamentary Secretary. He has said that if the honourable member is a subscriber to the fund and if he wants to know then he can, etc., etc. Honourable members do not put questions to protect their personal interests but to protect the interests of the public unlike the gentlemen opposite. I therefore wish to protest against it and he should withdraw that remark. We do not put questions to protect our own interests.

Mr. Speaker : I don't think he made or meant to make an insinuation. All that he said was that he was not prepared to answer the question; but that if the honourable member had contributed to the fund and wanted to satisfy himself as to its application he shall be glad to satisfy him.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Is that a ground on which an answer can be refused ?

Mr. Speaker : He clearly meant that he was not prepared to answer the question except to the extent that he did.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : The question was asked in the public interest.

Mr. Speaker : But he does not consider it in the public interest to answer it.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : But he did not say that.

Parliamentary Secretary : If a subscriber wants to satisfy himself, the honourable member should refer him to me and I shall satisfy him.

Mr. Speaker : The question has been put to the Secretary. On what ground does he refuse to answer him ?

Parliamentary Secretary : If any subscriber wants to satisfy himself, I shall satisfy him.

Sardar Kapoor Singh : Is he aware that some of the nearest relations of some members contributed to the fund ?

Parliamentary Secretary : Perhaps the honourable member has not understood my reply. It was—

" I am not prepared to take up the time of the Assembly in answering questions which do not relate to public administration. "

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : It is in the interest of the public that I asked the question and not in the interest of the public administration.

Lala Duni Chand : Does not the question raise the question of proper disposal of public fund and if it does why is it that the honourable member refuses to answer it ?

Premier : My honourable friend is at perfect liberty to go to a court of law or use any other remedy that he likes. I have already said that if he is a contributor, I will create facilities to satisfy him, but if he is not a contributor he has no business to ask about a fund which is not a public fund.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : That is a question of some constitutional importance. The question is whether this fund is a public fund, and when it is in the hands of the Government, is the Government responsible to this House or not ? For this reason I would require your ruling.

Mr. Speaker : Were these funds under the control of Government ?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : They were in the hands of the Government officials, and as such it is supposed to be in the hands of the Government.

Sardar Kapoor Singh : Most of the district boards have contributed to this fund with the approval of the Government.

Premier : This fund is not in the hands of the Government. I want to point out to my honourable friend opposite. As a constitutional lawyer if he gives me chapter and verse I might accept his opinion. But on a point of fact, I want to inform you that this fund is not in the hands of the Government.

RELEASE OF HAZARA SINGH AND OTHER BABAR AKALI PRISONERS.

*2926. Master Kabul Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state when Hazara Singh, Pyara Singh, Bhola Singh, Dhamian, Sunder Singh, Udham Singh, Bachhint Singh, Sursin Singh, Bhola Singh, Katha and Munsha Singh convicted in 1925 in the Babar Akali case are due to be released ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : I would refer the honourable member to the announcement<sup>1</sup> made by me in this House on the 23rd June in regard to the release of Babar Akali prisoners.

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

BREACH OF THE TERMS OF A SETTLEMENT BY THE MUSLIMS AT KABIRWALA, DISTRICT MULTAN.

420. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) if it is a fact that in 1934 a settlement was effected through the intervention of the authorities of the district between the Hindus and the Muslims of Kabirwala, Multan district, whereby the former undertook not to lead the procession of barat on the occasion of Dussehra and the latter (Muslims) agreed not to pass Duldul on the occasion of Muharram through the bazars and streets of Kabirwala ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether he will lay a copy of the settlement so reached upon the table of the House ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the terms of the settlement have been acted upon both by the Hindus and the Muslims till the beginning of 1938 ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that the Muslim tried to pass the Duldul procession through the bazars and streets of Kabirwala on 13th March, 1938, on the occasion of the last Muharram without obtaining any licence and that the attempt failed due to the timely intervention of the tahsildar of Kabirwala ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the Deputy Superintendent of Police stationed at Khanewal allowed the Duldul procession to pass through the bazars and streets of the town on the 14th March, 1938, when the Muharram was over.
- (f) if the answer to (e) be in the affirmative, whether any licence was applied for by the Muslims and recommended by the local authorities at Kabirwala ;

(g) whether any licence was issued by the police for the Dulal procession, contrary to the terms of the settlement of 1934, and, if so, the reasons for granting that licence;

(h) whether it is a fact that the Hindus, therefore, observed complete hartal as a protest; if so, for how many days did it last?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) There is no record of any settlement between the Hindus and Muslims. The Hindus of Kabirwala claim that such an agreement was made about 1934, but there is nothing in writing to prove that a settlement actually took place.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) The terms of the alleged settlement are not on record and it is therefore not possible to say whether or not they have been acted upon.

(d) Yes.

(e) The Sub-Divisional Officer and the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Khanewal, did allow the processionists to pass through the bazaar on March the 14th, 1938. They reported, however, that the processionists did not pass through the bazaar in the form of a procession and did not perform any kind of "matam" in the bazaar.

(f) No.

(g) No.

(h) Yes. The Hindus observed a hartal which lasted for about a week.

CHELLUM PROCESSION AT KABIRWALA, MULTAN DISTRICT.

421. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) if it is a fact that on 23rd April last, the Muslims took out a procession of chellum for the first time through the bazars of the Kabirwala town, Multan district, populated by the Hindus, in spite of the protest by the latter;

(b) whether it is a fact that previous to 23rd April, the Hindus protested against that departure from the past practice and waited in deputation on the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Multan, and represented to the Superintendent of Police and the Deputy Commissioner, Multan, by wire to the effect that taking out procession of chellum through the town would be quite an innovation and would be against the spirit of settlement of 1934 besides being opposed to long-established practice;

(c) whether it is a fact that the Hindus also observed hartal as a protest on the occasion; if so, for how many days;

(d) whether it is a fact that after 23rd April, 1938, the Hindus sent representations to the Deputy Commissioner, Superintendent of Police and the Commissioner, Multan, requesting an inquiry as to the situation that had arisen from the action of the authorities in allowing the procession; if so, whether the Government intends to take any action in order to restore amicable relations between the Hindus and the Muhammadans of Kabirwala town?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) No Obhelum procession was taken out on the 28rd April at Kabirwala, but a Muslim was permitted to take out a "manauti" procession in Kabirwala on that day. The route sanctioned was one which was found to be acceptable to all communities.

(b) It is a fact that representations were made by the Hindus of Kabirwala protesting against the grant of a licence for this procession, but the licence was sanctioned only after an assurance had been given to the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Khanewal, that the parties concerned had effected a compromise.

(c) The Hindus did observe a second hartal as a protest. The hartal lasted about a week.

(d) Telegrams and written representations were made to local officials after the procession had been taken out. The Superintendent of Police personally made inquiries at the spot and it was on his assurance to the Hindus that their grievances would be carefully considered that the second hartal was eventually called off. Efforts have already been made and will continue to be made to restore amicable relations between the Hindus and the Muhammadans of Kabirwala.

422 and 423.—Cancelled.

SILT IN RURKI MINOR (DELHI DIVISION).

424. Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) (i) how much silt had gathered at the head of Rurki Minor (Delhi Division) in the months of February, March and April, 1938 ;
- (ii) the authorized gauge on the tail of Rurki Minor and the gauges at the tail on 23rd February, 1938, 17th March, 1938, and 17th April, 1938 ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the full supply of water according to the authorized gauge does not reach the tail of Rurki Minor ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the supply of water at the tail of Jasarana branch is greater than the authorized gauge and that due to this the said branch is not opened to its full supply at its head ;
- (d) if the answers to the questions (b) and (c) above be in the affirmative, whether there is any proposal to construct a fall or regulator in the Jasarana branch ;
- (e) what is the authorized and existing discharge at the head of Rurki Minor ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : (a) (i) Silt in the Rurki Minor at head was—0·6 feet in February, 1938,

0·7 feet in March, 1938,

0·8 feet in April, 1938.

(4) The authorized gauge at the tail of the minor is 1.08 feet. The actual gauge was—

0.8 on 24th February, 1938,

0.65 on 18th March, 1938,

0.75 on 17th April, 1938.

It was not observed on two dates mentioned in the question.

(b) Yes. There has been some shortage at the tail due to silt.

(c) Yes; there is some excess at the tail of the Jaarana branch but the branch is taking its full supply at head.

(d) There is no proposal or necessity for a fall or regulator in the branch. The minor is being improved by silt clearance, widening of its head regulator and constructing a silt excluder to keep silt out of it.

(e) The authorized and existing discharges at the head of the Rurki Minor are 8.8 and 7.6 cusecs, respectively.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES IN ELECTRICITY BRANCH OF PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

425. Raja Fateh Khan: Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) the total number of Government employees in the Electricity Branch of the Public Works Department;

(b) their communal ratio in each class such as officers, subordinates, clerks and other ranks;

(c) their ratio in each class according to their being statutory agriculturists and non-agriculturists;

(d) if the percentage of the agriculturists in the above-mentioned department is low what action Government proposes to take in the matter?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizer Hayat Khan Tiwana: (a), (b) and (c) The attention of the honourable member is invited to pages 21-22 of the consolidated statement showing the proportionate representation of the various communities serving in the different departments of the Punjab Government as it stood on the 1st January, 1938.

(d) The proportion of statutory agriculturists will be raised gradually as vacancies occur and more qualified hands become available.

ADMISSION TO NORMAL SCHOOLS.

426. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state the number of normal schools, the places where they are opened, and the number of students studying in each of these schools during the academic year 1937-38 and the criteria according to which the number of students to be admitted to such schools is fixed according to the various districts in the Punjab and the communities, castes and sub-castes to which they belong?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : There are three Government normal schools for boys at Gakhar, Lalamusa and Karnal. The number of students on rolls in these schools during 1937-38 was 133, 147 and 98 respectively. Seats in these schools are allotted by the Director of Public Instruction, Punjab, in accordance with the requirements of each division, and these are further distributed by the divisional inspectors in accordance with the needs of the various communities and districts within their jurisdiction. Five per cent. of the admissions are made from the depressed classes.

ATTENDING MEETINGS OF CONGRESS, MUSLIM LEAGUE AND OTHER BODIES BY THE GOVERNMENT SERVANTS.

427. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether any restrictions still exist preventing Government servants without previous permission of the heads of their offices or departments from attending meetings organised in any part of the Punjab by the (1) Congress, (2) Muslim League, (3) Hindu Sabha, (4) Khalsa Dewan, (5) Zamindara Leagues of the Unionist Party, Punjab, without any active participation therein ;

(b) if the reply be in the affirmative, the names of the bodies in the case of which restrictions still exist ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes ;

(b) All bodies that take part in politics.

KIDNAPPING OF CHILDREN.

428. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the number of reports received at various police stations of the Punjab about kidnapped children during the present calendar year and the number of cases among them detected successfully so far by the police ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : A great deal of labour will be involved in collecting and collating reports from all thanas in the province. I recently informed the Leader of the Opposition in reply to his question No. *2787<sup>1</sup> of the position in Lahore and Rawalpindi, and possibly that information will suffice for the honourable member's purposes. As I stated, 11 cases of kidnapping have been reported to the Lahore police during the current year of which one only seems to have been a true case. In Rawalpindi 2 cases have been reported in both of which the accused were challaned but acquitted.

DECORATION OF TAHSIL BUILDINGS BY TAHSILDARS ON THE VISIT OF DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS.

429. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that several tahsildars decorate the approaches to the tahsil buildings with bunting on the visit of the deputy commissioners ;

- (b) if so, the names of funds out of which this expenditure is met ;
 (c) if there are no recognized funds for this purpose, how the money is being secured for this purpose ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

INADEQUACY OF THE SHARE OF VARIOUS CLASSES OF AMBALA DIVISION IN GOVERNMENT SERVICES.

430. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state —

- (a) whether it is a fact that the grievances of the various classes of the people inhabiting the Ambala division about the inadequacy of their share in Government services are supported by statistics prepared from facts and figures relating to these services available up to the 31st March, 1937 ;
 (b) if so, the steps, if any, taken so far or intended to be taken by his Government in the matter of removing these grievances ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) Representations have been made in the sense indicated, but they overlook the fact that in district and divisional staff the division receives its full share of posts. For services recruited on a provincial basis it is not practicable to prescribe the share of particular divisions, for other more important factors have to be considered. I can however assure the honourable member that the legitimate interests of the Ambala division, as of other divisions, will not be overlooked.

PUBLIC WELLS AND SCHEDULED CASTES IN AMBALA DISTRICT.

431. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state, whether it is a fact that the number of such public wells as were sunk on grounds owned by Government or local bodies and the platforms of which are still not open to the members of scheduled castes in the Ambala district, as ascertained through the Deputy Commissioner, Ambala, is even now very large ; if so, the action proposed to be taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : First part.—The reply is in the negative in so far as Ambala district is concerned, except Municipal Committee, Jagadhri, in which five wells out of 64 are used by the members of the scheduled castes.

Second part.—The Municipal Committee, Jagadhri, is contemplating action in accordance with the instructions issued by Government in April last for putting up notice boards on all public wells in the Punjab stating therein that they are open to the members of the scheduled castes.

NUMBER OF PERIODS FOR WHICH THE PRINCIPALS AND VICE-PRINCIPALS TAKE THEIR CLASSES.

432. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state the number of periods apart from the time spent on research and office work, extramural and supervising duties for which actually the principals, vice-principals and senior professors of the Central Training College, Lahore, King Edward Medical College, Lahore, and Government Colleges of Arts to the Degree Standard at Lahore and at other places in the Punjab take the classes per week stating also the number of minutes each period consists of ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR MEDICAL EXAMINATION OF BONA FIDE STUDENTS.

433. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether any arrangements exist at present for the regular medical examination of the bona fide students of Government, Municipal and District Board schools in the Punjab, and for the treatment of those ailing among them particularly when such students are not in a position to pay the fees of the doctors ; if so, what ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : Government have made the following arrangements for the medical inspection and treatment of school children in Government, Municipal and District Board schools.

In the five selected districts, viz., Gurgaon, Jullundur, Sialkot, Shabpur and Multan, Government finances the medical inspection and treatment of children studying in schools located within a two-mile radius of a dispensary.

In other districts the students enrolled in schools are medically examined and treated by the doctor in charge of the rural dispensary located in the same village.

Two other self-supporting schemes are also in operation in the A. V. schools in urban areas. One scheme is suitable for larger areas with groups of schools which can combine and form a students' health committee, engage a whole-time doctor, open a dispensary and conduct the medical inspection and treatment of the scholars of the associated schools. The other is suitable for smaller areas with single schools, which can arrange with a local practitioner for his part-time services to carry out the scheme.

CO-EDUCATION OF BOYS AND GIRLS IN THE PUNJAB.

434. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of district board primary schools in which there is at present co-education of boys and girls in the Punjab ;
- (b) the number of such district board primary schools where there are arrangements for the teaching of students through the medium of Hindi and Punjabi ;
- (c) if the number of such schools is very small whether any steps are proposed to be taken in future to increase their number ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

PRIVATE TUITIONS BY TEACHERS.

435. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of teachers of municipal board primary schools of the Ambala division having had private tuitions during any part of the last financial year with the written permission of the authorities concerned ;
- (b) the number of teachers detected during this period by municipal authorities and the members of the district inspecting staff of schools respectively in the district for having undertaken unauthorised private tuition ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

UTILISATION OF CLASS-ROOMS VACATED BY FIFTH CLASSES IN SCHOOLS.

436. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether it is proposed to have the fifth classes at present attached to Government high schools transferred to primary ones ; if so, the manner in which Government intend to utilise the class-rooms which will be vacated by the fifth classes at present attached to the schools mentioned above ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : The matter is under consideration at present.

STUDENTS OF SCHEDULED CASTES READING IN IX AND X CLASSES.

437. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state the number of students belonging to the scheduled castes enrolled in the IX and X classes of the Government and non-Government high schools in the Ambala division on the 31st March of each of the last three years separately ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : The requisite information is given below :—

Enrolment on	IX CLASS.		X CLASS.
	Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.
31-3-86 .. ..	21	..	7	..
31-3-87 .. ..	28	..	16	..
31-3-88 .. ..	27	1	18	..

INADEQUATE SUPPLY OF DRINKING WATER IN AMBALA DISTRICT FOR SCHEDULED CASTES.

438. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state the number of villages, the scheduled castes of which are suffering at present from inadequate or impure supply of drinking water in the Ambala district as ascertained by the Deputy Commissioner, Ambala ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : Sixty-nine.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF LOCAL BODIES.

439. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the financial condition of several local bodies in the province is unsatisfactory as compared to the condition in the pre-depression days ; if so, the manner in which it is intended to improve their financial condition ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Government consider that the time and labour involved in collecting the required information will not be commensurate with the result. If the honourable member however will name the local bodies he might have in view and specify what he exactly means by ' pre-depression days ' the necessary data will be collected.

PRIVATE USE OF FURNITURE BELONGING TO LOCAL BODIES.

440. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether Government has issued instructions that presidents, vice-presidents or secretaries of municipalities and district boards are not authorized to lend any part of the furniture of their offices to officials or non-officials to be used by them at their own houses for private functions ;

(b) when the attention of local bodies was drawn last time to Government instructions on the subject and whether there is any need of doing so again ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

UTILISATION OF FIBRES LIKE SUNN HEMP, BHABHAR GRASS,
MUNJ FOR STARTING VILLAGE INDUSTRIES.

441. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state whether any research has so far been inaugurated in the utilisation of such fibres as sunn hemp, bhabhar grass and munj for starting village industries supplementary to agriculture with the help of better machines ; if not, when it is likely to be undertaken ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : A temporary Fibre Expert was appointed in April, 1928, for a period of about seven months to examine the existing resources of hemp in the Punjab and to enquire into the possibilities of the development of hemp production in the province.

The Government Industrial School, Hoshiarpur, has done some useful work recently in connection with improving the quality and output of sunni hemp on improved spinning wheels.

Temporary classes for the development of munj ban, palm leaf mat and basket making have been conducted since 1935 in the Muzaffargarh district. Experiments for spinning of sunni hemp and munj ban have also been carried out by this party on improved Japanese wheels. The results so far achieved are quite encouraging.

Bhabar grass grows in the foothill districts, mainly in Hoshiarpur, and to a lesser extent in Kangra and Ambala.

There is a great demand for this grass by the paper mills at Jagadhri, Ambala district, and at the present time the bulk of the crop is sold by the village proprietors to the mills. The balance is utilised locally for packing mangoes for export and for making ropes. If cultivated on the poor sandy soils along the border of the foothills, this grass might prove to be a useful cash crop.

An experiment has already been started in Hoshiarpur and if results are satisfactory, efforts will be made to persuade villagers to take up the cultivation of the grass.

It is believed that no research has yet been undertaken to further the use of machinery in the manufactures of bhabar ropes. For purely local use, the hand made rope appears to be satisfactory. It would be inadvisable to push the manufacture of ropes by machinery for export unless it were known that such ropes could be marketed.

TRAINING SCHEDULED CASTES IN IMPROVED METHODS OF HOME INDUSTRIES.

442. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state whether any facilities are being afforded by different Government departments to train the people of scheduled castes in improved methods of home industries in different districts of the Ambala division : if so, their nature and the names of those industries ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : The Industries Department maintains the following industrial institutions in the Ambala division :—

1. Government Metal Works Institute, Ambala City.
2. Government Industrial School, Ambala Cantonment.
3. Margaret Irving Industrial School for Girls, Ambala City.
4. Government Industrial School, Rewari.
5. Government Industrial School, Rohtak.
6. Government Industrial School, Panipat.
7. Government Industrial School, Hissar.

[Minister for Development].

- |   |                       |
|---|-----------------------|
| 8. S. P. G. Mission Industrial School, Gurgaon. | } Aided institutions. |
| 9. Industrial School, Satrod Khurd. . .         |                       |
| 10. Muslim Industrial School for Girls, Panipat |                       |

Students, belonging to scheduled castes, have equal opportunities with other classes to seek admissions to these institutions. As a matter of fact, they enjoy a special privilege in that they have to pay half fees. Although none of the institutions detailed above is specifically earmarked for scheduled castes, the nature of training imparted in some of them makes them of special utility to the members of those castes. A brief description of the training imparted in these institutions is given below:—

- (1) Government Industrial School, Rewari.—This school provides two courses of training; (1) Weaving, (2) Leather Work. Training in the former is provided at Rewari City proper, as most of the weavers live in the city. Training in leather work is provided at Rampura—a village near Rewari. Rampura has been specially selected on account of the proximity of Chamar population.
- (2) Government Industrial School, Rohtak.—This school imparts training in weaving as the main trade. Weavers are given preference in admission.
- (3) Government Industrial School, Panipat.—Wool spinning and weaving is the main trade in this school. Preference in admission is given to weavers.
- (4) Government Industrial School, Hissar.—A Wool Spinning and Weaving Demonstration Party worked in the Hissar district for a number of years. It imparted training to weavers and others in wool spinning and weaving both at Hissar proper and at other suitable villages of the district. The party has now been merged in a regular school. Training in weaving is given in the school and also through demonstration parties in rural areas.
- (5) S. P. G. Mission Industrial School, Gurgaon.—This school teaches leather work and carpentry. Students of the depressed classes generally seek admission therein.
- (6) Industrial School, Satrod Khurd.—This school imparts training in wool spinning, weaving and carpet weaving. Weavers are generally benefited.
- (7) A Tanning Demonstration Party worked for a time at Rewari. It taught the Chamars the improved methods of tanning.

It is under contemplation to send one or two other demonstration parties to the Ambala division in the near future.

REPRESENTATION OF SCHEDULED CASTES ON DEHAT SUDHAR SABHA AT AMBALA.

443. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the number of nominated members of the scheduled castes on 31st March, 1938, on Tahsil and District Dehat Sudhar Sabha in the Ambala division was inadequate; if so, whether same is the case with regard to Dehat Sudhar Sabhas in other divisions of the Punjab?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram: I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

EXPENDITURE ON WORKSHOPS ATTACHED TO THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, LYALLPUR.

444. Chaudhri Kartar Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the total expenditure incurred by the Government on the workshop attached to the Agricultural College, Lyallpur, in the last financial year ;
- (b) the qualifications and the monthly salary that the engineer in charge of the workshops is in receipt of and the university from which he qualified himself as an engineer ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Rs. 64,888.

(b) The workshop is in direct charge of a Superintendent (under the control of the 2nd Agricultural Engineer to Government). The Superintendent has received five years practical training in Mechanical Engineering—two in England and three in India. He spent two years at the Bristol University for B.Sc. in Engineering, but could not complete the degree course, as he had to return to India on account of the serious illness of his father. He joined the MacLagan Engineering College, Moghalpura, and took the third years' course there. Then he took two years training in the Central Workshops of the North-Western Railway. His salary is Rs. 470 per mensem in the grade of Rs. 250—20—750.

BORING DEPARTMENT.

445. Chaudhri Kartar Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state the amount of money spent on the Boring Department and the number of wells that have been bored in the province during the last financial year through the Boring Department ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : The figures for the financial year 1937-38 are as follows:—

				Rs.
Expenditure	..	..	..	1,67,178
Income	..	..	..	76,809
Net expenditure	..	..	..	90,869
Number of wells bored	..	..	..	366

DESTRUCTION OF RABI AND GRAM CROPS IN LYALLPUR DISTRICT AND RELIEF TO SUFFERERS.

446. Pir Nasir-ud-Din Shah: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the rabi and gram crops of 1938 of the Lyallpur district in general and of tahsil Toha Tek Singh in particular have been completely destroyed on account of lightning and pest; if so, what action Government proposes to take to give relief to the sufferers?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

'PARTIAL' OF KHARABA.

447. Pir Nasir-ud-Din Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Sidhnai and Kornuga canals have been now in operation for nearly fifty years ;
- (b) whether during this period the partial of the kharaba of the lands irrigated by these canals has always been done by the Revenue officers concerned ;
- (c) whether these canals are now proposed to be linked up with the Haveli Project system and the partial of the kharaba is intended to be entrusted to the zilladars ;
- (d) if the reply to (c) be in the affirmative, the reasons for the departure from the arrangement which has been in force since the inauguration of the canals referred to and the action Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a), (b) and (c).
Yes.

(d) The reason is that these canals will form part of a linked system of canals other parts of which are under the Irrigation Branch and it is very necessary to have the same organization to record irrigation so that Government may know that all parts are equally served by the water available.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED IN F. A. (TENABLE IN B.A.) TO DEPRESSED CLASSES.

448. Sardar Gopal Singh (American) : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state the number of scholarships reserved for students belonging to depressed classes for 1937 and tenable in B.A. classes that have so far been awarded with the names and castes of the students who were awarded such scholarships and the names of the colleges in which these students were studying ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : The number of scholarships for the children of depressed classes, tenable in B.A. classes, awarded annually is three. The scholarships for 1937 were awarded to the following.—

Name	Caste or class.	Institution in which studying.
1. Ram Parkash ..	.. Weaver	Government College, Lyallpur.
2. Milkhi Ram ..	.. Megh.	D. A. V. College, Lahore.
3. Tek Chand ..	.. Chamar.	Ditto.

THE PUNJAB TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan (Rawalpindi Sadar, Muhammadan, Rural) : I beg to move—

That the Punjab Tenancy (Amendment Bill) be taken into consideration.

I want to bring it to your kind notice and the notice of the House the invidious distinction that has been made in respect of succession to an agricultural land of an absolute owner and in respect of the holder of land as an occupancy tenant. We all know that in our province there is no codified law as regards succession to agricultural land. The law that contains the rules of succession is embodied in or rather is known as customary law of the land. Under the customary law we find that there are four canons, well-known canons of law under which an agriculturist succeeds to an estate. The first is that when there are male descendants, they invariably exclude widows and all other relatives. Secondly, when the line of the male owner is extinguished it is treated as never to have existed and the line of succession is reckoned from the last male holder who died, having left descendants. Thirdly, there is the rule of representation whereby the descendants in different degrees from a common ancestor succeed to the land which the immediate holder of the land would have succeeded to if alive, and, fourthly, and the most important one is that all the females are deprived of the property; exception is made only in the case of widows and the mother, and occasionally in the case of daughters and their issues if the daughters are married especially in endogamous tribes. There is another special custom according to which there are two well-known rules of succession. One is Pagwand system of devolution of property and the other is the Chundawand system. Under the Pagwand system the unit of the distribution of property is the son and under the Chundawand system, the unit is the wife. In case of Pagwand system the sons of a deceased proprietor divide the property amongst themselves in equal shares, while in the case of Chundawand system we find that the property is divided amongst the widows irrespective of the fact that one widow has two or three sons and the other widow has one son. Thus we see that under the customary law of our province, if a landholder dies, the property goes to the widow, and the mother is entitled to maintenance, and if the widow of the deceased proprietor also dies, the mother succeeds to the property irrespective of the fact that collaterals are in existence. They can only inherit the property where there is neither a widow nor a mother. When the widow dies the mother of the last male holder inherits the property as a widow of her own husband. When we come to the occupancy rights we find that the law relating to the succession of occupancy lands is a codified law. The rule of succession is laid down in section 59 of the Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887, and it will interest the honourable members if I clear my meaning by reading two or three clauses of the Act which lay down the law of succession. The section 59 reads—

“When a tenant having a right of occupancy in any land dies, the right shall devolve—

- (a) on his male lineal descendants, if any, in the male line of descent, and
- (b) failing such descendants on his widow, if any, until she dies or remarries or abandons the land or is under the provisions of this Act, ejected therefrom, and
- (c) failing such descendants and widow, or, if the deceased tenant left a widow, then when her interest terminates under clause (b) of this sub-section, on his male collateral relatives in the male line of descendant from the common ancestor of the deceased tenant and those relatives:

Provided with respect to clause (c) of this sub-section, that the common ancestor occupied the land.”

The amendment that is required in this section deals with sub-section (1) of clause (c). This amendment is required to place the widowed mother of an occupancy holder on par with that of an absolute owner. The amendment requires that after the death of the deceased son's wife the mother of the deceased occupant may be allowed to succeed to the occupancy of the land for her life time, as is the case with the general customary law where the females succeed to the land with life-interest. They have only life-interest in the estate and they are not treated as absolute owners and they have no right to mortgage or sell or make a gift of the land, though there are exceptions to this, e.g., in case of necessity or to discharge the debt of the deceased proprietor or in case of an alienation of a certain portion of the land as a gift for charitable purposes, she has a limited right of alienation. Now we have seen that in this case a poor widowed mother is not allowed to succeed to the share of her deceased husband nor of her son and she is also not allowed to have any right of maintenance from the land which was once occupied by her husband or by her son and this is indeed very unjust and iniquitous for the poor old woman because at that time she is too old to remarry or to resort to manual work. We have found that these widows are thus forced to go to the houses of big persons and there scrub their utensils, grind their corn, wash their clothes and go to the extent of working as their sweepers. This is a horrible and pitiable state of affairs that a woman who is to-day the owner of plenty of land and enjoys every comfort, is deprived to-morrow of the whole of her property without having regard to the property which was once occupied by her husband and her son. By means of this amendment I want that a widowed mother of an occupancy tenant should be placed on par with a widowed mother of an absolute owner. I know that this amendment is not going to place her exactly on par with a widowed mother of an absolute owner; yet it is evident that if my Bill is passed it will to a great extent remove the disparity that at present exists between a widowed mother of a deceased proprietor who held property as an absolute owner and a widowed mother of an occupancy tenant. A friend of mine informed me of a case where mutation was effected in the names of collaterals while the mother of the deceased occupancy tenant was still living. She went to appeal to the commissioner and my friend was the counsel engaged in that case. The commissioner considered fully and sympathetically the whole question and said that he was very much impressed by the strange implication but he regretted that he was bound by law as it existed. He, therefore, decided against the widowed mother. It has been laid down in the rulings of the Punjab High Court reported in the Punjab Record 1914 that such a widowed-mother has absolutely no right to the land which was occupied by her sons or by her husband. I want to remove this unjust state of affairs by means of this amendment. By the passing of this amendment I am sure that the judgment of the High Court will be counteracted. (Hear, hear). If you will allow me to anticipate the objections which are to be raised against this amendment, I would say that one of the most pertinent objections would be that by this amendment I am going to do away with the established rule of law that has been laid down in this province since the advent of the British rule.

[Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan].

3 P. M.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member need not anticipate objections and reply to them at this stage. If necessary he may do so in reply.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : This amendment is not going to affect in any way the rights of the landlords or the rights of the collaterals. We find that under the present law, the property, after the death of the widow, is inherited by the collaterals of the occupancy tenant and where there are no collaterals of the occupancy tenant, the property goes to the landlord. After the death of the occupancy tenant the widow should be allowed the right of possession of the property. She will hold that property during her lifetime and as long as she is willing or as long as she is not going to remarry, the collaterals will not be given the right to succeed to the land. There are very rare cases wherein the collaterals are not in existence and the right of the landlord is going to be affected because if this property were not to go to the widowed mother, the landlord would have succeeded to the property. This will be effective only for a very small period and it may be a question of a few years. I do not think that there is any landlord who would be so callous as not to allow the poor widow the right to succeed to the property. I do not think that there would be any man so indifferent to such a widow as not to allow her the right of maintenance and be an obstacle in the way of her succeeding to the occupancy land. With these remarks I submit that this Bill should be taken into consideration.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That the Punjab Tenancy (Amendment) Bill be taken into consideration.

Parliamentary Secretary. (Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz) I take this opportunity of congratulating my honourable colleague Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan on bringing forward such a beneficent measure, and I thank him on behalf of the woman-hood of this province for pleading the cause of those mothers who are left without any means of livelihood. Under the present customary law a widow is entitled to maintenance but the unfortunate mother of a tenant is left penniless when the son dies. If he leaves a widow, his interests in the property as a tenant, which are known as mauroosi rights, go to the widow, but the poor widowed mother is not entitled to anything. I appeal to all sections of this House that they should give their full support to a measure of this type so that the poor mothers should not be the sufferers when their sons die leaving them penniless. With these words I give my full support to the measure.

Khan Haibat Khan Daba (Khanawal, Muhammadan, Rural) : I beg to move an amendment to this Bill as it is a very important measure. I move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of—

Honourable Member in charge,
Advocate-General,
Nominee of the Speaker,
Mover of the Bill,
Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din,
Chaudhri Ram Sarup,
Pir Akbar Ali,
Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi, and
Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma.

Mr. Speaker : Motion under consideration, amendment moved—

That the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of—

Honourable Member in charge,
Advocate-General,
Speaker's nominee,
Mover of the Bill,
Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din,
Chaudhri Ram Sarup,
Pir Akbar Ali,
Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi, and
Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I beg to propose the additional name of Begum Rashida Latif Baji.

Mr. Speaker : Bibi Baghbir Kaur's name may also be added.

Mian Abdul Aziz (Outer, Lahore, Muhammadan, Urban) : Sir, undoubtedly at the present moment as the law stands at present there is great hardship for these old ladies. It is not simply out of sympathy that I want to support it but it does require certain consideration. I, therefore, consider that it should be sent to the select committee. I support the proposal of Khan Haibat Khan.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the following:—

Honourable Member in charge,
 Advocate-General,
 Speaker's nominee,
 Mover,
 Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din,
 Chaudhri Ram Sarup,
 Pir Akbar Ali,
 Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi,
 Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma,
 Begum Rashida Latif Baji, and Bibi Baghbir Kaur.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The total number is 11. What should be the quorum?

The Assembly agreed that five shall constitute the quorum.

Mr. Speaker : My nominee will be Syed Afzaalali Hamie.

THE PUNJAB ARTIFICIAL GHEE COLOURISATION BILL.

Chaudhri Sumer Singh : Sir, I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Artificial Ghee Colourisation Bill.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Artificial Ghee Colourisation Bill.

Is there any objection. (Voices : No.)

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Artificial Ghee Colourisation Bill.

The motion was carried.

Chaudhri Sumer Singh : Sir, I introduce the Punjab Artificial Ghee Colourisation Bill.

THE SIKH GURDWARAS (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Sir, I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Sikh Gurdwaras (Amendment) Bill.

The motion was carried.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I beg to introduce the Sikh Gurdwaras (Amendment) Bill.

THE PUNJAB HINDU CHARITABLE AND RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS BILL.

Rai Bahadur Binda Saran : Sir, I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Hindu Charitable and Religious Endowments Bill.

The motion was carried.

Rai Bahadur Binda Saran : I beg to introduce the Punjab Hindu Charitable and Religious Endowments Bill.

THE SALE OF THE HOLY QURAN RESTRICTING BILL.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan (Rawalpindi Sedar, Muhammadan Rural) : Sir, I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Sale of the Holy Quran Restricting Bill.

Mr. Speaker : The motion moved is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Sale of the Holy Quran Restricting Bill.

Does any honourable member object ?

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I beg to object to the introduction of the Bill in its present form.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : I do not want to make a lengthy speech at the present stage. I do not want to say anything which should be treated as an insinuation ; but what I want to say is that the purpose for which I am introducing this Bill is that I have seen many non-Muslims who from their point of view do not treat the Holy Quran with that veneration and respect which we Muslims do from our point of view. They are unable to treat the Quran with the same regard and veneration that we expect every Muslim to treat it.

Secondly, Sir, non-Muslims do not know that with an alteration of a single zer or zabar or pesh, the meanings of verses of the Quran are changed and they do not know what these mistakes mean to Muslims and this is all due to the carelessness of those who deal with the Quran at the time of printing. Therefore, without in any way derogating from the rights of other persons, I ask that leave be granted to introduce this Bill so that due regard may be paid to Muslim religious sentiments.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : Sir, I do not think that there can be any Muslim who does not sympathise with the spirit of the Bill which my honourable friend has brought forward. But I am afraid that the object which he has in view will not be achieved by it and it is for that reason that I would request him that he should give us time to consider this matter. There is nobody who does not want to see that the holy books of everybody are held in esteem and respect, and that no disrespect whether by shopkeepers or anybody else is allowed with regard to these holy books. But the Bill as has been worded, appears unworkable, and I think it would be detrimental to the interests of the Muslims themselves. Therefore, I would suggest that my honourable friend should not press his motion and instead, consult a few other Muslim friends, and if necessary, non-Muslims, and devise a measure, which would achieve the object he has in view without in any way doing damage to anybody, as I explained to him yesterday. I hope in view of what I have said, he will not press his motion.

[Premier]

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member wish to withdraw his motion ?

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : I am not going to withdraw my motion.

Premier : I would ask the honourable member to withdraw his motion for the introduction of this Bill in its present form. He may bring forward another Bill without any defects, and the whole House will be prepared to accept it.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : Its form can be changed in the select committee ?

Premier : The form in which the Bill is now worded is not capable of any modifications in the select committee because there are certain fundamental defects, and you cannot go beyond the scope of the Bill in the select committee. If my honourable friend allows me to refer again to the dangers, which I pointed out and which he also wants to avoid, we will draft a fresh Bill and the object of that Bill will be the same as he has got in view, that is, the sanctity of holy books not in any way to be flouted by shopkeepers or anybody else.

Mr. Speaker : May I ask the honourable member whether he has a mind to withdraw his motion ?

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : If the Honourable Premier gives an assurance that he will bring a Bill of this nature, then I withdraw my motion otherwise not.

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier has expressly stated that he will draft a Bill of this nature.

Premier : I will not only help him in the revision of this Bill, but if my honourable friend will come to me I will probably be able to suggest a small committee to him which can sit down and draft a Bill.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : I beg leave to withdraw my motion.

Mr. Speaker : Is it the pleasure of the House that leave to withdraw the motion be given ? (Voices : Yes, yes.)

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

THE PUNJAB MEDICAL REGISTRATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : (Lahore City, General, Urban) : Sir, I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Medical Registration (Amendment) Bill.

Mr. Speaker : The motion moved is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Medical Registration (Amendment) Bill.

Minister for Education (The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye): Sir, my preliminary objection to leave being granted for the introduction of this Bill is that my honourable friend, the leader of the Opposition, by means of this Bill, wants to legislate not only for the Punjab, but for two other provinces also, namely, Delhi and North-West Frontier Province. My submission to you is that this House has got no extra-territorial jurisdiction. We can legislate for the Punjab but not for other provinces.

My other objection is that my honourable friend, by virtue of this Bill, wants to create a corporation which shall have as its object more than one unit. In this connection I would draw your attention to Federal list No. 1, item 93, which includes:—

“Any corporation whether trading or not will not have for its object more than one unit.”

To undertake this legislation would be ultra vires of this House. It could only be undertaken in the Federal Legislature.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: Sir, my submission is that the Punjab Medical Registration Act exists to-day on the statute book of the Punjab and it has jurisdiction over other provinces as well. This Act was passed in 1916 and it had no jurisdiction over North-West Frontier Province and Delhi. But in 1926, that Act was amended and when it was amended, the Punjab Medical Council got jurisdiction over other provinces. If now those provinces do not want to remain with us, let them go out. We do not want them on our Council. If they do not want to be governed by us, we do not want to govern them. As far as the Act, governing our province, is concerned, we are perfectly within our rights to legislate, because it was the Punjab which passed that Act and it was the Punjab which amended that Act and it is the Punjab which has the right to amend it further.

Mr. Speaker: I invite attention of the honourable members of this House to clause 2 (a) of this Bill. It is:—

“A Medical Council shall be established for the Punjab and shall consist of members elected in the following manner:—

(a) One member each elected by staff Medical School or College situated in the area governed by the Act, i.e., Punjab, Delhi and North-West Frontier Province.”

This Assembly has got no power to legislate for an area which is not within the Punjab. Section 99 of the Government of India Act expressly lays down that this cannot be done. It says:—

Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Federal Legislature may make laws for the whole or any part of British India or for any Federal State; and a Provincial Legislature may make laws for the province or for any part thereof.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: According to the present Act, under section 5 (1), 8 members are nominated.

Mr. Speaker: The present Provincial Act was passed under the old law. At first this Act was passed in the year 1916. It was amended, if I recollect aright, in the year 1926 and again in 1928. Now we have to make our laws under the Government of India Act, 1935. Under that Act a Provincial legislature cannot make any laws for any area beyond the province itself. Consequently I think that the Honourable Members' Bill is out of order.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Suppose I delete the particular clause which is ultra vires of this legislature. Can I not amend the Bill in that way ?

Mr. Speaker : In this connection the honourable member may see me in my room.

THE PUNJAB PROHIBITION OF MALBA BILL.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural) : Sir I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Prohibition of Malba Bill.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Prohibition of Malba Bill.

Minister for Revenue : I object to the motion.

Lala Duni Chand : The proposal from the Opposition benches is not accepted by the Government, because the Government does not want the Opposition to do any good for the country. It has been admitted a number of times on the floor of this House that the levying of malba is not sanctioned by any law. I submit that shelter is taken by the Government behind the plea that though the levy of malba is not authorised by law, yet it is allowed by custom. If there was any custom in the past which sanctioned the levy of the malba, that sanction should not hold good in these days. If there are any traditions behind the levy of malba, those are feudal traditions. They are traditions which have come down from feudal times. We have made considerable march these days and any such practice, if it existed before, should not be allowed to continue. So far as the voice of the country with regard to the levy of malba is concerned, that has been made quite clear in this House more than once. We on this side of the House are in close touch with the people of the province. We go about in the country, we attend conferences and address large gatherings. But I am not aware of any conference or any public meeting where the levy of malba has been approved by the people. On the other hand, I can say that in almost all conferences, the question of levy of malba has been considered and it has been definitely disapproved by all classes of the agriculturist population. So far as we are concerned, we are perfectly clear on this point. If the Government wants to satisfy itself whether malba is approved or not by the people, it is quite open to it to have this Bill circulated for eliciting opinion, and then we shall be able to know where we stand with regard to this Bill. If as a result of the circulation of the Bill for eliciting public opinion we find that the agriculturists want the continuance of this levy, we shall have no objection and we shall not proceed any further. But I am certain that the entire agricultural population of the province is against the continuance of the levy of malba. (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Question).

Pir Akbar Ali : Will the honourable member please explain what he means by malba ? I cannot follow his point. The sort of malba he is talking of is not prevalent in my district.

Lala Duni Chand : I cannot help the gentleman who is ignorant of such a thing.

The law says that if there is any custom or practice that is unreasonable or unfair or immoral that custom or practice will not be sanctioned by law. The law does not take any cognisance of any custom of practice that is unfair or unreasonable. I say this practice or custom of levying malba is unreasonable and unfair in the highest degree. Now let us see how far this Bill, if passed into law, will benefit the agriculturist? I understand that there are 87,000 villages in the Punjab and if I am not mistaken—I am subject to correction—some time ago the honourable Premier said on the floor of this House that the amount of malba collected throughout the Punjab comes to something like 60 lakhs of rupees. I know all sorts of empty promises have been made and will be made to help the agriculturist. But when any real effort is made to help him, our friends object. Will it not be a relief to the agriculturist if he is relieved from the burden of payment of Rs. 60 lakhs a year? Nobody can deny that this will afford an appreciable relief to the agriculturist. We are in a very small minority and all that we can do is to place before this House the point of view of the country and what the country wants. From time to time we try to bring to the notice of the House the problems affecting the country, the grievances of the country and the demands of the country and this malba question is one of the acutest demands of the agriculturist population. It is for the Government to see to this. Of course, they have a big majority behind them and they can make two and two not four but five. This Bill is one of the touchstones on which we can test the bona fides of the Government, whether the Government is really earnest, whether it is really honest in doing something substantial, something real for the agriculturist whose advocate it claims to be. That is the basis on which they will be tested. With these words, I beg leave to introduce the Bill.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): Sir, I think I have spoken in this House previously on the question of malba. Everybody knows that malba is a thing which is levied at the request of the majority of the people of the villages. (Question.) I have also said previously that this is a custom which has been in vogue for a long time and my friend by proposing his Bill wishes to ride roughshod on an old custom which has stood the test of ages. In my speech on the previous occasion when this question was being discussed I stated what was happening in Bengal where there is a jolidari tax which is similar to malba in the Punjab. A similar thing is levied in certain parts of the North-West Frontier Province. My friend has said in his speech that they have been having conferences in different places where this malba was objected to and that no conference has been held in its favour. My friends have been very active in going about from place to place, holding conferences and possibly putting forward their view-point before the zamindars whose concern it is to decide this question and not that of my friends opposite. (An honourable member: We represent the agriculturists.) My friend has stated that there are 87,000 villages in the Punjab. Have there been 87,000 meetings held in the Punjab against this custom? (An honourable member: If you agree we will hold the meetings.) He also said that 60 lakhs of rupees are levied from the zamindars on this account. Even so, is it right that this money which could be used for better village sanitation, for better roads and things of that sort, should not be so used? The Bengal tax rules provide for the payment of establishment and other expenses required for the management of the fund, for the making and improvement of village roads, developing new seed and distributing the same amongst cultivators, defraying the cost of improvement of village sanitation and aiding dispensaries and schools and any other public purpose, the expenditure on which is approved by the committee of jotidars, subject to the sanction of the deputy commissioner. I admit that there may be some places where this fund is not properly used. (An honourable member: Everywhere.) But is that a reason why this old custom should be abolished, instead of removing the defects in the system and using it for better purposes? My proposition is that this fund could be utilised for the general improvement of the villages in the Punjab. We must take advantage of the panchayats that are established in the different villages of the Punjab and hand over this fund to them to be utilised for the betterment of the villages. My friend has said that there is no legal provision. I say that under section 77(8) (j) of the Act this fund could be realised by the lambardars themselves. I also say that this malba is included in the cesses and other things connected with the land administration of the province. I think there is a special provision in the Tenancy Act for the levy of this cess. Government themselves have no hand in the matter. It is the village community that has to decide whether they would like to keep it or not. If they keep it Government would be prepared to help them in its proper administration and will provide means and facilities for establishing any committee they may like and removing any difficulty that may be there. Therefore my objection against my friend's motion is that he is not moving this in the interests of the zamindars. He may be a representative of the zamindars, but I do not admit it (Hear, hear). He is a representative of a class of people who take money from.....

Mr. Speaker: That is personal.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: Do landlords not take money from the pockets of the zamindars?

Lala Duni Chand: Do you know that I have been elected by an overwhelming majority from a rural constituency?

Mr. Speaker: Apart from that every member of this House, is a representative of the whole province (hear, hear) and not only of the constituency by which he has been elected.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: But those gentlemen only represent zamindars.

Minister: I have in mind the interests of the zamindars though there may be differences of opinion as to how to serve them. With these words I oppose to the motion.

Sardar Partab Singh: May I ask a question through you whether the Revenue Minister is aware of the popular verse sung in the villages which reads—

اللہ جو ملہا کٹھا کر دے۔۔۔ سارا پلاٹ پولیس دا ہیر دے۔

Mr. Speaker : That is a speech not a question. The question is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Prohibition of Malwa Bill.

THE PUNJAB TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla General Rural): I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Tenancy (Amendment) Bill.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved :

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Tenancy (Amendment) Bill.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : I object to it.

4 P.M.

Lala Duni Chand : One voice of mine has been drowned. I am raising another voice on behalf of the agriculturists. (Hear, hear.) The voice that I raised was one of justice and the voice that I am going to raise through this Punjab Tenancy (Amendment) Bill is another voice of justice.

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable member should not make even indirect reflections.

Lala Duni Chand : Under the existing Tenancy Act of 1887 the occupancy rights can be granted only under three sections, viz., section 5, section 6 and section 8. It is only in exceptional cases, as these three sections show, that occupancy tenancy rights can be established. There is section 9 of the Punjab Tenancy Act which lays down that length of time—howsoever long—will not be a ground for granting the occupancy rights. Since the Punjab Tenancy Act was passed about 50 years ago conditions have changed greatly in regard to the rights of the tenants and the landlords. Mine is not a revolutionary Bill, nor is it confiscatory or expropriatory. I want to test your wisdom of the basis of this measure. What I want is that those tenants who have been continuously in occupation of the land for 20 years on the 31st December, 1941, should be granted the right of occupancy subject to the payment of the rent either in kind or in cash and subject to the payment of any customary rights that they were paying on the last day of the completion of the 20th year. Sir, as regards those cultivators who will acquire the right of occupancy tenancy after the 31st December, 1941, I have reduced the period from 20 to 15 years. If a tenant continuously occupies land with the consent of the landlord for 15 years he shall acquire occupancy rights subject to the payment of the rent which he has been paying or for which he was liable. This is a truly democratic Bill. It affects the tenants belonging to all castes, classes, creeds and communities. We do not make any difference between one class and another and one community and another. If it affects in any way it affects landlords of all classes and communities in the same way. Sir, if the argument of doing good to the tiller of the soil applies and if the Government benches have any regard for them, then of course here is a measure that is intended for the benefit of the tenants. Sir, after all what is it that I want? The fact that a cultivator has occupied land for a certain period, that by itself, creates a certain amount of right. That is what the world knows. It is one of those Bills which could not be moved without the consent of His Excellency the Governor. His Excellency has been pleased to grant his consent to the moving of this Bill. This fact by itself should be a good ground for the Government benches to consent to the introduction of this Bill. After all it is a matter that requires further consideration. If there are any objections, let us see what are the objections that come from the side of the landlords. I do not take away the proprietary rights of the landlords. I do not in any way reduce their rights to realise rents from their tenants, but if a tenant occupies the land continuously with the consent of the landlord he may be granted occupancy rights subject to the payment of the rent. What objection can there possibly be? It is said that agriculture is the most important industry of India. I do want that the scope of agriculture may be extended to the uttermost limit in the country but efforts are being made to curtail the right of taking to agriculture. If this Bill of mine is passed into law, then a good many people who have not taken to agriculture or who have not been cultivating land will take to agriculture. There are tenants belonging to the untouchable class. It is for their benefit and to improve the lot of menials who live in villages on agriculture. What objection have you? Let them have the right of irrigating that land. After all there are large tracts of land in the hands of the landlords and some of those landlords do not know how to manage and control their lands. How would they suffer if the benefit of cultivating land permanently, subject to the payment of rent, is granted to a large number of people? What objection can there be? It is to be seen whether this Bill injures anybody. I have taken great care to see that it does not injure anybody. Instead of having tenants year after year and after every three years, the landlords will have permanent tenants subject to the payment of rent. It would be advantageous to him that he should have permanent tenants subject to the payment of rent. I submit that section 9, the repeal of which I want by this Bill, can no more be a good one. I know of cases in which tenants have been in occupation of land for as many as 60, 70 or 100 years. I have done many cases in which tenants have been occupying land for long periods. I invite the attention of the Honourable Sir Chhotu Ram that tenants occupying land for 60, 70 or 80 years in Hissar, Rohtak and Gurgaon districts have been denied the right of occupancy because the Punjab Tenancy Act does not help them. I say that I have done most of the cases coming from Hissar, Gurgaon and Rohtak. Will not Sir Chhotu Ram extend this right to those numerous people who have been occupying lands for a long time? I know, as a matter of fact, that in Hissar district those people have been occupying lands for over 60 years. It has been stated in some of the rulings of the Financial Commissioners: "we very much like to extend to them the benefit of occupancy but we are powerless!" Similar views have been expressed by High Courts. It is to benefit that class of people that I have moved this Bill. The Punjab Tenancy Act as it stands does not allow any court, High Court or Financial Commissioner to extend to them the right of occupancy. Take the case of a person who for three generations has been occupying the land, cultivating the land and has eked out his livelihood from the land and there are dozens of cases of this kind. I want to know whether any pity is being felt for these people. I have moved this Bill for the serious consideration of this House. I have dozens of Bills in my armoury and I am going to make a present of them to the Unionist Government one after another. I am going to prove whether we on this side are the real benefactors or you gentlemen are the real benefactors of these people. I appeal to each and every member of the House that he should see to the merits of the Bill and not to the fact that I am moving this Bill or a member of the Opposition is moving this Bill: if he does that his conscience will not allow him to vote against this motion.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): Sir, my friend has been very eloquent in showing kindness and sympathy to poor tenants. I do not know whether he has studied the whole situation. What would be the effect of this Bill in this province? May I say, Sir, with your permission that this province and the adjoining province of the United Provinces are slightly different from each other? There they have a large number of big landlords and here in the Punjab we have petty landlords, and big landlords according to that scale are hardly 18 in this province. (A voice: An unlucky number.) Yes, it may be an unlucky number. (Lala Duni Chand: Why are you applying the same analogy here?) I must apply the same analogy of the United Provinces because things have happened there of which I am personally aware. In the time of Lord Macdonald and previous to that, landlords and tenants lived happily for ages together. There was no occasion for a landlord to turn out his tenant and he was considered to be a part and parcel of his family. Then the question of occupancy tenant came in and landlord's interests and tenants' interests were thus separated from each other. The landlord wanted the tenant not to acquire occupancy rights; while the tenant wanted to have occupancy rights. The period of acquiring occupancy rights in the United Provinces at that time was 12 years. My honourable friend is very kind and sympathetic to the tenants here and wants 15 to 20 years. That is one of the kindnesses which he has shown to the tenants. Coming to the other thing, Lord Macdonald, for fixity of tenure introduced a patta system under which the tenant got a patta for 7 years and that period was not to be counted towards making up 12 years for him to acquire the occupancy tenure. Endeavours were made after the patta lease expired to keep land without a patta so that as soon as he completed 12 years he got occupancy rights and he became occupancy tenant of the land that more or less he had in his possession before. That is not the situation here at all. The solution of the difficulty has been found in the United Provinces in that once a tenant then a tenant for life, and for five years after his death, his son will be the tenant and no landlord will be able to turn him out. This is the fixity of tenure that has been given to the tenants in the United Provinces. My friend's sympathy is that he wants to give them 15 to 20 years' rights of tenure against their having the right for life tenancy and 5 years afterwards. My honourable friend said that this is for the benefit of tenants. May I point out to this honourable House, through you, Sir, what will be the effect? As soon as this Bill is allowed to be introduced, there will be thousands and thousands of ejections of those tenants, who have been living on those lands for years together. Is that the sympathy that my friend is going to show to them? The question is of giving a fixity of tenure. That must be before us and not a temporary measure with which my honourable friend wishes to achieve the object. As I have said, the Punjab is a land of peasant proprietors. One man keeps a small piece of land to make his living and make his tenure a sort of economic holding. He has his own land and gets some land from the landlord of the adjoining holdings and cultivates it and goes on cultivating it. If this is the sympathy that my honourable friend has that this man should be ejected, I am afraid I cannot see eye to eye with him in this matter. But if some measure can be produced which would give a sort of fixity of tenure, that would have my sympathy and support. Here my honourable friend's proposition is to break up the homogeneity of the relations between the tenant and the landlord. That is the thin end of the wedge which he wishes to introduce here. In these circumstances, I think, he is doing no service to the tenants of the province but it is a sort of great dis-service to that community.

Well Sir, that unlucky number 18 may be divided by the sons of the landlord. The old man goes and dies and his sons step into his shoes, so that the unlucky number will not be there unless some special law has been passed. If my honourable friend wants all these tenants to be turned out, then I think, he is at liberty to proceed with his Bill. But in these circumstances and in the interest of a large number of tenants who have been holding these tenancies, according to his own words, for 50 or 60 years in the Gugaon district who will be turned out by landlords, this measure should not be proceeded with. Why turn these tenants out by ejection in this province, simply for the purpose of certain people to fill in their pockets if litigation is resorted to?

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Tenancy (Amendment) Bill.

THE PUNJAB MATERNITY BENEFIT BILL.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Lahore City, General, Urban) : I move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Maternity Benefit Bill.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Maternity Benefit Bill.

Parliamentary Secretary (Chaudhri Tikka Ram) : I object to leave being granted.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : A Royal Commission was appointed to report on the labour conditions in India in the year 1931. That commission made certain suggestions and recommendations. The Government of India has been trying to give effect to a majority of the suggestions of that commission. This Bill of mine proposes to give effect to one of their recommendations. This Bill is intended to give some benefit to those women workers in factories as defined in the Indian Factories Act at the time of maternity. At the time of the visit of this Commission there were Maternity Benefit Acts in Bombay and in the Central Provinces only. But those Acts did not go far enough. After the Commission made its recommendations on this question, the Madras Legislature passed an Act to give benefit to women workers in maternity cases. After that, even the Chief Commissioners provinces of Ajmer and Delhi extended this Act to their provinces. In Assam there are not many factories, and there are tea plantations and Maternity Benefit is given to women worker there. But I am not concerned with them at present. Because what I aim at is that some benefit be granted to the women who work in factories only, for the present. I would very much like to extend it to plantations as well as mines. But I want to go step by step. What I desire is that permission be granted to introduce the Bill and it will be circulated to elicit public opinion. There is only one difference which I have suggested. The Labour Commission suggested that if a woman has worked for 9 months in a factory then she should be given benefit of the Act. What I have suggested is that if she is in service for 6 months she should be given the benefit. It does not entail any expenditure on the Government, because whatever advantage of benefit I propose should be given to the woman worker at the time of the maternity is to be given by the factory owners. It was argued before that Commission that if such an Act were passed then the number of women employed in the factories would go down. I only beg to invite your attention to page 68 of their report—

We do not attach importance to the argument that compulsory maternity benefits will result in employers reducing the amounts already being paid to the minimum laid down by law. Most pioneers in the field of social betterment are not deterred by enactments counselling others to follow in their footsteps. Nor do we attach weight to the argument that legislation will result in an appreciable restriction of the employment of women who are an essential part of certain of the leading Indian industries.

What I propose is only this, that if a woman worker gives notice which she is expected to give four weeks before the expected time of maternity, then she is to be given leave with pay and after she is delivered she is to be paid an allowance on a smaller scale, and what I suggest is as. 8 a day or an aggregate of 3 days' income, whichever is less. Practically it will come to as. 8 a day. It is only Rs. 15 that she will be paid if this proposal of mine is accepted and passed into law. All over the country—not only this country, but all over the world, laws are being passed to benefit the labour population of the country. Such a Bill has been introduced and probably adopted by the United Provinces Government and as far as my knowledge goes, such Bills are in contemplation by other governments. We have many factories in the Punjab and I think it is high time that we should pass this legislation or at least grant leave for the introduction of this Bill. It will add to the fair name of the Province and it will show that our province is a progressive one. If the Government has any objection, it will have sufficient time to move amendments after public opinion has been invited and when it comes before the House for consideration. The Bill might be referred to a select committee for the removal of any defects which the Government or the people outside might contemplate. I therefore think that my proposal is very reasonable and modest and I hope that the Government will not stand in the way of publishing the Bill in order to elicit public opinion.

Minister for Development (The Honourable Chandan Sir Chhotu Ram): I am extremely sorry that I should have to oppose this motion, because the class of people for whom the honourable mover claims relief and benefit has my entire sympathy. I am also aware of the fact that two lady members belonging to the Ministerial Party and two lady members belonging to the Opposition are very keen that something substantial should be done to improve the lot of women all round and particularly in respect of those who have to serve in factories. But the real difficulty is that the Punjab is industrially a very backward province. If the Punjab had been anywhere near Bombay I am sure this Bill would have had my support and when the time comes for the Punjab to claim something like equality with other industrially advanced provinces, I am sure the Government will be fully sympathetic towards a measure of this kind. What I feel is this, that unless Government is sure of its ground and has already made up its mind that it will allow this Bill to pass, I consider it a perfect waste of time not to oppose this measure or to allow this motion to pass. Government is not sure of its ground, is not sure of the facts and so far as my information goes, the industrialists of the province are opposed. Anyway while I sympathise fully with the objects which the honourable mover of this motion has in view, I feel distinctly that the time has not yet come when the Punjab can undertake to enact a measure of this kind. If this Bill were passed, what would be the result? Every woman will on an average get a benefit to the extent of about Rs. 30. With this contingency in view employers, having regard to ordinary human nature, would be very chary to employ women and I expect that this would result in a diminution of the employment that is now open to women in factories. That is one serious fear which I entertain. The other fear is that such a measure is bound, in the present circumstances, to affect the prosperity of the existing industries and also retard the growth of fresh industries. On account of these apprehensions and on account of the fact that under the present circumstances the Government will not be justified in allowing this Bill to be passed finally, I have to oppose this motion.

Mr. Speaker: The question is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Maternity Benefit Bill.

THE PUNJAB HINDU, SIKH AND JAIN MARRIAGE LAW (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Mrs. Duni Chand (Lahore City, Women, General) (Urdu) : Sir, I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Hindu, Sikh and Jain Marriage Law (Amendment) Bill.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Hindu, Sikh and Jain Marriage (Amendment) Bill.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : I object to the Bill.

Mrs. Duni Chand : The main object of this Bill is to mitigate the two kinds of hardship which are present in the customary laws of the Hindus and on account of which the Hindu women have to undergo a lot of trouble.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker left the Chair and Lala Bhim Sen Sachar of the Panel of Chairmen occupied it).

On the one hand, the Hindu, Sikh and Jain women are neither entitled to marry another person in the lifetime of their husbands nor have they any right to obtain separation from their husbands. On the other hand, men are free to marry as many wives as they desire and can leave their first legally wedded wives at their own sweet will. The Hindu customary law at present in force is of a character under which not a single woman feels herself out of danger. Their very existence depends on the mercy of men, who are entitled to keep them and to turn them out at their own pleasure. Such laws could have been useful in the times of Manu but owing to social and religious notions of society having undergone a great change in recent times, these laws are proving to be a source of great danger to the Hindu community. In short, on the one hand, there is unnecessary oppression and, on the other, unusual freedom which has led the women to deem this oppression as direct affront to them. It is, therefore, highly necessary that the laws concerning the marriage of Hindus, Sikhs and Jains be modified on the lines indicated in the Bill.

Besides, I am perfectly aware of the fact that marriage is considered to be a sacrament in Hindu Law. I would like to congratulate those men and women who fulfil the conditions of this sacrament and live a very decent life. But, I may submit, that this thing does not in any way alleviate the pain and suffering of those women who live a hellish life in the houses of their husbands. The number of such women in our province is sufficiently large. I may add here for the information of the honourable members that I have not moved this Bill without any cause or reason. I have been working among my sisters for the last 20 or 25 years and I have seen thousands of such cases where the women folk pass a condemned life and suffer numerous tortures at the hands of their husbands. The oppression by men is sometimes so very intolerable that these unhappy conditions sometimes even lead to the commission of crime. It is no wonder that as a direct result of these hardships no less than 100 Jat women committed suicide. The commission of suicide is not an easy matter and I am also aware of the fact that the women-folk have a great courage for showing forbearance, but in spite of all this they are forced to commit this crime. It has grieved me to find that though such cruelties have been perpetrated on them, who finding them intolerable have been forced to commit suicide, still an honourable Jat member of this House has deemed it proper to oppose leave being given for the introduction of this Bill. It was beyond my expectations, for I was inclined to think that these tortures were quite sufficient to move their hearts and arouse pity in them. I had a mind to say many other things, but as they are not relevant to the motion now under the consideration of the House, I postpone them to some other occasion.

I may make it clear that the honourable members should not think that I have moved this Bill in order to become a pioneer for moving an amendment in the personal and customary law of the Hindus, Sikhs and Jains. But I may point out that many Bills have been introduced in the past by many Hindustani leaders in order to mitigate the harshness of the customary law of the Hindus and they have been placed on the statute book. It was in the year 1856 that a first attempt of this kind was made and the result was that the marriage of the Hindu widows was legalised. Then the Special Marriage Act was passed in the year 1877. Recently it has been amended, but this law has not proved useful, because usually the Hindu marriages are according to dharma custom. Further the Sarda Act which has recently been amended was passed. I do not claim that my Bill is complete and flawless as regards its language and form, nor do I profess that there is no room for amendment in it. But I hope that this House will help me in modifying this Bill still better. This much I do claim that my Bill is of such an urgent and important nature, that at this stage it does not deserve to be turned down. This Bill concerns the Hindus, Sikhs and the Jains and I cannot even imagine for a minute that there is any honourable member in this House who would like to oppose it. Who can be such hard-hearted person who can leave the sisters and daughters of his community in such a woeful and pitiable condition and not take pity on them and try to rid them of such a disgraceful life? Besides, I may submit that I have moved this Bill after consulting the Hindu institutions and I have sought their help as well. I have been encouraged to move this Bill after duly consulting public opinion. I am conscious of the fact that the members of the Ministerial party and my Muslim brethren will remain neutral, yet I hope they will have full sympathy with their unfortunate sisters, and will lend me their support in seeing this Bill through the House.

According to paragraph 6 of list 3, Schedule 7 of the Government of India Act, the Assembly is empowered to undertake marriage legislation. In drafting the provisions of this Bill I have taken special care to ensure that they should not be unnecessarily harsh to any man or woman, nor should they give any one a chance to take undue advantage of it. The various grounds mentioned in the Bill for obtaining separation are as follows :—

- (1) When a husband systematically commits such acts of violence towards his wife as to endanger her life, limb or health.

It would perhaps be within your knowledge that sometimes the hands of the wives are placed under charpais and they are coerced in this manner. The Bill requires that they should be treated like human beings and not like dogs.

(2) When the husband is living an immoral life.

(3) When the marriage was brought about by practice of deception upon the wife and a notice of such deception had been given by the wife.

The fourth ground is.....

Mian Abdul Rab : On a point of order, Sir. Can the provisions of a Bill be discussed at the time of asking for leave to introduce the Bill ?

Mr. Chairman (Lala Bhim Sen Sachar) : The honourable member will please wind up now.

Mrs. Duni Chand : The fourth ground is :—

When the husband is suffering from an incurable disease of a revolting and contagious nature.

As all these grounds have been mentioned in the Bill I need not mention them here.

I am glad that our province is leading all other provinces in the domain of social reform, and I hope that by enacting this Bill it will add another feather to its cap. I request the honourable members of this House through you, Sir, that before deciding the fate of this Bill every member should bear it in mind that he is the representative of both men and women alike, and hundreds of his sisters are looking up to him for justice. I hope you will not disappoint them but prove through your action that you are their real representatives.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup (Rohtak, Central, General, Rural) (Urdu) : Mr. Chairman, Sir, at the very outset let me express my pleasure that on the occasion of the introduction of a Hindu Bill you are in the chair. There are two parts of the Bill that has just been introduced by the honourable lady member from Lahore.

Before taking up the Bill itself I would like to mention the fact that the honourable lady has entered the field of social reform on the footsteps of her husband Lala Duni Chand. I would like to remind the honourable lady that the first and foremost reform which is urgently needed is that of providing bread to the poor people of this province. If you must take part in social reform why not start with providing maternity centres in rural areas? This will save the lives of thousands of poor women who die every year in this province for want of proper care and medical advice.

The Bill that has just been introduced aims at giving the financially well off women, residents of the cities, an opportunity of giving a slip to their husbands. (Laughter).

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz : On a point of order, Mr. Chairman. The words used by the honourable member are a direct insult to the women of this province and he should be asked to withdraw those words.

Mr. Chairman (Lala Bhim Sen Sachar) : I would ask the honourable member to withdraw what he said. It is an insult to the women of the province. These are not parliamentary words.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : I am prepared to withdraw my words, but this would mean that you will have to withdraw this Bill also. (Laughter).

Mr. Chairman (Lala Bhim Sen Sachar): The honourable lady members have objected to the words which the honourable member has just used and I expect that in deference to their wishes the honourable member will withdraw them.

(As Chaudhri Ram Sarup rose to resume his speech, Begum Rashida Latif Baji stood up and began to speak).

Mr. Chairman : I may point out just for the information of the honourable members that if any one of them wants to interrupt a speaker he will please rise on a point of order; otherwise it would not be possible for the Chair to accommodate him. Has the honourable lady member to raise a point of order?

Begum Rashida Latif Baji : On a point of order, Sir. The Bill does not afford the women an opportunity for leaving their husbands, it rather aims at putting a stop to men's cruelties towards them.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Now, Sir, that the Bill has been withdrawn I think there is no need for discussing it further. (Laughter). The Bill is divided into two parts. The one is in regard to divorce, which has been copied from the customs and practices of the Muslims. Among the Mussalmans marriage is a contract whereas amongst the Hindus it is a sacred ceremony, and a Hindu woman remains a wife even after the death of her husband. This Bill is directly opposed to the spirit of Hindu dharma.

Mr. Chairman, I think you have heard that we are passing through the Kalyug era and this Bill proves it. There was a time when Hindu women prepared to immolate themselves on the funeral pier of their husbands rather than live a life of widowhood. (Applause and Cheers).

Mr. Chairman : The Chair can have no objection to honourable members relishing the remarks of a speaker, but it should not be done in such a manner as to drown the speech itself.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : But a Hindu lady who is the chosen representative of Hindu women has brought forward this Bill which conclusively proves that they are not prepared to live with their husbands.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I enquire from the honourable member whether he has consulted his wife? (Interruptions).

Mr. Chairman : Order, order. It is impossible for me to express myself if we all join and create a pitch of voice which is not the one which could be tolerated in parliamentary proceedings. I think we are all agreed that personal remarks should not be encouraged in this House. I shall therefore expect that the honourable member will be so good as to withdraw the remarks which he has made. (Voices : Withdraw, withdraw).

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What do you mean by personal remarks? If you rule that the sentence which I used is not parliamentary I will withdraw it, but if you suggest that I should withdraw it I would not withdraw it. I do not see anything in it: it is such a light remark. It is not unparliamentary and I do not withdraw those remarks.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : The honourable member has not taken exception to it.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : The honourable member has indulged in remarks which are clearly very disparaging to women and he is not prepared to withdraw those remarks. (Voices : Withdraw, withdraw.)

Mr. Chairman : (Lala Bhim Sen Saabhar) May I enquire from the honourable Chaudhri Ram Sarup if he objected to the utterance of those remarks ?

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Yes, Sir.

Mr. Chairman : In view of the fact that the honourable member against whom those remarks were made took objection to them and in view of the fact that the honourable Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt had no right to interrupt the speaker at that moment and further in view of the fact that those remarks were likely to be understood in a different spirit from the one which might have been intended by the honourable Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt, I request him to withdraw those remarks. (Cheers from the Treasury Benches.)

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : With due deference to the Chair I beg to say that I am not prepared to withdraw those remarks.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : If he is not going to withdraw those remarks I will give him a reply myself.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : May I say a word ? I would request my honourable friend, Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt, to withdraw those remarks. They may not be unparliamentary, I am not sure, but it is not at all necessary that remarks should be unparliamentary before they are withdrawn. It will create a very undesirable atmosphere in the House if such remarks are made and persisted on. I would, therefore, as a friend, ask him to withdraw his remarks.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I have not that conception of wife as the honourable Dr. Gokul Chand Narang has. I did not do anything wrong in asking the honourable member whether he had consulted his wife or not. I did not mean any offence or insinuation.

Mr. Chairman : In making my observations, I was actuated primarily by the same considerations as have been put forward by the honourable Dr. Gokul Chand Narang. Remarks may not be unparliamentary, strictly speaking, but they may be undesirable. In order to keep proper atmosphere in the House, it is, I think, the privilege of the Chair and the privilege of the House to ask the honourable members to help to maintain an atmosphere of peace and goodwill. What I understood my honourable friend, Chaudhri Ram Sarup, to say was that he did not object to the remarks made by Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I am sorry to say that you misunderstood him. What he said was that if Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt does not withdraw his remarks, he would not mind because he has in his mind to pay him back in the same coin as occasion arises. That would be a thing which would be most undesirable. I would ask the Honourable Leader of the Opposition to ask his colleague to request him to withdraw his remarks.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I feel it is very unfortunate that this thing should have taken a turn it has. I feel that when one honourable member takes objection to what another honourable member has said and when you, as Speaker of this House, have requested him to withdraw, it is not for us to see whether the sentence, which you want to be withdrawn, is parliamentary or unparliamentary. When you have once expressed a desire, it does not look nice that we do not submit to that desire. Therefore, Sir, I would, through you, request my honourable colleague not to discuss the question further whether it is parliamentary or not, and whether it is desirable or not. I think he should submit to the desire of the Speaker and establish a very healthy convention. (Hear, hear from the Treasury Benches).

Mr. Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order, Sir. My point of order is this that according to our rules of procedure (Rule 29), it is not only the unparliamentary expressions that are debarred, but we are not to use offensive expressions. I submit that the authority to interpret what is and what is not offensive lies with the Chair and therefore, after a very fair and reasonable appeal made by the honourable Leader of the Opposition, I would, as a friend of Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt, appeal to him to withdraw these words.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : On a point of order, Sir. If any honourable member does not obey your orders he may kindly be asked to leave the House.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I want to say a word by way of explanation. I have carefully listened to the view given by you, as well as by the members opposite and by my honourable Leader, whom I respect very much. I do think that in view of the atmosphere prevailing—an atmosphere of conservatism—I am being coerced to do a thing which I do not want to do. This is a conviction with me that I did not say anything wrong and I assured the House I meant no offence. I put a question to the honourable member which affects men and women. I asked him "Did he consult his wife?" These words were very relevant and it was a very pertinent question. It was very unfortunate that the House laughed at that. In view of the fact that women are treated like that and in view of the fact that I have a notion about women different from my honourable friend, I feel very strongly on this question that men keep women under subjection. It is not a party question and it has not been discussed in the party. I do realise that my position is very awkward at this hour, specially when my own friends and colleagues say that I should withdraw these words. But it is a matter of conviction with me, conviction regarding relations between men and women. I feel that I asked a very pertinent question and I am not going to withdraw. I am prepared to withdraw from the House if you rule so.

Mr. Chairman : Honourable members, you must have observed that I have made a departure from the ordinary procedure in allowing expression of different views by various honourable members of this House. The reason for the latitude shown by me is that I am anxious to preserve an atmosphere of real goodwill and friendship in the House. I thought that even a little departure from our rules of procedure would be worth while if it could take out the bitterness from this House. It is much to be regretted that in spite of what appears to me to be the unanimous wish of the House that the honourable member, Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt, should withdraw the remarks that he has made, on the score that they are objected to by the honourable member against whom they were uttered, he has not withdrawn them. I expect honourable members to support the Chair which derives its authority from them, even though the occupant of the chair is a temporary chairman. (Interruption). Since Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt is not willing to withdraw the remarks that he has made, it is for me to determine whether or not his conduct is such that he should be asked to leave the House. I do not propose to ask him to leave the House, but would leave him to the judgment of the House. The honourable member, Chaudhri Ram Sarup will now proceed with his speech.

Mr. E. Few : Before the discussion proceeds, with due deference to your ruling, may I ask whether it does not amount to an encouragement of defiance of the order of the Chair ?

Mr. Chairman (Lala Bhim Sen Sachar) : I do not think it will encourage defiance of the order of the Chair, because I am sure the views of the House as expressed in unmistakable language will serve as a great deterrent for any member indulging in the sort of language which has been objected to.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Do you consider that there is anything objectionable or any insinuation in my remark ?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : The subject should now be treated as closed.

Mr. Chairman : Chaudhri Ram Sarup will now proceed with his speech.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : The Hindu dharma is as old as life itself in this world and I wonder as to why such reforms as are being contemplated here were never proposed in any other period of its history.

Mrs. Duni Chand : Because these are days of enlightenment.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : With your permission, Sir, I wish to explain one point more, and it is that the conditions which prevail in the cities are quite different from those in the villages. In fact, the dwellers of the cities are not able to keep their womenfolk quite under control. (Laughter and loud cheers).

Mr. Chairman : I am very sorry my attention was drawn elsewhere and so I was not able to catch the last sentence of the honourable speaker. I hope there was nothing objectionable. (Cries of 'no, no' and loud shouts). I request honourable members that they will please make the task of the Chair easy by observing discipline. It would be impossible for any Chairman to maintain discipline unless the members themselves are so good as to recognise the limitations that have been placed on them by their own rules.

Lala Duni Chand : I want the Chair to know what was exactly said by the honourable member. Chaudhri Ram Sarup said that it is the people of the town that cannot keep their wives under control. (Interruption and loud uproar).

Mr. Chairman (Lala Bhim Sen Sachar) : It will be impossible for me to conduct the proceedings of the House unless honourable members will observe silence that is due from them. It is difficult to go on in this atmosphere of shouting and talking.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz : If the honourable member indulges in any more such remarks, we women members of this House will walk out of the House.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : If you allow me I intend to explain the words which I used a little while ago and to which objection is being taken. (Interruption and loud shouts).

Mr. Chairman : May I request the whips in this House to please help me by asking their party members to observe discipline ? It is impossible for any one to carry on the proceedings of the House unless he is supported willingly by every section of the House by observing silence to the extent that it is needed for the carrying on of the business of the House. Chaudhri Ram Sarup must have observed that the honourable lady member on this side has seriously objected to his remarks. I expect the honourable member to be chivalrous enough to recognise the force of the objection of the lady members and, without trying in any way to justify his remarks, to withdraw them.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : I am prepared to withdraw the words in question, but I may be allowed to submit that I spoke about men and not about ladies. Why the honourable lady member should object to my words is beyond my comprehension. However, if the House objects I am prepared to withdraw the words. (Interruption and loud uproar).

Mr. Chairman : I am sorry I am in an unfortunate position of having to repeat every time that the honourable members will please help the Chair in maintaining discipline. I do not suppose that the honourable members want their Chairman to feel so impotent that he cannot conduct the proceedings of this House in an orderly way. I therefore request every section of the House to observe discipline which they should in this House. Does the Honourable Chaudhri Ram Sarup withdraw his remarks ?

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Yes, Sir. (Hear, hear and cheers). The object in opposing this Bill is that the English education which is imparted in the cities is giving to our women such freedom which is quite contrary to the laws of our dharma.

Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : We on this side of the House wish to do away with the present system of education, but it is you who are enamoured of it.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Sir, I was submitting the objects in view of which this Bill has been moved and how it is contrary to the laws of our dharma and why it should not be passed.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker resumed the chair).

Mr. Speaker : How long has the honourable member been speaking ?

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Only one minute, Sir.

Minister for Finance : The speaker could not have taken more than two minutes. The rest of the time was consumed in disorder.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : I would like to make it clear to the honourable members of this House why this Bill is not necessary for the people residing in the rural areas. Our women folk in the villages follow the tenets of the Hindu dharma in the spirit as well as in the letter and we do not deem it necessary to consult them in any matter. We simply give them orders and they have no other recourse but to obey them. (Laughter and Cheers). But, Sir, in the cities English education is giving such freedom to our women which is quite contrary to the laws of Hindu dharma and it is impossible for us to tolerate it. I do not like to take much time of the House, but I would simply wish to bring this matter to your notice that this Bill directly contravenes the principles of the Hindu Law. I may submit that laws which our women have to follow are set down in Pati-warta Dharma and I am definitely of the opinion that this Bill is a negation of that Pati-warta Dharma.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : You are not the only person who knows about Pati-warta Dharma.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : There is not a single individual among the Hindus who can desert his legally married wife.

Mr. Speaker : How long is the honourable member likely to take to finish his speech?

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : If you are in a hurry, I shall finish my speech.

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Hindu, Sikh and Jain Marriage Law (Amendment) Bill.

THE PUNJAB AGRICULTURAL TRIBES' RIGHT OF DEFENCE BILL.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan (Rawalpindi Sadar, Muhammadan, Rural): I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Agricultural Tribes' Right of Defence Bill.

The motion was carried.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan: I introduce the Punjab Agricultural Tribes' Right of Defence Bill.

THE PUNJAB ANTI-BEGAR BILL.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) :
 6 P. M. I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Anti-Begar Bill.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Anti-Begar Bill.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : I beg to object to its introduction.

Sardar Hari Singh : It is very difficult to follow the logic of this insensate opposition to this harmless Bill. Begar in its various forms has been persistent for centuries in this country. It has continued throughout the British Raj and still continues in the regime of the so-called popular Ministry. I want to know what are they going to do and how are they going to eradicate this disease. What have they done so far? The British bureaucrats issued certain pious circulars, which did not mean anything beyond the issue of these circulars and those circulars did not help in eradicating this disease. Our friends opposite will get up and say, "We have issued instructions banning begar and we have asked the district authorities to see that begar is not taken from the scheduled castes or other kamins of the villages." But in spite of those pious circulars begar is being taken in the villages. There is no mitigation of the evil and I think that the evil has aggravated since my honourable friends opposite have assumed office. May I ask whether those seven representatives of the scheduled castes, who are sitting behind the treasury benches, have not brought to the notice of the Government that the evil is existing in the villages and that the lot of the scheduled castes is not at all improved since the present Ministry took office? Let us try to understand the problem. May I ask them a question or two? Are they afraid of displeasing the village landlords, the ruling magnates, the aristocrats on whose support they depend and who are notorious for taking begar from the depressed classes? Are they afraid of the zaildars, the honorary magistrates or other officials and landlords who depend upon the forced labour of chamars, bhangis and other menial classes in the villages? What is the reason that they are going to oppose a measure which is quite harmless and which says that any person, official or non-official, who takes begar from the poor people should be penalised. He should be put in a court of law, hauled up before a court and he should be fined or sent to jail if the offence is repeated again and again. This Bill is not at all going to incur any expenditure from the Exchequer of the province. Therefore, I fail to understand why they oppose this Bill. If they have any sympathy at all, beyond lip sympathy, for the poor people, then they should not oppose this Bill and show the method by which they are going to tackle the disease which is so grave and of very old standing. When the sub-inspector, tahsildar or naib-tahsildar or other subordinate officials go to the villages, what do they do? Whom do they ask to fetch grass for their horses? It is the poor chamar. It is the poor bhangi in the village and other menial class people who are asked to bring grass and when those poor people ask for payment they are given shoe-beating instead of being paid a few annas. The landlords, zaildars and other mighty supporters of the Unionist Party in the villages exact forced begar from scheduled caste people in spite of the fact that seven representatives out of eight of the scheduled castes are sitting behind the treasury benches. Do they feel sympathy for the depressed classes? How can they oppose such a simple measure which is of benefit to their classes?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): I am afraid my honourable friend opposite has never missed the bus as he missed to-day. We are not opposing the introduction of this Bill for any one or for all, of the reasons which he attributed to us. As a matter of fact, so far as the stoppage of begar is concerned, the Premier has in unmistakable terms declared the policy of the Government on these matters. We stand by that and when a genuine Bill for the stoppage of begar and giving relief to the depressed classes is brought before the House, as one stands to-day in the name of my honourable friend Mr. Faqir Chand, he will find that we will not oppose the introduction of that Bill. But there are reasons why we oppose this Bill. We object to this Bill because it is a clumsy attempt to play and trifle with the credulity of our brethren of the scheduled castes. I object to it because it is an anti-scheduled caste Bill. (Voices from Opposition benches: Question). It is anti-love, anti-human nature and against the interests of the scheduled castes. I have measured every word that I have used against this Bill and I will prove it on reference to the provisions of the Bill that every word of mine is justified. My honourable friend wants to penalise begar and how does he define begar? He has given the definition of begar as follows:—

Begar shall mean the obtaining or utilizing of labour or services or goods or commodities by any person, official or non-official, without making adequate market-rate payment.

In other words, if my honourable friend Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana is tempted to buy a nice saree from Simla and takes it to Lahore for his Begum Sahiba and if she does not pay him the market rate for it then she will be guilty and liable on a summary trial to six months' imprisonment. (Laughter). Supposing my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh goes home and his son comes out of the house to receive him and helps to take his books to his room and in return he is given a doll or a present by Sardar Sahib, then both of them (the coming father and the dutiful son) are liable on a summary trial to six months' imprisonment for accepting labour and goods without payment of market rate (Laughter). Supposing my honourable friend the Leader of the Opposition goes on the Mall of Simla and he comes across a poor faqir sitting drenched in rain. Being moved by charity he passes on his mackintosh to the faqir. The faqir not paying the market-rate for the mackintosh will be liable on a summary trial to six months' imprisonment. (Laughter). Not only that, but I say that this Bill goes against the members of the scheduled castes whom it seeks to help. Supposing I get some labour from a member of the scheduled castes in my village and being pleased with his work I present him with a coat or a bit of reward, and since the market-rate thereof is not paid to me, he is liable on summary trial to six months' imprisonment. My honourable friend the mover of the Bill is responsible for such a clumsy attempt at legislation and plays with the so-called love of the depressed classes and then without knowing our reasons dares to attribute motions to the Government for not supporting his Bill. I hope that in the light of my comments my honourable friend who moved the Bill will, in fairness, get up and say that he is sorry for having moved such a Bill. Moreover, from the 1st clause to the end of Bill the words "depressed classes" or "scheduled castes" do not occur even once. So far as the Bill is concerned, from the beginning to the end, the words "scheduled castes" do not occur even once any where in any of the clauses. I am sure my friends of the scheduled castes will not be taken in by such clumsy attempts.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Is the Government prepared to support Mr. Faqir Chand's measure?

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : We are not opposing its introduction (Interruption).

Mr. Speaker : Question is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Anti-Begar Bill.

THE PUNJAB HINDU AND SIKH BIGAMY BILL.

2nd Lieutenant Bhai Fatehjang Singh (South-East, Sikh, Rural):
Sir, I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Hindu and Sikh Bigamy Bill.

The motion was carried.

2nd Lieutenant Bhai Fatehjang Singh: Sir, I beg to introduce the Punjab Hindu and Sikh Bigamy Bill.

THE DEPRESSED CLASSES ANTI-BEGAR BILL.

Chaudhri Faqir Chand (Karnal, North, General, Reserved Seat, Rural):
Sir I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Depressed Classes Anti-Begar Bill.

The motion was carried.

Chaudhri Faqir Chand: Sir, I beg to introduce the Depressed Classes Anti-Begar Bill.

THE PUNJAB ALIENATION OF LAND (AMENDMENT) BILL.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural): Sir, I beg to move—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Alienation of Land (Amendment) Bill.

Mr. Speaker : The motion moved is—

That leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Alienation of Land (Amendment) Bill.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Sir, I object to it.

Lala Duni Chand : Sir, through this Bill I ask for small mercy. It appears that Government is not going to grant even this mercy. The Alienation of Land Act was passed about 88 years ago. I want to amend section 20 of that Act. Whatever might have been the justice or necessity of putting this section on the statute book in 1900, that justification and that necessity does not exist now. I want that this section 20 should be no more on the statute book. At that time perhaps the feeling was that legal practitioners were a mischievous class of people and they were troublesome and probably they were punished for that reason. Perhaps it was also thought at that time that they would create difficulties in the way of administration of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act. I submit that as a result of the working of that Act, we have come to know that a lot of important legal questions arise in the course of proceedings under that Act. I want that the legal practitioners should be allowed to appear in the proceedings under that Act, so that they may be helpful at one time to agriculturists and another time to non-agriculturists. This Bill is going to produce a system that would abolish benami transactions. They are welcome to do that, but it is another feature of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act that requires help of the legal profession. Things have greatly changed now. The legal profession is hard pressed. Many lawyers hardly get work worth the name. This Bill is going to affect all classes and all communities equally. Members of the legal profession belonging to all communities will be affected by it. With these words I beg for leave of the House to introduce this Bill.

Minister for Revenue : Sir, I have great sympathy for my honourable friend, but I am afraid that I must oppose this motion. With regard to the object of section 20, I would draw your attention to Sir Shadi Lal's Commentary, 1937 Edition, which says—

The object of section 20 is to confer discretionary powers upon revenue officers for the protection of zamindars, which could be exercised cheaply and expeditiously by the exclusion of legal practitioners.

Though the legal practitioners are excluded, the recognised agents are allowed to appear before the revenue officers.

This Act, as my honourable friend has said, has been before this House for more than 87 years. But not a single case of any difficulty has been brought to the notice of the Government where the exclusion of legal practitioners has appeared as a hardship against any man who has claimed relief under this Act. I need not detain the House any more, but I would say this much that though the legal profession is a bit hard pressed, this is not the only thing which is going to help them. There are other things which can provide means of livelihood for them. My honourable friend said that Government is not going to show even this small mercy to legal practitioners. (Lala Duni Chand : I do not require mercy, but the legal profession requires it.) Then why are you pleading their cause when you yourself do not require mercy? So, I strongly object to the leave being granted to introduce this motion.

[ Minister for Revenue. ]

Mr. Speaker : The question is that—

Leave be granted to introduce the Punjab Alienation of Land (Amendment) Bill.

The motion was lost.

---

THE PUNJAB ERADICATION OF BEGAR BILL.

Seth Kishan Dass (Jullundur, General, Reserved Seat, Rural) : As a similar Bill has been moved by my honourable friend, Chaudhri Faqir Chand, I beg to withdraw my Bill.

---

THE PUNJAB ERADICATION OF UNTOUCHABILITY BILL.

Seth Kishan Dass : As the Punjab Eradication of Untouchability Bill is still under consideration, I do not wish to move it now.

The Assembly then adjourned till 2-30 P. M. on Friday, 1st July, 1938.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY:

3RD SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, 1st July, 1938.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla at 2-30 p.m. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, DALHOUSIE.

*2927. Munshi Hari Lal: Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) when the Municipal Committee was constituted at Dalhousie;
- (b) when the elective system was introduced in the Municipality;
- (c) the numerical strength of the members of the Municipal Committee;
- (d) how many are elected and how many nominated;
- (e) whether the office of the President of the Committee is open to election?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana: (a) The Municipal Committee of Dalhousie was first constituted on 25th July, 1887.

- (b) The elective system was introduced in the Municipality in 1928;
- (c) and (d) The present strength of the Municipal Committee is eleven members, of whom five are elected and six appointed;
- (e) No.

Sardar Hari Singh: Has the Government ever considered the question of making the post of President elective?

Minister: Not so far.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know whether the Government intends to consider the question in the near future?

Minister: All such questions are considered when occasion arises.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: Why is it that the nominated members are for more than the elected members in that Municipality?

Minister: Because it is a hill station.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: Does it take a very long time for democracy to reach hill stations?

Minister: No. It is because the population of hill stations is migratory.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : Does the Government intend to increase the elected element in that Municipality ?

Minister : I have already replied to that question.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : No, it has not been answered.

Minister : I have already said that such questions are considered from time to time.

Sardar Hari Singh : How does the question of migration of people affect the principle of election to the Municipality ?

Minister : It affects very much, because the people that go to Dalhousie one year do not go there the next year.

Sardar Hari Singh : At that rate Dalhousie Municipality will not have an elected President till eternity.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Does this principle apply to Simla as well ?

Minister : Yes, it does.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : Does it apply to Dharamsala as well ?

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

---

MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE DALHOUSIE.

*2928. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that in 1936 the elected members of the Dalhousie Municipal Committee protested against the Sub-Divisional Officer who was then a mere member of the Committee being armed with controlling powers under section 231, Punjab Municipal Act, with respect to the Dalhousie Committee ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that, as a protest, the elected Vice-President resigned ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) No.

---

MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE DALHOUSIE.

*2929. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) when the office of the Vice-Presidents of the Dalhousie Municipality was thrown open to election ;
- (b) the name of the first Senior Vice-President of the Dalhousie Municipality and the period for which he functioned as such ;
- (c) whether he resigned or ceased to work as Senior Vice-President because his term expired ; if he resigned, the reasons for his resignation ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) In 1931 for the first time two Vice-Presidents, one senior and one junior were elected. Previous to this there was only one Vice-President and he was always elected.

(b) Captain B. H. D. Ross (Station Staff Officer). He remained as Senior Vice-President for 3 years, 4 months and 24 days.

(c) He ceased to function as he was transferred from Dalhousie.

MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE DALHOUSIE.

*2930. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether the elected members of the Dalhousie Municipal Committee withdrew from the meeting during the recent election of the Vice-President as a protest against the predominance of the nominated block in the Committee;

(b) whether there is a proposal to revise the constitution of the Committee?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Only two elected members withdrew from the meeting as a protest against the nominated majority in the Committee out of five elected.

(b) Not at present.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is it a fact that the Honourable Premier gave a definite promise to Raizada Hans Raj of the Central Legislative Assembly that Government would increase the elected element in the Municipality?

Minister : If the honourable member will have patience he will get a reply to that question which is coming up later.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it due to the presence of European population that there is a predominance of nominated members in that Municipality?

Minister : I have already said that this applies to all hill stations because the population is migratory. Moreover this question relates to the Vice-President.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL MARSHALL.

*2931. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that a retired Military Officer, Lt.-Col. Marshall, has been recently recruited in the Punjab Jail Department as Superintendent;

(b) if so, the salary that he draws in addition to his pension;

(c) the scale of the grade of his salary; and

(d) his special qualifications for employment in the Jail Department?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes.

(b) Rs. 700 per mensem.

(c) Rs. 700—80—1,000.

(d) Colonel Marshall was appointed after consultation with the Public Service Commission who considered him suitable.

Munshi Hari Lal : What are the special qualifications that Colonel Marshall possesses for this post ? Has he got any jail experience ?

Minister : Many persons have been employed as Superintendents of Jails without having been previously in Jail service.

Sardar Hari Singh : How does the employment of a retired European Military officer fit in with the policy of Indianisation ?

Minister : A large number of names were placed before the Public Service Commission who went through the qualifications of some 41 persons. The Commission came to the conclusion that this officer was the best qualified.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Did the Government make any recommendation to the Commission in this respect ?

Minister : No recommendation was made. If I may say so, such a question is to be deprecated. It reflects on the independence of the Public Service Commission, and is unnecessarily offensive to Government.

Sardar Hari Singh : Was no Indian with requisite qualifications available ?

Minister : The Public Service Commission placed this gentleman at the top and the Government had no reason not to accept the recommendation of the Commission.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do Government realise that military men are really not suited for a service like this ?

Minister : That is the opinion of the honourable member and is not a proposition that is universally accepted. On the other hand, if I may say so, experience of Government shows that the work of military men in jails has been absolutely satisfactory.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Wherever Government has employed ex-military men in jails there has been more trouble.

Minister : Not at all.

Sardar Hari Singh : What is the age of this officer ?

Minister : I have got no information on that point. I may, however, inform the honourable member that this appointment is only for a period of two or three years and nobody who reaches the age of 55 is retained in service. It may, therefore, be presumed that this officer is well within 55, and the appointment is subject to medical examination and report.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know, Mr. Speaker, whether it is proper for an honourable member to characterise a question as to be deprecated ?

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is presumed to know that the Public Service Commission is a body which acts independently. Therefore, whether the Government made any recommendation to the Commission is the last thing a member should ask.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do I take it that Government in no case employs a man if he has attained the age of 55 ?

Minister : This particular gentleman is not above 55. I have not made a general enquiry as to whether Government does not employ men over 55 years of age. If the honourable member wishes to have precise information on that point I shall be glad to get it for him.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

SARDAR JASWANT SINGH UPPAL, P.C.S.

*2932. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Sardar Jaswant Singh Uppal, P. C. S., has been recently selected to serve as Superintendent of Jails in the Punjab ;
- (b) if so, by which authority ;
- (c) what are his special qualifications for employment in the jails ;
- (d) what will be his emoluments as Superintendent and what is his pay as an Extra Assistant Commissioner.

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes.

(b) By Government in consultation with the Public Service Commission.

(c) The Public Service Commission ranked him first amongst the P. C. S. officers whose names were submitted to them.

(d) As Superintendent of Jail he will draw his time scale pay in the Punjab Civil Service plus a special pay of Rs. 100 per mensem. As an Extra Assistant Commissioner his pay on the 26th January, 1938, was Rs. 570.

Pir Akbar Ali : Is it a fact that as a magistrate he did not succeed, his work as a magistrate was not approved and therefore the Government thought it necessary to transfer him to the Jail Department ?

Mr. Speaker : That is not a supplementary question.

PUNJAB JAIL SERVICE.

*2933. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether there is any cadre of the Punjab Jail Service in the Punjab ; if so, what is the initial pay of the office of Superintendent of Jails ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : There is no regular cadre of Superintendents of Jails. They are recruited from several sources, including the Indian Medical Service, the Punjab Civil Service, the Punjab Civil Medical Service, the Indian Army, and from among Deputy Superintendents of Jails. There is, however, a regular cadre for Deputy and Assistant Superintendents of Jails.

Munshi Hari Lal : Are there any rules for the recruitment of these officers ?

Minister : If the honourable member were to give me notice, I can tell him exactly how many of these superintendents belong to each of these cadres.

LIBUTENANT-COLONEL MARSHALL AND SARDAR JASWANT SINGH UPPAL.

*2934. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that at the time of the selection of Lt.-Col. Marshall and Sardar Jaswant Singh Uppal, as Superintendents of Jails, the Inspector-General of Prisons favoured the appointment of the senior Deputy Superintendent working in the Punjab Jails ;
- (b) whether the claims of the senior Deputy Superintendent of the Punjab Jails were considered at the time of their selection ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) The answer is in the negative so far as Colonel Marshall's case is concerned. When the other vacancy occurred the Inspector-General recommended the senior Deputy Superintendent.

(b) Yes.

DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT OF JAILS.

*2935. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state —

- (a) whether it is a fact that it is the Deputy Superintendent of a Jail who has to pay recoveries for every item of irregular expenditure incurred in every transaction and the Superintendent of the Jail is immune from such responsibilities ;
- (b) if the answer to part (a) be in the affirmative, whether he would be pleased to lay on the table of the House the list of total recoveries made during the years 1934-35, 1936-37, from the Deputy Superintendents and the Assistant Superintendents of the jails ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) No. Recoveries are made from whatever official is primarily at fault.

(b) Does not arise.

MILITARY ASSISTANT SURGEONS.

*2936. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and the names of the Military Assistant Surgeons, if any, who hold the office of wholetime Superintendent of Jails in the Punjab, temporarily or permanently ;

(b) the grade pay of such Military Assistant Surgeons ?

The Honourable Mr. Manshar Lal : (a) There are none.

(b) Does not arise.

CIVIL ASSISTANT SURGEONS.

*2937. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and names of Civil Assistant Surgeons, if any, who hold the office of whole-time Superintendent of Jails in the Punjab, temporarily or permanently ;
- (b) whether there is any grade pay of such Civil Assistant Surgeons ; if not, whether they get any allowance ; if so, what is the amount of that allowance ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The only Assistant Surgeon who is a whole-time Superintendent of Jails is Major S. H. U. Shah, P.C.M.S., Superintendent of the Old Central Jail, Multan. He is in receipt of his grade pay (Rs. 225—15—450) as Assistant Surgeon plus Rs. 100—Jail allowance.

LIST OF DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENTS AND ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENTS.

*2938. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether any approved list of Deputy Superintendents and Assistant Superintendents eligible to hold office of the Superintendent of Jails, permanently or temporarily, is kept ; if so, will such a list be laid on the table ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : No such list is kept.

DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENTS OF JAILS.

*2939. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any Deputy Superintendents of Jails have been permanently promoted to the office of the Superintendent of Jails in 1936, 1937 or upto March, 1938 ;
- (b) if so, their names and salaries and the increase they got as Superintendents ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes.

(b) (1) Lala Gyan Chand Chadda.

(2) Khan Sahib Sheikh Abdul Ghani (since retired). Both of them were given special pay of Rs. 100 per mensem in addition to the grade pay of Deputy Superintendent, 1st grade, viz., Rs. 400—10—450/10—500.

*2940.—Cancelled.

WATER SUPPLY FOR AMBALA CITY.

*2941. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he is aware of the fact that out of the 27 old wells sunk in the vicinity of Hundesara to supply water to Ambala City, the majority of wells have failed and the few that are still working are giving much less water than their prescribed capacity ;
- (b) whether out of the four wells two sunk about four years ago and the two sunk this year on which a part of Rs. 15,000 sanctioned in this year's budget has been spent, one has absolutely failed and the remaining three are giving much less quantity of water than they were expected to give ;
- (c) whether as a result of the above conditions, there has been practically a drought in Ambala City for the last month and a half ;
- (d) whether it is also a fact that there is a wide spread grievance as to unequal distribution of the little water that people are getting and whether it is a fact that poor people are most hard hit in this respect ;
- (e) whether there is a danger of total failure of water supply at Ambala City in the near future ; if so, the steps that the Government proposes to take to meet the emergent situation.

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) It is a fact that the old wells in the vicinity of Hundesara have much declined in yield and this deterioration is progressive.

(b) No wells were sunk four years ago but two shallow tube wells were completed in 1937-38 out of Rs. 2,000 provided by the Municipal Committee, Ambala. There has been some reduction in the yield of these wells, but the test results are not definite.

Three or four shallow tube wells are at present under completion at a cost of Rs. 5,000 given by the Sanitary Board, Punjab, and will be put into operation within three months.

There is no estimate of Rs. 15,000 but there is an estimate of Rs. 19,000 for an airlift plant to pump and develop these tube wells. The Sanitary Board, Punjab, has given a grant-in-aid of Rs. 15,798 towards this work.

(c) There has been a shortage of water in Ambala City for many years but the conditions have been somewhat better this year due to the increased supply from the two shallow tube wells.

(d) The water-supply is definitely inadequate. The Municipal Committee has about 702 un-metered connections on the distribution system. As a result, the distribution system is like a sieve and the population having private connections take more water than the poor people who receive their supply from public standposts and are thus placed at a disadvantage.

(e) No, but steps are being taken by the Government to prevent the occurrence of a drought.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know whether the considerations of rural requirements stand in the way of adequate water supply being given to Ambala?

Minister : I am afraid this advocacy on the part of the honourable member is likely to prejudice the case of Ambala because it has got its reactions and there are places in the rural area where people have to travel 5 or 6 or even 8 miles a day to get their daily water supply and naturally we have to look to their needs also.

Lala Duni Chand : May I ask if that attitude of the Government will not create a situation in Ambala city that will be difficult for the Government to control?

Minister : It will not. Government is capable of controlling all situations.

Lala Duni Chand : May I ask the Honourable Minister to answer my question as I put it? I take the consequences upon myself. My question is whether the rural considerations stand in the way of an adequate water supply being given to Ambala city?

Minister : I have made it clear that the needs of the rural area where people have to travel several miles to get their supply of drinking water are to be given preference.

Lala Duni Chand : Should such considerations weigh with the Government on a matter which is an essential human requirement, namely, the supply of water?

Minister : The duty is in the first instance cast upon the local body as also the responsibility. On a previous occasion I made it clear that the residents of Ambala and the Municipal Committee of Ambala shall have to raise some funds which would be supplemented by the Government. I quoted the instance of Ludhiana where 30 years back lakhs of rupees were raised by the people. (Hear, hear).

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if the Government is going to refuse supply of drinking water to Ambala on the plea that some money is required to be spent in rural areas?

Mr. Speaker : This question has been answered already.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has Government taken any steps to move the Municipal Committee to raise funds or has the Honourable Minister for Education himself taken some interest to see that some funds are raised by non-officials to supplement the resources of the Government in this respect?

Minister : It is primarily the duty of the local body to raise funds and if my honourable friends opposite are very solicitous of Ambala it is their duty also to move in the matter. All I can say is that if some funds are raised Government will consider the question of supplementing those funds.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What is the estimate of my honourable friend's expectation of the funds raised by non-officials?

Mr. Speaker : I cannot allow an imaginary question.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I only wanted to know as to what he expects—10 or 20 or 50 lakhs—from the citizens.

Minister : It all depends on the scheme that is taken in hand. It is very difficult for me to say off-hand what would be a suitable scheme.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has Government worked out any definite scheme to supply ample water for Ambala?

Minister : I made it clear the other day in reply to a question from my honourable friend Lala Duni Chand that a scheme was submitted by our experts, the estimate cost of which was 8 lakhs of rupees.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : How much is the Government prepared to contribute towards it?

Minister : I am not here to enter into a contract with the honourable member.

Lala Duni Chand : Is the Government contemplating the question of drawing up a scheme of taxation which I shall try to have accepted by the people of Ambala?

Minister : That again is a matter for the consideration of the local body and I hope the honourable member will move in the matter in the right direction.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does the Honourable Minister realise that the Government claims to be a popular Government and that it should look to the needs of the public?

Minister : We know our duty and we have done in the past more than that. We have accorded to this Municipality a treatment of a favoured municipal committee.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that acute grievances are being felt by the people of Ambala in the matter of unfair distribution of water ?

MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE DALHOUSIE.

*2942. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that some elected members of the Dalhousie Municipal Committee refused to participate in the election of its Vice-President held on the 29th May, 1938, and walked out as a protest against the Government having given a majority of seats in the Municipal Committee to nominated members ;
- (b) whether he is aware of the fact that the Honourable Premier promised Raizada Hansraj, M. L. A. (Central), who waited upon the former last winter, to give a majority to elected element in the Dalhousie Municipal Committee ;
- (c) whether there is any proposal to reconsider the whole question with a view to giving a majority to the elected element in the Dalhousie Municipal Committee ; and if not, why not ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Two elected members did not participate in the election of Vice-Presidents and walked out as a protest. They, however, returned immediately after the election was over.

(b) No. The Honourable Premier did not make any such promise. He only promised that he would ask the Minister in charge to consider the request.

(c) Not at present in the interests of the Dalhousie Municipal administration.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Was the attention of the Honourable Minister drawn to the fact that Raizada Hans Raj, a member of the Central Assembly, declared it in the meeting in question that the Honourable Premier gave him a definite word to that effect and that this fact appeared in the Press?

Minister : I am not aware of what a member of the Municipal Committee declared in a meeting but what actually happened I have already stated.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Did not the Government consider it necessary to contradict it?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier kindly enlighten us on that point?

Minister : The statement might have been due to a misunderstanding and it is not necessary to contradict all the statements appearing in the papers.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : The statement was recorded in the proceedings of the Committee.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Has the Honourable Premier drawn the attention of the Minister to this?

Minister : The Honourable Premier only stated that the Minister in charge would be asked to consider the question, but the elections having taken place it was too late for me to consider the matter.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Are you now considering it?

Minister : It will be considered in due course.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Are requests made even by the Premier considered only in due course?

Minister : I think that the inference is wrongly drawn.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I do not know what the rule on the subject is but may I through you request the Honourable Premier to enlighten us on this matter?

Premier : I can answer that to satisfy the curiosity of my juvenile friend opposite. Raizada Hans Raj came to me and made certain suggestions with regard to the Dalhousie Municipality, one of them was that the elected element, if possible, should be increased and I told him that the request would be very sympathetically considered and I would convey it to the Minister concerned and I did convey it to the Honourable Minister for Public Works. As he has pointed out, the difficulty was that the elections had already taken place and it was impossible to interfere in the matter without disturbing the various proportions laid down and, therefore, it is that the Honourable Minister will in due course consider the matter sympathetically as promised to Raizada Hans Raj that it would be considered.

Mian Abdul Aziz : Could not the number of nominated members be reduced so as to make a majority of elected members?

Premier : Then the honourable member would have come to us saying that share of the Hindus has been given to Muslims or vice versa.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Did you say that the matter would be considered sympathetically or that the matter would be considered sympathetically in due course? Will you kindly be sure before saying?

Premier : I said that it would be considered sympathetically and I conveyed that request to the Minister concerned and he has pointed out the difficulties. Therefore the matter will be considered in due course.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state if Government is going to revise its policy in respect of this matter before the next election?

Minister : There is no question of revision of policy. You have already had a complete reply from the Honourable Premier.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What I want to know is this, whether the Government will consider the matter finally before the next elections take place and give its decision whether it is going to increase the number of elected members in that Committee?

Minister : Government is always prepared to consider the matter at the proper time but beyond that I have nothing to add.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Did the Government receive any recommendation in this respect from the Deputy Commissioner, Gurdaspur?

Minister : Correspondence between local officers and the Government is confidential.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is it a fact that the Minister for Public Works was favourably inclined to the proposal but eventually he gave preference to the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner, Gurdaspur?

Minister : I have already stated that correspondence between officers of Government and the Government is confidential.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is it not a case of giving preference to local men and subordinating the Honourable Minister's opinion to them?

Minister : No, this is wrong.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Are Government satisfied that there is a necessity for increasing the elected element?

Minister : I would inform the honourable member that the elected element in Dalhousie as compared to other municipalities in the hills larger.

BAN ON ENTRY OF HANS RAJ " WIRELESS " INTO THE PUNJAB.

*2943. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the reasons for which Hans Raj "Wireless" has not been allowed to enter the Punjab after his recent release from jail by the Sind Government?

3 P.M.

Parliamentary Secretary : (K. B. Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daultana) : The honourable member is referred to the answer given to starred questions Nos. 2766<sup>1</sup> and 2795<sup>2</sup>.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Has the father of Hans Raj made any application since then that he be permitted to come into the province?

Premier : What does the honourable member mean by "since then"?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Since the time that this question was given notice of.

Premier : If you give me the date, I shall be able to answer it.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has there been any further correspondence by the father of Hans Raj on this subject during the last fortnight or so requesting the Government to allow him to come to his native place?

Premier : I believe several requests were received and answers were sent to the gentleman concerned.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has Government considered the desirability of allowing him to come back at least for his marriage?

Premier : I have nothing to add to the answer already given.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I enquire whether the Punjab Government has been in communication with the Central Government on the subject of entry of Hans Raj in the Punjab?

Premier : Not to my knowledge.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Government kindly state clearly whether they have accepted or rejected the request of the father of Hans Raj?

Premier : My honourable friend had better put this question to the father of Hans Raj.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : On a point of order. Is it proper on the part of the Premier to refer me to the father of Hans Raj for a reply to a question put to him?

Mr. Speaker : Perhaps the Honourable Premier does not wish to answer the question or is not in a position to answer it.

Premier : It is for the father to decide whether that answer was favourable or not. I have given my answer.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Is it a fact that the father of Hans Raj got a reply from the Premier in his own hand and is it a fact that the decision was arrived at by the Premier on the request of the father of Hans Raj?

Premier : Answers are sent by secretaries and not by the Premier.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : What was the reply given to the father of Hans Raj?

Premier : I am afraid I am not prepared to answer it.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Did the Premier receive any communication from the Sind Government on the representation of his father to them in accordance with his advice?

Premier : As a matter of fact the honourable member has now put a question which is very hypothetical. At least I have not followed it. He has said something about the advice given by somebody.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Father of Mr. Hans Raj informed us that he was advised by the Premier to refer the matter to the Sind Government because the Punjab Government had nothing to do with it, the condition was imposed by the Sind Government. I want to know whether he has been informed that his father wrote to the Sind Government and whether that Government has made any reference to the Punjab Government on that matter.

Premier : I think I have answered that question twice before. We have sent a reply to the representation received by us and as for the rest it is now between the father of Hans Raj and the Sind Government. So far as I am aware I have received no communication from the Sind Government.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does the Premier realise that the attitude of his Government in this matter is a not in keeping with the spirit of Reforms?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know from the Honourable Premier if the Sind Government had at any stage of the correspondence recommended to the Punjab Government to take Hans Raj 'Wireless' back in the Punjab?

Premier : How does that question arise? I have said that I have not received any communication from the Sind Government.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Government consider that sympathetically?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know as to whether at any stage of the correspondence between the Punjab Government and the Sind Government, the latter recommended to the former to take Hans Raj 'Wireless' back to the Punjab?

Premier : I have answered the question. My reply was that I have received no communication from the Sind Government and my honourable friend goes on saying 'at any stage of the correspondence' That only exists in imagination.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Did the Punjab Government send any communication to the Sind Government on the subject?

Premier : I say I have received no communication and there was no communication for me to send.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know if there does exist actually a ban against the entry of Hans Raj in the Punjab in black and white under the authority of the Punjab Government? If so, under what section?

Premier : I have already answered that question in answer to a previous question put, I think, by the honourable Leader of the Opposition. I have said that it was the decision of the Sind Government and Hans Raj 'Wireless' has given an undertaking to the Sind Government that he will not enter the Punjab.

Sardar Hari Singh : Do I take it that the Punjab Government has issued no order under any section of the Indian Penal Code or any other Act banning his entry in the Punjab?

Premier : My honourable friend probably is under the impression that only the Indian Penal Code can stop people from entering the province.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : We know that you have got all the powers.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : May I know whether the Punjab Government has not allowed him to enter the Punjab?

Premier : We have got nothing to do with it.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : If the Sind Government to-day absolves Hans Raj from that undertaking, is the Punjab Government prepared to.....

Mr. Speaker : Hypothetical questions cannot be allowed.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What is wrong there?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do the Government contemplate making a declaration that this gentleman is not debarred from entering the Punjab so far as the Punjab Government is concerned?

Premier : Government proposes to do nothing of the kind.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will you attend his marriage?

Premier : That is again a hypothetical question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : In view of the reply of the Honourable Premier that there has been no communication between the Sind Government and the Punjab Government with respect to Hans Raj 'Wireless,' how is then, the Premier in a position to say that the Sind Government has actually imposed a ban on Hans Raj 'Wireless'?

Premier : My honourable friend is either trying to be too clever or he has not understood my answer to the question. The question was whether in connection with this application of Hans Raj's father, we have had any correspondence with the Sind Government. I said, "No" and I repeat that word again.

ACCEPTANCE OF PARTIES BY POLICE OFFICIALS.

*294. Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Riasat Ali : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any circular has been issued since 1st April, 1937, on the question of accepting and attending parties on the part of Government officials;

[K. S. Ch. Bissat Ali.]

- (b) if so, whether he will lay it on the table ;
- (c) the number of farewell parties given in the Lahore division since 1st April, 1937 ;
- (d) the number of such parties received by the sub-inspectors of police in the Central Range since 1st April, 1937 ;
- (e) whether any of these parties have been given publicity through press ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :
(a) and (b). A copy of a press communiqué issued by Government on the 4th May, 1937, is laid on the table.

(c), (d) and (e). Government have no information. If the honourable member would let me know of any cases in which Punjab officials have attended parties of a public or semi-public nature I should be glad to look into the matter.

PRESS COMMUNIQUE.

The following communiqué is issued for the information of the general public.

The Government Servants' Conduct Rules lay down that a Government servant shall not, except with the previous sanction of Government, attend any public meetings or entertainment held in his honour. This is the general rule ; but at the same time, subject to the provisions of any general or special order of Government, a Government servant may attend a farewell entertainment of a substantially private and informal character held as a mark of regard to himself on the occasion of his retirement or departure from a district or station. In 1927, Government issued a special order on the subject, and directed that no Government servant could attend any farewell entertainment held as a mark of regard to himself, unless the previous sanction of Commissioner or Head of the Department had been obtained for the holding of the entertainment.

2. The position, therefore, is as follows :—The prohibition against a Government servant attending any public entertainment in his honour is absolute. Government itself, and not a Commissioner or a Head of Department, can grant exemption from this prohibition. Further, a Government servant may not attend any farewell entertainment held as a mark of regard to himself, whatever its nature may be, without the previous sanction of his Commissioner or the Head of his Department.

3. There have been occasions lately when Government has granted exemption from the general prohibition against public entertainments. The position has been carefully reviewed. If public parties are occasionally permitted, the result is that when permission is refused, it is taken not only as a slight on the Government servant concerned but as an affront to the would-be hosts. Government does not wish to be put in the position of being accused of either slighting its officials or of affronting members of the public, and on the other hand, has no intention of giving general permission for public entertainments in honour of its servants. It has, therefore, been decided that as a matter of practice the sanction of Government will not be given to Government servants to attend public entertainments in their honour. Requests by Government servants for permission to attend an entertainment in their honour which is not a public entertainment, will, as formerly, be made to the Commissioner or the Head of the Department. The decision of the Commissioner or the Head of the Department will be final, and Government will not interfere.

LABORER :

Dated 4th May, 1937. }

J. D. PENNY,

Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Government deprecate, to quote the expression of the Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal, the giving of parties to police officers and particularly to the subordinate police officers?

Premier : My honourable friend has probably not seen the Government communiqué on the subject. Government has prohibited all public parties to officials whether belonging to the police or otherwise. But if my honourable friend wants to give a party to his sub-inspector friend then I cannot come into the picture at all.

Lala Duni Chand : May I say that that has been in the line of the Honourable Premier. It is not within my line.

Premier : Why then put that question?

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that the giving of parties to the police subordinate officials lowers the general morale of the police?

Mr. Speaker : That is a matter of opinion.

ACCEPTANCE OF PARTIES BY SUB-INSPECTOR OF POLICE, HAFIZABAD.

*2945. Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Riasat Ali : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Sub-Inspector of Police, Hafizabad, has received any parties on the occasion of his transfer to Sadar Gujranwala (police station) ;
- (b) how many of these were public parties ;
- (c) whether Government is aware that a mention of these was made in the press ?

Parliamentary Secretary : (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

(a) The Superintendent of Police reports that the Sub-Inspector was entertained at three private parties.

(b) Nil.

(c) Yes.

TERRORIST PRISONERS FROM CENTRAL JAIL, MONTGOMERY, TO CENTRAL JAIL, LAHORE.

*2946. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Comrades Hazara Singh, Tara Singh Hans Raj, Nathu Ram, terrorist prisoners, are at present confined in separate cells in the Montgomery Central Jail which before the construction of the new Central Jail, Multan, were used solely for confining prisoners suffering from tuberculosis ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that Babar Akali prisoners, Sardar Piara Singh and Sardar Buta Singh, were some time ago transferred from the cells mentioned above to the Lahore Central Jail on their having contracted tuberculosis ;
- (c) if the reply to the above be in the affirmative, whether Government also intends to transfer the above-mentioned terrorist prisoners to the Lahore Central Jail ;
- (d) the present condition of health of the above-mentioned prisoners?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) No. They are not confined in separate cells and have never been confined in any cells set apart for tubercular prisoners.

(b) These two prisoners were transferred as it was suspected that they were suffering from Hodgkins' disease. They were never confined in cells reserved for T. B. patients. Piara Singh, who has been released to-day, was eventually diagnosed as a case of chronic bronchitis. No evidence of tuberculosis could be found. In Buta Singh's case no confirmation of Hodgkins' disease was found up to the time he was released on the 21st of April last.

(c) No.

(d) The health of prisoners Hazara Singh, Tara Singh, Hans Baj and Nathu Ram is fair.

IMPORTED CHOLERA CASES FROM HARDWAR.

*2947. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

(a) the number of imported cholera cases of Punjabis from Hardwar in the month of April, 1938 ;

(b) the number of deaths from cholera in the Punjab in the month of April last ;

(c) the precautions that were taken by the Punjab Government to check the spread of cholera in the Punjab?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : (a) 886.

(b) 162.

(c) Attention is invited to part (c) of the reply given to question *2717<sup>1</sup> asked by Sardar Hari Singh during the current session.

Dr. Sant Ram Seth : How many wells were disinfected?

Minister of Education : I am afraid I do not carry the figures in my hat but if my honourable friend puts the question on the paper, I shall be delighted to collect this valuable and important information for him. (Laughter).

Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Was potassium permanganate used in this connection?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

IMPORTED CHOLERA CASES IN AMRITSAR.

*2948. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

(a) the number of cholera cases that entered the municipal limits of Amritsar in April, 1938 ;

(b) how many of them died ;

(c) what precautions were taken to check the spread of cholera in the municipal limits of Amritsar?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) 72.

(b) 28.

(c) The following preventive measures were taken :—

- (i) extension of the Epidemic Diseases Act ;
- (ii) deputation of medical officers with necessary staff and first-aid equipment at the railway station on day and night duty ;
- (iii) instructions to Terminal Tax Barrier moharrirs of Grand Trunk Road to watch the arrival of persons suffering from profuse diarrhoea and cholera travelling by motor vehicles and send necessary information to the local Health Department ;
- (iv) instructions to Municipal Tax collectors at motor stands to take action as under (iii) above ;
- (v) propaganda ;
- (vi) instructions to the whole outdoor staff of Public Health Department to find out occurrence of cases of cholera and take immediate preventive action ;
- (vii) appointment of special sanitary staff to watch visitors to big Hindu serais like Gurn Ram Das and Sindhian to send suspected cases of cholera to Infectious Diseases Hospital and to take all preventive measures at the serais.
- (viii) anti-cholera inoculations in April .. .. . 4,000
- (ix) anti-fly campaign by flitting with pyrethroid 20 mixture .. 616 houses
- (x) supply of anti-cholera equipment to each sufferer free ;
- (xi) disinfection of wells :—

Wells disinfected in April .. .. .	673
Wells cleaned of silt .. .. .	106
- (xii) disinfection of latrines of infected and other houses, disinfection of clothes of contacts, patients, their vessels, etc. ;
- (xiii) destruction of articles unfit for human consumption ;
- (xiv) enforcement of by-laws for covering food stuffs ;
- (xv) isolation of patients in Infectious Diseases Hospital where day and night shifts were working—

Total number treated in hospital .. .. .	46
Cured .. .. .	32

FIRE AT HARDWAR DURING LAST KUMBH FAIR.

*2949. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state —

- (a) whether it is a fact that fire broke out at Hardwar during the last Kumbh festival ; if so, the number of Punjabis who fell victims to this fire as reported to Government ;
- (b) the estimated loss of property of the Punjabis caused by the fire as reported to the Government ;
- (c) does Government intend to help these Punjabis who lost their property on account of the said fire?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : Government saw a newspaper report at the time as to a fire having broken out at the Mela. They have, however, no information as to the number of Punjabis who suffered or as to the extent of their loss (if any), and the case is not one in which the Punjab Government can consider compensation.

BAZAR CHAUDHRIS IN AMRITSAR CITY.

*2950. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Government maintains a particular class of people called bazar chaudhris ; if it is so, whether these chaudhris work under police instructions ;
- (b) the nature of their duties ;
- (c) whether they are paid any salary by the Government ;
- (d) the number of such chaudhris in the Amritsar city?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a), (b) and (c) The honourable member is asked to refer to the answer given to Council question *5085<sup>1</sup>, put by Mr. M. A. Ghani on the 18th November, 1935.

(d) 83 (eighty-three).

DEMAND OF SECURITY FROM NEWSPAPERS.

*2951. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of papers from whom the security was demanded by the Government from 1st April to 31st May, 1938 ;
- (b) the reasons for which the security was demanded ;
- (c) the amount of security from each paper ;
- (d) whether it is proposed to reconsider their cases ; if not, why not?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : (a) Three.

(b) For publishing articles which offended against clauses (d) and (h) of section 4 (1) of the Indian Press (Emergency Powers) Act, XXIII of 1931, as amended by section 16 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act XXIII of 1931.

(c) From two papers Rs. 2,000 each, and from one Rs. 500.

(d) Government has already reconsidered the cases of these newspapers and reduced the amounts from Rs. 3,000 to Rs. 2,000 in two cases.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the honourable Parliamentary Secretary be pleased to state if the number three given by him includes any Unionist paper?

Parliamentary Secretary : What does he mean by a Unionist paper?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What are the names of these three papers?

Premier : If the honourable member who has asked the question sees the answer he will find that it contains the names.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier refer to the question and see that it does not contain the names?

Premier : Then I require notice with regard to the names of these three papers.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do I understand that the Honourable Premier does not know the names of the three papers?

Premier : I do not know the names of the papers from whom security has been demanded.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it a fact that the Parliamentary Secretary also does not know the names of these papers?

Premier : He knows the names of two papers but he does not know the name of the third.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is it not a fact that out of these three papers there is no paper which is either a Unionist paper or a Musalim paper?

Premier : There is no Unionist paper.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : May I know if Government have considered the cases of all the papers which were forwarded to them by the Publicity Department and have found only these three cases offending against the section which my honourable friend quoted?

Premier : I have not followed the question.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : My question is a very simple one. I want to know whether Government is satisfied that these were the only three papers which offended against the Criminal Law Amendment Act and against whom action has been taken under that section?

Premier : By no means so.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What are the considerations for not taking action against other papers then?

Premier : I have said that my honourable friend's inference is quite wrong. There are several papers whose names are sent and from whom security is demanded. These are not the only papers from whom security is demanded.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Do I understand that the answer given by the Parliamentary Secretary is not correct?

Mr. Speaker : Is that a supplementary question?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I would request you to allow me to make him understand my point. Securities have been demanded from three papers from 1st April, 1938, to 31st May, 1938. The Honourable Premier says that there have been certain others from whom securities have also been demanded.

Premier : My honourable friend's question was not confined to this period.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I am sorry if I did not make myself clear. I want to know whether Government are satisfied that during this period there were only three papers which offended against the provisions of the Criminal Law Amendment Act?

Premier : These are the only three papers from whom Government considered it necessary to demand security.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : May I know whether any other case was forwarded by the Publicity Department for action ?

Premier : What does my honourable friend mean by Publicity Department ? The Publicity Department does not send up the names of papers for security.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I would like to be informed, whatever the machinery, whether it is Personal Assistant, the Chief Secretary, the Parliamentary Secretary or the Premier, whosoever deals with this subject, whether that agency forwarded the names of any other paper with the recommendation that securities should be demanded from them?

Premier : It is impossible to give a reply off-hand. If my honourable friend is so curious to know the names of such papers he should give notice.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is the Honourable Premier aware of the fact that there is a strong feeling in the province that the Government has not been impartial in these matters?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it the policy of the Government to deal with certain papers very severely in order to bring about a climb down and after the climb down to relax it?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

GOVERNMENT GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL FOR FERROZEPURE.

*2952. Pir Akbar Ali : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether it is a fact that provision has been made in the budget for this year for a Government Girls' High School at Ferozepore; if so, the reason why the said school has not been opened so far?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : Yes. It is proposed to open the school with effect from the 1st October, 1938. It is not possible for the building in which the school is to be located to be ready before that date.

GOVERNMENT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL, FERROZEPURE.

*2953. Pir Akbar Ali : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of boys at present studying in the Government Industrial School at Ferozepore with the number of teachers employed in that school ;
- (b) the number of boys who passed their final examination from the said school during the last two years separately ;
- (c) the number of new admissions to the school this year?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Boys 43.
Teachers 9.

(b) 1937. 10.

1938. Nil. The final examination under the revised scheme will take place in March, 1939. Four students were permitted to appear as private candidates under the old scheme but all of them failed.

(c) 10. Recruitment is still continuing.

Fir Akbar Ali : Is it desirable under these circumstances to keep the school there?

Minister : Yes.

DEPRESSED CLASSES AND VILLAGE PANCHAYATS.

*2954. Seth Kishan Dass : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state the total number of village panchayats in the Punjab and the number of members communitywise in these panchayats ; whether it is a fact that the depressed classes are not adequately represented on these panchayats ; and if so, whether the Government propose to include adequate members of the depressed classes in these village panchayats ; if not, why not?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : I must decline with regret to answer questions which savour of communalism on the floor of the House. I am sorry to have to adopt this attitude but Government consider it necessary in the public interest to establish a convention in connection with such questions. I shall, however, always be prepared to examine any particular instance of disproportionate representation which honourable members may bring to my notice in a more informal way.

Lala Duni Chand : Has Government fixed any percentage of members of scheduled castes on the panchayats?

Minister : There is joint electorate and no percentage can be fixed.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : With reference to the second part of the answer, is there any communal proportion fixed for recruiting as panchayat officers?

Minister : This question relates to panches and not to panchayat officers.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is any proportion fixed?

Minister : Is it relevant?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : It is.

Minister : No.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : It is a question of opinion. I think it is relevant. The Speaker has to decide whether it is relevant or not.

Mr. Speaker : What was the Honourable Minister's reply?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The second part of the answer is that he declined to answer it because it savours of communalism. My question is whether there is any proportion of various communities for admission to these panchayats?

Minister : The last question was about panchayat officers. Panchayat officers have nothing to do with panches who are elected. As regards panchayats there is joint electorate and so no proportion can be fixed.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : May I know whether Harijans can become members of the panchayats?

Minister: There is no bar. Anybody who has the confidence of the villagers can be elected.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: What are the rules for becoming members of the panchayats?

Mr. Speaker: I disallow this question: as it has nothing to do with the original question.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: My submission is that under the rules Harjans cannot become members of the panchayats as they are required to pay Rs. 5 as land revenue. This class does not possess land.

Minister: I would ask the honourable member to please carefully study the Panchayat Act and he will know all that he wants to know.

BAIRAGIS OF TAHSIL SONEPAT.

*2955. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether the Bairagis of tahsil Sonapat, district Rohtak, have been recognized as a special group of agriculturist classes; if so, when and on what grounds they were so recognized?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: Bairagis who were entered as land owners or occupancy tenants in the last settlement, and their descendants, were declared in February, 1938, an agricultural tribe as a separate group in the Rohtak district because they were found to deserve the protection of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act and otherwise satisfied the necessary conditions.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: What are those necessary conditions which they have fulfilled?

Minister: (1) That the tribe or group as a whole are dependent mainly on agriculture for their livelihood, (2) that they are sufficiently important both as regards the land and the area which they own, and (3) that they are losing land to the extent and at the rate which should justify an extension of protection to them.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: May I ask the Honourable Minister whether he is aware of the fact that before the recognition of Bairagis as a special group of the agriculturists, they had to pay sufficient amount of chanda to the Rohtak Zamindar League at the time of Sonapat Zamindar Conference, which was addressed by the Honourable Premier and Sir Chhotu Ram?

Minister: How does this arise out of this question?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: May I enquire from the Honourable Minister whether demands are still made for the realization of the remaining chanda?

Mr. Speaker: I disallow the question.

TRANSFER OF GURDASPUR TO JULLUNDUR DIVISION.

*2956. Mian Badar Mohy-ud-Din Qadri: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether there is any proposal under consideration of the Government to transfer Gurdaspur district, now in Lahore division, to the Jullundur division?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): No.

RESIGNATION OF SUFEDPOSHES AND LAMBARDARS OF VILLAGE GANNOUR (SONEPAT).

*2957. Sardar Mula Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that all the sufedposhes and lambardars of village Gannour (Sonapat), who had tendered their resignations, were recently called by the Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, and asked to withdraw their resignations which all of them did in writing ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that they were further asked by the Deputy Commissioner to go and express regret to the Sub-Divisional Officer, Sonapat, which none of them did ;
- (c) if the answer to the above be in the affirmative, the reasons why the resignation of only one of the lambardars named Ram Chand was accepted ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The attention of the honourable member is invited to the answer given to a similar question No. *2772<sup>1</sup> in the present session of the Assembly.

NOMINATION OF SCHEDULED CASTES ON MUNICIPALITIES IN LUDBIANA AND HOSHIARPUR DISTRICTS.

*2958. Sardar Mula Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government is aware of the fact that in his speech of the 9th March, 1938 (mentioned in line 18, paragraph 2, page 631 of the Punjab Debates) the Honourable Premier stated that certain members of the scheduled castes have been nominated on the municipalities of Ludhiana and Hoshiarpur ;
- (b) the names of the persons referred to above ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : In his speech the Premier intended to refer to the nominations to the District Boards of Hoshiarpur and Ludhiana, and not to the Municipalities. The gentlemen appointed were Sardar Gopal Singh, M.L.A., Ludhiana, and Mr. Ram Das, Principal, D.A.-V. College, Hoshiarpur.

Sardar Mula Singh : May I inquire whether Ram Das, the nominated member in Hoshiarpur, was nominated after your Government came into power ?

Minister : What the Honourable Premier said was that two people have been nominated to those district boards. The question of date does not arise.

Sardar Mula Singh : If Ram Das was nominated before your Government came into power, are you justified in giving the above-mentioned answer ?

Minister : Many more have been nominated. I may add for the information of the honourable member that a scheduled class gentleman has been nominated to Lyailpur Municipality and another to Amritsar and more will follow.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : How is this reply relevant ?

Sardar Mula Singh : Is it not quite apparent from the speech of the Honourable Premier that certain members of the scheduled castes have been nominated to the municipalities of Ludhiana and Hoshiarpur ?

Minister : Would the honourable member please quote the sentence ?

Sardar Mula Singh : Will you please give me notice for that ?

Mr. Speaker : May I request the honourable members that as a rule they should not base their questions and arguments upon verbal conversation held outside this House, as this often results in contradictions and unpleasantness.

RECRUITMENT OF SCHEDULED CASTES AS POLICE CONSTABLES.

*2959. Sardar Mula Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state —

(a) whether it is a fact that according to the Honourable Premier's speech of the 9th March, 1938 (vide last line on page 630 of the Punjab Assembly Debates) instructions had been issued by the Inspector-General of Police, Punjab, to the superintendents of police of the various districts of the Punjab for the recruitment of thirty police constables from among the scheduled castes ;

(b) the number of men of the scheduled castes who were recruited as constables after the Honourable Premier's speech referred to above ;

(c) whether thirty men of the scheduled castes have been recruited as constables so far ; if so, their number and names district-wise ; if not, why not ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) The Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Central Range, was informed that 30 recruits should be enlisted from amongst the scheduled castes, should it be possible to find that number of suitable men.

(b) The number recruited in the Central Range is 8, of whom one subsequently resigned. It is possible that a few of these men may have been recruited in the other ranges—they are not debarred from recruitment—but I have no information. The orders for the recruitment of 30 men from among scheduled castes, if such number of suitable candidates could be found, were as stated issued to the Deputy Inspector-General, Central Range.

(c) The result of the attempt to recruit men of the scheduled castes has so far been disappointing but efforts will continue.

Sardar Mula Singh : Will the honourable Parliamentary Secretary be pleased to state whether 20 days after the said speech of the Honourable Premier any recruitment was made in the Police Department and whether any member of the scheduled caste was recruited ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have already replied to the main question. I do not exactly remember the date of the parade, but I can inform the honourable member, through you, Sir, that immediately after the speech of the Honourable Premier, a parade was held and scheduled caste recruits were recruited.

USE OF PUBLIC WELLS BY SCHEDULED CASTES.

*2960. Sardar Mula Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Honourable Premier in his speech dated the 9th March, 1938 (vide line 22 on page 630 of the Punjab Debates) stated that placards were going to be fixed on the public wells to the effect that any body who stops the scheduled castes from using these wells will be punished ;
- (b) whether such placards have really been fixed on public wells or instructions have been issued to that effect and whether the same are being given effect to in the Punjab ;
- (c) whether the well known by the name of Gwarwala opposite the police station Balachore, district Hoshiarpur, is a public well; if not, by whom it is owned ;
- (d) whether a placard to the above effect has been fixed on that well; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Yes.

(b) Instructions were issued in April last for putting up notice boards on all public wells and it is presumed that the same must have been given effect to in the Punjab.

(c) No. In the revenue records Rai Bishen Chand, Pirthi Chand, Hakim Singh, sons of Rai Puran Chand, Bija Singh, son of Jagta, Munshi son of Khazan Singh, Parduman Singh, son of Uttam Chand, Anroth Singh and Niranjan Singh, sons of Parmeshri Das, are entered as owners of the well known by the name of Gwarwala.

(d) No. It is not a public well.

PUNJAB GOVERNMENT AND SCHEDULED CASTES.

*2961. Sardar Mula Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government is aware of the fact that in his speech, dated the 9th March, 1938 (vide line 23 on page 631 of the Punjab Debates) the Honourable Premier stated that the Punjab Government has done many other things for the benefit of the scheduled castes and would do more for them during the next few years ;
- (b) the details of what the Government has so far done for the benefit of the scheduled castes and proposes to do for them in the near future ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) The questions of policy raised in this part of the question cannot conveniently be dealt with in this answer. The Government proposes issuing a detailed statement on the subject which will supply the information desired.

RECRUITMENT OF STENOGRAPHERS IN THE PUNJAB CIVIL SECRETARIAT.

*2962. Mian Abdul Rab : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the rules governing the recruitment of stenographers in the Punjab Civil Secretariat ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that stenographers working in various other offices of the Government are eligible to appear in the competitive examination held from time to time for the recruitment of stenographers in the Punjab Civil Secretariat ;
- (c) whether or not the permission to appear in such examinations is required to be taken from the heads of the departments by the person desirous of appearing in the said examinations ;
- (d) the names of persons and their offices who applied for permission to appear at the last examination held in December, 1937, and the decisions on their applications ; if in case any application was rejected, the reasons therefor ;
- (e) the names and offices of the persons who were allowed to appear in the aforesaid examination held in December, 1937, with reasons for giving permission in each case ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) These are contained in rules 6 (1) (a) and 7 (1) (e) of the Punjab Civil Secretariat Service Rules, extracts of which are reproduced below for the convenience of the honourable member :—

Rule 6 (1) (a). No person shall be appointed to the service unless in the case of appointment to the post of—

- (a) Stenographer (including the stenographer to the Private Secretary) he passes such test as may be prescribed by the Chief Secretary ;

Rule 7 (1) (e).—Posts in the service shall be filled—

- (a) In the case of Stenographers—

- (i) by selection from among stenographers employed in Departments of Government other than the Civil Secretariat or from officials already in Government service ; or
- (ii) by direct appointment.

(b) Yes, but the examination referred to is not a competitive but a qualifying examination.

(c) A copy of Punjab Government Circular letter No. 4469-A-87/39624, dated 18th November, 1937, is laid on the table for the information of the honourable member, since it contains detailed particulars about the stenographers examination, 1937, and the procedure governing admissions thereto.

(d) and (e) It is not in the public interest to give such personal details of persons employed in Government service.

Circular No. 4469-A-87/89624, dated the 18th November, 1937 from the Assistant Secretary to Government, Punjab, to all Heads of Departments Commissioners, Deputy Commissioners and District and Sessions Judges in the Punjab.

It has been decided to hold a test on the 15th December, 1937 at 9 a. m. at the Town Hall, Lahore, in order to select one, or possible two, stenographers for appointment in the Punjab Civil Secretariat.

2. Two or three pieces of dictation will be given at a speed of 120 words a minute and candidates will be required to transcribe their notes on the typewriter at a speed of 30 words a minute. The dictation will last from three to six minutes.

3. Hitherto the examination has been restricted to Government servants working in headquarter offices in Lahore provided the head of department is a Secretary, Joint Secretary or Under-Secretary to the Punjab Government. As an experimental measure it has been decided on this occasion to throw open the test to all offices to whom this letter is addressed provided—

- (1) the examinee is a permanent Government servant;
- (2) is a permanent stenographer or if officiating is not likely to revert;
- (3) his work and character are in all respects satisfactory.

Please intimate by the 1st December the names and designations of any eligible candidates who wish to compete from your office. In order that the examination should not become unwieldy only those candidates should be recommended who, in the opinion of the Head of the office, can be expected to satisfy this test. Candidates will have to arrange for their own typewriters; with the permission of their immediate officers they may be allowed to bring an office typewriter with them, provided they hold themselves responsible for any damages. No Travelling Allowance or other expenses will be admissible.

4. It should be clearly understood by all respective candidates that the examination is a qualifying test to discover the technical capacity of the candidates and that the Chief Secretary reserves to himself the right to select any qualified candidate regardless of the order of merit he may attain in the examination.

5. This is in supersession of Punjab Government U. O. No. 4469-A-37, dated the 4th November, 1937. Any lists submitted in compliance with the letter reference should be reviewed in the light of the foregoing remarks and fresh lists submitted by the 1st December.

STRICTURES ON POLICE OFFICERS IN CASE CROWN versus DR. RAJA RAM, ETC.

*2953. Mian Abdul Rab: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether his attention has been drawn to a judgment delivered by Mr. Ormerod, Sessions Judge, Rawalpindi, in a murder case known as Crown versus Dr. Raja Ram, etc., and published in the "Tribune", dated the 30th April, 1938;
- (b) whether it is a fact that severe strictures have been passed in the judgment mentioned above against the conduct of the police officers investigating the case;
- (c) what action, if any, the Government has taken or proposes to take in regard to the police officers against whom strictures have been passed in the said judgment?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan: The attention of the honourable member is invited to the answer given to question no. *2788<sup>1</sup>.

VETERINARY OR CIVIL HOSPITAL FOR 'DONA ILAQA,' DISTRICT
JULLUNDUR.

*2964. Mian Abdul Rab: Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state whether it is a fact that there is no civil or veterinary hospital in the 'Dona Ilaqa' of the Nakodar tahsil in the Jullundur district; if so, what action, if any, the Government proposes to take in the matter to provide medical relief to the people of the above-mentioned ilaqa and their cattle?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram: There is no civil dispensary or veterinary hospital in the 'Dona Ilaqa' of the Nakodar tahsil in the Jullundur district; but veterinary aid is provided by out-lying veterinary dispensaries at Donewal and Mahmowal-Usafpur in the heart of the ilaqa. The outlying dispensaries at Lobian, Malsian-Shahkot and the Nakodar Veterinary Hospital also serve the ilaqa.

Opening of civil dispensary and veterinary hospital in this ilaqa is a matter primarily for the District Board, Jullundur, who will have to maintain these institutions from its funds.

DISPENSARIES IN RURAL AREAS OF JULLUNDUR DISTRICT.

*2965. Mian Abdul Rab: Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to lay on the table of the House a statement showing the number of civil hospitals and rural dispensaries with the distance of each rural dispensary from the headquarter of the respective tahsils in the district of Jullundur and state what action Government propose to take in respect of the people of those villages in the aforesaid district who are unable to get medical relief within a radius of 8 miles?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye: A statement showing the number of civil hospitals and rural dispensaries with the distance of each rural dispensary from the headquarters of the respective tahsils in the Jullundur district is laid on the table.

There are very few villages in the Jullundur district, the people of which are unable to get medical relief within a radius of 8 miles. Government are, however, considering the establishment of branch dispensaries in four key villages with a population of over 2,000 dependent upon each rural dispensary and this would greatly increase the utility of the existing rural dispensaries. Government have also under consideration a scheme for increasing the number of existing dispensaries either rural or subsidized.

GRANTS-IN-AID PAID TO DISTRICT BOARD, JULLUNDUR, FOR DEVELOPMENT, MAINTENANCE AND SPECIAL REPAIRS OF ROADS.

*2966. Mian Abdul Rab : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the amount of grants-in-aid paid to the District Board, Jullundur, for development, maintenance and special repairs of roads during the years 1936-37, 1937-38 and 1938-39 ;
- (b) the nature and extent of the work done by the aforesaid district board with the amount so paid by the Government ;
- (c) the place and area where the district board has been able to construct a new road out of the amount paid as grants-in-aid, if no new road has been constructed the reasons therefor ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Grants-in-aid paid to the District Board, Jullundur, are as below :—

Rs. 3,038. This sum was utilized by the Board on remodelling Beni Bridge in mile 11 of the Jullundur-Nakodar Road.

Rs. 24,878 were spent by the Board on the maintenance of its Class II roads.

(c) No new roads have been constructed by the District Board during 1936-37, 1937-38 and 1938-39 in the district of Jullundur as no projects were prepared by the Board and submitted for sanction.

SHORT NOTICE QUESTION AND ANSWER.

AGITATION AGAINST RATES OF ABIANA IN CANAL IRRIGATED AREA OF PALWAL.

2nd-Lieutenant Bhai Fatehjang Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether his attention has been drawn to the recent agitation in the canal irrigated area of Palwal against higher rates of abiana charged from the zamindars of the waga and if so, what action Government proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Yes, the Punjab Government twice requested the United Provinces Government, who are in administrative control of the Agra Canal, to allow the Muttra-Agra favoured districts rates to be applied to the Gurgaon area, but they refused to accept the proposal. They are again being asked to adjust the difference in rates so as to bring them in conformity with those obtaining on the Western Jumna Canal.

In order to provide immediate relief to the zamindars, however, the Punjab Government have already given to the co-operative societies of the district an annual grant amounting to over Rs. 20,000 which is roughly the difference between the abiana rates levied on the Western Jumna Canal and those charged by the United Provinces Government on the Agra Canal in the Gurgaon district at present. This grant is subject to the condition that it will cease—

- (i) if and when improvement in co-operation in Gurgaon ceases ;
- (ii) if abiana rates levied on the Agra Canal are reduced to the scale prevailing on the Western Jumna Canal.

PLACING OF UNAUTHORISED DOCUMENTS ON THE TABLE.

Mr. Speaker : Honourable members I have to inform you that a printed document, running over six foolscap size pages, has been placed on the tables of members. It contains insinuations, defamatory statements, innuendos and personal attacks on the Honourable Premier and the Honourable Minister for Revenue. I am informed that the document in question was placed on the tables of honourable members by a member of this House. Without naming him, I request him to stand up and publicly admit his fault.

Sardar Partab Singh : I did place this document on the tables of honourable members so that the Ministers may know that this is being circulated outside and they may answer the allegations contained in the document if they wanted to do so. I was not aware that such documents should not be distributed to honourable members in this House. Will you please explain to us what sort of documents can be placed on the tables of honourable members and the procedure about them ?

Mr. Speaker : No papers of any kind can be placed on the tables of members of this House without the special permission of the chair obtained through the Secretary. This has been the practice in the past and it should be always followed in future. In my opinion to act otherwise is not only undesirable and unbecoming but undignified and unparliamentary.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Leader of the Opposition) : May I submit one word ? As far as I am personally concerned it was not within my knowledge that this document was placed on the table without the member previously approaching the Secretary. I also know that no controversial paper has ever been permitted to be placed on the table of this House. When my attention was drawn to this by the Secretary, I promised to make an enquiry and request the member of my party who was concerned in the affair not to do so in future. (Hear, hear.)

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Will you ask the honourable member who distributed the pamphlet to express his regret for having done so ?

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has already admitted and pleaded his ignorance of practice. I think, that will do.

RESOLUTIONS.

ABOLITION OF CHAHI RATES.

Chaudhri Sahib Ram (Hissar North, General, Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, I beg to move the following resolution—

This Assembly recommends to the Government to abolish the chahi rates forthwith.

This Government prides itself in being a zamindar Government and claims to be doing everything for the betterment of the zamindars. Even Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram used to voice the sentiments of the zamindars and claim legitimate rights for them. But ever since he assumed office as a Minister, he has done nothing at all for the zamindars. I have moved this resolution for the abolition of chahi rates in order to lighten the burden that weighs so heavily on the poor zamindars' shoulders. In the year 1927 Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram moved a cut motion to get the chahi rates abolished. I hope he will try to get his wish fulfilled now that he is himself in power.

In canal irrigated lands it can be asserted with some justification that because the Government has to spend a lot of money on constructing these canals, it can demand a share from the zamindars in the form of water rate. But it is not fair that when a zamindar gets a well sunk at his own expense and then maintains it at his own cost, the Government should collect chahi rates from him. The zamindar is very hard up and it is necessary that his burden should be lightened. If the Government claim to compare favourably with other provinces, they must substantiate their claim by relieving the poor zamindar of his troubles and hardships.

In accepting this resolution the Government will not be going out of its way to oblige the zamindars but will only be benefiting those whom it claims to represent. With these words, Sir, I move this resolution for the consideration of the House and I hope that it will not be opposed from any quarter.

Mr. Speaker : Resolution moved—

This Assembly recommends to the Government to abolish the chahi rates forthwith.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : Sir, I beg to move the amendment tabled in my name, namely :—

That in lines 1-2, for the words "to abolish the chahi rates forthwith" the following be substituted :—

that along with the consideration of the recommendations of the Darling Committee and Sources of Revenue Committee, they should take up the question of the abolition of the chahi rates particularly so far as they are applicable to the small cultivators in the Province who till lands themselves.

Sardar Hari Singh : I rise to a point of order. May I draw your attention to standing order 68 which says—

If notice of such amendment has not been given two clear days before the day on which the resolution is moved, any member may object to the moving of the amendment ?

Under this standing order, Mr. Speaker, I object to the moving of this amendment which has not been received in time. It has been received only to-day.

Further on, no doubt, you have got the discretion under the standing order to suspend this standing order and allow the amendment to be moved. But as I understand it, you can use your discretion only in favour of the minorities in this House and not in favour of the Parliamentary Secretary of the mighty Government of Sir Sikander.

Secondly, may I draw your attention to standing order 34 (2) which says—

An amendment may not be moved which has merely the effect of a negative vote.

I do submit that in substance this amendment moved by my honourable friend opposite has got the effect of negating the original motion which is for the abolition of chahi rates whereas this amendment merely presses on the Government the consideration of the question. It is merely a dilatory or nugatory motion and it should not be allowed. (Applause).

Premier : Technically my honourable friend opposite is quite correct on the first point. But what is his object? Is his object merely to secure technical point or is it really to benefit the people whom he wants to benefit by this resolution? If it be the latter—and I hope it is so—then he should not oppose this amendment, a very reasonable amendment, because we are all aware that Government cannot possibly take any step in this direction without considering the reports of those two committees appointed by the Government for this very purpose and it would be unfair to this House and to the people concerned to anticipate the recommendations of those two committees. Therefore, if my honourable friend wants to take a stand on a purely technical quibble, he is at perfect liberty to do so.

Sardar Hari Singh : How is it a quibble?

Premier : But if he wants to benefit the people with regard to whom this resolution has been moved, then I think he would be well advised not to oppose this amendment.

Mr. Speaker : Resolutions were balloted on the 20th of June and were circulated among members on the 21st; rules require two clear days' notice for an amendment. May I know why notice of the amendment, now objected to, was not given earlier? (Applause).

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : So far as tabling this amendment is concerned, there are more than one reason. The first and primary reason I must confess is mine and that is my failing health. All my friends here know that I have been moving from meeting to meeting with little interval and I regret that my health has not made it possible for me to table this motion earlier. My second reason which I wish to submit is that though the resolutions were balloted on the 20th of last month we have been so much rushed with other work and committee meetings that it has not been possible to attend to this thing. Thirdly if I may say so, you have in your far sighted statesmanship not allowed technical objections to stand in the way when matters affecting the rights of millions of people are involved. I, therefore, appeal to you to extend that fair-play which you have always extended on all such occasions.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I beg to submit that it will be very hard if notice of an amendment for a resolution which was circulated to members on the 21st is just given and we are asked to consider it, without being able to discuss or decide about it earlier. Had the notice been given two days earlier, within the prescribed time, we would have considered the matter outside the House. Sir, if the Government and the Parliamentary Secretaries could carry on the business of the Government as well as the House here and attend to all sorts of business concerning the House, I think they could have given notice of this amendment earlier. Therefore, that concession of doing away with the period of notice should not be extended to Parliamentary Secretaries at least.

Secondly it is said that this motion affects thousands of people and there should be no hurry. I beg to submit that there has been no hurry. We gave notice of the resolution 15 days before to-day and it was balloted on the 20th and they had ten days time. This is not like other business of the Government, where they had published a Bill on the 21st and put it before the House for consideration on the 23rd even before the Gazette was in our hands. It is not like that. This thing was before them for a very long time. It is said that they were considering the matter since they took the reins of government in their hands. I submit this question of chahi rates was before them when the Honourable Premier was a Revenue Member and when the Honourable Minister for Development was the Leader of the Opposition in the old Legislative Council. Therefore the point that there was no timely notice for them to attend to this business should not be any reason for declaring this amendment in order.

Lastly as my honourable friend, Sardar Hari Singh, has pointed out, the language of the amendment is such that the object underlying the resolution is negatived, the object of the amendment being to postpone the whole thing. It is a motion of negation and not an amendment to the resolution. If they want to oppose the resolution let them do so. If they want to postpone the consideration of this matter, let them say so. Let them say that till something is done they want to postpone consideration of this matter. But it is no use moving an amendment like this. They should come to us with their proposals.

Premier : There is one point which I should like to submit for the consideration of the House and it is this. My honourable friend has made rather a lengthy speech and I confess my friend, Mir Maqbool Mahmood, had also put forward personal consideration which of course should not weigh either with you or with the House. It is not that. The real question which we should consider is whether the amendment which is sought to be moved will fetter or restrict the discretion of the House in any way. That is the main thing. If you think and you come to the conclusion that it is not going to restrict the discretion of the House and that it will give an opportunity to the House to discuss this particular question from a wider aspect, then I submit that it would be in the interests of the House itself that that amendment should be allowed. What does this amendment actually seek to secure ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : He is now speaking on the merits.

Premier : I am not speaking on the merits. I said that this amendment will give the House an opportunity to see whether they want to support the original motion or to modify the motion. Both the motions would be before the House and if my honourable friends do not accept the amendment they might oppose it. It does not in any way restrict the discretion of the House; it in fact extends their discretion so that they can look at both the aspects of this resolution and then weigh both the resolution and the amendment before they vote.

Mr. Speaker : As to whether the amendment is out of order, I regret to say that I differ from the honourable Sardar Hari Singh. He has evidently not read our S. O. 34, the first part of which says :

An amendment must be relevant to, and within the scope of the motion to which it is proposed.

The motion is that chahi revenue be abolished. The amendment is that the abolition of chahi revenue may be considered. The amendment clearly says that the propriety of abolishing chahi revenue may be considered. It does not say that it should not be abolished. Therefore, I overrule the honourable Sardar Hari Singh's first objection. As regards his second objection, according to rules two clear days' notice is necessary and the amendment which has been received to-day is not in order, unless I exercise my special powers, which I am not prepared to do (Opposition cheers) unless I am convinced that no injustice shall be done to the Opposition. (Laughter). I have to ask one thing and I hope the honourable mover of the motion or Sardar Hari Singh, who is a great parliamentarian will satisfy me how the mover of the motion and the party supporting him, shall be prejudiced if the late amendment is allowed. If I am convinced on this point I will disallow the amendment; but not otherwise.

Sardar Hari Singh : The point raised by me is merely a technical point. My case is quite simple. The whole of the Opposition, the united voice of the Opposition, takes exception to the manner in which the member of the Government, Parliamentary Secretary, has tabled this amendment this morning.

Mr. Speaker : I have clearly stated that the only point on which I wish to be convinced is that if this amendment is allowed, the mover of the Resolution or its supporters shall in any way be affected prejudicially. If that is not going to be the case, I see no reason why I should not allow it, though it has come very late.

Sardar Hari Singh : The question before us is a very important question. It concerns the abolition of chahi rates and it requires careful consideration by the party. You will remember that in the last session you wanted to adjourn the business of the House with a view to permit the party opposite to consider the resolution about Federation.

Mr. Speaker : May I ask if this amendment was considered by the Unionist Party?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : It was placed before them only this morning; but I cannot say definitely, for I was not present.

Minister for Finance : It was placed before the Party to-day.

Mr. Speaker : Why not before?

Parliamentary Secretary : Because it had not been tabled before.

Sardar Hari Singh : If these gentlemen could ask for the adjournment of the business of the House for consideration of the resolution on Federation, we also can say that we will not be able to give the full consideration to this amendment unless we have considered it at our party meeting.

Mr. Speaker : Sardar Hari Singh has not convinced me how the position shall be affected if the amendment is allowed. No one is going to be prejudiced, even if the resolution remains as it is, in as much as it is open to Government to consider it with the report of the Darling Committee or any other committee.

Lala Duni Chand : They want to play a trick. They should not be allowed to do so.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is insinuating.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu) : I request you to allow me to throw some light on the subject now before the House.

Mr. Speaker : I cannot allow any further discussion. It is regrettable that the notice of this amendment should have been sent so late, but as I am convinced that it will not affect in any way the resolution, I allow it.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood (Parliamentary Secretary) : So far as the purpose underlying the resolution is concerned, there cannot be any difference of opinion. My honourable friend who moved this resolution, obviously forgot important considerations. The first consideration is this, that the resolutions may be in the form of recommendations adopted by this House or should be accepted as amended by the Government, and, therefore, if this resolution is passed as framed, it will give relief not only to the poor cultivators whose relief no one grudges but even to the big landlords who, according to my honourable friends opposite and this side, are not entitled to any relief. Secondly, we are aware that in this province 17.5 per cent. of the lands only are chahi lands. 13.5 per cent. are nehri. Forty-five per cent. are barani lands and the remaining are forests of all classes. Our position is that if funds permit we want to abolish chahi rates, the barani rates and the canal rates so far as the poor cultivators are concerned; but if funds are limited we have to sit together as a responsible Government and see which of these various classes, on equitable basis, on economic basis and on merits, is entitled to relief and to what extent. That, Sir, is the first point that I beg to submit.

The resolution tabled by my friend opposite touches the principle of the land revenue assessment and what is that principle? The principle of the land revenue assessment in vogue in the province is that out of the net assets of land the Government takes a certain percentage. That principle stands at the moment and it has been referred by the Government to a very representative and a very important Committee whose report has already been submitted and, therefore, unless the comments of that Committee on the principle underlying this resolution have been fairly and squarely examined, no responsible Government, except perhaps the Government which has the mentality of Bacha Saqa, could take this action piecemeal. Now what is the present position? The present position, as I said, is that on the net assets of land—barani, chahi and sabri—Government takes a certain percentage and in assessing that net revenue or net profits to the cultivator let it be recognised that there are two important principles which are kept in view. Firstly, that with regard to chahi rents a productive lease is permitted, i.e., from 20 to 40 rupees no chahi rates are assessed and the principle is that the man who has invested capital in the well should have double the amount of capital secured to him before assessment even on net assets is allowed on chahi rates. That is the first part. (Sardar Partab Singh : Does he get that?) If the working of the formula is not correctly applied, he may surely take it that the Government will use all offices to see that fairplay is assured. The second point to which I want to invite the attention of my friend opposite is this. His problem could be either one of these. He could either say that because on the chahi lands the improvement in produce is due to the capital and the labour of the zamindar himself, therefore, nobody is entitled to charge a penny as additional profit. If that principle is accepted in all seriousness, if it be conceded that whatever is available out of the capital and labour of a particular class is not liable to assessment—revenue taxes—you could not levy a penny on big capitalists and factory owners. We could not levy a penny even from those who till barani lands because the produce of barani lands is the result of manure, labour and efforts of those who till those lands. The question is not whether any improvement in the produce of a particular land which is due to the capital or labour of a particular class is not to be assessed to revenue, but having regard to the economic and equitable factors, which class is entitled to relief and to what extent we have funds at our disposal to give relief. That is the point to which I want to invite the attention of my honourable friend opposite. He made great point of the fact that my honourable friend Sir Chhotu Ram had tabled this motion some time ago and that it had been passed by the House and with what face he said he would oppose it. On that point I could have said that when that motion was tabled my honourable friend was Leader of the Opposition when his duty was to pick holes and not construct but that is after all not the point that I wish to take. The point that I wish to take is that the purpose of the motion as then moved is the policy and commitment of the Government to-day. What was the purpose of that motion? Allow me to read from the Debates of that time. Rai Bahadur Chaudhri Chhotu Ram (then not Sir) stated—

My object in proposing this cut is to request the honourable members of this House and the responsible members of the Government to consider justly and fairly the question of chahi rates and to decide whether assessment of these rates is in any way justifiable.

That is the underlying principle of my amendment. The Government was sought at that time. He committed himself at that time, as a responsible man, to the principle that this should be considered on equity, on merits. He could not state, as he would not, that one class of the zamindars of the Punjab which cultivate only 17·5 of the land should be given preference over others who till barani lands. I ask this question with due deference to my friend opposite. Does he seriously advocate that supposing the Government has 40 or 50 lakhs of rupees in their coffers, which they can give by way of remission, that whole amount be given for the abolition of chahi rates even if it goes to big landlords and not to the poor cultivators who till barani lands and whose average annual income is below the cost of clothing of a Punjabi prisoner? My friend Sardar Partab Singh waves his head in sympathy and that is the purpose of my amendment. If that were so, I expect that he will support this amendment.

The main point which I wish to bring out is this. It has been calculated that if all chahi rates were abolished to-day it will amount to roughly 42 lakhs a year. (Sardar Partab Singh: Not that much even) I am one of those who say that in giving effective relief to the poor classes—particularly small cultivators—even if four crores is needed, it should be found, but on some principle and basis. We are sitting here as custodians of public trust and public funds. We won't off-hand, like Bacha Saqaa, take one class, without considering the whole rural population in the province, and consider this particular resolution. I would, therefore, appeal to my friends on both sides of the House that they should apply themselves in the spirit of a responsible Government party and as a responsible Opposition.

The problem is this. With the concurrence of the House a Committee was appointed to go through the whole question and the terms of reference No. 2 of the Darling Committee expressly included the question of chahi rates because they were to give a revised scheme. If to-morrow that report brings forward a formula before you which may be more equitable and fair than the formula suggested in this resolution how can the government, the responsible government of the province commit itself or deny relief to the poor cultivators. Therefore, I feel confident that my friends opposite and the party sitting opposite, who always pose themselves as advocates and as the champions of the poorer classes, will not align themselves in support of this resolution as it is and will courageously say that they only want relief to be given to the poorer cultivators belonging to all classes. On that point our position is clear. From the very first day when the Government took office they issued a statement and in that statement they committed that they would take effective measures to relieve taxation so far as the poorer cultivators were concerned and in keeping with that promise they have appointed a committee. The Committee's report is now available. I submit to every responsible member of the House, who is most interested in this question of rural taxation and the question of equitable distribution on the poorer classes, that this question should be considered not piece-meal and in a haphazard manner but carefully, courageously and in a spirit of constructive statesmanship so that a solution is found which applies to all classes. That being the position I submit that it is not fair for the Government at this stage to go anywhere beyond the amendment.

Mr. Speaker: The amendment moved is—

That in lines 1-2 for the words "to abolish the chahi rates forthwith" the following be substituted:—

That along with the consideration of the recommendations of the Darling Committee and Sources of Revenue Committee, they should take up the question of the abolition of the chahi rates particularly so far as they are applicable to the small cultivators in the province who till lands themselves.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Southern Towns, General, Urban), (Urdu): Sir, I rise to support the resolution that has just been moved by my honourable friend Chaudhri Sahib Ram. This resolution voices the sentiments of the poor zamindars in definite and precise terms. The object of this resolution is very clear, namely, that the Government should abolish chaki rates. But it is very vaguely replied on behalf of the Government that the matter is receiving its consideration. I wonder if this consideration business is not unnecessarily being protracted.

Minister for Development : It is necessary.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : The Honourable Minister says it is necessary. Yes, it is, and a means of lingering on in the Ministerial benches a little longer. (Opposition cheers). In 1927 an identical motion to the one now before the House, was moved. The Honourable The Premier, the Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram, Khan Bahadar Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana, Mir Maqbool Mahmood, etc., were all there and they urged upon the Government then in power to abolish chaki rates. Ten years have elapsed since and the matter is still receiving the consideration of the Government. It is very strange that this matter should take so long to decide.

Parliamentary Secretary : On a point of order, Sir. I submit that the motion at that time was not specifically for the abolition forthwith of the chaki rates. I read from the debates as to what was the purpose of the motion.

Pandit Shri Ram Sahrma : The object of the cut motion was to urge upon the Government the desirability of abolishing the chaki rates. If this was not its aim, let the Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram deny it and if he does I will accept his word.

Sir, the zamindars of this province are in a very bad condition and they cannot hope to receive any attention at the hands of this so-called zamindar government. I am reminded here of a verse by Ghalib which I will recite with a little alteration. It seems to have been written for this very occasion.

آنکو جس سے وفا نبی ہے اُپد یہ نہیں جانتے وفا کیا ہے

The Congress has taken up the matter of chaki rates and moved a resolution because in its opinion it is likely to prove advantageous to the zamindars in general. In the Congress parlance the word 'zamindar' means a poor cultivator who toils hard with his own hands to earn a bare living for himself and his family. But our Government interprets it differently and considers only those who are sitting on the Ministerial benches as zamindars. I want to make it known to the zamindar as to who is his real friend.

The attention of this Government has time and again been drawn towards the wretched plight of the zamindar. Even in the last session a resolution was moved, but whenever a reduction in the land revenue or the water rate is sought on behalf of the small landholder, their "zamindar" representatives refuse to listen to such demands. The same is being done to-day. We are asking for the abolition of the chaki rates. Do not listen to my words if you like but at least pay heed to what the Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram said in 1927. Have the passing of these ten years weakened the arguments then advanced? Or have those words lost their significance? Should we take it that the condition of the zamindar has changed since? Do not be blind to the pitiable condition of the zamindars of this province. The land is still being cultivated, less than half, by the peasant cultivators. The poor hard-worked cultivator does it with his own hands, but the other half is rented out to the small agriculturists by the big landlords who grow fat on the toils of others and still boast that they are zamindars. When such is the state of affairs in the province, what good can be expected for the poor zamindar? In my constituency in Hariana, district Rohtak, and especially in the Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram's constituency, the cultivator is hardly able to make both ends meet; yet the Government still insists on his paying the chahi rates. Any one who owns on an average 15 acres of land does not till his land himself but gets it done on rent by others. How regrettable it is that in the tenure of office of a zamindar government the poor cultivators should work hard and the easy going rent collectors who cannot be called zamindars gather the fruits of their labour. (Hear, hear).

Let me give you a few figures illustrating the condition prevailing in this province. While the poor cultivator has to pay Rs. 1-9-0 per head and Rs. 2 per acre as land revenue, his income is less than 3 annas, on which he has to live. The unhappy zamindar is indebted to the extent of 135 crores of rupees. From 1921 to 1929 his debt has increased by 45 crores. The debt that has been mounting up at such an appalling rate during the regime of the present Government—the so-called zamindar Government—did not increase so rapidly even under the previous government from 1849 onwards. That is not all, for he owes Rs. 60 lakhs to the Government itself. How can he pay up this colossal sum? Recently Rs. 52 lakhs worth of decrees have been given in the district of Karnal alone in one year against the zamindars.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz : In whose favour were those decrees given?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : It will also be known by and by as to who was responsible for their poverty. The life-blood of the zamindars is being sucked by (1) the so-called zamindar Government, (2) the rack-renting zamindars, and (3) the money-lending agriculturists and non-agriculturist.

Now let us come to chahi irrigation and I will try to give you the facts and figures in this respect. There was 4,184,000 acres of chahi land a few years ago, but in 1935 and 1936 there was a decrease of 2 lakhs of acres. Does this decrease indicate prosperity or poverty? The total number of wells in the Punjab is 821,824 and the wells dug by the help of the Government are less than one-tenth of the total number. The Government have spent only Rs. 9,000 as help on digging up wells and double this amount can easily be charged from the zamindars in the shape of chahi rates and the Government do charge. In this connection I would like to cite the instance of district Gurgaon the condition of the zamindars of which is very miserable. The zamindars of that district owe Rs. 85,00,000 to Government and they have not been able to pay this amount since 1911. You can well understand from these instances how much down-trodden the peasantry of that haga is. When the circumstances are such, and it is being requested that the Government should abolish the chahi rates forthwith, the answer comes that the Government will take this matter into consideration. I earnestly invite the attention of the honourable House to the fact that the Government should not hesitate in abolishing the chahi rates.

As my honourable friend Chaudhri Sahib has stated, the Government may have many excuses as far as nehri abiana is concerned, as the Government have to spend much in irrigation, but so far as the chahi rates are concerned Government have absolutely no excuse to make. It is a thousand pities that the poor zamindar spends his labour and money—mostly taken on credit—and with a hundred and one other hardships he digs out a well, and when it is completed the Government comes up to him to charge the chahi tax, which is an unjust tax.

Now I would like to make another submission. It has been a thousand times said that the Unionist Party is a zamindara party and the poor peasantry of the province have taken this party into confidence. But whenever a measure is brought forward in this House for the benefit of the poor peasantry, it is quite obvious and clear from the attitude of the Government whether or not they like to vote for it. They never vote for it. I would declare on the floor of this House that the so-called Unionist Government has got no union of the poor zamindars at all. The sympathy which the Government have for the poor peasantry is nothing more than lip sympathy and the grievances of the poor zamindars have no access to the Government. Now every honourable member is fully aware of the attitude of the Government shown in regard to this resolution to which the so-called zamindara Government should have given its full support. What has the Government done? The Government say that the Parliamentary Secretaries were too busy to take notice of this resolution and they have cleverly put forward these amendments for the sake of propaganda and to put off the resolution for the time being. This evasive attitude on the part of the Government with regard to this resolution clearly indicates that the Unionist Government does not at all intend to accept this resolution at this stage or at another stage. I may also submit, Sir, that this matter of chahi rates has been hanging fire for the last 17 years, but now when it is likely to be solved for good the Government itself has stood in its way. The real thing is this that the Government only wants to exploit the zamindars as religion is being exploited by some now-a-days. I do not understand why Government hesitates to support any question which is put forward for the amelioration of the poor zamindars. We submit to the Government that revenue may be remitted to small holders and the chahi rates may be abolished, but the Government gives one and the same answer every time that the Government is considering the question. One can very well realise from all these instances how far the Government is sympathetic towards the poor peasantry of the province.

My honourable friend Mir Maqbool Mahmood has correctly stated that Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram has now abandoned his policy and attitude which he maintained at the time when he was in the Opposition and used to deliver inflammatory speeches for the good of the zamindars in this House. But when he came into power and became a Minister, and matters like chaukidara, malba and realising the revenue on income-tax basis were put forward before the Government our Chandhri Chhotu Ram remained mum and said nothing and did not support these demands for the sake of the poor zamindars of the province. These are hard facts. They may be unpalatable to Chandhri Sahib, but truth is always bitter.

I would like to make a few more observations. As regards the Congress, I would dare say that the Congress is the only body which has the cause of the poor peasantry of the province at heart. Though this party is not in a majority in this province, yet whenever a voice is raised for the welfare of the zamindars in this House, it is raised by the Congress Party only (applause). Do you know what is being done for the amelioration of the zamindars in those provinces of India where the Congress is in power? For instance, in the United Provinces and Bihar the Congress Ministries have granted the occupancy rights to the small cultivators and tenants and have greatly reduced rents, etc.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker left the chair and it was occupied by the Mr. Deputy Speaker.)

Besides, it is proposed in Bihar that the big landowners and the landlords should be required to pay income-tax over and above the usual land revenue. Is the Unionist Government prepared to do that? Now let us come to the question of debt legislation. In this connection too I can say without any fear of contradiction that the Congress governments of other provinces have done more for the poor debtors than the Punjab Government has been able to do. The time at my disposal is very short, otherwise I would have given numerous examples. But I may refer the honourable members of the Unionist party to the debt legislation that the Congress government of Madras has passed. That is certainly more favourable to the agriculturist debtors than the one passed in this province by the Unionists.

In the end, Sir, I wish to address a few remarks to the honourable members of the Unionist Party who always boast of having a very great sympathy for the poverty stricken peasants of this province. I expect them to show at least as much courage in opposing this amendment as those honourable members did the other day whom we ordinarily do not consider to be courageous. At the time of the introduction of the Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill in this House Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath and Rai Bahadur Mukand Lal Puri seeing that the Bill adversely affected the interests of their electorate, threw all party restraints to the wind and openly opposed the Government whom they had pledged to support. Let my agriculturist friends take a lesson from the conduct of these honourable members and take courage in their both hands by rising to vote with this side of the House. This amendment is intended to hoodwink them. The original resolution will be torpedoed by adopting this amendment and the modified resolution, if carried, would only serve as an eye-wash. I may sound a note of warning to the honourable zamindar members that if they fail to vote against this amendment they will lose the confidence of their electorate. In view of these hard facts I would appeal to the agriculturists members not to mind the presence of the Honourable Ministers, the great title holders and the big bellied persons but vote with, us because in so doing they will be serving their own poor brethren. In the end I would like to assure my honourable friends sitting on the Ministerial benches that every voice which will rise from this side of the House will be raised to ameliorate their condition and whatever lip sympathy is shown to them from their own side will be intended to serve as an eye-wash only.

With these words I oppose the amendment that has been proposed by the Honourable member Mir Maqbool Mahmood and support the original resolution.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup (Rohtak Central, General, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, the resolution which we are discussing to-day is, in fact, calculated to benefit the poor agriculturists who sink wells at their own cost and after working hard turn the waste land into culturable land. But when this land begins to yield something, the Government quietly steps in and claims a share out of this chahi produce as if it had also shared the pains and worries of the agriculturists in improving the quality of the land. The Government should first learn to deserve and then desire. When an agriculturist raises a loan at exorbitant rates in order to sink a well, the Government does not offer him any assistance. How can it, then, demand a share out of this business in which it has invested nothing? The chahi rates are, to say the least, unfair and unjustifiable. The supporters of the chahi rates argue that the Government has a right to impose the chahi rates because the value of the land is enhanced by well irrigation. But it may, reasonably be asked why, when the Government did not move even a little finger in order to enhance the value of the land, should it claim a share in the fruits of the labours of the agriculturist? Supposing a person travels from Kalka in a motor car to Simla and another travels by rail. It is clear that the one who travels by car will save about three hours while the other will have spent that time in the train. Would it be fair to criticise, as the Congress sometimes criticises the Government, and ask why anyone should travel by car and spend more money on this luxury? My reply to that will be this. The Government saves time in this way and spends it in the service of the public.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh: Is the honourable member speaking to the motion?

Mr. Deputy Speaker: The honourable member is merely developing his argument.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup: Sir, the Congress is in the habit of carrying on a propaganda in its favour whenever it is possible for its members to do so. They are very active in the district of Hoshiarpur.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: The honourable member should speak to the motion and make no personal remark.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup: Sir, let me first state my position and then you may decide whether the words I use are objectionable or not.

The honourable members opposite recommend that the chahi rates should be abolished. I may observe that things are easier said than done. The Congress support this resolution with the ostensible motive of giving relief to the agriculturists but the principle underlying this urge of generosity is that the position of the provincial exchequer should be jeopardised. Their liberality consists in inviting guests on the condition that they should neither take their meal at home nor should they go to the house of the host. It means that the Congress is thrusting uninvited guests on the neighbour. Such guests are bound to cut a sorry figure in the end.

Again, when the House considered the proposal to impose a chaukidara cess on the citizens, our honourable friends belonging to the Congress did not favour the idea and accused us of wanting to make the backs of others crooked instead of straightening our own. That was hardly a fair criticism. Whenever any measure to provide money for the provincial exchequer is discussed, the Congress opposes it but when the question of offering relief to the agriculturists comes up, they recommend total abolition of the taxes. But the question is where should the money come from? Will it fall from the heavens? The liberality of the Congress is due to the fact that they are not responsible for carrying on the administrative machinery of this province. This attitude of the Congress reminds me of a story of two brothers whose newly married wives were putting up in one and the same house. The younger brother's wife used to cook more meals than necessary and thus cause a considerable waste. The elder brother's wife would ask her to be a little more frugal but she would retort "It is impossible for me to be frugal. I am by birth liberal minded and I cannot but be generous." As the years advanced and the family became larger the two brothers had to run separate homes. Now the same lady who used to say that she could not but be liberal, had to tighten the strings of her purse, because the heavy responsibility of the household had now fallen upon her shoulders and experience taught her to be economical. So let it be with the Congress. As long as the Congress is not responsible for the administration of this province, it can afford to be generous enough to abolish all the taxes like the younger brother's wife in the story. Let me remind the Congress that the eyes of the Unionist Government are set on the hard realities of administration, while the Congress is trying to raise false hopes in the minds of the public. This policy of the Congress will lead us nowhere.

With these words, Sir, I support the amendment that is under consideration of the House at present.

Sardar Kishan Singh (Amritsar Central Sikh, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, my honourable friend Chaudhri Ram Sarup has just now finished his speech and he has fully expressed his ideas. The question now before the House is whether any chahi rates should be assessed on the zamindars or not. The supporters of the zamindars urge that this unnecessary tax should not be imposed on the tillers of the soil. The present Government claim that they have come to save the zamindars and all this machinery of the Government is at their service. I admit that in order to run the machinery of the Government it is necessary to assess land revenue on the zamindars. In this connection I may submit that all the governments previous to the British Government assessed land revenue on the basis of actual produce and the actual area that was under cultivation. Moreover they accepted the land tax in kind and it was never realised in terms of cash. Whatever a zamindar produced, he paid land revenue out of that produce. I am constrained to remark that the present Government is a prudent and farsseeing one and it wishes to squeeze out of the zamindars as much as it likes and it has a desire to drain out the last drop of blood out of them. To make my point clear I may submit that what the Government have done is that the zamindar who owned 50 ghumaons of land and who tilled only 5 ghumaons out of them was told by the Government that a fixed amount of land revenue would be assessed on his lands and that that land revenue would be much less than what he paid to the previous governments. But I may point out that the previous governments only assessed land revenue on the actual produce but our present Government assesses land revenue on the whole landed area of a zamindar, whether he tills the whole of it or not. In this way our Government very sagaciously brought the zamindars round to their object and they being simpletons were very easily caught in the net. Thus the poor zamindars were hood-winked by the Government and under the pretence of levying less but fixed amount of land revenue they succeeded in assessing land revenue on 50 ghumaons instead of 5 ghumaons.

Further the Government made it a rule that they would accept land revenue in terms of cash and not in kind. In this way our Government succeeded in assessing land revenue even on those lands which were not under cultivation and which previously were merely used as grazing grounds for the cattle of the zamindar.

Again, when the harvests of the zamindar yielded a rich produce, he very easily and willingly paid the land revenue. But when harvests yielded a small produce even then he was compelled to pay the land revenue. I may submit that if the harvest fails, the zamindars are compelled to till their lands for growing fodder for their cattle. But this Government do not spare even those crops and they charge land revenue on them as well.

Further, I would like to make it clear that the harvests of the zamindars are merely a gamble in rains. If the rains fall in time, the zamindars sow their crops and gather plenty of harvests. If, however, the rains fail, the harvests also fail. To avoid this uncertainty of rainfall the zamindars decided to sink wells so that they should produce something in order to feed their children and sow fodder for their cattle. In this way with great difficulty and after a good deal of efforts they succeeded in sinking wells.

Then comes the question of the debt of the zamindars. It is said that the zamindars are head and ears in debt and it has assumed such proportions that up to this time it has not been paid up. I may submit that the zamindars borrowed money from the moneylenders at a high rate of interest. That is why this debt has not been paid up up till now. The other day the Honourable the Revenue Minister moved a Bill, the object of which was to redeem even those lands which were mortgaged something like 40 years ago. This is a clear proof that the zamindars are groaning under the heavy load of debt. I think there will be no two opinions in this House about this fact that if there is anyone who is actually poor and bankrupt, he is the zamindar. I may point that when the Honourable Minister as well as other honourable members admit that the zamindars are very poor, then it is their duty that they should not tolerate it even for a second that the zamindars should be taxed any further. They sank wells, but the result was that they became heavily in debt. It is highly necessary that if the condition of zamindars has become pitiable on account of their falling into debt, it is the duty of the Government to take pity on them. I am aware of the fact that the British Government is not used to taking pity on the zamindars, but the present Government claim that they have a great sympathy with them. May I know for what other occasion they have reserved their sympathy? Now when the tillers of the soil are groaning under the heavy load of debt, it behoves the Government to help them and give them relief.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker resumed the chair).

As has been pointed out by my honourable friend Chaudhri Ram Sarup, the zamindar sinks a well after undergoing a lot of troubles and difficulties and it is bare injustice that he should not be allowed to take advantage of his toils. I admit that the Government have a right to assess land revenue on the landed property. But I may submit that the money the zamindar spends on the sinking of a well is generally borrowed money, and I, therefore, request the Government to very kindly consider his case and give him relief.

Besides, I may also make it clear to the honourable members that instead of getting some sort of help from the sinking of a well, the zamindar entangles himself in further troubles. In the beginning when there were no wells, the zamindar tilled his lands and ploughed alone. If rains fell at the proper time, the harvests yielded plenty and if the rains failed the crops also failed. In this way he had to undergo only a small amount of labour in order to grow his crop and he alone was quite sufficient to perform this work. But after he sank his well by the help of borrowed money, he had to employ men in order to carry on his work. Everybody knows that the Persian wheel in Hoshiarpur, Jullundur and Ludhiana consists of only a long piece of wood, a cord and a charas. By means of these water is drawn out of the well. It requires a lot of hard work. Unless and until four people work on the well, they do not succeed in watering their fields.

Further I may submit that when the lands of a zamindar were not chahi lands his expenditure was only small. But now when his lands have become chahi lands, his expenditure has also increased. Previously when he tilled his lands he carried on his work with the help of ordinary bullocks. Now when he has sunk his well he has not only to work all day long, but he has to buy valuable bullocks as well. The reason is this that those ordinary bullocks were not fit to do the hard work of drawing water from the wells. Then there is the question of their fodder and gramash. If the zamindar did not give them sufficient amount of fodder and gramash, the bullocks were likely to become lean and sometimes they died as well. These are some of his recurring expenditures, and if the Government want to show pity to them, I would request them to give the zamindar some relief.

It is a thousand pities that nothing is being done by the Government to help the poor zamindar. He has to borrow money to sink a well. He has to pay on an average Rs. 150 annually as interest on the sum he borrows for the construction of the well. In short he has to go through a lot of trouble and expense before the well is sunk. But the Government instead of giving him some relief for the expenses he has incurred, demands chahi rates from him. This is all the more the reason why something should immediately be done to save the poor zamindar.

Every one of us must be aware of the way the canal water is supplied to the zamindar. It sometimes so happens that the supply of water is abruptly stopped at the very time when it is badly needed. The result is that the crop dries up for want of moisture and all that remains of it is the stump without the ears of corn. As regards those lands that are irrigated by means of wells, if the zamindar falls ill all his labours are lost. On the one hand, he has to bear extra expense of his illness, on the other his crop suffers, and he is reduced to very bad straits. Above all he is granted no remission on account of the failing of his crops.

Now I want to make another submission, for which I will not take much time of the House. It is an admitted fact and all honourable members here are unanimous on this point that there is no one poorer than the zamindar. I am reminded here of what Sir Feroz Khan Noon once said in 1936. He said that the prices of raw materials had decreased to such an extent and things had come to such a pass that the poor cultivator was at a loss to understand whether it was profitable to go on cultivating his lands any longer or not. When all are sensible to this fact why do they not strive to improve matters for the poor zamindar ?

The agriculturist manages to sink a well by his own labour and at his own expense. It would have been just and fair on the part of the Government to have helped him by advancing some money and thus enabling him to meet the necessary expenditure. Instead of this they demand the chahi rates from him, and thus increase their own land revenue. These are the people who style themselves as the representatives of the people. It does not become them to play with the feelings of the poor agriculturists. If not much, they should at least do something for the zamindar and get some concession for him in these rates. They should try to undo the wrong that was done to them by the former Government and thus prove to the poor zamindars that they are their real well-wishers. They should try to dispel the doubts that have been roused in the minds of the zamindars that the present Government is no better than its predecessor.

In the end I beg to submit that where you have done so much for the relief of indebtedness, why not do something in respect of the chahi rates and thus relieve the over-burdened zamindar ?

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : Sir, I have listened to the speech of my honourable friend opposite with interest and I could see that he has a genuine feeling for the people to whom he wants to give relief. I am very glad that we have got at least some people on the opposite benches who genuinely feel for the agriculturists. (A Voice : Divide and rule). (Another voice : All on this side). My honourable friend says 'All on that side'. We saw the other day the sorry spectacle when we were debating the two Bills. We saw some of the honourable members on those benches either sitting tied to their seats or absenting themselves, but those who genuinely felt for the zamindar voted with the Government. (Hear, hear from Ministerial benches), and I am hoping that the time is not far off when the genuine friends of the poor and down-trodden peasants and the down-trodden zamindars will walk across the floor and be on this and not on that side of the House. I am glad to find that the motion moved to-day has been moved by not only a genuine friend of the agriculturist but by a genuine agriculturist, what you might call a taxali agriculturist, and I am also glad that that motion is merely a repetition of the motion which the genuine friends of the peasants on this side of the House several times moved in the previous Council. He has merely taken a leaf out of the Unionist book, a leaf out of that big book which contains the achievements of the Unionist Party in the interests of the poor down-trodden agriculturist and I am glad that he has taken a leaf out of that book, and repeated what we said on a previous occasion. I am very glad indeed and I am further glad that it has come from a genuine agriculturist. My friend Sardar Kishan Singh was very eloquent and very impressive and he said certain things, of course, which I do not wish to take up now and enter into a controversy. What I appreciated is his genuine feeling and desire that something should be done for the poor down-trodden zamindar and peasant. Now, Sir, he said that the Government takes away one-quarter of the net assets of the peasant and then puts on a chaki rate although the whole capital is spent by the zamindar himself and Government does not spend anything. My honourable friend must be aware that where a well is sunk, the peasant who sinks that well gets a protective lease extending to forty years; this means that for forty years he gets advantage from that land and pays the barani rate on that land. That my honourable friend has apparently forgotten. I do not say that this is a sufficient justification for Government not to consider the revision of chaki rates. By no means so, but I think in fairness we might consider both sides of the picture. Indeed it would be very unfair to say that Government does not allow any compensation to the man who spends his own capital. If we were to accept that principle as final we should not assess any industrialist at all. He spends his capital on machinery, he spends it on building a huge factory and he imports labour from outside, and raw material, but when he makes any profits, Government assesses a certain tax and even imposes an excise duty. I do not think that that argument would help my friend or holds any water, that the Government should not assess the agriculturist because he spent his own capital. As I pointed out the Government gives him the benefit of getting back as his capital and more up to the extent of forty years by way of what is called a protective lease. As my honourable friends who have read the revised Land Revenue Act know, tube wells get a protective lease of thirty years. All those gentlemen who have got chaki lands are not necessarily poor or down-trodden. There are big land owners who have got batteries of tube-wells in their lands; does my honourable friend think that it would be fair to give them the relief instead of giving it to those poor barani peasant proprietors who get a harvest sometimes after three or four years? Take the South Eastern Punjab or the South Western Punjab. There you find that they get a really good harvest once every two, three or four years and these people have to borrow year in and year out to keep body and soul together. If this is the position, does not my honourable friend consider that we should first consider the question of relief to these people because their plight is even worse than that of those who have got chaki lands? I will give him an illustration of a gentleman who has only recently put a tube-well in the vicinity of Lahore. He is making hundreds and hundreds of rupees per acre out of that land because of the tube-well. Would he like to give him relief? Is he poor as compared to the owners of barani land or the tenant who probably gets only two maunds out of his whole holding. That is another aspect of the question which we must not forget so far as the question of chaki rates itself is concerned, because the word chaki is tagged on to the word rate, we take objection that there should be no chaki rate.

What is the principle on which land revenue is assessed in the Punjab?

6 P.M. The principle at present in vogue, according to the law which is in force, is this, that Government takes up to a maximum of one quarter of net assets. We would not call it chaki rate at all. Government would merely take one-quarter of the net assets of that land. Barani land gives two maunds per acre and assume that chaki land gives eight maunds per acre. Therefore, Government would, according to the present law in vogue, be entitled to take only twenty seers from the owner of that barani land and a maximum of two maunds from the owner of chaki land. Call it whatever you like you may not call it chaki rate at all and you could do so by classifying the land in a village. The present system of assessment is this, that you assess a village and then the actual amount of assessment which is called bachh in various estates is realised with the concurrence of the village people themselves. They say, how much do you want on parta, on chaki, on banjar and barani area and then that is distributed on the various proprietary bodies in the village itself according to that decision. They are consulted before it is done. But my point is that we can do so without calling it chaki rate. You may call it second class land. You have a classification. You have class I land, class II land, class III land and class IV land and if chaki land is class II land, then you assess the figure on class II land and get one-quarter net asset. Therefore, the word chaki should not disturb us. What we actually want to do is to give relief where relief is due and I am sure my honourable friends opposite—at least the majority of my honourable friends who are present in the House opposite at the moment—will agree with me that it is our duty to give relief to the smallest man—to the poorest man—before we give relief to the bigger landlord. I am very glad that my friend opposite agrees with me. If we accept that proposition, then I submit respectfully to my honourable friends opposite that it would not be fair on our part to anticipate the recommendations of the Darling Committee or the Resources and Retrenchment Committee. We should not bind ourselves or commit ourselves to a definite relief to this class of people out of whom, I do not say the majority, but a few may not be deserving of relief in accordance with the criterion which we have laid down that we must first give relief to the smallest man, and, therefore, I think it would be unfair on our part to commit the House or the Government to a proposition which may not enable us to distribute relief equitably and on the lines which I have indicated. It is, therefore, necessary that we should at the moment, keeping all these points in view, await the reports of these two Committees and when these reports are available to Government, we will consider all these various aspects of the problem and then deliberate on it carefully and thoughtfully, and then come to a decision so as to give the greatest relief to the smallest man and if more money is available, in a graduated scale to the bigger man also if possible. Therefore, my submission is that my honourable friends opposite, if they want to score a technical point, may press this resolution—a resolution which was my own resolution in the previous Council—and which is based on the same principles on which we want to give relief to the poorer man because after all there are several thousands of people who own chahi lands and they are small owners and they might be given some relief. But after all these various considerations that I have put before them, I am sure they will agree with me that the suggestion which I make is more equitable, rational and reasonable because it may give us an opportunity of seeing the whole thing in its true perspective with regard to the two reports before us and then assess relief according to the rates at which we want to give relief to the various classes of people. There is one other point which my honourable friend must not forget and that is this. All of us who have studied the budget will remember that last year we provided a small sum of one lakh to encourage well-sinking in a particular area in the province as an experimental measure. Our object was that if this experiment were successful in that particular area, we would be able to extend it to other parts of the province. This year we have provided a larger amount in the budget for that very purpose. The conditions on which we are prepared to encourage well-sinking are these. We pay a certain amount up to a certain maximum to the cultivator or the peasant on the condition that we give him a lump sum and if necessary he provides the rest or we, practically in some cases, provide the whole amount without charging any interest or asking him to return the capital. Government is after all not a philanthropic body. Why does it do so? There are two reasons. The first is that we want to make canal irrigation quite secure in certain areas because where there is canal irrigation and water is not sufficient, these wells help to mature the crop which otherwise would not have matured and would have become khara and Government would have suffered a loss. Where the zamindar gains, the Government also gains and where the zamindar loses, Government also loses. It is for that reason that we wanted to encourage that experiment and if that experiment is successful, we shall be prepared to consider the extension of the experiment throughout the province. It might cost the province a great deal of money, but I think that it will be money well spent because it will indirectly and in due course bring back the same or an equivalent or a larger return to the provincial exchequer. That also is a point which we must not forget in considering this resolution because if we accept this resolution, as it stands, it would practically mean that Government will have to stop that experiment and no further well-sinking will be encouraged. I do not want to anticipate my honourable colleague, who will probably like to give you figures with regard to chahi area and chahi irrigation, but in conclusion I once again wish to appeal to my honourable friends opposite that if they genuinely feel that we must give relief to the poor peasants then they should not tie the hands of the Government or anticipate reports of these two committees which, when available, will give us an opportunity to consider not only the question of relief to chahi areas but also to all small zamindars to whom it is our desire and it should be the desire of our friends opposite to give relief when the time comes. (Loud applause.)

Premier.

Sardar Ajit Singh (South-West Punjab, Sikh, Rural), (Punjabi): Sir, I rise to oppose the amendment moved by my honourable friend Mir Maqbool Mahmood and support the resolution moved by my honourable friend Chaudhri Sahib Ram. It is said—

تا تویاق از عراقی آورده شود مارگزیده مرده شود

I mean that the zamindars will be completely ruined by the time the report of the Darling Committee is submitted to the Government. It is very strange indeed that whenever a salutary measure is proposed which may be calculated to benefit the zamindars of this province, our Government takes shelter behind the Darling Committee and manages to avoid the issue in order to save their skin. But when the question of their drawing fat salaries comes up before the House, they never wait for the report of the Darling Committee. (Laughter).

Coming to the subject matter of the resolution which is now before the House, I may observe that there is absolutely no justification in imposing the chaki rates on a poor agriculturist who sinks well at his own cost and purchases the bullocks to work that well for irrigating his land. The zamindar works hard in the field and he thus improves his land, and the Government of Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan steps in and demands a share out of the hard earned money of the agriculturist. I may remind the honourable House that at the time of general elections, the Unionist Party had given a solemn pledge to their voters that the Unionist Government, if formed, would abolish such taxes as the chaki rates and would do so many other things for the poor agriculturist. But now they seem to have been intoxicated by their ruling power and they are going back upon their words. In particular I would like to remind the Honourable Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan, the Honourable Sir Chhotu Ram and Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana that on the 17th of March, 1927, the Honourable Sir Chhotu Ram moved a cut motion in the last Legislative Council in order to discuss the question of the abolition of the chaki rates which was carried with the help of Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan and Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana. These honourable gentlemen showed the proceedings of the Punjab Council relating to this cut motion to their electorates in order to win their support. But where has their lip sympathy gone now?*

غالباً حکومت کا حسن دیکھ کر آنکھیں بدل گئیں

Minister for Revenue: The honourable member's statement is not correct.

Sardar Ajit Singh: Again, it may be argued that if well irrigation is not a paying business why is the number of wells multiplying in the province? My reply to this is a simple one. God's displeasure has also descended upon them even as the Unionist Government has forsaken them. He has withheld rains. The only course left open to them, therefore, is to sink wells with a view to make both ends meet, and in so doing they have sold and are selling their ornaments and all other savings. But mark the injustice of the Government in recovering no less than Rs. 45 lakhs in the form of the chaki rates, under the pretext that the value of the land has been enhanced by well water. But one may ask "who has taken pains to enhance the value of the land?" The fact of the matter is that wells in this province number about 321,000, and they cost the agriculturists no less than 45 crores of rupees. If we calculate the amount of interest on this sum at the lowest rates charged by the co-operative societies, say eight annas per cent. per month, it will come to 3 crores, but, if it is calculated at the rates charged by the alleged banias of Sir Sundar Singh Majithia whom he wants now to take to task, the amount of interest will be 5½ crores and if unfortunately a poor agriculturist is entrapped by an alleged bania of Sir Chhota Ram then it is no need to worry about calculating the interest. Simply double the amount advanced yearly and go on multiplying till the zamindar is exhausted and parts with his well and other holdings if still left. It is perfectly clear, therefore, that the interest equals the principle spent on well sinking. The zamindar stands under a serious disadvantage in working wells for irrigation purposes which fact is always acknowledged by all. Government reports that the well irrigation is the most expensive one. But in spite of this fact he cannot but do this to earn his livelihood. The imposition of the chahi rates in such circumstances is extremely unfair.

Now let us turn our attention to another calamity which has visited the chahi areas. I mean the Doaba is suffering from a very dangerous calamity which solely depends upon well irrigation. The water level in wells is sinking deeper and deeper, and in some cases wells have got dried up, nonetheless the chahi rates are being charged, which is very unjust.

Minister for Revenue : It is wrong.

Sardar Ajit Singh : It is correct. Kindly go to the Doaba and see it. The Honourable Minister should note that if he takes the trouble to go to the Doaba, he will find that all the old wells are dried up, and even the newly erected wells have not got sufficient water for well irrigation. In many cases the zamindar has to hanker after drinking water even from the well which cost him the mortgage of his whole khata of holdings. In short well irrigation is very expensive and it does not become the Government to charge the chahi rates on it. In view of these hard facts, I hope that even the ministerialists will vote with us to-day in favour of this resolution and thus earn the good wishes of their constituents.

Minister for Revenue (Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Sir, the question about chahi rates has been discussed several times before this. My honourable friend said that Mir Maqbool Mahmood had asserted that the cut motion of my friend Sir Chhota Ram was not carried. This is a wrong statement he has made. It was carried by 30 to 26 votes. Coming to this question, Government after the resolution was passed by the Council looked into the matter very carefully and fully considered it with the Land Advisory Committee that was in existence at the time and went into the whole question and on the advice of the Advisory Committee, who were unanimous in this matter, consisting of both officials and non-officials, decided that the question should not be taken up then.

My honourable friends have all along been saying that the Government is taxing the people of the Punjab for putting in these tube-wells and that the Government is not doing anything in the matter of giving any relief to these zamindars. I think it is a statement which has been made without the knowledge of the facts as they stand. The Honourable Premier has said just now that there are productive leases which run from 20 years to 40 years. In this period, the zamindar recoups the expenditure that he has incurred in sinking that well, even more than double the amount that he has spent on sinking that well. Now, when the assessment is made, my honourable friend Sardar Kishan Singh said that Government does not consider what is the expenditure that is incurred by the zamindar in getting water for irrigation from tube-wells. Perhaps, my honourable friend has been living in a colony area where the supply of water is very easy and where people do not use water that is available from canals as economically as they use water from wells for which purpose they have to spend more than what they do in the other case. In the other case they open outlets and sit at their homes till the whole land is irrigated, and sometimes the water overflows three, four or five inches, while in the case of land which is irrigated by wells, one has to do it very carefully. I know what happens in the adjoining province of the United Provinces. There poor zamindars sink these wells. Some sink pacca wells and some sink kacha wells which are called chours and by means of what is called there dhainkul they irrigate their lands. They carry the water to their fields in small pits which they dig at different places with an instrument called hatha made of wood and splash water all round. That is how they irrigate their fields there. Here in the Punjab it is quite different. Of course, I admit that irrigation by well is much more costly than irrigation by canal and far more costly than irrigation by God-sent rain. But my honourable friends have said that we have not calculated what is the expenditure of zamindars who pay chaki rates. Let me read the speech, which was delivered by Mr. King, Financial Commissioner, in the Council Chamber, on 17th March, 1927. He said —

“Government before it applies any assessment on well lands allows the revenue payer who has sunk a well a remission on that well assessed for a period which is not less than 20 years and which may be as much as 40 years. During that time there is no assessment at all on the land revenue payable by the sinker of the well. The whole profit derived from the well for a period of not less than 20 and it may be 40 years goes into the pocket of the person who has sunk it and it is directed that in applying and ascertaining the period which shall be fixed for its ‘Productive lease’ as it is called, the owner of the land and the sinker of the well shall be allowed to recoup himself to the extent of twice the capital cost of sinking the well.”

That is what he said.

Now, coming to another point which was raised in the Land Revenue Committee, my honourable friends perhaps do not know that when assessment is made, the zamindars themselves distribute this assessment on different lands. They distribute it on chaki land, they distribute it on barani land and they distribute it on irrigated land where that exists. Therefore, before this matter is to be decided and the chaki rate is abolished, we have to take into consideration all those factors. Then, as I have said before, in assessing the half net assets, in olden times, the percentage used to be 50. That has been reduced, as honourable members are aware, by the law that was passed some time back, to 25 per cent. Now, after allowing these things that I have mentioned, can my honourable friends still think that Government is not doing its duty and is not giving relief to these poor zamindars? I am afraid I cannot say anything more than what I have said before on the floor of the House as to what the Government has been doing in giving relief to the people of this province. But let me tell my friends, Sir, that in the matter of the assessment of chaki lands, what my honourable friends think is that a man, who invests money, earns his income by investing that money, as the Honourable Premier said, in some industry and things like that, spends his energy, gives his time, gives his labour and earns something and on his earning income-tax is assessed. I have the fullest sympathy in the matter of giving relief to my poor zamindar friends and I would not be found lacking when the time for doing so comes and I hope the time will come very soon and it is not very far off that we shall be able to do something in this matter. But on the one hand, I may point out that we are asked by certain friends, first of all, to apply the principle of income-tax to the assessment of lands in this province, which in other words, means that you give up 4 crores and have only 57 lakhs of land revenue that the Government collects from the people. Another proposal is put forward by certain friends, very enthusiastic in trying to show like that old woman

[Minister for Revenue.]

ان زالون ہیدجلی دہیے کافی that they have got the best interests of zamindars at heart and they say, "Reduce the abiana rates by 50 per cent."

That means another 3 crores to Government. On the other hand, my honourable friends say that we must do something for the people outside in the villages to improve their social status and we must improve their position and that we must give them the same facilities as people in towns enjoy. I have got the fullest sympathy with that object, but let me say whether it is possible to expect that all those facilities should be provided, in the terms of the Punjabi saying تہیں وڑے نہہیں یک سکد Can you do that without money? Can you do that without the resources at your disposal? On the one side our friends say, cut down the resources of the province and on the other, they want to increase the expenditure. How can any Government agree to a proposition of that nature? It has already been pointed out that the difference between the chahi rates and the barani rates ranges between four annas and eight annas and not more. Is it the contention of my honourable friends that the whole of the rates should be abolished along with the whole of the land revenue? Is that the meaning of my honourable friends? If that is so, then it certainly means that they want the administration of this province to come to a standstill. Can any Government agree to do that? Has the Government of our neighbouring province, the United Provinces, done that? What has it done? I am sorry to say that differences between the zamindars and the tenants have been created and nothing definite has resulted so far in this matter. While putting forward before the Agricultural Commission the principle in regard to this matter, the Punjab Government wrote as follows :—

"For the ruling power to preclude itself from claiming a larger revenue from the land because its produce has been increased by the expenditure of the capital and labour of the occupiers is impracticable and opposed to immemorial usage. The State may be likened to an influential sleeping partner who has given to the other partners the right of managing and developing the property, but has not cut himself off from sharing to some extent in the growth of the receipts due directly to their enterprise, but indirectly also to his moderation and power of securing to his associates the peaceable enjoyment of the fruits of their industry. Justice and policy certainly demand that they should be guaranteed a fair profit on their expenditure, but no villager dreams of complaining that his fields are not assessed at their prairie value, or that well lands are rated higher than unirrigated soils."

I have said before that Government has given them the benefit of protective leases and allowed them to recoup double the expenditure that they incurred in sinking those wells. The Honourable Premier just now told the House what Government is doing in this matter by providing funds for sinking wells in other areas so that people may be able to work their fields and derive greater benefits from them. The matter, as the Honourable Premier just now said, has been under the consideration of Darling Committee and of the Resources and Retrenchment Committee and for my honourable friends opposite to ask us to anticipate the findings of those committees without knowing what their recommendations are going to be is to put the cart before the horse. That is not in the real interest of the province as my friends claim it to be. (Hear, hear). I may inform the House that the report of the Darling Committee has been signed by its members and is now in the press and will probably be in the hands of honourable members at no distant date. The report of the other committee will also be signed and after it has been printed it will be available. The Government will then carefully look into the matter. I do not think our friends can complain that we will not be doing our duty in giving consideration to the recommendations of the two committees and if this remission of forty-two lakhs of rupees has to be given, Government will not hesitate to do its duty in this matter. (Cheers).

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : I move—

That the question be now put.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the question be now put.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : Resolution under consideration, amendment moved—

That in lines 1-2, for the words "to abolish the chahi rates forthwith" the following be substituted:—

"That along with the consideration of the recommendations of the Darling Committee and Resources of Revenue Committee, they should take up the question of the abolition of the chahi rates particularly so far as they are applicable to the small cultivators in the province who till lands themselves."

The question is that the amendment be adopted.

The motion was carried.

QUARRYING OF KANKAR.

Lala Sita Ram (Trade Union, Labour) (Urdu) : Sir, I beg to move—

This Assembly recommends to the Government to frame a simple and easily intelligible rule declaring that no person quarrying kankar or stone for private use from land belonging to himself or from shamlat in which he is co-sharer or from land belonging to others whose consent for quarrying he has obtained shall have to obtain a licence or pay a royalty.

What this resolution demands is simple and reasonable. I, therefore, do not see any necessity to make a lengthy speech in this respect. The objects and reasons of this resolution are that the poor zamindars and the labour class people of the locality may be allowed to quarry kankar or stone from land belonging to themselves or otherwise without obtaining a licence or paying a royalty for doing so. Previously these poor owners of the land were at full liberty to make any use they liked of the ordinary stone lying in the fields. But during the past four or five years the Government have issued orders prohibiting them from doing so without obtaining licence. It is for this reason that the necessity of such a resolution has arisen.

In the Mines and Minerals Act there are some rules in existence according to which if anybody at the time of digging or filling the ground happens to find some sort of hidden treasure buried in it he could not lay claim to that treasure, but that would go to the Government. It did not strike anybody at that time that these very rules would one day stand in the way of those poor zamindars and labour class people who would like to quarry valueless stones and kankars from their own land for even their private use and they would have to obtain a licence or pay a royalty for this purpose. There has been no such rule which would mitigate the condition of the poor zamindars for the last five or six years. Now my resolution seeks that those persons may be allowed to quarry stones and kankar without obtaining a licence or paying a royalty. I would like to say a few words more. I remember, last year during the budget session my honourable friends Raja Ghazanfar Ali and Mian Muhammad Yusuf Khan put much stress on this point, which I have brought before the House in the shape of a resolution. They asked the Government to frame such rules which could give facilities and concessions to the labour class. By moving the above resolution, I have put the same demand in a regular manner and I hope the Government in view of the interest of poor labour class people would have no objection in accepting it. I may also clear one point more and that is that the facilities asked for should be confined for private and charitable purposes only and not for trade purposes.

Before I take my seat, Sir, I may say a word about the procedure of bringing such important matters to the notice of the Government. The only effective method is to move a resolution but the method of bringing resolutions before this House for discussion is not an easy task as out of a very large number of resolutions of which notices are given, a few survive the ballot. I gave notice of so many resolutions including several in connection with the labour problems but none of them has appeared in the ballot. It is, therefore, very gratifying to note that this resolution out of so many has been spared by the ballot, and what is more, it has succeeded in getting the second place in the list thus giving me an opportunity to move it in the honourable House. As this resolution is of a non-controversial nature and is expected to affect all parties in this House equally, I hope the whole House will unanimously support it and request the Government to accept it without any further discussion. With these few words I beg leave to move my resolution.

Mr. Speaker: The resolution moved is—

This Assembly recommends to the Government to frame a simple and easily intelligible rule declaring that no person quarrying kankar or stone for private use from land belonging to himself or from a shamilat in which he is a co-sharer or from land belonging to others whose consent for quarrying he has obtained, shall have to obtain a license or pay a royalty.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): Sir, after the debate on the resolution that was moved in June, 1937, Government took the matter into consideration and they passed this rule in compliance with that demand—

The collector may issue a general permit for 5 years renewable for like period authorising all persons being owners or occupancy tenants of agricultural land in any estate to quarry under the limitations prescribed in rule 5, but without applying for or receiving the permit prescribed in rules 5 and 6.

We have done that, but if my honourable friend the mover of this resolution still feels that there is some defect and that the rule is not quite intelligible, I am prepared to clarify it still further so that it might meet his wishes. (Ministerial cheers). In the ordinary course kankar which does not belong to the landlord is obtainable only on the payment of royalties. (Heur, heur).

Lala Sita Ram: In view of the assurance that the Honourable Minister for Revenue has been pleased to give on the floor of this House just now, I beg leave to withdraw my resolution.

The resolution was, by leave, withdrawn.

REPRESENTATION OF GROWERS AND CONSUMERS ON TARIFF BOARD.

Mian Badar Mohy-ud-Din Qadri (Batala, Muhammadan, Rural): I beg to move—

This Assembly recommends to the Government to press strongly upon the attention of the Government of India the necessity of securing in the personnel of the Tariff Board an eighty per cent. representation of the interests of growers and consumers through representatives who are not personally associated with industrial interests.

Sir, my resolution as worded speaks for itself and I need not make a long speech in commending it to the notice of the House. It is admitted that the advancement of India and the welfare of zamindars are not separable from each other. Rather the advancement of our country depends upon the welfare of the agriculturist classes. This principle should be kept in mind on all occasions. There is no denying the fact that the Tariff Board established by the Government of India is intended to protect the legitimate interests of the various classes living in this country but unfortunately the industrialists have monopolised its personnel as if the producers and the growers have no interests of their own to be represented in the personnel of the Tariff Board. Far from it. The rural and agricultural classes have a strong claim to be represented as the bulk of the population in this country resides in the villages and it is quite in the fitness of things to safeguard their interests. But it is a thousand pities that growers and consumers have not been given adequate representation in the Tariff Board while the mill-owners have monopolised its personnel. It is hoped, therefore, that my resolution will meet with the unanimous approval of the House.

With these words, Sir, I move my resolution.

Mr. Speaker : Resolution moved :—

This Assembly recommends to the Government to press strongly upon the attention of the Government of India the necessity of securing in the personnel of the Tariff Board an eighty per cent. representation of the interests of growers and consumers through representatives who are not personally associated with industrial interests.

Parliamentary Secretary (Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan) : I beg to move the following amendment—

That in line 3 for the words "and eighty per cent." the word 'due' be substituted.

It is only a verbal amendment and the object of this amendment is merely to make the resolution more practicable. The object is not to tie down the hands of the Government to any particular percentage or any particular number, but the object of moving this resolution is that the Government should undo the injustice which has been perpetrated for a long time. It is an admitted fact that in almost all the central subjects and particularly those pertaining to trade and industry the interests of Bombay have always prevailed over other interests. The Punjab province naturally is under a great disadvantage on account of its not being represented on the Tariff Board. Therefore I hope that the Government which is a zamindar Government and the Minister-in-charge of this department, the Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram, who has so much at heart the interests of the zamindars, will make a strong representation to the Government of India, that they should give effect to the unanimous wishes of this House by giving a proper and due representation to the Punjab on the Tariff Board. With these words I commend my amendment to the House.

Mr. Speaker : Resolution under consideration, amendment moved—

That in line 3 for the words 'and eighty per cent.' the word 'due' be substituted.

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

I rise to give my whole-hearted support to the resolution as amended. As the honourable members would recall, the Indian Tariff Board was set up in pursuance of a resolution of the Central Legislative Assembly in February, 1929. That resolution stated that the fiscal policy of the Government of India may legitimately be directed towards fostering the development of industry and secondly that in the application of the above principle of protection financial needs and dependence of the Government of India on import and export should be taken into consideration, that the principle should be applied with discrimination and that the Tariff Board be set up consisting of three members one of whom should be a Government official and two non-officials. From 1923 up to 1937 several Tariff Boards have been set up consisting of three members but I fail to recollect whether in any of these Boards a representative of the interests of the growers has found a place on any board. I do not mean to convey that the interests of the growers are in any way antagonistic to the interests of the industrialists but I do claim that in considering methods of fiscal policy there are occasions when the interests of the growers have got to be protected. The Tariff Board, while determining the amount of protection to a particular industry, has got to take into consideration two or three factors. One factor is whether for protecting that industry natural advantages exist in the country and secondly whether that industry cannot flourish without giving adequate protection to it and thirdly whether the industry will continue to flourish when the period of protection has come to an end. Various Tariff Boards have given protection to several industries and honourable members would recall that in protecting certain industries the grower has either benefited to a great extent or suffered a loss to some extent. I do not mean to say that in giving that protection the grower has invariably suffered. What I mean to convey is this, that the recommendations of the Tariff Board have a very great bearing on the interests of the grower and it is for this reason that we in this House wish to impress on the Government of India that a representative of the growers ought to find a place on the Tariff Board. Honourable members would realise that when protection was given to sugar a great impetus was given to the cultivation of sugarcane so much so that during the last eight or ten years cultivation of sugarcane has gone up by 33 per cent. On the other hand when steel industry was protected the danger of increased cost of agricultural implements or increase in freight rates as a result of higher cost of wagons and Railway material was realised by the Tariff Board. Similarly when protection was given to textile industry it is doubtful whether the interests of cotton growers received the consideration that was due to them. In 1927 the duty on textile goods was 11 per cent. It was raised to 15 per cent. and in 1931 it was raised to 25 per cent. Again in 1932 it was raised to 50 per cent and in 1933 it was raised to 75 per cent. against goods other than British goods which duty was reduced to 50 per cent. again in 1934 as a result of the Indo-Japanese Treaty. In this connection I would like to say that the interests of the cotton growers have not always been sufficiently taken into consideration. I have full sympathy with the development of cotton industry but I fail to understand that with all the protective duty and the consequent higher prices for cotton cloth, the cotton mill-owners in India have not been patriotic enough to buy all their requirements from India. In 1937 alone nearly 290 thousand bales of cotton were imported from East Africa whereas England bought 81,000 bales from that country during that period. Nearly five hundred thousand bales of cotton are imported from foreign countries annually. I do not understand why mill-owners, with that protection given to them,—and we all know that that industry is flourishing and we are glad that that industry is flourishing—are not able and do not wish to meet their requirements from Indian cotton. (Hear, hear). We in the Punjab have been, for the last several years, producing cotton of very fine quality and of very long staple but in spite of that we find that the mill-owners are purchasing foreign stuff. The result is as some of the cotton growers know a fine variety of cotton No. 299-F., which was fetching a very high premium three or four months back, has lost all that premium resulting in great loss to the cotton grower. Sir, it is for this reason that we insist that a representative of the growers ought to find a place on the Tariff Board. I do not wish to take long because the time is very short and some other honourable members wish to speak and with these few words I strongly support the resolution.

{S. B. S. Ujjal Singh.}

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural): I would like to add only a few words to the debate on this resolution. It is in my opinion wrong in principle to fix the representation of any interest (Unionist benches: hear, hear) or any particular body of persons. I understand the Tariff Board is a body of experts. If the growers and the consumers can produce experts I will not mind giving them cent. per cent. representation; but there are many things that can be done efficiently only by the experts. It is a wrong assumption to think that the great industrialists or the great mill-owners of the country are not alive to their duty towards the growers and consumers. I do not think any discrimination can be made on this point. If the consumers and the growers can produce experts not only for the purpose of the Tariff Board but for many other things we shall welcome them. It is a pernicious principle to lay down that any particular interest or any particular body of persons should necessarily be represented on any board. The functions of the Board are very peculiar. If there is any expert, whether he belongs to the body of growers or consumers he will be welcome. The question is whether the members of the Tariff Board should be competent persons. I may say another thing also. The Tariff Board should consist of persons who can form a sound view with regard to industries and finance not only of India but of other countries of the world. It is not the narrow-minded persons or men with small ideas who can promote great things. We require great brains to promote great things. Of course to that extent I am opposed to this principle; otherwise if you can give us the best men from the growers and consumers I for one shall welcome their cent. per cent. representation on the Tariff Board (hear, hear).

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani (Muzaffargarh, North (Muhammadan) Rural) (Urdu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am surprised at the attitude of the Congress party on this resolution, as evinced by the speech of my honourable friend Lala Duni Chand who has preceded me. Our Congress friends shout from the house tops that they are the real well-wishers of the poor classes and peasants, but when the time for action comes they conveniently forget their creed and declarations. My friend Lala Duni Chand has opposed the resolution on the ground that it would be wrong in principle to seek representation of the interests of growers and consumers on a body of experts. I am at a loss to understand the logic of my friend's argument. His plea is inconsistent with the recommendations of the Indian Fiscal Commission, on whose recommendations the Indian Tariff Board came into being. In their report the Indian Fiscal Commission remarked that 'The principle should be accepted that the best men available are to be engaged, selection depending rather on general qualifications than on specialised or expert knowledge'. The Indian members of the Indian Fiscal

[ K. B. Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani. ]

Commission in their minority report further remarked that 'The Board must be one which will command the confidence of the country, and must be above suspicion of any subservience to particular interests. While agreeing with this general proposition, we think it is necessary to secure judicial decision amongst the conflicting interests and to have the consumers represented upon it.'

Sir, the House will agree with me that the principle underlying this resolution is not inconsistent with the recommendations of the Indian Fiscal Commission. I admit that the members of the Indian Tariff Board should be men of ability, of integrity and of impartiality and should possess sufficient knowledge of economics and financial matters, but there is no dearth of such men among the growers and consumers in this country. When we can find people to fill the responsible position of the Deputy Governor of the Reserve Bank of India from this class, it is wrong to say that persons possessing requisite qualifications are not forthcoming from the class of growers and consumers in this country. Let my friend realise that an illustrious representative of the Punjab agriculturists filled the post of Deputy Governor of the Reserve Bank of India with great success and dignity. (Cheers). A perusal of the list of members of the Indian Tariff Board since its inception will show that the growers and consumers have received no representation on the Board. More than 75 per cent. of the population of this country depends for their livelihood on agriculture which is the main industry of India and shall always remain the occupation of the great mass of people of this country. Let us also realise that this class forms an overwhelming majority of consumers in India. It is, therefore, fair and equitable that they should have an adequate voice in framing the fiscal policy of the country. It seems our Congress friend could not resist the temptation of furthering the interests of the mill-owners even to the detriment of the poor peasants and consumers. I do not blame him for this attitude because everyone of us is aware of the intimate relations existing between the Congress and the Ahmedabad and Birla Mills. The Indian capitalists and mill-owners are the first love of the Congress and the interest of the cultivators and poor consumers is a secondary thing with the Congress. As my honourable friend Sardar Ujjal Singh has pointed out a large quantity of foreign yarn and cotton is imported by the Indian Textile Mills. The cloth manufactured from the foreign cotton and yarn after being imprinted with the seal of the Congress loses all traces of its impure foreign origin and is passed off as pure 'Khadi' by these mills, which of course, pay the Congress cess for getting the 'Swadeshi' seal of the Congress for their goods manufactured from foreign materials.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : As your Premier went to Mr. Jinnah to secure the seal of Muslim League for the Unionist Party.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Sir, it was not only the Premier of the Punjab who went to Mr. Jinnah but the saint of the Congress also went to Mr. Jinnah to secure his seal. I am glad our Congress friends have after all realised the importance of Muslim League and consider it at par with their organisation (Opposition : No. No). Well Sir, they can't deny the facts. Let me remind my friends that they can't mislead the masses now by throwing dust into their eyes. Their own actions belie their professions. Sir, I fully agree with the principle of the resolution, but I would appeal to my honourable friend the mover of the resolution to accept the amendment proposed by Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan. The Indian Tariff Board consists of a chairman and two members. If we insist that there should be 80 per cent. representation of the interests of growers and consumers in the personnel of the Tariff Board it would mean that no other interest will be represented on the Board and I am sure, my honourable friend does not intend to deny representation to other interests. What we want is that the interests of the growers and consumers should find adequate representation on the Tariff Board. With these words Sir, I whole-heartedly support the amended resolution.

Minister for Development (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram): Sir, as I attach a good deal of importance to the resolution which is next on the list I will not say much about this resolution. I will just confine myself to an expression of my fullest sympathy with the object which this resolution has in view (hear, hear) I have felt it and have expressed my views more than once that the consumer and the grower have so far remained unrepresented in matters of tariff and I am glad that Mian Badar Mohy-ud-Din has given this House an opportunity to express its views on this important subject. I had no doubt when the resolution was first moved that every section of this House would express its sympathy with the resolution, but I find that there are certain people who do not seem to share this sympathy. I had been unable in the beginning to understand the thinness of attendance on the Congress benches. The tone of Lala Duni Chand's speech leads me to believe that the Congress benches have either no sympathy with the object of this resolution or have sympathy which is of the most diluted and qualified character.....

Lala Duni Chand: May I with your permission point that he is misrepresenting the Congress?

Mr. Speaker: Order, order.

Minister: There is no question of misrepresenting the Congress. (Interruptions). The speech which was made by Lala Duni Chand is the best interpretation of the honourable member's intentions. My interpretation of the speech is that either sympathy does not exist or exists in a most diluted form (Opposition Benches: Wrong interpretation). I know my speeches always bite those who represent industrial interests, it does not matter whether they are Congressmen or politicians of other brands. I recognise fully that it is very difficult to shed class instincts. I have not been able to shed some of mine, and I am not surprised that those who belong to industrial or commercial classes retain their instincts. It is really these class instincts which have found expression in the speech of Lala Duni Chand.

In all questions of tariff there are three parties which are interested. The first party is that of industrialists, mill-owners and factory owners. The second party is that of consumers; and the third party is of growers. Now industrialists, mill-owners and factory owners will instinctively press for protection, and while I admit that for nascent industries protection is essential all fair-minded persons must concede that this protection can be given only subject to certain conditions, within certain specified limits. My own feeling has been that these limits have been transgressed many a time, and one of the reasons why these limits have been transgressed is the fact that consumers and growers are never represented on the Tariff Board. I know for a fact that there are many mill-owners who have been able to declare huge profits ranging between 25 and 75 per cent. Can anybody seriously suggest that these huge profits are warranted, or that where these huge profits can be made protection is needed? I also realise that those who enter the field of industries for the first time, may stand in need of protection more than those who have been established in industries for a long time and a total abolition of protection may injure the interests of industry in general. But means should be found to reconcile the claims of industrialists and consumers. There are only two ways in which the startling economic results of protection can be reconciled with the interests of the general consuming public: either the measure of protection should be strictly limited or when profits have been made, a heavy excise duty should be charged, so that the proceeds of excise duty may be used to promote general services for the good of the community. But neither the one nor the other is being done. Therefore, I am very glad indeed that this resolution has given an opportunity to the House to express what it thinks about the present composition of the Tariff Board and about the manner in which the activities of the Tariff Board have been conducted so far. The resolution has my entire sympathy. I was feeling just one difficulty. The resolution as originally drafted suggests that consumers and growers should have a representation of 80 per cent. on the Tariff Board. Now the Tariff Board has only three persons on it, one Chairman and two members. If an eighty per cent. representation were to be given to consumers and growers, nothing would be left for anybody else. For this reason I welcome the amendment. It makes my task easy in agreeing to accept the resolution.

Lala Duni Chand : Sir, I want to put a question to the Honourable Minister for Development and that is whether he can propound any principle different from the principle that I have laid down, namely, that the Tariff Board should consist of—

Mr. Speaker : Is it a question or a second speech? (Voices : Question be now put.)

Sardar Muzaffar Ali Khan Qizilbash (Lahore, Muhammadan, Rural): Sir, with your permission I beg to move—

This Assembly recommends to the Government to press upon the Government of India the necessity of imposing forthwith with an import duty of Rs. 2 per cwt. on foreign wheat.

I will not take much time of the House, but I briefly give my reasons for moving this motion. The average price of wheat is not more than Rs. 2 per maund at present. Take the case of a small cultivator who cultivates one acre of land. If the land is nehri he gets at the most to-day about 18 maunds per acre. (A voice: 30 maunds). I am told that one acre produces 30 maunds, but I beg to differ. So, at Rs. 2 per maund he gets about Rs. 26. From this he has to pay land revenue and abiana to the extent of Rs. 9. What is left is Rs. 17. He requires seed for the next crop which costs Rs. 2-8-0 leaving with him Rs. 14-8-0. With this amount he has got to pay for fodder, he has got to maintain his bullocks, his servants, himself and his family and this much money is a poor return for the labour which he expends. The result is that the net income is practically nothing at the present moment. We have got to compete with foreign countries where they produce wheat on national and capitalistic basis. They employ modern methods and machinery. The result is that they can, in one day, cultivate 150 acres of land whereas the cultivator in the Punjab cannot do more than one acre a day. As prices are low there owing to over-production they dump all the surplus wheat in India with the result that prices of wheat diminish and the zamindar of the Punjab can hardly exist on the present prices. Under the present Government of India Act, I am afraid we cannot do anything in the matter except to make a representation to the Government of India through the local Government. I am sure the policy of the Government to-day is the policy which contemplates the prosperity and contentment of the Punjab peasant. With these few words I commend the resolution to the House and request it to pass it.

Mr. Speaker: Resolution moved is—

This Assembly recommends to the Government to press upon the Government of India the necessity of imposing forthwith an import duty of Rs. 2 per cwt. on foreign wheat.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar (North-Western Towns, General, Urban): I welcome this resolution (hear, hear) from the Unionist Party. (An honourable member: I hope it will not be modified). My friend opposite says that he hopes I shall not modify my view. I will not leave him long in doubt. I will tell him straightaway that I do modify my view and the modifications is towards the increase in the duty to be imposed on foreign wheat. I am not like the Honourable Minister for Development.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member will not be personal please.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: I am not making any personal reference. I am using impersonal language. My view is not that the stage has come when no protection is needed. This is a stage when protection must be given. There are those who have eyes and yet they do not see the necessity of protection being granted to India in its present stage. I am happy that the Unionist Party has found something to approach the Government of

[L. Bhim Sen Sachar.]

India with, but permit me to remind the honourable members opposite that mere prayers and petitions do not carry any weight. Do my friends over there realise that the greaterst factor that goes towards keeping the price of agricultural produce at its lowest ebb is the most mischievous exchange ratio that is prevailing in the country? What is the Ministry going to do? Have they the courage to come forward and write to the Government of India that this is ruining the agriculturists and that they should forth with remove the cause which is responsible for ruining the peasantry of the province? Mere lip sympathy for the peasantry will not do. It is hardly doing anything for the peasant if you do not lighten his burden but go on adding to the expenses day in and day out. My honourable friends over there are not content even with that. They must have men brought from across the seas and foist them on the poor revenues of this province. Is this the sort of attitude they want to have for giving help to the poor peasant? What is necessary is that there should be a radical change of heart. My friends over there have for long been occupying places of power. They have been associated with the Government for a considerable time. What have they done to put pressure which is so necessary to move the Government of India? More pious resolutions of the sort now before the House are not sufficient. There can be no dearth of paper resolutions. We can have them to any extent. Does not the Minister for Development know of the crushing burden under which the peasantry is suffering? Does he really not know the causes to which the present plight of the peasants is traceable? We on this side are absolutely for giving the maximum protection to the producer, but for the protection to be effective honourable members on the opposite benches should be in a position to enforce their will on the Government of India. They should declare that they are going to join hands with other Congress governments in pressing upon the Government of India for the revision of the exchange ratio. My friends over there have the advantage of having a great economist in their ranks. It passes my comprehension why the Punjab Government with such a great economist at its back does not take the strongest stand for a change in the exchange ratio. If they are really anxious to mitigate the suffering of the poor peasants our whole-hearted co-operation is with them in seeing that their wishes are respected by the Government of India. But my honourable friends know that it is not the interest of the Government of India to revise the ratio. It is they who pay the piper that have a right to call the tune. Perhaps my friends are not convinced that the interest of India and of those in charge of the affairs of the Government of India are at variance. People in charge of the Government of India cannot view Indian problems from the point of view of Indians. My friends over there talk of capitalists and big mill-owners. Do they not know that in the most industrialised presidency, I mean Bombay, it is the Congress Government which as soon as it came into office increased the wages of the workers by a crore of rupees in the teeth of opposition? (An honourable member : Is it a propaganda speech?) No. I do not need to make any propaganda speech. I am not like the Minister for Development for whom any stick is good enough to beat the Congress with. I do not know for what purpose he said that he had no love for the Congress.

Mr. Speaker : That is not the motion before the House.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: This is merely by way of reply to the remarks of my honourable friend over there. What I was submitting was that there should be no mistake about the Congress position. The position of the Congress is this—(Interruption) I am talking of the position of my party which is the Congress Party. I am not speaking for myself, but for my party as a whole. Our position is this: We do not recognise any artificial differences. We recognise only one difference and that is the difference between the haves and have-nots. (Hear, hear). There is a class of haves and there is an overwhelming majority of have-nots.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member is irrelevant.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: I am merely giving reasons in support of my point and explaining that the position of the Congress is clear. Any proposal of this type even if it comes from the Unionist Party will have our support and blessing. Our party is not like the Unionist Party.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member has been irrelevant for the last seven minutes. I have tolerated him so far. I will give him only one more chance. If he is again irrelevant, I shall have to ask him to resume his seat.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: Probably it is the enthusiasm for the support that we want to give to this resolution that is responsible for taking me into side tracks or perhaps it is the very great provocation given by the benches opposite which was absolutely uncalled for. But the proposition before the House is very simple and I need not detain the House any longer with my speech. What I want to say is that the days when you said 'Huzoor, do this and do that' are gone. You must show your backbone and say that you are right.

Sayad Amjad Ali Shah: Is the honourable member aware that in 1935-36 the export of wheat amounted to 9,051 tons and if the ratio was 1/4 the difference would have been only Rs. 28,158? Does he know that? (An honourable member: What is the point)?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): Sir, I did not wish to intervene in this debate at this stage. But the speech of my honourable friend opposite reminded me of Perry Peter on the Drury Lane Theatre. He was a very fluent speaker but Angels were jealous and they gave him a mental abberation so that he could only see one side of the picture and that also exaggerated. (Sardar Sohan Singh Josh: I think that this is the third time the honourable member is mentioning that story). With regard to the points my honourable friend has raised, I do not think that they were called for at all in this debate. He has thought fit to refer to the achievements of the Congress government. We know more about them.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member should not refer to the Congress. He should speak to the motion.

Parliamentary Secretary: I can afford to ignore the so-called achievements of the Congress. But the point I was raising is this, that when we are considering questions of such economic importance to the country we have to think in terms of a responsible government and a responsible opposition and it is for us not to try to tackle these questions as if for propaganda. Now what is the resolution before the House? It recommends the levying of an import duty on wheat to the Government of India and I think it requires very serious consideration. Ordinarily any attempt to levy taxes on food products is a very retrograde step but if we in this House have put forward this proposition it is for us to be sure of the facts and figures and the merit of the proposition which we are advocating. Now what is the position? The position is that in the last ten years we in this country have always had a surplus of wheat over and above our needs for consumption. It has been calculated by experts of the Government of India that our annual average consumption of wheat in this country is 9 million tons and that for the last ten years consecutively the production of wheat in this country and particularly in northern India has been very much more than what we can consume. That is the first proposition. The second proposition which is to be considered is this. Our great importing countries where we used to send our wheat were Germany and America. In the last 8 years in Germany they have started a very strong movement under the leadership of their dictator that they should adopt measures by which the consumption of bread and particularly wheat bread should be reduced, so much so that in the last 8 years the importation of wheat in Germany has gone down by 60 per cent. Take next the case of the United States which used to import a great deal of our wheat. I have it on the figures quoted by the Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal that in the last few years while the population of the United States has increased by 60 per cent. the consumption of wheat in that country has only increased by 4 per cent.

Lala Duni Chand : What is the point of the speech? I do not understand it.

Parliamentary Secretary : My misfortune is that my honourable friend is not in the habit of following my arguments. The next point which we have to consider is this, that the cost of production of wheat has reached a stage when it cannot be lowered very much and we have it on the authority of the sub-committee of the League of Nations that the cost of production of wheat in this country cannot be very much reduced. Now, Sir, that is the dilemma for this province. We are an agricultural province. Wheat crop is our main crop and our back bone. Our exporting countries are closing their doors to us. We have a surplus here. In spite of that surplus wheat continues to come in and the cost of production is such that we cannot lower. That being the position we are face to face with the problem as to how to meet it and in that condition I submit that there is no other practical way open to us than to insist on the imposition of an import duty on wheat. There is another point in this connection which has to be borne in mind and it is this: that sitting here we have to hold the balance between the interests of the consumers and the interests of the growers and if it is felt that the imposition of this duty is likely to raise substantially the price of wheat to our consumers then we will have to think twice before we take up a position of that nature. The experience of the Government of India in 1931 has made it clear that in the years of our surplus the imposition of a duty of that nature does not raise the price of our wheat above the world level of wheat price. Taking into consideration all these things I feel that there will not be two opinions in this House that this very practical and sound proposition made by my friend deserves the support of this House.

Now there was one other point made by my friend opposite, Mr. Bhim Sen Sachar. He spoke with his usual oratory devoid of realities, if I may say so, and said 'come with us, take your stick in your hand and go and impose your will on the Government.' (An honourable member: "Non-violent stick). Yes, non-violent stick. Let us go and impose our will on the Government of India. We must realise that we are not the non-martial, non-violent visionaries attacking things which we know will not deliver goods. We are fighters and clean fighters and we know that when we are making a reasonable proposition we will get a fair deal from the Government of India. We refuse to believe that the Government of India will not be and is not in touch with the new horizon and the new movement in India. We refuse to believe that the Government of India will not recognise the legitimate requests made from a province which is known for its sanity and reasonableness and which is the backbone not only for the security of India but for the security of the Empire and I hope and trust that in the hands of the Leader of the House, the Honourable the Premier and with the whole House behind him an irresistible appeal will be made which with the personal equation of His Excellency the Governor cannot be resisted by the Government of India.

Lala Duni Chand: Good English words have been wasted. (An honourable member: On you).

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Amritsar North, Sikh, Rural). (Punjabi): Sir, I rise to support this resolution. (Hear, hear). I may submit at the very outset that I have not got up to support this resolution because it is likely to benefit the zamindars (Jats) to some extent. I am supporting this resolution for the simple reason that it goes against the spirit displayed by the Honourable the Finance Minister in his budget speech. He was pleased to remark in the course of his speech that we are Punjabis and as the residents of an inland province, it is our duty not to be led astray by international developments. I am however pleased to note that a member of the Unionists Party has at long last felt that our province too is affected by international developments and that is the reason why the condition of our province is going from bad to worse. It would perhaps be within your knowledge that a capitalist owning up-to-date machinery can produce wheat on a large scale and as there is no dearth of capitalists, billions of maunds of wheat are produced.

Premier: Russia is also doing the same. (Laughter).

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh: I am coming to that as well. Sir, the wheat produced in this way requires only a small amount of hard work on the part of the producers and the wheat thus produced can be sold very cheaply as compared with the wheat that is produced here in the Punjab. Here we still stick to the same old type of ploughs which our great-grand-fathers used to till their lands with. We work very hard, yet our wheat cannot stand competition with the foreign wheat. It does not sell because of the foreign wheat which is imported from America and Russia after defraying all the shipping and freight charges, still sells cheaper at our ports. This is a cause of great hardship to the poor agriculturists.

The world-wide depression which started in 1929 has broken the heart of the poor zamindars. Since then they have not been able to stand on their own feet again. In 1914-15 the rate per maund of wheat was Rs. 3-2-0.

whereas to-day it has come down to Rs. 1-12-0 per maund. My honourable friend who moved this amendment said that the present rate of wheat was Rs. 2 per maund. Although it is not correct, yet I accept it for the sake of argument. Even if we calculate at this price, the zamindars have suffered a net loss of 11 crores of rupees this year. What was needed was that the Government should have taken steps to stop this state of affairs. But what do they do? They simply bring in a resolution recommending to the Government of India the necessity of imposing an import duty of Rs. 2 per cwt., and the matter finishes here. You cannot hope to put things right in that way.

Our Secretary has remarked that with the recommendation of the Honourable Premier and His Excellency the Governor, the Government of India is likely to accept our demand. But what is the guarantee for that? Once before he said that the Government will permit us to deliver our speeches in Punjabi or Urdu but even that has not been granted so far. Why should they acquiesce in your demands? So long as you do not set your own house in order, nothing is going to come out of your demands. These resolutions that you move are not going to benefit the agriculturists.

The Honourable Minister for Finance had advised us not to think of things that happen outside our own province, and wanted us to disregard the international developments. I think he has by now learnt what effect the international developments can have over us. There was a time when the Punjab supplied wheat to many foreign countries but to-day Russia alone produces enough to supply the needs of a greater part of the world.

Minister for Finance : No.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Yes. In the United States of America they even burn wheat as fuel for adjusting the market rates. When they can go to such extremes for the good of their country, can you not do something here? How can you manage to adjust rates when you do not have any power in your own hands? You cannot hope to set things right by mere talk. When we propose something for the good of the zamindar you pay a deaf ear to it. If we demand the abolition of chahi rates you refuse to accept it and when it is your turn to do something to ameliorate the condition of the poor agriculturists, you bring in such indifferent resolutions which cannot improve this state of affairs. Do something solid which may have a beneficial effect on the condition of the zamindars :--

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) : Sir, the importance of the question can be judged from the fact that we in this province produce about three million tons of wheat, that is one-third of the quantity produced in the whole of India. Sir, the price of wheat unfortunately to-day is much lower than what it has been for many years in the past excepting 1930-31 when the prices fell down to Rs. 1-9-0 per maund. Since the War or even before the War we never saw such a catastrophic fall in the price of wheat. You can well imagine the loss to the Punjab when you find that 8 crores of maunds of wheat are produced in this province. Even if the price can be raised by the imposition of import duty by four annas the gain to the province as a whole would amount to two crores of rupees. It is for this reason that this question is of the utmost importance to us in the Punjab. It has been stated that the price of wheat cannot be raised only by means of imposition of import duty. I am prepared to admit that unless the quantity of wheat produced in India is a little short of the quantity that is required for consumption we will not be able to raise the price of wheat by import duty alone. We have this year a little exportable surplus and for this reason we have by the end of June been able to export nearly ten lakhs of bags of wheat with the result that stocks in Karachi and other ports have been reduced. If by exports we are able to reduce our stocks in this country we will then have to take steps to stop Australian wheat coming in. We are afraid that Australia and New Zealand with an advantage of 25 per cent depreciation in their currency will be able to under-sell us in Calcutta and Bombay.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

3rd SESSION OF THE 1st PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Monday, 4th July, 1938.

*The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 2 p. m. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the chair.*

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

COMMUNAL INEQUALITIES RESULTING FROM ELECTION IN DISTRICT BOARDS.

*2957. Mian Abdul Rab : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state with reference to his answer to question No. *778<sup>1</sup>, asked on the 10th January, 1938, the steps he proposes to take to remove communal inequalities resulting from elections in such district boards of the province where they are not removed by nominations ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : I am afraid Government can do nothing if communal inequalities resulting from district board elections cannot be removed by nominations.

Mian Abdul Rab : May I know whether the Government is not responsible for providing adequate representation in regard to the population and voting strength of different communities in the district boards ?

Minister : It is for that purpose that nominations are made but if the requisite number cannot be secured by nomination even, then there is no other alternative but to revise the wards later on.

Mian Abdul Rab : Has the Honourable Minister considered the desirability of revising the constitution of these boards so as to provide them with adequate representation ?

Minister : If special cases are pointed out they will be looked into.

Mian Abdul Rab : May I invite the attention of the Honourable Minister to the case of the Jullundur district ? Is he prepared to revise the constitution of that District Board ?

Minister : It will be looked into.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask the Honourable Premier if it is not the convention that questions savouring of communalism should not be allowed and should not be answered ? I think that communalism is tabooed.

Minister : This does not relate to any community.

Sardar Hari Singh : I addressed my question to the Honourable Premier.

Premier : I am afraid I have not followed the question and the answer thereto.

Sardar Hari Singh : The question asked by Mian Abdul Rab is to the effect :

“.....with reference to his answer to starred question No. 778, asked on the 10th January, 1938, the steps he proposes to take to remove communal inequalities .....”

My point was that it savours of communalism.

Premier : I do not think the spirit in which we tabooed communalism is covered by this question. It merely means communal disparity. It is not a question of only one community that is affected. It might be depressed classes, Hindus or Sikhs.

Sardar Hari Singh : I am afraid I disagree with you.

Premier : The term ‘communal’ means pertaining to one community.

PROVISION OF A ROAD IN DONA ILAQA IN JULLUNDUR DISTRICT.

*2968. Mian Abdul Rab : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that there is no P. W. D. or District Board road in the Dona ilaqa of the Nakodar tahsil in the Jullundur district ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the people of the [aforesaid ilaqa are experiencing great difficulty for want of a suitable road ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) There is no P. W. D. road but the following district board kacha roads pass through Dona ilaqa of the Nakodar tahsil in the Jullundur district :—

- (i) Nakodar to Malsian.
  - (ii) Malsian to Lohian.
  - (iii) Nakodar to Sultanpur.
  - (iv) Jullundur to Lohian Ferozepore.
- (b) Does not arise.

Sardar Hari Singh : I take objection to question No. *2969 and I would invite the Premier's attention to the fact that in case it is answered it is bound to give rise to communal passions in the province.

Premier : Which question ?

Sardar Hari Singh : I am referring to question No. *2969 which relates to the Shahidganj dispute. I think the Honourable Minister need not answer this question.

Premier : But when it is put you will hear what the answer will be given.

SHAHIDGANJ DISPUTE.

*2969. Rana Naqarullah Khan: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the steps that the Government has taken about the Shahidganj dispute so far with reference to the statement made by him in the last Budget session?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana): It is not in the public interest to answer this question.

JAHANGIRI LAL OF LAHORE CONSPIRACY CASE PRISONER.

*2970. Sardar Partab Singh: Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of times Mr. Jahangiri Lal has been admitted into the Mayo Hospital since his conviction in the second Lahore Conspiracy case of 1938, and the reasons for the same;
- (b) the number and nature of operations he had undergone so far;
- (c) when he had his last operation and the number of days he stayed in the Mayo Hospital;
- (d) whether his case for release has been considered by the Punjab Government since April 15, 1938; if so, with what result?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal: (a) He was admitted to the Mayo Hospital, Lahore, from the 6th of May 1938 to the 22nd of May, 1938, for operative treatment for prepatellar bursitis (Inflammation of knees). He was also sent to the Mayo Hospital on the 25th of March, 1938, 1st of April, 1938 and the 11th of April, 1938 for treatment for Trichiasis (eye-trouble).

(b) One—as stated above.

(c) 6th of May, 1938, to 22nd of May, 1938.

(d) No.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I ask the Honourable Minister whether the prisoner Jahangiri Lal is bodily infirm and a cripple?

Minister: He is missing both his legs below the knees and so were they missing when he committed the offence. (Laughter.)

Sardar Hari Singh: If this prisoner is released, how is he going to constitute a menace to law and order?

Premier: Just as he managed to do before.

Sardar Hari Singh: We doubt very much whether he did anything.

Minister: I cannot go against the finding of the Court.

RELEASE OF MESSRS. ROOP CHAND, INDAR PAL AND OTHERS.

*2971. Sardar Partab Singh: Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state whether the Punjab Government has considered the case for the release of Messrs. Roop Chand, Indar Lal, Gulab Singh,

[S. Partab Singh.]

Malik Kundan Lal and Dhanwantri, since 19th April, 1938 ; if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Mr. Manchar Lal : Dhanwantri was convicted by another administration outside the Punjab. Government has not considered the question of release of the other prisoners mentioned in this question yet.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : When can it be expected that that question will be considered by the Government ?

Minister : Many of these prisoners have very long terms of sentences yet to go through.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Last year the Premier was pleased to say that the cases of these people are brought under consideration of the Government every now and then.

Minister : I do not think that the Premier referred to these prisoners. I think he referred to State prisoners and possibly the Criminal Law Amendment Act prisoners so far as my recollection goes.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : The question was about political prisoners.

Mr. Speaker : I have stated more than once that whenever a reference is made to what took place in this House before, the honourable members should rely on the printed proceedings, so that there may be no misunderstanding.

FOOD GIVEN IN JAILS TO PRISONERS UNDERGOING HARD LABOUR.

*2972. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the food given in jails to the prisoners undergoing hard labour such as chali, kharas, lohlu, gatta, etc., possesses the same food value as the one given to the prisoners undergoing simple imprisonment ; if not, the action Government proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mr. Manchar Lal : Diet given to prisoners doing hard labour is of greater food value than that given to prisoners undergoing simple imprisonment. The honourable member is referred in this regard to paragraph 920 of the Punjab Jail Manual.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether any improvement has been made in the diet of prisoners referred to here since the present Ministry took office ? Did the Honourable Minister make any improvement or change in the diet given to the prisoners since he took charge of this department ?

Minister : There has been no occasion. They are getting all the food which under the Rules they should have.

Sardar Hari Singh : What I want to know is whether any change has been made in the Jail rules to improve the food of prisoners ?

Minister : Why should a change have been made ?

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether it has been brought to his notice that the provincial Ministers in other Congress provinces have made improvements in the diet given to prisoners ?

Premier : Their diet must have been inferior to ours.

Minister : It has not come to my notice.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is the Finance Minister aware of the fact that there is no Vitamin D in the jail diet prescribed under the Rules ?

Minister : Is the honourable member quite sure ? Has he examined the food and all the various kinds of vitamins that exist in one or the other kind of foods ?

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether he has satisfied himself thoroughly that the present diet of prisoners in Punjab jails is of adequate nutritive value ?

Minister : I have had no occasion to satisfy myself personally, but I have no reason to think that the diet given at present has not full nutritive value.

Sardar Hari Singh : Has he the intention of applying his mind to this problem of great importance to the prisoners ?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Can I know if any complaints were received in which it was alleged that they were not getting the same diet as was prescribed in the Jail Manual ?

Minister : I have received no such complaint.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

QUANTITY OF GUR GIVEN TO EACH PRISONER UNDERGOING HARD LABOUR.

*2973. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the quantity of gur given to each prisoner undergoing hard labour in the jails of the province ;
- (b) whether that quantity was ever reduced ; if so, when and how much ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Each labouring prisoner has been allowed one chattak gur daily since 1932. Previously there was no such ration.

(b) No.

SUPPLY OF SHEETS (GHADDARS) TO 'C' CLASS PRISONERS.

*2974. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government is aware of the fact that sheets (chaddars) are supplied to 'C' class prisoners in jails every year only from 15th April to 15th October ;

[S. Partab Singh.]

(b) whether it has been brought to his notice that they require these sheets throughout the year; if so, the action Government proposes to take in the matter?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes.

(b) Government do not consider that the supply of chaddars in the winter months is a prime necessity as is the case in the summer. The cost of supplying sheets all the year round would be very great and in view of other more urgent demands Government doubt whether this expenditure would be justifiable.

ABOLITION OF CHAKI, KOHLU, ETC., AS MEANS OF HARD LABOUR.

*2975. Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state whether the present Government has ever considered the question of abolishing chaki, kohlu, kharas and ghotas from jails as means of hard labour; if so, with what results?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : Steps have been taken to stop the production of oil by manual labour. It is also proposed to do away with manual kharases. The abolition of chakis and ghotas is not yet contemplated.

POLICE SEARCH IN DWARKA DAS LIBRARY.

*2976. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the police searched the Dwarka Das Library situated in the Lajpatrai Bhawan, Lahore, on the 10th May, 1938;

(b) whether they seized any books from the said library, if so, the number and the names of the books so seized;

(c) the list of the books the police party had with them to guide them in seizing certain books?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes, twelve books, of which it is not in the public interest to give names, were seized.

(c) It is not in the public interest to furnish the list.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Government be pleased to state if any of those books were returned?

Parliamentary Secretary : Some of them were returned.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Was Carl Marx's "Communist Manifesto" among the books that were proscribed?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am afraid I cannot answer this question.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know whether Government has any objection to the library-walas themselves publishing the list of books which were taken away by the police?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow this question.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is he sure that these books are not in possession of other libraries ?

Premier : I do not get time to read these books on account of the pressure of these questions, etc.

Sardar Hari Singh : If the Honourable Premier has not read these books, may I know why he sanctioned the proscription of these books ?

Premier : These books are examined by an officer specially deputed by Government for this purpose.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I know whether Government is sure that the books seized were not entered in the Library Register and could not be known to all, and therefore, the question of withholding the names does not arise ?

Premier : If the honourable member comes to that conclusion, he is welcome.

Lala Duni Chand : Has the Honourable Premier any knowledge of the substance or the subject matter of these books, so that the House may know whether Government had any justification to seize these books ?

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know whether he automatically signs the proscription orders ?

Premier : What does he mean by 'automatically' ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether any of the books, which were seized, were proscribed by Government ?

Premier : Yes, some of them were under the Sea Customs Act.

Mr. Dev Raj Sethi : Was any attempt made to find out if those books were not to be found in other libraries ?

Premier : If the honourable member knows he may send me the information.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I enquire why the Dwarka Das Library has been chosen for the search and confiscation ?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot answer this question off-hand. There may be other libraries too.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I enquire whether those officers who came to search the library had a list of the books which they were to seize and if so, on what basis was that list prepared ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have already said that I cannot give a reply to this question.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether they had any list with them ?

Premier : They had a list with them and there were certain books which were proscribed under the Sea Customs Act.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : On what basis was that list prepared ?

Premier : Those books which were prohibited under the Sea Customs Act were given in the list.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : There were also books which were not proscribed.

Premier : There are different kinds of proscriptions, if I may point out to him : there are certain proscriptions under the Sea Customs Act and there are certain proscriptions under the ordinary law of the land.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Are the Government sure that this book was not included in the list of books supplied to the Police ?

Premier : I am afraid I have no information on that.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Are the Government aware of the fact that both the books, i.e., "Marx and Engels' Correspondence" and the "Manifesto" have been published in all the languages of the world and are not proscribed anywhere ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

SUICIDES COMMITTED IN THE PUNJAB.

*2977. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of suicides committed in the Punjab from April, 1937, to March, 1938 ;
- (b) the number of attempted suicides and whether any of them resulted in conviction ;
- (c) the motives that led the people concerned to such desperation in each case ;
- (d) whether the Government has considered the question of adopting any ways and means to bring down the number of suicides ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daultana) : The answer to this question is not yet ready. It will be communicated to the honourable member when ready.

APPLICATION OF SARDAR RAM SINGH DATTA TO LIVE IN LAHORE OR AMRITSAR DURING HIS INTERNMENT.

*2978. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab, received letters, dated the 12th and 21st March, 1938, from Sardar Ram Singh Datta, of village Viram Dattan, thana Shah Gharib, district Gurdaspur, requesting that he be allowed to live in Lahore or Amritsar city during his internment to enable him to do something to earn his livelihood there ;
- (b) whether he further requested in his letters mentioned above that if his residence be considered prejudicial to public peace and safety in those cities he be allowed to go outside the Punjab to maintain himself and his wife ;

(c) if the answer to (a) and (b) be in the affirmative, the action taken or proposed to be taken on those letters?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana): (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Ram Singh Datta was informed that Government were not prepared to alter the order.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I ask whether before issuing the internment orders regarding this poor man Government satisfied itself that he had sufficient means of livelihood in his village?

Premier: Enquiries are always made before internment.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know whether the answer is in the affirmative or in the negative?

Premier: The answer is that enquiries are always made before a person is interned. I leave it to the honourable member whether it is in the affirmative or in the negative as it suits him.

Sardar Hari Singh: In what manner did Government satisfy itself that he had sufficient means of livelihood in his village?

Premier: Enquiries are made through the local officers.

Sardar Hari Singh: Who made the enquiries in this case?

Premier: If my honourable friend does not know the meaning of local officers then I cannot help him.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know if orders were issued after receiving the report from the enquiring officer?

Premier: Orders are always issued after examining and considering the report whether he has got sufficient means.

Sardar Hari Singh: Did he submit an application to be permitted to go outside the Punjab to earn his living?

Premier: I will be prepared to consider the position if I receive an application from the person concerned.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh: He did send an application.

Premier: Not to this effect.

Lala Duni Chand: What means of livelihood has he in the village in which he is interned?

Premier: If the honourable member wants to know, he should give notice for it.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia: Was an enquiry made in this case with regard to his means of subsistence after the report that he had no means?

Premier: An enquiry was again made whether the previous enquiry was correct.

INTERNMENT OF SARDAR RAM SINGH DATTA.

*2979. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the date on which and the reasons for which Sardar Ram Singh Datta of village Viram Dattan, police station Shah Gharib, district Gurdaspur, was interned in his village ;
- (b) the date on which this order will expire ;
- (c) whether the Government intends to consider the question of cancelling this order before its expiry ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : (a) Ram Singh Datta was restricted to his village on the ground that he had acted and was about to act in a manner prejudicial to the public safety and peace. The order restricting him was served on 10th March, 1938.

(b) 6th March, 1939.

(c) Government have no intention at present to reverse their order.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : May I know whether the Punjab Government knows Astronomy also ? (Laughter).

Mr. Speaker : Order, order.

DEMAND OF SECURITIES FROM NEWSPAPERS.

*2980. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of declarations filed by persons in the Punjab for bringing out weekly papers in English, Urdu, Punjabi or Hindi since the beginning of the year 1938 up to the end of May, 1938 ;
- (b) the names of the papers from which securities have been demanded and the amount of securities demanded in each case ;
- (c) the names of the papers from which no security has been demanded ;
- (d) the reasons for this discrimination ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana) : (a) Thirty-four.

(b) Initial securities of Rs. 500 and Rs. 250 respectively were demanded from, and were deposited by, two weekly papers, viz., the Progressive of Lahore and the Aftab of Amritsar. Securities were also demanded from 32 other weekly papers that were intended to be started, but the securities were not deposited and the papers did not appear.

(c) A list is laid on the table. No security was demanded from 34 weekly papers.

(d) Securities were demanded from the weekly papers, mentioned in (b) above, as there were reasons to believe that they were likely to be used

For one of the purposes enumerated in section 4 (1) of the Indian Press (Emergency Powers) Act.

The names of the papers from which no security has been demanded.

NEWSPAPERS AND BOOKS SUPPLIED TO SARDAR TEJA SINGH SWATANTAR, A STATE PRISONER.

*2981. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the names of the monthlies, weeklies, and dailies supplied to Sardar Teja Singh Swatantar, M.L.A., a state prisoner in the Campbellpur Jail;
- (b) whether any books were disallowed to him in the jail in the last four months; if so, their names;
- (c) the state of his health at present?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana): (a) He is supplied at his own expense with the daily Tribune, and the monthly magazine Phulwari.

(b) No.

(c) His health is now satisfactory.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I ask the honourable Parliamentary Secretary whether he has seen the recent news appearing in the Tribune and other papers to the effect that the members of his family and his mother interviewed the prisoner on the 25th June and found that he had blood pressure?

Parliamentary Secretary: We have made enquiries and found that his health is now satisfactory.

Sardar Hari Singh: May I know whether he has made enquiries subsequent to the date on which his father interviewed him on the 25th June?

Premier: Does the honourable member wish to convey that his blood pressure has gone up since he gave notice of that question?

Sardar Hari Singh: I want to know whether it is a fact that the father of S. Teja Singh Swatantar stated in the press that when he interviewed him in the jail he found that he was on that date suffering from high blood pressure?

Premier: Is he a doctor?

Lala Duni Chand: Is the Honourable Premier quite sure that there was no rise of blood pressure on 25th June?

Premier: That question does not arise out of this question. The question was asked about a particular date and on that date his health was perfectly satisfactory.

Sadar Hari Singh: What is his present state of health? Are we not entitled to know that?

Premier: The honourable member may table another question.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra: With reference to part (a) of this question, may I know whether the Punjab Gazette and other proceedings are also being sent to S. Teja Singh Swatantar?

Parliamentary Secretary: They are being sent.

Sardar Hari Singh : Under the Parliamentary practice, the words "at present", I think mean the date on which the question is put on the agenda and not the date on which this question was sent to the office of the Assembly.

Premier : The latest information available is that his health is satisfactory.

Munshi Hari Lal : Is the Government aware that he ever suffered from high blood pressure ?

Premier : He never suffered at all from high blood pressure. It is possible that he might have blood pressure but the report indicated that his health was satisfactory.

Munshi Hari Lal : Is it possible or is it a fact that he was suffering from high blood pressure ?

Sardar Hari Singh : May I have your ruling under Parliamentary practice about the meaning of the words "at present" in the question ?

Mr. Speaker : These words do not necessarily mean this day, or this hour.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : May I know on what date the answer to this question was received ?

Premier : Perhaps the honourable member is expecting me to carry all the dates in my head.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member's original question was, 'What is his condition of health at present?' As to his supplementary questions, does he expect the Honourable Premier or any Government Member to be ready with the information as to what happened this morning ?

SARDAR WASDEV SINGH, STATE PRISONER IN CENTRAL JAIL, LAHORE.

*2882. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the weight of Sardar Wasdev Singh, a state prisoner in the Central Jail, Lahore, on his admission to the Jail ;
- (b) his weight at present ;
- (c) whether his health has deteriorated in these days ;
- (d) the reasons for this deterioration ;
- (e) whether the Government has considered or intends to consider the question of releasing him soon ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmed Yar Khan Daultana : (a), (b), (c) and (d) : I would refer the honourable member to the reply given to question No. *2712<sup>a</sup> put by Sardar Hari Singh.

(e) The cases of all State prisoners are reviewed periodically. It is not proposed to release this prisoner at present.

NOMINATIONS TO PUBLIC BODIES.

*2963. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the qualifications necessary for nominating a person to a public body ;
 (b) the considerations that weighed with the Government while recently nominating persons to the Amritsar Municipal Committee ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Government have not prescribed any hard and fast rules prescribing the qualifications for nominated members. In making nominations the first and foremost consideration is the interest of the local body concerned.

(b) In making nominations on the Amritsar Municipal Committee the considerations referred to in (a) were kept in view.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Do Government propose to make any hard and fast rules with regard to these nominations ?

Minister : It is not necessary.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that the general practice in regard to these nominations is that only those persons are nominated who are either favourites of local authorities or of the Government ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : May I know whether it is a fact that no nomination was made out of those names who had been recommended by the Deputy Commissioner ?

Minister : I am afraid that information is confidential and I cannot enlighten the honourable member.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the inclusion of the names of candidates in register X of the police be a disqualification for nomination ?

Minister : Can you quote an instance ?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : May I know whether some letters were sent to the Deputy Commissioner informing him that amongst the persons whom he was going to nominate there was one man whose name was on register X ?

Minister : Will you please name the man ? I am not aware of any such letter having been received by Government.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : I can take the fullest responsibility for this statement. His name is not with me now. I will give it to-morrow.

Minister : When the honourable member gives the name he will get the reply.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : When making enquiries about the names whether such and such a person is on register X, the Honourable Premier had said that the names could not be given because it was not in the public interest. May I know from the Honourable Minister whether it is in the public interest to enquire the name of the nominated Municipal Commissioner alleged to be on register X ?

Minister : It is not in the public interest to divulge matters that are confidential.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : If the Deputy Commissioner recommends the name of a person who is on the police register X, may I know if he will have the support of the Government ?

Minister : That is a hypothetical question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : It is not a hypothetical question. The Honourable Minister said that certain considerations are kept in view at the time of nomination. My question is whether it is a fact that if a deputy commissioner nominates a person whose name is in police register X, he will be supported by the Government. That is a simple enough question.

Minister : It is still a hypothetical question.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Is one of the nominated members a syce of a Parliamentary Secretary ?

Minister : Not to my knowledge. The honourable member may consult the Gazette. I may say that syces are recruited for the stables and not for municipal committees (Laughter).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it that syces have been nominated for stables and not for municipal committees ?

Minister : To my knowledge no syce has been nominated to the Municipal Committee.

Lala Bhagat Ram Choda : Has the Government adopted the policy of nominating persons who have been in police register X ?

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

COMMISSION PAID TO THE SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER, PUNJAB.

*2984. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state the amount of commission further paid to the Special Official Receiver, Punjab, in regard to all estates under his control from 1st September, 1937, to 31st May, 1938 ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The total commission paid to the Official Receiver from the 1st September, 1937, to the 31st March, 1938, amounts to Rs. 76,429-15-0. This includes commission on the shares of the Bharat Insurance Company.

SALE OF SHARES OF LALA HARKISHAN LAL IN BHARAT INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

*2985. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Special Official Receiver has drawn any commission on the sale of shares of Lala Harkishan Lal in the Bharat Insurance Company, Limited; if so, how much, when and at what rate;

[Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava.]

- (b) whether it is a fact that the sale of the above-mentioned share was conducted by the Honourable Judges of the High Court in open Court under their supervision ;
- (c) whether the Official Receiver did anything as such in this transaction over and above inserting an advertisement in the press notifying the date of auction ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Rs. 55,000 as commission at 5 per cent. was paid to the Special Official Receiver on the 4th May, 1938.

(b) and (c) It is not in the public interest to answer questions which tend to reflect on the judicial acts of the High Court.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I only wanted to know what part was played by the Official Receiver and not by the High Court.

Minister : I have answered that question.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it a fact that the Official Receiver only sent an advertisement to newspapers for the sale of these shares under the instructions of the High Court and did nothing else ?

Minister : The answer to the question can be given in a simple negative. But I gave the answer that I did because it is not possible to probe into the matter any further, for, the moment you seek the information which is necessary to answer my friend's question, you enter matters which lie within the judicial acts of the High Court, and we cannot examine them here.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister please state the nature, extent and amount of work for which such a huge consideration was paid ?

Minister : I have already answered that question.

PAYMENT OF COMMISSION TO SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER ON THE SALE OF SHARES OF LALA HARKISHAN LAL IN THE BHARAT INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

*2986. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Bharat Insurance Company, Ltd., claimed lien on the shares of Lala Harkishan Lal and whether that claim was recognised by the High Court and whether the lien-holders agreed to the payment of the commission that was paid to the Special Official Receiver on the sale of those shares and if so, when did they so agree ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The Bharat Insurance Company claimed a lien on the shares, which was acknowledged by the parties concerned and approved by the Court. The Bharat Insurance Company agreed in open Court on the 24th June 1937 to the payment of the commission due to the Official Receiver on the sale of these shares.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Was he entitled to such a commission under the conditions on which he was employed ?

Minister : Yes.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Was he also a Director of the Bharat Insurance Company at that time ?

Minister : I do not see how that question arises.

EMOLUMENTS AND PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT OF THE SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER.

*2867. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether there has been any change in the period of appointment of the Special Official Receiver and his emoluments since 1st April, 1938, when reply to my starred questions Nos. 1075 and 1982 was given and if so, when and what change has been made ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The answer is in the negative.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Was he originally appointed on commission basis ?

Minister : I think I referred to this matter at length the other day. No change whatever has been made in the terms of his appointment.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Am I to understand that when the Government appointed him for five years instead of one year it was on commission basis at that time also ?

Minister : I am disposed to say 'yes', but if the honourable member wants me to be absolutely precise in the matter, I should like to have notice.

Premier : I may say that he was appointed on commission basis.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Was he not appointed on Rs. 1,000 only ?

Premier : I have not seen the papers, but I do not wish to probe into the matter.

PAYMENT OF COMMISSION TO THE SPECIAL OFFICIAL RE-CEIVER INSTEAD OF FIXED SALARY.

*2868. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the emolument of the Special Official Receiver as originally fixed at the time of his first appointment in May, 1936 ;
- (b) whether it was later on decided to pay him commission instead of a fixed salary and if so, why and what was the total amount of transactions done by him from the date of his first appointment to the date when it was decided to pay him commission ;
- (c) whether the system of commission has again been changed to salary basis and if so, when and why ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) When the Special Official Receiver was first appointed by Government in May 1936 no order was passed as to his emoluments, as Government desired to consult the Honourable

[Finance Minister.]

Judges. Subsequently Government passed orders that the Special Official Receiver should be paid according to the usual rules in High Court Rules and Orders, Volume II, Chapter V.

(b) No.

(c) No.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Am I to understand that he never drew Rs. 1,000 a month after his appointment? If he did, was it deducted from the commission paid to him later?

Minister : May I have notice of the question?

LEAVE, SALARY, ETC. GRANTED TO THE SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER.

*2989. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to lay on the table the rules, if any, which govern the leave, salary, etc., granted to the Special Official Receiver, and state—

(a) whether the Special Official Receiver has taken any leave this year and if so, for what period and from whom and on what terms;

(b) what arrangements have been made for carrying on the work during his absence and on what terms and by whom?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) There are no rules regarding the grant of leave to the Special Official Receiver. He has, however, been permitted temporarily to absent himself by the Honourable Judges who are satisfied that proper arrangements have been made for the carrying on of his work in his absence.

(b) The Honourable Judges have allowed two of the Special Official Receiver's assistants to carry on the work in his absence, the Special Official Receiver however remaining responsible for their acts.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is any special remuneration going to be paid to these assistants?

Minister : Perhaps out of the share that falls to the lot of the Official Receiver under the rules and regulations of the High Court.

STATUS OF ASSISTANTS, OF THE SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER AND THE APPOINTMENT OF COURT AUCTIONEER,
LAHORE TARSIL.

*2990. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

(a) the names of those persons who assist the Special Official Receiver in his work and the amount of commission paid to each during the year 1937-38 and their respective duties;

(b) whether it is a fact that one of these principal assistants has also been appointed court auctioneer for the Lahore talsil in supersession to the old well-known firm of Messrs. Jamsatjee and Sons; if so, why, and the amount of remuneration earned by him as such so far, since his appointment?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a)—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Thakar Fakir Singh .. ..	11,729	1	8
Sheikh Manzur Qadar .. ..	715	2	6
Shaikh Muhammad Jamil .. ..	287	9	1
Mr. Amar Nath Kirpal .. ..	88	11	10

It may be explained that each of these assistants is given a whole insolvent's estate to deal with turn by turn and gets 4-5ths of the commission on realisations of that estate. The commission is not pooled between the four assistants.

(b) Yes, under the orders of the Honourable Judges. His remuneration, after deducting expenses since his appointment, has amounted approximately to Rs. 3,500.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether the principal assistant who has been appointed to work as court auctioneer at Lahore had any business relations with the Official Receiver before his appointment ?

Minister : I have no knowledge of it.

SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER'S TRIP TO EUROPE.

*2991. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Special Official Receiver went to Europe in July and also in October, 1937, if so, whether he went on duty and if so, the nature of the official business and the authority under whose orders he went abroad with the amount of expenses incurred by him on his journey and the head of expenditure from which this expenditure was met ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) In July 1937 the Special Official Receiver proceeded to England to instruct his solicitors in connection with the application made by Mr. J. L. Gauba to the Privy Council regarding the sale of certain shares formerly held by his father, the late Lala Harkishan Lal. As the Receiver was also conversant with the facts relating to certain other applications of Mr. Gauba he was instructed to assist the Crown counsel on any other points on which information might be sought from him. He was deputed to proceed to England in connection with Mr. Gauba's application with respect to the shares of his father by the Honourable Judges of the High Court. His expenses, the amount of which is not known, are understood to have been debited to the estate of the late Lala Harkishan Lal.

(b) The Special Official Receiver visited England again in October 1937. This visit was made at the suggestion of the solicitors of the India Office in order to assist them in connection with two applications filed by Mr. Gauba in the Privy Council against certain orders of the Honourable Judges passed against him for contempt of court. In this case the Punjab Government was the authority which passed orders for the journey. The passage expenses were Rs. 1,896, and a compensatory allowance was granted under the usual rules. The expenditure was debited to the head "27-B—Administration of Justice—Law Officers—Counsel's fees".

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Did he fly or did he go by a ship?

Minister : I really do not know. I know nothing officially about this matter. But does it really matter whether he flew or went by a boat?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I want to know whether under the rules every officer is entitled to a journey allowance or travelling allowance at a higher rate than the cost for an ordinary journey? For instance it may cost less to go in a ship. Did the Government pay him for flying rather than going in a ship?

Minister : I have not followed the question. If I were to understand the question as asking whether every officer is given this and that, I might straightaway say 'no.' It will depend upon circumstances. It is not the case that every officer is paid to fly to England or is necessarily paid a particular class even by the boat. What is the question, may I know?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What are the rules for payment of travelling allowance or conveyance allowance to officers? Are they given the passage which costs least to the Government? For example, if it costs less to go by a ship than by an aeroplane will the Government pay the officer the lower or the higher cost?

Minister : I shall make the rules available to the honourable member if he so desires. I cannot say straightaway that an officer, whatever the circumstances may be, would only be paid according to the usual rates by a boat. Possibly so, but I could not say definitely. But I will make the rules available to the honourable member if he so desires.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that the cost of going by a steamer is much less than the cost of going by an aeroplane? If so, may I know whether this gentleman was paid the cost of going by a steamer or the cost of going by an aeroplane?

Minister : I do not know whether the cost is much less. Much will depend upon the meaning of the word 'much.' But we all know that the ordinary passage by a boat is less than the passage by air. As to whether this particular officer actually went by air and was paid the passage as it would be in the case of going by air, I do not know at present, but if due notice is given I shall be glad to answer to the question.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that the cost for first class passage by steamer is about Rs. 1,000 and the cost of going by air is about Rs. 2,000?

Minister : No, nothing of the kind. But if my honourable friend wants to know, he can on his way back consult Messrs. Thomas Cook and Sons, they will give him the precise information. I am not an expert in this matter.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Why has not the Honourable Member been able to know the amount of expenditure incurred by the Special Officer on his first trip?

Minister : For the simple reason that the payment was not made by the Government. It was a matter entirely for the High Court to pay out of the estate of Lala Harkishan Lal which was being administered by this Special Official Receiver.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Under the authority of the court ?

Minister : Yes.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Therefore that question is relevant.

Minister : It is entirely a matter lying within the judicial discretion of the High Court and the Government is not interested in the actual payment made.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

APPOINTMENT OF THE SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER AS LIQUIDATOR OF THE PUNJAB COTTON PRESS CO.

*2902. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Special Official Receiver has also been appointed liquidator of the Punjab Cotton Press Co., Ltd., Lahore ;
- (b) who was the liquidator originally appointed and what were the reasons for his removal ;
- (c) whether the assets of the above-mentioned company principally consist of flour mills, ginning machines and presses and other factories ; if so, what is the total cost of these and whether they are to be sold now ; if so, whether any commission has been fixed as payable to this liquidator on these sales and if so, how much ?

The Honourable Mr. Manchar Lal : As the subject matter of this question relates to a matter which is pending before the Honourable Judges of the High Court I regret that no answer can be given.

SUPERVISION AND INSPECTION OF WORK OF DISTRICT RECEIVERS BY SPECIAL OFFICIAL RECEIVER.

*2903. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) whether there are any rules under which the Special Official Receiver has been authorised by the High Court to inspect the work of the official receivers in the districts ; if so, the date when these rules were framed and also whether he will be pleased to lay a copy of these rules on the table of the House ;
- (b) if there be no such rules the extent of the power of supervision vested in the Special Official Receiver over the district receivers ;
- (c) whether this supervision by the Special Official Receiver over the district official receivers is exercised independently of the district judge under whose control the district receivers' work under the existing law ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : I would refer the honourable member to the answer given to his question No. *1078<sup>1</sup> in the spring session.

COURT AUCTIONEERS FOR AMRITSAR DISTRICT.

*2994. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and names of court auctioneers for Amritsar district in the year 1936-37 and 1937-38 ;
- (b) whether the present auctioneer, Amritsar, belongs to Amritsar district and if not, why he was imported and what his special qualifications and experience are ;
- (c) whether any applications were invited before the present auctioneer was appointed ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The attention of the honourable member is invited to the reply given to his questions Nos. *669<sup>2</sup> and *670<sup>2</sup>, asked in the last session of the Legislative Assembly.

STATUS OF OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR OF PEOPLES BANK OF NORTHERN INDIA, LIMITED.

*2995. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the date on which the Peoples Bank of Northern India, Limited, Lahore, was ordered to be officially wound up by the High Court, Lahore ;
- (b) the name of the Official Liquidator appointed and the remuneration fixed at the time of his appointment ;
- (c) whether any change has been made in the terms fixing his emoluments ; if so, when it was made and the reasons for this change ;
- (d) the total amount of salary or commission or both paid to him from the date of his appointment up to 31st May, 1938 ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) 22nd May, 1935.

(b), (c) and (d) The appointment and remuneration of the Official Liquidators are a matter within the judicial discretion of the High Court.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Am I to understand that I cannot get even that information ? I know I cannot discuss the actions of the High Court and, therefore, cannot put supplementary questions.

Minister : The matter as to exactly what is the amount paid is one which is within the judicial discretion of the High Court and the honourable member is just as much in a position to ascertain it as the Government.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Was the amount of Rs. 55,000 also paid out of that estate ?

Minister : That was so paid in the matter of the sale of Bharat Insurance Company shares during the course of the receivership.

<sup>2</sup>Volume I, page 1798.

TOTAL EXPENDITURE UP TO 31ST MAY ON LIQUIDATION OF PEOPLES
BANK OF NORTHERN INDIA, LIMITED.

*2996. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state the total expenditures incurred up to 31st May on the liquidation of the Peoples Bank of Northern India, Ltd., showing separately :—

- (a) remuneration to Liquidator ;
- (b) cost of establishment ;
- (c) legal charges ;
- (d) other expenses including travelling allowances ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : I would refer the honourable member to the answer given to his question *2995 (above).

GHORAGALI SCHOOL AND COLLEGE.

*2997. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether the Ghoragali School and College are admitting Indian students also ; if so, how many of them are admitted to this school and college per year ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : Yes, the number varies and depends upon—

- (i) the rules, about admission, framed by Government,
- (ii) position on registration list,
- (iii) existence of vacancies in the classes for which the students are fitted ;
- (iv) proficiency in English, and
- (v) limit of age.

ADMISSION OF INDIAN STUDENTS TO GHORAGALI SCHOOL AND COLLEGE.

*2998. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of Indian students—(i) who applied for admission into the Ghoragali School and College and (ii) the number of those among them who were admitted, during the last academic year ;
- (b) the number of Indian students on the rolls of the College and School at Ghoragali in the years 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987 and 1988 and whether this number was according to the proportion fixed for the Indian students ; and if not, the action that the Government proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) (i) 18.

(ii) 8.

[Minister for Finance.]

(b) The number of Indian students on rolls of the college and school was as follows:—

1934 .. .. .	81
1935 .. .. .	82
1936 .. .. .	85
1937 .. .. .	90
1938 .. .. .	25

The limit laid down in this regard, in the Punjab European Education Code, was not transgressed.

The last part of the question does not arise.

MILITARY TRAINING IN GHORAGALI SCHOOL AND COLLEGE.

*2999. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state whether it is a fact that distinction is being maintained in the matter of giving military training to the students reading in the School and College at Ghoragali; if so, the reasons therefor and the action that is proposed to be taken to remove that distinction?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal: Yes, because under the existing army regulations Indians are not permitted to become Riflemen or Cadets in the A. F. (I). The Principal of the College has in the past tried to obtain this permission for Indian students, but without success.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: What is the intention of the Government with respect to the disability which exists in the case of Indians? Do they propose to move in the matter?

Minister: Government is taking no further action. The Principal is trying to have this restriction removed and it is a matter for the Army Department.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: Do not the Government intend moving the Army Department?

*3000. Cancelled.

COW SLAUGHTER-HOUSE ON SANDA ROAD, LAHORE.

*3001. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Lahore Municipality decided to remove the present cow slaughter-house on Sanda Road, Lahore; if so, when it was so decided;
- (b) whether the decision of the Municipality was considered by the Government and if so, when and with what result;
- (c) whether that decision has been reconsidered by the Government very recently, and if so, with what result?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes, in its resolution No. 669 passed on the 29rd of October, 1936, and again in its resolution No. 110 passed on 8th June, 1936.

(b) Yes, on 2nd December, 1936. This decision had no result, because 32 members of the Municipal Committee sent to the President a requisition on 12th June, 1936, asking for a reconsideration of the previous decision of the committee.

(c) The honourable member is referred to the reply given to question No. *2703.<sup>1</sup>

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether there was a conference between the Minister for Education and the Minister for Local Self-Government and the Administrator, and whether it was decided that the slaughter-house at Lahore be removed from its present place and the land be auctioned ?

Minister : I am not aware of any such conference during the life of the present Government, but if the honourable member is referring to the past Government the reply is contained in part (b) of the answer.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : It was after the date to which the Honourable Minister is referring. I am given to understand that a conference was held after that date. I want to know whether it was held or not.

Minister : If you give me notice of the question I shall be glad to give you the information.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it a fact that the present Administrator of the Lahore Municipality replied to a representation of the residents of this place that he was awaiting the construction of the abattoir and then they would build a slaughter-house on the lines of the abattoir.

Minister : It does not arise out of this question but if you give me notice I shall be glad to reply.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know what led the present Government to change its decision and why they do not want to consider the desirability of removing the slaughter-house from the place ?

Minister : The reply has already been given and there was a lot of supplementary questions. I am referring to my reply to question No. *2703.<sup>1</sup>

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I know. I put those questions myself. But my present question is different. It is what led the Minister to come to a decision that he is not prepared to consider the desirability of removing the slaughter-house ?

Minister : The reply is already there. For administrative reasons Government is unable to consider the matter at present.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What are those reasons ?

Minister : The difficulty of securing a suitable place.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Has the Municipality or the Nazul Department no land ?

Minister : Where is the guarantee that the people of this slaga will not object ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Do the Government not propose to remove the slaughter-house from its present place ?

Minister : What I have said is this that if you suggest a suitable place we will consider it, but where is the guarantee that the people of the new site will not object to it?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Because the Minister is not certain that objections will be raised, is he in favour of the idea of continuing this slaughter-house in its present place ?

Minister : This slaughter-house has been in existence for a very long time in its present place, and unless a suitable place is forthcoming, there is no use removing it.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Has there been no change in the circumstances since the time this slaughter-house was located there ?

Minister : Not so far as the slaughter-house is concerned.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is it within the knowledge of the Minister that houses have sprung up there ?

Minister : People came there deliberately with the full consciousness that the slaughter-house was there.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is Government really so callous to the requirements of health of the people living there ?

Minister : That is your own assumption. I have already said that if you make a suggestion for a site we will consider it.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Government remove it a mile further away ?

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

REDUCTION IN EXCHANGE RATIO.

*3002. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister of Finance be pleased to state —

(a) whether it is a fact that he has received a communication from the Finance Minister, Bombay, regarding a representation to be made to the Government of India with respect to the reduction in Exchange Ratio from 1s. 6d. to 1s. 4d. ;

(b) if so—

(i) whether the Government of India have been addressed on the subject ; and

(ii) whether any reply has been sent to the Finance Minister, Bombay ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes.

(b) —

(i) No.

(ii) Yes.

Munshi Hari Lal : May I know the tenor of the reply?

Minister : I have replied in full. One of the questions was whether the Government of India have been addressed on the subject. My answer was : No. Another question was whether any reply has been given to the Finance Minister of Bombay. My reply was : Yes.

Munshi Hari Lal : I want to know the tenor of the reply.

Minister : The reply of the Punjab Government to the Bombay Government is confidential.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister please state the point of view of the Punjab Government in regard to this question of ratio? Will he also state his own views on it?

Minister : What has my knowledge of it to do with the views of the Punjab Government in the matter of the proper ratio?

Lala Duni Chand : Is the Punjab Government in favour of the reduction of the present ratio?

Minister : That is the very question that I have just answered. I have said that the communication in which we expressed our views to the Bombay Government is confidential.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What is the view of the Punjab Government?

Minister : We have conveyed our views to the Bombay Government and our views are confidential.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I am not asking the nature of the reply. I am only asking the opinion of the Punjab Government on a very vital question, a question which is uppermost in the minds of the people. The Government should not fight shy of answering it.

Minister : The answer contained the opinion of the Punjab Government and nothing else.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : May I know the views of the Punjab Government on the present ratio?

Minister : No.

Munshi Hari Lal : Does the Government intend to move the Government of India for the reduction of the ratio in the interests of traders and agriculturists? I want to know his intention.

Minister : It is a very big question. People may have one view or another as to what is in the interests of traders and agriculturists. It is not a simple proposition.

Munshi Hari Lal : Does the Government intend to move the Government of India for the reduction of the ratio? I eliminate the words 'in the interest of traders or agriculturists'?

Minister : That again is the same question as I have answered several times.

MOGA-KOT KAPURA ROAD OF FEROREPORE DISTRICT.

*3003. Pir Akbar Ali: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works kindly state—

- (i) if it is a fact that Moga-Kot Kapura road of the Ferozepore district was proposed to be taken over by the Public Works Department along with certain other roads,—vide page 285 of the " New expenditure for 1988-89 " ;
- (ii) whether it is a fact that in spite of provision of Rs. 47,000 having been made for the purpose in the " New Expenditure Memorandum for the year 1988-89 " the Public Works Department has not yet taken over charge of the said road ; if so, why ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (i) Yes.

(ii) No ; the road has not been taken over as yet because approval of the Government of India to the expenditure on reconditioning being debited to the Central Road Fund is yet awaited.

PERSONNEL OF PANCHAYAT FOR NINE VILLAGES IN SHUJABAD TAHSIL, MULTAN DISTRICT.

*3004. Mumshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the residents of mauza Kaisarpur and Matotli recently represented to the Deputy Commissioner, Multan district, against the personnel of the Panchayat consisting of three members two of them being real brothers and the third their first cousin, and having jurisdiction over villages, Matotli, Kaisarpur, Nasirpur, Halalwaja, Moripura, Nawa Chak, Sheikhpur, Sujra, Kilajpur, Hakimpur in Shujabad tahsil, Multan district ; if so, what action has been taken to remove the complaints of the petitioners ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : It is correct that a representation of the kind described was recently received from certain residents of revenue estates Kesarpur and Matotli. This petition is being enquired into ; but in the event of it being found that the allegations are correct it does not appear that any action can be taken to remove this complaint of the petitioners as there is nothing in the Panchayat Act or Rules to prevent near relations from standing for election, and being elected, as Panches.

EXCLUSION OF MAUZA KAISARPUR AND MATOTLI FROM THE JURISDICTION OF THE VILLAGE PANCHAYAT OF NASIRPUR.

*3005. Mumshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the residents of Mauza Kaisarpur and Matotli have recently represented to the Deputy Commissioner, Multan, that the said two mauzas may be excluded from the jurisdiction of the village Panchayat constituted for the nine villages of the Shujabad tahsil, known as village Panchayat of Nasirpur, and have also prayed that a separate Panchayat be constituted for these two villages ;

- (b) whether it is a fact that in the village Panchayat, Nasirpur, there is no representative of these two villages ;
- (c) the action, if any, that the said Deputy Commissioner has so far taken on the representation ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) There is no question of separate representation of different revenue estates as the panchas are elected out of and by the whole number of qualified voters. It is, however, correct that no panch of the Panchayat resides in Kesarpur or Matotli village.

(c) The Panchayat Officer has enquired into the representation and the result of his enquiries is under consideration.

LALA MUKHI RAM, MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER, HOSHIARPUR.

*3005-A. Malik Barkat Ali : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that one Lala Mukhi Ram, Municipal Commissioner, and at one time Vice-President of the Municipal Committee of Hoshiarpur, has made several balcony projections and crossings over municipal land without the permission of the Municipal Committee and in defiance of the bye-laws on the subject ;
- (b) whether representations against this illegal conduct of Lala Mukhi Ram were made to the authorities by one Shaikh Nasir-ud-Din of Hoshiarpur ; if so, whether any action has been taken on these representations ; if not, the reasons therefor ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Pandit Dwarka Nath, Local Body Officer, investigated into these complaints under the orders of the Deputy Commissioner, Hoshiarpur, and found them correct, and whether upon these complaints, the Deputy Commissioner ordered the removal of the said balcony projections and crossings ; if so, whether the said order of the Deputy Commissioner for the removal of the said balcony projections and crossings has not so far been carried out ;
- (d) whether Government is aware that the said Lala Mukhi Ram has built temporary shops on the said crossings and is getting rent without paying a single pie to the Municipal Committee as compensation ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that on the pushka of the Municipal drain the said Lala Mukhi Ram has actually erected a wall without the sanction of the Municipal Committee and in defiance of Municipal Rules ; if so, what action, if any, Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No.

(b) and (c) No such papers are now traceable in the Deputy Commissioner's office as such records are generally destroyed after a year from the date of their disposal.

(d) and (e) are incorrect.

GRIEVANCES OF MUSLIMS AGAINST MONTGOMERY MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

*3005-B. Malik Barkat Ali : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works kindly state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the number of Muslim representatives on the Municipal Committee, Montgomery, is 6 as against 7 Hindus and 2 Sikhs, and whether the Muslim population is more than that of the Hindus ;

(b) whether it is a fact that while non-Muslims in the service of the Municipal Committee, Montgomery, get 80 per cent. of the total salary expenditure, Muslims get not more than 20 per cent although their population in the Montgomery town is more than 40 per cent.;

(c) whether it is a fact that all the elected Muslim Municipal Commissioners of the Municipal Committee, Montgomery, have recently made a representation to the Deputy Commissioner concerned in regard to the grievances of the Muslim community against the administration of the municipal affairs at Montgomery ; if so, the action taken in the aforesaid representation and whether he would be pleased to place it on the table of the House ;

(d) whether the facts mentioned in the said representation ever formed the subject matter of any inquiry and whether they are true ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : I must decline with regret to answer questions which savour of communalism on the floor of the House. I am sorry to have to adopt this attitude but we consider it necessary in the public interest to establish a convention in connection with such questions. I shall, however, always be prepared to examine any particular instance of disproportionate representation which the honourable members may bring to my notice in a more informal way.

CASES DECIDED BY MAGISTRATES IN LUDHIANA DISTRICT IN APRIL AND MAY, 1988.

*3005-C. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state—

SHORT NOTICE QUESTION AND ANSWER.

REFUSAL TO ACCEPT VICTORIA RUPEES.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Finance Minister be pleased to state—

(a) whether Government are aware of the fact that there is a growing tendency in almost all the towns of the province not to accept genuine Victoria rupee coins and this is so even in the case of Railway Booking offices which refuse to accept such coins thereby causing great annoyance to the public ;

(b) if so, what steps do Government propose to take in the matter to check this tendency ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Yes. Such complaints have come to the notice of Government.

(b) Government have already taken the following action :—

(i) In September, 1936, the Currency Officer, Lahore, was addressed on the subject. In October, 1936, the Controller of Currency issued instructions to Treasury Officers that, so far as possible, "Empress" rupees should not be re-issued from the treasuries.

(ii) Copies of press communiqués issued by the Punjab Government in June, 1937, and by the Controller of Currency in July, 1937, are laid on the table.

(iii) The Punjab Government brought their press communiqué specially to the notice of the Postmaster-General and the Agent, North-Western Railway.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Has there been any increase in the activities of the Criminal Investigation Department in this connection?

Minister : I do not know. He might give me notice of this question.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Have the difficulties of the people been reduced in this connection?

Minister : I could not say whether they have been substantially reduced.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Government arrange to have such notifications made in the towns and villages of the province?

Minister : Government is doing all it can. As regards the particular details which the honourable member suggests, I am afraid it is very much a request for action and a very big request for action.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is it a crime to refuse such a coin?

Minister : Yes.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do the Government intend to utilize the services of special police?

Minister : I have no such intention at present.

Punjab Government Press Communiqué.

It has come to the notice of the Government that some misapprehension exists in the mind of the public in regard to one-rupee coins bearing the effigy of the late Queen Victoria. It is notified for general information that these coins continue to be legal tender, and that any person refusing to accept them will do so at his own risk and responsibility.

Press Communiqué.

In accordance with a recent decision Victoria rupees are not ordinarily re-issued from treasuries or from banks which transact Government business, and these rupees are thus being gradually replaced by coins of more recent mintage. It is understood that in some districts this decision has led to a belief that Victoria rupees are no longer legal tender. This belief is entirely erroneous. Victoria rupees are exchangeable at their full face value and there is no intention of altering the existing position in this respect.

CALCUTTA :

Dated the 15th July, 1937.

J. W. KELLY,

Controller of the Currency.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

ARRESTS FOR FAILURE TO PAY MALBA.

Sardar Partab Singh (Amritsar South, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to move for leave for the adjournment of the business of the House to consider a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the arrests of four persons of village Lalpur, tahsil Tarn Taran, District Amritsar, by the tahsildar on the morning of 3rd June, 1938, with a view to coerce them to pay malba and the refusal on the part of the lambardars of that village and the tahsildar of that tahsil to take land revenue unless accompanied by malba.

Mr. Speaker : The motion is out of order. If any persons have been arrested against law, they may resort to a court of law.

Sardar Partab Singh : But I wish to—

Mr. Speaker : Order please. I disallow any discussion on my ruling.

THE PUNJAB ALIENATION OF LAND (FURTHER AMENDMENT) BILL.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Sir, I beg to present the report of the select committee on the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill.

PUNJAB RESTITUTION OF MORTGAGED LANDS BILL.

Minister for Revenue : Sir, I beg to present the report of the select committee on the Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Sir, before you permit this report to be placed on the table of the House I want to enquire whether the report was sent to all the members for signature. The report should not be allowed to be placed on the table because, as far as my information goes, it was not sent to all the members for signature.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : It was not sent to me at all.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Because it was not signed by all the members therefore it should not be allowed to be placed on the table.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : The report was not sent to me for signature before it was printed.

Mr. Speaker : On what date was the report signed ?

Premier : Mr. Puri refused to sign the report.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I am not talking about Mr. Mukand Lal Puri.

Mr. Speaker : On what date was the report signed ?

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : I was at Simla and it could have been sent to my house for signature.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I got the report of the select committee in the House. Neither Raja Narendra Nath nor Rai Bahadur Binda Saran were present in the House. I do not know whether they were in Simla or outside. They were not present in the House. I asked Mr. Puri to sign the report but he refused to sign it on that date.

Mr. Speaker : Could you give me the date? (Voices : It was signed on the 28th June).

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri refused to sign it. Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Riasat Ali had gone to Gujrauwala. He attended the meeting of the select committee on the first day and then he took permission from the Revenue Minister to go to his place. He was not here on the day the report was signed. These three members were absent and the fourth refused to sign.

Rai Bahadur Lala Binda Saran : I can say that I was here in the House on that date. (Interruptions).

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : I do not know what is meant by Raja Ghazanfar Ali saying that Mr. Puri refused to sign the report. That report was brought to me when I was working on another select committee and I was asked to put my signature on it. Is that the way in which such an important document should be got signed? I definitely refused to sign the report. That report should have been left with me and an opportunity should have been afforded to me to append a minute of dissent. This is precisely the way in which these things are done. With respect to the report of the select committee on Land Alienation (Further Amendment) Bill what happened was this. At 10 o'clock I attended a meeting of the select committee at 'Ellerslie' leaving the Cecil Hotel at 9-30 A.M. Up to 1 o'clock I was there. At 3 o'clock another select committee meeting was being held in the room below. I was occupied there up to 8-30 P.M. While sitting there the report of the select committee on the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill was brought to me. I kept it with me. The next day I met Sardar Sahib and told him that the Assembly has referred the Bill to a select committee without specifying the date. Therefore the report of the select committee could not be presented to the House under the rules earlier than two months. As the matter was an important one I requested him to give me time to append a minute of dissent say a week. As the House by that time had not fixed any date on which the report of the select committee was to be presented, I requested Sardar Sahib to give me time to append a minute of dissent. At that time I also brought those rules to the notice of Sardar Sahib. He did not say that I must sign and I understood that he had given me time. Afterwards I signed the report and appended my minute of dissent. I signed this morning and that was the earliest that this could be done. I wish merely to point out the circumstances in which all these things are hustled through. I certainly take objection to the statement which has been made by Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan and repeated by the Premier that Mr. Puri refused to sign the report. What is to be done in these circumstances? When one is busy attending a meeting the Parliamentary Secretary comes up and asks a member to sign the report especially a report of a select committee to which we have not been a party. That is not the way in which members should be treated. Ask Raja Ghazanfar Ali whether these are not the circumstances.

Mr. Speaker : Are the honourable members prepared to sign it now ?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Without looking at it ?

Mr. Speaker : It was circulated so many days ago. Are the honourable members prepared to sign it subject to recording their minutes of dissent ?

Premier : May I, through you, Sir, draw the attention of my honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Puri, who was so vehement about the condition under which he was asked to sign the report, to Standing Order 44 (5), which says :—

“If any member of a Select Committee desires to record a minute of dissent on any point, he must sign the report, stating that he does so subject to his minute of dissent, and must hand in his minute within three days of the date on which he signs the report.”

So, this is the rule and he must sign the report.

Mr. Speaker : I again request the honourable members to sign the report subject to recording their minutes of dissent.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : I am willing to sign the report subject to a minute of dissent, but I cannot draw up my minute now.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I object to their signing this report.

(At this stage Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath and Rai Bahadur Binda Saran signed the report.)

Mr. Speaker : May I ask the honourable Mr. Mukand Lal Puri, why he refuses to sign the report ? Why does he disobey the Standing Orders of the Assembly ?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : There is no question of disobeying the Standing Orders of this House. It has been stated already on the floor of this House why I have refused to sign the report and the matter ended there. There is no question of non-compliance of the Rules.

Premier : I submit, Sir, that my honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Puri has got no right to refuse to sign the report. He must sign it if he was a member appointed under Standing Orders of this House. He can sign it subject to a minute of dissent, which he must hand in within 3 days.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : The report was not sent to the honourable member's house for signature.

Mr. Speaker : There is no rule or practice under which a select committee's report should be sent to the house of any member of the Committee for his signature. The report cannot and should not follow the members, who do not attend the committee meeting at which it is signed by the members present. All members are expected to attend and sign the report at a meeting or in the office of the Secretary of the Committee. If a report is sent to the house of every member, it might take days, if not weeks, to obtain the signatures of all members ; and it is not inconceivable that a member might sit over it and thus put an end to the labours of the remaining members of the committee. So, I have no doubt that a report should not follow members to their houses or places of residence.

[Mr. Speaker.]

I may add that, under Standing Order 44 (5) which has been quoted by the Honourable Premier, it is not obligatory for a member of a select committee to sign the final report of the committee, if he does not desire to record a minute of dissent on any point. Only such members are bound to sign the report as wish to add a minute of dissent but not others; though as a matter of practice all should sign, if possible. A report is complete if it is signed by as many members of the Committee as form its quorum. It need not be necessarily signed by all members.

Premier : What I understand from my honourable friend, Mr. Mukand Lal Puri, is that perhaps he does not want to sign it because he wants to append a minute of dissent.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : Have I to submit my minute of dissent by the 6th or the 7th ?

Mr. Speaker : The report was circulated on the 30th June and to-day is the 4th July. Under the Rules, as they stand, a minute of dissent must be sent within the next 8 days.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Can a report without a minute of dissent be presented ?

Mr. Speaker : Yes, it can be presented.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : It is not a complete report because it is not signed by all members.

Mr. Speaker : The report is complete even if it is not signed by all members, provided they do not wish to record their minutes of dissent; but if they desire to record their minutes of dissent, they must sign it.

Malik Barkat Ali : May I know if it is open to any member of a select committee to refuse to sign the report ?

Mr. Speaker : Strictly speaking a member, who, with his previous consent, is elected by the Assembly a member of a select committee, must obey the standing orders and sign the report of the committee.

Lala Duni Chand : Supposing a member refuses to put in his signature to the report because that would be as if he is signing his own death warrant. In that case also, is he bound to sign the report ?

Mr. Speaker : My interpretation is that if a member wishes to record a note of dissent, he is bound to sign the report; but not otherwise.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I know whether there can be a proper presentation of a report if the minutes of dissent, if any, are not appended thereto ? Is it a complete report ?

Mr. Speaker : I have already stated that a minute of dissent is to be written after the report. Therefore, a report is a report even if no minute of dissent is appended to it.

Malik Barkat Ali : I suppose that if a member refuses to sign the report, it can be presented to the House with a note that such and such a member has refused to sign the report.

Mr. Speaker : Certainly, as no member by refusing to sign the report can destroy all that has been done by the select committee. I may add, however, that the report must be signed by at least as many members as form the quorum of the committee.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I understand your ruling to be that a report can be presented to the House even if all the members of the committee have not signed it. The point on which I wish to be made clear is this. Is it not necessary to mention in the report that such and such a person has not signed the report because he is absent or that he refuses to sign the report or that such and such a member signs the report subject to a minute of dissent? Is it not necessary that all these should be clearly mentioned in the report itself? Otherwise it will be quite possible that the majority party on the select committee may submit a report without the knowledge of the minority party and thus deprive them of writing a note of dissent.

Mr. Speaker : In the new rules, provision has been made that ordinarily the report of a select committee should be signed by every member and if any member is not able to sign it a note shall be added, giving reasons, why he could not sign it. I am unable to agree with the proposition that the report should be sent after every member, wherever he may be, for his signature; as in that case a single member might bring the work of the Assembly to a standstill.

Pir Akbar Ali : You will find in the report that on the 27th June certain members walked out. When they walked out on the 27th, how could their whereabouts be found out on the 28th?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I reply to Pir Akbar Ali? If certain members walked out on the 27th, they had not forfeited their right to write a note of dissent. They should have been given an opportunity to sign their minutes of dissent and the report should not have been presented without their signature or at least without giving reasons for their not signing.

Mr. Speaker : But it cannot be conceded that if a member absents himself the report should follow him for his signature wherever he may go.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : But the members concerned in the present case were at Simla.

Mr. Speaker : But, as a rule, a report should be signed at a meeting of the committee and not at the residences of its members.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I draw your attention to the rule according to which the report of the select committee along with the minute of dissent should be presented to the House?

Mr. Speaker : Has any report been laid on the table of the House?

Premier : Yes, it has been laid on the table. The instruction of this House was that the report of the select committee should be presented on the 28th. Therefore the members of the select committee knew that the report had to be signed on the 27th even.

Mr. Speaker : Apparently the honourable members have not read the standing orders and that is why there is so much misunderstanding. A report is a report whether it is signed by all members or by only as many members as form the quorum. The House shall now proceed to the next business.

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENT OF EXPENDITURE AUTHENTICATED BY GOVERNOR.

Minister for Finance : As required by section 81 of the Government of India Act, 1935, I lay on the table the supplementary statement of expenditure (1st instalment) for the year 1938-39 authenticated by His Excellency the Governor.

As required by section 81 of the Government of India Act, 1935, I hereby authenticate the following supplementary statement of expenditure for the financial year 1938-39, which specifies :—

- (a) the supplementary grants (First instalment) made by the Punjab Legislative Assembly in its session held in June 1938, and
(b) the sums required to meet the expenditure charged on the revenues of the Province.

Governor of the Punjab.

THE PUNJAB MOTOR TRAFFIC OFFENCES BILL.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : I move—

That the Punjab Motor Traffic Offences Bill as reported by the select committee be taken into consideration.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : On a point of order, Sir. I have got a technical objection to raise with regard to this motion. I submit that it is not in conformity with section 108 of the Government of India Act. My contention is that this Bill as reported by the select committee is defective inasmuch as the previous sanction of the Governor-General has not been obtained.

Sub-section (2) of section 108, clause (d) states—

Unless the Governor General in his discretion thinks fit to give his previous sanction, there shall not be introduced into, or moved in, a Chamber of a Provincial Legislature any Bill or amendment which affects the procedure for criminal proceedings in which European British subjects are concerned.

In support of my point I also depend on section 29-A of the Criminal Procedure Code, which says—

No magistrate of the second or third class shall inquire into or try any offence which is punishable otherwise than with fine not exceeding Rs. 50 where the accused is a European British subject who claims to be tried as such.

Now this Bill makes no exception with regard to European British subjects who may be owners of cars. Under clause 2 (c) of the Bill "Magistrate" means a magistrate specially empowered by the Punjab Government for the purposes of this Act." That means that the magistrate may be a stipendiary magistrate or an honorary magistrate and a magistrate of 2nd or 3rd class. This conflicts with section 29-A of the Criminal Procedure Code.

Now there are certain offences under the Motor Vehicles Act which are punishable with fine of more than Rs. 50, for instance under sections 5 and 16. Then there are offences under the Punjab Motor Vehicles Taxation Act which are punishable with fine which may go to Rs. 100 and more. So my submission is that this Bill affects two different Acts, the Indian Motor Vehicles Act and the Punjab Motor Vehicles Taxation Act. So, the Bill cannot be proceeded with without the previous sanction of the Governor-General. As such it is bad and defective. If on these points my learned friend on the other side, the Advocate-General, throws some light, then I might be given an opportunity to meet his points.

I may now refer to the Bill as presented by the select committee. I have already referred to the definition of 'magistrate' as given there. I will now refer to clause 7. It says—

When any police officer has reason to believe that any offence has been committed in respect of a motor vehicle or that any other offence punishable under the Indian Motor Vehicles Act, 1914, has been committed, he may demand that the owner, driver or any other person in charge of the motor vehicle shall make over to him any document relating thereto which he is bound to carry and shall thereupon forward the document to the court which would have jurisdiction over the offence.

Now the owner, driver or any other person may be a European British subject and so this Bill affecting such a person cannot be passed without the previous sanction of the Governor-General.

[Pt. Muni Lal Kalia.]

Then there are certain penalties given under clause 8 of this Bill.

Any person failing to surrender any document to a police officer demanding it under the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 7 shall be punishable with fine which may amount to Rs. 50.

Then with regard to other offences under clause 7 of the Bill, they are given in the Motor Vehicles Act itself. Section 5 of that Act says—

Whoever drives a motor vehicle in a public place recklessly or negligently, or at a speed or in a manner which is dangerous to the public, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, including the nature, condition and use of the place and the amount of traffic which actually is at the time, or which might reasonably be expected to be, in the place, shall, on conviction, be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Now proceedings can be taken under this Bill even in the case of a European British subject and the fine under the Motor Vehicles Act may extend to even Rs. 500.

Section 16 of that Act also says—

Whoever contravenes any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule made thereunder, shall, if no other penalty is elsewhere provided in this Act for such contravention, be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees and, in the event of such person having been previously convicted of an offence under this Act or any rule made thereunder, with fine which may extend to Rs. 200.

In this case also the present Bill proposes to empower a magistrate of third class to impose a fine of Rs. 200 even when the accused happens to be a European British subject.

Similar provisions also exist in the Punjab Motor Vehicles Taxation Act. Section 8 of that Act says—

If a person (a) fails to deliver a declaration in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or (b) delivers a declaration wherein the particulars prescribed to be therein set forth are not fully and truly stated, the licensing officer may, after making such enquiry as he deems fit and after hearing the person if he desires to be heard, impose on such person any tax or additional tax for such quarterly period or periods as the licensing officer may find that such person is liable to pay under the provisions of the Act and may also impose a penalty which may extend to twice the amount of the tax to which he is found liable.

Then the penalties are given in the schedules where the fine extends to Rs. 300 or even Rs. 600.

For these reasons I raise this point of order and say that this Bill as drafted should be thrown out because the previous sanction of the Governor General has not been obtained.

Minister for Revenue: I never thought that my honourable friend opposite had so great care for the interests of the European community, but I am glad to find that he is trying to do that and that he finds reason in that for raising objection to the motion. As regards the first objection that the sanction of the Governor-General was necessary may I point out that the matter was looked into and we came to the conclusion that the Bill after it is passed would be submitted to the Governor and the Governor can reserve it for the final sanction of the Governor-General. The genesis of this Bill is that a man should not be hauled up for ordinary petty offences. That is the genesis of the Bill and it is based on the analogy of the provisions of a similar nature in England. I think my honourable friends know that this ordinary offence should not draw out a man into a court of law for meeting such charges.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable Minister please reply to the objections raised by Pandit Kalia?

Minister : The point raised by my honourable friend was looked into and we came to the conclusion that it is not necessary to have the previous sanction of the Governor-General.

Mr. Speaker : May I request the Advocate-General to throw some light on the point, if he can?

Advocate-General (Mr. M. Sleem) : As I take it the objection of the honourable member is this. The consequence of this provision namely that a magistrate means a magistrate specially empowered by the Punjab Government, may be that there may be a conflict between the provisions of section 29 (a) and the provisions of this Act. In other words his point is, suppose the Government were to empower a magistrate of the second or third class to enquire into such matters what would the consequence be? The consequence would be that the magistrate of the third class or second class would be able to try a European British subject which he cannot do under the provisions of section 29 (a). That objection is not really to the Bill as drafted; the objection is to the provision giving power to the Government to empower a magistrate of the second class to try a European British subject. There is nothing in the Punjab Motor Traffic Offences Bill itself which says that the procedure is going to be affected. The objection is really this that if the Government were to empower a magistrate of the second class to try a motor offence relating to a European British subject it would come in conflict with the provisions of section 29 (a). That, Sir, I submit is not a valid objection to the Bill, though it may be a valid objection to the section as drafted, if it says that a magistrate of the second or third class may be empowered, to try a European British subject. I take it that the objection is that. The procedure is going to be affected in consequence of the Government reserving a certain power to itself if it is exercised in a particular manner subsequently and this would come in conflict with the provisions of section 29 (a). Nowhere does the Act say that a magistrate of second or third class shall try a European British subject. My submission therefore is that so far as the Bill is framed there is nothing objectionable.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : After the very lucid exposition of the question by the honourable and learned Advocate-General there are only one or two points that I wish to say to supplement it and these are. Even under the Indian Motor Vehicles Act, section 17, it is provided that no court—this is an all India Act—no court inferior to that of a presidency magistrate or a magistrate of the second class shall try any offence punishable under this Act or any rules made thereunder. Though technically under this section 17, European British subjects can be tried, since the Criminal Procedure Code section 29, overrides this they are not so tried. That is my first submission. Secondly, if my honourable friend would pay attention to the section quoted he will find that that objection only comes in if the Bill or the amendment affects the procedure for criminal proceedings in which European British subjects are parties. That would have been so if in this Act we had stated that notwithstanding anything provided in the Criminal Procedure Code a magistrate means a magistrate specially empowered by the provincial Government. But that is not the definition of magistrate. The definition of magistrate which we provide does not affect section 29 and as happens in the case of Indian Motor Vehicles Act section 17 similarly in this case in cases involving European British subjects the second class magistrate is debarred from exercising jurisdiction. Therefore I submit that in view of these decisions there is no conflict or repugnancy to section 29 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Moreover as was pointed out by the Revenue Minister, under section 101 of the Government of India Act the Bill can be reserved and the opinion of our legal advisers is that it may be reserved under section 101.

Mr. Speaker : Is there any provision in this Bill which over-rides the Criminal Procedure Code or by which the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code become unnecessary or inoperative?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Yes, Sir. I will confine my reply only to this point. If you will kindly read clause 2, sub-clause (b) of the Bill where the 'code' is defined you will find that the honourable Advocate-General and the gentleman who spoke after him forgot to refer to that point. The 'Code' means the 'Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.' That is the procedure that will be followed in trying these offences, and that procedure is going to be affected by clause 5 of the Bill. He should also read Section 107 of the Government of India Act. An accused cannot be tried in his absence under the ordinary Criminal Law. But the Bill proposes even such a change.

The procedure laid down in the Criminal Procedure Code for the trial of European British subjects by second and third class magistrates is regulated by Section 29-A, of that Code. I have been supported in my contention by my friends on the opposite benches. My submission is that this Bill proposes to alter or amend the procedure as laid down in the Criminal Procedure Code by clause 7 of this Bill. Clause 7 of this Bill lays down the form of penalties which are to be given in three kinds of offences. What are those offences?

4 P. M.

Offences that are committed under the Indian Motor Vehicles Act,

Offences that are committed under the Motor Taxation Act, and Offences that are to be committed under the present Bill if it is given the shape of an Act.

With regard to the Motor Vehicles Act section 17 has been read by my honourable friend on the opposite side. That Section cannot help him. There also it is said that "no court inferior to that of a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the second class shall try any offence punishable under this Act or any rule made thereunder." By this Act even section 17 of the Indian Motor Vehicles Act has been amended because now under the definition of "Magistrate," any magistrate, even if he is a third class magistrate, can try an offence under section 17, so that, what this Bill aims at is amendment of section 17 as well. I entirely agree with my honourable friend on the other side that under section 17, only a presidency magistrate or a magistrate with second class powers can try an offence under the Motor Vehicles Act but what does the present Bill propose? In this case a magistrate—and that magistrate may be a magistrate with third class powers—can try an offence under the Motor Vehicles Act because clause 7 of the Bill provides—

" 7. (1)..... in respect of a motor vehicle or that any other offence punishable under the Indian Motor Vehicles Act, 1914....."

so that, this Bill also amends the Indian Motor Vehicles Act. My point remains where it was. This Bill proposes to alter the procedure that is laid down in section 29-A of the Criminal Procedure Code and this Bill cannot be moved or taken into consideration in its present form. Either the previous sanction of the Governor-General should be taken or an alteration should be made to such an effect that only the Indians could be tried under this Act and European subjects should be excluded and for them a different procedure should be provided in the Bill. The points which I raised before have not been answered and the points which have been raised in answer to my point are beside the mark and my learned friend at the time did not read carefully the definition which is given in sub-clause (b) of clause 2 of the Bill so that I again suggest that in a position like this, this Bill should be thrown out of consideration.

Mr. Speaker : Is the Honourable Minister prepared to say that he will modify all such provisions as are likely to affect the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code?

Minister for Revenue : We are not proposing to give powers to a second class magistrate.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : There is another point of order. Is the Minister of Revenue entitled to go against the select committee's report and give a personal undertaking that Government will not empower a third class magistrate? The report provides that a magistrate means any magistrate.

Minister for Revenue : Yes, 'any Magistrate' but the question of class has to be decided by the Government. It is not to be decided by my friend opposite but by the Government. The Government undertakes to do that.

Mr. Maqbool Mahmood : May I invite the attention of the House to the recommendations of the select committee on page 1 where it is stated—

"The Committee desires that properly qualified and experienced magistrates may be empowered under this clause."

Minister for Education : The whole difficulty seems to have arisen from the definition of the word "magistrate." The definition as given here is—

"magistrate" means a "magistrate of the first class"

(Interruption) (Laughter).

Mr. Speaker : May I invite Pandit Muni Lal Kalia's attention to section 108 (2) of the Government of India Act. It says :—

"(2) Unless the Governor-General in his discretion thinks fit to give his previous sanction, there shall not be introduced into, or moved in, a Chamber of a Provincial Legislature any Bill or amendment....."

The introduction stage and the moving of the Bill stage have passed. Therefore, according to this Act the honourable member's objection is too late.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I studied that point as well. You will kindly see what is given in the Agenda or in the List of Business for to-day. It is said—

“ A member of Government to move that the Punjab Motor Traffic Offences Bill be passed ” and unless the Governor-General in his discretion thinks fit to give his previous sanction, there shall not be introduced or moved any Bill.

Mr. Speaker : The moving of a Bill is not the same thing as its introduction or reference to a select committee or the moving of its consideration.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I, with your permission, just explain this point? In the Government of India Act two words are used and not one word and it does not lead to any other interpretation but the one which is clear on the face of it and that is—

“ there shall not be introduced into ”

and the matter does not end here but even after introduction there is another stage. Therefore to cover that stage the words used are “ or moved in ” so, my submission is that from the sequence in which the words are used in the Act it is quite clear that the words “ or moved in ” refer to some stage after introduction, otherwise they could not be used subsequent to the words “ introduced into ” but should have been used before that. My interpretation is that the sequence in which the words are used in the Act does not lend to any other interpretation but the one that “ moved in ” refers to any stage which comes after introduction. May I further invite your attention to one other point? May I take it that any illegality that has been committed at the time of introduction and has not been taken notice of should be ignored later on when the House comes to know of it, that there is some illegality or that something against law has been committed? I do not think that illegalities should continue. A mistake is being committed ab initio. My submission is that the sequence should also be kept in view and if that view is taken in a strict sense then in that sense “ moved in ” refers to any stage. I had taken the opportunity at the earliest moment when the Honourable the mover rose to move, but even if I had taken that point later on in the third stage, that is, on the motion “ that the Bill be passed ” ? it could be valid. That point could be raised even when the Bill was to be discussed clause by clause and any illegality committed in the earlier stage cannot be over-looked or ignored. Otherwise the illegality once committed will continue. That is a principle which no sound system of law can ever allow.

Advocate-General : I just want to add one thing more and that is with reference to the objection that was raised by the definition of “ Magistrate.”

If you look at the clause it says—

“ Magistrate ” means a magistrate specially empowered by the Punjab Government for the purposes of this Act.

There is nothing to indicate that he will be a 2nd or 3rd class magistrate. The objection is that if the Government were to appoint this class of magistrate to try these offences, that act of the Government would be ultra vires. But how can you assume that under this power given to the Government, the Government would exercise the power except in accordance with law?

So, the position is this that if this Bill is passed the Government will have to consider whom to appoint and when they are told there that there is section 29 (a) they would not appoint any such person. That is my submission. You cannot assume that when Government possesses a power under an Act that it shall be exercised in a manner not authorised by law. When they see section 29 (a) the Government will find that they cannot specially empower a second class or third class magistrate to try British subjects. Therefore I submit there is no force in this objection that in this Act a magistrate means a second class or third class magistrate. What I am submitting is that under this Act a magistrate only means a magistrate specially empowered. When Government is considering the matter of appointing a magistrate it will find that there is section 29 (a) of the Code of Criminal Procedure under which it is not permitted to empower a second class magistrate to try European British subjects. There is nothing in this Act which permits this (hear, hear).

Mr. Speaker : The Advocate-General's view appears to be correct.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I am sorry I cannot agree with that view. I will try to meet the point raised by him. With regard to this point my learned friend has only confined his attention to section 29-A of the Criminal Procedure Code. He has not referred to the Punjab Motor Taxation Bill under which a fine of Rs. 500 or Rs. 400 can also be imposed. It only comes to this that according to section 17 of the Motor Vehicles Act any presidency magistrate or a magistrate of second class may be appointed to try offences. The rules which are made subsequent to the Act itself cannot remedy the illegality committed in the beginning. My submission is that we have to take the definition as it now stands. The point that government will keep in view at the time when power will be given to the special magistrate cannot be taken into consideration at this stage. That is my humble opinion. The argument that if there is any illegality in this Bill that illegality will be remedied at the time when the Bill will be put into operation. I do not think can hold water in a case like this in which the position is quite clear. The defect is there and it is an unfortunate defect. I do not say that it has been intentionally done. Government must have taken all the points into consideration. There is no use in hurrying through this measure. We come here as makers of law and as legislators and if the legislator does not care to interpret the law that has already been passed by a previous legislature I do not think we can blame the courts or other persons. They will commit the mistake in the matter of interpretation. I do not think you should feel touchy on this point : it is an ordinary point. They can either change the aims and objects of this Bill or can just have a formal sanction.

Mr. Speaker : I am inclined to agree with the Advocate-General. I further invite the honourable member's attention to section 109 (2). He will agree, I hope, that assent can be given even afterwards.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I take it that the position is that if an illegality is committed the law will later on rectify this illegality ?

Mr. Speaker : I did not say that. What I mean is was that the Advocate-General's view appears to be sound, but assuming it to be otherwise, there is another aspect which the honourable objector may consider.

Mian Abdul Aziz : May I say one thing ? At this stage as a matter of fact this Bill is to be passed into an Act and before it is passed this Assembly is entitled to see to the Bill thoroughly. It is not an Act at this stage like section 537 to cure judicial distempers and to cure all sorts of irregularities and everything else. When an Act is made it will be an entirely different thing ; but it appears to me that when we know there is a flaw I think it would be entirely unjustified and illegal to pass or to introduce this Bill with the hope that His Excellency the Governor-General will give his assent.

Mr. Speaker : I have heard the honourable member. I think we can proceed with the Bill.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : My submission is that you cannot make rules under clause 9.

Premier : May I draw attention to clause 2, sub-clause (c), which is quite clear? I do not think that we need refer to clause 9. My honourable friend has gone to rules and ignored the substantive section of the Act itself. There it is said :

“Magistrate” means a magistrate specially empowered by the Punjab Government for the purposes of this Act.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : The Government may appoint a third class magistrate.

Minister for Revenue : They cannot, because a third class magistrate cannot try Europeans.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the Punjab Motor Traffic Offences Bill as reported on by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The Assembly will now take up new clauses first.

New Clauses.

The Assembly agreed to the introduction and consideration of the following new clause :—

At the end of clause 2, the following new sub-clause be added :—

“(f) Unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, the definitions contained in section (3) of the Indian Motor Vehicles Act, 1914, and in the Punjab Motor Vehicles Rules, 1931, shall in so far as they are relevant apply to the provisions of this Act.”

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : I move—

That the new clause be added to the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Leave to introduce and take into consideration being given by the House.

Munshi Hari Lal (South-Western Town, General, Urban) : I beg to move—

That the following new clause be added to clause 4 of the Bill :—

That in sub-clause (2) the following proviso be added :—

‘Provided that if the accused appears in person in obedience to the summons and wishes to defend, he shall not be required to furnish a surety bond.’

The clause as it stands provides for the issue of special summons and also provides that if a person to whom summons are issued does not wish to appear in person or by pleader, he may send a specified sum, etc. But it does not provide facilities for a person who wishes to appear in court. My amendment is that if the accused appears in court in response to the summons and defends himself he should not be asked to furnish a surety bond.

Mr. Speaker : Is that the law ?

Munshi Hari Lal : There are so many sections in the Criminal Procedure Code which provide for this. My point is that if a person appears in person in obedience to the summons issued under this Bill he should be exempted from furnishing the surety bond. Under the Criminal Procedure Code a magistrate can order an accused to furnish a surety bond. My reason for asking for this exemption is that these motor drivers are persons of peripatetic habits, going from place to place and in their business they are itinerant. Supposing a motor driver commits an offence between Lahore and Rawalpindi and he is tried in Rawalpindi though he belongs to Lahore, it will be troublesome for him if he is asked to produce a surety bond at Rawalpindi. I want to save him from this hardship by moving this amendment. There is reason in it. My idea is that the accused should not be tried in a district or in a place to which he does not belong ; but if he is, he should not be called upon to produce a surety bond. It will be very hard for the accused to produce a surety at a place to which he does not belong and where he is a stranger. With these words I beg leave to move the amendment.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That the new clause be added to the Bill.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Magbool Mahmood) : I am afraid that my honourable friend's amendment is based on some misunderstanding of the law and of the actual position adumbrated by this clause. I beg to invite his attention to section 496 of the Criminal Procedure Code wherein it is stated that—

When any person other than a person accused of a non-bailable offence is arrested or detained without warrant by an officer in charge of a police station, or appears or is brought before a Court, and is prepared at any time while in the custody of such officer or at any stage of the proceedings before such court to give bail, such person shall be released on bail: Provided that such officer or Court, if he or it thinks fit, may, instead of taking bail from such person discharge him on his executing a bond without sureties for his appearance as hereinafter provided.

Now, Sir, my first submission is that the amendment proposed by my honourable friend suggests that the court shall in such cases dispense with the furnishing of a surety by the accused person but it does not provide any alternative procedure by which the presence of the person concerned may be ensured. In this connection I beg to invite attention to a reference made to the select committee by the Punjab Motor Union. A deputation on behalf of the Union came and saw me and requested me to represent certain matters before the select committee. They were given an opportunity to suggest points which they wished to be considered by the select committee. They sent us an issue of the Driver dated 2nd May, 1936, which is the organ of this Union and therein they made three suggestions which bear on this question and on the other clauses proposed. The three suggestions are—

—تجویز نمبر ۱ یہ ہے۔

(۱) کسی شخص ملزم سے ضمانت حاضری نہ طلب کی جائے بلکہ صرف ذاتی مچلکہ ہی لیا جائے۔ اگر وہ چالان ہو جانے کی صورت میں تاریخ اول پر خود ہی حاضر ہو جائے اور اُسکے بعد ہر پیشی پر حاضر عدالت رہے۔

My honourable friend to-day goes even further and does not suggest even a personal bond for the appearance of the accused concerned. The second point which they propose is—

ہر اس شخص سے جو مالک لاری یا سوٹر ہو۔ کسی حالت میں بھی ضمانت حاضری طلب نہ کی جائے بلکہ اس سے صرف ذاتی مچلکہ ہی لیا جائے۔

and the third is—

ہر وہ شخص جو مالک سوٹر یا لاری ہو۔ کسی دوسرے شخص کی ضمانت دینے کا سبب قرار دیا جائیگا بغیر اس سوال کے کہ وہ جائیداد غیر منقولہ کا مالک ہے۔

Now, Sir, these three specific suggestions made by the Motor Union which are prima facie very reasonable, certainly more reasonable than the unreasonable amendment proposed by my friend opposite, were taken up in the select committee, and there it was unanimously decided, in which my honourable friends Diwan Chaman Lall and Mian Iftikhar-ud-Din concurred, that these clauses could not be taken up within the scope of the Bill. Accordingly this question is being considered independently with a view to meet as far as possible the demands of the Motor Union in this behalf. I am happy to be able to inform the House that this question had been referred for legal opinion and is being examined and I think I am divulging no secret when I say that it is being examined sympathetically and hopefully. That being the position I hope that my honourable friends opposite who are responsible for these new clauses would not prejudice the case of the Motor Union, by pressing this matter which the select committee unanimously decided could not be taken up in this form.

Munshi Hari Lal : Not prejudice but promote their case.

Parliamentary Secretary : So far as promotion or prejudicing is concerned the amendment proposed speaks for itself and I feel confident that my honourable friend opposite with his grasp of law and legal principles will agree that the clause as it stands is not only unreasonable and beyond the demand made on this question by the Motor Union itself but outside the scope of the Bill.

Munshi Hari Lal : I have their demands and they say that they demand that surety bond should not be demanded, though the personal bond may be.

Parliamentary Secretary : My honourable friend now says that surety bond should not be taken but personal bond should be taken. I want him to see his amendment and say if his suggestion is covered in it. Let it be stated at this stage that the position of the Government is clear. We realise that in this industry there are a large number of honest and hard-working people who share our worries during the elections and on various other occasions and who are entitled to the fullest sympathy of the Government in regard to their legitimate requests. But at the same time thousands of passengers travel every year by these lorries and motor vehicles plying on hire, and when we see that in the last year as many as 1,200 motor accidents involving loss of life and injury to body occurred it is the painful duty of the Government to see that while no unnecessary harassment is caused to the people employed in this industry, the security of traffic is ensured by enforcing such rules as may be necessary, and I feel that no better proof would be needed of the practical intention of the Government to assist these people than the Bill under consideration. As such, in view of the fact that the new clause now proposed and those that follow have already been referred by Government to their experts and are being examined sympathetically and the select committee unanimously felt that they could not be incorporated in this Bill, I beg to oppose the motion.

Mr. Speaker : Only two things are provided for in the Criminal Procedure Code: the giving of bail and bond. What does the honourable member suggest?

Munshi Hari Lal : Bond is executed by a surety as well as personally by the person concerned. I want the personal bond or what is called muchalka in common parlance.

Mr. Speaker : Is it called a surety bond?

Munshi Hari Lal : One executed by a surety is called a surety bond and not a Muchalka.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member's proviso mean that only a surety bond should be taken and not a personal bond?

Munshi Hari Lal : No. On the other hand I want him to be exempted from giving surety bond and not from personal bond. My proviso is that he should not be asked to provide a surety but should only give a personal bond.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member means that a bail bond should not be taken at all.

Munshi Hari Lal : Yes. My proviso reads—

“ Provided that if the accused appears in person in obedience to the summons and wishes to defend, he shall not be required to furnish a surety bond.”

I was under the impression that as generally we employ the words surety bond and personal recognizance, the word 'surety bond' would serve the same purpose as bail bond. My object is to provide facilities to the accused. If he is being tried in a place other than the one to which he belongs he should not be required to give a bail bond and should not be put to the hardship of producing a surety to the satisfaction of the court. I want to save the accused from this trouble. I will amend the motion by substituting 'bail bond' surety bond'.

Sardar Hari Singh: (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural); With your permission I want to make a few observations in reference to an amendment to clause 4 (a) of which I have given notice though I may not move it. This amendment of mine, if accepted, would be accepting all the genuine and legitimate demands which have been presented before the select committee by the motor-union people and for which they have been agitating for years. The objects of this Bill—I regret to say that they are not here before me to-day, but I speak from memory—are to concede the request made by the Motor Union people themselves. These were the remarks made by my honourable friend the Minister for Revenue himself while moving that this Bill be referred to a select committee. He said that he wanted to benefit the motor union people. If the object of the Bill is to benefit the motorwallahs in accordance with their own representation, then I do not see any reason why my friend the Minister of Revenue and that great luminary—the great Parliamentary Secretary—Mir Maqbool Mahmood should oppose it. He is unnecessarily quoting the names of my colleagues Diwan Chaman Lal and Mian Muhammad Itikhar-ud-Din. I am sure that if they were present here to-day, they would have wholeheartedly supported our amendment.

(Mir Maqbool Mahmood): Will you allow me to explain?

Sardar Hari Singh: No. They would have wholeheartedly supported our view point which is the view point of the Motor Transport Union of Lahore. In their remarks on this Bill the Punjab Motor Union says—

"The chief object of the proposed Bill is . . .".

(Mir Maqbool Mahmood): On a point of order. The honourable member is, if he will permit my using the word, misconstruing us and he is misinforming the House that we are opposing this amendment. What I stated was that the Government is advised that it cannot come in this form in this Bill and they are examining it sympathetically as an independent proposition.

Sardar Hari Singh: He is opposing it yet he is 'not opposing' it. What a ridiculous position. It is a very inexplicable attitude. He stood up and opposed it and yet he says that he does not oppose it. He may bring it in some other form if he wants to help the Motor Union people sincerely. He says that the chief object of the proposed Bill is to expedite trials. I was talking of the Motor Union people. What do they say? They say—

"The persons accused of Motor Traffic offences are generally professional lorry drivers and owners. They do sometimes attempt to evade service of summons and otherwise to postpone the evil day as long as they conveniently can."

This they do because they are poor people.

"Their chief fear is their inability or otherwise great inconvenience with which they are confronted on their attending the court, of producing sureties who must happen to be possessed of immovable property situated within the jurisdiction of that court and of procuring two persons who to the satisfaction of the magistrate identify the surety and testify to his soundness."

This, Mr. Speaker, is the kernel of their grievances that they are required to provide surety in places distant from their homes. A lorry-driver may belong to Amritsar district and he may happen to commit a motor offence in the Rohtak district. If he is challaned in that district he may not be able to produce any surety because he does not know anybody there. The representation further on says:—

"The accused are often challaned for motor traffic offences in districts which are not their usual places of residence and where they do not happen to have many friends and hence their reluctance to help the court in the speedy disposal of court work."

In order to help expeditious trials of offences they want that production of sureties to be done away with. They say that the following amendments be introduced or added to the Bill:—

- "(1) The persons accused of motor traffic offences who happen to be owners of a public motor vehicle should not be called upon to produce a surety for their appearance in court but asked only to execute a personal bond.
- (2) The persons who happen to be owners of any public motor vehicles should be permitted to stand surety for appearance of any other person who is charged with any motor traffic offence.
- (3) A person who is not the owner of a public motor vehicle and is accused of a motor traffic offence, should not be asked to produce surety for his appearance in court, if he attends the court on the very first date given to him by the person challaning him."

Obviously the demands of the Motor Union have been condensed in these amendments and my honourable friend is showing mere lip sympathy for the poor motor-wallahs. What are these amendments?

Premier: May I rise to a point of order? I beg to submit that in going through the Bill my honourable friend, the Advocate General, has found that there is a question on which there may be difference of opinion and there is a legal doubt with regard to which we are not quite sure whether it has been dealt with. In view of that I suggest that you might allow the Advocate General to put that particular point before you and if you come to the conclusion that our doubts are well founded, and as we will have to look up whether all the formalities have been gone through, I would submit that we might be allowed to suspend the debate on this particular Bill until that doubt has been removed.

Advocate-General: The point deals with the same clause, namely, clause (d) of part (2) of section 108 of the Government of India Act. It says—

- "(2) Unless the Governor-General in his discretion thinks fit to give his previous sanction, there shall not be introduced into, or moved in, a Chamber of a Provincial Legislature any Bill or amendment which—

"(d) affects the procedure for criminal proceedings in which European British subjects are concerned."

Premier : As a matter of fact I am not certain at this stage whether this particular point was examined critically and whether, if it were examined, it was ultra vires of the House or not and if it was we must have gone to the Government of India for their views. But at the moment I cannot recollect what we actually did and in view of that doubt, and the particular point which the Advocate-General has raised, it would be advisable to suspend the debate so that the time of the House may not be wasted. If we find that that technicality is not fulfilled we will have to fulfil that legal obligation before proceeding with the Bill further. That is the point.

Advocate-General : The other provision is contained in clause 5 of the Bill which is—“.....notwithstanding anything contained in the Code, proceed to determine the case in the absence of the accused.”

The consequence of this provision would be that if a European British subject was being tried under this provision he could be convicted in his absence. That is clear from the provision. According to the Code of Criminal Procedure no accused person can be tried in his absence.

Mian Abdul Aziz : In summons cases when an accused person appears before a court then he applies that his presence may be dispensed with and be allowed to appear through counsel and then the magistrate can dispense with his presence. That will be entirely after his appearance once in court. He can then be allowed to appear by a pleader. The other section is 540-A which was enacted during the trial of Bhagat Singh and others. Where there are more than two persons on trial, there the court can adopt that other procedure.

Advocate-General : Under the existing provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure no person, if he does not so desire, can be tried in his absence. According to the provisions of this Act he may be tried in his absence. Therefore you are affecting the procedure as regards persons including European British subjects. If this Bill did not refer to European British subjects there would be no difficulty.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I draw the attention of the House to section 3 which says—

If, in the opinion of a magistrate taking cognizance of a motor traffic offence, there is sufficient ground for proceedings, he may either proceed in the manner provided by section 204 of the Code, or he may issue a special summons.

It is not necessary that he must act according to the procedure laid down in the Act. In the case of a European he may proceed in the manner prescribed in section 204.

Premier : There is of course the other side but as a layman I dare not tread on this rather delicate ground. Therefore I must bow before the views of my honourable colleague, the Advocate-General. That is why I suggested that the consideration of the Bill should be suspended so that you may have time to consider this. Meanwhile we will not consider this particular point. The other side is that in this particular Bill we have given the accused the option to appear. That means that he can, if he so desires come himself. The raison d'être is that he is given the option. If he does not want to exercise the option he can send the fine. But as my honourable friend, the Advocate-General, pointed out he may not like to send the fine and he may decide not to attend the court. In that case this difficulty would arise. He may later on plead that as a European British subject the magistrate had no business to try him and pass an ex-parte decree against him as he wanted to be tried by a jury whatever it is. Therefore there is a doubt and in view of that doubt we might further consider the question.

Sardar Hari Singh: This doubt can be overcome by moving an amendment regarding Europeans.

Premier: We would consider whether that would solve our difficulty.

Sardar Hari Singh: Why do you not say that you want time to consult your party in regard to Bills coming up tomorrow?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia: The question is whether the previous sanction of the Governor General is to be obtained. The procedure is to be altered. Clause 5 of this Bill provides for dispensing with the presence of the accused in a trial while the fundamental principle is that the trial cannot take place in the absence of the accused.

Mr. Speaker: This is a new point that a person cannot be convicted in his absence.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia: He has to receive the sentence in his presence. Even in the case of Indians the point is the same. It is not necessary that it should apply to British subjects alone; read section 107 as well.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned till 2 p. m. on Tuesday, 5th July 1938.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

3rd SESSION OF THE 1st PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Tuesday, 5th July, 1938.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 2 P.M. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

PRESIDENT OF THE DEBT CONCILIATION BOARD AT AMBALA.

*3006. 2nd-Lieut. Bhai Fatehjang Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the President of the Debt Conciliation Board at Ambala still continues to be a member of the District Board, Ambala ; if so, the reasons therefor ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Yes. Sitting members of local bodies are not required to resign if and when appointed to a Debt Conciliation Board, though they are not permitted to seek re-election.

2nd-Lieut. Bhai Fatehjang Singh : Is it a fact that Government servants are barred from contesting elections ?

Minister : I would invite the attention of the honourable member to section 14 (e) of the District Board Act. The disqualifications there do not apply to the category of members of Debt Conciliation Boards.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if they are full-time Government servants or not ?

Minister : The only disqualifications against the membership of district boards are contained in the District Board Act and the case of the members of the Debt Conciliation Board is not covered by that.

COTTAGE INDUSTRIES IN THE BEIT ILAQA, DISTRICT LUDHIANA.

*3007. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the measures Government intend to take with regard to the encouragement and improvement of the cottage industries in the Beit ilaqa, district Ludhiana ;

[Ch. Muhammad Hassen.]

- (b) the steps Government have taken towards the improvement and encouragement of industries connected with and conducive to the improvement in Agriculture in Beit Ilaga, district Ludhiana ; if not, the reasons therefor ;
- (c) the amount that the Central Government have contributed for the expansion, encouragement and advancement of industries in the province ;
- (d) what proportion out of this is going to be spent for advancement of industries on which agriculturists mainly depend in Beit Ilaga, district Ludhiana ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) and (b) The Punjab Government have recently sanctioned an Industrial Survey of the province. The Beit Ilaga of Ludhiana district will be covered by this survey. It is understood that the Director of Industries has addressed the honourable member along with other honourable members of the Punjab Legislative Assembly for suggestions regarding encouragement of industries. Any suggestions made by the honourable member regarding the Beit Ilaga will be carefully considered.

(c) The Central Government have contributed—

- Rs. 45,600 for the development of cotton handloom industry.
- Rs. 20,796 for help to cottage and small scale woollen industries, and
- Rs. 10,000 for the production of disease free silk-worm seed in the Punjab.

(d) The grants made by the Government of India are to be spent for the benefit of the province as a whole and not allocated to particular areas.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassen : What maximum time is intended to be taken in actually taking in hand the improvement of the industries in Beit Ilaga ?

Minister : I cannot specify any time.

*3016. Mian Abdul Rab : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to reply to my question No. *2466,<sup>2</sup> asked by me on the 4th April, 1938 ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : A statement giving the required information is attached. So far as the civil dispensaries are concerned, their number in the rural areas of all the tahsils except Jullundur is considered to be adequate according to the standard laid down by Government, viz., one dispensary for every 100 square miles or 80,000 population. In the Jullundur tahsil there are four rural dispensaries where according to the prescribed standard there should be five. It is for the District Board, Jullundur, which is responsible for providing medical relief in rural areas to open one more dispensary in the Jullundur tahsil. With regard to veterinary hospitals, I may say that their number in all the tahsils is inadequate, but it cannot be increased unless the finances of the District Board, Jullundur, which is responsible for providing this kind of medical relief also in its area, allow to do so.

[Minister for Education,]

Statement showing the number of civil and veterinary hospitals and dispensaries in the Jullundur district and the total expenditure incurred thereon annually in each tahsil of the district.

Name of Tahsil.	CIVIL DISPENSARIES-		VETERINARY HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES.
	Total number.	Total annual expenditure for the year 1937.	Total number.	Total annual expenditure.
Jullundur Tahsil ..	4	11,864	3	3,267*
Nakodar Tahsil ..	4	10,976	1	1,132*
Phillaur Tahsil ..	5	12,661	1	914*
Nawansahr Tahsil	3	7,469	1	..

*These figures only represent the cost of pay and travelling allowance of Veterinary Assistants or Veterinary Assistant Surgeons attached to these hospitals or dispensaries, which is met from the provincial revenues. Besides the District Board, Jullundur, which is responsible for the maintenance of veterinary hospitals, spends about Re. 13,000 in a year on all the 12 rural and urban veterinary dispensaries maintained by it. Separate figures for rural and urban dispensaries are however not available.

ADMISSION IN THE PUNJAB AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

*3017. Mian Abdul Rab : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- the number of students, district-wise, admitted to the first year class in the Punjab Agricultural College, Lyallpur, in the year 1938 ;
- whether it is a fact that some special instructions were issued by the Punjab Government to the Principal of the College regarding the admission this year, if so, whether he will be pleased to lay a copy of those instructions on the table of the House ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) A statement is laid on the table.

(b) Copy of the memorandum, dated the 3rd June, 1938, issued to the Director of Agriculture is laid on the table.

Mian Abdul Aziz : What was the necessity for departing from the general practice and issuing instructions ?

Minister : The necessity was that last year it was definitely decided that we should admit only 75 students. But as I had received a number of telegrams suggesting that the number to be admitted should be raised to 100, I had to issue these instructions.

Memorandum, dated the 3rd June, 1938, from the Financial Commissioner and Secretary to Government, Punjab, Development Department, to the Director of Agriculture, Punjab.

Subject:—ADMISSION TO AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The policy is that no class can exceed 45 in number. Two classes, therefore, can take 90 students and there is sufficient accommodation for two full classes.

2. Last year the figure of new admissions was fixed at 75, viz., 90—15, on the understanding that there would be possibly 15 of the previous students who would have failed to be promoted to the second year class.

3. This year no students have failed. We can, therefore, afford to admit the full 90. The Honourable Minister of Development is pleased to authorize the Principal to accept 15 more admissions, i.e., 90 in all.

INTERMENT OF ASMATULLAH, SON OF UMAR DIN, GOLDSMITH.

*3018. Mian Abdul Rab: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that one Asmatullah, son of Umar Din, goldsmith of village Ranwat, thana Shahkot, district Jullundur,

[Mian Abdul Rab.]

has been interned in his village and cannot go anywhere without first obtaining the permission of the Sub-Inspector of his thana ;

- (b) the reasons for so restricting his movements ;
- (c) the date since he is so restricted ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that he was never challaned or convicted or regularly proceeded against by any competent court for any offence ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the said internee applied to the Punjab Government in June, 1937, for the consideration of his case and for the withdrawal of restrictions imposed on him ;
- (f) whether it is a fact that no allowance is being paid to him to maintain himself and family, if so, the reasons for the same ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) Yes. The man was restricted under section 11 of the Criminal Tribes Act, VI of 1924,—vide Punjab Government notification No. 9249, dated 27th March, 1938.

(b) He is an active and notorious member of the Malsian gang of coiners, was strongly suspected in two cases of police station, Shahkot, district Julundur, and is closely related to many members of the gang.

(c) 27th March, 1938.

(d) Yes, but he was suspected in two cases and is an active member of the gang.

(e) Yes. The case of all Malsian coiners is being re-examined by Government.

(f) Yes. No allowance is paid to any person restricted under the Criminal Tribes Act.

Mian Abdul Rab : May I know from the honourable Parliamentary Secretary whether he was convicted by a regular court ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have already answered that question in part (b) of the original question.

Mian Abdul Aziz : On what grounds were those suspicions based ?

Parliamentary Secretary : This question does not arise out of this question. I would like to have notice for that.

ROAD BETWEEN OCTROI BARRIER AND THE RAILWAY LEVEL CROSSING, PAKPATTAN.

*3022. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) when the portion of the road lying between the Octroi Barrier No. 3 and the railway level crossing, Pakpattan, was transferred by the Municipal Committee, Pakpattan, to the Public Works Department ;

- (b) whether the above-mentioned portion is kacha ;
 (c) whether there is a proposal to make it pakka ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) On 12th December, 1936.

- (b) Yes.
 (c) No.

PLAYGROUND FOR GOVERNMENT HIGH SCHOOL, PAKPATTAN.

*3023. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state whether any playground for the students is attached to the Government High School, Pakpattan, for outdoor games, if there is no playground for them, what action Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : No. The matter is under consideration.

SPORTS FUND.

*3024. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state whether any sports fund is maintained by the Government High School, Pakpattan, if so, what is the present amount of that Fund ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : Yes. The balance in the Fund on 24th June, 1938, was Rs. 3,213-3-10.

GUN LICENCE OF RAJINDER SINGH OF VILLAGE RAJA SANSI.

*3025. Sardar Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the gun licence of one Rajindar Singh, village Raja Sansi, has been cancelled ;
 if the answer to the above be in the affirmative, what are the reasons for the same ;
 (c) whether this licence has been cancelled on the ground that the said Rajindar Singh takes active part in the Congress organisation ;
 (d) whether while granting gun licences discrimination is made on the basis of political views of the applicants ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

- (a) Yes.
 (b) He was involved in a murder and riot case.
 (c) No.
 (d) No. The main considerations which govern the grant of a licence for a firearm are social status, character and the necessity for protection.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Parliamentary Secretary, please state whether any confidential circular has been issued to licensing authorities or district magistrates that Congressmen as a rule are debarred from getting licences or whether or not it has been the practice of the Punjab Government that licences are not granted to Congressmen because of their political views ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am not aware of any such circular.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Parliamentary Secretary make enquiries in the matter ?

Parliamentary Secretary : No circular has been issued by Government.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is it a fact that Rajinder Singh took active part in Congress politics ?

Parliamentary Secretary : May be.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is it within the knowledge of Government that he has or has not been taking active part in Congress politics ?

Parliamentary Secretary : It is not within my knowledge.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it a fact that a circular was issued by the previous Government debarring the grant of licences to persons who have been taking part in Congress politics ?

Parliamentary Secretary : I am not aware of it.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has Government made sure that there is no such circular issued either by the present Government or by the previous Government ?

Mr. Speaker : That question has been answered already.

BREACH IN THE BANK OF GOGERA BRANCH CANAL.

*3028. Sardar Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that a breach occurred in the bank of Gogera Branch Canal near Chak No. 81-G.B., district Lyallpur, in the year 1935 ;
- (b) if the answer to the above be in the affirmative, whether any estimates of the damage done to the crops in the said Chak by this breach were prepared by the Canal and Revenue Departments ; if not, why not ;
- (c) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, the reasons why no compensation has been given to the villagers who sustained losses owing to the breach in the canal bank ; whether that compensation is intended to be granted now and if so, when ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No.

(b) and (c) Do not arise.

HANS RAJ 'WIRELESS' AND HIS MARRIAGE.

*3027. Sardar Kartar Singh: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the father of Hans Raj 'Wireless' has recently applied to the Punjab Government to permit his son to enter the Punjab for his marriage to take place in his native place; if so, the action, if any, taken on that application?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan: First part—
Yes.

Second part.—A reply has been sent by Government to the father of Hans Raj.

WATERLOGGING IN THE MONTGOMERY DISTRICT.

*3028. Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether Government is aware of the fact that considerable area of land has been rendered useless owing to waterlogging in the Montgomery district in general and in the Okara Tahsil in particular; if so, whether Government proposes to grant any relief to the persons affected by such waterlogging?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: (1) About 2,000 acres is so far affected by ~~thar~~ as a result of the rise in spring level. Most of this is in the Renala Estate which is Government property.

(2) Government is considering proposals to lower the spring level by pumping from tube wells, gravity drains lining the main canal and to reclaim the land by leaching and drainage. These proposals are expensive and require careful consideration.

HEADQUARTERS OF EXECUTIVE ENGINEER, KHANWAH.

*3029. Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether Government is aware of the fact that the Executive Engineer, Khanwah division, has his headquarters now at Ferozepore, which used to be at Suleimanke,

(b) whether he is aware of the fact that the zamindars of the Uga are put to a great deal of expense and inconvenience when they have to see the Executive Engineer on some official business,

(c) if the answers to the foregoing parts be in the affirmative, what action, if any, Government propose to take in the matter?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: (a) The Khanewal district has no connection with either Suleimanke or Ferozepore. Presumably the honourable member refers to the Khanwah division. The Headquarters of Khanwah division have always been at Ferozepore.

(b) No. The Executive Engineer is on tour in his division 12-18 days each month and zamindars can see him then.

(c) Does not arise.

CONCESSIONS TO TENANTS IN NILI BAR.

*3030. Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that during the recent agitation of the tenants against the lessees in the Nili Bar Colony the Government gave some concessions to the tenants ; if so, whether the Government proposes to give the same concessions to the Ganji Bar Colony tenants also ; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The lease conditions were revised in order to meet particular circumstances which had arisen in the Nili Bar Colony. Government have no evidence to suggest that such circumstances exist in the Ganji Bar Colony. The honourable member will find full details in my statement made in answer to a short notice question<sup>1</sup> on 2nd March, 1938.

Mr. Dev Raj Sethi : What were the special circumstances under which the concessions were given ?

Minister : If my honourable friend would read the communiqué, he will find the information he wants.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has Government made sure that those special circumstances do not exist in the Ganji Bar ?

Minister : Not so far.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has he made enquiries on the point ?

Sardar Ajit Singh : Is the Honourable Minister aware that some representations were sent to him from Chaks Nos. 39, 43 and 47 ?

Minister : I do not recollect.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

OUTLETS ON THE DIPALPUR CANAL.

*3031. Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he is aware that there are many outlets on the Dipalpur Canal which owing to defective layout, cannot get their proper share of water when the channels are running share supply, particularly the one on Nanakpur Minor, E. D. 25,500 ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that on account of this irregular supply of water the zamindars have to bear heavy losses ;
- (c) if the answer to (a) and (b) be in the affirmative, the action Government intends to take to redress the grievances of the zamindars concerned ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Outlet B. D. 25,500 Nanakpur Minor gets its correct supply when share supply is flowing and its irrigation is greater than permissible.

(b) and (c) Do not arise.

PERSONS ARRESTED FOR POLITICAL REASONS IN KARNAL DISTRICT.

*3032. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the names of all those persons who have been arrested since 1st February, 1938, in the Karnal district under sections 124-A, 108, Criminal Procedure Code, 117-A, etc., for their political activities ;
- (b) whether he is aware of the great resentment caused in that area by these prosecutions ;
- (c) whether there is a proposal to withdraw any of these cases ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): (a) It is not in the public interest to give the names of the persons.

(b) No.

(c) One case has been withdrawn. It is not proposed at present to withdraw any of the other cases under sections 124, 117, 504/506 and 302 115.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: May I know what public interest is involved in not disclosing the names of the persons ?

Mr. Speaker: That question is disallowed.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: On what grounds, may I know ?

Mr. Speaker: If the Honourable Minister refuses to answer a question on grounds of public interest, he cannot be questioned further.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: What about the Parliamentary Secretary or the Minister abusing his privilege of refusing to answer a question on grounds of public interest ? The information I sought was only the names of persons prosecuted under sections 124-A and 108, Criminal Procedure Code. You have been in the chair for the last 14 years and this is the first time that the Government has taken its stand on the plea of public interest and has refused to disclose the names of persons who are being prosecuted in open courts. I do not see any public interest involved in disclosing the names.

Premier: Why then does the honourable member want the information ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: To show that the record of Government is black.

Munshi Hari Lal: May I know what is meant by public interest ?

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member may consult the proceedings, Parliamentary procedure or proceedings. I have not come across any definition of the expression "public interest". I have more than once ruled from this chair that according to Parliamentary practice a Minister may refuse to answer a question even without assigning any reason for his refusal.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma: I want to know whether the proceedings in the court are held in camera.

Premier: No, in open court.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : May I know which particular case has been withdrawn ?

Premier : One case under section 117.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Against whom and for what reasons ?

Premier : I cannot divulge the name for the reason already given.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : May I know the number of those persons who have been arrested ?

Premier : I know only of seven cases of which one has been withdrawn. The other six cases are proceeding. I do not know the number of accused.

Mr. Speaker : That information can be easily obtained from courts.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : If that is your ruling, then most of the information can be had by us privately.

Mr. Speaker : No question can be asked in the House for information which can be obtained from available and accessible documents. The next question.

PROFESSION TAX LEVIED BY THE DISTRICT BOARD, LYALLPUR.

*3033. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state whether he is aware of the fact that a number of applications have recently been submitted to the Chairman of District Board, Lyallpur, objecting to the levy of professional tax without regard to the limited income of the persons on whom the tax has been imposed ; if so, whether any enquiry has been made regarding this matter ; and if not, why not ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Yes ; an enquiry into the objections received was held and the objections were rejected. An appeal from these decisions lies to the Commissioner.

Lala Harnam Das : On what grounds were these applications rejected ?

Minister : According to the rules.

Sardar Mula Singh : Is it a fact that when the zaildars find that the Achhuts refuse to give beyar, they get them taxed ?

Minister : No.

RECRUITMENT OF SCHEDULED CASTES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

*3034. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of appointments made in various cadres of the Department of Agriculture this year since April, 1938 ;
- (b) the number of appointments among them which have been given to the members of the Scheduled Castes and if no such appointment has gone to them, the reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) The following is the number of permanent, officiating and temporary appointments made (otherwise than by promotions) to Government posts in various cadres of the Punjab Agricultural Department (including Fisheries Section) since April, 1938 up to date :—

Permanent appoint- ments.	Superior service ..	55
	Inferior service other than those paid from contingencies.	8
Temporary appoint- ments.	Superior service .. ..	86
	Inferior service other than those paid from contingencies.	8
Officiating appoint- ments.	Superior service .. ..	16
	Inferior service other than those paid from contingencies.	17
Total ..		185

(b) Out of these, six appointments were given to members of the Scheduled Castes, who possessed the requisite qualifications. More appointments could not be given to members of the Scheduled Castes, as suitable men with the requisite qualifications were not available.

RECRUITMENT OF SCHEDULED CASTES AS ASSISTANT PANCHAYAT OFFICERS.

*3035. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of Assistant Panchayat Officers that are to be appointed in the near future ;
- (b) whether the Government has any intention to take any Assistant Panchayat Officers from amongst the scheduled castes ; if so, how many ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Fifty-six.

(b) Due consideration will be given to the claims of the applicants who belong to the scheduled castes but Government are unable to anticipate their decision in the matter.

REPRESENTATION OF THE SCHEDULED CASTES IN THE CLERICAL ESTABLISHMENT OF DISTRICT AND SESSIONS JUDGES' COURT, LYALLPUR.

*3036. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Finance Minister be pleased to state whether it is a fact that in the clerical establishment of District and Sessions Judges' Court, Lyallpur, and also in the subordinate courts, the representation of the scheduled castes is nil; if so, what steps the Government proposes to take to make up their deficiency in the aforesaid Department?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

UNEMPLOYMENT AMONGST THE SCHEDULED CASTES.

*3037. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the members of scheduled castes of the Toba Tek Singh Tahsil Constituency have recently made a representation to Government through the Assembly member of the constituency concerned for the solution of the question of unemployment prevailing among the scheduled castes and Kamies of the rural area in the said tahsil; if so, what steps the Government propose to take in the matter?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : No such representation appears to have been received by Government. Attention is, however, invited to the reply given to question No. *1149.<sup>1</sup>

Sardar Mula Singh : Did not the Honourable Minister receive the representation through the representative of the constituency (Lala Harnam Das)?

Minister : I have already answered that question.

PREFERENCE TO SCHEDULED CASTES IN NEW APPOINTMENTS.

*3038. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether or not the Government has any intention to give preference to the scheduled castes members in all the Government services to make up their deficiency in the services?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : The attention of the honourable member is invited to the answer given to question No. *2980<sup>2</sup> put during the last session.

GOVERNMENT SCHOLARSHIPS TO SCHEDULE CASTE STUDENTS.

*3039. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

(a) the number of scheduled caste students who are getting Government scholarships at present in colleges throughout the Punjab;

(b) the number of scheduled caste students who are getting scholarships from the various societies?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

<sup>2</sup>Volume IV, page 637.

SCHEDULED CASTE STUDENTS IN NATIONAL AND PRIVATE COLLEGES.

*3040. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of scheduled caste students in national and private colleges ;
- (b) the number of scheduled caste students who are paying full fees of colleges ;
- (c) the number of scheduled caste students who are given half fee concession in these colleges ;
- (d) the number of scheduled caste students who are given full fee concession in these colleges ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) The number of scheduled caste students on the rolls of privately-managed Arts colleges in the Punjab on 31st March, 1988, was 23.

(b), (c) and (d) The required information is not readily available, nor is there any use in collecting it from the various colleges. In Arts colleges no fee concessions are reserved for any particular community. Poor students, irrespective of caste or creed, are admitted at half fee rates up to the extent of 10 per cent. of the enrolment and I have no doubt students belonging to scheduled castes receive full consideration.

NOMINATION OF A MEMBER OF SCHEDULED CASTES AS EXTRA ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER.

*3041. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that no member of scheduled castes has been nominated as Extra Assistant Commissioner up to this time in the Punjab ;
- (b) if so, has the Government any intention to appoint any Extra Assistant Commissioner from among the scheduled castes in the Punjab this year ; if not, why not ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) Yes.

(b) There have been no selections by nominations this year (i.e., since April, 1987). When fresh nominations are made Government will be glad to consider the claims of any suitable candidates from among the scheduled castes.

Lala Harnam Das : What should be the qualifications for such candidates ?

Parliamentary Secretary : The qualifications are given in the rules for recruitment to the provincial services.

NOMINATION OF THE SCHEDULED CASTES IN CHAK JHUMRA MUNICIPALITY.

*3042. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the population of Achaets in Chak Jhumra in the Lyallpur district is above 900 ; if so, whether the Government has any intention to nominate a scheduled caste member to the Municipal Committee, Chak Jhumra ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : The population of Achhuts in Chak Jhumra municipality at the time of the last census was 259. Their population and voting strength do not justify the allotment of a separate seat to them in the Municipal Committee.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : May I ask the Honourable Minister whether Achhuts are allowed to ask communal questions ?

Sardar Mula Singh : Yes.

Minister : Members who put questions never get the previous sanction of the Government.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : I want to know whether other communal questions will be answered on the floor of this House.

Premier : Questions relating to proportion of communities on local bodies, I do not think, come under that category. I do not think they are objectionable. If you ask whether the various communities get their proper share that would not be communal.

Mian Abdul Rab : May I draw the attention of the Honourable Premier to question No. *3041 relating to the representation of the scheduled castes among Extra Assistant Commissioners and ask him whether certain similar questions had been refused to be answered on the ground that they are communal questions, whereas questions regarding representation of scheduled castes are being answered to-day ? Only the other day the Honourable Minister for Revenue refused to answer a question regarding scheduled castes as usual on the floor of the House. To-day these questions are being answered. May I know the reasons for this difference ?

Premier : The question put by my honourable friend Lala Harnam Das is this : whether it is a fact that no member of scheduled castes has been nominated as Extra Assistant Commissioner up to this time in the Punjab. If my honourable friends wish to put a question to-morrow whether no Muslim has been recruited to this service, I will reply to that question also. It is a question of fact.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Who is to judge whether a question is communal or not ?

Mr. Speaker : I am not a party to that convention. I am concerned only with questions and supplementary questions.

SCHEDULED CASTE STUDENTS IN THE GOVERNMENT COLLEGES.

*3043. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state the number of college students belonging to the scheduled castes and at present reading in Government Colleges throughout the Punjab and the number of those among them who are enjoying fee concession ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : The number of students of the scheduled castes on the rolls of Government Arts colleges in the Punjab on 31st March, 1938, was 9. Information in regard to fee concessions is not readily available. In this connexion the honourable member is referred to the answer to his question No. 3040 (starred).

Chaudhri Jugal Kishore : Is it a fact that the Head Master at Naraingarh, district Ambala, has not granted fee concessions to Acast boys ?

Minister : The question relates to colleges. If the honourable member wants any information about a particular school, I would ask him to give proper notice.

RECRUITMENT OF THE SCHEDULED CASTES IN THE POLICE FORCE.

*3044. Lala Harnam Das : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the result of recruitment that has been made in the month of April, 1938, throughout the province to the police force ;
- (b) whether any member of the scheduled castes has been recruited to any of the posts in the force ;
- (c) if not, reasons for the same ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) : (a) I am not sure what the honourable member means by the result of recruitment. If he needs information on any particular point, I will try to supply it.

(b) Three members of scheduled castes were recruited in the Central Range in December last. One has since resigned.

(c) Does not arise.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What is the objection to information being given on a starred question ?

Parliamentary Secretary : For the reason that a convention has been set up by the Government that no communal questions should be answered on the floor of the House.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The Honourable Premier has just now stated that a question asking whether a particular community has its due share or not is not a communal question.

Sardar Mula Singh : May I know if questions regarding depressed classes (scheduled classes) are communal questions ?

Premier : May I inform the honourable member that so far as I am concerned there is no such thing as depressed classes.

COMPLAINT FROM MR. FAIZ ALI, HONORARY MAGISTRATE, GUJRANWALA.

*3045. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether he has recently received any complaint from Mr. Faiz Ali, Honorary Magistrate, Gujranwala, against the conduct of the Public Prosecutor at Gujranwala ; if so, whether any inquiry has been made into the matter ; and if so, the result thereof ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): I have received no communication from Mr. Faiz Ali.

COLLECTION MADE BY THE COLONY ASSISTANT, SHAHPUR, FOR THE ENTERTAINMENT OF MR. C. C. GARBETT.

*3046. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Colony Assistant, Shahpur district, collected Rs. 1,500 to entertain Mr. C. C. Garbett, I.C.S., Financial Commissioner, in April, 1936;
- (b) whether it is a fact that Mr. C. C. Garbett, refused to accept the invitation when he came to know how the money was collected;
- (c) whether the money has been returned to the contributors; if not, why not?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): The only information in the possession of Government is that the Financial Commissioner when on tour at Sargodha was asked if he would accept an invitation to tea from the zamindars of the district and that he replied in the negative.

If any responsible person is prepared to make the scandalous accusation implied in parts (b) and (c) against the public servant involved, Government will immediately make investigation at the peril of both parties concerned.

POLITICAL WORKERS ARRESTED IN KARNAL DISTRICT.

*3047. Lala Duni Chand: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of political workers arrested since November, 1937, in Karnal District;
- (b) the number of cases challaned giving nature of the offence for which each of these political workers were challaned;
- (c) the period for which each such accused has been in jail;
- (d) the number of those among them who were granted bail;
- (e) the period of pendency of each case;
- (f) the number of the accused convicted, discharged or acquitted and the number of those accused against whom cases were withdrawn?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): It is not clear what the honourable member means by the terms "political workers." If he will make his intention clear, I shall be pleased to answer the question.

Lala Duni Chand: May I know how many persons connected with the Congress movement have been arrested?

Parliamentary Secretary: I would like to know what the honourable member means by Congress movement.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it within the knowledge of the Parliamentary Secretary that persons working for the Congress and carrying on Congress propaganda have been arrested ?

Premier : No persons are arrested merely because they happen to be Congressmen or belong to other parties.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not true that members and workers—well-known workers—of the Congress, have been arrested ?

Premier : If members and well-known workers of the Congress offend against the law, they are not immune.

Lala Duni Chand : The question is whether such persons have been arrested or not.

Premier : Persons who commit breaches of law are arrested.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know again whether the persons that I have described have been arrested or not ?

Premier : What persons has my honourable friend described ?

Lala Duni Chand : Persons who have been working in connection with the Congress movement or who are well-known Congress workers in Karnal district.

Premier : I have already answered that if workers or well-known workers of Congress commit offences they are as liable to be arrested as anybody else.

Lala Duni Chand : Quite right, but have they been arrested ? I request the Honourable Premier not to evade the question. My question is whether such persons have been arrested or not ?

Premier : They should normally be arrested but in certain cases the local authorities may not have arrested them.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know that as many as 17 workers have been arrested ?

Premier : If my honourable friend's information is correct, they must have committed some offence.

Lala Duni Chand : Take it that they have committed very serious offences, the question is whether they have been arrested or not ?

Premier : Should they be arrested or not ?

Lala Duni Chand : Have they been arrested or not ?

Premier : If they have committed serious offences, very likely they have been arrested.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that about a dozen Congress workers have been in the lock up more or less for as many as 5 or 6 months in connection with the prosecutions against them ?

Premier : There are no prosecutions against Congress workers as such but only against offenders against the law.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if it is within the knowledge of the Honourable Premier that in recent years the Congress movement in Karnal has not been very strong ?

Premier : I am afraid my honourable friend would not like me to answer that question for it would not be palatable to him.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that the Congress movement has been particularly strong during the last 8 or 9 months and it is in consequence of that that as many as 17 workers have been arrested ?

Mr. Speaker : The question is disallowed.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if the fact that the Congress movement has been strong in Karnal of late is responsible for the action that the Government has taken ?

Mr. Speaker : The same question is being asked in another form. So, I disallow it.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether these arrests have been made following the visit of the Honourable Premier and the Honourable Minister for Development to the Karnal district ?

Premier : My honourable friend tries to be cynical or clever. The information is not correct.

Dr. Copi Chand Bhargava : If he does not try to be cynical, will it be correct ?

Premier : His information is not correct.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that it was as a result of the demonstration that we staged against their visit that these persons were arrested ?

Premier : No demonstrations were staged against me or the Honourable Minister for Development when we went to Karnal. The only demonstration which took place was that the President of the District Congress Committee came and garlanded me and my honourable friend and this was very gratifying (hear, hear).

Mian Abdul Rab : Is that a supplementary question or cross-examination ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : May I know whether it is due to garlanding that the arrests were made ?

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that efforts are being made to crush the Congress movement in the Karnal district ?

Mr. Speaker : I think I should call the next question.

Lala Duni Chand : I want information on the point.

Mr. Speaker : If the honourable member wishes to criticise or attack the conduct of a certain Minister or Ministers as such, he should move a substantive motion.

Lala Duni Chand : I want information whether it is a fact or not that these arrests are being made. I do not blame any body. I want this information for my sake. If the Government says it is not a fact I shall be satisfied. I want to convey the information to the workers in the Karnal district.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the Premier aware that the Congress President who put the garlands in his neck has since been removed from that office ?

Premier : Very chivalrous !

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : How many of the persons arrested were arrested under section 124-A ?

Premier : Only one.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : He refused to give the number. You only gave 7 for all the cases. He wants to know how many have been arrested under section 124-A ?

Premier : Only one, I think.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that any Congress worker that came from any other district to work in Karnal district has been arrested ?

Premier : I have said so many times that no Congress worker is arrested. Only a person who went against the law is arrested.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

PERSONS INTERNED IN CONNECTION WITH SHAHIDGANJ AGITATION.

*3048. Chaudhri Muhammad Husain : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the names of the persons interned in connection with the Shahidganj agitation who were offered detention allowance ;
- (b) the amount of detention allowance offered to each internee ;
- (c) the names of the internees who declined to accept the detention allowance which was offered to them ;
- (d) the grounds, if any were stated, on which such allowance was declined by the internee ;
- (e) whether the allowance was declined by any internee on account of its being too inadequate and low as compared with the status of the internee ; if so, whether Government is prepared to reconsider such cases ;
- (f) whether the amount allotted to the internees who refused to accept the allowance is still lying in their account or has been forfeited to the Government ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : (a) No body was interned in the Shahidganj agitation of the last cold weather.

(b) to (f) Do not arise.

- (e) whether any action has been taken by the Deputy Inspector-General of Criminal Investigation Department, Lahore ;
- (f) whether the police has succeeded in tracing out the offence ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :
(a) to (e) Yes.

(f) No. Investigation shows that the case was false.

RESTRICTIONS ON HANS RAJ ' WIRELESS.'

*3050. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Punjab Government have imposed any restrictions upon the entry of Hans Raj known as ' Wireless ' into this province ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that his father has applied to the authorities in this province to remove the ban and to permit him to enter the province, at least for the purpose of his marriage ; if so, what action has been taken in that respect ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) The honourable member is referred to the answer given to part (b) of question No. *2795.<sup>1</sup>

(b) The honourable member is referred to the answer given to question No. *8027.<sup>2</sup>

COMRADE RAM SINGH DATTA, INTERNEE.

*3051. Munshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government is aware that Comrade Ram Singh Datta is an internee in the Punjab ;

<sup>1</sup>Page 619 ante.

- (b) if so, where he is interned, what are the limits of his internment, for how long he has been an internee and under what law he is interned ;
- (c) whether the said internee is getting any allowance, if so, what it is ;
- (d) how many dependents the internee has to maintain ;
- (e) whether the said internee Comrade Ram Singh Datta has applied to the authorities to permit him to go out for earning his livelihood, if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) Ram Singh Datta was restricted to the limits of a village in his home district under section 3, Punjab Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1935, for twelve months with effect from 7th March, 1938.

(c) No.

(d) Wife only. Internee is a member of a joint Hindu family, whose financial condition is satisfactory.

(e) Attention of the honourable member is invited to answer to question No. *2978 (c).<sup>1</sup>

BEHARI LAL, STUDENT OF D. A. V. SCHOOL, MONTGOMERY.

*3052. Manshi Hari Lal : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that one Behari Lal, a student of VIII class, D. A. V. School, Montgomery, son of Lala Chiman Lal, wasal-baki-navis of Dipalpur, Montgomery district, was found missing while sleeping on the roadside at Montgomery on the night intervening between the 31st May, 1937, and 1st June, 1937 ;
- (b) if so, whether his corpse was found out and from where ;
- (c) whether any post-mortem was conducted on his corpse, and, if so, what its result was ;
- (d) whether any report was lodged in the police, if so by whom and, what the allegations in the report were ;
- (e) whether the police traced out the offence and offenders, if so, with what result ?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh) :

(a) Yes.

(b) Yes, from a well nearby.

(c) Yes. The post-mortem report indicated that death was due to throttling.

(d) Yes, by the father of the deceased who named the persons he suspected.

[S. B. S. Ujjal Singh.]

(e) The identity of culprits could not be traced in spite of vigorous police investigation and the case has been filed as untraced until such time as a fresh clue is available.

RECRUITMENT OF ASSISTANT ENGINEERS IN THE IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

*3053. Mian Badar Mohy-ud-Din Qadri: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Government is going to recruit ten assistant engineers direct in the Irrigation Department; if so, the reasons for not promoting the temporary engineers appointed last September to these posts?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: Part 1.—Yes.

Part 2.—Under rule 7 of the Punjab Service of Engineers, Class II Rules, temporary engineers have to be in service two years continuously before being eligible for promotion and therefore these temporary officers are not yet eligible. A certain number of vacancies have been set aside for recruitment in due course by promotion from the temporary engineers recruited last year who are considered suitable. Further any temporary engineer recruited last year who is eligible according to the conditions regarding direct recruitment to the Punjab Service of Engineers Class II is being permitted by the Chief Engineer to apply and will be considered by the Punjab Public Service Commission on his merits.

SUB-DIVISIONAL OFFICER, CHAKWAL.

*3054. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) when the present Sub-Divisional Officer, Chakwal, was posted there;
- (b) whether it is a fact that he has served the usual period after which an officer is transferred from a place; if so, the reasons for his stay at Chakwal;
- (c) whether it is a fact that a near relative of the aforesaid Sub-Divisional Officer is also employed at Chakwal; if so, in what capacity?

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood): (a) He was posted to Chakwal on the 6th June, 1935 and remained there till the 6th November, 1935. He was reposted to Chakwal on the 26th January, 1936, and is stationed there since that date.

(b) No definite period has been fixed by Government after which a sub-divisional officer must be transferred from the station of his posting, as postings and transfers are made in the exigencies of the public service.

(c) None of his relatives is employed at present at Chakwal but his son, who is a supervisor in the Co-operative Credit Societies Department, is under orders of transfer to Chakwal as Sub-Inspector, Industrial Branch.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What is the usual period for which a sub-divisional officer is kept at one place?

Parliamentary Secretary : I have already stated that no definite period has been fixed by the Government.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is the question of transfer of this sub-divisional officer under consideration of the Government?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

CLOSING OF THE WACHHOWALI MUNICIPAL FEMALE DISPENSARY.

*3055. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Administrator, Lahore Municipality, has decided to close the Wachhowali Municipal Female Dispensary at Lahore; if so, why?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : Answer to the first part of the question is in the negative. Second part does not arise.

HEAD MASTER, GOVERNMENT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL, BHIWANI.

*3056. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Head Master, Government Industrial School, Bhiwani, is also working as superintendent of the hostel attached to that school;

(b) the total number of rooms in the hostel, the number of boarders and the rooms in the hostel occupied by the Head Master?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : There is no Government industrial school at Bhiwani.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the Honourable Minister of Development quite certain about it?

Minister : Yes, absolutely.

Premier : Just as certain as the removal of my honourable friend from the presidentship of the Congress Committee.

DEPARTMENTAL ENQUIRY AGAINST THE PATWARI OF VILLAGE JAOFASI.

*3057. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that on representation being made in November, 1937, by the residents of village Jaofasi, a departmental enquiry was held against the patwari of the village situated in tahsil Nuh (Gurgaon);

[Pt. Shri Ram Sharma.]

- (b) the complaints which were made against the patwari and the number of people who made the statement in support of the allegations, the result of the enquiry and the action taken after that enquiry?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) One representation signed by eleven persons and containing allegations against the patwari of bribery and making a false entry in the mutation register was received. On investigation the charges were not proved and it was revealed that the complaint was the result of malice borne by certain people against the patwari.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Has the Honourable Minister ever said that the charge was proved?

Mr. Speaker : That question is disallowed.

WATER RATES CHARGED FROM THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, HANSI.

*3058. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the rates of water that the Canal Department charges from the Municipal Committee, Hansi and the public in general for filling up the public tank at Hansi;
- (b) whether the Imti tank at Hansi used to be filled at rates charged from the Municipal Committee through the Municipal Committee;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the said Committee now having refused to intervene in the matter the Imti tank remains unfilled to the great inconvenience of the Hindu public at Hansi which look upon the tank as the local place of pilgrimage; if so, the action intended to be taken to remove this inconvenience to the Hindu public at Hansi?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The rate previously charged from the municipality was Re. 1 per 2,500 c.ft., but from 1938, the rate charged from local bodies is Re. 1 per 6,000 c. ft.

(b) Yes.

(c) It may be so, but the owners of the tank have not applied to the canal officers and if they do so, the tank will be filled at the scheduled rates.

PROSECUTION OF LORRY DRIVERS.

*3059. Sardar Kapoor Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the number of lorry drivers prosecuted by the Small Town Committee and tried by the Honorary Magistrate of Samrala, district Ludhiana, under section 84 of General Police Act, (i) in the year, 1937, (ii) in the first four months of the present year, and (iii) in May and June?

Parliamentary Secretary (Sardar Bahadur Sardar Ujjal Singh): No lorry drivers were prosecuted by the Small Town Committee and tried by the Honorary Magistrate, Samrala, under section 94 of the Police Act, 1961, during the periods mentioned.

Sardar Kapoor Singh: May I know the total amount of fine imposed? (Voices: No one was tried).

Mr. Speaker: The next question.

CASES BEFORE THE BENCH OF HONORARY MAGISTRATES, SONA.

*3060. Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath: Will the Honourable Finance Minister be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of cases instituted before the bench of honorary magistrates at Sona, a town near Gurgaon, from 1st January, 1937, to 31st December, 1937;
- (b) the monthly expenditure incurred by the Government for maintaining this court;
- (c) whether it is or it is not a fact that in a recent inspection of this court held by the Additional District Magistrate of Gurgaon, the latter proposed the abolition of this bench;
- (d) whether he will be pleased to lay a copy of the report by the said Additional District Magistrate on the table of the House?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal: (a) 19.

(b) Rs. 81.

(c) Yes.

(d) I am afraid I cannot lay on the table a copy of the report of the Additional District Magistrate as it is a confidential document.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath: Will you kindly make me understand why it should be treated as confidential? It should be laid before the public.

(At this stage the Honourable Premier and Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath were whispering to each other).

Sardar Hari Singh: Is it a private talk?

Mr. Speaker: If the honourable member has to ask a question he should ask it aloud.

ENQUIRY INTO THE GRIEVANCES OF THE TENANTS OF TAHSIL UNA.

*3061. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state the result of the enquiry that has been conducted into the grievances of the tenants of tahsil Una and in particular of the villages in the said tahsil where the kankut or batai system is in vogue?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia: The attention of the honourable member is invited to the reply given to his question No. *2914.<sup>1</sup>

RESEARCH WORK IN FEEDING BULLOCKS ON MOLASSES.

*3062. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether some research work and experiments on feeding bullocks on molasses have recently been conducted at some experimental farms in the Punjab;
- (b) whether such an experiment was also conducted at the Montgomery Farm last year, if so, whether the Deputy Director of Agriculture, Montgomery, submitted a report on the said experiment at Montgomery to the Director of Agriculture, and if so, the contents of the report;
- (c) whether it has recently been brought to the notice of the Director of Agriculture by an Agricultural Assistant that the experiment was not actually conducted, ; if so, whether an inquiry has been held into the allegation and if so, with what result?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Experiments on feeding bullocks on molasses were conducted at the Hansi, Gurdaspur, Jullundur and Montgomery Experimental Farms up to 1937, and have been discontinued since.

(b) Copy of the report submitted by the Deputy Director of Agriculture, Montgomery, is laid on the table.

(c) An Agricultural Assistant whose increment has been withheld after repeated warnings made an allegation against the Farm Manager that the experiment referred to in part (b) had never actually been conducted, although an elaborate report had been submitted by the Farm Manager on the results. An inquiry is being held.

Cattle feeding experiment with molasses—Report submitted by Deputy Director of Agriculture, Montgomery.

The experiment was started on 11th January, 1937, and concluded on 31st January, 1937. The feeds tried were as under :—

- (a) Standard feed of the non-experimental feed consisting of 20 seers green fodder and 10 seers of wheat bhuss per bullock.
- (b) Experimental feed :—
  - (i) Toria Pallar in combination with green fodder and molasses.
  - (ii) Wheat bhuss in combination with green fodder and molasses.

Six bullocks, i.e., two under each feed were kept under experiment. Two seers of concentrates per bullock were given as usual and the work taken from each bullock was of the same standard.

The consumption of various feeds is given in statement No. I and weight of bullocks in statement No. II. The average consumption of wheat bhuss and toria pallar when moistened with molasses is given in statement No. III.

The conclusions that can be drawn from the experiment are as under :—

Toria pallar as such cannot be fed to bullocks. Toria pallar can be made more palatable by the addition of molasses and thus utilized for feeding but it stands no comparison with wheat bhuss.

2. Molasses at the rate of 1½ seers per head appear as suitable dose for moistening the roughages.
3. In the ordinary ration of bullocks, i.e., combination of wheat bhuss and green fodder the use of molasses have not shown appreciable advantage in the consumption of wheat bhuss.
4. Use of molasses both in toria pallar and wheat bhuss appears to have depressing effect as is seen from the weight statement No. II.
5. Bullocks fed on molasses felt thirsty very often and thus took large quantity of water. Diarrhoea was also noticed as after effect on some of the bullocks fed with molasses.

Thikri pekra IN VILLAGE BAINS TANWALA, HOSEHARPUR DISTRICT.

*3863. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the people of village Bains Tanewala, thana Hariana, district Hoshiarpur, have recently submitted a representation to the deputy commissioner of the district stating that thikri pekra is being enforced in the village and requesting that it may be stopped; if so, whether an inquiry has been held into the matter and if so, with what result?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan: The deputy commissioner reports that he received a representation. He adds that the system of thikri pekra in the village named has been in existence for many years and is a voluntary system instituted by the people themselves.

LAHORE ADMINISTRATOR AT SIMLA.

*3064. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Government has granted permission to the Administrator, Lahore Municipality, to spend two and a half months during summer season at Simla ;
- (b) if answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, the arrangements proposed to be made to carry on the municipal affairs in his absence from Lahore ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) No special arrangements are necessary since the Administrator is dealing with municipal affairs in the same way as other officers enjoying a recess to perform their duties.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I know whether the Administrator of the Lahore Municipality has been granted this concession and privilege for the first time this year ?

Minister : He has been allowed to recess this year.

Sardar Hari Singh : Will he hold his office here ?

Minister : Yes.

Sardar Hari Singh : Did the Honourable Minister receive an application to this effect ?

Minister : Yes.

Sardar Hari Singh : Will the revenues of the province or of the Lahore Municipality incur any extra expenditure on account of this privilege extended to the Administrator of the Lahore Municipality ? I want an original reply and not a prompted reply ?

Minister : The honourable member will get an original reply if he will give notice.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether the Administrator represents the Lahore Municipality, as there is no municipality ? Are we to understand that he represents the whole of Lahore and the city of Lahore has shifted to Simla ?

Minister : There is no Lahore Municipal Committee but the Administrator administers the Lahore Municipality and performs the duties previously performed by the Lahore Municipal Committee.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : There is no municipality ; the municipality has been suspended.

Minister : It is a question of work whatever you may think ; the functions performed by the municipal committee are being performed by the Administrator.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether he is aware of the fact that there is resentment in the public mind against the Administrator being converted into an absentee Administrator ?

Minister : Not to my knowledge.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Do I understand that in view of the reply given by the Minister he has been allowed to recess for this year only or are we to understand that he will continue in future also ?

Minister : That will depend on circumstances every year.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is it within the knowledge of the Minister that the nature of duties of the Administrator is such that he will have frequently to go and visit various places in Lahore ?

Minister : Whenever necessary he will go and visit those places. His stay at one time shall not exceed more than six weeks and he will carry on his work as other recessing officers do.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that he does not belong to that class of officers who are entitled to spend the summer in Simla ?

Minister : If he were not the Administrator he would have enjoyed that privilege even then.

DEMONSTRATION BY KISANS AT LYALLPUR ON 12TH JUNE.

*3065. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether he is aware of the demonstration by forty thousand kisans at Lyallpur on June 12 as a protest against the reduction of the width of canal outlets on Janiwala and Amirwala distributaries ; if so, steps taken or proposed to be taken by the Government to redress the grievances of the people affected ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The demonstration was held on June the 10th at Lyallpur. The number present is reported to be between 10,000 and 15,000.

(b) The alleged grievance is on account of reduction in size of outlets and consequent shortage of supply. This distributary was remodelled in 1934 but complaints of irrigators at the tail continued stating they were not getting their authorised supply and that they were not able to mature their crops. To meet this complaint and owing to the silting up of the distributary and the minor, remodelling and re-adjustment of outlets had to be undertaken. It may be noted that the outlets drew more than the authorised discharge or sanctioned discharge with the consequent reduction of supply at the tail. Government has to equitably distribute water and therefore the work of remodelling was undertaken by the canal authorities. This was exploited by interested parties and Government regrets that owing to the action of the irrigators, who were misled into refusing to take canal water, the zamindars are thus made to suffer.

Government is always ready to look into any grievance of short supply of water and remedy any complaint that might exist but they cannot benefit the irrigators on the upper reach of the distributary at the expense of the irrigators at the tail.

Sardar Hari Singh : With reference to the Honourable Minister's reply that this was being exploited by the interested parties may I know what is meant by interested parties ?

Minister : People know who are exploiting.

Sardar Hari Singh : Who are exploiting ?

Minister : The interested parties.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is he sure that the Government is exploiting or the people are exploiting?

Minister : Interested parties.

Sardar Hari Singh : Who are they?

Minister : My friend knows very well, who are these parties.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I enquire whether this agreement was reached between the canal authorities and the cultivators of this place on or about the 10th June?

Minister : Not to my knowledge.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it or is it not a fact that when the agreement was sent to the Government for confirmation, the Government on account of false notions of prestige refused to agree?

Minister : I repudiate that charge. It is not false notion or dignity. An officer cannot come to an agreement without consulting the Government first.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Do I understand that Government not on account of false notions but on account of some other reasons refused to agree to the agreement?

Minister : There are no other reasons except that of distribution of water on equitable basis between the irrigators.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Has the suggestion been refused by Government?

Mr. Dev Raj Sethi : Is it not a fact that remodelling of outlets according to the new agreement was actually taken in hand but suddenly stopped short?

Minister : Perhaps my friend knows of the agreement.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I ask whether he is aware that agitation is continuing and will continue to spread in that area? What steps is Government going to take in order to check it?

Minister : My position is quite clear. Government is not going to allow inequitable distribution of water. Equitable distribution of water is Government's policy. (Hear, hear.)

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do I take it that Government is indifferent to the agitation which is going on?

Minister : There ought not to be any agitation when there is equitable distribution of water.

KISANS OF AMRITSAR AND SETTLEMENT AUTHORITIES.

*3066. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether the Settlement authorities have recently received any representation from the Kisans of Amritsar district on the subject of the current market rates of various agricultural commodities to guide them while proposing new assessment of land revenue in the district; if so, substance of the representation and steps proposed to be taken thereon?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : A large number of objections was received by the settlement officer against the commutation prices proposed by him for the reassessment of the Amritsar district. They will be carefully considered before passing orders on the settlement officer's proposals.

THE THAL PROJECT.

*3007. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state whether the Government has had under consideration the Thal Project of Canal Irrigation; if so, the stage which it has reached now together with chief details of the scheme and estimate of expenditure and time to be taken for these works?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : The project estimates of expenditure and revenue are complete.

The total expenditure is expected not to exceed 5½ crores, excluding lining, and will pay 8.9 per cent. with land revenue and water advantage rate Rs. 8 per acre and abiana at Rs. 4 per acre matured.

The additional cost of lining main canal and main branch will be 1.5 crores giving a return of 8.9 per cent. with land revenue and water advantage rate as Rs. 8 per acre. If main canal and all branches are lined the additional cost will be 2.5 crores giving the same returns. The water saved from lining will be used in the Khushab tehsil.

These figures do not take into account the ultimate capital receipts from the sale of the greater portion of Crown waste areas.

The barrage can probably be constructed in two years and the main works in three years.

Gross commanded area is 14 lakhs acres, proposed annual irrigation is 8.5 lakhs acres. This is based on 6,000 cusecs of capacity at head of canal.

Additional irrigation in Khushab tehsil by water saved from lining will be 1.87 or 2 lakhs acres according as main line and main branch or main line and all branches are lined.

RESTRICTIONS ON ex-BABAR AKALI PRISONERS.

*3068. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any restrictions have been placed on the movements of any of the Babar Akali prisoners recently released from the jails;
- (b) whether any of them has been asked by the police not to participate in political work; if so, why?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) No.

GENERAL ELECTION TO THE DISTRICT BOARD, HOशीARPUR.

*366. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state:—

- (a) when the next general election to the District Board, Hoshiarpur, is due;
- (b) whether there is any proposal under consideration for change in the delimitation of constituencies; if so, the principle governing the change;
- (c) the dates fixed for preparation of electoral rolls in this constituency?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana: (a) In the last week of February, 1938.

(b) No.

(c) The preliminary electoral rolls will be prepared in manuscript by the end of September, 1938, and the printed copies will be released for publication in the month of November, 1938.

SUSPENSION OF LALAMUSA SMALL TOWN COMMITTEE.

*367. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Lalamusa Small Town Committee has been suspended on its failure to perform its duties imposed upon it by the Punjab Small Town Act; if so, period of its suspension;
- (b) manner in which and matters in respect of which the committee failed to perform the duties imposed upon it?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana: (a) Yes. No period has been fixed but the matter will be considered after one year.

(b) From a recent report on the affairs of this town committee, Government were satisfied that the committee was devoid of all sense of civic responsibility and there was no way to secure efficient management and solvency except suspension.

DRY FARMING.

*367. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state since how long dry farming experiment has been carried on at Rohtak and the measure of success achieved in this respect so far?

The Honourable Chandhri Sir Chhotu Ram: The dry farming research scheme was started on the 1st July, 1935, and has been carried on at the Rohtak farm for three years. The experiment has now reached the third of the five years for which it has been planned, and it is yet too early to tell what the final results will be. It may, however, be stated that all the major crops of the Punjab that are cultivated in various districts, have been successfully grown at the Dry Farming Research Station, Rohtak.

NOMINATION TO LYALLPUR MUNICIPALITY.

*3072. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) reasons for the delay in making nominations to the Lyallpur Municipality recently made ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the Municipal Committee had some time ago urged that the general elections be expedited ; if so, why that request was not acceded to?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) It is not understood what the honourable member means by asking for the delay in making nominations to the Lyallpur Municipality. In common parlance the word 'delay' is used with reference to the performance of a thing if some time has been fixed for its performance. As, however, no time had been fixed for making nominations to the Lyallpur Municipal Committee, there was obviously no delay in making these nominations. But I might add for the information of the honourable member that the nominations were made as soon as practical after the question was decided in principle.

(b) Yes. But the elections could not be held as the wards had not been framed.

MENACE OF SUBSIDENCE OF WATER-TABLE IN DOABA.

*3073. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Revenue be pleased to state the steps so far taken in the direction of implementing the promise given by the Government on the floor of the Assembly and outside to explore avenues to meet the menace of the subsidence of water-table in the Doaba, i.e., Hoshiarpur and Jullundur districts, to the agriculturists ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia : A conference of officials met in Simla on May 27, 1938, and has studied the problem very carefully and made certain suggestions. For amplification of the suggestions and preparing concrete proposals for combating the menace a supplementary demand has been placed before the House for opening a sub-division at Jullundur as soon as possible.

A second conference consisting of officials and non-officials will meet in Simla on June 22, 1938, to examine the proposals of the conference held on May 27, and to give an opportunity for the non-official view to be expressed.

CONSOLIDATION OF LAND HOLDINGS IN VILLAGE NANGAL JAMAL.

*3074. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state whether it is a fact that a majority of the land-owners of village Nangal Jamal in district Hoshiarpur have submitted to the Deputy Commissioner, Hoshiarpur, representations, dated 28th May, 1938, and 18th June, 1938, objecting therein to the work of consolidation of land holdings carried on in their village recently ; if so, the action taken thereon?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : First part—No.
Second part :—Does not arise.

COMPENSATION TO INSPECTOR CROWE AND THE CONSTABLES IN THE KIROO TORTURE CASE.

*3075. Mr. E. Few: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether his attention has been drawn to the judgment of the Special Officer appointed to try the famous Kiroo Torture Case and if the answer be in the affirmative, whether it is the intention of the Government to grant special compensation to Inspector Crowe and the constables concerned for the mental torture and disgrace they have been subjected to?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan: The full text of the judgment has been received only recently and is under examination. Government is not, therefore, in a position at present to indicate what action, if any, it would take as a result of that examination.

NURSES OF THE MAYO GROUP OF HOSPITALS.

*3076. Mr. E. Few: Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether he is aware that nurses of the Mayo group of hospitals in the province are required to do night duty for a month at a stretch without break for a single night entailing 12 hours each night and that after performing such duty for a whole month they are required to come back to duty after six hours after their morning duty and that this system causes much inconvenience and hardship to the nurses concerned; if so, whether it is intended to modify the system?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haya: The statement so far as it relates to the duty hours of nurses is correct.

The present system of night duty for one month at a stretch without a break for a single night is in vogue in all the hospitals in Lahore and has been functioning satisfactorily for many years and no complaint has ever been received from nurses on this account. This system is based on the system of prominent hospitals in Great Britain and elsewhere and Government do not propose to modify it.

REPRESENTATION OF THE PARENTS ASSOCIATION, BERI, DIS-TRICT ROHTAK.

*3077. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma: Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether the Government has received a representation recently from the President of the Parents Association, Beri, district Rohtak with regard to the change of time for summer vacation in the local high school, if so, the action taken thereon?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haya: Yes. I see no reason why the school at Beri should close earlier than other schools in the district.

DEPUTATION OF MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, SIMLA, IN CONNEXION WITH THE RIPON HOSPITAL.

*3078. Sardar Hari Singh: Will the Honourable Minister of Education be pleased to state whether recently a deputation of Municipal Committee, Simla, waited upon him in connexion with the Ripon Hospital and made a representation on the subject; if so, substance of the representation and action taken or proposed to be taken by the Government in the matter?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Hays : No such deputation has been received by Government.

MONEY SPENT IN AID OF INDUSTRIES.

*3079. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister of Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the manner in which the sum sanctioned under the State Aid to Industries Act for the year 1937-38 was spent together with full details of the industries and firms subsidised and the sums apportioned among them ;
- (b) the manner in which the sum sanctioned for the year 1938-39 is proposed to be expended?

The Honourable Chandhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) A statement is laid on the table.

(b) The provision for the year 1938-39 is proposed to be utilised in the following manner :—

	Rs.
(i) Loans .. .. .	2,00,000

ENROLMENT OF WOMEN IN POLICE DEPARTMENT.

*3080. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether the Government has under consideration any proposals for enrolment of women in the executive line of the Police Department?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The only female police officer in the Punjab is the lady Inspector at Lahore station. There is no proposal for employing further female officers.

THE PUNJAB ALIENATION OF LAND (SECOND AMENDMENT) BILL.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Sir, I beg to move that—

The Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill as reported on by the select committee be taken into consideration.

3 P. M.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Urdu) : Sir, I wish to raise a preliminary objection with your permission.

Mr. Speaker : May I ask the honourable member whether he is unable to speak in English ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Urdu) : Sir, the fact of the matter is that ever since my coming to this Assembly I have been feeling a great difficulty in expressing my thoughts in English, and I do maintain that the best medium of expression for any man is his own mother tongue. There cannot be any two opinions about this. But it is a thousand pities that we are denied, in this House, our natural right to express our opinions and thoughts in our own language. I remember I had raised this point on the very first day of the first session of this Assembly at Lahore, but, you could not see your way to permit us to speak in our own language because you thought that it was not permissible under Section 85 of the Government of India Act of 1935. Well, Sir, we continued making speeches in English, but, I cannot help observing that it is extremely difficult, if not impossible, to fully express ourselves in this foreign tongue. We have been pulling on under a serious handicap and I do not wish to make any secret of the fact that our patience has reached the breaking point. It is under these circumstances that I am driven once again to request you, Sir, to very kindly allow us to speak in our own mother tongue.

Mr. Speaker : What has the Honourable Premier to say on the point ?

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikandar Hyat-Khan) (Urdu) : Sir, I too wish to associate myself with what the honourable Leader of the Opposition has stated just now with regard to the question of language in this House. Not only I but several other honourable members, sitting on this side of the House, also feel seriously handicapped by this compulsion to speak in a foreign tongue. In fact every one of us is anxious to have this obstacle removed as soon as possible. You must be aware, Sir, that in this connection we have repeatedly requested you very kindly to allow us to speak in our mother tongue but you have all along remained adamant, on the ground that the Government of India Act, 1935, does not permit this.

What passes my comprehension is that the same Government of India Act which is in force in this province is also in force in other provinces of this country, yet the Honourable Speakers in all the other provinces except one or two have seen their way to allow honourable members in their legislatures to speak in their own mother tongue. What special difficulty stands in your way, is more than I can say. (An honourable member: Is the Honourable Premier speaking in his mother tongue?) Sir, if my honourable friend over there comes to that point, he will be surprised to learn that there is not only one mother tongue in India but several of them. However, I do not wish to enter into this controversy at the present moment.

I was submitting, Sir, that our feelings over the language problem are very strong. In fact, quite a large number of honourable members, sitting on this side of the House are very anxious to obtain your permission to speak in their mother tongue and for this purpose a deputation waited upon you yesterday. I do not know whether you have been pleased to accede to their wishes or not. For my part, I lend my whole-hearted support to the view that they have expressed to you.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: Sir, I rise to a point of order. The Honourable the Premier has stated just now that he is anxious to speak in his mother tongue but he has been speaking in Urdu. May I ask if Urdu is his mother tongue?

Mr. Speaker: It is not a point of order.

Premier: In reply to my honourable friend's remark, I would like to say that I do not mean by 'mother tongue' the mother tongue of this honourable member or that honourable member. I mean by this the common tongue or the lingua franca of India as a whole and not the mother tongue of any particular Indian.

I may also be permitted to add for the information of the honourable member that—is not the correct translation in Urdu of the oft-repeated English sentence, "I rise to a point of order."

میں ایک قانونی نکتے پر کھڑا ہوتا ہوں

(Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt again rose in his seat.)

Mr. Speaker: Order order, I will protect the honourable member, if necessary.

Premier: Sir, I was submitting that almost all the honourable members sitting on these benches are anxious to be permitted to speak in their mother tongue as it is difficult for some of them and impossible for some others adequately to express themselves in the foreign language which is being imposed upon them in this House.

In view of these hard facts, Sir, I feel no hesitation in supporting those honourable members who waited upon you yesterday and I also wish to request you, Sir, on my own behalf that you may kindly see your way to give a suitable and appropriate ruling in this connection. I may also add that it is very gratifying to note that even the Opposition is at one with us so far as the question of language is concerned.

Mr. Speaker: May I ask the Honourable Premier the result of the representation made by the Punjab Government on behalf of this House about the modification of section 85 of the Government of India Act?

Premier : The information at my disposal is that the Government of India has addressed the Home Government on the subject.

Mr. Speaker : Honourable members, some of you are very experienced and sound lawyers and presumably the lawyer members read section 85 with the attention which it demands and deserves. If any one thinks that the interpretation which I have been putting upon the section up to this date, is wrong, I think I should vacate the chair and walk out. But I hope that able lawyers, like the Honourable Finance Minister, Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang, Lala Duni Chand and Lala Bhim Sen Sachar, will agree that my interpretation of the section is not incorrect.

Minister for Finance : Yours is the only correct interpretation.

Mr. Speaker : I have been interpreting the section according to my lights and am very grateful to the House for not objecting to my interpretation in spite of the great difficulties some honourable members had to face on that account. Representation has been made to the Secretary of State to have the section amended as soon as possible, but the Government machinery is unwieldy and moves rather slowly. So, to expect Parliament to modify the section immediately is to expect too much. On the other hand, I regret to learn from some of the honourable members who saw me yesterday that it is difficult, nay almost impossible for them to go on with the work of the Assembly, unless the rigidity of my interpretation is relaxed. (Hear, hear). If honourable members of the House really cannot express their thoughts on any subject as ably and efficiently as they may wish to do, I think I should not stand in their way. (Hear and hear and cheers). The framers of the Government of India Act, very able and learned lawyers and statesmen, as they are, did not realise one difficulty, namely that there shall be members who shall not know English at all and, therefore, shall not understand a word of English. Very often I had to rule in English that some members speaking in Urdu were, irrelevant or were repeating arguments, but they were not able to understand my ruling. They will never understand so long as I address them in English. All such difficulties the framers of the Act should have anticipated; but unfortunately they did not. Therefore I propose to allow all honourable members who are unable to express themselves in the English language as efficiently as they wish, to speak in Urdu.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (Urdu) : Sir, I congratulate you and thank you that at least after full one year you have been pleased to accede to our request.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Lahore City, General, Urban) (Urdu) : Sir, I beg to draw your attention to Standing Order 46. It is written therein that :—

46 (1) The Secretary shall cause every report of the Select Committee to be printed and a copy of the report shall be made available for the use of every member of this Assembly. The report with the amended Bill shall be published in the Gazette.

Usually in printing the report and in its presentation to honourable members this Standing Order is violated and generally preference is given to the convenience of the Government. Further it is stated in the Standing Order 46 (1) :—

The report of the Select Committee on a Bill shall be presented to the Assembly by the member-in-charge of the Bill.

In Standing Order 47 it is stated that the select committee's report can be taken into consideration with the permission of the Honourable Speaker. If, however, any member objects that the report has not been made available to him for seven days and that he had no time to obtain the opinions of the general public and to draft amendments to the Bill according to his own opinion, then you can rule that the report cannot be taken into consideration, but if you decide otherwise, the select committee's report can be taken into consideration. I very respectfully submit that as far as the question of time is concerned the report of the select committee has been published and sent to the honourable members on the same day as it has been presented to this House. Previously the Secretary has been sending the reports of the select committees to the honourable members in advance and we are thankful to him, but, Sir, officially we cannot leave this matter here and we are forced to bring this forward in this House, that we cannot send our amendments in writing to this House when the report of a select committee is sent to us on the same day as it is presented to this House.

As far as the question of time is concerned, you are empowered to reduce its period, but I may submit that it was the duty of the Secretary to print the Bill with its important amendments in the Gazette. I may also submit that the standing order that I have quoted above does not permit you to allow any concession in this respect. What I understand from it is that the report of the select committee with the amended Bill should be made available to the public, so that if going through it any one from amongst them wished to express his opinion he could do so by sending his opinion in writing to the honourable member representing his own constituency. If this is the meaning of the standing order, I may submit that then and then only can we consider the report of the select committee and give it the form of an act. Before I resume my seat, I would like to illustrate my point by citing the example of the Motor Traffic Offences Bill on which discussion was closed yesterday in view of certain legal complexities. The Bill in question before being presented to this House was published in the Government Gazette. But the report of the select committee on the present Bill, which was amended in the said committee has not been made available to the public as yet and it has not been published in the Gazette. I, therefore, request you to very kindly give your ruling on the point whether we can take into consideration the report of any select committee which has not been published in the Gazette and whether or not we can give it the form of an Act.

Parliamentary Secretary (Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan) (Urdu) : Sir, I may submit that my honourable friend, Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava, the Leader of the Opposition, has stated in the course of his speech that it was the duty of the Secretary to get the report of the select committee published in the Government Gazette and after its publication in the Government Gazette seven days should have been given for considering it. I am constrained to remark that this contention is based on a misunderstanding. It is clearly set down in the standing order that 'a report with the amendments recommended shall be published in the Gazette.' The report should reach the members within seven days. So far as the presentation of the select committee's report is concerned the Speaker can in exercise of his powers relax the seven days' rule to five days or even less and allow the Bill to be presented to the House.

I beg to submit that since the report was sent to the members on the 30th, they had six days for its consideration, and a longer time than that could not be justified. The number of amendments is so great that not a single clause has been left over with regard to which an amendment has not been received. This fact clearly shows that the report has been carefully considered, and, therefore, it does not lie in the mouth of the Opposition to say that permission should not be given for considering the Bill.

Sir, in view of this I beg to submit that you may kindly allow that the Bill be taken into consideration.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta (South Eastern Towns, General, Urban) (Urdu): Sir, I beg to submit that we should proceed in strict accordance with the rules that the House has framed regarding the procedure to be adopted in respect of the report of a select committee.

An honourable member: The House has not framed these rules.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: My honourable friend over there says that the rules have not been framed by the House, but were adopted by it. That makes no difference. Anyhow, these are the rules that govern the procedure of this House.

I think their purport is quite clear and explicit. It is laid down in the rules that a report of the select committee shall be caused to be published in the Gazette and a copy of the report shall be made available to the members seven days before it is presented to the House.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmami: According to the rules you should also speak in English.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: My honourable friend Mian Mushtaq Ahmad objects to my speaking in Urdu and says that I should speak in English. I do not want to waste the time of the House by entering into this controversy although I can very well meet his objection.

The point at issue is a highly technical one. My learned friend has admitted that the form in which the report was sent was confidential. He further says that it was sent to the members some six days back, and that unless it was presented to the House they could not move any amendment to it. My submission is that the provision regarding seven days is intended not only to give the members time for its consideration but it is also intended that the report may be published in the Gazette in order to enable the general public to express its opinion upon the report during that period. If a report is marked confidential and then circulated it does not serve any useful purpose but, on the other hand, it is intended to throttle public opinion. I submit that you should not suspend the Standing Order unless an emergency arises, and should not curtail the vital rights of the Opposition. I think the objection raised by the honourable Leader of the Opposition holds good, because the report has not been made available seven days before its presentation to the House.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmami (Muzaffargarh North Muhammadan Rural) (Urdu): Sir, the honourable member objecting to the Bill being taken into consideration has given three reasons for doing so. Firstly, that the report of the select committee along with the amended Bill has not been published in the Gazette, secondly, that public opinion has not been elicited with regard to the amendments made in the Bill by the select committee, and, thirdly, that according to the standing orders a motion for the consideration of the Bill cannot be made if copies of the report of the select committee have not been made available for the use of members for seven days. I shall deal with these objections seriatim.

The standing orders impose no restriction on moving the consideration of the Bill before the publication of the report of the select committee in the Gazette. Moreover, the select committee has made it quite clear in their report that the Bill has not been so substantially altered as to necessitate its republication in the Gazette. With regard to the second objection, I beg to submit that the Bill has received the fullest possible publicity in the press. The principles and provisions of this Bill have been discussed threadbare both in English and vernacular newspapers. The press of the country is the index of public opinion and the Bill has been fully commented upon by every section of the press. It is, therefore, incorrect to suggest that the House is unacquainted with the public opinion on this measure. In regard to the third objection, which is merely a technical one, my submission is that the report of the select committee was made available to the members of this House six days ago, i.e., on the 30th June. The honourable member in charge of the Bill wants the Bill to be taken into consideration only a day earlier than the requisite time. There is no other business which can be taken up to-day and if this Bill is not taken up, we shall waste the day, which will mean a loss of many thousands of rupees to the provincial exchequer. It seems my friend who has raised this objection has thrown the interests of the poor tax-payers of the Punjab in the back ground in his zeal to advocate the cause of the capitalists and money-lenders. Let me remind him that he belongs to a party which claims to be the well-wisher of the poor classes and I would appeal to him not to press his technical objection which will ultimately result in a considerable loss to the tax-payers of the province. Sir, in view of the above facts, I would request you to allow the Bill to be taken into consideration and suspend the standing order, in exercise of your special powers.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural). (Punjabi): Sir, I submit that the report of the select committee was forwarded to the members on the night of June 30. At least I got it on that day. I wonder on what system of calculation the result of my honourable friend Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmami was based? To-day is the 5th day and not the 7th as my friend says. I cannot understand the purpose of framing such rules as are not to be adhered to. I do not approve of the practice of disregarding the rules. The power that has been given to you for relaxing rules exists only for an emergency. If a sudden calamity were to befall our province, or some emergency were to arise, say that London was threatened with destruction by flood or fire then the relaxation of the rules would be perfectly justified. But I am at a loss to understand what emergency exists now. I do not know of any fire having broken out or of there being an immediate danger to the safety of this Government to justify a relaxation of the rules in its favour. If during all this period nothing has happened to shake the Government nothing is going to happen to shake it in another two days.

When a rule has been made, and it has been made with a certain purpose, what is the justification of interference with it? I, therefore, request you not to break it.

I would like to make one more submission. A bundle of amendments to this Bill were sent by me to the office yesterday. I do not know whether they have been printed or not. In any case they have not been circulated in this House. In this connection I would submit one word more. Some honourable members were under this impression that the Bill would be considered on the 8th and there were still four days for sending amendments. They knew that they had so much time to send the amendments and could send the amendments at their convenience. So they delayed sending in their amendments. There is a Persian saying to the effect :

..... کہ تعجیل کار۔

and there is also a well-known adage in Urdu which runs as follows :—

..... تو نہ کر جلدی کہ جلدی نام۔

If the members did not send in their amendments in haste, they were justified in not doing so. I do not understand why the Government is rushing through these measures in hot haste. In the end I would once again request you, and the Government through you, that there should be no interference with the rules already drafted.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) (Urdu) : Sir, my honourable friend has only repeated what Dr. Gopi Chand had already stated. But he has made a novel attack on London by saying that if London was going to be washed away by flood or was going to be burned down, only then an emergency could be said to arise. In that event alone a request could be made that London should be saved even at the expense of breaking the laws. I should like to bring this fact to your notice that you are entitled to use your discretion and you can do so now for saving the money of the province and the time of the House. (Cheers).

My honourable friend Dr. Gokul Chand Narang has stated that bundles of amendments had been sent to the Secretary of the Assembly. I have got those bundles of amendments and I may assure him that amendments have been received from every part of the House and if he thinks that the notice for amendments had not been sent to certain members, I may submit that it must be due to special reasons. I think every honourable member could have sent amendments within this period of 7 days. When the Leader of the Opposition said that he with his party was prepared to sit on off days even, I wonder why he should object to take into consideration a measure which is entirely of a technical nature. If the Opposition wants to give notice of amendments I would request you to give facilities to the Opposition to send in amendments even at this late hour. Further, I would beg of you not to allow this House to waste time which is the property of the province.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Urdu) : My objection is that this report has not been published in the Gazette. There is some meaning in making the standing order as it is. This object will not be fulfilled by merely publishing the Bill as amended, after it has been passed by the Assembly. You can allow the consideration of the Bill even in a day but the question is whether you have the right to ignore this provision of our rules and standing orders. Personally, I want it to be considered as early as possible but when a rule has been made and it has been made with a certain purpose where is the question of its not being followed. The rights of the public and the privileges of the House must be safeguarded and cannot be overlooked for any consideration of the money that may have to be spent. If money is the consideration, then why should not the Government decide these things themselves? why have this Assembly meeting here at all? Again if it is a question of money, why take huge salaries and thus spend money unnecessarily? Money should be no question where it is a matter of enforcing the rules and standing orders of the House.

Mr. Speaker : There appears to be some misunderstanding as to the meaning and object of certain standing orders. The honourable members probably do not know that to publish the report of the select committee before its presentation to the House is a breach of privilege. The Secretary could not publish the report in the Government Gazette before it was presented to the House. It was presented to the House only yesterday and it has been sent down to Lahore and will be printed in the Government Gazette at the earliest possible opportunity. To publish it earlier in the Gazette would have been its publication before presentation, and that would have been a breach of the privilege of the House (hear, hear). The report circulated among members was confidential and if any of the members had communicated it to the Press, he would have been guilty of the breach of the privileges of the House. It was made available to them only because they had to table amendments after reading it. I think it was sent to the members on the 30th.

Munshi Hari Lal : But the minutes of dissent have been handed over to me only just now.

Mr. Speaker : But a minute of dissent is not a part of the report. It is only a schedule or an appendix to the report. May I again invite your attention to standing order 44, which reads :—

“ If any member of a select committee desires to record a minute of dissent on any point, he must sign the report, stating that he does so subject to his minute of dissent, and must hand in his minute within three days of the date on which he signs the report.

You will see that a report is a report before it is signed by any member of the committee. In other words, the report of a select committee is its report before any minute of dissent is received or given. A report is in order even if there is no minute of dissent. Standing order 46 says :—

“ The Secretary shall cause every report of a Select Committee to be printed, and a copy of the report shall be made available for the use of every member of the Assembly. The report, with the amended Bill, shall be published in the Gazette.”

[ Mr. Speaker. ]

So, there can be no objection to the report being presented to the House even without the minute of dissent. Further, some members appear to be under the impression that it is after presentation that seven days begin. That is not the case. The wording of Standing Order 47 is :—

“.....if a copy of the report has not been made available for the use of members for seven days, and such objection shall prevail.....”

The report was circulated to the members on the 30th June. Thus, the honourable members had it for five days. The Bill is a Bill of 5 clauses only and they had five days to give notices of same amendments. It is true that Standing Order 47 lays down seven days' period. But this is the maximum period which must vary according to the length of each individual Bill. But here it is a Bill of 5 clauses and five days are given. I request the honourable members not to press for a pound of flesh. I have received amendment from almost every member and if any other members wish to move amendments, I shall accommodate them to the last moment.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : The rule says :

“.....The report, with the amended Bill, shall be published in the Gazette.”

Mr. Speaker : Which rule lays down that unless the report is published in the Gazette, the Assembly cannot take any action upon it ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Rule 46.

Mr. Speaker : Publication in the Gazette is one thing and presentation to the Assembly another. They do not go together, as publication cannot be made before presentation.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Urdu) : Sir, may I submit that that was not the point of order which I raised. I did not mean to ask why the report of the select committee on this Bill was not made available for the use of the honourable members seven days before its presentation in this House. My objection is a bit different from that.

Mr. Speaker : What is the honourable member's objection ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : My objection is only this that when we have got our Rules of Procedure to guide us in the various stages of considering this Bill, let us follow them and consider the Bill step by step. It is clearly laid in down the Rules that “the Report of a Select Committee shall be published in the Gazette”. What is the special difficulty which prevents the Government from following this Standing Order ? All I mean to say is that we should follow the procedure gradually.

Mr. Speaker : I have given my ruling on that point. Five days for a Bill of 5 clauses are quite sufficient for tabling amendments. Besides, if any member desires to move any further amendment, I shall be prepared to receive it up to the last moment, provided it is given to me in writing.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : If that is your ruling, Sir, then I have no option but to submit to it.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : May I know whether the consideration of the report of the select committee may be taken before its publication in the Gazette ?

Mr. Speaker : Yes, under the Rules and Standing Orders as they stand.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Sir, I want your ruling on the objection which I had raised, that is, why was this Report not published in the Gazette along with the amended Bill? That is my objection and I want you to give your ruling on that.

Mr. Speaker : I have read Standing Order 47 over and over again. It says :—

“.....if a copy of the report has not been made available for the use of members for seven days.....”

So, the question is whether the report has been made available for the use of members for seven days or not, and not whether it is published in the Gazette or not.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : My point is that according to Standing Orders the report cannot be considered unless it is published in the Gazette.

Mr. Speaker : I have clearly ruled that there is nothing in the Standing Orders which lays down, directly or indirectly, that the report of a select committee shall not be taken into consideration before it is published in the Gazette.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : What is the object of publication in the Gazette?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I want a clear ruling from the Chair as to whether the select committee's report can be considered to be a complete report if it does not contain the note of dissent especially when there is a foot-note to the effect that a member has signed the report subject to a note of dissent. I want to know clearly whether a select committee's report is a report for all intents and purposes without that note of dissent which is referred to here.

Mr. Speaker : According to the present Standing Orders a select committee's report is a report even without the minute of dissent if any, and can be treated as such for certain purposes, specified in standing orders 45, 46 and 47.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : How then shall we be in a position to move amendments without knowing what that minute of dissent is?

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member may give notice of amendments even now and I will allow them to be moved.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : No case has been made out for hurrying through this Bill and to call on you to exercise your special powers to allow consideration of this Bill.

Mr. Speaker : It is not necessary, I think, to give more time. Therefore the House will begin consideration of the Bill.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I want to raise another objection to this Bill being taken into consideration.

Mr. Speaker : Further objections, if any, can be raised after the motion is proposed from the Chair.

Motion moved—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill as reported on by the select committee be taken into consideration.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : I have serious doubts about the validity of this measure. I am referring to certain legal aspects.

Honourable members : In Urdu please.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : I want to speak in English. Have I your permission, Sir ?

Mr. Speaker : No permission is needed to speak in English. Besides, I may point out that adequate arrangements have not been made for reporting speeches in Urdu. If all members begin to speak in Urdu, the reporting of debates may become impossible.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : Keeping in view the remarks made by the Honourable Premier just now with regard to the valuable time that has been spent by the House here with regard to certain measures, I want at this stage to bring to your notice some of my doubts with regard to the validity of the measure that is proposed. My objections with regard to the validity of this measure are confined to the different clauses of this Bill in the light of section 107 of the Government of India Act. Section 107 of the Government of India Act lays down—

If any provision of a provincial law is repugnant to any provision of a Federal law which the Federal Legislature is competent to enact or to any provision of an existing Indian law with respect to one of the matters enumerated in the Concurrent Legislative List, then, subject to the provisions of this section, the Federal Law, whether passed before or after the provincial law, or, as the case may be, the existing Indian Law, shall prevail and the Provincial law shall, to the extent of the repugnancy, be void.

Now, in the first place, we have to understand the meaning of repugnancy and then we have to ascertain whether this Bill comes within the concurrent list.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Is the honourable member raising a point of order or is he raising the question as to what the effect of this Bill will be ?

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member will please confine himself to his point of order.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : I am confining myself to the validity of this Bill. I am contending that this Bill is void and should therefore not be taken into consideration. I was referring to sub-section (1) of section 107.

Premier : Read sub-section (2) also.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : I shall read it when the necessity arises. For the present I refer to paragraphs 10 and 14 of the concurrent list. Paragraph 10 refers to contracts including partnership, etc. Paragraph 14 deals with actionable wrongs, etc. I am confining to land alone and not to agriculture. Item ten means agricultural land but the Bill deals with land as defined elsewhere.

Mr. Speaker : Has the honourable member seen the definition of land as given in the Alienation of Land Act ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : Yes. I have seen it.

Premier : On a point of order.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I am also speaking on a point of order.

Mr. Speaker : Why cannot a point of order be raised against a point of order?

Premier : May I submit that it is unnecessary to waste the time of the House on the point which my honourable friend wants to make? He wants to state that if this Bill is passed it would be void. This is what my honourable friend wants to impress upon you and this is his point. There is nothing to bar us from passing the law here. If it becomes void later on, why hamper us in passing it now?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Nurang : Is this a point of order?

Premier : The point of order is this. If this Bill will become void after passing, let it be, why not let us proceed?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : No, it is void even now.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : On a point of order.

Mr. Speaker : Please let me first listen to the Premier.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : There is no point of order.

Premier : Assuming that the point which my honourable friend is making is conceded by you, there is nothing to fetter our discretion and my point of order is that he is raising irrelevant matters.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I was just asked with regard to paragraph 10 of the Concurrent List. I will quote the whole paragraph. It reads—

“Contracts, including partnership, agency, contracts of carriage, and other special forms of contract, but not including contracts relating to agricultural land.”

What do we mean by ‘contracts relating to agricultural land’? The plain meaning of the words is the relation between the landlord and a tenant or things of that kind. These are the contracts and not contracts of exchange, gifts or will. These are not the contracts of the kind covered by clause 10. The exception there is ‘but not including contracts relating to agricultural land’ It only refers to contracts which relate to relations between the landlord and the tenant. That is my interpretation of paragraph 10 and I hope my honourable friend the Premier and the Government Advocate will agree with me that contracts relating to agricultural land do not mean contracts by way of gifts and exchange. But if this point is not conceded my second point is with regard to actionable wrongs.

Mr. Speaker : How shall the Bill, if passed, deal with any actionable wrong?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : You will kindly read sub-clause (3) of clause 9 of the Bill. It reads—

“In passing an order under the above sub-section the Deputy Commissioner shall not be bound by any decree of a civil court, and may review any order previously passed under that sub-section.”

I give a concrete instance. Suppose there is a person who is a washerman and he has got his caste entered in the revenue papers as a washerman, but he claims to be a Rajput. He files a suit under section 42 of the Specific Relief Act that he should be declared as a Rajput.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please define an actionable wrong?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Actionable wrong means any wrong under torts which can be a subject of a suit. It means a wrong on which action can be based under the Law of Torts. I was giving you a concrete instance. In the case mentioned above he will bring a suit that he be declared as a Rajput. In that case I get a decree from a civil court and the Government goes to the District Judge and higher up even to the Privy Council in appeal, but decree is passed in my favour and I am declared a Rajput. Under the provisions of the sub-clause the Deputy Commissioner would be able to nullify the decree of the Privy Council.

Mr. Speaker : Where is the actionable wrong ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : The actionable wrong is that I can go under section 42 of the Specific Relief Act to a court and get myself declared as a Rajput.

Mr. Speaker : I have heard the honourable member and rule out his objection. (Hear, hear from Ministerial Benches.)

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : But there are other points. What will be the effect of clause 8 ? The effect of it will be that it will repeal section 42 of the Specific Relief Act.

Mr. Speaker : I differ from the honourable member.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Then there are other provisions. There are sections 30 (1) (a) and 30 (2) with regard to benami transactions. With regard to that provision benami transactions are lawful and legal under the existing Indian law. So that under the Law of Contracts all benami transactions are legal. What is being done by section 38 ?

Mr. Speaker : The Bill does not deal with all benami transactions in the Punjab. It deals only with a particular section of transactions. So, the honourable member's objection is untenable.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : No, the Bill says that all benami transactions are illegal.

Mr. Speaker : All it shall enact, if passed, is that certain benami transactions between agriculturists and agriculturists with a view to benefit a non-agriculturist shall become illegal.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : But under the existing civil law all benami transactions are legal.

Mr. Speaker : I have heard the honourable member and hold that he is not right.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I am certain that I am right when I say that all benami transactions are legal and valid under the civil law. I contend that clause 18-A of the Bill proposes, as it were, to repeal the existing civil law and to that extent it is repugnant to the existing Indian law. That is my second point.

Mr. Speaker : The existing Indian Law is not going to be touched.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : It is being nullified.

Mr. Speaker : Is it not open to a Provincial Legislature to modify the law relating to benami transactions ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : But we are not acting according to the Government of India Act. My third point relates to sub-clause (3) of clause 13-A. It says :—

“ For the purpose of enforcing an order under sub-section (2) the Deputy Commissioner may exercise all the powers of a civil court conferred by Order 21, Rule 98, of the Code of Civil Procedure.”

By this sub-clause the Deputy Commissioner is going to be made a civil court.

Mr. Speaker : Only certain powers will be conferred upon him.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : For the purpose of Order 21, Rule 98, of the Civil Procedure Code, he constitutes a civil court. My contention is that that cannot be done as it is against the provisions of the Punjab Courts Act, section 22.

Parliamentary Secretary (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) : I rise to a point of order. The honourable member can state his point of order but cannot make a speech. At this stage, he can explain why the Bill should not be proceeded with. He cannot take up each clause and point out that it is ultra vires of this legislature. That can be done only when those clauses come up for consideration.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Section 22 of the Punjab Courts Act reads—

“ The Provincial Government may after consultation with the High Court fix the number of Subordinate Judges to be appointed.”

But the clause in the present bill proposes that the Deputy Commissioner for the purposes of Order 21, Rule 98, of the Civil Procedure Code, be regarded as a civil court.

Mr. Speaker : That is irrelevant.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Section 33 of the Punjab Courts Act reads—

“ Subject to the general superintendence and control of the High court, the District Judge shall have control over all the civil courts under this part within the local limits of his jurisdiction.”

Mr. Speaker : It is regrettable that the honourable member has quoted a section which is absolutely irrelevant to the matter before the House.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : There is another point with regard to this Bill.

Mr. Speaker : Has the honourable member got anything new to urge ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I will read clause 13-A—

“ When a sale, exchange, gift, will, mortgage, lease or farm purports to be made either before or after the commencement of this Amending Act by a member of an agricultural tribe to a member of an agricultural tribe or of a tribe in the same group, but the effect of the transaction is to pass the beneficial interest to a person who is not a member of the same tribe or of a tribe in the same group, the transaction shall be void for all purposes.”

Now, there is no mention as to what is exchange, gift or will and whether it should be of agricultural land or urban property belonging to a member—

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member need not discuss that point now. If he finds any defect in the clause he may move an amendment at the proper time or he may oppose the whole clause. I cannot allow a discussion on this clause at this stage.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I am not entering into the merits of the clause. I will exercise that right at the proper stage. What I have been trying to place before you is that there are certain points which make this Bill void so far as its consideration at this stage is concerned. This Bill being of a repealing nature, I submit that it is repugnant to the Indian Law. I may here quote what Maxwell says in his 'Interpretation of Statutes, about repugnancy—

In this respect, the work of the legislature is treated in the same manner as that of any other author, and the language of every enactment must be construed as far as possible in accordance with the terms of every other statute which it does not in express terms modify or repeal. The law, therefore, will not allow the revocation or alteration of a statute by construction when the words may be capable of proper operation without it. But it is impossible to construe absolute contradictions. Consequently, if the provisions of a later Act are so inconsistent with, or repugnant to, those of an earlier Act that the two cannot stand together, the earlier stands impliedly repealed by the later.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is entirely irrelevant. This Bill, as I understand it, proposes to do this. The Punjab Land Alienation Act was passed in and has been in force since 1900. According to its provisions an agriculturist cannot alienate his land to a non-agriculturist. But an agriculturist may be prepared to accommodate a non-agriculturist by purchasing the land himself and passing on its benefits to the non-agriculturist. This is said to be violating the provisions of that Act. This Bill is meant to prevent that mischief (Hear, hear and cheers.)

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I am not concerned at this stage with the mischief as pointed out by you. I only want to—

Mr. Speaker : I have heard the honourable member enough.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : This Bill is void in its present form.

Mr. Speaker : The High Court may declare it to be void. There is no bar to its consideration by the Assembly.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : The Premier also was pleased to remark that if it is void we can go to the High Court ; this means either the Federal Court or the Governor-General. May I therefore ask whether there is any use in passing such a law and wasting our time on a Bill which is void ab initio,

Munshi Hari Lal : I beg to invite the attention of the Honourable Mr. Speaker to section 299 (8) which says :

No Bill or amendment making provisions for the transference to public ownership of any land or for the extinguishment.....

Mr. Speaker : I have read the section and may inform the House that the sanction of His Excellency the Governor was duly obtained before this Bill was introduced.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri (Rawalpindi Division, General, Rural) : Sir I beg to move—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill as reported on by the Select Committee be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 1st October 1938.

The discussion which has taken place just now on the point of order raised by the Leader of the Opposition, lends considerable support to the motion which I have just made before the House. You will remember that when I moved last time that the Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion, I brought to the notice of the House that there had not been sufficient publication, so much so that several members of the House became aware of the intention of the Government to move this Bill only on their arrival in Simla. The House, however, did not accept my proposal but instead it accepted the proposal to refer the Bill to a select committee without assigning any date for the report of that committee. Under the rules if the House refers a Bill to a select committee without assigning any date....

Mr. Speaker : I am going to be rather strict on two points, namely, irrelevancy, and repetition. The honourable member may speak relevantly for the whole day. But if he makes an irrelevant speech, I shall not allow it.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Pari : I shall try to be as brief and as precise and as much to the point as possible. I had not even finished my sentence before you thought fit to administer this warning to me. Now I thought that the two months which would be permitted by reference to the select committee would be enough for the persons who were likely to be affected adversely by this legislation, to become aware of details of this legislation and I thought that the grievance of the public on this point would be removed by that time. But unfortunately the Government changed their mind, and put forward a few days later a motion before the House that the select committee should report by the 2nd of July. Thus the period of two months was cut down to a few days. The result was that the expectation I had entertained was frustrated and the due and proper publicity, necessary for such an important measure was not obtained. This was the position so far as the Bill as originally proposed is concerned. The Bill was sent to the select committee and the select committee made their report only yesterday and as you have been pleased to remark, no publication of that report could have taken place either privately or publicly till the report had been presented to the House. Therefore I take it that that being the case up till now the persons who are likely to be adversely affected by this legislation, the public and the press, are not aware of what the report of the select committee is. It may be by accident or it may be by design that at both these stages, at the introduction stage as well as at the stage of consideration of the report of select committee the Bill had not been before the public at all, and the public was ignorant of its precise provisions.

Mr. Speaker : That is repetition.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Pari : Now when it comes to the House from the select committee, the House is asked to consider it at the point of the bayonet and under the special permission granted by you, Sir, under your special powers, on a date when it is physically impossible for any person likely to be affected by this legislation to become aware of it. Now I do not and never have taken shelter behind technical points. But the point of substance brought out by the Leader of the Opposition is still there, that the object of publication in the gazette is not mere technical compliance with the rules.

Mr. Speaker : Irrelevant. The motion is that the Bill be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 1st October 1938. What has that to do with what the honourable member is now saying ?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Either you have not followed me or I have not been able to explain.

Mr. Speaker : I have tried to follow the honourable member.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : If you would now try to follow my humble argument I shall try to place it before you as succinctly and as clearly as I can. The object of the publication is that the public may become aware of it. That not having already been done, what I now ask is, kindly do it now; by accepting my motion take the opportunity to circulate the Bill for eliciting public opinion. What I was submitting before you was that the report of the select committee which this House is asked to consider has not been so far published at all for the information of the public.

Again, let us see whether the report of the select committee which we are asked to consider makes any substantial alteration in the original Bill. If it brings within its purview transactions which had not been included in the original Bill, if it brings under its purview persons who were previously not affected by the original Bill, you would agree with me that in such cases where the select committee makes substantial alterations in the original Bill, the Bill should be published again, even if the original Bill had been properly published, so that the persons not affected by the original proposals of the Bill, those affected by transactions previously excluded, might if they so choose either instruct their representatives here or come in the form of a deputation to the Honourable Premier and place their point of view.

Now if you go through the Bill, you will find that it deals with two topics. The first is the question of the determination of the status of members of notified agricultural tribes. That matter, I consider to be of very minor importance. The most important portion of the Bill is the portion which deals with benami transactions and the Bill proposes to declare that benami transactions, relating to alienations of land when the Punjab Alienation of Land Act came into force, shall be void for all purposes. Now if you read the clauses of the Bill as originally published from beginning to end, nowhere will you find this law applicable to past transactions. It did not lay down that this Bill will have retrospective operation. Now turn to section 13-A. If you compare the language of section 13-A as originally published with section 13-A as it has emerged from the select committee, you will notice just three small words put in in italics. It is these three words added by select committee that really matter. The words are 'either before or'. The section now reads: "When a sale, exchange, gift, will, mortgage, lease or farm purports to be made either before or after the commencement of this Amending Act". Now the introduction of these words 'either before or' has made this Bill operative with retrospective effect which the original Bill did not. Therefore it has introduced in the Bill a vital change, a change on a matter of principle. Sir, one of the cardinal canons of interpretation, which is accepted by every one, is that a substantive law is, unless stated to the contrary, never retrospective in its operation. This is a substantive law and the original Bill did not state either expressly or by implication that it will have retrospective effect.

But this Bill, as it has emerged out of the select committee, lays down not only that the benami transactions shall be void in future and that any person who in future carries into effect any such transaction shall be carrying out a void transaction, but it also declares that all those transactions which have so far been regarded by courts as perfectly valid according to the law of the land, all those transactions which have taken place during the last 38 years shall be "void for all purposes" with all the necessary consequence of even the cash consideration for these transactions not being realisable from the person from whom it was due. That is the difference which the select committee has made in the original Bill. I respectfully ask the members of the select committee who quietly without any further explanation, report that the Bill has not been substantially altered and, therefore, it does not need any publication, whether it is a fair way of dealing with this House, that they should not mention in the report specifically the important change of principle they had embodied in the Bill. Further I wish the House to realise the extent to which this Bill has been extended by the select committee. It was remarked by the chairman of the select committee that according to his information the extent of benami transactions in one tahsil of one district alone amounted to thirteen lakhs of rupees. If that is so, the number of people who would be affected by this legislation will be numerous and would run into thousands, the area of land which would be involved will be lakhs of bighas, and the amount which would be involved would be crores and crores of rupees. The question, therefore, arises—I am not arguing whether this Bill is good or bad, it is a matter of opinion and policy which would be discussed at its proper time—what I wish to ask members of this House is, whether it is not necessary that those persons to whom the select committee have extended this Bill, should come to know that their properties and their estates are being considered in this House especially when the extent of those estates and the number of persons affected is so large. I am not merely raising a technical point. I am raising a very great point of substance and I respectfully submit that on this ground alone the House should be pleased to accept my motion for circulation. After all, expedition is not the only thing. It is no doubt necessary that the business of the Government, like business of other people, should be done with as great despatch as possible but it is equally necessary that it should be done fairly and justly and according to proper forms of procedure. Further it is not only necessary that justice should be done but that it should seem to be done. As I have told you already, the report of the select committee came only yesterday and no one affected by the report has any reason to think that anything relating to him is before the Punjab Legislature.

Mr. Speaker : This is repetition.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : May I respectfully submit that you have been treating me to-day slightly on different lines from those in which you have been treating other people. I crave for the same indulgence from you as you accord to other members. I have certainly repeated that sentence but certainly that repetition, you would agree with me—

[ R. B. Mr. Mukand Lal Puri. ]

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : You are not writing a book on Geometry that no proposition should occur a second time. You are arguing and repetition is permissible within limits.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Is it fair that people, who were misled by the original publication of the Bill into a false sense of security that the transactions in their favour are not the subject matter of discussion before the House and who have not so far taken any interest in the matter should not be informed of this legislation? The House decided yesterday to proceed with that matter, and is it not necessary in the interest of justice, is it not necessary in the interest of fairplay, is it not necessary even to maintain the dignity and honour of the Government, which is responsible for this legislation, that such like persons should at any rate be informed that a legislation like that is going to be considered? The point of order, as I pointed out, which was raised by the Leader of the Opposition was with respect to publication in the Gazette. You have been pleased to hold that publication in the Gazette need not be before the actual consideration by the House of the report of the select committee or even before the actual passing of the Bill, but that I submit is a highly technical interpretation of the Rules. In any case, you would agree with me that the object or at any rate, the spirit underlying the Rule which requires publication in the Gazette is that there should be some kind of publicity.

I ask you, Sir, in all seriousness and with due humility, has there been due and fair publicity of the specific provisions of this Bill? Therefore I request the indulgence of the House for a fair publication not only in the interest of the public at large but in the interest of creating good traditions for legislation in the House.

Mr. Speaker : Motion under consideration, amendment moved is—

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill as reported by the Select Committee be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 1st October, 1938.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural) : Sir, I shall be very brief and shall try not to repeat. I would just ask the Honourable the Premier whether he is aware that the very rumour that such a measure is before the House has created a consternation in the province. I ask him if he has received any telegrams and letters, copies of resolutions from various parts of the province. I am a humble man, miles and miles away from the Honourable the Premier and even I have received this bundle of telegrams in which strong protests have been made by people of all classes who are likely to be affected adversely by this measure. (Voices: Not from all). These gentlemen, I must submit with regret, have got no patience. In fact at one time I wanted to get up and raise a point of order whether these gentlemen are in order in shouting in their dozens and in their scores when a point is raised by a member of the Opposition so as to try absolutely to drown his voice and make it impossible for him to state his case before you. I would request you to ask these gentlemen, who know they have got the power, to exercise that power with patience and with courtesy and with a certain amount of restraint. The sentence is not out of the mouth of a speaker, who is not in their good books before they begin to raise shouts. To revert to the subject-matter I was going to submit that so many telegrams, so many letters and so many resolutions have been received by me, and I believe by a large number of members of this House making all sorts of representations. In some telegrams we read, 'our confidence in the Government is absolutely shaken.' It is not good for the safety and stability of the Government that the confidence of the people should be shaken in their good faith and good intentions. Telegrams are received to the effect in the most bewailing and bemoaning manner: 'Are we not His Majesty's subjects that we should be treated in such a merciless manner by the Government which seems to be bent on favouring one class at the expense of another class? Then there is a cry raised: 'You are sitting in Simla, we know you are doing something and doing your best in placing our case before the Government but come here and you will shed tears of blood when you see with your own eyes the condition of the poor people whose sole subsistence lies in getting mortgages which some of them have got.' If any member wants to see I can show these telegrams to him. Here is a bundle of telegrams and letters which I have received. There are telegrams and letters from people who have appealed to the members to oppose or resign, and I believe every member of the Congress must have received like myself these messages from the people who are likely to be adversely affected by this measure. I ask the Premier and other Ministers, are they aware that this state of affairs is prevailing in the province in consequence of this reckless measure which they are in a clandestine manner trying to rush through? The other day I used the words 'indecent haste' and an advocate of Government, one of the Parliamentary Secretaries got up and showed how touchy he and presumably other members of the Government are even when such words as 'indecent haste' are used in connection with this Bill and the procedure adopted in this House. I shall be most chary in future in using even the mildest language about the Ministers. I think I shall treat them as if they were made of glass with a label put on them 'made of glass, handle with care.' I shall certainly be careful and shall not use unnecessarily strong words. I ask the Honourable the Premier whether he is aware of what is going on in the province. If he is aware of the state of affairs, does he believe that the people are justified in raising this cry against this measure? If they are justified in raising this cry and in making protests against this measure, the first thing he should do is immediately to withdraw the Bill. If he is not satisfied with the cry it is incumbent upon him to circulate the measure and put it before them and say: 'Why are you crying, this measure is an innocent thing, it will do you good, it will pave your houses with gold, make your houses a paradise!' Why does he not do that? Why is he afraid of putting it before the public? The other day when he was asked by a friend whether more wisdom had dawned upon the present Ministry and whether it was any negligence on the part of the previous government that they never thought of bringing forward this measure, he said those people chose the line of least resistance. They were afraid that their sleep might be disturbed, that their dances and dinners might be disturbed and their peace of mind might be disturbed by scores and hundreds of letters and telegrams and resolutions appearing in front of them. Now, does he mean to say that when he moves such a measure, there will be no cry or does he mean to say that he would not care at all for any cry that may be raised in the province? If that is his attitude, if he thinks that the measure will be swallowed by the whole province and by all sections who stand to be ruined by this measure, he is utterly mistaken. If he thinks he can ignore them and does not care what those people say and how much they cry and however strong their protests may be, then he is mistaken. He is digging the grave of his own government and of his own party. To-day he does not realize it because he has a solid phalanx of voters at his back, also probably some people outside this House on whose support he relies. He should remember that governments only subsist and continue to exist as long as their foundations are laid on justice and fairplay to all the parties in the country.

No policy of robbing Peter to pay Paul, of robbing poor banias, khatrias, tirkhans and other non-agriculturalists and pampering people who are already too much pampered by the provisions of laws which have been enacted for their benefit, should be followed. I would, therefore, ask the Honourable Premier that while taking into consideration such a measure he should not ignore such poor people? Does he mean to follow the Persian verse?

ستم کرد چون دزد تیره لزان
چه ضم دارد از مریه کارزان

Does he keep that policy before him, that he does not care who cries and he does not care whether widows are ruined and children are made destitute? I hope he will not follow that policy. Sikander of before was certainly different from Sikander as we see him to-day and I wish and hope that Sikander would remain the same. He said the other day, 'I am still where I was, no change has taken place in me.' But I say that he may be in the same place in the boat, but the boat in which he stood has shifted. His party has shifted its position and it would land him one day in a wrong place. The danger is ahead. I would, therefore, request him not to hurry this measure through. Nothing is to be gained by this hurry and nothing is to be lost by putting this measure before the people and telling them, 'Look here, this is a measure which we are going to introduce, you need not be afraid of this'. I think, he will be a gainer if he can prove that it is a right and reasonable measure just and fair to all parties concerned. With these words, I support the motion moved by my honourable friend Mr. Mukand Lal Puri.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan): Sir, I heard very attentively to the speeches made by two of our eloquent friends, one on my right and the other opposite. I should like very briefly to reply to the points raised by Mr. Puri, before I address myself to the honourable member opposite. Mr. Puri has merely repeated the arguments which he mentioned on the previous occasion when we discussed this very dilatory motion in this House. I am glad to say that the House, after hearing me and various other members came to the conclusion that the motion should not be allowed and I hope after they have heard my submissions they will again come to the same conclusion to-day, as they did on the first day when this Bill was introduced in this House. He has tried to elaborate one broad point and that was the main point in his speech. He tried more or less, if I may use that word, to befool this House. I deliberately use this word in pointing out to a particular clause in this Bill, which he said, bad been radically altered, that particular clause is clause 13-A of the Bill. Now, Sir, those of my honourable friends, who know a little bit of English and I do not claim myself to be an authority on the language—but my friends who can be deemed to be an authority have read the original section and the section as amended. As a matter of fact, if you will see the original section, you will find that the words used in the original section do not mean that the Act will not be retrospective.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Furi: On a point of order, Sir, with respect to a substantive enactment, the rule of interpretation is that it is never retrospective. I would ask the Honourable Premier to consult his lawyers whether the original section would have any retrospective effect rather than rely upon his knowledge of the English language.

Premier: My honourable friend has anticipated me. If he had not been impatient, I would have made myself clear. The original section runs thus :—

“When a sale, mortgage, lease, or farm purports to be made by a member of an agricultural tribe, . . . .”

It is quite evident from those words that this Act will apply to such transactions which purport to be. That is the intention, and that was the intention from the very beginning. But in the select committee, my honourable friend raised a point, as he has raised a point here, that this will not have a retrospective effect unless you definitely specify in the Act itself by specifying the words that it will have retrospective effect. The original section does not mean that it will not have retrospective effect. That is our intention.

Now, my honourable friend has brought forward an argument that since this Bill has been radically altered, therefore it should be circulated and it should go before the public and the public should know the revised version of the Bill as it has emerged from the select committee. With regard to this my contention is, can my honourable friend lay his hands on his heart and say definitely whether this revised version of the Bill would make him or those who think like him, change their views with regard to the provisions which still remain unchanged and which were in the original Bill? I am prepared to concede with regard to matters of policy and principle. But I do not accept to give way to my honourable friends here and opposite. It is only a question of detail. It is a question of compromise or a question of give and take. Now, it is my honourable friend's contention that if this Bill had been published in the Gazette, the man in the street would have taken the trouble of going through this amended Bill which I say even an acute and intelligent lawyer like him would find it difficult. Could he be able to look into this amended Bill, a Bill of a technical nature? No. It is a Bill of basic principles and you cannot expect an ordinary man to form an opinion. With regard to this I would submit that the whole press in the province without any single exception has been fully aware of this measure for the last week or ten days. But I am sorry to say that that section of the press which profess to be the friends of the poor down trodden people, when they find that perhaps their fraternity are likely to be affected, they are now vehemently opposing a similar measure here, which was passed in other provinces and for which they could not find adequate words in praise. They are denouncing us for doing this while they are praising other provincial governments for doing similar acts. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Which Province has passed this law?) Not this specific law, but the tenancy law in the United Provinces and Bengal which are more extreme.

An Honourable member : Why similar law? Have other provinces passed a similar law?

Premier : Yes, by similar law I mean law having the same basic principle. I quite realise the difficulty of some of my friends opposite. I therefore do not resent their interruption. As a matter of fact, I sympathise with them in their trouble. They are being pulled in two different directions by two strong forces. (Interruption). My honourable friends are now getting restive and impatient and if I may say so, the hackneyed expression aptly applies to them. I shall not probe too much into their domestic affairs. Their problem is whether they should obey their higher authorities and adopt the creed of their party or whether they should obey their own constituents on whose votes they have come here, constituents who fortunately or unfortunately happen to be affected by this measure. I do not blame my honourable friends for that.

' chor ki darhi men tinka '

I should like to say a few words before I sit down with regard to what my ex-colleague, Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang, said. He said that he had received a bundle of telegrams. I think other honourable members also must have received a bundle of telegrams from their constituents, because after all they are the people who are affected. It is natural that these constituents should have sent telegrams to their representatives that they are going to be affected by this measure and that therefore the representatives should oppose the measure. But my honourable friends have got a clear reply also to give and that is, they may say that they stood for election on the Congress ticket and that the Congress policy is quite different from what the constituents desire. (Interruptions).

Mr. Speaker : I appeal to the good sense of honourable members not to behave in a disorderly manner.

Dr. Satya Pal : We appeal to the good sense of the Honourable Premier not to drag in the Congress on every point. The Congress is not now under discussion.

Premier : I know that several of my friends opposite have received a bundle of telegrams. I also have received this bundle of telegrams. I have received telegrams from the other side also, people whom we represent here in this Chamber, whom we are trying to protect by this measure, people who have neither the money nor the facilities to send telegrams in large numbers. My honourable friends may also rest assured that every one of the telegrams which passed through me was read carefully by me and considered. Similarly the telegrams received from the other side also received my careful consideration. But there is not a single telegram which contained anything but vague generalities, such as want of confidence in Government or strong protests made in a meeting of 100, or 500 or 1,000 persons. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Do you expect the telegram to contain arguments.)

for or against the measure?) My honourable friend said that the Government was digging its own grave, and that it had lost or was going to lose as a result of this enactment the confidence of those people who are going to be adversely affected. Now, who are those people who are going to be adversely affected? What is their numerical strength in this province? The people who are going to be adversely affected are those who have been trying dishonestly to hoodwink the ignorant zamindars or who have been trying in collusion with ignorant zamindars by dishonest and fraudulent methods to exploit other zamindars.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Is the Honourable Premier in order in blackguarding a whole class like this?

Mr. Speaker : I did not understand the Honourable Premier to attack a whole class.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : He has characterised all the people who have had these benami transactions as dishonest blackguards. Is it fair; is it worthy of the Premier to do so?

Mr. Speaker : There is nothing unparliamentary in it.

Premier : I did not mean the whole class. I meant only those persons among that class who dishonestly tried to evade the provisions of the Act which was enacted to safeguard the poor people of the province. (Hear, hear and cheers). I believe that when my friends opposite calmly and dispassionately consider the provisions of this Bill they will admit in their heart of hearts, though they may not do so publicly, that in passing this measure we are dictated by nothing else except a sense of equity and righteousness. Even if the argument of my honourable friend turns out to be true, namely that I am going to lose the confidence of that class of persons who have dishonestly evaded the provisions of that Act, you may be sure that I will pass no sleepless nights. I will sleep comfortably, because I shall be clear in my conscience, before God and man that what I am doing is not to save any of those handful of that dishonest section of people, but to save the 2½ million of the people of this province whom my honourable friend also wants to defend. (Cheers)

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : There is equal number on both sides.

Premier : I say that there are only a handful of people who are trying to exploit the poor zamindars.

The honourable member again tried to bring a charge of recklessness against me and my colleagues. I tried to assure this House before and I repeat it again that these measures are not the result of any hasty thought. We have been considering over these matters for months. As a matter of fact my honourable friend, if he will take his memory back to the days when he was a member of the Government, will recollect that in those days certain officers were consulted with regard to this Bill.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Not to my knowledge.

Premier : I am afraid that now the time is past my honourable friend cannot recollect what happened then. I can assure him that this matter was discussed in his time also. We issued instructions to the

[Premier,]

Financial Commissioner and the deputy commissioners to see how far it was possible to give relief without having resort to fresh legislation. (Interruption). However, that charge of recklessness is misplaced and unfounded.

There is one word which I should like to say with regard to the remark of my honourable friend that Sikander to-day is different from the Sikander whom he knew as his colleague. I can assure him that so far as I am concerned there has been not an iota of change in my mentality or policy or in my ambition and endeavour to be just to every one in this province, not only to the class which he is trying to defend, but to all classes. (Cheers). If I am closing the doors of dishonesty for a certain section of the people, does he think that I am doing an injustice? Does he not think that I am doing the greatest possible good and justice by putting them on a line where they would not be looked down upon or referred to contemptuously because of these nefarious practices which they have been adopting hitherto? I can once again assure him that this measure is intended to make the dishonest people honest and to save the millions of poor and distressed peasants who till now have been crying in wilderness. After the passing of this measure they shall no longer cry in wilderness. (Hear, hear and cheers).

An Honourable member : Question may now be put.

Mr. Speaker : The question is :

That the question be now put.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The question is :

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill as reported by the Select Committee be circulated for eliciting public opinion thereon by the 1st October, 1938.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker : The question is :

That the Punjab Alienation of Land (Further Amendment) Bill as reported by the Select Committee be taken into consideration.

The motion was carried.

---

Clause 2.

Mr. Speaker : The Assembly will now proceed to consider the Bill clause by clause. The question is—

That clause 2 stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

---

Clause 3.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan (Rawalpindi Sadar, Muhammadan, Rural) : I beg to move :

That in line 1, for the word "Clause" the word "Sub-section" be substituted.

This is a verbal amendment.

Mr. Speaker : Amendment moved is—

That in line 1, for the word "Clause" the word "Sub-section" be substituted.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the first four lines of clause 3 stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural) : I beg to move—

That in lines 6-7 of the newly inserted clause (7) the following be deleted "and the assignee or representative-in-interest of any person."

I am moving this amendment for the reason that the inclusion of these words will create confusion and will affect persons who may be entirely innocent. In the first place the assignee of an alienor under the very Act would probably be an agriculturist and he will be in the same position as the alienor himself so that from this point of view it is redundant and even if there is a representative or assignee and he does the thing, he may not be doing it for the reasons for which an ordinary agriculturist alienor mortgagor might do it. There may be no question of his helplessness being exploited by the so-called moneylender. This is the reason and I hope the Premier understands it and as it is an innocent amendment I hope he will accept it.

Mr. Speaker : I think the word "assignee" in the last two lines of sub-clause 7 is not the proper word.

Premier : I entirely agree with you. The word 'assignee' should not be there.

Mr. Speaker It should be "heir."

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : (Rawalpindi Division, General, Rural) : If you permit me I will move an amendment. I propose that the word 'heir' be substituted in place of the word assignee occurring in the Bill. This would ensure not only to the alienor but his sons and grandsons or collaterals whoever succeed him—

Premier : His lawful heirs and successors.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : May I just point out the difference ? The idea that the Honourable Premier has in view in presenting this legislation is to help the alienor whose land has been alienated, or his heirs. It is certainly not intended to help the persons who have purchased the rights of the alienor. If you include the word 'assignee', you are practically laying a premium on purchase by capitalist landlords of the interest of these alienors which certainly is not the intention of the legislature as alleged by the Honourable Premier. My amendment, therefore, is that in place of the word 'assignee' the word 'heir' be substituted.

Pir Akbar Ali : Assignee means whose rights have been assigned to another person.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : You have been pleased to allow me to move my amendment to the following effect that the word 'heir' be substituted in place of the word 'assignee.'

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Why ?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : My friend Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan wants to know why. The reason is that it should be possible not only to the alienor but his sons, grandsons and descendants and it should be possible not only to the heirs by descent but also to his collaterals and to his daughters if succession by daughters is permitted in that tribe, to get back the land. I, therefore, want to ensure that the alleged spirit of the legislation is kept up. The intention of Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan seems to be that these alienations may be set aside, the alienees may be ejected from the land and the lands given to purchasers from original alienors. I do not agree with him. Therefore, if you do not have a safeguard of the kind I am suggesting, you will be perpetrating the same thing from which you wish to extricate these alienors. Therefore, I submit that the only logical solution of the point is that which I have suggested and with which I am glad to say the Honourable Premier who was here just now but who has gone out agrees in its entirety. (Interruption). The word 'heir', as I have submitted and if I may respectfully offer my own opinion on the point, would include anybody who gets the estate of that gentleman by inheritance. Inheritance opens on the death of a person but it will not be possible for that person to assign his rights by gift or any other assignment.

(R. B. Mr. Mukand Lal Puri.)

Advocate-General (Mr. M. Sleem): I am not clear what the House wants.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan: This is not a technical question upon which the opinion of the Advocate-General should be asked. This is a question of policy whether the Government want the word 'assignee' to be there or not. There is no legal point and I submit that this word 'assignee' has been purposely kept there. (Interruption). If the Leader of the Opposition is of opinion that this amendment which has been proposed by my friend Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri, and which by the way nobody has understood and nobody has taken down, should be accepted, then I am afraid I must strongly oppose the amendment moved by the Rai Bahadur. The word 'assignee' has been purposely kept there and let us understand clearly what we are going to accept now. It is not a question of moving any technical amendment. It is a very important amendment of a very important character.

Sardar Kapoor Singh: I have got objection for the omission of the word 'assignee'. If the word 'assignee' is omitted, then in that case there shall be a loophole to defeat the object of the Bill. Suppose A is an alienor and B is the alienee with C as the beneficiary. Then in that case beneficiary and alienee join together and they in a way transfer that land or property to some other person who is the assignee. (Voices: No, no.) What would be the result? The alienor can get the possession and at the same time his descendants or heirs can get possession according to Section 13-A, but not the assignee because in that case the beneficiary and alienee joining together would be able to defeat the object of the Bill. (Voices: No, no. It is wrong.)

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: I should like to know what is before the House. I am quite willing to accept Mr. Puri's amendment in place of mine namely, to substitute the word 'heir' in place of 'assignee or representative-in-interest of any person.' He has given a very good reason too for moving his amendment. You may put it to the House.

Mr. Speaker : The motion is—

That in line 3 of sub-clause (7) of Clause 1 the words 'way of' should be omitted.

The clause shall stand as it is without any difference in its meaning or sense and the language of the sub-clause shall be improved that is to say—

"(7) 'Alienor' includes any person transferring an interest in land by sale, exchange, gift, will, mortgage, lease or farm....."

The suggestion is that the words 'way of' should be omitted. (Voices agreed). But somebody should move the amendment.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I move—

That the words 'way of' in line 3 of sub-clause (7) be omitted.

The motion was carried.

Minister of Revenue (The Hon'ble Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) :
I move—

That for the words 'assignee or representative-in-interest' the words 'lawful heirs and successors-in-interest' be substituted in sub-clause (7).

Mr. Speaker : Clause under consideration, amendment moved—

That for the words 'assignee or representative-in-interest' the words 'lawful heirs and successors-in-interest' be substituted in sub-clause (7).

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri (Rawalpindi Division General Bural) : May I speak on this amendment moved by the Honourable Minister of Revenue? They want to shed crocodile tears for the poor people and yet they want to snatch the land from them. I wish the Honourable Premier had been here and I would have pointed out this thing to him. The Minister of Revenue is coming forward with an entirely new thing which negatives the proposal of the Honourable Premier.

Minister : The honourable member need not wax eloquent over it. I am doing so after consultation with the Premier.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : But let him come here.

Mr. Speaker : The amendment moved is—

For the words 'assignee or representative-in-interest' the words 'lawful heirs and successors-in-interest' be substituted.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Successors-in-interest include assignees. Under the amendment of Sir Sundar Singh the assignees would be included. If he had confined his amendment to lawful heirs then the assignees may be perhaps excluded. If you include a successor-in-interest, donee for example can be successor-in-interest; but if there is any assignment then assignee is successor-in-interest of the alienor. When you use the words 'lawful successors' you include not only the persons who get an estate by inheritance but also those who succeed to the estate by any transaction inter vivos for example, a gift, sale, lease and so on. May I through you ask the honourable member in charge of the Bill as to what he means by successors-in-interest? Does he want to include assignee with or without consideration?

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : Why not put the words 'legal heirs'?

Pir Akbar Ali : An 'assignee' means the person to whom an alienor transfers his rights in the land, whether an agriculturist or a non-agriculturist. If so the rights which we are anxious to safeguard will become unsafe.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Not assignees but heirs and successors.

Revenue Minister : Lawful heirs and successors.

Mr. Speaker : As the Honourable Revenue Minister sticks to the following: 'lawful heirs and successors', I will put it to the vote of the House. The question is—

That for the words "assignee or representative-in-interest" the words "lawful heirs and successors" be substituted.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : This is being moved for the first time and I want to make a speech.

Mr. Speaker : As it has already been discussed, I will put it to the vote of the House.

(Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri stood up).

I request the honourable member to resume his seat.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Not on this motion.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member resume his seat? He has already spoken more than once.

Munshi Hari Lal : By whom was it moved?

Mr. Speaker : It was moved by the Honourable Member in charge of the Bill.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : I have spoken in support of my amendment which is not now before the House. I have not spoken on this motion.

Mr. Speaker : I am not going to allow any further discussion. Almost every lawyer member has spoken.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : This amendment will take away the whole effect of the Bill. The matter is an important one and you must allow time to discuss it.

Mr. Speaker : Has not the meaning of "assignee" been discussed?

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : The effect of this amendment has not been discussed.

Mr. Speaker : I will not allow any more discussion.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : I have not so far spoken on this motion and I think I have a right to make a submission.

Mr. Speaker : Every member who wanted to speak was allowed to speak.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : On another motion. This is being moved now. After Sir Sundar Singh Majithia moved, I at once got up. There has been no speech after it was actually moved. Sir Sundar Singh changed his motion half a dozen times.

Minister of Revenue : Please do not make that allegation.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Please address the Chair. I ask for an apology. The Honourable Minister is shouting at me.

Mr. Speaker : What is the complaint?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : I said the Honourable Sir Sundar Singh was trying to improve and change it several times. At this the gentleman got up and shouted at me in a tone which is not proper for a gentleman of his age and his position.

Mr. Speaker : I request both gentlemen to be calm.

Minister of Revenue : He says I have changed my amendment several times. He should not have said that.

Premier : If my honourable friends are not willing, we will go on with the clause as it stands without any amendment.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : I would ask the Honourable Premier and the Honourable Minister for Revenue to consider the position that by leaving the clause as it stands, they are nullifying the object of the whole Bill, and by the amendment that is being proposed by the Honourable Revenue Minister they are also nullifying the whole Bill. Allowing assignees or representatives-in-interest of alienors to get back the land will open the door for sahukars and moneyed landlords to acquire the interests of the alienor in the land which are being created under this Bill.

Premier : Do you want the word "assignee" to be removed altogether?

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Yes, but I would like the words "but not an assignee" added at the end.

Premier : Very well, remove it.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : On a point of order, Sir, I hope that this point of order will produce a calmer atmosphere. What is before the House now, I understand, is the amendment moved by the Honourable Minister for Revenue and that is that in place of the words "assignee or representative-in-interest" the words "legal heirs and successors" be substituted. Here comes the Honourable Premier and says to Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar, "Do you want the word 'assignee' to be removed? Then let it be removed," as if it is a panchayat sitting in some drawing room and he could oblige him by saying this or that. He should follow a regular procedure. There is an amendment before the House. Whether you allow any discussion or not, that is a different question, but now the Honourable Revenue Minister's amendment is before the House.

Mr. Speaker : Does the House wish to further discuss the amendment? The amendment moved is that—

For the words 'the assignee or representative-in-interest' the words 'legal heirs and successors' be substituted.

Premier : If you permit and if the House agrees, I would interpolate the word bona fide before the word "successors."

Mr. Speaker : Some honourable members have not got the amendment before them. So, I may once more try to explain the situation. In clause 7, seven classes of alienation are mentioned; viz., (1) sale, (2) exchange (3) gift and (4) will. Anyone of these 4 kinds of alienation leaves nothing with the alienor. The next 3 kinds of alienation are (5) mortgage, (6) lease and (7) farm. In these 3 classes of transfer the right of ownership remains with the transferor.

Premier : May I suggest that you put to the vote of the House the amendment proposed by my honourable colleague, namely—

That for the words 'assignee or representative-in-interest' the words 'lawful heirs and successors' be substituted.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That for the words 'assignee or representative-in-interest' the words 'lawful heirs and successors' be substituted.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the proposed sub-clause (7) as amended stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural) : I beg to move—

That in line 2 of sub-clause (8), for the word 'officer' the word 'court' be substituted and the words "within the meaning of sections 19, 20 and 21 of the Act" be deleted.

Mr. Speaker : I propose to put the amendment in two parts. The question is—

That in line 2 of sub-clause (8), for the word 'officer' the word 'court' be substituted.

The motion was lost.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : In view of the decision of the House on the last amendment the next amendment becomes useless. It need not therefore be put to vote.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar (North-Western Towns, General, Urban) : I beg to move—

That in lines 3—6 of sub-clause (8), the words 'and shall include.....for the purposes of the Act' be deleted.

I need not make any speech in commending this amendment to the House. The necessity for this amendment is perfectly clear. We are giving wide powers, powers which are ordinarily exercised by civil courts, to individual officers. It is, therefore, highly desirable that this officer should not be below the rank of a deputy commissioner.

Mr. Speaker : Clause under consideration, amendment moved—

That in lines 3—6 of sub-clause (8) the words 'and shall include.....for the purposes of the Act' be deleted.

Munshi Hari Lal (South-Western, Towns, General, Urban) (Urdu) :

Sir, under the Land Alienation Act the powers to deal with revenue cases have been given to the deputy commissioner only, and not to any other official. It means that when important matters are involved the deputy commissioner is empowered to deal with them. I beg to submit that these powers should not be delegated to assistant collectors, first grade. The nature of their duty is such as to necessitate their remaining constantly on tour and for this reason they are prone to be influenced by some big landlord. This will not be conducive to their work and for this reason I submit that these powers should not be given to any other officer lower in rank than that of the deputy commissioner.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Bural) (Punjabi) : Sir, I rise to support the motion that has been moved by my honourable friend Munshi Hari Lal. I had also moved a similar amendment but it was unfortunately rejected. It is desirable in the interest of the Bill itself that this amendment should be accepted. By doing so we can effect a lot of improvement in this measure. A deputy commissioner is as a rule reliable and responsible officer.

An honourable member : Cannot a deputy commissioner be won over ?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I know that influence can be brought to bear upon a deputy commissioner, as is evident from the Riyasat of 30th May, 1938. I concede they are not angels, yet most of them are men of character and it may be expected of them that they will guard themselves against temptations. My honourable friend Munshi Hari Lal has rightly said that a deputy commissioner should exercise these powers and that they should not be vested in P.C.S. officers or revenue assistants. Not that I regard them as dishonest or corrupt, but the important nature of the work demands that it should be handled by higher authorities. For these reasons I support the amendment now before the House.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sandar Singh Majithia (Punjabi) : Sir, my friends sitting on the opposite benches want to throw all the burden on the Premier's shoulders who has got to do a thousand other things. I know how very busy he is one way or the other. So far as the Opposition is concerned I know where the shoe pinches. They say, why the Government does not consult some other official than the deputy commissioner in such matters. If we agree to the proposals made by the Opposition the Government would be deprived of the services of such an important official, as the deputy commissioner of a district, I mean the honourable members sitting on the opposite benches want to tie the hands of the Government. In my opinion the deputy commissioner can exercise his powers in a befitting manner and I am sure that deputy commissioner will use his powers and privileges in a manner which would do credit to anybody.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar (Urdu) : Sir, I put forward the amendment to this clause before the House with the hope that no part of this House would oppose it. But I am surprised to know that even this amendment has not gone unopposed. As some drastic changes are contemplated by this Bill I submit that the person who would be appointed to settle cases under the proposed Act should be a responsible officer. In this connection the Honourable Minister for Revenue has been pleased to state that the Government is going to vest these powers in the deputy commissioner and no one else. There is no doubt that the deputy commissioner would be able to meet all these situations. But I submit that the officer whosoever he may be would have to deal with cases of valuable alienations even disregarding decrees of civil courts. He should, therefore, be above being influenced by anybody. He must be a man of vast experience and good administrative ability. Unfortunately we are unable to take this credit that our ordinary Government officials cannot be easily influenced. We sitting on this side of the House are for those officials who cannot be easily influenced. We hope that the Government would be pleased to show a more accommodating spirit and accept all reasonable proposals made by any quarter of the House.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order. It has been suggested that under the Land Alienation Act only the deputy commissioner can exercise those powers. This is in clear contravention of the section.

Mr. Speaker : It is not a point of order. The question is—

That the last 25 words of sub-clause (8) be omitted.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the proposed sub-clause (8) stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the proposed proviso stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Clause 4.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the first seven lines of clause 4 stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural) : I move—

That in lines 4-6 of newly inserted sub-clause (2), for the words 'such enquiry as may be prescribed' the words 'recording and receiving such evidence as may be produced by the parties concerned' be substituted.

The object of my amendment is that instead of leaving the question of the method of enquiry to the Government, it should be left to the deputy commissioner and that it should be necessary for him to record whatever evidence is produced by the parties concerned. So far as this side of the House is concerned that I understand, with the exception of this amendment or one or two other amendments of a mild character, no other amendments are going to be moved. I wish it were possible for me to speak frankly my views and my opinions with regard to this Bill, but Sir, the seal of silence, as a matter of principle, has been placed upon our mouths and therefore, I propose to discuss, as much as is permissible for me. The late Bal Gangadhar Tilak uttered the historic words when the sentence of 6 years' imprisonment was passed against him. What he said was this. "I wish it were the will of God that the cause that I advocate may prosper more by my suffering than by my freedom." Exactly the same situation has arisen by reason of our adopting the attitude of self-suppression and self-effacement. Our object is to advocate the cause of the Congress.

Premier : They make a virtue of necessity.

Lala Duni Chand : I am putting forward these arguments in order to induce the House to accept this amendment. These are my arguments and I am perfectly entitled to show why the amendment that I have proposed should be accepted. I am not behind any honourable member in this House in serving the cause of the agriculturists. (Hear, hear from the Unionist benches). It has been the business of my life to serve the agriculturists.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is irrelevant. If he continues to be irrelevant I shall have to ask him to resume his seat.

Lala Duni Chand : I will try to convince the Speaker as to the relevancy of my speech. In support of my amendment I want to show what my arguments are and I am speaking perfectly relevantly. I am going to ask this House to adopt this motion and I am giving my reasons for this. If the deputy commissioner is not required to record and receive evidence in order to find out the truth and if it is left to the discretion of the local Government, there would be no inquiry worth the name. It must be the deputy commissioner who should record and receive whatever evidence is produced by the parties concerned. My object is that the matter should not be left to the sweet will of the executive Government.

Mr. Speaker : This is repetition.

Lala Duni Chand : I am repeating nothing. I only state that this matter should not be left to the Government. The parties concerned should have a right to produce whatever evidence they have before the deputy commissioner and the deputy commissioner should be under the obligation of recording and receiving the evidence that the parties produce. With these words I move my amendment.

Mr. Speaker : Clause under consideration, amendment moved is—

That in lines 4-5 of newly inserted sub-clause (2) for the words 'such enquiry as may be prescribed' the words 'recording and receiving such evidence as may be produced by the parties concerned' be substituted.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan): Sir, I had no intention of making a speech on this amendment because I could hardly hear my honourable friend and what little I have heard I am afraid I have not been able to understand. My honourable friend started with certain assurances with regard to self-suppression and self-effacement. I know their difficulties, but with regard to this particular clause it was hardly necessary for him to make virtue of necessity. I know what his feelings are and I know what he means. However I sympathise with him. But let me point out that he is trying to introduce a principle which does not exist so far in the Alienation of Land Act and he wants to make an innovation and a departure from the previous practice and policy. I, therefore, do not think it is possible for the Government to accept this amendment.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That in lines 4-5 of sub-clause (2), for the words "such enquiry as may be prescribed" the words "recording and receiving such evidence as may be produced by the parties concerned" be substituted.

The motion was lost.

Mian Abdul Rab (Jullundur South, Muhammadan, Rural) : I beg to move—

That in sub-clause (2), last line, for the word "this" the words "the said" be substituted.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the proposed sub-clause (2), as amended, stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Speaker : Sub-clause (3) will be taken up to-morrow.

The Assembly then adjourned till 11 A. M. on Wednesday, 6th July, 1938.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

3RD SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Wednesday, 6th July, 1938.

*The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 11 a.m. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the chair.*

OATH OF OFFICE.

Chaudhri Muhammad Qasim (Bhalwal, Muhammadan, Rural) was sworn in.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

(POINT OF ORDER.)

Sardar Hari Singh : I would invite your attention to Rule 9 on page 13 of the Interim Rules wherein it is stated that the first hour of every meeting shall be available for the asking and answering of questions. There is no exemption in the case of an extraordinary meeting and my contention is that the questions that we have given notices of have not been exhausted and some should have been answered to-day.

Mr. Speaker : When did the House decide that it will meet to-day?

Sardar Hari Singh : Day before yesterday.

Mr. Speaker : It was impossible in the meantime to have questions printed and brought before the House to-day.

Sardar Hari Singh : I want to know as to how we get over this Standing Order.

Mr. [Speaker : The Standing Order applies only which it is possible to have a list of questions printed and circulated in time. The office could not arrange all this.

Sardar Hari Singh : Where is the prohibition that the office should not make arrangements ?

Mr. Speaker : What is impossible to be done cannot be expected to be done. Suppose the House decides on Friday night that it will meet the next morning. Does the honourable member expect that the first hour on Saturday morning should be made available for questions ? Questions should be asked on the usual days on which the Assembly sits. The practice of the House is to sit on four days in a week. To-day being one of the off days the sitting is extraordinary and, therefore, the first hour could not be made available for questions. Hence there is no violation or breach of Rules.

Sardar Hari Singh : I want to bring to your notice that in that case the Standing Order is defective because it makes no exceptions.

Mr. Speaker : All man-made laws are defective. When it is physically impossible to comply with a rule or law, the only alternative is to ignore it.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES.

UNAUTHORISED PUBLICATION IN NEWSPAPERS.

Mian Abdul Rab : On a point of order. You were pleased to rule yesterday that the reports of the select committees are privileged documents unless formally presented to this House and cannot be published even in the Gazette. In this connection I draw your attention to the issue of the Tribune, dated 3rd July, 1938, wherein the report of the select committee on the Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill is published. That report has not yet been formally presented to the House. Is that not a breach of the privileges of this House ?

Mr. Speaker : Is it the report or the minute of dissent that is published in the paper ?

Mian Abdul Rab : It is the report of the select committee as well. Full text of the select committee's report is published in the issue of the Tribune, dated the 3rd July, 1938. It was to have been presented to the House yesterday.

Mr. Speaker : When was it presented ?

Mian Abdul Rab : It has not been presented yet. Even if it were presented, it was presented on the 5th of July but it was published already in the Tribune of the 3rd July, 1938.

Mr. Speaker : It was presented on Monday, the 4th of July, 1938.

Mian Abdul Rab : Advance copies were sent to the members.

Dr. Satya Pal : How can the Tribune be held responsible ?

Mr. Speaker : Every one is presumed to know law.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : But after the law has been made.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Is there any Rule of Procedure which has been infringed by this publication ?

Premier : I think that it is some member of this House who infringed the Rule by providing the report to the Tribune for purposes of publication.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Which Rule has been infringed ?

Mr. Speaker : The proceedings and reports of select committees have always been treated and marked as "confidential."

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : By whom ?

Mr. Speaker : By the Secretary of the House.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : But Secretary of the House is not to lay down rules of our conduct. The rules are to be laid by this House or are to be regulated by conventions which have the sanction of law.

Mr. Speaker : Has not the honourable member been a member of select committees on several occasions ?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Yes, Sir.

Mr. Speaker : Has he ever divulged the proceedings of any select committee ?

Premier : He was a member of the last Council also and I think that he has forgotten the conventions which were set up. As a matter of fact it was after considerable discussion that we decided that, in order to save time and to see that the reports are circulated in time, they should be confidentially circulated to the members and not made public until they are presented to the House itself. I believe that if the Secretary will look up the proceedings he will find that we did set up this convention and decided that nothing should be published until presented to the House but that the members should receive the reports in confidence before they are laid on the table of the House.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz : I understand that in the Central Assembly no advance copies are supplied to the members.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : On a point of constitutional importance, I wish to point out that there is no breach of privilege in publishing the reports which are sent to 175 members and are to be found lying loosely and broadcast in the office of the Secretary especially when there is no rule prohibiting the publishing of these reports. The select committee or the House did not authorize the Secretary to mark them as 'confidential.'

Mr. Speaker : I think the honourable member is not right in what he says. Documents, which are sent to the honourable members marked as 'confidential', are not expected to be published by them. That is the practice, and I hope that every honourable member will follow it.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : May I ask who authorised the Secretary to mark it as confidential and when and by whom was the alleged practice or convention adopted?

Mr. Speaker : Order, order, no further discussion.

Premier : I hope the press would also recognise this convention of the House and that they will not publish any report of a select committee unless it is actually presented in the House.

Fir Akbar Ali : Every copy of the report is marked as confidential and it is written there 'confidential advance copy.' They have been very careful.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Would it not be better to have this in the form of a rule rather than in the form of a nebulous convention?

Mr. Speaker : A resolution of the House is as good as a rule.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Is there any resolution of the House on this point?

Mr. Speaker : All I remember is, as stated by the Honourable Premier, that some years ago, the Council decided after discussion that the reports of select committees should not be made public but that they should be circulated among the members in advance as "confidential document."

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : We will look up the old proceedings. I do not think there was any formal resolution of the House.

Mr. Speaker : Quite So. There was no formal resolution. Every honourable member should understand that a report of a select committee is not to be published before it is presented to the House.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I submit one thing. As has been pointed out by the honourable Begum Shah Nawaz, in the Central Assembly advance copies are not supplied.

Mr. Speaker : Nor in the House of Commons.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Therefore my submission is that it is a breach of privilege of the House to publish these reports and make them available to the members of the House before they are presented. Therefore I would submit that instead of making a rule or giving order that the report be supplied to us we should stick to the rule and not supply advance copies.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Who has ordered the Secretary to send advance copies ?

Mr. Speaker : The House.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : When and who decided that advance copies should be sent ; and if there is no such rule—

Mr. Speaker : Order, order. The honourable member is making speech after speech. This is the eighth or ninth time that he has got up.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : I just want to put a point of order before you.

Mr. Speaker : I do not wish to allow discussion of the constitutional point raised by the honourable member ; but this House has been following certain traditions established by the old Council.

Munshi Hari Lal : Certainly these conventions are not binding on us.

Mr. Speaker : We shall first consult the old proceedings and then discuss the point.

Premier : I have a clear recollection that we did discuss this matter and came to this decision.

Mr. Speaker : Yet we should see the printed proceedings.

THE PUNJAB REGISTRATION OF MONEY-LENDERS' BILL.

Premier : I beg to present the report of the select committee on the Punjab Registration of Money-Lenders Bill.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is the Honourable Premier in order in presenting the report of the select committee ?

Mr. Speaker : Yes.

THE PUNJAB ALIENATION OF LAND (SECOND AMENDMENT) BILL.

Clause 4.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri (Rawalpindi Division, General Rural) : Sir, I beg to move that—Sub-clause (3) of clause 4 be deleted.

Mr. Speaker : That is not an amendment. When the clause is put, the honourable member may oppose it.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : As you please Sir, what is your ruling ?

Mr. Speaker : The deletion of a clause or of a sub-clause, when the latter is dealt with separately, is not an amendment ; but a negation of the clause or the sub-clause, as the case may be. The question is—

That the proposed sub-clause (3) stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Munshi Hari Lal (South-Western Towns, General, Urban) : Sir, I beg to move that—

In the proviso lines 2-3, for the words "instituted before the 15th June, 1938" the words "before the commencement of the Act" be substituted.

My amendment is a very simple one. I submit that all those suits that are instituted before the commencement of the Act should be excluded from the purview of the Land Alienation Act. There may be cases which may be pending at the time of the commencement of this Act and decrees may follow in these suits afterwards. It will be no fault of plaintiffs if they do not get decrees before the commencement of this Act, though they may have lodged their suits beforehand. Moreover I submit that it will be in accordance with the spirit of section 107 of the Government of India Act. Any man who has got the right to institute a suit before the passing of the Act and has instituted it should not be deprived of the fruits of his efforts. I am now urging a provision for those plaintiffs who have preferred their suits before the commencement of this Act. The Act should not have any retrospective effect in this respect. With these words, I move my amendment.

Mr. Speaker : Clause under consideration, amendment moved is that—

In the proviso, lines 2-3, for the words "instituted before the 15th June, 1938" the words "before the commencement of the Act" be substituted.

Khan Bahadur Chaudhri Riasat Ali (Hafizabad, Muhammadan, Rural) : Sir, I rise to oppose the amendment. Under the proviso as it stands, this Act will not apply to the suits instituted before the 15th June, 1938. We wanted to delete these words, but we have not moved any amendment to that effect for the simple reason that we do not want to affect those decrees passed before the 15th June, 1938. If this amendment is accepted then the whole object of this Bill will be frustrated for the reason that the assent of His Excellency the Governor to this Bill may be given 4 months hence or 6 months hence or even later. There may be a propaganda, as it is going on now, in the press that the special powers of the Governor to safeguard the interests of the minorities be invoked. Who knows that these powers may be exercised or there may be some discussion over the propriety of exercising these powers ? If we accept this amendment, all those transactions which we want to be covered by this Act or all those people whom we want to benefit by the provisions of this Act will not get the least benefit as the people to be affected by this Bill in the meanwhile may try to evade its provisions by hook or by crook. Therefore, Sir, under these circumstances, I would oppose the amendment and request you to pass the proviso as it stands.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri (Rawalpindi Division, General, Rural) : Sir, I do not at all agree with the previous speaker when he made a bold assertion that if the proposal of the honourable member opposite is accepted, the whole object of the Bill will be defeated. In the first instance, he has omitted to note that this sub-clause only refers to the declaration of status by a member of the agricultural tribe and does not at all refer to other provisions in the Bill which are most important and which relate to benami transactions. My objection to the proposal is really based on a fundamental principle that we should be very jealous of the decisions of our courts and that the civil courts should not be treated with slight or disrespect, a tendency, which, I have, of late, noticed ever increasingly growing in this House, and therefore, it is because of that and not because the amendment is of any substance that I whole-heartedly support the amendment. The effect of the amendment would only cover a declaration of perhaps about a dozen persons, who might institute suits and get themselves declared members of agricultural tribe and might obtain decrees or might be refused that privilege. But, Sir, if the principle underlying this section is accepted, then it would mean that the executive is being given an authority to set aside the decision of the highest courts which may have been passed before the enforcement of this Act.

Munshi Hari Lal : Sir, an objection has been taken by an honourable member opposite that this Act may come into force after 5 or 6 months. I go further and say that this Act may not come into force at all. The Governor may refuse to give his assent to it. Are you going to penalise the plaintiff because this Act is in suspense or is in abeyance or is awaiting the assent of the Governor? Why should the poor man, who has got a right to go to the civil court to get himself declared as a member of an agricultural tribe, be deprived of that right and why should he not think rightly that this Act may not come into force at all? My point is quite reasonable and unassailable.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That in the proviso, lines 2 and 3 for the words "instituted before the 15th June, 1938" the words "before the commencement of the Act" be substituted.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the proposed proviso stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Clause 5.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the first four lines of clause 5 stand part of the Bill.

The motion was carried.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I want to raise a point of order with regard to the operative part of this clause, that is, the proposed new section 18-A. My contention is that it is ultra vires of this legislature to pass this clause. My authority for doing so is section 109 (2) (a) read with section 298 of the Government of India Act. Based on these two sections my contention is that the proposed provision cannot be made by this legislature without the previous sanction of the Governor-General, as the provision aims to repeal section 298 of the Government of India Act.

Mr. Speaker : Has not this point been discussed already ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : No, Sir. This is entirely a new matter that I am raising at present. I may also point out that there is a precedent as well. Section 108 (2) reads—

“ Unless the Governor-General in his discretion thinks fit to give his previous sanction, there shall not be introduced into, or moved in, a Chamber of a Provincial Legislature any Bill or amendment which repeals, amends, or is repugnant to any provisions of any Act of Parliament extending to British India.”

I contend that the proposed section 13-A is repugnant to the provisions of an Act of Parliament, namely the Constitution Act of 1935. I shall presently show how it is repugnant. Section 298 (1) reads—

“ No subject of His Majesty domiciled in India shall on grounds only of religion, place of birth, descent, colour or any of them be ineligible for office under the Crown in India, or be prohibited on any such grounds from acquiring, holding or disposing of property or carrying on any occupation, trade, business or profession in British India.”

To this provision there is an exception in sub-section (2), but that exception does not cover the provisions of this Bill. That relates only to restrictions on the power of disposing of property by way of sale or mortgage in any particular area by any particular class of persons. That is the only exception. The exceptions contained in sub-section (2) do not go against or nullify nor are inconsistent with all the provisions that are given in sub-section (1) of section 298. It only limits the operation of the sub-section so far as the power of disposing of property by certain class regarding any particular kind of property is concerned. I want to bring to your notice the exception : Section 298 (2) says :—

“ Nothing in this section shall affect the operation of any law which—

(a) prohibits, either absolutely or subject to exceptions, the sale or mortgage of agricultural land situate in any particular area, and owned by a person belonging to some class recognised by the law as being a class of persons engaged in or connected with agriculture in that area, to any person not belonging to any such class.”

Conceding this position that so far as the power of disposal by way of sale or mortgage of agricultural property is concerned, this House is perfectly entitled to bring legislation to that effect even without obtaining the previous sanction of the Governor-General, the provision intended to deprive me of the property which I am holding or to deprive me of the right of acquiring property which I am entitled to acquire under the law cannot be made by this legislature. The provincial legislature cannot make an alteration in that behalf.

Mr. Speaker : Please state the point of order briefly.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : My point of order is this. Clause 13-A of the Bill is ultra vires in view of section 108 (2) (a) read with section 298 of the Government of India Act for the reason that I cannot be deprived of the property which I hold and I cannot be prohibited from acquiring property which I want to acquire because there is a fundamental right given to me under section 298 of the Government of India Act. The disability is only confined to the power of disposal of agricultural classes by way of sale or mortgage. That is one thing. Clause 18-A of the Bill deprives a person of acquiring or holding property and therefore my submission is that all the clauses of the Bill from clause 18-A onwards should be held ultra vires and should be expunged from the Bill.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : The objection raised by the honourable advocate-general of the Opposition, will not hold water and I am sorry that this attitude of obstruction is being taken on a measure of this nature by our friends of the Congress party.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I beg to object to the words used by my honourable friend. It is not by way of obstruction that we are raising these points. We think it is a privilege of the House to invite your attention to the laws under which we are working. Therefore it is not by way of obstruction that we raise these points. It is only by way of protecting the privileges of the House.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member (Mir Maqbool Mahmood) should not have used those words.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I am sorry. I have a double bared reply to the technical objection raised by my honourable friend. If you read section 298 you will find that there is a very definite word 'only' in line 2. The section reads as follows:—

“ No subject of His Majesty domiciled in India shall on grounds only of religion, place of birth, descent, colour or any of them be . . . . . prohibited on any such grounds from acquiring, holding or disposing of property.”

I submit that we are not legislating by this Bill that every non-agriculturist shall be deprived of the lands that he is holding. If we were doing that, then the word 'only' will be deterrent and the Bill will be ultra vires. What we are seeking to legislate is that certain persons who have held lands which are benami and which have been a fraud on the Land Alienation Act shall be deprived under certain conditions of holding those lands. Therefore, I submit that the word 'only' is a saving item and section 298 will not apply to the present case even if we were to stretch the word 'descent' and include therein descent from a particular tribe.

The second point which I have to urge is this. Section 108 (2) applies to the introduction into the House of a Bill or the moving of an amendment, as you were pleased to indicate the other day. We are not introducing a Bill nor are we moving an amendment as contended by my friends opposite. On both these grounds my honourable friend's objection does not hold water.

Advocate-General (Mr. M. Sleem) : So far as section 108 is concerned, I submit it does not apply at all. It has got nothing to do with the point. That deals with a case where you are trying to repeal a provision of an Act of Parliament. There is nothing of the kind here. So the objection really is that under section 298 this Bill, if passed, would by reason only of descent, bar certain persons from holding land, because section 18-A, deals with a case where if a transaction is declared to be benami, the person holding that property can be deprived of that property. In that case supposing this section applied, the only relevant words: "No subject of His Majesty domiciled in India shall on grounds only of religion, place of birth, descent, colour or any of them be prohibited on any such grounds," namely, on the ground of descent, from holding property. This section does not say that because a person is a non-agriculturist he shall not hold any property after the commencement of this Act. What it says is that if a person is a non-agriculturist, not by reason of his being a non-agriculturist but by reason of his having entered into a transaction which purports to be what it is not, he shall be deprived of it. That, I submit, does not "prohibit him" on the ground of descent alone from holding property. I emphasise the words 'prohibited on such grounds.' Therefore the ground would be not the ground of descent. Here he has got to be prohibited not on the ground of descent but on the ground that the transaction is benami.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : As I was one of the persons who raised this objection before and as no reply whatsoever was given by any one on that side, I think I may say a few words to support this point of order. I raised this point and neither you gave a ruling on this point, nor did any honourable member from the Government benches care to say a word about that legal and technical point raised by me.

Mr. Speaker : If the honourable member wishes to raise his point of order, I shall gladly give him an opportunity after the point under discussion is disposed of.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : It is the same point of order that I wish to speak about. My point of objection is under section 298. In fact I attacked the whole Bill on the ground that under section 298 it was ultra vires of this House to proceed with any such legislation.

Mr. Speaker : This point was raised; but I cannot say whether it was decided.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I raised the point but no one answered it.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : My point is a different one. It relates to section 108 read with section 298 and the answer given by the learned Advocate-General does not meet the objection raised by me.

Mr. Speaker : The Advocate-General has expressed his opinion. I am not bound to accept it; but as I have not studied the point as carefully as he has, and as prima facie he appears to be right, I accept his view.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I know if the members of this House have a right to say anything against the opinion expressed by the learned Advocate-General in order to secure the right ruling from the Chair?

Mr. Speaker : As I have given my ruling, I cannot allow a further discussion of the point of order.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Have I not a right of reply?

Mr. Speaker : No.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : May I through you ask a question from the learned Advocate-General? What I beg to ask the Advocate-General is this. Does he really believe as a lawyer apart from the personal capacity, that this clause aims at setting aside or depriving people of certain rights in property simply because certain transactions are benami?

[Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang.]

Is it not a fact that these benami transactions are being set aside on the sole ground that people who have been deriving benefits or strive to derive any benefits from these benami transactions are members of a particular tribe who are under the Alienation of Land Act not entitled to secure property by sale or mortgage from a person who belongs to a particular tribe by right of descent? Is there any other reason given in the Bill or in this clause?

Mr. Speaker: If the honourable Advocate-General is in a position to answer, he may do so.

Advocate-General: It is rather surprising that in the form of a question the honourable member should be attempting to criticise the merits of the Bill. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: No.) His question is that this Bill may be worked in such a manner that if a transaction were not benami certain officers empowered under this Act would declare it to be benami. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: No. No.) The question of law is simply this. It says that if a transaction is found to be benami then certain persons shall be deprived of their rights.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: Read further lines.

Advocate-General: There are certain persons only who would be affected but they would be affected not on the ground that they are not agriculturists.

Mr. Speaker: The fact that certain persons are being deprived of certain rights on the ground of descent does not appear to be established.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural): Sir, I beg to move—

That in 13-A (1), lines 1-2 the words "sale," "exchange", "lease" and "farm" be omitted.

You will see by a reference to this clause that a large number of alienations are included in this. There is sale, exchange, gift, will, mortgage, lease or farm. I want sale to be omitted, I want exchange to be omitted and I also want lease or farm to be omitted. My reasons for omitting the word 'sale' are these. Suppose a sale took place some thirty years or so ago and there have been many transactions after that sale, there is no animus revertendi with respect to that particular land left on the vendor of that land. A certain person holds a sale deed and belongs apparently to an agricultural tribe, the fact that the original vendor in that particular case was a member of an agricultural tribe would in no case invalidate the sale. Anyone who wants to purchase from the vendee who holds the title deed in his name without any ambiguity or without any reference to any other person having a right in that land purchases from such a vendee without any notice of a defect in the title. I hope I have made myself clear. Nothing would be clear to some of my friends on this side. Then again X might have acquired from Y and X might have sold to Z after ten years, twelve years or fifteen years. After twelve years the title becomes, apart from anything else, valid and ripe by even adverse possession. Are you going to penalise a series of persons who were not at all at fault in acquiring the property which stood in the name of a rightful person? Apparently an agriculturist has full authority to purchase from an agriculturist. What is there to put the second vendee on notice either with respect to the fraud of some money-lender who might have been at the root of the original transaction or the zamindar or the agriculturist who was a party, according to some of my friends here, to this fraud perpetrated on this sacred Act, the Land Alienation Act, which is being treated as if it were a sacred person against whom no offence can be committed? I ask the Honourable Minister of Revenue with all the earnestness that I can command, through the Chair, whether he thinks it fair to penalise half a dozen persons whose purchase might be from one of his cousins or friends who is a zamindar and who apparently had full rights to purchase that property. X comes and buys from Y. Z comes and buys from X and now you get up after 37 years and say that all these people should be deprived of the property on which they might have spent thousands without the slightest fault on their part. You cannot accuse them of being a party to the fraud. They may be absolutely ignorant of any collusive arrangements between the original vendor and the zamindar vendee or the third person who has prompted that collusive or benami transaction. Do you not realise that thereby you might be perpetrating the biggest oppression and tyranny on men who are absolutely innocent? Think over it even during the few minutes that you have at your disposal at the present moment. How can you justify such a procedure? Is there no reason or justice left in the world—or the world of this Punjab Cabinet—that they should get up and try to penalise persons against whom no blame attaches whatsoever? I challenge anyone of my friends on those benches to point out that any subsequent purchaser from the original vendee can possibly be a party to the fraud. If there is a possibility, penalise that particular individual. But do you not recognise that in nine cases out of ten the vendees—the subsequent purchasers—may be absolutely innocent and may not have any knowledge whatsoever of the secret arrangement that may be subsisting between the money-lender and his agriculturist friend and the agriculturist vendor? Now take it like this. The zamindar friend who is a party to this benami transaction is probably sufficiently obliging, and it may be that he, acting in collusion with the beneficiary, sells the land and passes the money to the shukar. Such a thing is possible and there is no inherent improbability in it. Therefore, so far as the money-lender is concerned he is finished, so far as the original agriculturist vendor is concerned he is finished, and so far as the agriculturist friend who helped him in this transaction is concerned, he is also finished. He got the money and passed it on to the shukar. An innocent person comes and pays full consideration and acquires that property. Now the honourable member wants to deprive that purchaser of that property. And it may not be that man at all. The man who is now in possession of the property may be the 12th or 20th man. Supposing there is a plot of ten acres which has passed hands and out of ten acres 200 persons have purchased land to build small houses as happened near the towns of Lahore, Amritsar and other places. Hundreds of persons might be affected. Have you thought for the moment over the enormity that you are going to perpetrate? I wonder, Sir, as to what has happened to the sanity and sense of the Government of this province that they are launching forth such an absurd legislation before this House. This is what I wanted to say about the 'sale.' I hope that in the name of goodness, in the name of justice and fairness they would withdraw at least this word from this clause and not perpetrate the wrong which they were unable to foresee and which perhaps if they had sufficient time, they would never have thought of perpetrating.

Let us come to 'exchange.' What is exchange? This is also a kind of sale. Instead of selling your property for cash you sell it for kind. You say, "All right, here is my one acre of land. It is lying too far away from my well and I cannot irrigate it, because my source of irrigation is at a distance of a mile or half a mile from the land." He goes to a sahukar to whom he owes money or some other person and says, "Look here, this land is almost useless to me. You give me half an acre of land which is close to my well and I give you one acre of land which is at a distance of a mile but which is nearer to a well of yours which lies next to my land." Thus the transaction takes place. That is the nature of the consideration. Does it make any change in the real nature of the transaction? There is no real difference between exchange and sale and when this land is exchanged, just as I said in the case of sale, this exchanged land, this one acre of land which was not fit perhaps for agricultural purposes because it lay too far away from the source of irrigation, is purchased in exchange by a man for half an acre and this land is then cut up into nine pieces of one kanal each or may be 18 pieces of ten marlas each and they are given to poor persons to build their cottages on it and now the Honourable Minister of Revenue wants to dispossess those who built eighteen cottages on this land because originally this transaction, according to him, was a fraud on a very holy piece of legislation called the Land Alienation Act! Have you thought over this? I am sure you have not, otherwise you would not have done this as you are so good by nature. (Laughter). Have you realised the implications of this measure? I am not casting any reflection on your power of realisation or your power of understanding. You get unnecessarily excited: I never question your ability, but it is not always possible to foresee all the implications. Now, Sir, what is the answer to the proposition which I have put? Are they going to dispossess people of their land? There may be hundreds of such cases, because these transactions, I am told, are fairly numerous. Their number ex hypothesi must be large, otherwise these gentlemen would not have taken the trouble to crush a butterfly on the wheel and put big guns in motion for crushing a few small folk. Ex hypothesi the number must be considerable and out of that number the number of such cases which I have put must be considerable. Are they going to dispossess certain people of their land simply because the original person who acquired the land, acquired it by sale or exchange? Then I come to the question of farms and leases. If you turn to section 11 of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act you will find that it is no sin to enter into a lease, to give land on lease, by an agriculturist, even to a wretched non-agriculturist. It is no sin. I shall read this section to save you the trouble of reading it. It says—

"Any member of an agricultural tribe may make a lease or farm of his land for any term not exceeding 20 years, and any lease or farm made by a member of an agricultural tribe for a longer term than twenty years shall, if the lessee or farmer is not a member of the same tribe or of a tribe in the same group, be deemed to be a lease or farm for the term permitted by this section."

So far as the leasing out is concerned the principle is recognized. It is only the question of period for which a lease or farm may be executed.

Why allow lease or farm to be included in this without any limitation of time? If the lease or farm is for more than 20 years he might be penalised. There should have been some sense in it: without any limitation of time you penalise a lease or a farm as is provided by the Land Alienation Act which is your Bible<sup>4</sup> so far as this Bill is concerned. Are you going to set aside all such leases and farms? Does it matter, Sir, whether I take the lease in my name or in the name of my friend? I am entitled to take it in my name: I am entitled to take a lease for twenty years and I am entitled to take a farm for any period not exceeding 20 years. Does it make any difference whether I get it in my own name, or in the name of my son or in the name of my friend? Is it a fraud on the Land Alienation Act? That is their only justification that it is a fraud on the Land Alienation Act and therefore people should be penalised. With due respect to you, Sir, I may point out that yesterday you made some little slip when answering a point of order raised by my honourable friend. You said they are going to pay compensation. Probably you were at that time thinking of the Punjab Restitution of Mortgaged Lands Bill and not of this Bill, or probably you were thinking that they could not be capable of such absurdity that they were going to dispossess people without giving any compensation.

Mr. Speaker: I admit that that Bill was in my mind.

Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang: There is no provision for any compensation. Supposing only last year a big gentleman like any one of these gentlemen here wanted some money—even big men want money—I want money very much sometimes (laughter)—then, Sir, he goes to a friend who happens to be a non-agriculturist. He says Chaudhri Sahib or Sardar Sahib I am prepared to oblige you, I have got the money, but what is the security? You are making new laws every day, what is the security? He says, well, you believe me, I am an honourable man, I hold 50 squares of land in Montgomery and 60 squares of land in Lyallpur and 70 squares of land in Sheikhupura and so on. He says, you give me Rs. 10,000 and the mortgage will be in favour of our common friend Chaudhri so and so. With this Rs. 10,000 what does he do? He goes to buy five squares of land from a humbler zamindar who is in need of money. He gets the land. There was no fraud at all in this case on the agriculturist mortgagor because he is a big man and understands all these things and it was an amicable and friendly arrangement to oblige a big person who was temporarily in need of money. Then this Bill comes into operation and says, nothing goes to the creditor and the land goes back to the Chaudhri Sahib without any compensation. He is at once relieved of his money. Is that the object of this Bill? (A voice: Are you talking of the present or of the past?) I am talking of the present. This is what is being done. Without any regard for what happens you do this to a man who lent merely to oblige a friend. His benami transaction disappears and with it evaporates his ten thousand rupees. Are you going to encourage this sort of thing? The Premier is not here, the new missionary of morality! Have we come to this that we have now to learn morality from Sir Sikander? That missionary of morality is not here. I would have asked him, is this the morality that he is going to preach to the people? He said he will not spend sleepless nights by losing the confidence of the people who have been dishonest! Is this not dishonesty to tell those people who lent money to [Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang:] their friends "no you cannot realise your money." (At this stage the Premier entered the Chamber). Here is the missionary. I suppose he will get himself ordained one of these days to preach morality to the province! This is the morality. I say with all respect that this clause which seeks to set aside sales, exchanges, leases and farms without giving any compensation whatsoever is the most immoral attempt at legislation and it should in no way be encouraged or approved by this House. It is a great pity that some of these gentlemen, perhaps most of these gentlemen, have not given as much thought to the case as the case deserves and therefore our case really goes by default and I appeal to these gentlemen who claim to understand what they are doing to realise the serious implications and the serious injustice and oppression which such a clause implies and which the inclusion of these words in this clause would perpetrate.

Mr. Speaker: I think the honourable member's amendment is out of order, inasmuch as, if the words 'sale,' 'exchange,' 'lease' and 'farm' are omitted, their omission shall be inconsistent with clause 3 which was passed yesterday.

Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang: Have you ruled my amendment out of order?

Mr. Speaker: Yes.

Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang: I was going to request you to kindly consult the learned Advocate-General whether the amendment moved by me was out of order or not?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri: Will you give me an opportunity to move a fresh amendment to this clause in consultation with Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang?

Mr. Speaker: Certainly.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath: May I move my amendment which runs thus:

"That in line 1 of 13-A, the word "exchange" be deleted.

Mr. Speaker: I have already ruled in connection with Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang's amendment that the deletion of the word "exchange" is inconsistent with clause 3 which was passed yesterday.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath (East Punjab, Landholders): Sir, I beg to move—

That the word "will" be deleted.

I want to say a word. I cannot imagine that a man who is making a will and whose mind is in a solemn condition would be a party to a fraudulent declarations have a high evidential value. I think that sort of solemnity is attached to a will. I cannot imagine that a man, who is making a will and who is making the last testament before he dies, would be a party to a fraud. I think this word has been inserted now and it did not exist in the original Bill.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri (Rawalpindi Division, General, Rural): Sir, may I say a word in support of the amendment. May I ask the Government or the members of this House if it is within their knowledge that any benami transaction has so far taken place by will? I would accept the statement of any member of this House if he speaks from personal knowledge or even on hearsay. So this proposal is very much to the point that we should not be legislating for eventualities which have not arisen and which are never likely to arise and the proposal is not so queer as it seems to have been taken by some members. Therefore, I have great pleasure in supporting the proposal.

Pir Akbar Ali : Does not the same objection apply to this amendment as applied to the amendment made by Dr. Narang? You already gave a ruling that clause 3 having been passed any amendment that proposes to nullify that clause is out of order.

Mr. Speaker : Dr. Narang is an able lawyer. What has he to say?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : With respect to the suggestion you were so kind to make, may I draw your attention to the Explanation attached to the proposed section 13-A? The Explanation is the result of the joint deliberations of the select committee. The Explanation is—

"Any alienation made in consequence of a transaction rendered void by this sub-section shall also be deemed void for all purposes."

Mr. Speaker : What is the honourable member speaking about?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : You were kind enough to suggest that I should make an amendment. I want you to refer to amendment No. 18. You will please see whether in view of that amendment it is necessary for me to comply with your suggestion. That amendment is—

That in the Explanation to 13-A (1) for the words "also be deemed void for all purposes" the words "not be affected by anything stated in this sub-section if made before the 15th June, 1938" be substituted.

Mr. Speaker : Will that meet the object of the honourable member?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I am asking you about it. Otherwise I shall put in an amendment as suggested by you in the form of a proviso.

Mr. Speaker : That amendment may be moved later.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Very well, Sir. Then I shall hold your suggestion in reserve. I beg to move—

That in 13-A (1), line 4, the words "either before or" be omitted.

You will see that the proposed clause 13-A says—

"When a sale, exchange, gift, will, mortgage, lease or farm purports to be made either before or after the commencement of this Amending Act by a member of an agricultural tribe to a member of an agricultural tribe...."

What I submit is that the words "either before or" should be omitted from this clause. The clause will then read—

"—purports to be made after the commencement of this Amending Act."

As was pointed out by one honourable member yesterday, these words did not exist in the Bill before it went to the select committee. These words were put in only subsequently. The Honourable Premier was pleased to explain that these words only clarify what he had in his mind when he drafted this Bill. Whether he had this really in mind or not is really not the question. The question is whether these words are necessary or not, and whether these words do not constitute an unjustifiable attack on the rights of property acquired by certain persons before this Bill was thought of. We have heard of people being punished for one thing or another, but we are yet to be told that people may be punished for something doubtful which they did 37 years ago. Even a murderer—I can speak with some authority on this point—if he is caught after 80 or 87 years is not hanged. He may be punished, but he is not hanged. But what is proposed here is that if a person did something which according to the honourable gentlemen opposite he would not have done if this Bill had already been passed he should be punished even though he did that act some 37 years ago. Now, even if a wrong is perpetrated again and again by people, then that wrong really loses its real character. The Honourable Premier also knows

[Dr. Sir Gokal Chand Narang.]

Ghalat-ul-Am Sahihun

This is a well recognised proposition. I do not think that there was anything really wrong in these benami transactions. But let us assume that these benami transactions were wrong. They were tolerated for so many years by the authorities of the province. It cannot be said that the deputy commissioners, financial commissioners and the Government were not aware that benami transactions were being entered into all these years. They did nothing. On the other hand they let these transactions multiply. By their conduct they let the people understand that there was nothing wrong in those transactions. Are they not, then, estopped now after 37 years, from saying that these people have been committing any wrong? But what do these people now say? They say—"We now have come into power and for the wrongs that the whole province has committed during the past 37 years we are going to hang them. It might have been something if they had said, "You have been doing these things. We think that they are wrong. But as we tolerated or rather as our predecessors tolerated these wrongs whether wisely or not, we want to stop these transactions now." I submit that the blame for all these transactions attaches to the Government itself and I would have understood if the Government had said "Since we are partly to blame for these transactions, we shall only set aside these transactions on certain terms" and those terms might have been included in the Bill. These terms might have been that these people will not get any interest on the amount involved or that part of the amount involved will be forfeited and so on. If it was a sale they could convert it into a mortgage, or if it was a mortgage for an indefinite period, they could convert it into a mortgage for 20 years and so on. But they are doing nothing of the sort. They are depriving them wholesale of the rights which they had acquired during the last 37 years. I would, therefore, appeal to my honourable friends in the name of equity, justice and good sense to accept my amendment. I say that it was the fault of the Government itself that encouraged this wrong if it is a wrong. The present Minister for Revenue was in the Government in 1921 and he continued in that office till 1925. Did he sleep over this matter then? Has he only now been awakened from his slumber? The late Sir Fazl-i-Husain was the Revenue Member for more than five years. He never contemplated this in his time. We cannot say that he was ignorant of these transactions. Again, the Honourable Premier himself was a member of the previous Government. He too did not contemplate such a measure as this then. Even Sir Chhotu Ram, the most inveterate friend of these fraudulent people while he was a member of the Government did not think of such a measure, perhaps because circumstances were somewhat different and there was a greater curb on his activities than there is now. Therefore none of these gentlemen, neither the Honourable Minister of so-called development, nor the Minister for Revenue who is enjoying his second term, nor the Honourable Premier who has been Revenue Member for so many years, nor any one of their predecessors, ever thought of perpetrating such a tyranny over the people as has entered into the heads of my friends sitting over there. I would therefore beseech them to confine their remedy to the future. If they think that this is something wrong, it is a fraud on the Act, let them legislate that people should not enter into such transactions in future. It will be a warning to them. But now you are catching people sleeping as it were and robbing them of the rights they have acquired at a time when such a procedure was never considered wrong by any one and was not pointed out to be so by any member of the Government.

Mr. Speaker : Amendment moved is :

That in line 4 of 13-A (1) the words "either before or" be omitted.

Parliamentary Secretary (Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan) : I have listened with great attention to the two speeches made by my honourable friend, Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang, on this Bill. I thought there were some chances perhaps of convincing my friend that from the very beginning he has given a clear proof that he cannot look at any clause or part of this Bill with an unbiassed mind. But now I have given up that hope because he seems to be so strongly prejudiced against the interests of zamindars and the poor agriculturists that it will be a waste of time to try to convince him. So far as the present clause is concerned the Honourable Premier in his forcible and convincing speech yesterday explained to the House that the object of the original clause before the Bill went to the select committee was the same as it is now as reported by the select committee. He had given strong arguments and I need not repeat them now. But there are two or three submissions which I would like to place before the House in this connection. The first is that in my humble opinion the amendment which has been moved by my honourable friend, Sir Gokul Chand Narang, should be ruled out of order, on the same grounds as you ruled out the previous amendments, because you will be pleased to observe that there are two operative portions of this clause 13-A. As a matter of fact the whole Bill is based on two things, one about the sale, exchange, gift, will, mortgage, lease or farm of benami transactions and the other the application of the Bill to all the benami transactions which have taken place so far. Therefore if a person tries to move an amendment removing the words which would make this Bill operative over the transactions which have taken place so far, it should be ruled out of order because it goes against the principles and objects of the Bill itself. Therefore in the first instance I must submit that this amendment is entirely out of order and should be ruled out as such. But that is for the chair to decide.

[ Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan. ]

Now coming to the merits of the amendment, my honourable friend has based his speech on two main arguments. The first is that benami transactions are quite legitimate and honest and quite scrupulous and the Government is now trying to punish those people who were parties to those honest transactions. His second argument is this. He assumes that these benami transactions are dishonest, illegal and unscrupulous, but he says, 'look here, people have been doing this mischief for a number of years and your predecessors did not take any step to put an end to them; why are you doing it now?' Now I would ask him in all seriousness, does this argument contain any sense whatever? If the previous financial commissioners or the previous Government did not consider it expedient or wise to undo a wrong which, quoting the words of my honourable friend, they knew all the time was unfair, is that a reason why an important piece of legislation which suggests honest methods should be thrown out?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: They were parties to the fraud.

Parliamentary Secretary: But, Sir, I would ask him, what was the use of clamouring for provincial autonomy?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: Heaven save us from this provincial autonomy, if it is for this purpose.

Parliamentary Secretary: I am glad he feels disgusted with the provincial autonomy. He feels disgusted because a very small minority, a small section which has been so far very unfair and unjust are making an attempt to undo the wrongs committed in the past. That is why he would not have that provincial autonomy. It is worth nothing for him if it cannot help that section to suck the blood of the poor agriculturists. We were all clamouring that the franchise should be widened (Interruption), the Congress more than anybody else clamoured that there should be adult franchise. It is as a result of that franchise that you find to-day that such Bills which are just and fair are brought forward (hear, hear), because the people sitting here are not the same old nominated members, benches here are not being occupied by permanent secretariat officials, but by people who are returned by agriculturists.

Mr. Speaker: Please speak to the motion.

Parliamentary Secretary: I admit, Sir, that this is not, strictly speaking, to the point. But this was the argument which my honourable friend on the other side emphasised, that the previous government, the previous financial commissioners, did not do anything, 'why are you bringing forward these Bills?' Now, Sir, in all seriousness I would ask my honourable friends opposite who seem to have entered into a conspiracy of silence so far as this measure is concerned, except for raising certain points of order, who generally ask innumerable questions about the betterment of zamindars—this is the third stage of the Bill and yet my friends of the Congress benches have kept up a conspiracy of silence—I would ask them to forget for a moment to what community they belong and what particular interest they represent and to consider whether these benami transactions are legal or illegal, whether they are honest or dishonest, whether these things are done by scrupulous or unscrupulous people. If we are to accept my honourable friend's amendment, then the House will be committing itself to the principle that whenever a wrong has been committed, whenever the terms of an Act have been evaded, then we should let those people take full advantage of law-breaking and should not bring forward any measure which tries to remedy the wrong that has been committed.

I am sure in this honourable House even my friend Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri would not be so unfair and unjust as to subscribe to such a ridiculous proposition.

Mr. Speaker : He has given notice of an identical motion.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I am sure after hearing my speech he will realise that he will not be doing credit or justice to himself or his constituents by defending the benami transactions. There can be two opinions about other matters, but about these benami transactions there can be no difference of opinion that they are illegal and immoral. I can quite understand there are certain people who do not consider the Alienation of Land Act as a proper piece of legislation, but so long as the Act is there and it has not been repealed and it remains the law of the land, we must respect it and unite in punishing anybody whoever he may be and may belong to any class, who tries to evade the provisions of the Act and who wants to take undue advantage of it. The House will, I trust, unanimously turn down this amendment which to my mind is unjust.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Punish the descendants of the wrong-doers, if it is a wrong.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I want your ruling on the point raised whether the amendment moved by Sir Gokul Chand Narang does not go against the very principle of the Bill and whether it is not out of order.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Sir, I sent a similar amendment to that which has been moved by Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang and I may state at once that there are really only two important points in the Bill which deserve the serious consideration of this House and these two points are one which is covered by this amendment and the other which is the subject matter of another amendment whether when dispossessing these alienees you ought to give some compensation or in other words, you ought to give them at least the compensation which is available to them even under the Alienation of Land Act, i.e., section 9. The other amendments are of smaller importance and these are the only two important amendments to which the House ought to devote its serious attention. Now Sir, in considering benami transactions one section of the House starts with the assumption that the benami transactions have always been illegal and dishonest, and therefore, if they were illegal and dishonest, to use the words of the Premier, we are doing nothing here except to punish the dishonest people. If that position were the correct position, there would be something to be said for the view which they are propounding. But let us see as to what a benami transaction is. Now, Sir, a benami transaction is well-known in legal circles and even before the British Raj and ever since the advent of the British administration into this country benami transactions have, always been recognized as perfectly legal and valid. It has been particularly noted that benami transactions are more prevalent in India than in other countries and these benami transactions have had the sanction of their Lordships of the Privy Council not only once but repeatedly from the earliest time up to the present day. Therefore any one who styles a benami transaction as illegal or dishonest is not stating what the law of the land has been or is to-day. That, Sir, is a clear well-defined position and an unassailable position. The second question is, assuming that the general benami transactions are not illegal and dishonest, are the benami transactions which are with respect to the Alienation of Land Act illegal or dishonest? That they are not illegal would be apparent from the fact that you are now legislating to declare them void. If they were illegal so far, it would not be necessary to have this legislation at all. For the first time you are trying to declare illegal what has so far been recognized as absolutely legal. That I respectfully submit is the position, otherwise there would be no raison d'être for the present legislation. As to whether these transactions are morally dishonest or as to whether they violate the spirit of the provisions of the Alienation of Land Act, I wish to submit, without entering into any detailed controversy—

[B. B. Mukand Lal, Puri.]

Mr. Speaker : May I request the honourable member to speak to the motion?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : The question before the House is whether this Bill should have a retrospective effect and it has been stated before you that this should have retrospective effect, because these benami transactions are dishonest and I am going to show you that they are not dishonest. Therefore my submissions are relevant to the point which is being discussed. I submit that I do not wish to trouble the House with my humble opinion on the point, but I take leave to place before the House what one of the most distinguished judges of the Lahore Chief Court, himself a member of a notified agricultural tribe, a great supporter of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act, no less a person than the late Sir Mian Shah Din said about benami transactions in a case reported as P. R. 142 of 1907 when he was sitting in Division Bench with Sir Fredrick Robertson. This is what he said with respect to these benami transactions and I crave your indulgence for placing that opinion before you—

"All acts of the Legislatures are equally important and equally to be carried out by the judiciary. Here we have a mortgage perfectly legal on the face of it executed in favour of an agriculturist who seeks the aid of the court to enforce his rights as between him and the mortgagor. There is no infringement whatever of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act in granting the relief claimed. The object of the Act . . ."

He is referring to the Alienation of Land Act.

"is not to prevent money-lenders, non-agriculturists, from recovering sums justly due to them by an agriculturist by any legal means in their power and if they can induce an agriculturist to pay off a debt due to them and to take a mortgage of land from their debtors as security for himself, there is nothing in the Act to prohibit such a course. Indeed the object of the Act is attained rather than defeated by what has occurred here. Without the Act, Mool Chand, etc., non-agriculturist money-lenders would undoubtedly have taken the mortgage themselves and obtained possession of the land. The Act prevents this, though of course they could have taken a mortgage in one of the specified permissible forms. But Jahan Khan the plaintiff is prepared to lend the debtor Ali Khan the money necessary to pay off the money-lenders and to take the land in mortgage himself, he being an agriculturist and we are only asked to decree him relief. So far as the plaintiff Jahan Khan is the mortgagee, Jahan Khan asks for possession under his deed, he is entitled to it, and there is nothing in Alienation of Land Act or any other Act, which justifies in refusing him the relief to which he is legally entitled."

These transactions took place after the Alienation of Land Act came into force.

1 P. M.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned for lunch till 2-30 p. m.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2-30 p.m., of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri: Sir, I was pointing out that in 1907 two Honourable Judges of the High Court, one of whom was the Honourable Mr. Justice Shah Din, observed as follows:—

Indeed the object of the Act is attained, rather than defeated by what has occurred here.

It is Punjab Record 142 of 1907. This decision has always been followed in later decisions and as the Premier is anxious to know those decisions. I would refer him to 1924, 6 Lah. L. J. 37 Ind. Cases 193 (Broadway, J.) and another judgment of 1927-28 Punjab L. R. 468 (Tek Chand, J.). Sir Alan Broadway observed in this judgment of 1913 as follows:—

Counsel (for Fateh Khan) admitted that his client had been released from all liability to Chet Ram and Sahib Dipta who now could not, in any circumstances, recover any money from him, but must look solely to Haider. That being the case the debt due by Fateh Khan... is now extinct, and that because Haider now is liable to pay it.... In these circumstances it seems to me that there has been no contravention of the provisions of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act. The only person who can advance any claim under the mortgage is Haider, and Chet Ram and Sahib Dipta can in no conceivable circumstances ever obtain possession of this land. If they did attempt to get possession they would be met at once by the Alienation Act. I must, therefore, hold that the mortgage is a valid one so far as this Act is concerned.

Again, the same matter was considered by Mr. Justice Chevis in 1927, when he observed:—

There is nothing illegal or opposed to public policy in a third party (being a member of an agricultural tribe) coming in and taking the land (of an agriculturist) on mortgage, undertaking in exchange to pay off the debts due by the mortgagor to a non-agriculturist).

Therefore, you would observe that it has not been so far considered in any case an evasion of the Land Alienation Act for an agriculturist to buy the land of another agriculturist, agreeing to pay off the debts of his vendor to the transferer and it would not in any case be illegal or improper for him to raise that money by taking a loan from the same person to whom the transfer was made or even undertaking to pay by instalments or even to pay from the produce of the same land. Therefore, I certainly wish this House not to start with the assumption that these past benami transactions were in any way considered to be improper by the courts. If that were the view which was taken by the courts of these benami transactions, did the Government of the day—the Executive—take any view different from these decisions? I respectfully submit that for the last thirty years no executive Government has taken any steps to get these decisions of the High Court over-ruled by the legislature by passing a new enactment. This is not a thing which is unheard of in the legislature. You are aware that during the last ten years whenever an interpretation has been given by the High Court which in the opinion of the agriculturists members of this House or the Government of the day has infringed the provisions of the Land Alienation Act — for instance the period for usufructuary mortgage in execution of a decree for money which is twenty years and for which there has been considerable discussion—the Punjab Government has stepped in to set that right and several enactments were passed to bring the law of the land into conformity with the opinion of the majority of the members of this House although that opinion was against the view which had been propounded by courts. What I want to emphasise is that with respect to these benami transactions not only were they treated as perfectly legal by the courts but the Government of the day never thought for a moment to call into question their legality or validity. If that be the state of affairs on the subject, does it lie in the mouth of the members of the Government or of anybody else to say that these transactions were tainted with dishonesty or that this legislation is only intended to affect those persons who acted dishonestly? If this legislation were confined to future transactions, if this legislation which for the first time declares such transactions to be void in future, were to apply to future transactions, I would understand the reasoning of the Government that those persons who in any way were party to the transactions in future would be evading the law and would be acting contrary to law, but how can you call those persons dishonest who before you pass this law acted in a manner which had been sanctioned by numerous decisions of the High Court extending over a quarter of century and which had also the support of the executive Government? Therefore, if you apply this Bill retrospectively you are certainly not aiming at dishonest transactions. These transactions were neither dishonest nor illegal when they were entered into, not are they so even to-day nor will they be void, until this Bill is actually passed into an Act. By this Bill, you are designating an honest transaction as void, and then trying to meet the consequences of your own action on the heads of innocent people. I, therefore, submit that it is not at all a case of punishing dishonest people, as alleged by the Premier so far as the retrospective application of the Act is concerned. It is not the case of punishing the dishonest but —

[ R. B. Mukand Lal, Puri.]

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is saying the same thing over and over again.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Well, I leave that point. Another point was made that the Bill, as it has emerged out of the Select Committee, is exactly the same as the Bill as it was introduced in the House. That is a point which has been placed before you. But the object of the Bill—

Mr. Speaker : The amendment under discussion is—

That in 13-A (1), line 4, the words "either before or" be omitted.

That is the motion now before the House.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : The motion before the House is the same that you have been pleased to read which means that the Bill be not applied with retrospective effect and I am only trying to meet the argument which was advanced by one of the speakers before you that the Bill was originally retrospective and the select committee has made no change by making it retrospective. What I was going to submit to you was that the object of the Bill can only be ascertained from the language employed in the Bill itself and I respectfully submit to you—you being one of the oldest and ablest lawyers of this province—whether.....

Mr. Speaker : Was not this matter discussed yesterday ?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : This question was raised to-day though it was also referred to yesterday in a passing manner. A passing reference only was made. If there had been less interruptions I would have finished by this time but I do not propose to lose any opportunity, allowed to me under the constitution, of putting my views before the House, in spite of any interruptions. I am unfortunately used to interruptions and interruptions do not necessarily lead to expedition or saving of time. What I was submitting is this that the canon of interpretation of substantive statutes as distinguished from adjective Law is that a substantive enactment, unless specifically stated, is never retrospective in its operation.

Mr. Speaker : This argument was advanced yesterday.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : I wish to emphasise that point by reiterating that argument which I submit is unanswerable and has not so far been answered by any member who has supported the Bill. I have put before you the legal view about the validity of these benami transactions by quoting the opinion of the judges and the conduct of the executive. Let us, however, consider this case from the point of view of ordinary morality. Is this Act dishonest from the point of view of every day morality ?

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not speaking to the motion.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Is this act dishonest from the point of view of ordinary morality leaving aside for the time being the legal view which has been taken ?

Mr. Speaker : This point has been argued by Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang. I cannot allow his arguments to be repeated.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Has it been argued ?

Mr. Speaker : Yes.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I argued this point but let him give new arguments in support of my arguments.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang has been pleased to plead on my behalf. I want your ruling whether I should proceed with further arguments or the arguments already advanced would serve the purpose.

(Voices : Question be now put).

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Can I proceed ? I am entirely in your hands. If you think that sufficient light has already been thrown on the subject, I will obey your ruling.

Mr. Speaker : If the honourable member wishes to speak further, he may proceed.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Pari : Supposing a member of the statutory agricultural tribe sells his land with a view to lead an extravagant life and sells it to another member of the statutory agricultural tribe there is nothing illegal in it, but in ordinary parlance we would not approve of it. Again one might say from the point of view of ordinary morality that he has not acted up to the highest standard. Supposing, Sir, he sells his land not to lead an extravagant life but with a view to pay the debts due from him, the debts which he incurred to purchase other land or property, would you consider his conduct to be immoral in any sense of the word? Certainly not, and supposing the person who purchased the land agreed to raise money from some non-agriculturists creditor, would you call it immoral? Certainly not. After all, what are these so-called benami transactions except the transactions of the kind which I have just now placed before you? Debt is due to a creditor. He wishes to realise his money and calls for the assistance of a member of the notified agricultural tribe who is permitted under the law to take land and with his assistance he is able to realise his money. Where is immorality in it? Therefore, let us not damn a person before hanging him. This is what is really being done. First you call these persons wrongly evaders of law and dishonest and then you rob them of their property. In every one of these cases the transferer has been a willing party. The member of the agricultural tribe has taken it willingly; the debt was due and it has been liquidated. Where is, I submit, the dishonesty? Where is the offence? You may say, we do not like this transaction, or you may say for certain reasons of public policy, we do not want to have these transactions in future. You are welcome to do so. Pass any law, enforce it with any rigour but you cannot call a simple transaction which has taken place under the shadow of law during the last 40 years as dishonest and illegal and try to expropriate those persons without paying them a single pie by way of compensation. Sir, these are my submissions against making the Bill retrospective. Another point which has just now been brought to my notice by Dr. Sir Narang and on which we were having discussion during luncheon interval with the Honourable Minister for Revenue is, is this Bill to be confined to setting aside dishonest benami transactions only or to set aside even alleged benami transactions which were bona fide and made with a view to discharge debts, which have long ceased to exist? Again there may be past transactions, in which on account of peculiar circumstances, no action may be called for. No discretion is given to the collectors to refuse to take action in suitable cases, for instance where one or more bona fide transfers for value have taken place. Thus the retrospective application of the Act is one of the worst features of this legislation and would cause great hardship and injustice to innocent people, would increase litigation and would unsettle titles settled long ago. I raise my voice in protest against this provision.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan): Sir, my friend Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang's speech on this point lacks its usual eloquence and was somewhat laboured, and if I may be permitted to say so, some of his arguments were also specious. As you know he is one of the most eloquent speakers of this House, but over this particular amendment his speech was halting. I could see and every one on this side of the House could see that he was trying to employ arguments—forced arguments—which could possibly be dragged into service for the purpose of making out a case somehow or anyhow (A voice: مذہب لہجی عالم بالا معلوم شد). My honourable friend has quoted another Persian proverb and in his speech he also said: غلط انعام صحیح. That is not correct. It is: غلط انعام صحیح.

Therefore you cannot possibly convert a dishonest transaction into an honest one merely by using wrong proverbs. After listening to these speeches—eloquent and learned speeches—and the lawyerlike utterance of my learned friend, I as a layman, was at a disadvantage in following all this technical hair splitting; and I could only feel, after listening to them, that they were trying to confuse others in various parts of the House. I may remind them of the old saying that you can befool all people for sometime and some people for all time but you cannot befool all people for all time. (Inter-ruptions). Now, Sir, let us come to the matter before the House. The honourable members have been trying to prove to this House that two and two are not four but five. They have been trying to prove that a dishonest transaction is not dishonest but it is an honest transaction. They have been trying to prove to us that those dishonest transactions are honest transactions. Now, Sir, what does this Bill seek to amend? It does not want to amend any provision of the Land Alienation Act which will go against an honest non-agriculturist. No. It merely, as I pointed out yesterday, seeks to amend the Act with a view to put a stop to the fraudulent transactions.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: On a point of order, Sir. That is not the amendment before the House. He says that this Bill seeks to put a stop to that so-called dishonest practice. My amendment is that the words "either before or" should be omitted. I am referring to the past.

Premier: I am referring both to the future and the past.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: Future is not before the House.

Premier: If you do not keep the future before you, you cannot see the past in its true perspective.

As I was pointing out, the object of this Bill is to rectify those dishonest transactions which were made after the passing of the Land Alienation Act. All it seeks is to rectify those transactions which were real evasions of law during that period. Now, it is quite possible that very few of them may come to light and others may never come to light, but if they do come to light, the collector would go into them and make enquiries and set aside those transactions. That is the position. I will try to convince my honourable friends how you can call the transaction a dishonest transaction. When a man says that in lieu of the debts, instead of selling to him you sell the land to some other person, that is where the dishonesty comes in. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: There is no such provision.) This is one of the arguments advanced by Mr. Puri. A non-agriculturist is at liberty to get on mortgage or on lease the land of an agriculturist for 20 years. There is nothing to stop him. Why should he not come forward in a straight manner and say, 'You owe me five thousand rupees. You must give me your land for 20 years and I will take as much advantage out of this land as I can.' But instead of that, another agriculturist tries to conspire with him and defraud the original vendor. He gets a pro-note from the second party and the transaction is complete. That is now known a benami transaction. Rule out the word 'Benami'. We do not want that word. We should see that under this Act all fraudulent and dishonest transactions should be set aside.

[Premier.]

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : On a point of order, Sir. Again, the Honourable Premier does not seem to know what he is talking about. He is under the impression that there is some provision in the Bill which enables deputy commissioners to find out which is an honest and which is a dishonest benami transaction. There is no such provision. The law aims at setting aside all the benami transactions whether honest or dishonest.

Premier : What I have said is that the word 'benami' need not be used. It is not used in any substantive clause. Remove it. That is what I was trying to point out to my honourable friend—who is very able and clever at confusing issues. I know perfectly well what this Bill is aimed at. The collector would go through all those transactions, whether you call them benami or from your point of view honest transactions and from my point of view dishonest transactions and evasions of the Land Alienation Act, and whenever there is an evasion of the Land Alienation Act, that would be called a fraudulent and dishonest transaction and it must be set aside.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Whether honest or dishonest?

Premier : If the transaction is honest it will not be a benami transaction.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Refer to the judgment of Justice Shah Din.

Premier : I am coming to that. My honourable friend has read a portion of that judgment and from that portion it was obvious that that transaction was not a benami transaction for the simple reason that it was the second party itself who owed those dues and the land was transferred to another agriculturist. How can that be a benami transaction? It is only those transactions in which the beneficiary is a third party that become benami. In this case the beneficiary is the agriculturist. Where does the benami come in? You only quoted an extract of that judgment. That is how you look at the provisions of this Bill. If there is a third party, a beneficiary, who is not an agriculturist, it is then and then only that the transaction can become benami or fraudulent. I do not think I need take any more time of the House. I hope I have made myself sufficiently clear to at least those who tried to throw dust in our eyes. They need not wink or blink at it.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That in 13-A (1), line 4, the words "either before or" be omitted.
